'Kozy With A K'

By VANDA KING
Editor

A new addition to our family is amazingly similar to a newborn baby. Kozy K., a miniature half Doberman Pincher and Daschund, is a sweet little puppy with her days and nights mixed up.

The agreement between my teenage children was that they would take complete care of the pup. So they take turns at night when she wakes up.

On Kye's first turn, I explained that he would have to listen for her and care enough about Kozy to hear her. The next morning he said, "Mom, I said a little prayer before going to sleep and asked God to let me hear her. I almost wished He hadn't answered that one after waking me at least nine times."

I questioned him on how many children he thought he would like to have, because it was basically the same routine, and he remarked, "About one!"

It has been a great experience, however, as the kids realize the responsibility and fatigue a little one demands. None of this affects Leah's enthusiasm, while Kye stated that Kozy was cute, but a pain.

She is a sweetie all right, with the markings and black and brown coloring of a Pincher and the ears, body, tail and personality of a Daschund. Her body is about six or seven inches long with a four inch tail, standing on two inch legs.

Kozy is so tiny that she can run like the wind and loves chasing the kids around the house in hot pursuit. Her long ears flapping and an antennae type tail, she appears mechanical in her forward, reverse, and side-winding gears.

She has a baby Pound Puppy for a toy which we call Spot. If you tell her to fetch Spot, she will grab him by an ear or the back of the neck while growling and shaking him fiercely.

A little ball with a bell inside is another favorite play thing. Of course, you just love to hear it ringing at 2 a.m.

After she tires of playing, she has learned to get into her bed, a Pound Puppy basket, and usually takes Spot with her. During the day she seems lazy, but in the early hours she is hyper.

She knows Leah adores her and when she wants to sleep she snuggles up for a little nap. It only takes a few minutes to become hopelessly attached!

Outside she jumps through the grass like a gazelle. Everything is a new adventure. I'm sure it must look frightening to her from her minute stature. Loud noises scare her, so the noise level at our house has been lowered. That was worth a great deal.

I have read that pets help decrease stress and I believe it works. If you are watching every cute move Kozy makes, you move away from the reality of the day.

Thanks, Blandye and Donald, for giving us Kozy K.

Locally Known Young Man Recuperating From Austin Shooting

David Fritz II is currently recuperating at Abilene with his mother and her husband, Jim and Thalia Robertson, following four gunshot wounds.

He was critically injured on June 25, 1992 when he and his uncle, Kermit Fritz, went to visit his father, David Fritz in Austin. David II had just returned from an European tour and the two had called ahead. Upon arrival David Fritz shot his brother, Kermit, seven times with a 9 millimeter semi-automatic, killing him and fired six shots at his son, David.

David was hit in his right leg twice, breaking the bone in two places and shattering his knee cap; another bullet entered his chest and lung, missing his heart by one-half inch; a fourth bullet grazed his shoulder; while two bullets which would have been fatal were blocked by camera and equipment in his back pack.

David remained still while his father assumed he was dead and returned to the house where he set fire to his home and killed himself with a shotgun. Fritz had previously poured gasoline in the house and laid a trail to his motorcycle and other chemicals in the garage which caused an explosion.

Following two and one-half weeks in the Intensive Care Unit at Breckenridge Hospital in critical condition, David's condition upgraded and last Friday he returned home with his mother. No surgery was ever performed, as all the bullets passed through his body and he was too critical for surgery at the time. The bullet through his lung caused it to collapse three times and he must have daily X-rays at Humana Hospital.

David is improving, but may have to have surgery on his leg at a later time.

Thalia's sister, Rhonda, is the wife of Kermit Fritz. Gene and Nelda Wilcoxon of Abilene are their parents and the grandparents of David II. The Wilcoxon family are all former residents of Cross Plains.

Lakewood Recreation Center First 'Get Acquainted Golf' Held

By BARBARA MCKOY

We had our first "Get Acquainted" golf for new members Sunday and it was a success. Not knowing how many people would show proved not to be a problem. Fifty-one players, plus family members not playing golf and a bunch of kids along for the ride.

That's what we said at the beginning of the year — that we needed more families and young people involved. Believe me, we got them Sunday.

That's what a recreation center is all about. Thanks, for coming and continue to come.

Remember, our scramble every Thursday evening at 6 p.m. Ladies Day on Friday at 9 a.m. There will be numerous club outings, so keep in touch for those announcements.

A special thanks go to the members that cooked the food, organized the tournament, and worked so hard to make it possible.

Hospice Program Now Available In Cross Plains

Hospice, a special way of caring for a patient whose disease cannot be cured, is now available in Cross Plains through the Cross Plains branch of Mediplex Home Health, 959 N. Main. The Hospice Program is operated under Medicare, Medicaid, and private insurance. Hospice is primarily a comprehensive home care program which provides all the medical and support services necessary for the management of a terminal illness. This includes physician services, nursing care, medical appliances and medications, short term respite care in the home, outpatient drugs for pain management, physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, home health aide and homemaker services, social services, and nutrition and dietary counseling. When a patient receives these services from Mediplex Hospice, Medicare hospital insurance pays almost the entire cost.

Hospice is also available locally through memorial donations. Patients who do not have Medicare, Medicaid, or private insurance can be helped through this memorial fund. For those people who do not wish to donate money to this fund, there is ample space to you to volunteer time. Volunteers are a very vital part of the service Mediplex Hospice serves in the community.

Special benefit periods apply to hospice care. For more information concerning Mediplex Hospice, to make a memorial donation, or to volunteer your time, call the Mediplex office at 1-800-695-2199.

Addition To School History

In last week's Cross Plains Review a page in the History of the Cross Plains School was inadvertently left out. The following should have read:

Frank Rundell, a former coach in the Cross Plains School, returned as superintendent following Wayne Ford. Mr. Rundell introduced elective subjects to the system. Spanish was brought as a foreign language in the eighth grade. There had been no foreign language for at least twenty years. The school has continued with an excellent Spanish course in high school.

Dr. Scot Edington, former Cross Plains High School Principal, became superintendent. He worked diligently to secure the new high school which is enjoyed today.

The Cross Plains Review apologizes for the omission of facts.

Local Child Attends Texas Lions Camp

Rachel Ann Childers, 9, the child of Don and R' Evelyn Childers, of Cross Plains, recently attended the Texas Lions Camp in Kerrville, Texas. Located on 500 acres of beautiful hill country, the camp serves children who are visually or hearing impaired or have physical disabilities, ages 7 through 16. Camp programs are adapted, if necessary, so that everyone may participate. A well-trained staff supervises each camp activity at a ratio of one counselor to two campers.

The Texas Lions Camp is a non-profit organization funded by generous individuals interested in providing challenging programs for handicapped youth. This service is provided free of charge to eligible children.

For more information, or if you know of someone who can benefit from these programs, call your local Lions Club or write: Texas Lions Camp, P.O. Box 247, Kerrville, Texas 78029-0247 (512-896-8500).

THE PIONEER PATCHWORK

By IRMA MILLER

The Pioneer Baptist Church had a great revival this week, much enjoyed by the participants.

Frankie and Oliver Smith went to Ranger Wednesday to see her daddy, who was doing well. They attended a wedding in Brownwood Saturday.

This week, Novilia Barton's son from Waco came to see her, and she visited in Rising Star with Myrtle Wilson. She and Betty Beggs went to Brownwood on business.

Laverne Hutton went to Abilene Tuesday and picked up her granddaughter, Melissa, of Savannah, Georgia, at the airport. She is visiting with her grandmother for a few days. Sunday Laverne entertained her granddaughters at a luncheon given at her home. Present were Melissa, Tabitha, Tamara, Shana, and Robbie.

This author learned Sunday of the death of Artie (Liverett) Fleming in Brownwood. After the Monday funeral, the deceased is to be buried in Pioneer Cemetery beside her husband, Leonard Fleming. We wish to extend our sympathy to the family.

Earlene Burge spent the weekend with her granddaughter, DeAnn Chisholm in Brownwood. She also helped her other granddaughter, Cindy Ochoa, celebrate her birthday in Brownwood.

ROWDEN NEWS

By MRS. N.V. GIBBS

How much rain did you get this week? No one could answer that question as the time has gone by without a rain cloud. Farmers are finishing the grain harvest and hay baling is in full swing.

The Harris brothers had coastal and hay grazer fields that yielded a lot of square and round bales.

A visitor of Emma Johnson was a nurse, Jaine Nabores of Baird.

Joyce Odom and this writer attended the A.A.R.P. meeting and luncheon in Cross Plains Monday.

Robert and Helen Smith, of San Antonio, sister and brother-in-law of Kathy Dye, spent the weekend with their mother, Anna Dendy, while Bob and Kathy spent the weekend at Possom Kingdom Lake. The Bryan Pattersons and children of Baird were also at the lake.

Joyce Odom and this writer attended the funeral of Robert Lee Smedley in Baird Thursday morning. Robert Lee grew up in the Rowden Community, married Roberta Elliott of the community, and raised their children here. We extend our sympathy to all the children and their families. Two living Smedley members are Ima Gibbs of Baird and Lola Russell of Hatch, New Mexico. Others attending from here were Blain Odom and Gene and Vernie Belle Mauldin.

Dorothy Reynolds visited her dad, Billy Henry and Goldie, last Sunday afternoon. On Thursday night their supper guests were Troy and Sue Stone and son, Dalton of Cross Plains.

Kile Watson has completed his studies and is working in San Antonio. His visitors during the week were Cody and Wyatt Watson, and Brad and Michal Watson of Arlington. Also making the trip was Becky Holmes, of Cross Plains, sister of Michal Watson.

Pharmacist's discovery may end obesity

WASHINGTON--After solving the problem of his own obesity, a pharmacist, now director of National Dietary Research, may have discovered the solution for others with the same problem.

Dr. William Morris, pharmacist, inventor and author has discovered a natural food tablet, aptly named Food Source One, that replaces some of the calories normally obtained from food. Food Source One replaces high calorie fats with other natural food ingredients with little or no caloric value so you can lose weight without giving up all your favorite foods, as explained in NDR's Lifestyle Maintenance publication, available where Food Source One is sold. "The secret to meaningful weight loss is not in decreasing the amount of food you eat, but in controlling the fat," says Dr. Morris.

According to Dr. Morris, weight loss results while using Food Source One will depend on how many pounds a person needs to lose. However some overweight people are experiencing extraordinary results with Food Source One. A Metairie, Louisiana nurse lost 71 pounds. She stated "I never had to sacrifice the foods I dearly crave!" "Food Source One is very easy and anyone could do it," says a Niagara Falls, New York woman who lost 26 pounds and 15 inches. "The results are great!" she added.

Food Source One is available at pharmacies without a prescription.

Retiree Corner

Simply The News
J.M. Huber Corporation
By TIM PENN

You can see a lot of changes in 35 years, and Jim McKoy has seen it all in the Flow Control Division.

When he joined the company in April 1957, the division wasn't even a division. It was called Petroleum Equipment and was part of the Oil & Gas Division. It became the Equipment Division, and later Flow Control.

When he joined Huber, Petroleum Equipment had two products — metal paraffin scrapers and rod rotators. It now has hundreds of different products and serves not only the petroleum industry, but also many other customers.

Positions McKoy held included salesman, assistant sales manager, marketing manager, and his most recent, National Accounts Manager. He spent his entire career in marketing and sales for Huber.

According to Denzilea Guinn, however, McKoy will be remembered most in retirement as someone that everyone in the division trusted.

"That (trust) is his greatest asset," she said, "and he was always so proud of Huber products and the corporation."

He was instrumental in getting the division's new products to market as well as helping to gain customer acceptance for the products.

The division hosted a retirement party for McKoy in Tomball on April 24. The party was a night of laughs and fun for all, according to Guinn. Included at the party was a rap song, a "Flow Control Drips" chorus line, and a "Jim, the Real McKoy — Fact or Fiction" program that contained songs written specifically for McKoy.

Members of the "Wrappers" were Barbara Dodson, Gale Brown, Maryann Filips, Gary Williams, Bill Suckow, and Denzilea Guinn. Members of the "Drips" were Gale Brown, Rita Wroten, Guinn, Filips, and Dodson.

McKoy received the obligatory gag gifts, including a "Huber Rock or Nuts" — peanuts with faces of the people who attended the party painted on them.

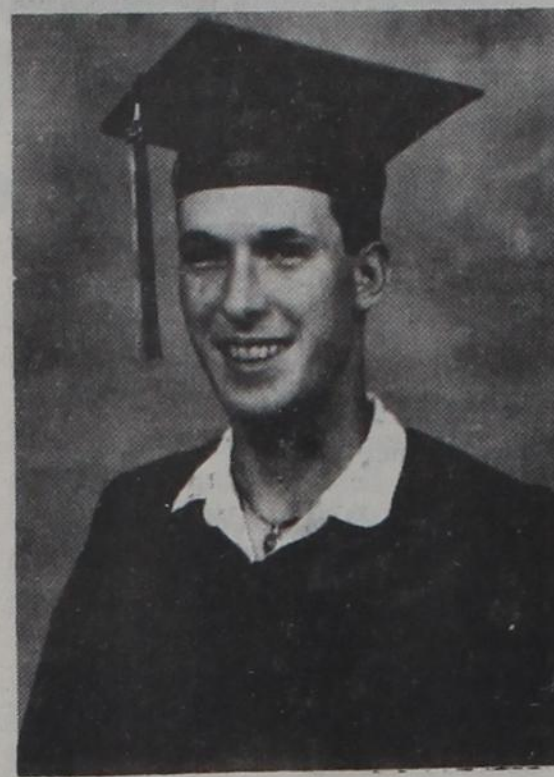

McKoy and his wife, Barbara, moved to a farm in Cross Plains, Texas, in 1985. The couple has two married daughters and five grandchildren. McKoy will trade in rod guides and valves for hunting and golfing.

Another longtime Huberite, Rose Treadway, retired March 19. She had worked for the Printing Ink Division in Shreveport, LA, for more than 22 years.

Rich Toland said that it's safe to say that Rose is happy with her replacement, Debby Anderson. Rose's daughter, was hired for the job as secretary at the Ink Service Center.

Another Inkie retiring recently was Robert H. Messing. He had been Manager, Safety and Environmental Protection, for the Printing Ink Division, where he had worked for almost 30 years.

On April 24, more than 75 of Messing's fellow employees and friends honored him at a party. Retirees there to help celebrate included Barry Wartenburg, Lou Surlani, Doug

WARREN PARSON

Warren Parson Chosen To Who's Who Among H.S. Students

Warren Lee Parson has been nominated for the second year to Who's Who Among American High School Students. This edition will honor qualified students for their achievements during the recently completed 1991-92 academic year. The award represents a satisfying conclusion to a distinguished high school career.

As a Who's Who student, Parson is eligible to apply for a $1,000 scholarship from the $100,000 to be awarded this year.

While only 5 percent of the nation's high school students are included in Who's Who each year, less than one-half of one percent are honored for two or more years.

Warren was a 1992 graduate of Cross Plains High School. He noted that he was most proud of being recognized as "Most Friendly" for the past four years, his service award for senior year work with bus period children, and National Merit Science Award.

Currently, he is stationed at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Parson are his proud parents.

Words such as "integrity," "honor," and "concern" were mentioned all night as Paul Volpe, Technical Director of NAPIM (National Association of Printing Ink Manufacturers) presented Bob with an award for his dedication and service to the association. Bob's retirement gift was an Alto Saxophone.

Edison's Lanny "Have-you-heard-the-one-about" Hoffman, who retired two years ago, is now a part-time faculty member at Mercer County (New Jersey) Community College in the Trenton (NJ) area. WTU New Business Development Department

West Texas Utilities Co. is strengthening its commitment to the future of West Texas with the creation of a new business development department. Heading the department will be David Young who was promoted from manager of economic development to director of business development.

Young will be responsible for the company's economic support programs which help local and regional groups like cities, chambers of commerce, and industrial development agencies attract business and jobs to West Texas. "Attracting new industries is critical to the economic well being of this region," according to Paul Brower, WTU's vice president of marketing and business development who announced the changes. "The organizational change emphasizes the increased importance we see for this effort and will allow David and his team to maximize their efforts in promoting the many advantages of WTU's service territory," Brower said.

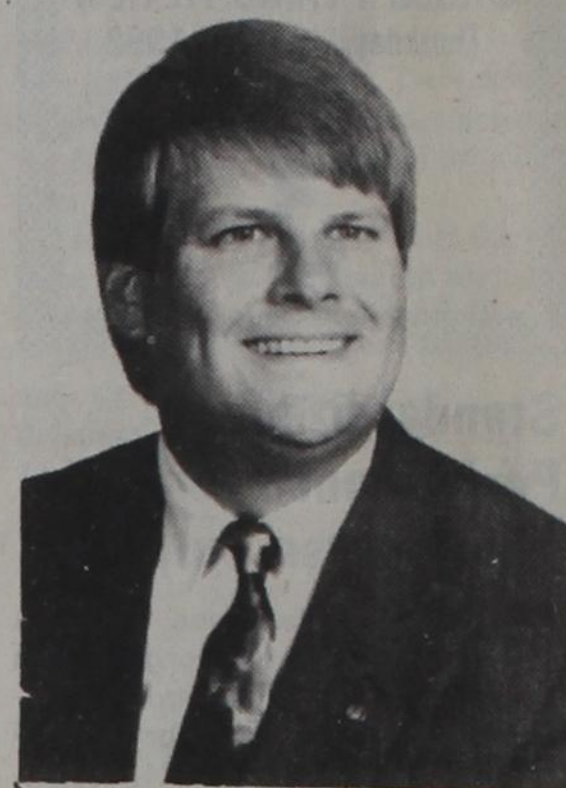

Young, a graduate of Northeast Louisiana University, holds a BS degree in business administration and a BBA in marketing. He joined Southwestern Electric Power Company in 1979 as a research assistant, then held staff advisor positions in energy audits and residential marketing before he became an economic development specialist in 1986. He moved to WTU in 1989 as manager of economic development. Both WTU and SWEPCO are subsidiaries of Central and South West Corp.

Working with Young are David Scott, community development consultant, Eric Geisler, economic development specialist, and Rita Sanchez, secretary. The department concentrates its efforts on promoting the region's traditional economic strengths and exploring opportunities for a more diversified future.

Traditionally railroads, agriculture, ranching and oil were the economic foundations of the West Texas Economy. As these industries have matured, cities and counties have initiated economic development programs to help diversify the local business base and capitalize on regional resources.

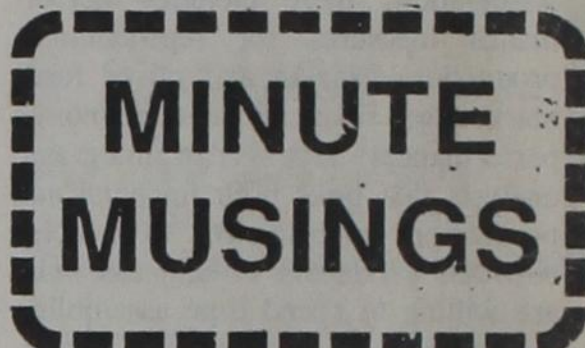

WTU's business development team is staffed to help communities and regional economic development organizations establish strategic plans and marketing strategies for their local job attraction efforts.

To identify prospective business which may have an interest in WTU's service territory, the department attends trade shows and conducts out-of-state trips armed with information about the many economic advantages of the region. Together with other WTU departments, the economic development staff encourages existing businesses to expand or become more competitive through efforts like investment in technology or increased regional trade.

DAVID YOUNG

WTU serves 177,000 customers covering 52 counties and 53,000 square miles of West Texas.

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

This is a beautiful Monday morning — just a bit like March, the wind is so strong — but I'm not 'knocking' the weather — usually our Julys are on the warm side.

The past week was a sad one for me — I lost another brother. My brother, Wayne, suffered a stroke, and subsequent heart failure. He died on Tuesday, was buried in the Necessity Cemetery in a family plot on Friday. My daughter, Joanie, came here from Cleburne and took me to Breckenridge for the services.

My friend, Lucile Callaway, came out on Wednesday, and brought me some 'goodies' to eat. I appreciate her friendship — she is the nearest 'kin-folk' which I have in Cross Plains.

On Friday morning of last week, Betty Beggs and Novella Barton, a neighbor, had lunch and a shopping spree in Brownwood. On Friday evening, Betty and J.T. visited with Jeanette and L.W. Mitchell. Betty has been teaching an Art Class at the Multi-Purpose Center on Thursdays. The students have painted a 'lot of pictures,' she said.

I enjoyed a brief chat with Nell Fleming. She didn't have any special news — they are getting along nicely, staying in out of the hot weather.

Several neighbors did not answer this morning. I do hope they will call me when they have a note of interest for this column.

Health Tip
BACKACHE

Low back pain results in 217 million lost work days annually. Smoking is a factor. Nicotine constricts blood vessels, reducing the blood supply to back muscles and ligaments, allowing spinal discs to slip out of place. Vibrations from vehicles and power tools can contribute. Weak back muscles and heavy lifting are major causes, but with exercise to strengthen those muscles, many can overcome backache.

Your better health is our concern.

Card Of Thanks

Thanks to my dear friends for all the cards and all the words of comfort you sent me while I was feeling so bad. And to all my Avon customers that were always so nice to me. I enjoyed my work, made lots of good friends, but I've had to give it up.

I especially want to thank Burl Brown for helping me, for mowing my yard, taking me to the grocery store, and taking me to pay my bills. I was having a hard time trying to walk after I had the light stroke.

God Bless you for being so good to me.

Vernie McMillan

Tonya Johnson Crowned 1992 Miss Rodeo Texas

Tonya Johnson, 22, of Oplin and a 1988 graduate of Clyde High School, was crowned the 1992-93 Miss Rodeo Texas at festivities in San Antonio Friday, June 26.

Johnson, current Miss West Texas Fair and Rodeo Queen, is the daughter of Lowell and Winona Johnson of Oplin. Lowell is a Callahan County Commissioner. She has an older brother, Chris, who is also a Clyde High School graduate.

Tonya will represent the sport of rodeo all over the state this year, and she will compete for Texas in the Miss Rodeo America Pageant slated for December. The Miss Rodeo America Pageant will be held in conjunction with the National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas.

Johnson graduated in May 1992 from Tarleton State University in Stephenville with a bachelor of science degree in agriculture economics and a BBA in general business. She graduated with Magna Cum Laude honors from Tarleton.

During her high school education, Johnson was a member of the Clyde FFA, FHA and Beta Club. She was also involved in 4-H activities in the county. She showed steers and lambs in livestock shows while in high school. Tonya graduated from CHS with honors. She was the third highest ranking student in her class in 1988.

Johnson won the Miss Rodeo Texas title competing against 12 girls from all over the state. They were judged equally in three different categories; horsemanship, western attire and personality. The girls competing for the crown ranged in age from 18 to 24.

The contestants had to draw for the horses they rode from a poll of horses they had never seen before. All were required to ride two different reining patterns, riding a different horse for each pattern.

They were also judged on their selection of western attire and the manner in which they wore it.

All contestants had three five minute interviews, were required to give a two minute prepared speech and then answer three impromptu questions.

Miss Johnson won the western attire and personality portion of the competition.

For winning the Miss Rodeo Texas title, Tonya will receive a $2,000 scholarship, a saddle with Miss Rodeo Texas stamped into it, a Tibetan lamb jacket, diamond ring, belt buckle, two sets of luggage, a western wardrobe from Wrangler, a wardrobe of Resistol hats, a wardrobe of Larry Mahan boots and various other prizes too numerous to mention.

While representing the sport of rodeo as Miss Rodeo Texas, Tonya will make between 100 to 120 appearances in PRCA (Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association) sponsored rodeos throughout the state. She will also make promotional appearances for the many western wear companies that sponsor her.

She will also autograph pictures of herself while appearing at the businesses that help sponsor rodeos throughout the state.

Tonya will travel by both plane and vehicle to the various rodeos in the state.

All of her appearances will be booked through the Miss Rodeo Texas organization based in San Antonio.

Tonya began making appearances last week at rodeos held in Stamford and Coleman. A press conference was also held for her last week in Abilene at the Expo Center.

Miss Johnson will give up the title of Miss Rodeo Texas in June of 1993. She will crown the new Miss West Texas Fair and Rodeo Queen in September.

TONYA JOHNSON

The Miss Rodeo Texas competition was only the fourth pageant Johnson has ever entered. In 1986 she was crowned Miss West Texas Fair and Rodeo Teen Queen and was runner-up in the teen competition for Miss Rodeo Texas in 1987. She won the Miss West Texas Fair and Rodeo Queen title in 1991 and her fourth pageant was in winning the Miss Rodeo Texas title.

The national rodeo queen competition will be similar to state and local events including western attire, personality and horsemanship categories. The difference is the competition will be a lot tougher, Johnson said.

"I feel great pride in bringing the Miss Rodeo Texas crown back to Abilene," Tonya said during an Abilene press conference last Thursday. She added she hopes to bring the national crown back to Texas, since it has been 22 years since a Miss Rodeo Texas won the national title.

"I am looking forward to sharing this year will all sorts of people as well as rodeo people," Johnson said. "I want everyone to see what rodeo is all about...It's America's number one sport."

Tonya hopes to eventually become a public relations person for the beef or mohair industries. If not, she plans to enter agriculture finance and banking.
