What every girl should know about COOKING...

It's so easy to bake, roast or broil with an Electric Range . . . no flame, less shrinkage of roasts, cleaner cooking, and a set the automatic clock timer, and coffee's ready when you get up in the morning - you can plug meals — but many other things — to make large quantities of coffee or cocoa at party time, to sterilize baby's bottles — and even to pop corn!

DID YOU KNOW

with an Electric Range you can:

Keep foods warm for long periods on low, gentle heat of surface units . . . prepare Jams and preserves under broiler unit...use controlled, measured heat to cook frozen vegetables and fish without water, in aluminum foil on surface units . . . "prove" yeast dough in warming oven . . . freshen rolls by wrapping in aluminum foil and placing on surface unit on low heat for a few minutes?

Yes, Judy, an Electric Range takes the guess work out of cooking and practically does the job itself. You nut can call it 'cooking without looking' because you put a meal in the oven, set the automatic controls, and forget it while you're doing something else.

"Another thing I like is the way you can cook on the surface units. Set the switch for the heat you want and you get it.

"Cook cheaper cuts of meat in the deep-well cooker, and you get delicious meals. Cakes and pies come out right every time. Broiling's a delight. You cook vegetables with so little water they retain both their flavor and their healthful vitamins."

"You're sort of fond of your Electric Range, Mom — and I understand why!"

MOTHER KNOWS BEST . . .

of course, it's Electric!

About the middle of June he made a trip to Belle Plain, leaving the Mexican herder in charge of the sheep. While the owner of the sheep was in town his house and sheep pens burned. Arriving home late in the afternoon, he found the premises in ruins. He then went to look for the herder and the sheep. The Mexican was not to be found. He had left the country. Dead sheep were everywhere.

The public never learned who had burned the property nor who had killed the sheep.

Two days later the sheepman started moving his herd to Schleicher County. In the new locality he became one of the largest sheep owners in Texas.

Safe Shaft Cleaner

When grass or weed stems bind tightly around revolving shafts or axles of farm equipment, it's a vex-ing and sometimes dangerous job to dig them loose. But here's a safe shaft-cleaner; a steel quarter or half-inch rod, with an 8 or 10-inch handle, and a sharp hook on one end. With it you can break the stems and clean the shaft without danger of losing a finger or hand—even if you've been careless enough to leave the shaft in motion. Examples of the President's resolution to reduce big Government are found in the numerous places in his address to the Congress.

In the sphere of labor relations, for example, he made it plain that 'American labor and American business can best resolve their wage problems across the bargaining table. Government should refrain from sitting in with them unless, in extreme cases, the public welfare requires protection."

He exhorted State and local groups and organizations of citizens to "restrain themselves in their demands upon Congress for Abandoning his earlier concept of 'full parity" for farmers, the President said in his speech that 'full parity" must be sought "in ways that minimize Governmental interference in the farmer's affairs . and encourage farmers to use initiative in meeting changing economic conditions." In foreign aid programs, the President called for greater initiative on the part of our allies whom we have sought to help. "The needed unity of Western Europe cannot be manufactured from without," he declared. The President's address reminded is that man throughout the ages has sought security, and upon attaining it, has wound up losing some of its freedoms. The oyster, enclosed in its shell, has the highest degree of security. On the other hand, the eagle exists by his own nitiative and self reliance, foraging for food and building his own nest in the rocks. One has security. The other has not. Yet when our founding fathers sought an appropriate emblem for the young United States, they chose the eagle—not the oyster.

Commonplace Habits Injurous to Mouth Tissue Says Health Official

It's impressive to be able to pry off bottle caps with your teeth, but it's much smarter—from a dental health point of view-to use a bottle opener.

And using a cigarette holder looks dignified, and it helps keep stain off your fingers, but it doesn't do your teeth any good, State Health Officer George W. Cox says.

Dr. Cox can count off some 36 everyday, commonplace habits that the great majority of Americans, including Texans, practice in one degree or another that are injurious to mouth tissue.

Lip biting is one such habit. Others are clenching or grinding teeth, picking them, chewing on match sticks, tooth picks, holding nails or bobby pins between the teeth, and thumb sucking. Biting on straw or the ear loops of eyeglasses, or chewing on pencils can

Also said to be detrimental to teeth and gums is the practice of leaning your chin in the cup of your hands. It causes side pressure that is sometimes injurious to both teeth and jaws.

"This has to be a pretty consistent habit, though," the health officer asserted, "before it will be damaging: But it is something to Ever experience obscure headaches, tenderness at the temples, or tenseness in face muscles? These might be signs of faulty closure of opposing teeth which is reflected in mouth tissue.

Representative Of Social Security Office In Cisco Thursday

E. Glen McNatt representing the Abilene office of the Social Security Chamber of Commerce in Cisco at the same time on February 26.

In making this announcement Mr. Raph T. Fisher, manager of the Abilene office, called attention to the fact that many persons who were not under social security until erintendent of the swine division January 1, 1951, have now worked while Marshal Berry, Carbon, and ong enough to have retirement or Lloyd Freeman, Pioneer, were survivors protection under the oldage and survivors insurance system. Among these groups that had not had the protection before are most self-employed, regular farm and household workers, some city and county employees, and a number of other groups.

Any person who is now over 65 years of age, and who has had at least one and one-half years of work under social security, either as an employee, or in covered selfemployment now has in enough time to qualify for payments upon retirement. Any such persons are urged to check up on their rights now, particularly if they are not now in some type of work that is covered under the law.

Persons who are 75 years of age or over and who have worked the equired time, can qualify for payments now, whether they have refired or not, since there is no retirement condition after this age s reached.

In any case where a worker has died, some member of his family should check with the Social Security Administration as to whether any payments may be due. This should be done in any case where the worker had been under social security at any time, and in any
