'Help Beautify The City'

By VANDA KING
Editor

A couple weeks ago a campaign was started for a city-wide clean-up so Cross Plains would look really sharp for the 1988 Homecoming. The second meeting took place Thursday at the City Hall and the number of people attending had doubled from the first session.

Four city councilmen attended and their input and interest was appreciated by all. They were very informative concerning several situations discussed.

The degree of enthusiasm was apparent and you probably have noticed the first step of the project has already started, as half barrels were delivered by Rodney McCarty last Wednesday. If anyone knows where 12 more barrels can be located, please call Connie Kirkham.

Suggestions for filling the barrels with rock, potting soil, etc. were aired. Tim Dillard, owner of Tim's Florals and Gifts, was designated to secure the potting plants, shrubs, etc. for a majority of the barrels.

Many people have made the comment, "The downtown area already looks better even with the empty barrels." Of course, there are several businesses who have already finished their barrels and they do look exceptional.

In a few days the whole downtown area will have a look of freshness with all the barrels full of flowering plants.

A facelift consisting of new coats of paint and general clean-ups such as the elimination of weeds and mowing of vacant lots were also discussed. A suggestion of a proclamation from the city for a clean-up week just prior to September 10 will be discussed at their next session. If the proclamation is approved a formal announcement will be made in the Review.

Further discussion of vacant building in the downtown section and needs for improving general appearances deemed the need for financial assistance.

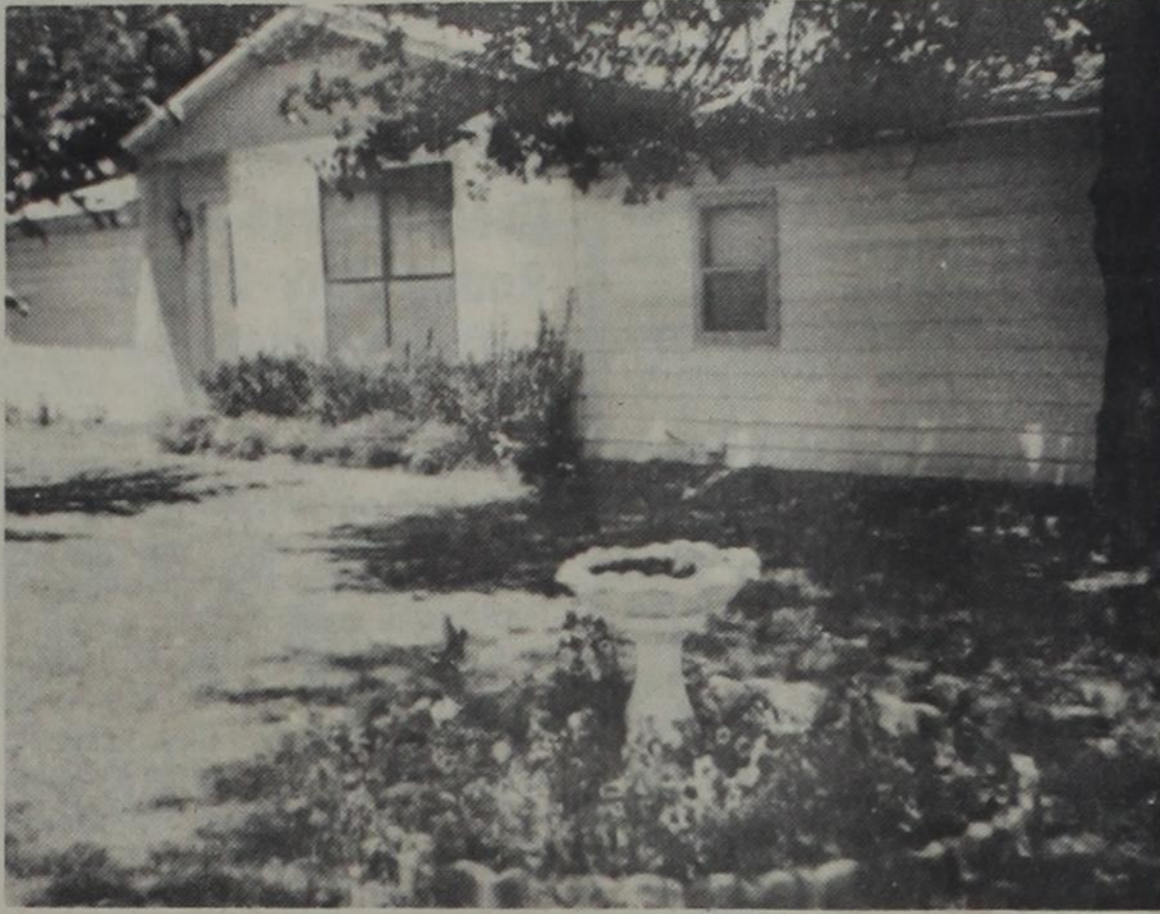

The group decided to create an account at the Citizens State Bank for anyone who would like to contribute to the city-wide beautification. The name of this fund is "Beautification of Downtown Cross Plains." Those who would like to participate in this worthwhile project may make donations by contacting Dannes Turner.

If you would like to help make our community a more attractive place to live and visit, you can have an important role in these changes. You don't have to live in the city limits to be active, as area small communities may assist in the upgrading of the city.

It is hoped that everyone will join in and have your residence and any vacant lots you might own looking good when all the ex-students return. They will probably be driving around town looking at places they have lived or visited, and wouldn't it be great if they found a beautiful home town.

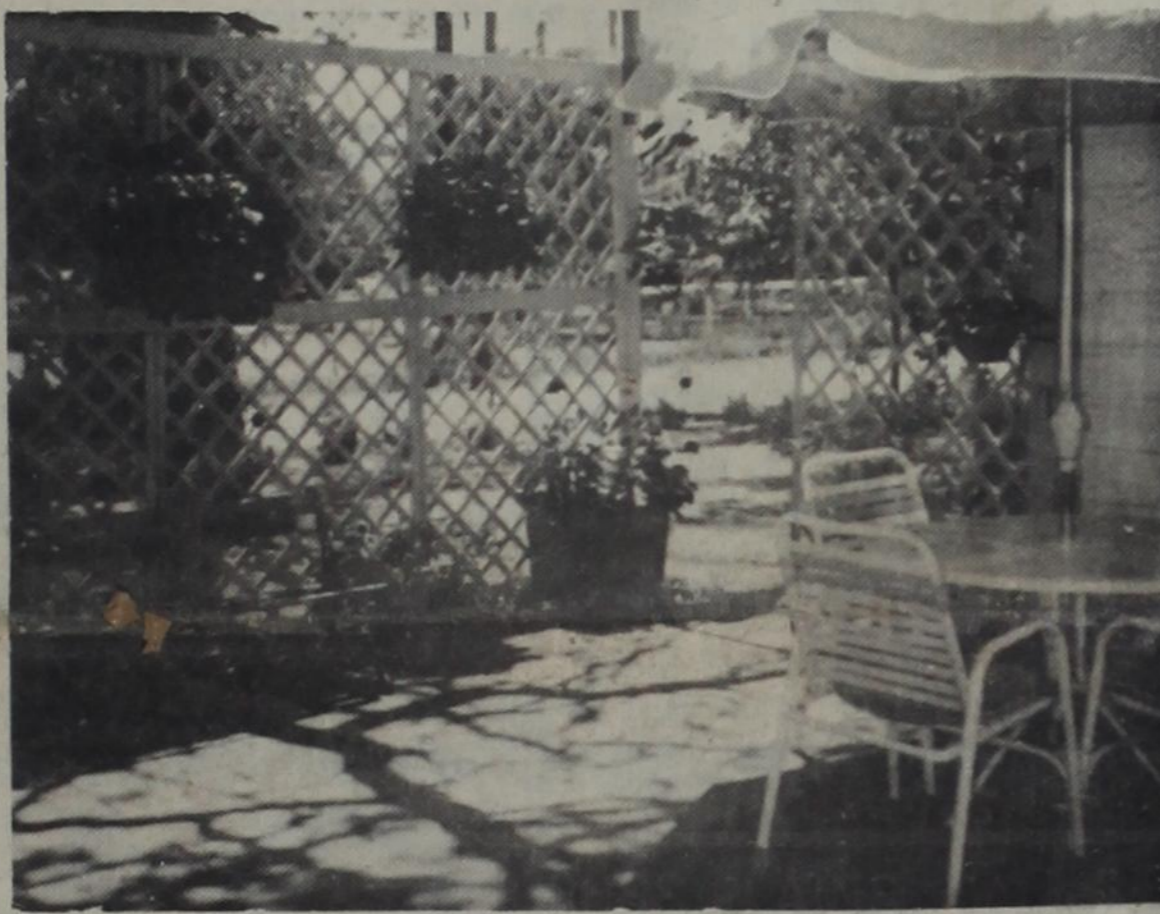

Watch for updates on the progress this group makes. I think you will be pleasantly surprised at the action people who are ready to pursue this project to the fullest.

Maybe these positive attitudes will be contagious and together the town will have a new, clean appearance. Join us and help the basic goals be reached as we demonstrate pride in our city.

ATTRACTIVE FRONT YARD — The home of Mr. and Mrs. Travis

Bailey is enhanced by the bird bath surrounded by colorful petunias.

COOL RELAXING SETTING — The patio is a cool place to spend time with your family at the Bailey home.

Yard Of The Week

By VANDA KING
Editor

The yard of Travis and Vondelle Bailey is being featured this week. The Baileys have a very comfortable home which is painted white with yellow trim, sitting among some large shade trees.

They have expanded their home on several occasions and have a roomy house in which they entertain their family and friends.

Their neatly mowed yard edged with golden leaved shrub and monkey grass is very attractive. A birdbath in the front is encircled with scalloped edging and filled with single and double petunias in reds, white, pinks, and purples. Most of the large trees in the yard consist of post oak, live oak, cottonwood, and fruitless mulberry.

As you walk along the south side of the house you see a flower bed displaying Shasta daisies, chrysanthemums, and monkey grass. At this point you can see the patio made of lattice panels and another birdbath with matching seat look very cool beneath the trees.

The patio area has a table with umbrella and chairs. The patio floor is made out of concrete squares which Vondelle laid to make a permanent surface. Beautiful hanging baskets of purple jew, green jew, fantasia, petunias and geraniums decorate the lattice walls. Half barrels and pots of red geraniums brighten the area. A park bench is nestled among the plants for additional sitting space. A miniature pine tree adds its elegance to the scene.

The flower beds on the open end of the patio exhibited pink periwinkles, yellow snapdragons, two types of coleus, white petunias, and yellow marigolds. Even the dinner bell is hanging on the patio wall. I asked if they used it to call the little ones to meals, and she said the kids were the main ones who rang it.

Cannas, plum trees, apricot and a peach tree are near the carport. A swing under the shade is a favorite place where the couple sit in the evenings to relax.

Travis and Vondelle are very family oriented and their yard is usually full of grandchildren on the weekends. An entire wall in their bedroom is devoted to pictures of their children and grandchildren. Vondelle remarked, "I started out hanging just a few photos and they just seemed to multiply. As you can see we love our grandchildren."

Inside house plants included a closet plant, ivy, corn plant, and pony tail. Most of these plants were on the back porch which had a sliding glass door, which allowed bountiful sunshine.

Vondelle collects ducks or geese and most of them decorate her blue country kitchen. Ducks are on cups, appliance covers, canisters, and just about everything.

I didn't have to travel very far to do the interview, since the Baileys are my neighbors. If you would like, drive by their lovely home located on Avenue A and 13th Street.

Cottonwood V.F.C. Sponsoring Hamburger Cookout

Saturday night, July 23, the Cottonwood Volunteer Fire Control Group is sponsoring a hamburger cookout as a fund-raiser for their organization.

Everyone is invited to come out and enjoy a hamburger, ice cream and drink (tea, lemonade or coffee) for $3. Serving will begin at 6 p.m.

'Watermelon Eat' A Big Success

Colonial Oaks Nursing Home had their annual "Watermelon Eat" on the east side of the building Friday evening. Residents who were able to sit outside in wheel chairs or on benches enjoyed a real treat.

Two separate dancing groups performed for the patients and their families while the watermelons were served.

The Kalico Kloggers consisting of Geneva and Woodrow Baxter of Coleman; Adelta Hoggins, Kala Franke, and Judy and Ira Cullins (instructors) all of Brownwood danced.

The Pecan Valley Square Dancers were Charles and Molly Sears, Ray and Linda Bollum, Bo, Grace and Crystal Blair, and Alvin Isom all of Brownwood; Ed and Ruby Hartman of Santa Anna; and Louis and Aleta Kimbrough of Rochelle. Louis Kimbrough served as caller.

After the Kalico Kloggers performed, they went into the audience and had children and some adults to join them as they taught a dance. Colonial Oaks residents loved this and Linda Edgington, program director, said they were still talking about the dancers.

WATERMELON TIME — Residents and visitors eagerly await the serving of watermelon at Colonial Oaks Nursing Home.

First Woman Deputy Constable In County Sworn In

On July 11, a little bit of history was made in the Callahan County Courthouse when Judge Mack Kniffen swore in the first woman Deputy Constable ever in Callahan County, Anita Buchanan of Putnam.

This historical event took place when Precinct 8 Constable Arnold Pruet, Putnam, asked for approval from the Commissioners Court to appoint Anita Buchanan as his Deputy Constable. With that approval, Anita is now Deputy Constable of Precinct 8, Putnam.

Anita holds an Associate Degree in Criminal Justice, has just completed 444 hours at the West Texas Council of Government's Law Enforcement Academy, and has been certified by the State. She is the first woman Deputy Constable in the history of Callahan County.

Being the first woman doesn't bother Anita, because she was the only woman in her graduating class of Criminal Justice.

Anita has lived in Putnam for the last 14 years with her husband, Blayne, and two children, Bo who is 12 years old and Joe who is 9.

This appointment will enable Anita to maintain her certification.

Anita will assist Constable Pruet in all his duties of office.

She is also a former graduate of Cross Plains High School. Her parents are Juanita Free of Cross Plains and the late Glenn Wooten.

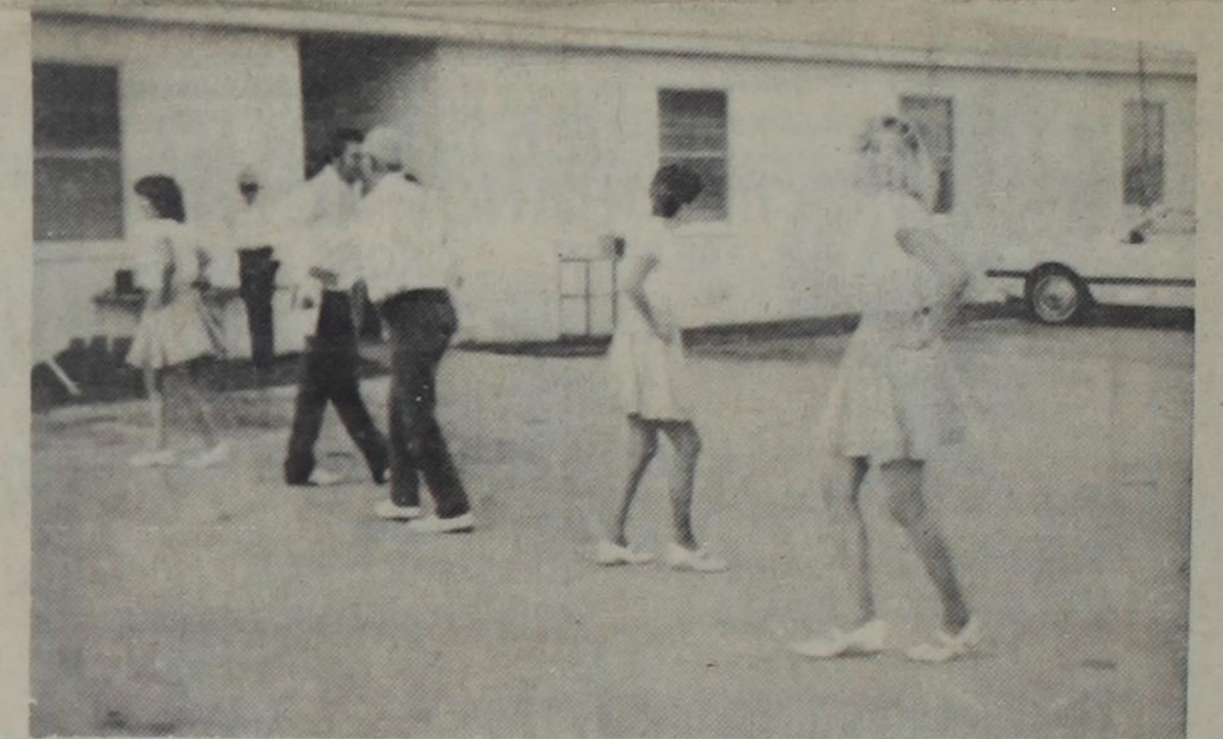

Cholesterol And Blood Pressure Clinic Slated

The Taylor County Chapter of the American Red Cross will have a cholesterol screening in conjunction with the blood pressure clinic on Tuesday, August 2, at the Cross Plains Multi-Purpose Center.

The clinic will open at 10 a.m. and remain through 3 p.m. A $5 donation will cover the expense of the cholesterol screening.

Volunteer medical personnel will handle the service.

Everyone is invited to come by and have their cholesterol checked for this minimal fee and the blood pressure check is free. The results could be very important to your health.

GREAT ENTERTAINMENT — Watermelon Eat at the nursing home. The Kalico Kloggers were a hit at the Local Lawman Attends Investigative And Forensic School In San Antonio

Wayne Knowles of the Callahan County Attorney Office in Baird was among some 22 persons attending an Investigative and Forensic school, presented at Alamo Area Law Enforcement Academy, The University of Texas at San Antonio, by the Therapeutic and Forensic Hypnosis Institute of Texas. The Institute has been training Law Enforcement personnel since 1977 in Investigative and Forensic Hypnosis in the Southwest.

The Institute's training staff includes, J. Michael Boulch, founder and director of the Institute, Donald W. Kolarik, Forensic Hypnotist of Longview, Texas and George R. Mount, Ph.D., Clinical Psychologist, Dallas, Texas.

Hypnosis, as an investigative and forensic tool, has been utilized by law enforcement in the United States on a constant basis since 1970. Hypnosis is used as a means of refreshing the memory in recalling facts, such as license plate numbers, descriptions of suspects and crime scenes, etc., which the conscious mind has blocked out.

The school has been endorsed by The Texas Association For Investigative Hypnosis, a non-profit organization, dedicated to world-wide advancement of using Hypnosis as a method of enhancing memory recall of victims or witnesses to an event or crime.

Signatures Needed On Letters To The Editor

Letters to the editor will be gladly printed in the Cross Plains Review, but it is the policy of the newspaper that someone must sign, as the responsible person.

If you have an opinion or notice that you feel the public needs to be aware of, it will be published if it is tastefully written and signed.

Area Teen Dance Set For July 23

An Area Teen Dance is set for Saturday, July 23, at the Corral Room at Cisco. Admission is $3 and the dance will last from 8 p.m. until midnight.

Jason Phillips will be the D.J. and music and fun for all is in store. Parents for teens rules will be in effect and chaperons will be present.

The Cisco Senior Class is sponsoring the event.

ROWDEN NEWS

By MRS. N.V. GIBBS

This community measured an inch of rain last Monday, which helps to keep everything green and growing, but the ground dries out so quickly. This writer was trying to hoe weeds and grass around the peach trees in already dried sand. The weeds were well-rooted and hard to hoe.

Last Sunday afternoon, children of Joyce and Sterling Odom, Ginny and Ralph Trevey and children, David, Scott and Jennifer of Snyder, Nancy and Charles Palmer and son, Michael of Clyde and Ivon Odom brought watermelons and all had a good time visiting and enjoyed the melons.

Tonya, Bill and Connie Steele, along with other children of the Cross Plains area, attended the Woodmen of the World annual camp at Lake Brownwood this week. The children were from the Abilene area, Clyde and Baird. During the week, they participated in swimming, archery, and other activities. The girls decorated T-shirts in painted designs of their choice. An awards banquet for children and parents was Thursday night at the camp site.

Brad Watson was home during the week from his studies at Texas Tech.

When Emma Johnson and Lizzie Burks were called for news, they reported receiving two telephone calls from a niece, Zena Lambert of Crosbyton and her brother, Archie Neff of New Mexico. They were inquiring about their family reunion, which is held each year in Cross Plains. Robert Burks of the Cross Plains rest home visited them one day.

James and Dorothy Reynolds were in Midland Saturday for their grandson, Colby's 2nd birthday celebration in the home of Jim and Cecia Reynolds. Grandsons, Chris and Colby, came home with their grandparents to attend Vacation Bible School at Cherry Heights Baptist Church in Clyde next week. Dorothy and the boys will be busy people.

Dorothy Reynolds was in Clyde one day during the week visiting Ken and Ann George.

Roland Mauldin was plowing fields on his dad's place Saturday, so Faye, his wife, brought lunch and shared it with Gene and Vernie Belle. Their company last Monday were friends, Robert and Joan Park of Baird. Vernie Belle was busy quilting.

Vacant houses, what do they tell one about their community? Rowden area has its share of empty houses. One that comes to mind is the Jerry McDonald house that became empty at his death several years ago. The family had an auction sale of household and implements, even to the old pickup he drove. The place was sold to Tommie Harris and sons, but the house remains vacant. McDonald children numbered 13 in this home.

On the now Homer Moon place two houses are vacant. H.R. Tabor and family moved into a small wooden house in 1923. A two room house was on the place and rooms were added to two sides making what was then known as shed rooms. In 1930 a new brick house was built facing the country road. In 1946 this place was sold to Homer Moon and wife and three children. This house was empty following the death of Harold Moon. Four Tabor girls grew up on this place.

The Olin English house has been vacant for a number of years. The family moved to Free Port. Three boys grew up in this house, and since their parents' death the boys returned to the house to be together.

The vacant house on the Ernest Franke place is in an unlivable state. It has been used for storing hay. The Franke family moved to Baird. Their one son, Forest Dale, took over management of the place until his death. It now is owned by Greg Franke, his son of Baird.

The question was asked in the beginning 'What do empty houses tell one about the community?' First, we learn that more families lived their lives on small farms. Everything that happened did so in the community. These houses were occupied by larger families. Neighbors did more visiting and all could make a living on less income. More empty houses will be sited next week.

PERSONALS

Out-of-town visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Watson since last Wednesday were Tom Cowan of Nacona; Rodney and Mildred Harlow of San Antonio; and Philex and Sylvia Watson of Abilene.

David and Brenda Schmelter and their two children of Odessa are visiting in the home of Mrs. T.O. Powell. Brenda is the daughter of Dempsey Eakin of Cross Plains, the grandson of the late Grace and Sam Eakin.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. M.F. Dill were Ivon Odom, Charles Strength, Jay Kirkham, Mr. and Mrs. Skeet Walker, Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Breeding, Blanche Moore, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Thompson all of the community. Their grandson, Tim Dill of Irving, came for a visit.

Brian Odom of Tuscola has returned home after visiting several days with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E.F. Odom.

School Board Meeting July 21

4-H Fashion Show Results

Thirteen Callahan County 4-H'ers participated in the 4-H Fashion Show last Friday night. Selecting material and constructing garments of their choice, these 4-H'ers were judged on poise and grooming, construction skills, and overall appearance. Each participant received a blue ribbon deemed by the judges as superior work.

Those participating were: From Baird — Marie Moore, Shannon Odom and Lee Ann Allen; from Clyde — Corissa Smith, Stephanie Daffron, Leianne Robertson and Melanie Waggoner; and from Cross Plains were Brittany and Dustin Hinyard, Lee Wayne and Jennifer Wheeler, and Chris and Andrea Hamer.

In addition to receiving participant ribbons, winners in age divisions and garment categories were selected. These winners were: Junior Daywear/Evening Wear — Stephanie Daffron and Melanie Waggoner; Junior Sportswear — Lee Wayne Wheeler and Brittany Hinyard; Intermediate Daywear/Evening Wear — Leianne Robertson and Jennifer Wheeler; and Intermediate Sportswear — Chris Hamer and Dustin Hinyard.

Cross Plains 4-H members who are eligible for District competition are Jennifer and Lee Wayne Wheeler; Dustin and Brittany Hinyard; and Chris Hamer. Andrea Hamer was named alternate.

Workshop On Public Purchasing Slated

In response to interest indicated by several regional cities, the West Central Texas Council of Governments has scheduled a Workshop on PUBLIC PURCHASING, COURT COSTS, and CASH MANAGEMENT for County and City Officials, to be held on Thursday, July 21.

The event will be conducted in the West Central Texas Council of Governments offices, 1025 East North 10th Street at Judge Ely Boulevard in Abilene. The session will begin at 10 a.m. and will conclude by 3:30 p.m. Lunch will be provided; there is no registration fee. The Workshop will be directed toward both officials and staff of local governments who have primary fiscal responsibilities in their respective areas.

The workshop will be presented by Mr. Jim Edwards, Administrator of Technical Programs for local governments in the office of the TEXAS COMPTROLLER OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS, the lead agency in Texas with expertise in all areas of local government finance.

During the morning, the Public Purchasing section will include information about internal control measures, centralized purchasing, and the laws governing purchasing. The Court Cost section will cover statutes regulating court costs, how they are administered, recent changes in the law, and the amount courts may keep from fees. Following lunch, the Cash Management discussion will focus on ways to save and generate money through timely deposits, how to aggregate money, and how to save on interest (for instance, in capital purchases).

The session will be geared to real-world, everyday local government finance, and will feature specific, tangible instruction and suggestions which will be of help to officials both in more effective management of public dollars and in compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

Officials are encouraged by WCTCOG to take advantage of what promises to be an excellent training opportunity and occasion to build relationships with other area officials. For registration information, contact Jim Compton at WCTCOG, (915) 672-8544.

BURKETT NEWS

By LOVERA STRICKLAND

The Burkett Community received nice rains Sunday and Monday. We recorded about 1.70 inches.

Lucille Payne stopped and visited with Jo Davee this past week. She is the president of the Cross Plains Garden Club. Also Lydia and Branford Eubank visited her.

Nannie Watson visited Jo Davee, Eula Hunter, and Alice Edington, and Dalton and Lucille Gould last Friday.

Dennis and Marc Jennings of New Orleans, Louisiana spent the weekend with Montie Jennings. Glenda and Brent Hutchins visited Montie Thursday.

M/Sgt. Frank Green, his wife, Ladell, and daughter, Kelli, visited Grace Green last week. Frank is stationed at Lake Air Force Base in Glendale, Arizona.

Freeda Burkett spent Friday and Saturday in Millersview visiting her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Edgar.

THE PIONEER PATCHWORK

By IRMA MILLER

Lou Wilson went on a three-week vacation to Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, and Alabama. She saw her mother in Mississippi. She went to G. A. Camp; there were five girls from here. The Pioneer Baptist Church had a Singing Sunday night. Lately, there have been two candidates added to their church.

Rebecca Lipstraw went to Dallas Wednesday with Mark's teacher to see the doctor for recommendations to help Mark with his educational program. They spent the day. One thing that is not well-known is that autism is one of the pervasive development disorders. The intelligence may be otherwise normal, but certain parts of the mental development are affected. Attention deficit disorder is part of the autistic syndrome, but there are also other symptoms included in autism.

John and Irma Miller's visitors were Marie Pancake, Blanche Brooks, Andy Shepherd, Cole and Helen Tillotson, and Mandi and Howard Bailey. Their daughter, Becky, came over every day during this convalescence and cooked some very delicious meals, washed dishes, shopped, and Steve did very helpful work, too.

MRS. WESLEY MILAM

Lane-Milam Vows Held July 9

First Baptist Church of Sonora was the setting for the marriage of Marche Lane and Wesley Milam. The candlelight ceremony was held at 8 p.m. Saturday, July 9. Dr. H. Weldon McCormick of Lubbock, the bride's great-uncle officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lane of Sonora. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. L.E. Newton of Cross Cut. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Milam of Lubbock.

Piano music was provided by Mrs. James Wilson of Sonora. She played "O Perfect Love" as the mothers were seated. Trumpet soloist Mr. Mike Poloczek of Sonora played "Trumpet Voluntary" for the processional. "We Shall Behold Him" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung during the ceremony by Mr. Barry Hazel of Fort Worth. The recessional was Beethoven's "Ode to Joy." Mrs. James Dunn of Big Lake registered guests.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white tissue taffeta with a shirred bodice and modified leg-of-mutton sleeves, caught at the wrist with covered buttons. The slightly gathered skirt featured a bustle in the back accented by two large self-fabric bows and flowers. The bustled skirt extended slightly into a brief train.

The multi-layered, chapel-length veil of illusion accented with pearls was attached to a wreath of looped pearls and gathered at the back into a high pouf. In the center of a pearl flower on the side of the headpiece, the bride wore an antique cameo brooch which had belonged to her maternal great-grandmother. She carried a linen and lace handkerchief which belongs to her paternal grandmother, Mrs. A.E. Lane of Dublin.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of red rosebuds and English ivy.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Dennis Shumard of Eastland, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Mac Parsons of Lubbock, the groom's sister; Miss Kathryn Parker of Waco; Miss Jennifer Spencer of San Angelo; and Miss Kim Locke of Lubbock. They wore waltz-length dresses of cobalt blue chintz that buttoned in the back with covered buttons. The semi-fitted, low-waisted bodice was trimmed at the sleeves, scoop neckline, and waist with tiny self-cording. Bridesmaids bouquets were smaller versions of the bride's.

The groom wore a silver tuxedo with tails and a pleated white shirt. His boutonniere matched the bride's bouquet.

Dick Milam of Lubbock, father of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Derek Milam of Lubbock, brother of the groom; Ken Davis of Lubbock; Todd Mayfield of Corsicana; and Steve Kennedy of Dallas.

Ushers were Mac Parsons of Lubbock, brother-in-law of the groom; Dennis Shumard of Eastland, brother-in-law of the bride; and Tom McMillian of Lubbock. Groomsmen and ushers wore black tuxedos with pleated white shirts.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. The front sidewalk was lined with luminarios, and white lights were scattered among the oak trees in the back yard.

The guest registry was in the living room, and the bride's table was in the dining room. It was covered with a crocheted white table cloth skirted with eyelet, and was decorated with greenery. The four-tiered bride's cake, the focal point of the bride's table, was decorated with fresh roses.

Guests passed through French doors to the back porch where the groom's table was located. It was covered with a crocheted white table cloth over cobalt blue, and was decorated with greenery and held a silver samovar as well as the groom's chocolate cake, topped with fresh strawberries. A buffet table with a variety of foods was set up in the back yard.

Serving in the house party were Mrs. Jesso Cook of Sonora, Mrs. Todd Mayfield of Corsicana, Janet Hull of Big Spring, Mrs. Gary Don Harkey of College Station, Elizabeth Garner of Abilene, Andrea Stidham of Austin, Mrs. Roddy Brooks of Waco, Mrs. Tony Hooper of Odessa, Mrs. Albert Folsom of Eastland, Mrs. Kenneth Augustine of Water Valley, Mrs. Tommy McMillian of Lubbock, and Melissa Mayfield of Dallas. Lauren Newton of Lubbock passed out rice bags.

The couple left the reception in a shower of bluebonnet seeds tossed by the guests. After a wedding trip to San Diego and Palm Springs, they will live in Lubbock where he is employed by Mid-Plains Pipeline and she is a teacher at Ropes High School in Ropesville.

The rehearsal dinner, hosted by the groom's parents, was held at the Sutton County Steak House July 8, following the wedding rehearsal.

"Now you can pay the same amount every month of the year for your electric bill!"

It's easy with WTU's Equal Payment Plan.

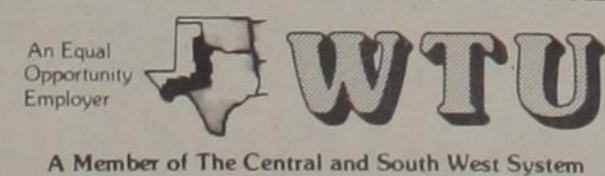

Electric bills peak in the Summer and Winter when demand is up and are lower in the Spring and Fall. With the Equal Payment Plan, you can level out your electric bill because the monthly payments are averaged and adjusted over a year.

Any WTU residential customer or church with approved credit and a monthly bill of $15.00 or more can qualify.
