Den At Rowden Gives Up 27 Rattlesnakes

The Rowden Rattlesnake Round-up was held last Thursday by the English Brothers.

John English of Oakland, Calif., and younger brother O. J. English of Fritch, Texas, were at the old home place this week, and discovered a couple of rattlesnakes. After finally finding something to play the reptiles with, the men proceeded to kill 27 of the poisonous snakes from the den on the Olin J. English place, located a few miles south of the Rowden Store.

They had the evidence of the rattlesnake roundup in a pickup in Cross Plains Friday morning. The largest reptile was estimated to be about five feet long.

12 Memorial Gifts Boost Cross Cut Cemetery Fund

Twelve recent memorial gifts to the Cross Cut Cemetery Association has added more than $305 to funds for the burial plot designed to provide permanent care for the cemetery.

Eleven of the contributions have been received in the past several days, while one is a major donation which was somehow overlooked, said O. B. Byrd, cemetery official.

A $100 contribution made in December in memory of Hattie Baucum by Marie and Roy Stambaugh, Toad Baucum and Billy Paul Baucum, was omitted from being publically recognized. Apology is made and forgiveness is asked for the oversight.

Eleven other contributions have been received in the past several days in memory of Lewis Newton. These were listed, donor and amount, as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Donald Patton of Sonora $25, Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Poindexter of Novice $10, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Horge of Coleman $15, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Lane of Dublin $20, Deama Moran of Brownwood $40, Lee Loper of Hale Center $20, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Riley of Cross Plains $15, Mrs. C. A. Willis of Houston $25, Tommy and Lois Johnson of Bloomfield, N. M., $15, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stone of San Antonio $10 and Mrs. Bailey Johnson of Clyde $10.

Byrd expressed his appreciation and that of the association for the several gifts. Persons who wish to help with the permanent upkeep of the Cross Cut burial grounds may send donations to him at Route 2, Cross Plains, Texas 76443. Acknowledgements will be made through columns of the Review.

Girl Scouts Say 'Thanks' For Happy 73rd Birthday

Cross Plains Girl Scouts' Spirits are high as they celebrate a week of special activities March 10-16 noting their 73rd birthday on March 12, Tuesday.

"Our most recent cause of celebration is the wonderful support given the Girl Scout cookie sale by friends and neighbors in Cross Plains," according to spokeswoman Bettie Cavanaugh. "Thanks to you profits from a record sale will pay for an exciting array of program opportunities for the more than 66 Girl Scouts in Cross Plains for the rest of the year," Cavanaugh said.

Cavanaugh said that the cookie sale is just one way in which the community supports the Girl Scout program. "It is from the community that our volunteer leadership comes — mothers and dads who invest their time and talent in the future of youth," Cavanaugh said.

Council President Helen Taaffe of Weatherford sent a birthday message of congratulations to girls, leaders, and friends of Girl Scouting in Cross Plains.

"You have made it possible for Girl Scouting to serve girls more effectively," Taaffe said. "Girl Scouting is a movement dedicated to the development of girls and women from all segments of American life. Based on ethical values, Girl Scouting offers its members opportunities to fulfill their individual potential, make new friends and make positive contributions to the larger community. I believe we can best express our appreciation to the community by doing our very best to serve its youth well," Taaffe said.

Stressing that the Girl Scout program is one of informal education, Taaffe said that the program features a broad range of activities that allow girls to have fun while they develop skills and self confidence. Girls are encouraged to participate in meaningful community service projects so that they may acquire understanding of themselves and others.

Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., with a membership of nearly three million, is the largest voluntary organization for girls in the world. Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council serves a 19 county jurisdiction in North Central Texas with almost 3,000 members.

Donna Fincher of Brownwood, Heart of Texas Council executive director, reflects that the popularity of a typical Girl Scout of just a generation ago bears only a slight resemblance to the Girl Scout of 1985. "Today's Girl Scouts are mastering computer technology, learning about the environment and the ecological balance, exploring the universe by telescope and getting on-the-job training through Girl Scouting's career education programs," Fincher said.

"But some things haven't changed," Fincher said. "Girl Scouting's value centered program is still helping girls grow up to be happy, healthy, contributing citizens, and in all those exciting ventures the accent is still on plain old, girl-size fun. It's the fun that continues to bring millions of girls into Girl Scouting's world of new discoveries, expanded horizons, community service and happy friendships," Fincher said.

Auction To Raise Library Funds Slated March 28

Fun is in the making for Thursday evening, March 28. A potpourri of donations continues to come in for the auction to raise funds for the Cross Plains Public Library.

Donations include both goods and services from peanuts to haircut, shampoo and set. The doors of Eddie Petty's auction building will open at 5 p.m. on the 28th so that people can come by to see what is to be auctioned. Coffee and desserts will also be available at 6:30. Gerald Lawrence, Abilene Auctioneer will begin the sale.

"We are hoping that folks will come to the auction whether they want to buy or not," said Billie Loving. "It has the makings of a real community activity. The library itself is a community project that would not exist except for the great interest of area people. We're having fun. Join us!"

Some of the items to be auctioned can be seen in the library. A list of donations appears elsewhere in the paper.

National Guard NCO Salutes Area Youth

SCF Vern A. Davis, Texas Army National Guard Educational Programs Coordinator, wrote the following note to the editor of the newspaper concerning his feelings about those Callahan youth who attended a recent meeting at Clyde. His note follows.

"On March 2, 1985, Clyde High School hosted a Leadership workshop for area students. The workshop was sponsored and pre-ented, at no cost, by the Texas Army National Guard for any student interested in furthering their leadership skills.

"A total of 38 students from Baird, Clyde and Cross Plains devoted a full Saturday to attend the workshop.

"A special note of thanks is due Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Trammell for their extra effort in the successful preparation for the program.

"Knowing all the other scheduled events, taking place on the same day it is encouraging to see such an interest placed on leadership by everyone involved."

The weather tells us that spring is here. Birds are singing and hunting places for nests. Orchards are coming alive with blooms and grass is greener everywhere. Lush fields of grain look good to all farmers after last years near failure. Gardening will soon be in full swing and more so for people who plant Irish potatoes on St. Patrick's Day. Even Good Friday is only two weeks away.

Buffalo Clover can be seen in bloom along some roadsides. There will be a large crop of Bluebonnets this year.

By Esthloy Dickson

I have had a busier week than usual, beginning with an AARP meeting on Monday. Following that, Gladys McIlroy and I went to Cisco to visit Lucille Callaway in the hospital. I went again on Thursday. I do wish Cross Plains had a dry cleaners here!!

Allie Montgomery visited me on Tuesday to discuss some new AARP activities. We are hoping to have a Defensive Driving course here real soon.

I had a thoroughly exciting and pleasant week end just passed. My son C. V. Jr., Karen and Lisa Dawn, came in from Nacogdoches late Thursday night. My daughter, Joan Stewart, of Cleburne came in about 5 p.m. on Friday. They all stayed until mid-afternoon Sunday.

C. V. did a lot of briar and tree pruning around my farm. There is a lot more needed to be done. Jeanie and I went shopping on Saturday. Lisa Dawn has a week's break from kindergarten, so she and Karen will be here all week. Karen will look after her grandmother, who is recovering nicely. Lisa Dawn will celebrate her sixth birthday on Thursday, and C. V. will come back for them next week end.

Mrs. Ethel Brown is getting along nicely. She manages to stay busy. Her visitors this week were Marie Pancake and Hazel Marsh of Cross Plains. Her neighbor, Cole Tillotson, is in Humana Hospital in Abilene. I was not able to get her on the telephone for a late report.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Foster are starting to break up their garden spot! They do keep their place so neat!

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Beggs visited her brother, Floyd Russell, in Fort Worth last Friday and Saturday. On their return, they stopped in Granbury where that city was honoring the late Col. Granbury. The Beggses toured an art gallery, which was very interesting.

Mrs. H. T. Parsons is recovering fairly well. She states she is not very strong yet. It disturbs her to sit and look at the many things she needs to do but isn't strong enough yet. Her visitors this week were Mary Smoot and Juanita Harlow.

I have had some weird "crit-ters" here at my farm, a black squirrel, a gray-whitish skunk and now, for the second spring, a colony of ground squirrels. Funny thing, they look more like lizards, but they fit the description in Mr. Webster's dictionary. They are interesting to watch, and I don't think they do much harm to any thing.

I had a lot of calls unanswered this Monday morning some busy and some discontinued. Better luck next time!!

State Capital HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN -- Like a firecracker exploding in their faces, last week's surprising rout of the parimutuel betting issue left programing forces shocked, wounded and wondering what went wrong.

What was expected to be a close vote, resembling the two-vote difference in '83, turned into a lopsided 96-52 massacre as the Texas House of Representatives voted against passing the horse-betting bill to third reading.

And in the shocked aftermath, opponents quickly sealed the bill's fate by winning a motion "to reconsider and table" it, a little used parliamentary procedure that makes a two-thirds vote necessary before the bill can be brought up again for consideration. Several programing freshmen legislators were confused by the motion and found out afterwards they had voted against their issue.

Although the bill's House sponsor and Speaker Gib Lewis pronounced the bill "dead" for the remainder of the session, other members think the bill may yet be revived in the Senate where Ike Harris, R-Dallas, has pledged to push forward.

Harris chairs the powerful Economic Development Committee, and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby also favors the issue. Speaker Lewis went so far to publicly advise Hobby to drop the issue as "dead", but speculation has it that Hobby might also try to revitalize the bill.

Crumbled Coalition
Even if the Senate approves, as it did last session, the two-thirds barrier still remains in the House a quota higher than the strongest coalition tally that programing forces have put together.

And that coalition crumbled into pieces last week following a dismantling of the bill's welfare provisions in committee. Bowing to the wishes of the horse racing industry, panelist deleted the section directing part of every racetrack's proceeds to child welfare. That section was important to minority lawmakers who had withheld support in '83 until it was included.

Blacks, Republicans
Even though the gambling lobbyists tried to appease them by guaranteeing a percentage of racetrack stock to minority investors, the Black lawmakers in particular weren't buying in. And the substitute was similar enough to affirmative action to repel most of the Republican legislators.

Many legislators will support parimutuel betting only if they know it will pass. They don't want to face the folks back home after voting aye on a controversial issue that failed. When the Blacks and Republicans kept the bill from the 76 votes needed for a majority, several sunshine supporters quickly defected and changed their votes before the official count.

Senate Action
Last week in the Senate:
—Lawmakers approved a bill allowing criminal background checks on the estimated 100,000 child-care employees in Texas.
—The State Affairs Committee heard mixed testimony on the open container bill.
—The Education Committee considered several bills to abolish or amend the new no-pass-no-play rule which was part of last year's controversial reform package.

Mauro, Hightower
Two state officials were in Washington, D. C., last week for different reasons.
Land Commissioner Garry Mauro lobbied the Congress to protect the Veterans Land Program in Texas by repealing a provision which wipes out the program for some vets in 1990.
Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower spoke to a Jefferson Memorial rally of farmers lobby for higher farm supports. Hightower continued his attacks on President Reagan, calling him "stupid" and accusing him of committing "economic genocide" against farmers.

Prosecution Rests
Meanwhile, in the felony commercial bribery trial of Attorney General Jim Mattox, the prosecution rested after their prime witness testified Mattox tried to get him to call off the 'rals.
Then Mattox's defense lawyer began his tact of portraying the attorney general as a man just doing his job before heated exchanges between him and a Houston law firm led to this trial.

Mattox is accused of threatening to harm the firm's bond business to make them back off from deposing his sister. Mattox says he didn't make the threat, and his defense tried to show his actions never resembled backing up such a threat.

Troubled Governor
Even some of Gov. Mark White's supporters now regard him as "in trouble" politically and he wasn't helped much last week when the public learned he paid a former water commissioner almost $10,000 for a 23-page report containing information readily available at state agencies.

Former commissioner John Stover of Lufkin, an appointee of White's predecessor Bill Clements said he received the contract after White promised to help when he resigned to let White appoint a successor.

White denied he gave Stover the contract as reward for his resignation, to fulfill any promise, or ease his transition into private life.

Cottonwood, Beverly Brown and Knox Waggoner; Dudley and Preston Valley, Jamie Turner; Ethel Rose Farmer; Oplin, Maryellen Windham; Rowden and Bayou area, Marion Odom Scott.

Here are a few pointers to assist you.

Please limit your history to 500 words, if possible, with one picture.

A newspaper picture or Xerox copy of a picture will not print clearly. Please furnish a normal print (black and white, if possible) in any size from 8" x 10" to 2" x 2".

Please do not write on the back instead of the back of the picture to a separate sheet and identify the persons shown on the sheet instead of the back of the picture.

Taylor Publishing Co. will accept only type written histories, so please type your history (double spaced). If this is not possible, get with the field representative of your area for assistance.

Histories that exceed 500 words will have a charge of 10¢ per word. Those of 500 words or less will be included in the book (along with one picture) at no cost.

Taylor Publishing will make every effort to return your picture, but please do not send us a rare photograph with your story. Get a print made of it from a photo-developer and send that instead, in case of loss.

Give your histories and picture to the field representative of your area, or mail it to Callahan History Book, Route 2, Box 236, Clyde, Texas 75901.

Also, please remember two other items.

A contest is underway to select a name for our book. If you think of a good title, send it to us.

Our first county wide workshop will be held at the courthouse on Saturday, April 13. Barbecue will be served at noon. Plates will be $5 each and sandwiches are $2.50. Proceeds will go toward the publication. We encourage everyone to get involved, and the first place to start is to write your own history.

Child Welfare Board Now Has Film 'Touch'

Callahan County Child Welfare Board held its February meeting at the Courthouse in Baird. Callahan County has again been funded for a full time Child Protective Service Worker. Bob Scott was introduced to the board as the new case worker.

Callahan County will now have access to the Illusion Theatre film "Touch" through the Regional Child Welfare Board. The film presents ways to help children learn appropriate and inappropriate touching. Children usually submit to sexual abuse because in most cases it's someone they know, and they've been taught to trust adults. The film is directed at children from the third grade up, and its purpose being to give children the courage to report abuse if it ever happens to them. Groups interested in viewing the film may contact their local board member, or call the D.H.R. office.

Next meeting of the Board will be March 21. To report suspected child abuse or neglect call 854-1257 or 1-800-252-5400.

Burkett Aerial Spraying

Joe Burkett

The special attention of our readers is called to the service provided by Burkett Aerial Spraying south of Burkett, phone (915) 625-5466. Aerial crop spraying is rapidly becoming more and more important everywhere. A sudden plague of harmful insects can be quickly and easily destroyed by an airplane. It makes no difference if the field is muddy, heavily wooded or criss-crossed by streams and ditches. In just a short time an airplane can effectively cover a large area that would take days to cover with old methods. You are cordially invited to call them for information and estimates. Joe Burkett offers: crop dusting, planting, fertilizing, mesquite spraying and insect control. Aerial spraying is much easier and less expensive than the old method. We highly recommend you investigate the many advantages of aerial crop spraying. Don't lose a complete crop, when for a small amount you can save it with this service. We recommend Joe Burkett!

Report Fall-Seeded Crops At Sign-Up

Although time is running out, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is still accepting applications for the 1985 feed grain, wheat, and cotton acreage reduction programs. The sign-up period ends April 1st. "When farmers sign up for the programs, they may report the acres and intended use of their wheat, oats, barley, rye and other fall-seeded crops, and avoid having to make a separate visit to the county office to certify," Scott Odom, an official of the agency, said.

Small grains which are not reported by May 1st will be ineligible for program benefits, Odom noted.

ASCS randomly checks farms to verify that acreage reports are accurate. The acreage reports are used to determine compliance with farm programs and provide documentation for future programs.

To be eligible for price support loans, deficiency payments and other benefits, farm program participants are required to report their actual acres planted or harvested. "Farmers who do not sign up for the programs could also benefit by reporting their planted acreage because the report could be used for history purposes."

The ASCS official said farmers who may be undecided about the acreage reduction programs or who have questions about certifying their fall-seeded crops are encouraged to contact the county ASCS office for more information.

Peanut Price Support Levels Set $559 Ton

Farmers participating in the 1985 peanut program will be eligible to receive a federal support price of $559 per ton for quota and $148 per ton for additional peanuts. Last year's rates were $550 per ton for quota peanuts and $185 per ton for additional peanuts, according to Scott Odom, ASCS County Executive Director at Baird.

"Quota peanuts are those grown on a farm within the farm's poundage quota," said Odom "and additional peanuts are those grown in excess of the farm's poundage quota, or those grown on a farm without a poundage quota."

USDA estimated that 1984 peanut production costs increased over those of 1983, therefore a $9-per-ton increase in the national support level was necessary. Current law requires the national support price for 1985 quota peanuts to be the same as the 1984 quota support level, adjusted for any increase in the average cost of production, excluding any rise in the land costs for 1984.

Odom said price support rates on additional peanuts are set as the Secretary of Agriculture deems appropriate, taking into consideration the demand for peanut oil and meal, the expected prices of other vegetable oils and protein meals and the demand for peanuts in the foreign markets.

This rate must be set at a level estimate to ensure no government loss on additional peanuts.

He said additional peanuts must be either delivered under an approved contract with a handler or be placed under the additional price support loan program. Additional loan collateral peanuts from the 1985 crop will be sold by the Commodity Credit Corporation for export edible use at no less than $425 per ton.

Sales Tax Check Up But Total Is Down

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Friday sent checks totaling $68.8 million in local tax payments to the 91 cities that levy the one-percent local sales tax.

Overall the checks represented large increases over city payments made last March, but Bullock warned that the increases resulted from the way the city money was processed and did not necessarily indicate anything about the economy.

"Simply, in January several really large national corporations paid late and their money is included in the March checks," Bullock said.

March checks represent taxes collected on sales made in January and reported to the Comptroller by February 20.

Cross Plains' share of the funds was $5,668,000, compared to $4,516,966 the payment for last year at the same time. Aggregate, however, of all sale tax revenues returned to the city is $15,380,327, down 9.21 per cent from the $16,899,900 to the same period last year.

Baird also showed a slight decrease overall with current payments of $8,874.61 and $8,997.27 last year.

Clyde sales reflected a healthy increase up 26.28 per cent, showing figures this year of $21,620.90 and $17,094.16 in 1985. Putnam also was up 19.80 per cent. Payment this year amounted to $3,728,000, compared to 1984 checks totaling $3,111.90.

Estate Management Parley Offers Tax Planning Help

Ways to reduce a taxable farm or ranch estate and to pass an operating business on to the next generation without burdens on taxes will be explained in a two-day seminar in Abilene March 19-20. The seminar is one of four being presented across the state by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Each day's program at the Holiday Inn, 1625 I-20 East, will begin at 9 a.m. and continue until 4:30 p.m. The $60 registration fee covers all seminar materials, refreshments and lunches for both days.

"The seminar will explain a wide variety of estate tax savings and estate administrative features to farmers, ranchers and agribusiness people," said Dr. Wayne Hayenga, Extension economist and an attorney, who conducts the program.

"Of major importance is how every farm estate will be affected under current estate tax laws."

Hayenga said. "The best tax planning of the past may be the worst under the present law."

The seminar will begin with a discussion of estate taxes, including deductions, expenses and tax rates. Basic estate planning devices will be explained in detail. These include by-pass trusts, estate tax deferral, gifts, disclaimers and property titles.

The program also will include discussion of treating beneficiaries fairly and details of the estate planning process. Another segment will examine planning tools for agricultural estates, including use of corporations, partnerships, selling part of the business to heirs, and oil and gas interests.

The seminar will focus upon special farm land evaluation, rules for deferred estate tax payment, life insurance, "flower" bonds, stock in cooperatives, and other property.

"There will be plenty of time to discuss individual situations throughout the seminar," Hayenga said.

Registration forms and additional information about the seminar may be obtained from county extension offices.

A Boulder APPROACH: OR how Hoover Gave a DAM.

In the early 1900's, a concrete solution was needed to prevent flooding along the Colorado River. The Hoover administration provided it. 4,000,000 cubic yards' worth. Enough concrete to pave a two-lane highway between New York and San Francisco. It was the Hoover Dam at Boulder City, Nevada. And it not only controlled flooding and irrigation, but today it generates power for Southern California, Arizona and Nevada.

The cost $335 million. And one of the ways money was generated was by American buying government securities and taking steps in America.

Today, you can take stock in America by buying United States Savings Bonds. It's easy when you join the Payroll Savings Plan.

This way, a little is automatically set aside from each paycheck to buy Bonds. Before you know it, you'll build up a nice reservoir of savings.

So buy Bonds. It's one savings plan that holds water.
