Eight miles north of Putnam, operators have sent off samples to the Tex Harvey Oil Co., No. 1 George Anthony, prospective Mississippi discovery 2,320 feet from the north and 2,000 from the west of section 2 D&DA survey.

The well was reported showing some water on tests and operators are not sure whether it was from formation or from some other source.

Drilling was started this week on the twin well to the number one Anthony, the Tex Harvey Oil Company No. 1-Caddo George Anthony, 1/2 mile east of the deeper project. It is to go to the Caddo or about 30 feet.

Best Grades In Local School Made By 2 Boys With Jobs

The oft-asked question, "does a youth have time to work while attending school," appeared answered here this week as top-honor students were announced for Cross Plains high school seniors who are to receive diplomas the night of May 21.

With an average of 95.1 for his entire four years of high school, Robert Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Smith, of this city, is announced as valedictorian. Salutatorian is Roger Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Williams, who attained a four year average of 89.13. Both youths have had after-school and Saturday jobs throughout their entire high school careers. Smith is a printer in the office of the Cross Plains Review and fellow workmen say he possesses exceptional ability. Williams is local agent for the Abilene Reporter-News and according to the paper's circulation manager, is one of their most efficient representatives in West Texas.

After high school both Smith and Williams are planning further education, specializing in chemical engineering.

City Water Supply Still Short; Planning Further Exploration

Cross Plains water supply still remains short of demand, the Review was told this week, although old wells have been reconditioned and a new one added. Capacity of production per day cannot exceed 100,000 gallons under present conditions, and according to a master meter, which was installed last week at the source of distribution, consumption is increasing at the rate of five thousand gallons each 24 hours, with the peak of usage, if the supply were available, to run near 150,000 daily by August.

Tests made of a well on W. H. Coppinger property made last week indicate the water can be supplemented approximately 10,000 gallons per day, however further testing is required before the city council can determine if production will justify lines laid to the property, which is two miles Southeast of the city, and more wells drilled.

The council, however, is considering drilling more wells on the site where the present 14 city wells are located.

"The water situation in Cross Plains is still a major problem," said Edwin Baum, water commissioner, "and it is feared more restrictions will necessarily have to be made on consumers to assure adequate water for home use and the prevention of fire."

The phone company official said, "Just a moment; he's here in the office and wants to speak to you."

So we had a little chat and then the original caller came back and I asked, "What is Vince doing now?"

"Oh, he's got a job with the phone company; he's our vice president!"

Yes, the years bring changes.

While back, the news came that life's chapter had closed for Vince Carroll. He was a fine chap.

Back in 1916 when your columnist was "cub reporter" on the Memphis Commercial Appeal, Vincent M. Carroll was one of the ace members of the staff.

Years went by—and I was editor of the Ranger Times.

One day, the phone rang and it was the advertising manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, speaking in his office in Dallas. He said, "Are you the same Boyce House who used to work on the Commercial Appeal in Memphis, Tenn.?"

"Yes." "Well, do you remember a man who was a reporter, by the name of Carroll?"

"You mean Vince Carroll? Yes, I remember him very well."

It flashed through my mind that Carroll was in Dallas, wanted to get a check cashed and had given me as reference. I hoped the check wasn't a very large one. Of course, I didn't say any of this, just thought it.

The phone company official said, "Just a moment; he's here in the office and wants to speak to you."

The ten foot skeleton of a moa, representing the largest species of bird that has ever existed was brought to the American Museum of Natural History in New York recently by Dr. Robert C. Murphy, chairman of the department of birds.

Dr. Murphy has just returned from a five month's expedition to New Zealand and near-by islands.

The addition of the huge skeleton of the moa is a most valuable contribution to the museum it was said.

It is said the United States now has a total of 271 ships in an active status. These include thirteen carriers of various types, seven escort carriers, two battleships, seven heavy cruisers, thirteen light cruisers, five anti-aircraft cruisers, one hundred thirty-five destroyers, thirteen destroyer escorts and seventy six submarines.

BOYCE HOUSE "Gives You Texas"

Back in 1916 when your columnist was "cub reporter" on the Memphis Commercial Appeal, Vincent M. Carroll was one of the ace members of the staff.

Years went by—and I was editor of the Ranger Times.

One day, the phone rang and it was the advertising manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, speaking in his office in Dallas. He said, "Are you the same Boyce House who used to work on the Commercial Appeal in Memphis, Tenn.?"

"Yes." "Well, do you remember a man who was a reporter, by the name of Carroll?"

"You mean Vince Carroll? Yes, I remember him very well."

It flashed through my mind that Carroll was in Dallas, wanted to get a check cashed and had given me as reference. I hoped the check wasn't a very large one. Of course, I didn't say any of this, just thought it.

The phone company official said, "Just a moment; he's here in the office and wants to speak to you."

So we had a little chat and then the original caller came back and I asked, "What is Vince doing now?"

"Oh, he's got a job with the phone company; he's our vice president!"

Yes, the years bring changes.

While back, the news came that life's chapter had closed for Vince Carroll. He was a fine chap.

All John Deere Disk Harrows are regularly equipped with a simple, positive trip-rope control for angling or straightening the disk gangs from the tractor seat.

The sturdy John Deere "JB" is a double-action harrow with no costly built-in weight to bury it in light soil; yet in hard ground or tough stalk conditions, you can add weight to secure plenty of penetration. Flexible construction, ample clearance, proper weight distribution, and easy adjustment—these are other important features that make it easier to do good disking with a Model "JB". Beware Of Housefly Warns Health Officer

The ordinary housefly is an enemy to health, and is one of the agents most commonly responsible for the spread of disease throughout the nation, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Typhoid fever, dysentery, and many other intestinal diseases can often be traced to the common housefly as the carrier of infection.

Speaking in this connection, Dr. Cox advised: "Be sure that your windows and doors are tightly screened so that stray flies will not endanger the health of your family. Keep flies away from food, drink, and utensils used in the preparation of food. Make sure, if you live in rural districts, that outside privy vaults are tightly covered so as not to permit the entrance of flies. Infections from this source can be picked up by flies through contact with food, drink, and utensils. Keep all garbage covered until collected or buried. Eliminate all breeding places for flies and you will be helping your community in its work of controlling communicable diseases and preventing unnecessary illness."

Dr. Cox said that the State Health Department would furnish upon request a pamphlet outlining safe and practical methods recommended for use in fly control.

REGULAR USERS OF ADVERTISING SPACE TELL US "IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE"

Mrs. Arthur Taliferro, of Cross Plains, dropped into the Review office Tuesday afternoon to pay an advertising bill, and while here told us that a 30c classified ad recently carried in the paper yielded her a $90 return.

Bert Brown, local real estate dealer, who uses the advertising columns of the Review every week, advises that he is receiving exceptional results and is well "sold" on the adage "it pays to advertise".

Bill Culvahouse reprimanded the Review editor severely Monday for our failure to run his classified ad the past two weeks. "I was getting water well drilling contracts right along until you left my ad out of the paper", he said, advising us "to get it started again promptly".

J. M. Greenwood, progressive farmer who lives 4 miles South of Cross Plains on highway 279, uses the classified columns to market many items and reports very successful results.

These are only a few of the favorable reports which have reached us recently regarding results from advertising. Others we do not feel liberty to quote, however, we invite you to try this medium for anything you have to sell, rent, or wish to buy.

A classified ad of 15 words costs but 30 cents per week.

Veterans' News

World War II veterans are training in hundreds of different occupational fields under the G-I Bill.

One out of five is preparing for a career in business administration and other general business fields. A similar number are training for engineering and mechanical occupations.

Nearly one-tenth of all trainees are following agricultural pursuits. The occupational fields are listed in a Veterans Administration study of the principal training courses of 2,000,000 veterans studying in schools and colleges and 546,000 training on-the-job on November 30, 1947. The survey was released this week.

Business administration courses rate first among the veterans attending schools and colleges, with more than 31,000 studying in these fields. Engineering ranks second with 252,000 students. Agriculture with 223,000 preparing for teaching careers place education fourth.

Of the veteran-students enrolled in colleges and universities when the survey was made, 287,000 in liberal arts courses had not reported their major courses of study.

Among the veterans taking job training, almost 94,000 are training to be mechanics and repairmen. About 77,000 are taking training in business courses, with another 69,000 enrolled for managerial training. About 44,000 are training as metal workers. Close to 41,000 are in electrical courses.

Summer Care Should Be Taken To Prevent Poliomyelitis Spread

The danger of crippling and death from poliomyelitis is very real and should not be minimized, but according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, a knowledge of the facts about this disease will help fight the fear of it, and aid in preventing the panic that is usually associated with the appearance of polio.

The facts about polio are these: It attacks so few people that 20 cases per 100,000 population is considered an epidemic. Half of those who get the disease recover without crippling; another fourth, with good care, recover with only slight crippling. Deformities can be prevented and crippling lessened in many cases, by prompt, complete and sometimes prolonged medical care.

Even though these encouraging facts have been established, still with polio as with any other disease prevention is better than cure. Summer is the chief danger period, and to avoid the risk of contracting this disease, it is well to observe the following health suggestions, especially with regard to children: practice absolute cleanliness in personal, home and community life; try not to mingle with crowds; don't get over-tired since extreme fatigue lowers resistance; avoid chilling by swimming overlong in cold water; consult your doctor at once if a member of your family has fever, headache, nausea, a cold, upset stomach, muscle soreness or stiffness.

Following these suggestions will help to prevent the spread of polio but if you do have a case in your family, remember that the majority of patients with good care recover without crippling. Your fear or panic will only make it harder for you and your child.

Frozen Food Facts

Frozen foods are becoming very popular with homemakers because they are time saving, table ready, and little preparation is necessary, according to Louise Mason, extension food preparation specialist of Texas A&M College.

They are so simple to prepare they appeal to beginning cooks and business women who have a limited time for cooking. If the following simple rules in preparing frozen foods are followed, good products will result.

Do not freeze frozen foods once they have been thawed. If practical packages of frozen fruits or vegetables are to be used, divide the package, rewrap unused portion, and keep frozen until it can be used.

Add frozen vegetables to briskly boiling, salted water. Do not defrost except corn on cob. Begin counting cooking time when boiling begins again after frozen vegetables have been added.

Cooking time varies with variety and maturity of the vegetables, size of pieces and method of preparation. Less water may be added if heavy utensils and controlled heat are used.

Finally, watch cooking time carefully. Freezing weakens the cell walls, and it is easy to overcook vegetables.

Miss Mason says the ten to fourteen ounce package of frozen vegetables will usually serve four people.

Trim Your Trees

Some kinds of pruning may be done at any time", Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A&M College, said recently. "Remove dead limbs, diseased limbs and limbs that injure each other regardless of season."

Some plants need pruning all during the growing season. Among those shrubs are abelia and Florida jasmine which have a tendency to send out long awkward shoots. If the buds at the tips of branches are cut off the plant will grow into a compact form which generally is liked better than a shrub with a few long sprouts. Hardy shrubs which grow fast such as amur river privet or Japanese ligustrum, may be pruned safely during the growing season.

Miss Hatfield says, prune shrubs which bloom in the spring or early summer just as soon as the blooming season is over or it is then they begin forming bloom buds for the next year. Among these are such plants as bridal wreath and flowering peach. If you wait until the late summer or winter, pruning lessens the amount of blooms as it destroys bloom buds.

Among flowering shrubs to be pruned as soon as they have bloomed and before they form bloom buds for the next year's flowers are: azaleas, butterfly bush, redbud, flowering quince, flowering dogwood, poinsettia, philadelphus, mock orange, photinia, flowering plums, spiraea, jasmine, winter blooming jasmine, and wisteria.

VETERANS Question Box

Q—I was injured after I was discharged from the Army. May I get out-patient treatment for the injury?

A—No. Veterans with non-service connected disabilities may not receive out-patient treatment from Veterans Administration.

Q—I have not filed a claim for a service-connected disability, although I did sustain minor wounds in combat. Am I eligible for a 10-point Civil Service preference?

A—Yes. A veteran who does not have a compensable disability may secure Civil Service preference if he submits proof that he was awarded the Purple Heart.

Q—I have a G-I home loan, which, according to the present contract, has to be paid in 20 years. Is it possible to have this loan extended to 25 years?

A—Your lender is the only person who can extend the date on which the loan must be paid. Veterans Administration will guarantee one half, but not more than $4,000, of your home loan if it is to be amortized in 25 years or less.

Q—If an insured veteran becomes mentally incompetent, can premiums on his National Service Life Insurance policy be paid by another person?

A—Yes. Premiums on NSLI can be paid by any person on behalf of the insured veteran, but care should always be taken to identify the insured veteran and each payment properly.

The total paid was $7,562,817, based on a count of 1,510,128 children of school age April 5.

Look who gets squeezed!

Union leaders representing less than one-tenth of railroad employees reject recommendations of President's Emergency board—refuse to negotiate except on their own terms—threaten to paralyze nation by strike!

THE LEADERS of three railroad unions, representing less than one-tenth of all railroad employees, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation.

These leaders refuse to accept a 15 1/2 cents an hour wage increase retroactive to November 1, 1947. This increase was recommended by an impartial Emergency Board appointed by President Truman.

This increase of 15 1/2 cents already has been accepted by the 19 other railroad unions. But the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employees have accepted. They have called a strike to get more!

Unions refuse rules decision

Certain rules changes demanded by these union leaders—which would increase wages still further—were recommended by the Board. But the union leaders want more—they demand that the railroads put into effect ALL the changes they asked for, including those the Board felt should be denied.

On top of this, they insist that certain rules changes proposed by the railroads be withdrawn—in spite of the fact that the Board recommended them! These union leaders have refused to negotiate except upon these arbitrary terms.

Greater wage increase not justified

Engineers and firemen are among the highest paid of all employees in America, as figures in the box show. This strike threat doesn't justify giving a greater increase than other railroad workers received.

Emergency Boards are a means provided by the Railway Labor Act in the public interest to avoid strikes. The President's Board,

In contrast, this small group of railroad union leaders are attempting to force the intent and spirit of the Railway Labor Act and dictate their own terms.

They have dictated a paralyzing railroad strike.

You will be the victim! How long will the American public suffer for the unmerciful, arbitrary and abusive use of the right to strike and the disregard of the obligation to provide transportation? How long can the American people pay a few dictatorial union leaders to delay processes provided for peaceful settlement of disputes?

Force seldom produces settlements that either fair or lasting. Moreover, a point often reached when personal interests are held subordinate to the greater public welfare. That is why the railroads have accepted the Emergency Board recommendations. That is also why the leaders of the three unions should reconsider their decision to call a paralyzing strike.

Who's to blame? Although they deplored so large an extra cost burden, the railroads accepted the report of the Board because they felt it was in the public interest to uphold the spirit and intent of the Railway Labor Act.

Funeral Services For Baird Man Saturday

Funeral services for Robert L. Berry, 72, pioneer Callahan county citizen and retired rancher, were held Saturday of last week from the Baird Baptist church with Rev. Joe R. Mayes, of Abilene, former Baird pastor, and Rev. A. A. Davis conducting the rites. Mr. Berry passed away in an Abilene hospital Friday following surgery Wednesday.

Born at Lampasas, he had lived in Baird since 1880. He was married to Ona Beasley, who died in 1938, on December 15, 1907 and in February of this year he was married to Mrs. Myrtle Edwards. His mother, who passed away in 1943, was one of the last survivors of the battle of San Jacinto.

Callahan Instructs Delegates To Favor Truman Nomination

Callahan county's delegates to the state Democratic convention will go instructed to support the renomination of President Truman.

A bitter fight over resolutions in the county convention at Baird Tuesday resulted in a 15 to 11 vote favoring the instruction of delegates. Paul V. Harrell, of Cross Plains, headed a minority opposing the instruction of delegates and garnered support from Clyde with five votes, Belle Plain with one and four from other Cross Plains delegates for a total of 11. F. E. Mitchell, as principal spokesman for the Baird group, defended the instructing of delegates and gained two votes from Oplin, three from Putnam and one from Denton, which coupled with the nine from Baird, totaled 15.

The minority argued against the instructing of delegates, largely due to President Truman's civil rights program, and the almost equal distribution of sentiment was manifested when delegates to the state convention came up for election. Roy Kendrick of Denton, was the only delegate receiving a majority, with four others tying for the two other posts. The tie was broken by drawing lots and Mitchell and Randall Jackson drew delegate tickets, while Harrell and Earl Hayes drew alternate credentials. Other alternate named was B. H. Freeland.

In addition to Harrell, delegates from Cross Plains to the county convention Tuesday were: C. D. Lane, G. H. Clifton and W. H. Coppinger.
