

Carolyn's Corner

By Carolyn Glover

Thank you, Lord, for the rain! Wasn't it nice? Even though the town suffered some damage, we still have a lot to be thankful for, in that there was no bodily injuries and God answered our prayers for rain in a big way. Praise His name.

The following rain prayer was published in a Livestock Weekly dated May 24, 1984.

W. L. White wrote the following rain prayer in 1935 while he was editor of the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette, according to the Editor's note. Also according to the editor's note it was recently reprinted in the Brady (Tex.) Herald in hopes it would bring rain to that area.

As a dues-paying member of the Congregational Church, the writer is entitled, under its directly in prayer, eated Mynt creed, to address his maker, directly in prayer, without the intervention of prelate, saint, person or priest, in any place, on any subject, at any time, and in our own language.

So here goes: O Lord, in Thy mercy, grant us a rain, and by that we don't mean a shower. We want to go out in our car in the early evening and watch the lightning go ripping across the southwestern sky in hot blue forks as the fat clouds roll in on us from Chase County. We want to hurry home to close the house with the first fat drops the size of marbles on a suddenly rising wind, chasing us, plunking on the hood of our car. We want to scramble over the house just as the first sheets descend, frantically slamming down the windows, while the drops thunder on the tin roof of the porch and the lightning blasts illuminate the waving treetops.

O Lord of Hosts, we want to look out of the windows and watch the regiments of fat, close-packed raindrops march diagonally down in sheets, until we can't see the outlines of the street light on the corner; and it looks like a great pale luminous ball through the driving drops. We want to hear, about a minute after the first rush the gurgle in the tin gutters under the eaves, and in 25 seconds more, the sputter of the downspout and the hollow churning of the water in the easterning.

God of Israel, Isaac and Jacob, let it come down so hard, let the drops dance so high that the outlines of streets and sidewalks seem covered with a six-inch fog of splattering drops. Then let it just keep up for a while, and then begin to taper off, and then turn right 'round and get a lot worse, swishing, pounding, splattering, drenching, the thunder coming — "Crackity BAM! Bam-bam-bumble-bumble-bumble" and the lightning flashing so fast and furious you can't tell which flash goes with which peal of thunder.

So that all the women will get scared and climb on top of feather beds and scream at you not to get too close to the windows. So that in between lightning flashes you can see the dirty yellow gutter water rippling across the street instead of along its sides.

And then, O Jealous God, repeat the whole act about three times, and in the middle of the second time, we will get out the old tin wash pan and climb the attic stairs to put it under that tiny leak in the roof which usually you can't even notice in an ordinary rain. And after a couple of hours, kind of taper it down, O Lord, to a good steady rain — not a drizzle — but a business-like one, that keeps up

WTU Files For 12.4% Rate Increase Friday

West Texas Utilities Company has filed for an increase in its electric rates for retail customers.

Local Manager, Drue McClure said the application was filed Friday, June 8, a full year since WTU's last rate application, and is a systemwide request for higher rates. Simultaneous filings were made in all incorporated towns and with the Public Utility Commission of Texas at Austin for an increase in rural areas, unincorporated town and in 21 municipalities which have ceded jurisdiction over electric rates.

The proposal would produce an annual increase in total revenue of $30,845,695. This amounts to 12.4 per cent.

McClure said the additional revenue is necessary to carry out WTU's current heavy construction program, which includes a new coal-fired power plant at Oklaunion near Vernon.

"By the time these rates become effective, we will have spent $167 million on the Oklaunion Power station and related projects," McClure said. "Our last rate increase was not enough to carry us through this construction program, which is essential to continued reliable electric service to our customers."

WTU had requested an increase of $26.6 million in its filing in June, 1983. A hearing in that case was held at Austin in September, and the final PUC order granting about half the requested amount became effective January 4, 1984.

The Oklaunion plant will be completed in late 1986, almost 10 years after WTU's newest existing generating unit was completed at Fort Phantom Station near Abilene.

Citing a "light at the end of the tunnel," McClure said WTU's spending should taper off as the construction program nears completion. Also, since coal is much cheaper for generating electricity than natural gas or oil, the fuel cost should be more stable after the new plant comes on line.

No major changes in rate structure are included in WTU's proposal. The requested rates would mean that a residential customer using 600 kilowatt-hours a month would pay $7.55 more each month for electricity. A commercial customer using 1,700 kWh would pay $19.37 more. These amounts include fuel costs.

WTU serves customers in 161 separate communities, 82 of which operate as active incorporated towns. The rate case filings were made in 61 towns, while information on the rate case was made available to the 21 incorporated towns which have ceded jurisdiction, to two inactive municipalities and to two unincorporated towns.

The 21 towns which have ceded jurisdiction and now rely on the PUC to decide their cases are Albany, Chillicothe, Dickens, Eldorado, Goree, Hedley, Lakeview, Matador, McCamey, Mertzon, Moran, Paint Rock, Presidio, Roaring Springs, Robert Lee, Roby, Rotan, Rule, Shamrock, Trent, and Weinert.

The inactive municipalities are Odell and Sylvester. The unincorporated towns are Fort Davis and Ozona.

New Books On Shelves At Library This Week

New books will be on the shelves at the Cross Plains Public Library this week. The new adult and junior books are primarily non-fiction, but the easy reading books are mostly fiction or poetry.

Among the adult books are such titles as "London, a City of Many Dreams," "Color Photography," "The Art of Fiction," and "Talking With Your Teenager." Other speciality titles are on word processing, reading comprehension, and the Scholastic Aptitude Test. Books of interest to several age groups are biographies of Michael Jackson, Diana, Princess of Wales, Dorothy Hamill, and DeGaulle.

The junior books definitely are for today's world. Among them are "Plants," "Satellite Tech Talk," and "Word Processing." Adults who want to be in the know might start with these books as they are both interesting and informative.

But the children's books are the real pleasure. The titles suggest their loveliness. Books titled "Just Two Wings," "The Magic Wings," "Words To Keep Against the Night" and "You Make the Angels Cry" can please old and young alike. They are beautifully illustrated.

A correction in last week's memorials. Vera Pearl Bunnell's memorial was for Reginald Long. A memorial has been given for Mrs. Margaret Peterson by Wilkie Balkum.

Also this week Mrs. Kathryn Morris, Lee and Mary, donated a great number of books in memory of husband and father, Lee E. Morris, Sr.

The library quilt is still at the Citizens State Bank. The drawing will be Friday, June 15. Proceeds are for community programs at the library. Chances can be bought at the bank or the library. And there is no limit!

Hance tallied for a statewide re-count after losing the run-off to Doggett by a very small margin, once thought to be about 478 votes.

U.S.D.A. Announce Support Level By Type For Peanuts

WASHINGTON, June 6 — The U. S. Department of Agriculture today announced price support levels, by type, quality and location, for the 1984 peanut crop based on the previously announced national levels of $550 per short ton for quota peanuts and $185 per ton for additional peanuts.

Everett Rank, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said the quota support level, by type, for an average grade ton of 1984-crop peanuts will be:

- $537.30 for Virginia-type peanuts;
- $555.19 for Runner-type peanuts;
- $532.57 for Spanish-type peanuts;
- $537.30 for Valencia-type peanuts from the Southwest area which are suitable for cleaning and roasting; and
- $532.57 for other Valencias.

Rank said the method of computing differentials for the 1984 crop is slightly different from the 1983-crop in that USDA has reduced the price support premium for extra large kernels from 45 cents to 35 cents per percentage of extra large kernels in a ton of farmers stock Virginia-type peanuts.

Rank also said USDA has changed the statistical base used to project the expected percentages of extra large kernels in a ton of Virginia-type peanuts from the usual 5-year average to a 3-year average.

In addition, he said USDA's Commodity Corporation intends to amend its regulations to make the deduction for excess moisture uniform for peanuts in all areas at 7 per cent. This change will be set out in a separate notice of rulemaking Rank said.

The price support differentials

Tornado-Like Wind Skips Across City

A tornado or tornado-like wind skipped across Cross Plains late Tuesday night of last week causing damage to buildings and trees.

The destructive wind wrecked a building on Main Street, pulled sheet iron from roofs, yanked trees from the ground and twisted off large limbs.

That damage came with heavy rains which poured 3.50 inches of rain on one point in Cross Plains and lighter and heavier amounts to places in the area. The storm hit between 11:30 and 12 midnight June 5.

Some said they heard a loud roaring about the time of the storm, and others said they seemed to feel a pressure change and heard a "swishing" sound.

Apparently the first destruction was to trees in the area of Avenue E and 5th to 6th Streets. The building destroyed, facing east on Main at Seventh Street, housed an arcade and was the former home of the Busy Bee Cafe. It is owned by Zola Henderson of Sidney.

Sheet iron or tin was ripped from the roof of Rafter K Construction warehouse, formerly Kelly's Super Market, Hub Freeman's Blacksmith Shop, and the skating rink, all on Main near Seventh Street.

Among trees twisted off were these at the corner of Eighth St. and Avenue B.

Considerable damage was done at the City of Cross Plains water works and equipment housing yard on east Ninth Street and Avenue A. Water tanks were not damaged, the former fire station building was moved from its mooring and in the process damaged the city dump truck which it housed among other pieces of equipment. Workmen removed all of the major pieces of equipment before the structure completely collapsed. The building was shoved into the chain-link fence surrounding the city yard, severely damaging it.

One person who heard the tornado said at first it sounded like a large truck on the street, but got much louder. When it hit the building it sounded like a dozen different wrecks happening at once.

Rainfall in Cross Plains was gauged at 3.50 inches in one gauge and widely varying totals were reported in a few others.

A few reports from the area inform that in the Burkett sector amounts ranged from 3 to 5 inches. Cottonwood correspondent Beverly Brown reports measurements of rain from 1 inch to 3.60 inches, and at the Frank Snodgrass farm at Sabano 6.70 inches was recorded.

Freda Burkett said that the Pecan Bayou "got a good washing out" with a bankfull rise. Many earthen stock tanks ran around or caught a substantial amount of water. Some were dry or were dangerously low.

The moisture was beneficial to virtually all aspects of agriculture, and will hopefully be the drought breaker.

That 3.50 inches, all that has been received this month, brings the aggregate for 1984 to 11.55 inches. That one rain makes June the wettest month of the year. March was the previous leader with 2.95 inches. May is the driest with 1.05 inches.

Local Lady Pens D-Day Memories; Urges Prayer

The President's speech at Normandy Beach on the 40th anniversary of its happening was very impressive. In that speech he said he has heard of a few prayer meetings in America at that eventful time. Many of us, perhaps, recall that President Roosevelt had asked everyone who would go to their church and pray, upon the announcement of the Invasion.

The announcement was sent over the telephone system. At that time there were only two telephones in Cottonwood, one at Coffey's Store and one at the Strahan residence. At night, of course, Coffey's Store was closed, and the Strahan phone only was available. Mrs. Gry, the Cross Plains operator, called the Strahan home. Miss Missouri relayed the message to phone. Mrs. Gray informed her, "The invasion has begun." Miss Missouri relayed the message to other members of the family. Then she said, "I guess we should go to church and pray." She and I did go in car to the Methodist Church at Cottonwood.

The bell which hung in tower, I had always had a childish desire to ring. I could ring now, but the sound was very eerie over the still night. People awoke and wondered, some even remembered and gathered in to pray, a dozen or so. One coming was (Closter) Thompson who was home on furlough from the service. I remember a sentence he used, "They are giving their all."

Shortly afterward, in our families sadness set in. First, Everette Neil Strahan was lost on the western front. Next to go was B Strahan dying of cancer in veterans hospital, being a veteran of World War I. Next we lost Alton (Buster) Fleming. He was helping win the war in a tank in the breakthrough battle of the Ardennes in Germany.

The boys thought they were fighting a war to end wars, but at least they have kept the enemy from our homes. Nearly everybody had a relative in the war. "We did our best by doing without things, the shortages, the rationing, the war bonds.

Every type of people attempt to come here. They can see what we have. Free enterprise, freedom of many things, what a blessed land is America. But much precious blood has been spilled to keep America. Our land is so free that the atheists are trying to remove prayer from school for good and replace it with Humanism. I do hope every Christian American constantly prays that we realize what we have here, and hold our nation up to an Almighty King who will be over all if we let Him.

Let us keep praying for America. Contributed by Kate Strahan Watson

Profits Are Increased By Conservation Tillage Use

By Steven D. Uselton

"Immediately following wheat harvest is an ideal time to implement a program of conservation tillage" says Steve Uselton, District Conservationist, for the Soil Conservation Service in Baird.

"Conservation tillage is defined as any tillage and planting system that maintains at least 30 percent of the soil surface covered with the preceding crop's residue after planting of the current crop. This may be accomplished through selecting certain types of tillage implements, using chisels and sweeps instead of disking or substituting chemicals in place of tillage operations.

Many farmers in the area are realizing the importance of conservation tillage. By practicing reduced tillage these farmers are plowing less and enjoying it more. The enjoyment comes in the form of more leisure time, increased yields, lower overhead, reduced erosion, and a more profitable crop.

Farmers must realize that every tillage operation removes from one-half inch to one inch available plant moisture from the soil. Each additional inch of moisture for

Brides Need New Social Security Card

Brides who will be using their husband's name, along with anyone else who has had a recent name change, should contact their local Social Security office to arrange to have their name changed in Social Security records and to apply for a new Social Security card showing their new name, Glyn Hammons, Social Security district manager in Abilene, said recently.

There is no charge for this service, it's free.

Unless the bride plans to use her maiden name after marriage, Social Security records should be changed so that earnings are correctly reported to the right record.

Evidence of identity showing both the person's old and new names will be required. Only original documents or copies certified by the issuing agency are acceptable. Uncertified photocopies are not acceptable, Hammons said.

It will take about 2 weeks after acceptable evidence has been submitted to get the new Social Security card. I will show the person's new name, but the original Social Security number.

More information about applying for a Social Security card can be obtained at the Abilene Social Security office, located at 142 S. Pioneer. The telephone number is (915) 698-1360.

Burkett Items News

By Freeda Burkett

Our community is very fortunate to have gotten such a good rain Tuesday evening and night of last week. Gauges in the area showed three to five inches of rain, and the Pecan Bayou got a good washing out with a rise that put it bank full or perhaps more and is still running down. There should be no shortage in our water supply for several months. We are very grateful for such a good rain. There was no storm, and only a small amount of hail with it.

The regular third Saturday community Supper will be held this Saturday night at 7:30 at the community center and everyone is invited to be present. Bring a vegetable and meat or a salad and sweet and enjoy the supper and fellowship together. Entertainment will be furnished by Perry Reeves of Denton, Carl and Oma Bludworth and Bill Laws of Coleman and "Dad" Bludworth, local.

Bill and Addie Walker are committee chairmen for June. Co-chairman include Pete and Oma Walker, Low and Liz Golsen, Andrew and Doris Walker and Dub and Mildred Lowe.

AUSTIN — The Legislature convened in special session last week to consider whether to raise certain taxes and by how much, to pay for higher teacher salaries, education reforms and state highway construction.
 Privately, some House members predicted it would take the Legislature close to the full 30 days allowed by the Constitution to enact a new program.
 Governor Mark White gave lawmakers a formal $4.8 billion tax package that includes raising the sales tax by one cent, the fuels tax by five cents, and taxes on alcohol and tobacco by 20 percent.
 The increase in the sales tax is heavily opposed by business and industry, and, at this point, is probably the most controversial of White's much-discussed tax program. The gasoline tax is the most popular.

The chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Rep. Stan Schlueter, D-Killeen, favors removing exemptions of the sales tax for certain professions.
 White opposed closing those sales loopholes because he didn't want his program to become bogged down taking on the powerful interests who had the clout to initiate loopholes. But he said last week he doesn't object to Schlueter's efforts.

Perot, Bullock
 In opening week speeches, lawmakers heard from three key players in the tax-reform drama: White Texas Comptroller Bob Bullock, and H. Ross Perot, chairman of the select committee which drafted the reform plan.
 Perot urged House members to enact the reform plan to give Texas a first class public education system, and not to ignore some recommendations. Perot wants the Legislature to abolish the 27-member elected State Board of Education, blaming its unwieldy operation for many of the state's problems. He wants a three-member board appointed by the governor instead.
 Bullock repeated his estimate of the state surplus at $15 million, and warned that if the Legislature spends money for any new or existing program, it will have to come up with the money for it.

Two Tax Increases
 He also insisted that lawmakers should understand they will probably have to raise taxes again next January when they return in a regular session.
 On this issue, White and Bullock clashed during the opening week. Bullock already announced several months ago he intends to run for governor against White in '86, and this special session in many ways is an early campaign between the two powerful officials.
 White has already gambled by calling lawmakers to raise taxes, and he wants to avoid a regular session increase as well.

Cushion Future
 Right after Bullock's speech, White unveiled his plan to avoid a second tax hike by freezing state agency budgets at current levels and by limiting state employee raises to only three percent.
 He wants the Legislature over the next three years to set aside $871 million to cushion the 1986-87 budgets.
 "The hardest part, of course, is to convince the Legislature to leave unspent funds on the table," White said.
 That particular posture wasn't well received by some lawmakers who favor raising taxes for specific spending needs or not at all. But White assured legislators that a second tax increase won't be necessary.

$80 Million Windfall
 The State Education Commissioner told lawmakers that a dramatic drop in the enrollment of new school children in Texas has produced an $80 million windfall.
 Enrollment declines were significant in Dallas and Houston suburbs, the Rio Grande Valley and the Midland-Odessa area, according to Raymond L. Bynum.
 He said the money will be added to the surplus in the state budget where it can now be spent on education and highways.

Senate Early
 Meanwhile, in the Senate they're working to pass an education reform bill that might be ready for floor debate as early as June 15, said Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby.
 Hobby named the entire Senate to the reform committee, and placed Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, as chairman.

Parker will also chair the subcommittee, on teachers. Grant Jones of Abilene will head the subcommittee on education finance, Tati Santiesteban of El Paso will lead the subcommittee on educational quality, and Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls will chair the subcommittee on organization and management.

PTA POLL
 The Texas PTA is putting on an intensive lobbying effort to secure the pay hike, but it doesn't want all the proposed reforms.
 A recent PTA member poll released to the Legislature showed the majority favored raising taxes, especially the sales tax, and opposed replacing the elected state board with appointees. They also oppose lengthening the school day or school year.

Pioneer News Items

By Mabel Halsell
 Just few highlights on a book I read recently.

The scapegoat for the Indian Massacre of 80 American soldiers, along with their leader Lieutenant Colonel William J. Fetterman was Colonel Henry B. Carrington, Fetterman's immediate superior and commander of Ft. Phillip Kearney.
 All of this, a part of a military expedition of 2000 men under Carrington who had built stockade posts along the Bozeman Trail to the Gold mines in Northern Montana. Carrington had been left to defend this post with too few soldiers and to little ammunition.

This brutal Masacre, on Dec. 21, 1866 and the undeserved blame, that Col Carrington bore is what the book is all about.

While press and the public ceased not to blame, and the Army sat silently by Mrs. Margaret Sulivant-Carrington, wife of the Colonel, wrote AB-SA-Ra-Ka Home of the Crows in his defense. The daily records that had been kept and her own experience as a member of the expedition, were her sources of information.

Starting from Nebraska following the Platte River, through the Big Horn Mountains, a shorter route to the gold mines in Northern Montana was to be made safer from Indian attacks.
 Lieutenant-Colonel Fetterman disobeyed orders not to pursue a band of Indians in defense of a wood-train beyond a set boundary line led to his death and the death of his 80men.

A description of AB-SB-Ra-Ka, which she hints should be the name given to the state of Wyoming, is given in the beginning of the book. The book was published two years after the expedition. She did not live to see her husband vindicated. She died in 1870 at the age of 39.

An irony of fate, The Fort was renamed Ft. Fetterman. A book of great interest and an insight into a fragment of history.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fleming were H. A. Sheppard of Cross Plains, on Friday; P. C. and Edythe Carr, Jim and Charlene and children on Saturday; Betty Meiron and her daughter, Susan Hutchins, of Texas A & M on Sunday.

Mrs. Roady's visitors were Billie Lee Freeman, Jean Fore, Cindy and Charley Roady. Mrs. Roady has been keeping Charley while Sally Roady attends her mother, Mrs. Howard Hicks, who is a patient in the Eastland Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sessums, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zedlitz and John Mark attended a Goat and Sheep sale in Goldthwaite, one day last week. She reported a very good sale with goats selling for around $14.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Daniels were their son, David and wife, Jodie of Texas City. Mr. Daniels accompanied them home for a two weeks visit.

Barbara and Jim Athens and son, Jimmie, of England will be returning to the states June 15, for their month's vacation. They will be visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniels. Their son, Mark Athens of Ft. Bennington Georgia will get a leave of absence to visit with his parents while they are here.

Mrs. Winnie Flippin's family met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kramer on Lake Brownwood last Friday. The annual reunion always concurs with Winnie's birthday. This year they were celebrating her 80th birthday. Forty-one family members attended. Gail reported an enjoyable time under the big trees at the Kramer home.

Visitors with Josie and Alma Morris were Sylvia and Wesley Brown, Gail Flippin, Mazie Smoot, Mr. and Mrs. George Pruitt of Hamlin, Emma Kent and Melba Cathey, Monica and Bryan Williams of Bangs, Clarence Lane and son, Roland of Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole Tilotson had an enjoyable visit with their granddaughter and husband, Ruth and Ron Hutchins in Eldorado.

Those visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Fore during the past week were Billie and Mary Brandon of Clifton, George and Pat Watkins and son of Lubbock, Eula Foster, Lois Garrett, Zora Mae Bryant Frank Ferrell, Lynn and Ruby Daniel, James and Charlene Chesshir, James and Jean Alexander, Cleo and Novilla Barton and Paul, Juanita and Trey Harlow.

Laverne Hutton will be your reporter next week. Please call your news to her at 725-7342.

until about dawn and then spits a few drops occasionally during the morning from a gray sky.

O Shepherd of a Chosen People when we walk to work that morning, let us see pink, thin-nosed angleworms that have crawled out of the grass and drowned in the sidewalk puddles, and big pools of standing water in every yard, with just the tips of the fresh green grass breaking the surface. Let it knock all the buds off the elm trees, so that streets and sidewalks are covered with a brown snow, except where the running water has gathered it into thick scum over the pools around the choked drains.

Then let everyone begin wondering what the rivers are doing and when we go down to the bridge, make us drive through about two inches of dirty yellow water running over the pavement, and when we get on it, let us watch a pig and two Buff Orpington hens and half a woodshed float by, about three feet under our shoe soles, and Lord, let the farmer holler their heads off about how it will be too wet, now, to get their corn in early enough.

Thou Art My Shepherd, I shall not want if Thou leadest me into green pastures, and beside the still waters, while the little pasture ponds stand full to the brinks of their cement dams.

By Shirley Snodgrass

Praise the Lord, we finally got some rain! We got 3.70 inches of rain at our place. Our stock tanks are nearly full. I hope you got some at your place. I knew if we prayed hard enough the Lord would help us. Don't quit praying just because we got some rain. The Lord loves to hear

O God of Battles and Lord of Many Mansions, if you don't want it to rain in Kansas, all right. And if you do, all right. But we are weak in faith and pray for a sign such as you gave to Aaron to confound Pharaoh's magicians and sorcerers. Take this business of weather prediction out of the hands of the incompetent Washington Bureaucrats and make it Thy special province. They're playing horse with us, Lord. They promise a rain and all we get is a mangy little thin-flanked shower that you could hang your hat on its hip bones.

Kansas is indeed the Promised Land, O Lord, and if it gets a break it will flow with milk and honey. But we can't live much longer on promises. So in Thine own time, make up Thy mind, O Lord, and we will bow before Thy Judgement, and praise Thine everlasting name. Amen.
