My friend, Bob Shoemaker, and I never did get to play golf last Saturday.

There was supposed to be a tournament at Shady Oaks, where we usually play, so we decided to go out of town.

Bob likes to get started early so at 8:15 we headed west.

We usually gab a bit as we go, so he turned the car radio off.

I had barely gotten out of bed in time for him to pick me up so I had not listened to the news on the radio. He hadn't either.

At just about 9 o'clock we arrived in Sweetwater.

The clouds overhead had looked ominous from about Merkel on, but we were on our way to play golf, so the only thing we were concerned about was whether it would be raining on us when we got there.

It wasn't raining in Sweetwater, although it looked like they had just had a pretty good shower.

Then, as we were going down the main street of town, a couple of police cars passed us going west, their light flashing and their sirens sounding.

I said that there must be a pretty bad wreck somewhere.

At about that time, another police car went by hot, but was headed in the opposite direction from the other two.

"What in the world?" I wondered.

Shoemaker kept heading toward the golf course.

We commented about gasoline being 69.9 cents a gallon and that nobody was filling up. In fact, although there was a lot of traffic, the lights were off in all the stores.

We still kept heading toward the golf course on the north side of town.

When we got there, it was deserted. We thought that a bit strange for a Saturday morning, but figured it must have rained enough for them to close the course.

We headed back toward the center of town, and that's when we got the first inkling that something really bad had happened. Two ambulances came shooting by us, running hot.

I finally said, "I wonder if they've had a tornado?" But as we headed back east of town, we saw no signs of damage, and Shoemaker suggested: "Why don't we try to play at Merkel, maybe it's not raining there."

Sure enough, it wasn't raining at Merkel, but it looked like it could any minute. We went on out to the golf course north of town and there, finally, after going all over Sweetwater, we learned we had just come from where there had just been a big tornado.

The rain then came to the Merkel Golf Course and we decided to give it up for the day and headed home.

We went out to Shady Oaks to put up our clubs. We even thought briefly about playing there, because they'd called off the tournament.

But our desire for a golfing Saturday had dimmed by then, and besides, it was starting to rain at Shady Oaks.

We both walked into homes containing wives who were more than a bit concerned about us.

I told my wife there was no need for concern. After all, we are both grown men and she knew how I could always tell when bad weather was about to hit.

NEW CALLAHAN SWCD ZONES

New SWCD District Elections Friday

The recently formed Callahan Divide Soil and Water Conservation District will hold elections this Friday, April 25th for the three remaining director positions says Steve Uselson, District Conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service in Baird.

The Callahan Divide SWCD which was certified for organization by the Secretary of State on April 9, 1986 has had two directors appointed to transact any necessary business until the remaining three directors are elected. The appointed directors are Charley Tom Straley in Zone 2, and Kenneth Geroge in Zone 4.

The following excerpt from the Texas Agriculture Code pertaining to Soil and Water Conservation District Director Elections sets forth the qualifications to be an eligible voter and qualification to serve as a director: A person is eligible to vote in an election if the individual holds title to farmland or ranchland lying within the conservation district, is 18 years of age or older, and is a resident of the county which is included in the conservation district. If a family farm corporation owns farmland or ranchland in the conservation district they are entitled to one vote. The designated voting officer must be 18 years of age or older and must be a resident of the county which is included in the conservation district. In order to qualify to serve as a director a person must be an eligible voter who owns land within the numbered subdivision or zone for which the person is elected and must be actively engaged in the business of farming or animal husbandry.

The elections for Zones 1, 3, and 5 are scheduled to be held in the Callahan County Courtroom this Friday, April 25th at 1:00 p.m., 1:15 p.m. and 1:30 p.m. respectively. Eligible voters are encouraged to attend.

For additional information about the SWCD director elections contact one of the appointed directors or the Soil Conservation Service Office in Baird at 854-1349.

7th Graders Survey Opinions

A study of the differences between fact and opinion has prompted the seventh grade language arts class at Cross Plains Elementary to conduct an opinion poll. The students decided to choose two topics that would be of interest to most of the citizens of Cross Plains.

After lengthy discussion, the class decided to ask the following questions: "Do you think the United States was right to retaliate against Libya?" "Do you think cable networks should scramble their signals so satellite dish users cannot pick up the signal?"

A total of 392 people were surveyed. 208 people were asked about the retaliation against Libya. Forty males and eighty-seven females said they thought the United States was right. Four men and twenty-three women felt retaliation was not right. Twelve men and twenty-three women were undecided and nineteen people did not respond.

Nineteen men and twenty women were in agreement with cable networks scrambling their signals. Thirty-seven men and sixty-four women were against scrambling, and twenty-eight were undecided. The sixteen who did not respond made a total of 184 people surveyed about this question.

The students really enjoyed surveying. They did return to class with a different outlook on the many facets of opinion and how hard it is to get simple "yes" and "no" answers.

Mrs. Sandra Crockett, their teacher, and the students appreciate those who took the time to respond to their questions.

PIONEER NEWS

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

I want to express my appreciation to some friends who just recently expressed their pleasure in reading this column.

First, there was Polly at the Beauty Shop, then Betty Crawford and Zella Erwin, both while at the church; then there was Becky, with whom I file my contribution each Monday. Bless their hearts—they give me courage and boost my ego.

I really need courage as I try to finish this report. I learned Saturday of the sudden death of a very dear friend, Earl Keck, of Abilene. Earl and his sweet wife, Elvia, were two of our very dearest friends. Earl and C. V. Sr. worked in close harmony in the oil fields.

My son, C. V. Jr. was born on Earl's birthday, May 6. He has always called "Uncle Earl" his godfather.

My daughter, Joanie, came in late Sunday evening and will take me to Abilene for Earl's funeral. She had already planned to spend this week with me, and I'm so glad she is here.

Mrs. Hiram Foster called early on Monday morning. They enjoyed a host of visitors last week. They were Ms. Margie Seymore of Brownwood, Jewel's brother, L. G. Akins and his wife of Cisco; cousins, Durward and Edna Mae Taylor of Kingston, Tenn. Also their sons, Charles and Lucille Foster of Clyde, Gene and Norma of this area—their grandson, David Foster and his son, Gary, of Abilene; also Mr. Green of Rising Star, and Ms. Lottie Sooter.

Mrs. (Joe) Nell Fleming called to report on the hailstorm they had. There were some baseball size and a lot of golf ball sized. She said there were at least two bushels of green peaches on the ground. Nell's sister, Mary Cox, of San Angelo spent last Thursday night with them. Gladys Sessums visited them on day.

Dan and Doris Cooper of Houston spent about three days with Mrs. Nettie Roady. Bob and Sally visited them there. Mrs. Nettie visited Bob and Sally this week, also Sally's dad, Howard Hicks. Their little grandson, Charlie, finally has the cast off his arm, but now he has a bad case of chicken-pox.

Mrs. Pete (Jean) Fore's visitors last week were Viola Harlow of Marble Falls; also David, Holly and Josh Wainscott and Mary Huntington of Lubbock. Pete's niece, Norma Jean Inabnet of San Antonio recently found her husband, Mitchell, dead in his car. He had suffered a heart attack.

Mrs. Ethel Brown has been ill several days with a severe dizziness. She was so grateful to Jean Fore and Lou Grider for their help. A niece, Olene Simmons and Ms. Hazel Coon, also a niece Kathleen Hardesty, all of Rising Star visited last week. Another niece, Mrs. Frank Grimes, of Gorman visited one day. Rolan Jones, Jimmie Lee Payne, Evelyn Monsey, Lois Garrett, Lou and Dick Grider, and the Cole Tillotsons visited during the week.

When the hailstorm hit near J. T. and Betty Beggs' area, a lot of neighbors joined them in their cellar for safety. They were Mr. and Mrs. George Taff, Mr. and Mrs. Mackie Taff and children, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Taff and children, and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Mitchell. Also, Rex Lee Beggs and children of Cross Plains visited them on Saturday.

Gospel Singing At Heirholzer's April 25

3 Court Basketball April 24

Any young ladies that played 3 court basketball before 1939 are urged to meet at the Cross Plains Public Library on Thursday, April 24, at 7:00 p.m. An exhibition game featuring the 3 court style is planned for the half court women's ex-basketball game. If you are interested in participating, please call Clara Nell Spencer or Gregg Williams.

NEW ARRIVAL

Shawn Michael Lusk would like to announce the arrival of his new brother, Eric Benjamin Lusk. Eric was born on April 16, at Keesler Air Force Base, Biloxi, Mississippi. He weighed 7 lbs., 9oz., and was 21" long. Jeanie and Michael Lusk are the proud parents. Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Lusk are the grandparents.

Cottonwood Historical Association Meeting May 4

The Cottonwood Historical Association will hold its 16th annual meeting May 4, 1986 at the Cottonwood Community Center. A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon followed by a business meeting.

The Association is responsible for the upkeep of the Cottonwood cemeteries and preserving historical buildings in the area. We are presently repairing and remodeling the Community Center which is the old schoolhouse. The old cemetery has undergone repair and renovation this past year.

The Board of Directors has passed a resolution to charge $25 for a grave opening, and the general membership voted last year to allow no trees, shrubs, fences or curbs in the new cemetery.

If you are interested in any of these projects, you are invited to come to the annual meeting and have a voice in our plans for the future and enjoy visiting with old friends.

Donations to help the Association carry out its responsibilities are appreciated and can be sent to: Cottonwood Historical Assn., c/o Pauline Lawson, Sec-Treas., Rt. 1, Box 133, Cross Plains, TX 76443.

ROWDEN NEWS

By MRS. N. V. GIBBS

Weatherwise, it has been a little of every kind this past week with dark rain clouds favoring the community with some much needed moisture. The Gibbs' gauge measured two tenths. The Mauldins and Steele families gauged four tenths with some hail. Now a norther has followed the rain. Some hot and windy days were also experienced this week.

When the Harrells were called for news, Don reported their big news was the pasture fire that burned off nearly a hundred acres of Love Grass. Fire departments were out from Baird and Cross Plains. The fire was under control late in the day, but high winds early Monday morning caused smoldering coals to revive and the fire department was out again to soon end that fire. It had all started on Saturday when Mr. Angel had burned a brush pile on his place across from the Harrells.

Mrs. James Reynolds attended revival services at the Pioneer Baptist Church Friday night where she sang during the service.

Mrs. Gene Mauldin was in Abilene Tuesday where the high light of the day was viewing quilts from 1840 to earlier days of the 1900's. This was a display sponsored by the Prairie Star Quilt Shop on the first floor of the First State Bank Building. Mrs. Mauldin does quilting for these shop owners and was invited to see the work of early quilters. She also made pictures of her favorites of the show.

Those visiting in the Lizzie Burks, Emma Johnson and Robert Burks home during the week were Carrol Burks and his son-in-law, Sandy Bullock, of Abilene who were out to hunt turkey Saturday.

Emma reported that her sister, Susan Mauldin, had called her from the rest home in Cross Plains about their rain and hail that fell there Saturday afternoon.

A doctor's office sometimes is a meeting place for neighbors. Granvel Gibbs has been on the sick list this week with the flu, to the point of losing his voice. Kathy Dye had brought Julie in for a shot and Chris West was ailing. Usually going to the doctor means a wait for patients and they visit while waiting.

This writer stopped by for a short visit with Granvel and Parlee Gibbs and was told that two wrens had a nest in their pickup. We saw both birds going in near the back light. I decided to see the nest and one of the birds met me, but decided to return to the nest that is out of sight. Maybe they made the trip to the doctor's office with them Thursday.

San Jacinto Day Celebration by the Callahan County Historical Commission in Baird was Monday, April 21st. Kathy Dye, member of the Baird Civic League reported of their part in the special program. They are sponsoring the "Little Miss" and "Little Mister" Contest with KTAB's Paul Ossmann acting as judge. Callahan County History Books are being issued along with a meal and program fitting the occasion.

Bob and Kathy Dye were in Mason last Saturday to visit her sister, Nancy Gibson, and family of Lovington, New Mexico who were visiting their Mother, Mrs. Douglas Denny.

Melissa Andrews and son, Billy, of Austin were visiting in the Don Harrell home earlier this week. Mrs. Don Harrell and her sister, Melissa, attended the funeral of Mrs. M. E. Jensen, in Abilene. The girls are good friends of Dr. and Mrs. Jensen's daughters.

Leigh Harrell and her Mother attended a birthday party of a little friend in Abilene Saturday.

Edna Dye attended her Garden Club meeting Thursday in the home of Louise Swiedom in Abilene.

On Sunday Mrs. Dye had a family dinner for all of her family, Edward and Ann Dye and daughter, Lori Ann, of Abilene, Tommy and Erlene Dye and Douglas and Bob and Kathy Dye and Julie of the Community. Also a brother, Ed Sayre and wife, Betty, and a sister-in-law, Mary Sayre, all of Breckenridge.

While in Haskell and Rule Wednesday and Thursday, Robert and Dorothy Watson visited friends, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Klose and Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hannsz.

Those visiting in the Gene Mauldin home Thursday were Mrs. Mary Finley and Mrs. Bernice Williams of Baird. N. V. Gibbs stopped for a short visit Saturday morning.

The April meeting of the Beta Upsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, a society of women teachers from Callahan and Eastland counties, was held in Eastland at the Siebert Elementary School. Members who attended from Cross Plains were Juanita Shaw, Frances Tyson, and Billie Loving.

The president, Louise Taylor of Cisco, presided and led the members in repeating the opening prayer. BURKETT NEWS

By FREEDA BURKETT and LUCILLE GOULD

A great improvement has been completed at our water supply plant recently. A very nice chain link fence has been erected around the buildings, according to specifications. We have Delbert Boyle to thank for taking the responsibility of the job, and being a professional fence builder. He did a great job with the help of a few other men, especially Roy Clark.

All labor on this job was voluntary and we use this way of expressing our appreciation to those men for this and other things they do for our community.

Donations were taken for Roy Clark to defray the cost to him for the use of his equipment, material and other expenses he was out. We especially want to thank everyone that contributed to the fund.

The Burkett area netted $527.25 for the Cancer Crusade. Freeda Burkett, Chairman, is very appreciative, of those that helped to make the crusade here successful. Rural crusaders were Dorothy Webb, Shirley Hunter and Hap Bearden. Those canvassing Burkett Community were Lucille Cross and Freeda. A big "thank you" goes to every person that contributed to this cause.

Mrs. Louise (Nicholson) Howard of Coleman was in Burkett recently to visit the cemetery and placed a spray of flowers on the grave of her grandmother, Wesley, whom she loved very dearly.

We are always pleased for you that have loved ones resting in our cemeteries to make special efforts to come out and visit. Our cemetery caretakers, Bob and Beth Kleiber and sons are doing a fabulous job keeping them clean and beautiful. We also have recently had a flag pole placed near the center of the Burkett Cemetery and it is a wonderful sensation to see Old Glory waving calmly as we pass by or visit the cemetery.

Virgil and Freeda Burkett returned home Thursday evening from Iron Springs Christian Camp at Lake Whitney where they spent Sunday evening to Thursday morning. Other couples attending were Troy and Maxine Crockett, Cowan and Laverne Hutton, Gilbert and Ruby Williams, Audie and Georgia Moore, and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Horton.

Mrs. W. O. Walker is in San Angelo at the bedside of her father who is a patient at St. John Hospital.

Jim and Laverne Lindsey of Midland and her father, Bill Koenig of Cross Plains, who has spent the past several months with them were recent visitors with friends and relatives in this area and Cross Plains.

Hap Bearden left Friday for Washougal, Washington for a visit with his daughter, Mary Jane Koester, and husband. Hap's son and wife, Dainton and Pat Bearden, of Mission Viejo, Ca., are also there and will celebrate their fortieth wedding anniversary with his father and sister and family.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Gould, W. B. Bludworth, Grace Green, Ruby Biehl and Roy Creek visited their cousins, Elmer and Juanita Edmondson, of Weatherford Thursday. They reported a great visit and the usual delicious dinner that Juanita never fails to have prepared.

Leonard and Frieda Bell Hood of Odessa were here over the weekend before last visiting relatives. They were accompanied by her daughter, Carmelle Rossie, of Phoenix, Az. They enjoyed a cookout with Frieda Bell's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Koenig, and visited her aunt and uncle, Bill and Jo Davee and another aunt, Lois Garrett of Cross Plains. The group was at the cookout with them also.

Weekend visitors with Lillian Harris were Bill and Connie Noles of Garland. Grady and Theda Harris of Aransas Pass came in yesterday (Sunday) to spend this week with his mother.

Reverend and Mrs. Bigham visited with Montie Jennings Sunday afternoon.

Marsha Turney and Jon of Santa Anna visited with her parents, Jack and Lovera Strickland Sunday.

Rick, Linda Brinson and Melinda of Coleman visited the D. R. Goulds Saturday evening.

Visiting Lillian Harris Sunday were Susan Trowbridge and her daughter, Mildred, of Brownwood and Flossie Lockhart of New Braunfels.

Cottonwood Annual Fund Raising Supper

The Cottonwood Regional Community Association will hold their annual fund raising supper, April 26, at the Cottonwood Community Center beginning at 6:00 p.m.

The meal will cost $3.00 per plate and this will include salads, desserts and drinks.

All proceeds from the event will be used for unusual emergencies, such as the loss of a home, etc.

WEEKLY HEALTH TIP
PEPTIC ULCERS

"Treating peptic ulcers with bland diets and frequent feedings may not be more beneficial than regular meals", says Dr. Jon Isenberg, chief of Gastroenterology at VA Hospital in L. A. "Instead, the old advice to chew food thoroughly may still be the best safeguard against peptic ulcers. "Proper chewing mixes uric-gastone, a digestive substance from the salivary glands, with foods and has been found to aid in the healing of ulcers." So chewing food thoroughly promotes ulcer-soothing reactions - also is most beneficial for general health and aids in weight control.

Your better health is our concern.
