

1 City Dad, 2 Trustees File In April Elections

Ray Purvis has filed for re-election to the Cross Plains City Council, and Charles Payne has filed for another term on the Cross Plains Independent School District Board of Trustees since last week.

W. G. (Wimpy) McCoy has announced that he will not be a candidate for councilman this year, and Mayor O. B. Edmondson has not yet made his intentions known.

Payne, asking his second full term, signed up last week, and joins incumbent Joe E. Hanke, Jr. in re-election quest. Hanke had announced for re-election earlier. Those are the only two terms expiring this year. Trustee tenures run for three years.

Purvis signed for another term first of the week, but he is the only announced candidate.

McCoy, local bank president, said that he feels due to his increased work load and added responsibilities he will not seek re-election. He added, "I have served for five years, and couldn't ask to have worked with a better group." He continued, "I want to continue to help the city progress and grow, but not as a city councilman."

Mayor Edmondson has not yet made his plans public.

The election in city and school bounds will both be held on Saturday, April 3, and deadline for signing up with name to be printed on the ballot is March 4. City post candidates may get into the aldermen or mayoral contests by filing with City Secretary Debbie Gosnell, at City Hall, and trustee hopefuls may file with Hanke, secretary of the school board.

Some Good Guys Are Still Here

There are still some good guys around to which Mr. and Mrs. Gary Harris of Cross Plains will attest.

There was an occurrence Wednesday of last week at Lake-way Store which proves that fact.

Mrs. Harris filled up her automobile with gasoline there Wednesday en route to a doctor's appointment. After she left an unknown man entered the store with a sum of money, saying something like, "Somebody will probably want this."

Upon investigation the store personnel discovered the money amounted to more than $300 and belonged to Gary Harris, according to a check stub included in the bills.

The Good Samaritan would not take a reward from the store or leave his name for thanks from Mr. and Mrs. Harris. Harold Akerson, store owner, called Mrs. Harris' physician to ease her mind about the money, which was found before it was missed.

Then on January 10, 1970, he was promoted to Vice-President and Cashier, the office he held until his retirement. Dick was elected to the Board of Directors on April 4, 1976, and served as its secretary.

W. G. (Wimpy) McCoy, president of the bank, said, "Dick Wagner will be greatly missed by all of his co-workers as well as by his many friends and customers of the community."

Council Okays WTU Rate Hike As PUC Approved

A settlement agreement allowing West Texas Utilities Company to increase its rates to retail customers has been approved by the Texas Public Utility Commission of Texas.

The new rates, which will average about 8.3 per cent above the old rates, were placed in effect on Friday, Feb. 12. This action is in accordance with a stipulated agreement with all intervenors, including cities represented by the Texas Municipal League, WTU and the PUC staff.

Cross Plains City Council unanimously approved the rate increase Tuesday, Feb. 9, in regular meeting as allowed by the Public Utilities Commission. The council had delayed action on the rate increase request pending the decision of the Public Utilities Commission.

The increase is designed to increase the company's annual retail revenues by $11.8 million. A wholesale rate increase of $5.5 million, also settled by agreement and expected to be approved by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission in Washington, would bring WTU's total annual revenue increase of $17.3 million. The company had applied for a total increase of 032.2. The effect on a residential bill for 600 kilowatt-hours of electricity per month would be slightly over 10 per cent. This would include the fuel costs adjustment. For 600 kilowatts at a residence, the bill would be $37.89 under the new rates and $34.39 under the old rates.

The reception, hosted by the bride's parents, was held in the church fellowship hall. The bride's table was covered with lace over burgundy cloth. The bridal bouquet served as the centerpiece between burgundy candles.

Punch was served from a crystal bowl with mints and nuts. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with white carnations tipped in burgundy. White satin wedding bells topped the cake.

The groom's table was covered with beige lace over a brown cloth. The centerpiece was a straw cowboy hat with brown, beige, and gold flowers inside. Chocolate cake and coffee was served.

A huge animal which looked like a timber wolf was killed on the Blanton Childers place here Saturday. R. D. and Sharon Childers of Scranton dropped by, just as Blanton was releasing the chickens out for the day. R. D. spotted the wolf between the house and the coops, got his rifle and eliminated the varmint destroying the hens. We have heard of reports of these wolves being spotted just everywhere in the area. So do take a close watch on your animals, small or large.

On Friday, Mrs. O. O. (Cornelia) Sandifer was admitted to the Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene. Cornelia is undergoing some tests.

Mrs. Willie Mae Blanton had lunch with Mrs. Lillie Childers on Friday.

The girls, Barbara and Sharon, beat the boys, Eddie and Bob Saturday night. What makes the guys think us women can't win in playing 42?

Mr. and Mrs. Dayton McInnis were in Voca, Texas on business last Monday. En route home they stopped by their daughter and family, Mrs. Virginia Durst. Michael, Kacy and Amy in Mason and stayed until Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Weaver of Houston have been busy around their place this past week, planting trees and doing chores. Over the week end their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Weaver of Houston, and their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Rogers and Craig, Jr. of Tomball, were here. The family had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nickerson on Saturday night and Sunday dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kelly with all families attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes Holcomb came by to visit her sister, Mrs. Ethel Anderson, on Tuesday and brought in dinner.

Mrs. Stuart Sowell, Matthew, Mandy and Melissa, had Sunday dinner with their grandmother and great-grandmother, Mrs. Ethel Anderson.

On Saturday Darwin and Wanda Anderson of Abilene and Vanda King and children of Pioneer had dinner with his mom and their grandmother, Mrs. Ethel Anderson. Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Renfro and Barbara Sowell and children dropped by that evening.

Mrs. Oscar Forbus and her sister had tea with Ethel Anderson last Thursday.

Mrs. Stella Davidson returned home this Friday after a long stay at West Texas Medical Center in Abilene. Welcome home Stella. We are happy to learn this news this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Robinson of Clyde visited with their folks on Sunday, Mrs. Mabel Robinson and Mrs. J. P. Clark.

Mr. Jake Green received a week end pass to come home from the Veterans Hospital in Temple. Jake returned today (Monday) to continue to have some tests run.

Valentine Day was a hard-working day scheduled for the Blanton Childers place. They were moving and branding cattle. R. D. Childers and Todd of Scranton and Arnold Childers and J. C. Horton of Brownwood were on hand with their trucks and trailers to help. Aubrey and Virginia Childers of Abilene stopped by. Aubrey arrived about lunch time with a trailer load of furniture. This started the Childers phone to ringing with calls from concerns and neighbors checking to make sure they were there and everything okay.

State Capital HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN — Railroad Commissioner Arthur "Buddy" Temple, D-Diboll, may be the new kid on the block in the governor's race, but he's already catching flak from both sides of the political scene.

Fellow gubernatorial hopeful Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong, a Democrat, and GOP incumbent Gov. Bill Clements both called on Temple to resign his RRC post or get out of the governor's race.

Armstrong criticized Temple for conflict of interest stating that, because Temple has about five years remaining on his RRC term, he could put undue pressure on oil, gas and trucking companies to support his gubernatorial bid.

Those industries must deal with Temple as an elected official for the next five years "no matter what the outcome of the governor's race," Armstrong said.

At his weekly Capitol press conference, Clements echoed those comments saying it was "fundamentally wrong" for anyone to run for one office when he knows he can retain his present elective position if he is defeated.

But Temple, who comes from a wealthy East Texas timber family, says he has no intention of giving up his RRC post.

"Neither Mark White nor Bob Armstrong nor Bill Clements is resigning their position to run for governor," Temple said.

Temple said he fully intends to continue to carry out his duties as a railroad commissioner, and he launched his gubernatorial campaign criticizing Clements for allowing schools, highways, prisons and law enforcement to deteriorate during his three year as governor.

Temple says Clements' unkept campaign promises will "follow him around like a barking dog."

Treasurer's Investigation
And while the gubernatorial candidates exchanged blows, State Treasurer Warren G. Harding filed suit against Travis County prosecutors for initiating what Harding considers a politically motivated investigation of his office.

Harding, who was unopposed in the race for the Democratic nomination for treasurer until the disclosure that a Travis County grand jury was investigating him sued prosecutors for $1 million contending his civil rights have been violated.

It originally has been thought that the grand jury investigation centered on campaign violations, but recent reports indicate that the panel is looking into charges that Harding has used his position to get business for his son, an Austin stockbroker.

Harding contends that Travis County District Attorney Ronald Earle is using the investigation to impress legislators with the operation of his public integrity unit. That unit gets state funds from the Legislature.

Clayton Suit
But Harding's isn't the only legal action initiated lately by a state official.

House Speaker Bill Clayton has filed suit in federal court against Prudential Insurance Co. of America, which cooperated with federal law enforcement officials in the Brillab operation, in which the speaker and others were indicted and acquitted.

Clayton has charged that Prudential caused him "a vast amount of ridicule and scorn," and that the case ruined his political career even though he was found innocent of the charges he took a bribe.

Clayton is seeking in excess of $10,000 for actual costs in defending himself, for mental anguish and to punish the company for its actions.

Clayton's co-defendants, Austin attorneys Donald Ray and Randall Buck Wood, also have filed a suit for unspecified damages in Travis County district court.

Budget Cuts

State Comptroller Bob Bullock's office has projected that the proposed Reagan administration budget for 1983 will cost Texas some $112 million.

A spokesman for Bullock's office says that figure is the estimated loss to 19 state agencies that get 97 per cent of the federal funds coming to the state. Those agencies range from the Texas Employment Commission to the Texas Air Control Board to the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Bullock's office, however, says the severity of those cuts will be lessened because of increases in tax collections here in Texas. That increase is attributed to rising population, inflation and stepped up enforcement by the comptroller.

Gov. Clements also has made little of the projected losses saying that $112 million won't be a "significant" loss to a state budget of $13 billion.

Congressional Redistricting

A three-judge federal panel hearing court challenges to Texas congressional redistricting plan has criticized the U. S. Justice Department for waiting until only two days before the state's Feb. 1 campaign filing deadline to object to the reapportionment plan.

U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals Judge Sam Johnson said the elective process has been "seriously impeded" by the position of the U. S. attorney general.

The panel, which also includes U. S. District Judges William Wayne Justice of Tyler and Robert Parker of Beaumont, gave the state less than a week to get the Justice Department to reconsider its objection to the congressional reapportionment plan.

If that objection is not rescinded, the judges will implement their own interim plan under which the 1982 congressional races would be conducted.

Energy Saving tips on Electric Heating.

Check your thermostat setting. Recommended temperature setting for winter heating is 68°. Remember, the lower you set the thermostat in the winter the lower your energy cost.

Have your heating system checked regularly! Proper servicing is good preventive maintenance.

Keep filters clean. Check the filter every 30 days on forced-air systems. If filter is permanent, clean it by manufacturer's directions, if it's disposable, replace when dirty.

Have your home properly insulated! Adequate home insulation keeps the warmth in, cuts energy use . . . can pay for itself by lowering heating (and cooling) costs.

Use the warmth of the sunshine! On sunny days open the drapes. The sun shining through the glass will supply additional heat at no cost.

Remember, Reddy Supplies the Energy, only you can use it wisely!
