

"AS I SEE IT"

By Jack McCarty

Being of a forgetting and forgiving nature, this department is, this week, going to bury the hatchet and forgive S. F. (Fos) Bond for the numerous things we hold against him, however, we want everyone to understand here and now that this may be only temporary and we reserve the right to say anything we please about him in future editions.

For the benefit of those who do not know, Monday, March 16, will mark the 80th year on this planet for old "Fos" and as was stated in a resolution on page one of last week's edition of the Review, his many friends (and believe me they are many) have banded together to pay their respects to him and his beloved wife, Mabel, all day.

The entertainment for this popular young couple of Cross Plains will begin at breakfast time when the local Methodist church will play host to them at breakfast when the pastor, Rev. C. Y. Butler, and wife and Mr. and Mrs. George Neel will see that they enjoy the finest breakfast available. At noon president Lee Bishop and wife and secretary Jack McCarty and wife of the Chamber of Commerce will see that the honorees for the day are well-fed for lunch. Then a crowning climax to the day's activities will be enjoyed by all citizens of the community when a general get-together, in the form of a covered dish affair will be staged in the high school gymnasium in the evening, beginning at 7:30, when everyone is invited to attend and bring a covered dish for the evening meal.

Fos and Mabel are being honored as the oldest business couple in Cross Plains and the day is being sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce. It is felt here that Fos is the outstanding citizen of the community, serving as mayor, businessman and paper boy, and much of the credit for his popularity is attributed to his darling wife, Mabel.

Now, seriously, folks, while this department does not place a grain of confidence in his predictions regarding the weather to come, a writer deeply respects S. F. (Fos) Bond and his fine wife, and look upon them as the "cream of the crop" in Cross Plains. We have found Fos to be a man of high moral character, possessing the following traits: honesty, humbleness, cheerful, kind, courteous, reverent, etc. In short, we have found him to be a true Christian gentleman and we are proud to have him number us among his friends.

Citizens of this community are urged to respond to the call made several weeks ago for blood donors to sign up as a "Walking Blood Bank" here. Patriotic citizens are asked to sign as members of this worthy organization at the office of the Cook Insurance Agency here. According to C. R. (Mike) Cook, only 35 donors have signed the donor list to date and he pointed out that the local "Blood Bank" has been called on to provide 14 donors in the past 10 days. There should be at least 350 people in this community who would be willing to donate their blood to help a friend or neighbor in time of need.

THE BAYOU PHILOSOPHER GLAD THE PRESIDENT IS KEEPING HIS FARM EVEN IF IT ISN'T PAYING OFF

Editor's note: The Bayou Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on the Bayou is off on topics he doesn't know much about again this week, which is customary with him.

Dear editor: Last week in my letter to you I was talkin about the school teachers' problem, how there was a shortage of teachers in Texas due to the fact the profession apparently has been under-paid and is failin to attract enough young people, all the smart ones want to go into something that pays better, and how a lot of people believe the solution is to give the teachers an increase in pay.

This may be right, but I'm afraid the request comes anywhere from fifteen to thirty years too late to help the present adult population.

You can look around you now and see that what this country needed thirty years ago, add or subtract a few years, was an increase in teachers' pay in order to attract a lot better class of teachers, that is, just judgin by the amount of education you and me and a lot of others I could name absorbed.

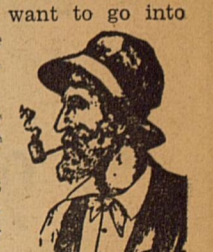

The argument for more teachers and better teachers and more money to attract em is pretty plain, when you examine the state of a lot of grown people's education. I ain't sayin if they'd paid my teachers more money they'd had any better luck with me, but I reckon I'm getting close to sayin it.

But I didn't start out to discuss the teachers' problems, what I started out to say is everybody has problems. For example, before he had any notion of runnin for President, Eisenhower bought a farm up in Pennsylvania and the newspapers were full of his plans about it. He and a partner were goin to operate it and split the profits fifty-fifty.

Well, the other day I noticed in a newspaper that up to now there haven't been any profits to split and that President Eisenhower has decided he hasn't got time to be President and look after a farm too. I know what he means. Runnin a farm is a full-time job and the day never was made with enough hours in it to run a farm and the Presidency too.

But I notice Eisenhower is holdin on to the place, and I'm glad of it. Just because a farm don't show any profit is no reason for sellin it. If it was, the real estate people in this country would get rich on commissions.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

can Legion's community service committee was named chairman of the movement by Brown.

Returned Korean veterans will be issued Appreciation Certificates from The American Legion and families of those who did not return will be presented certificates also.

"Our Korean Veterans have been leaving Texas by the thousands, and returning the same way, without bands playing or without any notice being taken of what they have done for our country," Commander Brown said. "It is far past time for us appreciative Texans to show these men that we are aware of their efforts."

Public meetings will be held by American Legion posts in which the entire community will be asked by each Legion post to participate.

Pastors of all Texas faiths will be called upon by the Rev. Henry F. Selcer of Marshall, American Legion state chaplain, to honor Korean veterans from their pulpits, Sunday, March 15.

So the People May Know

LAWs of The State of Texas provide that many county, city, and other officials must publish in the newspapers certain information about their finances and operations.

The lawmakers passed these rules because of their belief in the fundamental principles of democracy that a people can properly govern themselves only when they are adequately informed.

There have been violations of these publication laws.

These have been violations of omission: That is, some officials have neglected to publish information as required by state law.

The people are entitled to know what information their local officials are required to publish.

This newspaper, therefore, will print a series of articles, prepared by The Texas Press Association—presenting in plain language pertinent facts in regard to the publication laws.

Are you, as a citizen, getting through your newspaper all of the information that law says you should have—concerning the operation of your local government?

Find out by following this series of articles in your newspaper.

SENATOR LYNDON JOHNSON DISCUSSES TIDELANDS ISSUE

Lyndon B. Johnson, Senior Senator from Texas, presents his personal comments on matters affecting Texas every two weeks. His news letter, mailed direct from Washington, will be a regular feature carried in this column.

Congress is getting around to the so-called tidelands issue again and we hope that this year we can finally get justice for our State. Hearings are going on before the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee and with luck we should have a bill on the Floor before very long.

It's hard to find an issue that has been so confused by propaganda and wild claims as this one. Sometimes it's impossible to keep all conflicting statements straight. I think that as Texans we ought to take care of this one once and for all.

In the first place, the argument has nothing to do with the "tidelands." The real issue is the so-called "submerged lands" under the water below the low tide mark. We Texans claim those submerged lands for a distance of 10 and one-half miles (three marine leagues) out from the shore line.

That claim goes back to 1836 when Texas fought to win its independence from Mexico. Once we were an independent Republic, our legislature set our boundaries seaward at a point beginning three marine leagues from the mouth of the Rio Grande and continuing along the shore line to a point three marine leagues from the mouth of the Sabine River.

When we decided to enter the United States nearly a decade later, we had a public debt of about $10,000,000. We offered to turn our public lands over to the United States if it would pay that debt. This offer was turned down so we reversed it and offered to pay our own debt if the United States would let us—as a state—keep our public lands.

That offer was accepted and written into the Annexation Agreement by a resolution of Congress. We paid our public debt and nothing has happened since then to change the resolution of annexation. It has never been repealed or amended by Congress.

For nearly 100 years, nobody questioned that the obvious fact that our public lands included the submerged lands 10 and one-half miles out to sea. That was the position taken in one court decision after another. As late as 1945, the Interior Department took the position that the submerged lands just off the shore belonged to the states.

But about that time, some Federal officials realized that there might be valuable oil in the submerged lands. They entered suit and finally got a Supreme Court decision that the Federal Government had "paramount rights" in the matter. They did not—as some people claim—get a decision that the "title" belonged to the Federal Government. The Supreme Court refused to pass upon that question.

What we are trying to do now is to get the title cleared up and the rightful ownership of Texas confirmed. It is an issue that means a lot to us. The revenues from such lands are set aside for the education of our children and they are important.

But even more important is the question of justice to Texas. There are far greater questions involved in this issue than mere money. Those lands are ours by solemn and binding agreements. Our title has been confirmed by Treaty, by Congressional resolution, and by Court decisions dating back over the years. We cannot permit them to be taken away at the last minute.

We of the Texas Delegation are determined that Texas shall receive its just due. We will fight this out to the end and I believe we will win.

Sincerely yours,
Lyndon B. Johnson

"As It Looks From Here"

OMAR BURLISON
Congressman
17th District

Several letters have been received from people back home regarding the so-called McCarran-Walter Immigration Act. The measure was passed in the last Congress. The general purpose was a strengthening of the immigration laws and restricting the admission of undesirables.

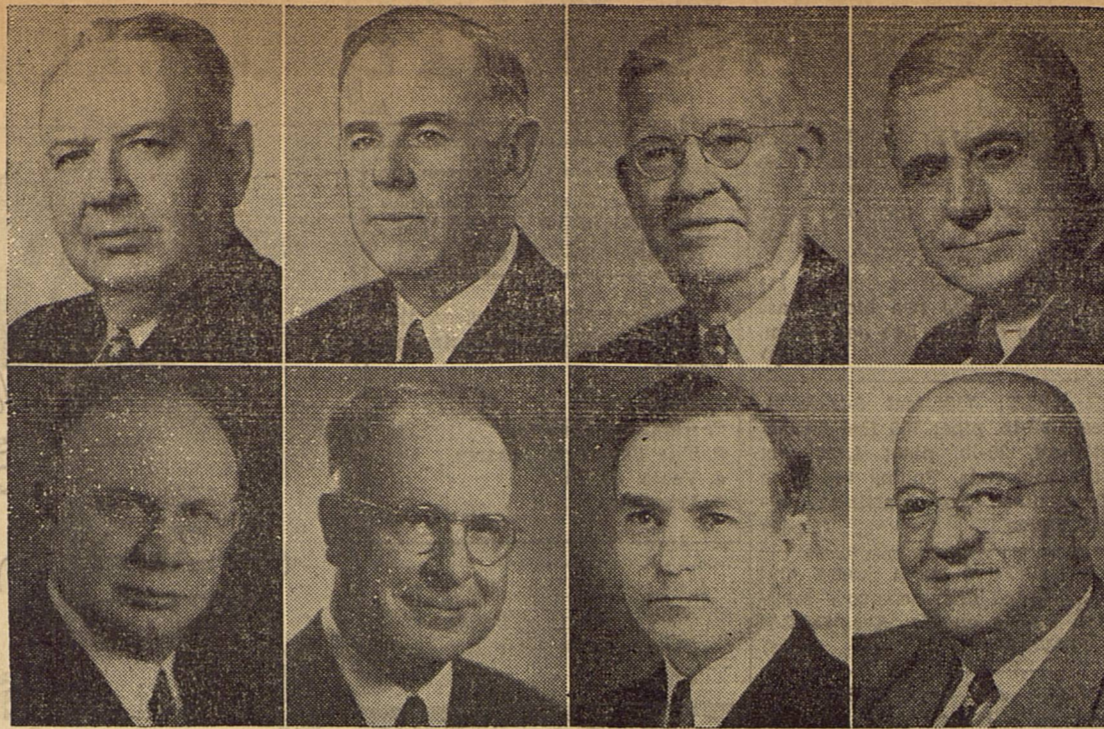

I supported the measure wholeheartedly and do not favor its repeal. The so-called "liberal" and "do-gooder" groups are opposed to the law, and they have put out a lot of propaganda against it which has influenced many good people to believe it is bad. If anything, I favor strengthening it more.

Another matter of interest to a great many people is the method of appointing postmasters and rural letter carriers. Until the change in the Administration, it was my responsibility to recommend persons to these positions. Since the change in the Administration, naturally the Party in power reserves this privilege which is commonly referred to as "patronage."

Those interested in such positions when they become vacant must either qualify on a Civil Service examination or be transferred from a position they hold under Civil Service if their status permits.

As vacancies occur in these positions, it is suggested that anyone interested contact the County Republican Chairman as to the method to be used in filling the vacancy. It should be known that the person in position to make recommendations has considerable limitations to his actions. In other words, he cannot simply go out on the street and touch a man on the shoulder and say he is "it." Neither had the Congressman any such latitude in the past.

The Civil Service Commission gives an examination for these positions. Regardless of the number who participate in the examination, only three can qualify. From these three, a recommendation can be made, but even so, there are limitations in connection with provisions of law favoring veterans. It should also be said that neither the Congressman nor, as the case is now, the Republican County Chairman, has anything to do with the examination or the grading of Dignitaries of the Methodist Church will lead in the celebration of ten years of progress at McMurry College under the administration of Dr. Harold G. Cooke, March 10-13. Featured speaker will be Bishop W. Angie Smith (far left, top row) of the New Mexico-Oklahoma area. Others to participate on the program are, left to right, Bishop Paul E. Martin of the Arkansas-Louisiana area; Bishop H. A. Boaz, Dallas; Bishop Charles C. Seelman, Dallas; Second row—Dr. John Gross, executive secretary Methodist Board of Education, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist University; Dr. C. Q. Smith, president of Oklahoma University; Dr. Cooke.

BAPTIST WMU CONTINUES WEEK OF PRAYER THROUGHOUT WEEK

The WMU met at the First Baptist Church Monday, March 2, at 3:00 p.m. for their first program in observance of the week of prayer. Topic for the program is "America the Beautiful".

Services will continue this week each afternoon at 3:00, except Wednesday when the young people will have charge of the program at 7:30 p.m.

Everyone is extended an invitation to attend these services.

papers by the Civil Service Commission. If this were not true, there would be no need to hold an examination.

It is my hope that this brief explanation may be of help to the Republican County Chairman, who I understand will have this responsibility from now on.

Either next week or the following, unless other subjects appear to be more interesting at the time, it is my expectation to discuss what is commonly referred to as the Bricker Constitutional Amendment to prohibit the making of Treaties and Agreements by the President with foreign nations which could have the effect of superseding Constitutional law. It is a current controversial question in the Congress and one which will draw considerable attention in the future.

Harold Moon was a week end visitor in Mineral Wells.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

Austin, Tex.—In the Senate is a bill that has turned out to be the most controversial and most costly of the legislative session to date.

It is a wrangle between two factions of optometrists.

The bill occasioned two full days of debate in the House before it finally passed by a vote of 97 to 41.

House Bill 5 is the designation of this measure, whose original purpose was to prevent optometrists from advertising and to break up the optometry chain stores.

The proposition, authored by Representative Stanley Banks, Jr. of San Antonio, has the support of the Texas Optometry Association, a statewide organization of independent optometrists.

Opposing the bill are the advertising optometrists, including the chains.

Proponents of the legislation say they want to life the standards of the profession and increase the authority of the state board of optometry so that it can tighten regulation and thereby eliminate any undesirable practices.

Opponents contend that the bill would invade their private rights, and that the public would have to pay more for glasses if the measure should pass.

Amendments in the House toned down the bill's provisions, but did not remove objections of the opponents, who are redoubling their fight against the measure in the Senate. The attitudes of three members of the House summed up various viewpoints on the bill: Representative Banks: "It raises the standards of the profession." Representative Douglas Bergman of Dallas: "It's just an attempt to stifle free enterprise." Representative Bill (Jitterbug) Henderson of Houston: "Let the people decide where they want to buy glasses. I say get the government out of business."

Another bill that caused a good deal of controversy—one to ban resort lodges from state parks—was killed in the House, 63 to 59.

Barring revival of the bill, which seems unlikely, the state parks board can sell bonds to private investors and build resort lodges at Inks Lake near Burnet, Lake Texoma, and Possum Kingdom Lake.

Each project will cost about $1 million. When the lodges are built, they will be leased by the parks board to private operators.

You can look for stout argument next Wednesday, March 11, on whether to repeal or amend the automobile inspection law.

The House voted to postpone further debate on the issue until that time.

Representative Sam Seller of Waco is author of a bill to wipe the law off the statute books. Representative D. H. Buchanan of Longview has a bill which he says will remove the undesirable features of the present law but retain its major objective—to take mechanically unsafe cars off the roads.

Highway Department top brass is toiling to perfect a presentation of their $500 million road improvement program for a joint session of House and Senate.

"We plan to lay the full facts before the Legislature at one time," says Chairman E. H. Thornton, Jr. of the highway commission.

He added that the commission will not undertake to tell the Legislature how to raise the money because "that is a legislative prerogative, and an administrative agency should not interfere in it."

The department has estimated that it will take an additional $100 million per year for the next five years to bring Texas highways up to standard and maintain them.

It would take a constitutional amendment to complete a proposal by Senator John Bell of Cuero to help solve the state's water problems.

The proposed amendment, which passed a Senate committee test unanimously, would authorize the charging of fees for the use of Texas waters. The money would be used to build dams and reservoirs. If passed by the Legislature, Bell's proposal would be voted on by the people next November 7.

A strong advocate of the proposed amendment is Senator Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo, who says his area's water shortage is critical.

Senator Bell predicted that if the amendment passes, local communities will build $250 million worth of dams for water storage, flood control, and irrigation as soon as the money is available.

For a long time, there have been rumblings of discontent about the administration of Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

Senator J. T. Rutherford of Odessa wants to bring the whole affair out into the open with a full dress investigation of the state health department, which the senator calls a "farce".

The investigation, if held, "will disclose facts that will warrant the removal" of State Health Officer Cox and his top aides, Senator Rutherford thinks.

Dr. Cox had no reply to the senator's remarks. He said it was up to the state board of health to do whatever they chose about it.

The board has met several times without acting on the reappointment of Dr. Cox, whose present term of office expired January 1.

The board could act on the appointment at its next session, March 9, but Senator Rutherford asked that the board further delay its appointment, pending the results of his proposed investigation.

A Senate subcommittee may report next week on a bill that sets out to establish a uniform plan of taxing gasoline and compensating service stations for shrinkage caused by varying weather.

The original committee hearing on the bill attracted 1,200 service station operators and gasoline wholesalers.

Service station operators contend they were suffering losses because they receive less gasoline than they pay for, since weather changes cause gasoline to alter in volume.

Gasoline jobbers countered that it would cause them undue hardship if they were required, as the bill provides, to compute the four cent sales tax on each gallon of gasoline at a uniform temperature of 60 degrees.

To eliminate duplication of federal and state powers, especially in the field of taxation, will be the aim of a commission whose mem-

Governor Allan Shivers, as president of the conference, conferred with the president about the idea in Washington, and commented that it was the first time a president has ever called on governors to hear their views on how to stop federal-state conflicts.

It would take a two-thirds vote of the Legislature and a majority vote of the people to pass a proposed constitutional amendment by Searcy Bracewell of Houston to increase the pay of top state officials.

If you're willing to add a half-cent per pound to your cost of seed, you will increase your chances for getting a good crop come harvest time. Most seeds are high-value commodities and the added cost is almost negligible when it is realized how much can be gained by treating.

They tell us about a farmer with a large acreage in grain sorghum who failed to treat his seed for disease and smut swallowed up his entire yield. Had he protected his seed against disease, his barns would likely have been bulging with feed. Your county agent can suggest treatments for different kinds of seed. It's good insurance.

District Methodist Rally At Gorman This Friday

A Methodist missionary who established a school for boys in an interior village of Brazil will be guest speaker at the Cisco District Methodist Rally meeting to be held in the Methodist church in Gorman Friday evening, March 6, at 7:30. He is the Rev. Clement R. Hubbard, founder of the American Institute at Lins, and missionary to the surrounding villages in the state of Sao Paulo.

Mr. Hubbard went to Brazil in 1921 and after five years of pastoral work he founded the American Institute at Lins. This has developed into a notable evangelistic and educational service for rural villagers. Some 1,500 pupils are now enrolled in the grammar school, high school, normal and sewing schools. The night school is the most popular and there are 300 boarding students. The school operates three small farms which are serving thousands of farmers in the state. The agricultural department will be further developed by a new missionary who will go to Brazil in 1953.

The Rev. E. E. Lightfoot, pastor of First Methodist Church, Cisco, and district director of missions, will introduce the speaker at the Gorman meeting. The district superintendent, the Rev. Leslie W. Seymour, will show picture scenes of the Methodist Glen Lake Camp at Glen Rose, and will present information regarding the improvement program being projected there.
