Project Pride To Provide Rides To Voting Polls

Project Pride met in regular session on Thursday, April 13, at the Cross Plains Public Library.

Completing the mural on the side of Kelley's building was a topic of discussion. This project will most certainly be finished, but the details are still being decided.

Project Pride will have a booth at the Kiwanis Auction and Sorority Arts and Crafts Festival set for April 22. Handmade items will be available at the booth. An added attraction will be a "real live" clown for the entertainment of the children. Also, a face painting booth will be featured for the cost of $1 each child.

Members of Project Pride will offer transportation to and from the polls on election day, May 6, between the hours of 9 a.m. and noon. If you wish to vote and need a ride, please call 725-7712 to sign up. Project Pride, "A Caring Community," will gladly provide transportation.

Who Is Eligible To Vote?

With City Council and School Board Trustee elections coming up on May 6, there may be some confusion as to who may vote in the elections.

The requirements for voting for a councilman are to be a registered voter and reside within the city limits of Cross Plains. These eligibility qualifications were obtained from personnel at the City Hall.

Wauneta Estes, Tax Assessor and Collector at Baird, provided the eligibility requirements for the school board election, which include:

- (1) Must be 18 years or older.
- (2) Must be a citizen of the United States.
- (3) Must not have been determined mentally incompetent by a final judgment of a court.
- (4) Must not have been finally convicted of a felony or, if so convicted, has received a certificate of discharge by the Board of Pardons and Paroles or completed a period of probation ordered by a court and at least two years have elapsed from the date of the receipt or completion or have been pardoned or otherwise released from the resulting disability to vote.
- (5) Must be a resident of the state of Texas.

Additional Girl Scout Troops Planned

In the midst of all the unbelievable "busyness" of spring time in Cross Plains, the Girl Scouts are looking ahead to troop organization for next fall.

Working schedules of women have made it necessary to explore additional troops and different meeting times. Arlene Stephenson, Service Unit Chairman, feels that "there are a number of girls who would like to join Girl Scouts, but at this time our schedules just do not match theirs. Women who might be willing to help may be falling through the same crack."

At this time, the Scouts are considering an additional Junior Troop as well as another Brownie Troop for next year. It is planned that both troops will meet at school as soon as their respective classes dismiss.

A meeting of parents of all kindergartens and 3rd, 4th, and 5th grade girls is scheduled for Tuesday, April 25, 7 p.m. at the Public Library. If you are interested in some aspect of the program but cannot attend the meeting, please call Arlene at 725-6879.

Al-Anon Group Forms Locally

The support sessions are organized to help you understand the disease and know the correct ways to react. Even if the person you are concerned about is not attending Alcoholics Anonymous, etc., your participation in Al-Anon will be beneficial.

Recollections Of Early C.P. Picnics

By JACK SCOTT

In the long and colorful history of this area few events ever commanded more attention than did the annual Cross Plains Picnics of bygone eras. They were held regularly from the early 1880's until the advent of World War II.

As a country editor attending and writing about this yearly celebration for much of a lifetime, many newsworthy occurrences are remembered or recorded in the yellowed, old files of the Review. There is the story of a "mystery couple" being married on the grounds during the depression days of the 1930's; there's an account of a baseball game in which Jeff Clark hit a homerun into a boxcar and the ball not being found until the following day, when the train pulled into De Leon. Local people claim it to be the longest homerun ever hit, feats of Babe Ruth and Mickey Mantle notwithstanding.

Andy Hudson, an early-settler in these parts, who incidentally was reputed to have attended the first rodeo ever staged in America at Pecos City back before the word rodeo came into use — they were called Wild West Shows then — recounted a happening at the 1903 picnic. He and Bill McDonald left the grounds and stroll-

'Taylor-Made Band' On The Move

The local high school band, under the direction of Randy Taylor, caps a highly successful year by leaving tomorrow to March in the Fiesta Flambeau Rey Feo Parade in San Antonio Saturday night. Yesterday, the band competed in the U.I.L. Concert and Sight Reading contests in Abilene. Full results of this competition will be published next week.

The Fiesta Flambeau Parade is billed as "America's Greatest Illuminated Night Parade," and is just one of a series of parades held in conjunction with the Fiesta San Antonio. The Fiesta celebrates the establishment of the Texas Republic in 1836. Winding through downtown San Antonio, past the viewing stand in front of the Alamo, the parade will be viewed by over 400,000 street spectators. It will also be telecast, but will probably have to be picked up locally by satellite.

Traveling to San Antonio in chartered buses, the band will go by way of Austin and will tour the state capital on Thursday. After an early departure Friday morning, the 41 band members and ten adult sponsors will spend a day and half sight-seeing and shopping in San Antonio.

Senior members will enjoy a special night out with dinner in the Hemisphere Tower on Friday night.

Although the parade starts promptly at 8 p.m. Saturday, Mr. Taylor has no idea when the local group will March. The parade is several hours long and if the band doesn't move out until 11 p.m. or so, they won't be home until the wee small hours of Sunday morning.

Mr. Taylor feels that trips such as this are vital to the building of a strong band program. The students are not only exposed to Texas history and other cultures, they improve social graces by dining in nice restaurants and by staying in nice motels. A lot of team-work goes into any trip as the members take responsibility for their own gear as well as helping with band equipment. As the group travels and works together, they grow in their respect for each other and in their desire to remain in band throughout high school.

Mr. Taylor, in a letter to band parents prior to this trip, expressed his thanks "to the many fine people associated with the school for supporting the band this year. The school board, the administration, and the people of Cross Plains have all done their part in helping the band grow both in size and in quality, and for this, I'm grateful."

Girl Scout Leader Appreciation Day

BROWNWOOD — Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council and Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. have declared April 22 as Girl Scout Leaders' Day.

This day has been set aside so girls, their families and communities can express their appreciation to these volunteers for helping girls grow through Girl Scouting. Many women in our community put countless hours and untold energy into positive activities to prepare the girls to meet the challenges of tomorrow.

Cross Plains has 45 girls involved in Girl Scouting in 4 troops. It takes many people to make this happen. The following women are involved in leading troops in camping, craft, outdoor awareness, service, and many other projects throughout the year.

Arlene Stephenson, Charlotte Biggs, Troop 214; Netha Carouth, Teresa Koenig, Troop 215; Frances Whitely, Lynette Gomillion, Troop 216; and Sheri Bennett, Annette Nickerson, Troop 213, plus many other adults and parents whose support of these programs is vital.

'Green Beans' Tour School

Twenty-one pre-school boys and girls got their first taste of school last Wednesday morning. Betty Greenwood's and Kathy Chesshir's kindergarten-bound "Green Beans" from the LAP group ("Learn About,"...Program) at the Cross Plains Public Library visited the kindergarten classes of Paula Winfrey and Linda Edington, the playground, and the lunchroom. Mr. Womack arranged the tour, with Charlou Cowan as guide. On the lunchroom stop, the children enjoyed cartons of milk as they sat at the lunchroom tables, a special day for them.

The most exciting part of the tour was the ride back to the library in the school bus, driven by Mr. Womack himself. What a great beginning for a thirteen-year career!

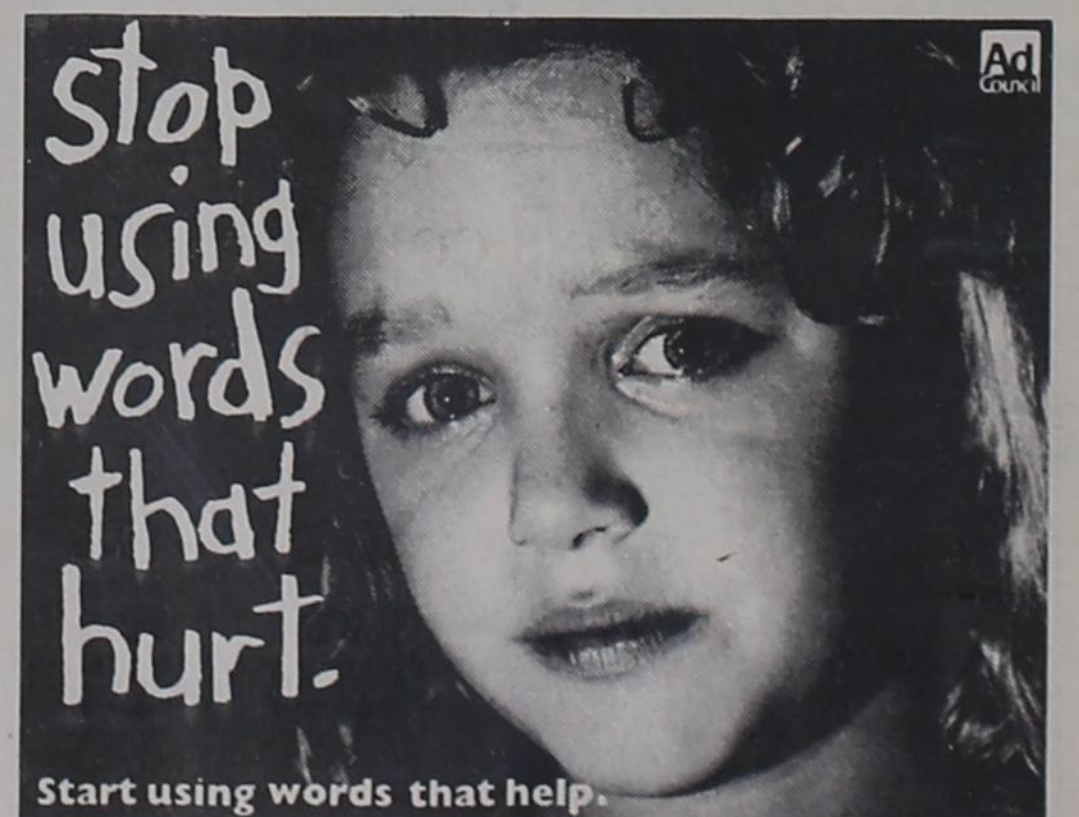

The Staff of LAP say "thank you" to all who made the trip possible.

Farm And Ranch Business Management For Women Landowners

Four special seminars for women who own farm and ranch land have been planned by Texas Agricultural Extension Service. These seminars will be held at:

El Paso May 2-4, 1989
Abilene May 9-11, 1989
College Station May 16-18, 1989
Dallas May 23-25, 1989

"In Texas over 75 percent of all land is owned by women. These women acquired this land in three major ways," indicates Wayne Hayenga, the Extension Economist and Attorney who will conduct the seminars. Much of the land owned and controlled by women was received by inheritance, either from their parents or a husband. However, there are numerous women who purchased land themselves or with a spouse as an investment. Other women are sole owners because they were previously married to a farmer and received the land in a divorce proceeding.

The seminars will start off with the in-depth look at the mineral estate.

In the afternoon of the first day the seminar will look at surface leasing of farm and ranch land.

The second day will introduce basic income tax planning and give ideas to women landowners on how to structure their farm and ranch operation to save income taxes. Frequently, operating the farm and ranch business as a corporation or partnership can direct the income where the woman owner wants it to go, and, thus, can save income, gift, and estate taxes. Buying, selling and trading land will also be discussed the second morning.

The new rules for tax-free exchanges will be discussed, as well as the rules on the recent rule changes on interest rates required for family transactions. Estate planning, both to save estate taxes and to make estate administration easier for loved ones are always of great concern to all.

For registration information contact your Texas County Extension Agent or Wayne Hayenga, Agricultural Economics Department, Texas A&M University, College Station, TX. 77843-2124, Phone: (409) 845-2226.

MINUTE MUSINGS

By ESTHLOY S. DICKSON

These March winds in mid-April are typical — happens every year! The rains were wonderful last week — I hope we have more rains soon.

I called my daughter, Joanie, and Bob last week — I guess I was a bit lonesome. I called my best friend in Abilene one evening. She has just recently returned to Abilene from Florida. She spent quite some time with her only child (son) and his family. She did most of the talking (when I called), and she apologized. I was glad she was able to get a lot of things "off her chest". She needed to talk to someone who would understand — bless her heart!

I had just seen those horrible forest fires in Florida (on TV). She said they were burning while she was there — that one just can't imagine the vastness of those fires.

Visitors in the Cole Tillotson home on Thursday of last week were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Howard of Costa Mesa, California. They were enroute to Dallas to visit a grandson, and then to other cities on the Gulf Coast. Cole and Mr. Howard were high school classmates in Elkhart, Iowa, in the Class of 1930. (That's the year I graduated from college — now, you know my age).

Rex and Tony Beggs were visiting J.T. and Betty on Monday morning — checking on the cows and calves (which are doing well). Mr. and Mrs. William Beggs of Austin visited them on Friday and Saturday. Betty attended the W.M.U. meeting at First Baptist Church on Tuesday of last week.

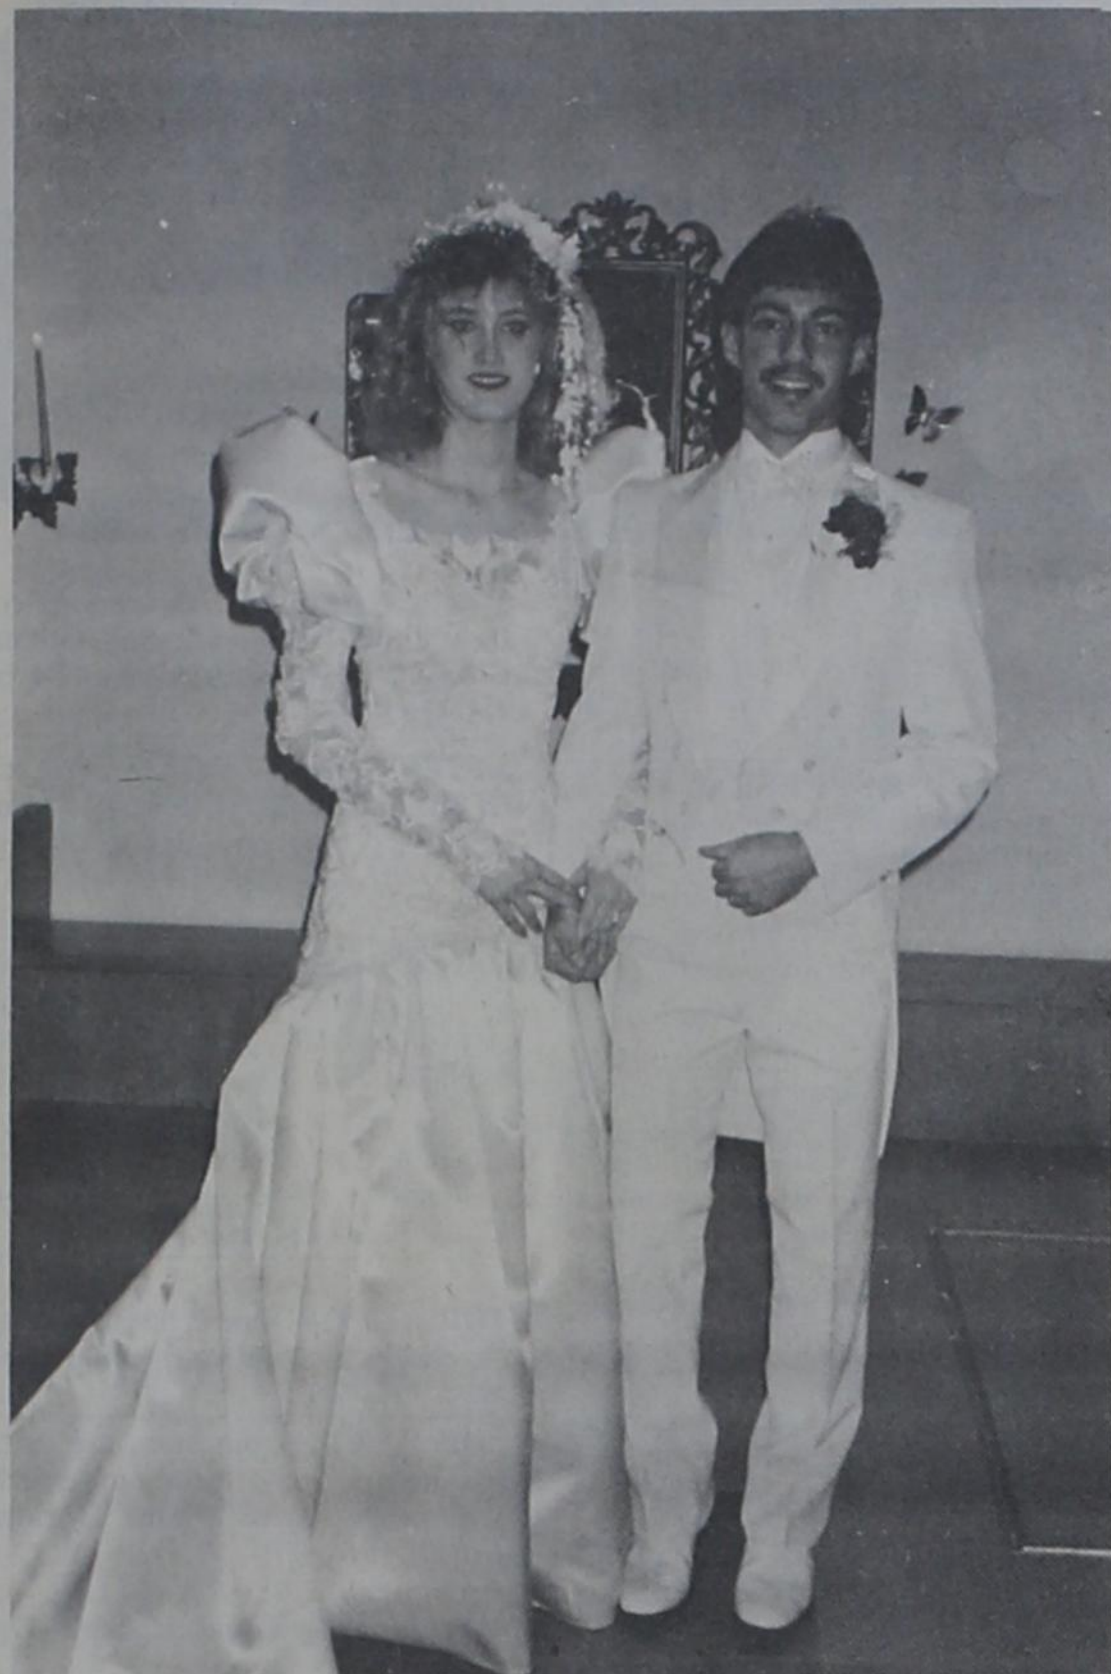

Jewel Foster didn't answer her telephone this Monday morning. She was in Sunday School and Church on Sunday.

Sally Roady is still in her wheel chair with her broken ankle. The doctor changed the cast one day last week. He states she will have that cast at least eight more weeks. On Friday, Billie Freeman, Sue McNeil, and Ms. Nettie visited her. Mr. Mack Childers visited them on Wednesday. Cindy and Charlie visit her often.

My good friend, Lorena Settle, used to tease me because I always check the mileage on my car every time I get in it — she almost never checked her mileage. On Wednesday of last week, my mileage turned to 88,888.8 miles.

My granddaughter, Lisa Dawn, called me Saturday — she was at her great-grandmother's, Lucille Callaway, downtown. Her grandmother, Doris Ann, had brought her from Longview for a brief business trip. I drove downtown — enjoyed a brief visit with them. Lisa Dawn has grown so much — she's nearly as tall as I am. They returned to Longview early on Sunday.

There is a strange new plant growing on the west side of my driveway. Looks like some "evil hand" sowed that stuff out there — I dug several plants out of my front yard — it is different from any plant I've ever seen before.

MR. AND MRS. TIMOTHY SEGARS

Reeves-Segars Wedding Held March 4

Lynn Reeves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Reeves, and Timothy Segars, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Segars of Burleson, were united in marriage on March 4. The nuptial ceremony was performed at the Pioneer Revival Center in Cross Plains. Chris Reeves, mother of the bride, made the bridal gown and others.

The bride is the granddaughter of Irma Reeves of Cross Plains and Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Germany of Bangs. The couple is residing at Arlington.

ever to fill the post. She served more than five years.

Thirty-nine years ago some of the oldest residents of this area were interviewed and their remembrances of early-day picnics were recorded. Highlights of what they said follow:

Mrs. J.G. (Jack) Aiken: "First picnic I ever attended was in 1883. Jack and I left our children with Grannies Aiken and Teague and came to the celebration. Jack entered tournament-riding and won first place. John Westerman was one of the judges and it was that day that I met his wife, who is now my neighbor. My husband and I spread our dinner with Bob Teague and his wife and several other couples."

Pete Moore: "First local picnic I recall was in 1884. It was in a bend of the creek, just north of the highway bridge. I had been at the picnic and started home when I saw the McDaniel house was afire. I rushed back to the grounds and spread the alarm. Everyone left and came to fight the blaze. Our efforts were much in vain, though, for all that was saved was a sewing machine."

Mrs. J.C. McDermott: "I well remember the picnic of 1883. We spread dinner and among the people who ate near us were members of the Coffman family, the Barrs, Will and Sam Sparks and others. It was at this picnic that I met Mrs. Alice Young, who was to be my neighbor for more than 50 years. A friend was buying her a glass of lemonade, served from a huge barrel. They didn't have much of a program at those early-day picnics. The people didn't require it, they came mainly to see one another and enjoy old-fashioned visiting. There was some fiddle music, though, with Bob Ford playing much of the time."

Drew I. Hill: "I've attended most all of the Cross Plains Picnics and about the strangest thing I recall happened in 1894. A fellow brought in a load of baled oats and began selling them at 50 cents each. Of course, that was much too high but the bundles sold like hotcakes. The reason was that inside of each bundle was hidden a pint of corn liquor."

Mrs. B.F. Peavy: "I came to Cross Plains with my father on a prospecting trip in 1882 and we happened to arrive on the day of the picnic. We went to the grounds and he spent the day talking with men to learn of the country and things he needed to know. I've been to nearly all the picnics since that time and the one that stands out most in my mind was in 1925. My husband had gone blind and the committee gave him permission to sell tobacco and confections on the grounds. We worked real hard and when we counted up that night we found that we'd made $65. That seemed like an awful lot of money."

Ask any old-timer what he or she remembers of a Cross Plains Picnic in the long ago and the chances are you will see a countenance brightened by a devilish smile and you'll be in for a few minutes of interesting listening.

Rollins Named District Conservationist

Clinton W. Rollins has been appointed as the new District Conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service at Baird, Area Conservationist Gary A. Batte of Stephenville announced this week.

Rollins is a native of Hollis, Oklahoma. He began his SCS career at Weatherford, Texas as a student trainee in 1981. After graduation from Tarleton State University in 1983, Rollins was assigned to the Abilene Field Office as SCS Range Conservationist.

Rollins and his wife Pat, have three children, Christie, 7; Curtis, 8; and Artie, 10. The family is now residing near Merkel and will move to the Baird area in the near future.

According to Batte, Rollins' transfer
