Town Talk

Our thanks to the many who took time to compliment us on this new feature. If you hear of news that will make good reading in this de partment in the years ahead, we will truly appreciate a "tip" so that we can keep this column both informative and entertaining.

A classified advertisement appearing in last week's edition of the Review caused no small amount of comment. It read, in part: "For Sale: 3 piggy sows,'

Our girl Friday (Esloy Dickson) commented, while reading proof, "this is an un-usual ad. When I was a girl on the farm we called them either pigs or sows."

morning last week, one of the waitresses at Odom's Cafe asked Ted Souder to please explain to Right Barnett what a "biggy soy." was. With five of his wagon. men arou d the table, all reared in a rural area, they were stymied for words to explain he matter. However, one fant finally came forward to eloquently refer to a "p ggy sow" as an "expect-ant mother hog".

We nominate Richard White s the champion Cross Plains fisherman. Friday of last week he was in town displaying a string of four fish which included three Black Bass weighing from 21/2 to 3 pounds each and one "barn door" Crappie measuring 16 inches in length and weighing an even two bounds, which is a big fish for this variety in these parts. When asked about where he snagged these beauties, Rich grinned and said, "Turkey Creek".

In the heat of gridiron competition some hilarious happenings can occur. At the risk of irritating two former Buffalo gridmen, the following occurrences come to mind.

It was at Rising Star a few years ago that Cross Plains was using a passing attack to try to loosen stiff defenses of the Wildcat eleven. Doug Dallas, as the Buffalo quarterback, was scrambling, having reversed his field several times, trying to find an open receiver. Finally all pass defenders abandoned assignments to aid in tackling Dallas. That left Jerry Fleming, a lanky Bison end, all alone at the Wildcat five yard line. Dallas spotted him and hurl ed a strike into Fleming's arms. The Buff, startled to find himself alone and somewhat off balance, apparently tried to back across the goal, but fell at the two.

Things were going badly for the Herd at Merkel several years ago, and the host Badgers had a large lead. Late in the game reserves of both teams were seeing action. A young Badger quarterback rounded end and Arnold Childers hit him from the side. The two rolled over several times with the Merkel youth emerging on top with fists pounding Childers. The Buff, a bit larger, raked him off with a swing of his arm. As the two were scrambling upright, Childers came around with a "hay-maker", just as a referee arrived. The offi-cial was staggered by the blow which caught him on the side of the head.

2 Local Men Tell Story Of Seeing White Buck Deer

Ted Souder, sports editor of the Review and Richard White, local chainman for the Cross Plains High School Buffaloes, both reputed to be honest men of the community, were in town late Friday night and early Saturday morning relating a tale they were having a difficult time convincing friends was above-

Here is their story: They were en route home from the Buffalo - Goldthwaite football game, about 11:30 p.m. and were traversing that portion of the highway along near Lake Brownwood when they noticed a car and a pickup parked along the roadside. Slowing to see of there was a need for help, they noted an animal in the burrow ditch, and stopped to see what was going on. To their surprise, the animal was a White Fallow buck deer, sporting a rack of at least 12 points. The frightened animal was
