Rural Schools Under New Program

County Supt. A. L. Johnson, informs us that Miss Susie B. Mann, deputy state superintendent, who will have charge of schools in this district which is composed of ten counties with Abilene as the center, has taken up her residence in Abilene, where she has an office on the first floor of the High School building. Miss Mann is now making preparations to visit the different counties in her district in the near future and go over the work in the anticipation of putting into effect the new program in school work which State Supt. Woods has set up under the new rural aid laws.

The new laws provide for a reclassification of all rural schools of the county so they may be maintained at the minimum expense. It also provides that children living in school districts where their grades are not taught, they may attend the nearest affiliated high school the state paying $2.00 per pupil per month for transportation.

It further provides that where an entire school is transferred to another school that an additional $1.00 per month for each grade pupil will be paid for transportation, provided there is an established bus route. Also any other children living in the district through which these busses pass may draw a dollar toward transportation up to two miles of the receiving school.

This plan will enable a great many children to attend high school that would ordinarily be deprived of such privilege. Of course the $2.00 will not take care of all the transportation expenses, but will help a great deal.

High School children living in districts who do not have access to a regular bus lines will be permitted to transport themselves to the nearest affiliated high school or group center, and receive the $2.00 individually. It is suggested however that where there is a number of children to be transported that they group together and save running so many transports; the $2.00 per pupil going to the one furnishing the transportation.

All school budgets for 1933-34 for rural schools have been made by County Supt. Johnson and are being submitted to the trustees of the various school districts for their approval.

The 1933-34 Rural Aid Blanks are being prepared by Mr. Johnson and will be presented to Miss Mann on Oct. 11th when she will be here for the purpose of inspection.

The aid claims are based on plans for an eight months school out of all funds of the district, but this does not mean however, that each school will have an eight months term. It means that with rigid economy they may have an eight months term. There are no special requirements other than what the schools already have with the exception of a ten dollar, purchase of library books for each room.

Mr. Johnson says that most all school buildings and grounds are in readiness for the opening of school.

In reference to the opening of schools, Mr. Johnson says: "Schools making application for aid should plan to open not later than Oct. 16, however the local trustees and patrons of the different schools should start the schools as soon as they deem necessary to accommodate the greater number of children. In some districts where cotton is late, it might be better to defer the opening of school until Oct. 16th, thus giving a greater number of people an opportunity to make a little more money with which to buy clothing for the school session. If the schools that are planning to run eight months receive sufficient funds for an eight months school this would put their closing date the last week in May provided they open on Oct. 16th.

All teachers will be paid on a ten month basis on the first of each month as this will save a considerable interest charge and at the same time enable them to more nearly draw their salary when due.

Mr. Johnson says the general outlook for the schools of the county is a great deal better than last year and with a continued cooperation of the local school trustees, patrons, children and teachers of the school; Mr. Johnson says he believes all schools will be able to balance their budgets and have a longer term than heretofore.

In speaking of the County Teachers 30.

Wheat Meetings Held Over County

County Agent, Ross B. Jenkins has held a number of wheat meetings over the county the past two weeks. Meetings being held at Lanham, Clyde, Oplin, Putnam, Union, Admiral Cottonwood and Baird last week.

The meeting at Baird last Saturday was attended by about forty farmers. A meeting was held at Cross Plains Wednesday night.

Mr. Jenkins tells us that the wheat farmers of Callahan county are falling in line with the wheat plan and seems to thoroughly understand the proposition and are cooperating with him in the plan.

Mr. Jenkins went out to the Quincy Loven farm Monday to inspect a terrace made by Mr. Loven under direction of Mr. Jenkins and he says it is one of the best terraces he has ever seen thrown up. The terrace is 85 feet wide from side to side raised about 18 inches and is sufficient to carry a seven inch rain.

Mr. Jenkins went to Putnam Tuesday to cull chickens for Mrs. Chelson and yesterday he went back to Admiral to cull chickens for J. M. Mayes Tom Eastham and Fred Ellis and Bill Biggerstaff.

Mr. Jenkins and County Supt. A. L. Johnson are making plans to organize 4-H Clubs in every school district in the county where the pupils and patrons will cooperate. Who wants to be the first to organize a 4-H Club? Write Mr. Jenkins or Mr. Johnson and they will be glad to assist you in being the first club organized in the county. Mr. Jenkins will be glad to cooperate in the organization of Poultry, Garden and Yard Clubs also

Miscellaneous Shower For Miss Grace Evans

Misses Jewell Grimes, Leta Alexander and Mrs. Stafford Alexander entertained with a miscellaneous shower in the basement of the First Methodist church for Miss Grace Evans who is to be married to Mr. Cahal Clinton Sunday, Sept. 24.

At the front entrance a sign directed the guests to the basement where they registered in the bride's book for their passports on the "Good Ship of Love" which set sail at 8:30 p. m. for the "Isle of Matrimony".

As the ship set sail the bride-to-be entered escorted by two sailor boys while Miss Mary Elizabeth Fetterly played "Here Comes the Bride".

Following the program the captain announced that one passenger was to take a life boat and go on ahead to the Isle of Matrimony. Misses Juanita Duncan and Sheila Jones, dressed in sailor suits brought in a blue and white life boat loaded with cargo and presented to the bride-to-be.

Mrs. Stafford Alexander presided over the punch bowl where the guests were served iced fruits, punch, heart shaped chicken salad sandwiches and life-savers.

To The Citizens of Baird

The Seventh Grade health class of Baird Grammar school is trying to help our city by destroying the mosquitoes.

If the people will kindly donate enough kerosene to rid the town of these insects the boys of the seventh grade will gladly cover the pools.

We would be glad to learn of any pools needing treatment; Notify any member of the seventh grade if there is a pool near your house that you would like to have covered.

Anyone wanting to donate kerosene for this purpose, please notify us and we will gladly call for it.

We thank you
Katy M. Nichols
Wyoma King.

Institutes Mr. Johnson says that no more Institutes will be held under the meet three times a year in a session to last not over three hours per session and that no compensation is given teachers for attending these meetings. The first of these meetings will be at Baird on Nov. 18th at 9 o'clock a. m. in the High School Auditorium. The States Teachers Association will hold its annual meeting in Austin beginning on Thanksgiving day, Nov.

Claude Flores Entertains With House Party

Claude Flores honored Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Renard and son Charles Benham Renard of Fort Worth with a house party Saturday and Sunday.

Guest who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flores and sons, Jack Jr., Peirce and Billie Claude Flores, Budie Baxter, Wichita Falls; Pat Patterson, Abilene; Stede Robinson, Anson; Bill Lorange, Sweetwater.

More Cotton Checks Received

Ross B. Jenkins, county agent informs us that up to yesterday he had received 131 cotton plow-up checks, amounting to $18,000.

The first checks were received last Friday; twenty-eight checks were received.

Mr. Jenkins says he expects the checks to be coming rapidly from now on.

Farmers Urged To Give RFC Men Work When Possible

Mr. E. E. Cooke, county administrator of the RFC in Callahan county says that people on the county relief rolls are working at what ever they can get; since there is no funds for RFC work. The majority are picking cotton. In most places, we understand only 50 cents per hundred is being paid; although in the Clyde and Putnam section some are paying 60 cents and 65 cents per hundred for picking.

Mr. Cooke says almost 100 percent of the people on the relief rolls are working now, and he requests the farmers who are in need of cotton pickers or work of any kind that they seek help through the RFC and give work to as many home people as possible and all who are physically able to work do so, because the coming winter is going to be hard on all and relief funds may be short.

Playing The Game

Many rules for the government of human conduct have been laid down, and all of them have been broken. Still, it isn't a bad idea to think about some of them occasionally, and if possible give the sensible ones a trial.

An exchange prints a few, attributed to Walter Johnson, famed baseball pitcher and manager, and while they particularly apply to the game of baseball, the principles enunciated are equally applicable to the game of life in general. Johnson says:

- "Play fair; be on the level.
- "Have respect for discipline.
- "Never alibi for failure; accept the breaks of the game as they come.
- "Grit your teeth and bear down when things look toughest.
- "Don't criticize fellow players.
- "Live cleanly.
- "Never quit!"

Eula News

Well, how is The Star force? We are all ok out this way. We had a good rain and now we feel like we are going to make a good late feed crop and we need it.

Cotton is opening fast now and we soon will have a few dollars to pay on our debts.

Well, I spent Saturday in Baird and met so many of my good friends. H. F. Fog, then I met my good friend T. E. Prewell, Martin Barnhill, Judge L. L. Beckburn, Ace Hickman, W. E. Melton, Bob Norrell, Bob Nunnally, W. E. Bounds, Judge B. L. Russell, Judge Carpenter, S. E. Settle and many others; I had the pleasure to take dinner with my good friends Mr. and Mrs. H. Schwartz.

I also met our new County Agent, Mr. Jenkins who I am glad to know. What we all must do now is to get up and put our shoulders to the wheel and help him and he will be ready to do his part. Some folks talk about our county officers not doing anything. What have you done for them? Same way about Preachers and Teachers. Get behind them; then we all will think more of each other.

I was awful sorry to hear about the death of Mrs. Perry Gilliland. Also Mrs. Earnest Cooke. I have known Mrs. Cooke nearly all our lives and she was one of my very best friends. They have payed the debt that will come due on us all some day.

Miss Louise Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Smith of Eula, left on the sunshine this evening for El Paso, where she will enter school. Dr. Bailey of Clyde, was in Eula Friday. We are always glad to have

New Life In Mining

The mining industry, long in the doldrums, is feeling the surge of new life with the government's decision to permit the sale of gold abroad, where the price is higher than in this country. The American price is slightly over $20 per ounce—elsewhere as much as $30 may be obtained.

According to treasury officials, a major gold mining revival will be the result, and the industry's profits should increase by about $15,000,000 per year. That is good news for the West. It means jobs, stimulated purchasing, better business in all lines. The mines were the reason for moving the frontier toward the Pacific in the old days—and their position as one of the most important of basic industries, has never been lost.

We Will Wipe The Slate Clean

We want to do our part in helping to bring back better times, and in carrying out this policy, we make a special offer—one a little out-of-the-ordinary—on subscription.

During the past three years, since times have been so hard, and money scarce with most all of us, we have been lenient on collecting subscriptions and now we have quite a sum due on past due subscription and we realize that it will be a sacrifice for many to pay up this arrearage—so we make this offer.

Pay One Years Subscription to The Star and we will mark you paid in advance—wipe the slate clean and begin all over again.

Subscription in Callahan County $1.50 per year
Outside County $2.00 per year

We believe this will enable many of our subscribers to pay a years subscription and remain a reader of The Star, and enable us to pay some of our obligations.

Respectfully,

THE BAIRD STAR

Farm, Livestock And Poultry Hints

By Ross B. Jenkins, County Agent

During the last few days since the rains have put enough moisture in the soil to bring up garden seed, we have had a number of calls for information on the plants that will stand a reasonable amount of freezing. This information was run sometime back but it will not be out of the way to give a part of it again.

Winter peas should be planted in this section for the good they will do the soil and for home consumption. Austrian Winter Peas. If you can't get any we have some in the office. They withstand much hard freezing and make a good growth. Also there are some very good greens that withstand freezing and many prefer them over turnip greens. There are parsnips, Swiss Chard, rape, kale, and kohlrabi. Cabbage and English peas do much better in the fall and winter months than they do in the spring. They are not bothered with insects and are adapted to cold weather any way.

POULTRY:

In a very few weeks the egg prices are going to be good and most people will be wishing for some egg money that will not be coming in if some very definite action is not taken at once. For the past several days we have been in the field and have found that most all the poultry yards are full of chickens that do not have the snap and vigor that they should have due to but two things. Feed and worms are the trouble. Now is the time to get ready for fall production by getting rid of the worms. If you want to prove that you have no worms, get three pills that have Kamala and Nictine Sulphate of tetrachloroethylene as their mixtures and catch any three birds from the flock and force this pill down them. Watch the birds for about 4 hours and if no worms are passed then your flock is pretty sure not to have any, on the other hand if there are worms in the three very likely all birds on the yard are infested. Try this out and don't feed a bunch of wormy hens this fall and be disappointed in your egg supply. These pills can be bought at any good drug store. After the worms have been eradicated then feed the hens for real business. The following rations are recommended:

Ration Number 1.

Mash
100 lbs. corn meal or milo meal
100 lbs. ground oats
100 lbs. wheat bran—
100 lbs. wheat shorts—
2 lbs. salt—
—or 200 lbs. finely ground wheat.

This formula is offered if plenty of milk is kept before the birds all day. Milk replaces the highest priced portion of the correct ration which is meat scrap, which can be made up entirely of home grown feeds and products.

Ration Number 2

When one-half the amount of milk is available:

Mash
100 lbs. corn or milo meal
100 lbs. ground oats
100 lbs. wheat bran—
100 lbs. wheat shorts—
—may be 200 lbs. finely ground wheat.

Grain
3 lbs. of corn on maize
1 lb. of wheat
50 lbs. meat scraps
3 lbs. salt.

In this ration only a part of the protein is furnished by milk, the balance is from the meat scrap.

Ration Number 3

Where no milk is available
Mash
100 lbs. corn or milo meal
100 lbs. ground oats
200 lbs. of finely ground wheat
100 lbs. meat scrap
Grain
2 lbs. cracked corn or whole milo
1 lb. wheat
1 lb. oats

This ration with but slight modifications is one that is used at the Texas National Egg Laying Contest and has made many records.

Regulating Mash Eaten The amount of mash the flock will eat is controlled by the amount of grain given them. All birds prefer grain to mash then cut down on the amount of grain until they do get the desired amount of mash. Wet mash at noon, especially during hot weather, whets the appetite.

Many people believe that chickens eat too much any way, but this is an erroneous idea for it takes feed to produce eggs. All chickens are hatched with all the eggs in them that they will ever lay. It then comes to the point of feeding them out. The reason that chickens lay in the spring is not simply because it is nature for them to do so but because enough good food is then available for the birds to make eggs flow and no other reason. According to Professor Lippencotte, an average hen that weighs an average weight will consume about 80 pounds of feed in a year. The average farm hen never gets more than 40 pounds which is far to small amount to produce eggs for a profit.

Mash should be fed at the rate of about 3 pounds of dry mash per 100 birds per day.

Water makes up about 65 percent of the contents of the egg and is the cheapest of all elements provided and is the most neglected item. Many people thing any kind of water is all right for a chicken and go right in the house and grumble because her hens don't lay more eggs. Keep clean water out every day, change it daily. Chickens appreciate clean water and will respond to more drinking if you provide such for them.

Feeding Plan

Early morning: Fill all feed hoppers, wash clean the drinking vessels and refill with clean water. If milk is used be sure to wash the vessels each day. See that no grain is left from the night before.

1:00 to 3:00 P. M.: Feed wet mash as suggested above. Wash and fill water vessels. Put out more mash if necessary.

Just before roosting time: Feed the grain ration for that day. Regulate amount fed by feeling the bird once in a while to see if it is full. Never over feed so that feed is left on the floor or in the yard from the night before.
