Physician Writes Some History Cottonwood Area

An effort to gain information on the oldest water well in the Cross Plains area, a letter was dispatched to Dr. Q. A. Griffin, now of Tulsa, who practiced medicine in the Cottonwood area more than 50 years ago. The fact that the Cottonwood area is one of the oldest portions of this area it was that likely the oldest well there, and by virtue of Griffin's visits to most all of the wells in the area it was believed possible that he might be able to answer the question in dispute here. Griffin's letter of reply appears in response to your inquiry as to the first well in the Cross Plains community, will say "I do not know. When we arrived at Cottonwood the third day of January 1885, the springs there were never dry—were the watering places. There were a number of wells there at that time which had been dug by people who preceded us in the area. After the town burned, the new town was built just one block and in the middle of Main street stood a large black jack tree. The town grew and prospered and was collected to have a well under this tree, and that well was at Cottonwood's water works in the time of my leaving in 1885."

The locals of the tough game Sunday was hardest fought this season and their win to consistent hitting, which overcame the fielding of their opponents. Game will be returned here after tomorrow, August 28. Tommie was on the mound and Coffey behind the bat. With exception of Bobby Oliver in the field in the position usually held by Keith Coburn the line-up was the same that has won game played this season with exception of the first encounter with Coleman, which was the contest for locals after organization. Coburn and Chapman were the stars for Hamby. An enthusiastic Cross Plains team accompanied the team Sunday. Don Smith, manager of that much more local support was welcomed. Smith and his men will meet at the Cross Plains on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, primed to mix good with a team reported returning to import players for down game.

The men stole the cow on Sunday night, July 24, and sold her the following day at a Coleman auction ring. It was through the auction ring that Sheriff Pierce secured information about the cow and was able to effect her return. The thieves went on to Bexar county and stole another cow, and it was there that they were apprehended. Rev. T. Grady Nanney

Baptist Meeting To Begin Here Sunday And Last 2 Weeks

Annual revival meeting of the Cross Plains Baptist Church will begin Sunday and continue two weeks. Services will be held at 10 each morning and at 7:45 each evening. Evangelist for the meeting will be Rev. T. Grady Nanney, prominent Oklahoma preacher. Music and song services will be under direction of E. Otis Allen, who is well known here by virtue of having helped in the last two revivals at the local church. Due to the fact that Rev. Nanney and Mr. Allen, both of whom are now in meetings elsewhere, will not be able to reach Cross Plains until Monday morning, preaching Sunday will be done by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Chapman. "We invite everyone to come and worship with us in all services," Rev. Chapman stated. "We are asking singers from other churches to come and help in our revival choir and feel sure that in addition to forceful gospel preaching the song services will be a real inspiration."

"Work Hard", Say 2 Pioneer Ladies Of Callahan County

"Lots of hard work is the best guarantee of long life", said two of Callahan county's oldest pioneer women Friday, as they sat beneath the shades at Kendrick Park at Denton Valley and enjoyed the annual reunion of Callahan County Old Settlers. They were Mrs. J. C. McDermott, of Cross Plains, and Mrs. J. A. Heyser, of Putnam. Mrs. McDermott will be 89 in December and Mrs. Heyser is 86. They have each lived in Callahan county more than 70 years. "I remember your husband, Charley McDermott, long before you married him", declared Mrs. Heyser. "He was an excellent square dancer." "Yes, he liked to try", replied Mrs. McDermott, "but the best early dancers were his brother, Huey, and Shawn Windham, however, Bill Barnett was also pretty good." "Do you know what we called Charley McDermott when he was young", asked the Putnam lady.

"No I don't recall". "He was 'Baldy' to all the young folks but he never seemed to mind the name a bit". The talk drifted to early day picnics at Cross Plains, and Mrs. McDermott recalled having attended the first one here in 1882. "I remember the year perfectly for I had a nine months old baby at the time, and left the next day for Missouri to visit my parents". The trip to Lebanon, Missouri, near Springfield—was made by train and took a week. There were no sleeping accommodations in trains and Mrs. McDermott only napped. Although she had no one to help care for the baby during the long trip they both made it fine. Asked to what they attributed their long life, the two pioneer ladies remarked simultaneously: "hard work". A frontier man and woman worked from sun up until sun down, and then hauled water at night, they recalled.

Like Apples From Washington Local Peaches are Best

Like Washington grown apples, peaches produced in the Cross Plains area are becoming preferred fruit. This fact is attested by a number of large grocery concerns which are contracting for all their needs through local sources. L. W. Pancake told the Review Saturday that he had hauled 3,500 bushels from the Doss Alexander orchard to one store in San Angelo, the Modern Way Food Market. "It takes one load a day, 110 bushels, to supply the San Angelo store", Pancake stated, "and this has been going on for more than a month." Alexander's orchard will produce in the neighborhood of 10,000 bushels of peaches this year, most all of which has moved to ready markets.

38 Boys Report To Football Practice Monday Afternoon

Largest squad of boys ever to heed the call for pre-season practice at Cross Plains high school reported to coaches Bill Shield and Paul Huntington Monday afternoon, as football equipment was issued to 38 candidates for this year's team. Although light and comparatively inexperienced, Shield will be able to field a starting team averaging around 160 pounds. In the line he will have Howard Lee Neeb and Vernon Phillips, both of whom scale near 200 and lettered in the forward wall last year. Other lettermen, who are expected to form the nucleus of this year's team are: Charles Kunkle, one of the district's better ends last year; Royce Fortune, Ervis Gale and Junior Coggin, scrappy guards; and Vendell Hutchins, Harold Strahan and Junior Grider in the backfield.

Although this year's squad leaves something to be desired in height and experience, the prospects are believed 100 percent better than a year ago, when Cross Plains lost two different coaches in less than a week and was forced to start Autumn training under the tutelage of a senior student. For the first time in history, the Buffaloes will have two full time faculty coaches, and more attention can be given to reserves and boys coming out for their first season.

"We're going to place a lot of stress on 'B' squad games this season, giving every boy who comes out and stays out a chance to play in matched contests", Shield stated.

The "B" squad games are to be played on Thursday nights, whereas "A" team clashes are generally on Fridays, with the exception of holiday encounters.

Practice sessions are being held in the early evening, beginning at six and continuing until nine.

First game on the Buffalo schedule is a non-conference affair with Aspermont here the night of September ninth.

"We may not win a conference championship this year", said Shield, "but we'll beat last year's record of four wins, one tie and four losses. Too, with the fine, big squad of freshmen and sophomore boys we're building for 1950 as well as the current campaign."

Complete roster of boys reporting Monday afternoon was as follows: Vendell Hutchins, Junior Grider, Charles Kunkle, Harold Strahan, Bobby Dillard, Royce Fortune, Bobby Oliver, James Barr, Gerald Foster, Ted Sessions, Johnny Adair, Bobby Cearley, Jimmy Clifton, Junior Coggin, C. Taylor, Freddy Stacy, A. W. Booth, C. O. Miller, Roland Lane, Billy Pancake, Bruce Stovall, B. Freeman, Freddy Tatom, Bobby Freeman, Vernon Phillips, Connie Hutson, Morris Cavanaugh, Dwayne Wilson, L. White, Dwayne Adams, Buford Conn, Ervis Coggin, Howard Lee Neeb, Bobby Wright, Clarence Carter, Donald Beeler, Keith Coburn, Audrey Purvis and Cecil Barton.

Indications are that Brownwood will have the distinction of entertaining the largest number of checker players ever brought together anywhere in the world for the 1944 Texas state championship tournament of the Texas State Checker Association, according to Jacob F. Wright, secretary-treasurer of the association.

Mr. Wright, who is at present in the Veterans Administration branch hospital at Los Angeles, California, will return to Brownwood for the tournament.

Play will last three days, starting Monday, August 29, in the roof garden of Hotel Brownwood.

Six Callahan Boys Register For Draft

Six Callahan county boys were among 47 eighteen year olds registering for military service during July, it was reported yesterday by the Taylor-Callahan county draft board. They were: Billie P. FRANK SINATRA STARS IN THE FILM "TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALL GAME"

With the excitement and color of a big-league ball park as its background, M-G-M offers an infectious new Technicolor musical in "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," now playing at the Plains theatre.

Its stars are Frank Sinatra, Esther Williams and Gene Kelly, with Betty Garrett, Edward Arnold and Jules Mueslin (the comic waiter of "Easter Parade") in supporting leads, which in itself is a guarantee of home runs in song, romance and laughter. And "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" has all three in a big way.

The fun revolves around two members of a ball team whose owner unexpectedly arrives in Florida to supervise spring training. Shortstop Kelly, First Baseman Munshin and Second Baseman Sinatra, who form the outstanding infield combination, are all prepared to put the owner in his place but they hadn't reckoned on its being a girl. It's Esther Williams, of course, and she proves not only yurvaceous but able to put over a mean curve on the diamond. When Esther starts laying down the law about training rules, etc., Kelly tries to win her over with some smooth hoofing and some even smoother romancing. Meanwhile, it's bashful Sinatra who finds himself hopelessly head-over-heels in love with the team's beguiling owner.

The complications are eventually ironed out to the accompaniment of explosive laughs and a hit parade of songs, with Kelly and Miss Williams discovering they are made for each other and with Sinatra snared by Betty Garrett.

W. W. Aishman left here Friday for Blare, Oklahoma where he attended a reunion with his five brothers and two sisters and their families. It was the first time they had all been together in 20 years.

DDT KILLS PEACH BORERS

DDT spray mixtures for controlling the peach borer is becoming popular and effective. It is made by mixing three pounds of 50% wettable DDT powder in 50 gallons of water. Spray the body of the tree thoroughly with the mixture. Although the first application is usually made in early July, a second in early August and a third in early September, he says there has been little evidence of early borer damage and it is probable that an early August and September spraying will be effective.

This should be good news to orchard owners. It is much easier to fight borers this way than the old method of putting crystals in the ground around the tree.

JOB IN THE ORCHARD

Now is the time to do some jobs in the orchard that could not be done during the growing season, says Rosborougr. Sucker sprouts are growing on both young and old trees and they should be removed. Otherwise, they will make additional growth during the next 60 days and will take up plant food and moisture needed by the tree.

An orchard cleanup program is in order. Remove from the orchard all fruit that has fallen on the ground. It is probably full of worms and other insects and diseases that could cause a lot of trouble in the orchard next year.

Every tree in the orchard should be checked for San Jose Scale, phony and other insects and diseases. If scale is found, mark the tree and go back and treat it. Rosborougr recommends washing the tree with a mixture of one pound of concentrated lime sulphur and three gallons of water. Apply the liquid to the frame work branches and the body of the tree. This should hold the scale in check until a thorough job of spraying can be done in the winter. The solution should be kept away from the leaves, if possible, because it will burn them.

In some older bearing orchards, a disease known as phony has appeared this year. It is identified by a checking of the current season's growth and the leaves on infected trees take on a peculiar dark green color. The fruit on infected trees is smaller than usual and the crop is light. Trees suspected of having this disease should be removed from the orchard because they are a probable source of infection.

USE OLD TOMATOE PLANTS

If you have some tomatoe plants which produce a spring crop, and the plants are still in a healthy, vigorous condition, it may be possible to re-use the plants. Look near the ground line for small sprouts that may be growing there at the present time. Remove the old top and leave two or three of the young sprouts.

Fertilize these plants at the rate of a half teacup of 5-10-5 per plant and then follow with a thorough irrigation and later cultivate. Only healthy plants should be used in this manner and those plants showing any sign of disease or deterioration should be discarded.

DAIRY CHECKS

Now is the time for the dairyman to plant some small grain pastures for his fall and winter grazing. Plant at least one acre for each cow in the herd, for it is one way to get more feed for less money and that means lower production costs and more net income.

Silage is another source of cheap feed nutrients so have the silo ready for filling by the time the crop you are growing for silage is ready for harvesting.

If you don't have a silo and would like to have plans for one just contact the county agent for the plans. Sweet sorghums and grain sorghums have been used successfully as good silage crops for years.

When pastures become dry is the time to give the cows all the good quality hay that they will eat. Cows will pay well for it.

R. E. Burselson, associate dairy husbandman of A&M College, says that herd culling is now in order too. Make the herd fit the feed supply. The same amount of feed produces more milk when fed to high producing cows. There is no profit in feeding cows that only pay their board bill. They should be culled. It is a good practice for a dairyman to weigh the milk from each cow once a month or week if possible to see just exactly which cows are paying their way.

Bob Woody of Menard spent the week end here with his cousin, Mrs. C. W. Proctor.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McCuin and family were visitors in Corpus Christi the past week.

1950 Cotton Acre Limit Is Proposed

By O. C. Fisher, Member of Congress

Recently while the Senate Agriculture Committee was trying to agree on a long-range farm bill, the House passed a cotton acreage allotment measure, a natural gas bill and a few odds and ends.

The cotton acreage allotment proposal, which passed the House without any difficulty, is necessary if we are to keep our cotton price support program. The government simply can't support cotton if we are to continue to grow an unlimited amount each year.

During the past several years our cotton acreage has averaged around 20 million acres a year, and this year it has jumped up to 26 million. Under the present quota laws the secretary of agriculture is not allowed to cut the national allotment below 27,500,000 acres, even though 2-3 of the growers vote in favor of controls. It is essential, therefore, that the law be amended in order that the minimum over-all acreage be reduced. Under the terms of the House bill the amount is reduced to 21 million acres in 1950 and permits it to drop still further in 1951 if necessary.

The Senate had already passed a cotton acreage bill, and the matter of ironing out differences between the House and Senate versions is in the hands of a conference committee, which is expected to agree on a compromise in the near future.

Under the terms of the House bill, any one who has grown cotton during the last three years (1948-47-46), or who grew "war crops" instead of cotton in 1947 or 1946, will be entitled to an allotment. At the same time, if his greatest acreage for any one of these years was less than the county allotment figure, he will get an allotment equal to his greatest acreage in any one of these three years. The bill further provides that if the grower has grown more cotton in any one of these years than the county figure, he will get the same percent of his tilled acres for cotton as are allotted through his county.

It is also provided that the State Committee can set aside 10 percent of the entire acreage to be allotted to counties to aid small growers and new growers build up their acreage. This is five times as much as could be used for such adjustments under the old law.

Children Should Get Examination For Tooth Decay

Tooth decay or dental caries is a destructive, progressive disease of the teeth. A large part of a tooth may be destroyed by decay with little evidence of decay on the surface, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Surveys of large groups of preschool children reveal that 50 per cent of them have decayed teeth at three years of age, 75 per cent at four years of age, and 90 per cent at five years of age. Six out of ten children age four and five have as many as seven or more cavities.

Decay begins most frequently in the small pits and fissures on the chewing surfaces and at the points of contact between the teeth. Pits and fissures with structural flaws should be filled at once to prevent decay.

Dr. Cox said, "Dental examination and care should begin with the three year old child, and periodic examinations and necessary care should follow, thereafter, as often as the dentist advises. The first or baby teeth should be kept in a healthy condition until it is time for them to be lost.

"X-rays aid the dentist in finding hidden cavities, especially those between the teeth. Many of these beginning cavities are located in areas where they cannot be found in any other way. X-ray pictures are also useful in finding other conditions that require immediate attention such as abscesses, impacted teeth, broken roots, bone destruction due to pyorrhea, extra teeth and other information that is important in treatment of the case.

"With periodic dental examination and adequate dental care for each child, beginning at three years of age, the great majority of the children will reach adulthood with good dental health."

Friday night.

Mrs. R. C. Brown is suffering a nervous condition and is confined to her bed after a check-up at a Brownwood hospital.

Bart Brown, Mack Gray and Jess Brown have returned from an extensive grain combining trip through the Northwestern states.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stacy of Dumas visited his sister, Mrs. Tom Flippin, for a few days last week.

The peach harvest is going full swing in our community, however, the recent rains caused a lot of fruit to fall that was too ripe to gather during the wet weather.

W. W. Phillips and wife have moved back to their old home place from Abilene where they have lived for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fore were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ballow last Sunday.

John Smith saw Joe Brown steal his watch. He had Brown arrested and the watch was found in his pocket. Smith told the officers that he had paid $49.50 for the watch, and misdemeanor charges of theft were filed against Brown.

When the case was tried in the county criminal court, Smith said he had made one slight mistake. He actually paid $50 for the watch instead of $49.50. Since it was new when stolen, it was considered worth the purchase price of $50. Smith was a convincing witness and, after all, he had actually witnessed the theft, so Brown was promptly convicted.

Upon appeal the case was reversed. The higher court held that the theft of a watch valued at $50 constituted a felony, rather than a misdemeanor, theft. Thus the county criminal court lacked jurisdiction over the case. There was no question about Brown's guilt, but he was given a new trial simply because the watch was valued at fifty cents more than it was originally said to be worth.

Such delays in punishing criminals, made possible by legal technicalities, hamper justice and encourage crime. Proper revision of Texas' criminal statutes, as advocated by the State Bar, would eliminate such technicalities.

Misses Kay and Tana Holiday of Brady visited Mr. and Mrs. George Jowers and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Newton and son of Thrifty visited Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Newton.

A pink and blue shower was given for Mrs. Allen Tuesday. A lot of nice gifts were received.

Charles Wayne Arledge of Odessa left for home Wednesday. He had been visiting Mrs. Jess Arledge.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Newton of Ovalo visited Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Newton.

Douglas and Patsy Creamer of Odessa spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Byrd.

Miss Ruth Naron spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bryson and children.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McCuin returned home Monday evening after a visit of several days in Corpus Christi and other South Texas points.

Mrs. J. L. Samberson and son of Goldsmith visited friends here and relatives at Coleman this week.

A. H. McCord attended a meeting of trustees of the Callahan County Hospital at Baird one day last week.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to all people who helped us in any way in moving our house to Baird recently.

Connecticut Yankee, Bing, Rides At Last

Bing Crosby, who has done a lot of business with horses in his time, finally gets to ride one in a picture.

Bing's screen mount is a wiry little black and white pinto, named Tex, who has the leading equine role in Paramount's Technicolor production of Mark Twain's classic, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," which shows Sunday and Monday at the Plains Theatre. Bing, of course, plays the title role and is costarred with Rhonda Fleming, William Bendix and Sir Cedric Hardwicke.

All the hilarious things that happen to Crosby in "A Connecticut Yankee" stem from the fact that Tex throws him early in the film, an accident which knocks him into unconsciousness and clear back into Sixth Century Britain. There he pulls a few Twentieth Century tricks and so impresses King Arthur that the monarch dubs him "Sir Boss." From that point on what Crosby does to King Arthur's court is, according to all reports, riotously funny film stuff.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ferrell have returned from a three weeks visit in Lubbock.

By WILL WILSON
Past President, Texas District and County Attorneys Association

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of short case histories, all taken from court records, showing how legal loopholes often enable criminals to escape punishment in Texas. Will Wilson, of Dallas, is chairman of a special steering committee of the State Bar, which is working for revision of the antiquated Criminal Code and Code of Criminal Procedure in order to eliminate these loopholes.)

John Smith saw Joe Brown steal his watch. He had Brown arrested and the watch was found in his pocket. Smith told the officers that he had paid $49.50 for the watch, and misdemeanor charges of theft were filed against Brown.

When the case was tried in the county criminal court, Smith said he had made one slight mistake. He actually paid $50 for the watch instead of $49.50. Since it was new when stolen, it was considered worth the purchase price of $50. Smith was a convincing witness and, after all, he had actually witnessed the theft, so Brown was promptly convicted.

Upon appeal the case was reversed. The higher court held that the theft of a watch valued at $50 constituted a felony, rather than a misdemeanor, theft. Thus the county criminal court lacked jurisdiction over the case. There was no question about Brown's guilt, but he was given a new trial simply because the watch was valued at fifty cents more than it was originally said to be worth.

Such delays in punishing criminals, made possible by legal technicalities, hamper justice and encourage crime. Proper revision of Texas' criminal statutes, as advocated by the State Bar, would eliminate such technicalities.

HOW TO GET HELP FROM NATIONAL FOUNDATION WHEN POLIO STRIKES

1. At the first signs of illness, call your own doctor. If he suspects polio he will report the case to the local Health Department and arrange for hospitalization or home care, as indicated. The National Foundation does not select physicians or hospitals. This is a family matter. If you have no family physician, call your City or County Medical Society, your Board of Health or the nearest hospital.

2. If your doctor says it is polio and requires hospitalization, the local Chapter of the National Foundation will help arrange for transportation to a treatment center. As soon as the patient goes to the hospital, or if your doctor advises the patient can be treated at home, get in touch with your Chapter of the National Foundation to arrange for any needed assistance.

3. As we do not have a national Foundation in Cross Plains, your doctor can tell you how to get in touch with one.

4. Your Chapter will get in touch with you as soon as it learns of the case through your physician, the hospital or the Health Department. However, late reporting or a heavy hospital load may delay this Chapter contact. If you do not hear promptly, telephone or visit your Chapter representative. You can ease your own worries sooner by making this approach yourself.

5. The Chapter representative will notify the hospital that it is arranging with you for full or partial payment of expenses for medical care. Adults are as eligible for help as are children. Discuss with your Chapter how much of the full bill the Chapter will pay.

a. March of Dimes funds are used to help the medically indigent but this is not the same as "indigent," it includes families of moderate income, who cannot meet the high costs of modern care of this expensive disease. The help is a gift—not a loan. While families that can pay are expected to do so, no family is expected to impoverish itself to meet medical expenses for polio.

b. Even if you can assume full costs for initial hospitalization, it is a good idea to see your Chapter. If yours should be a patient who is severely affected—and this cannot be determined in the first few days you may need help later on. Bills incurred in the weeks before your chapter assumes financial responsibility cannot be paid months afterward, but the Chapter will step in at whatever time you really need help. Have a frank, friendly talk with your Chapter representative at the beginning.

6. Chapters pay for hospitalization, professional services including nursing and physical therapy, transportation to and from hospitals, convalescent centers and clinics, treatment after such as wheelchairs, braces, etc., individual medical and financial needs. Assistance is given regardless of age, race, creed or color. More than 110,000 polio patients were directly assisted in full or in part up to the end of 1948.

These services are made possible by the March of Dimes each January.

School Laws Cut Number of Districts

There are 1,800 fewer school districts in Texas as a result of the consolidation policies of the Gilmer-Aiken school reform laws.

Charles H. Tennyson, public relations director of Texas State Teachers Association, reported the reduction Thursday of last week following a series of committee conferences at Mineral Wells. These conferences planned the school year, the convention program and teacher activity within the schools.

"The school people and the citizenship have accepted the Gilmer-Aiken laws in the finest possible way," Tennyson commented.

"This was evidenced by the promptness of local and county school boards in providing efficient school districts and in voting new tax rates. It has been done with great rapidity to make the new school system a reality.

"Where we thought there would be resistance and that we might have a lot of trouble we have had little trouble and much promptness in full compliance with the new law."

Tennyson said the new higher pay schedules in the new law had been a great stimulus in providing well-trained teachers.

He cited figures to show a sudden and unusual interest in the teaching profession leading to better teachers in the schools.

"During the first six weeks of summer session in sixteen Texas colleges we had enrollment in the graduate departments that was 44.5 per cent above last year's attendance," said Tennyson, "all seeking increased scholarship to improve their teaching."

Summing up the increased pay and bettering of conditions in the teaching profession Tennyson commented:

"There is no doubt that the teachers of Texas owe a greater responsibility to the people of this state and it is already apparent that they are going into the schools to render the best possible service."

Many jobs are open for mathematics teachers in the public schools, according to Dr. Hob Gray, director of University of Texas teacher placement service.

Superintendent's currently are making final arrangements for fall teaching staff members, and need math, science, commercial subjects, homemaking, business administration, and shop instructors.

There are plenty of English and social science teachers available, Dr. Gray said, but applications are welcomed for other jobs.

Have respect for your friends, relatives and enemies. A blend of what they say behind your back forms your reputation.

stance, who'd have guessed that since 1930 the number of new houses has risen faster than the population? In 1930 we had 123 million people and 31.5 million dwelling units; in 1949 the population is 146 million and the number of dwelling units is 43.5 million. Thus, in 1930 we had only one unit to every 3.9 people, whereas today we have one for every 3.4 persons.

And the rate of construction is still rising. New housing "starts" were low in the first part of the year but in June the rate of new building passed that of June 1948. So new homes are still increasing faster than the population.

All this adds up to quite a lively boom, with office buildings, apartments, houses, schools and factories contributing more to this year's total than in 1948.

Up schools—Activity in the school building field is increasing largely because authorities realize they can wait no longer for "more favorable" conditions, in the opinion of R. H. Jacobs, director of the school controls division of Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, who has just completed a coast-to-coast study of the situation.

The nation's schools are facing the greatest crisis in history due to the unprecedented increase in population and the failure to expand facilities during the last two decades. The U. S. Bureau of Census estimates that 8,240,000 more children will be enrolled in the first to twelfth grades in 1958-59 than are in the already overcrowded classrooms today. To house these increased enrollments will require at least 250,000 additional classrooms.

Mr. Jacobs found on his tour that educators and school boards are insisting that buildings erected today must be modern in every respect. Most specifications today call for highest standards of illumination, acoustical treatment and automatically controlled heating and ventilating systems.

Things to come—The appliance makers must be counting on many new homes, too. Each week sees new-model gadgets being introduced. General Electric announces two new ironers in the low price class, one of which offers 96 square inches of ironing surface. Arch-competitor Westinghouse is out with a new wringer-washer to retail for less than $100. . . the same company has a double-duty ventilating fan that will fit into the conventional window or can be used as a portable circulating fan . . . Never having been able to put a keen edge on a stainless steel knife, your editor is glad to record the promise of a cutlery company that its new stainless steel knives will require no sharpening for three years. . . On the other hand, still another company offers a handy gadget to sharpen scissors. Well, it's difference of opinion that makes a market. Comes now plastic pouches for better shipping of oysters. . . a new picture magazine to serve set-owners. First time we see television shows — If you building a new home a general ago, there was no one one place to give you information all the products that might be used in its construction. Today home builders are much better formed, thanks to the home shows. The home show gathers under roof not only construction materials but also furniture and equipment, so that prospective buyer can see, in an hour or two, latest improvements and ideas of many industries. Type of home show exhibitors are 100 clay tile contractors who anticipated this spring in more a score of home shows throughout the nation. Those dealers want to show the public the many now available in clay tile, and demonstrate a variety of uses for it — in the nursery, the room, for patios, dens and rooms. More than 2,000,000 protective home owners saw the hibits this spring, and that more will undoubtedly see the home shows this fall, and helped in their plans for the and of "dream" houses. wonder the construction boom continuing!
