HOME TOWN GOSSIP

Cross Plains is as void of marble machines today as are $14. shoes in Ethiopia. The mechanical gaming contraptions were ousted Tuesday night and boys who have heretofore found enjoyment in playing them must search elsewhere for entertainment.

To those who wonder why the modern girl takes little interest in the home, the following paragraph for which we are indebted to W. T. (Tanlar) Strange, Jr., should be self explanatory.

"She is born in a hospital, educated in a finishing school, courted in a coupe, married in a hotel, honeymooned on a Pullman, divorced in court, and buried from a chapel—the poor girl never gets home."

If the Albany high school football team is to be stopped short of a district championship, it must be done Friday night by Coach Claude Daniel's thundering herd.

All available dope favors the Shackelford county athletes but such was the case a year ago when the thundering herd romped off with a 13 to seven victory over the highly touted Albany team.

As much as we resent the publication of poetry the following lines are printed hereunder, to show that this department appreciates fun even when it is poked at either this newspaper or this contributor.

EVERY DOG HAS HIS DAY
Away out here at Rough Creek Ranch,
Among the wolves and rocks,
We still depend, for our news,
On the old mail box.
Each week there comes a paper,
And to our surprise,
It is almost as good as the Clyde Enterprise.
As for County news or places
From afar,
It runs a close second to the Old Baird Star.
We appreciate the local news,
Of folks we knew,
When we used to read the home paper,
The Cross Plains Review.
It is all very interesting,
And easily understood.
I especially like to hear from Folks at Cottonwood.
Then there's the 'Marriage Column,'
That predicts them to a minute,
But from a business stand-point,
Is there any money in it?
There is only one objection,
We think it very strange,
The comic picture is on page one and never makes a change.
The lad looks funny
We'll admit,
But the same old thing won't
Make a HIT!
Eva Cutbirth McNeil.

Maybe you've noticed Orba Booth and Miss Rexine Shields keeping company of late.

Agnes White, who has claimed the local tailor's attention for quite a spell, must now receive her romance through the mail. With Virgil Graves pouring out his literary efforts daily, however, she will probably be kept occupied.

Socrates Walker, who is attending Daniel Baker College in Brownwood, spent the past week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Walker.

Miss Rosalea Cutbirth, Helen Gray, Mrs. Edwin Baum, and Mrs. Mack Scott were Abilene visitors Tuesday.

Aley Clark thoroughly resents being called "Arbuckle" by anyone except Babe Wood.

Grand Jury For October Session Named

SHERIFF'S OFFICE ANNOUNCES LIST OF GRAND JURORS

The list of persons selected by the jury commission to serve on the grand jury for the October term of forty second district court, was announced from the office of Sheriff Robert L. Edwards Wednesday.

Those chosen by the jury commission are as follow: Roy Armour, Oplin; Jim Barr, Cross Plains; W. P. (Nick) Brightwell, Baird; H. C. Cotton, Clyde; W. A. Everett, Putnam; N. M. George, Baird; R. S. Johnston, Clyde route two; M. E. Joly, Clyde route one; Fred Hollingshead, Baird; S. G. Jones, Cisco route four; W. E. Jones, Rowden; Homer Kennard, Clyde; W. R. Thompson, Cottonwood; H. R. Taber, Rowden; Edmond Webb, Baird route one; T. A. White, Baird.

List of petit jurors for the first week of court will be published next week in the Review.

MRS. SARAH A. FITE DIES AT PIONEER; SERVICE AT MORAN

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Anna Fite, 87, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Belle Steele at Pioneer Monday, were conducted from the Methodist church at Moran, Wednesday afternoon. Rev. B. L. McCord Pioneer minister and the Methodist pastor at Moran officiated.

Mrs. Fite had been ill for some time. Attending physicians stated that death resulted from pneumonia.

Besides Mrs. Steele, the daughter with whom she lived, Mrs. Fite is survived by a daughter whose residence is at Haskell and a son of Tullia.

Funeral arrangements were handled by Higginbothams, Cross Plains.

MUSIC RECITAL TUESDAY EVENING AT AUDITORIUM

Pupils of Mrs. M. G. Underwood and Mrs. R. S. Gaines will be presented in recital at the high school auditorium, Tuesday night. There will be no admission charge and the entire public is cordially invited to attend, the Review was told.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe McAdams were business visitors in Brownwood Monday.

Miss Bobbie Lee Westerman of Brownwood was a visitor here over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Bryant left Monday for a visit in Oklahoma.

Paul Harrell was a visitor in Abilene Thursday.

Bill Koonce of Rising Star was in Cross Plains several days this week.

Stanley Clark made a business trip to Brownwood Thursday.

Marble Machines Seized And $14 Fines Lodged Against Seven Persons In Justice Court Here

Marble machines that pay off in cash were seized Tuesday night by City Marshal J. M. McMillan and fines lodged in justice court against five local business men and outside operators.

The fines which were set at $14.00 each were assessed against C. W. Kemper, J. P. Smith, Benton Jones, M. F. Ray, and Clyde Sims, local store owners; and Raymond Renfro and R. E. Waters, marble machine owners.

Renfro, who owned the machines at Smith Drug Store, City Drug Store, and Ray's Cafe, paid $56 for Smith, Jones and Ray, as well as himself. C. W. Kemper paid $14. for himself. According to records in the office of justice of Peace

Drew Hill Thursday morning the remaining two fines are unpaid, awaiting the arrival here of Waters, who owned the machine taken from Sims Drug Company.

Warrants granting permission to search and seize the machines were served on the local business men Tuesday night by officer McMillan. The machines were stored in the city jail temporarily but are reported to have been moved since. Marble machine operators had previously secured an injunction in district court restraining county officials from removing the machines. The order, however, is reported to have had no mandate over local officers.

There were in Cross Plains Thursday morning no machines which paid off in cash.

FUNERAL RITES FOR FRANK GOLSON HELD SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Frank Golson, 51, prominent Coleman county farmer and resident of Burkett for more than half a century, succumbed of a kidney ailment at a Santa Anna hospital Saturday. Funeral services were held from the Burkett Union Tabernacle Sunday afternoon, with Rev. W. S. Fisher, of Cross Plains, officiating. He was assisted by Rev. J. A. Siceloff, Coleman minister. Interment was made in the Burkett cemetery with the Burkett I.O.O.F. lodge in charge.

Mr. Golson was taken to the hospital Thursday and his condition was immediately pronounced acute. A Galveston specialist was summoned. The specialist and attending physicians stated that Mr. Golson lived longer with the kidney complication than any other case on record. "He made a gallant futile fight", a close friend said to the Review. Growing steadily weaker, Mr. Golson expired at six o'clock Saturday morning.

Mr. Golson was at the time of his death superintendent of the Sunday School and steward in the Burkett Methodist church, which position he had held for 30 years. He was also at the time of his death a member of the Coleman county school board and had served continuously 17 years. He formerly served 13 years on the local school board at Burkett. His paternal affiliations included memberships in the I.O.O.F., Woodmen of the World and Modern Woodmen lodges.

Survivors are: the widow, four sons, J. W., of Burkett; C. A., Arp; P. L. and L. R., Coleman and five daughters, Mrs. Della Baucom, Coleman; Mrs. Grace Brown and Misses Cleo, Ann and Sealy Jean, all of Burkett.

Mr. Golson was also a brother of Wade Golson, former state representative from Coleman and Brown counties.

Many Cross Plains people were in the cortege of friends that gathered to pay final respects to the deceased. Old timers said the crowd was one of the largest ever to attend a funeral at Burkett.

HOMER SHANKS NAMED TO FEDERAL POSITION

Federal Housing Administration of Washington announces the appointment of W. Homer Shanks as Fee Valuator or Appraiser for Taylor, Jones, Nolan, Callahan, Fisher and Shackelford Counties.

Mr. Shanks has had more than 20 years experience in loans, banking, insurance and real estate and has maintained an office in Abilene since 1928.

Mr. and Mrs. Ressie Browning and daughter of Brownwood, visited Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Baum Sunday.

Lotief Gives Constitutents Views On Three Important Measures

By Cecil A. Lotief State Representative

I have been intending to write my constituents but have been so busy dealing with the three most important subjects that have ever faced the House that I have not had time to write.

The three subjects I refer to are liquor, county officials' salaries and the old age pension.

We have been on the liquor bill for nearly 18 days, and we finally agreed on one and that is to legalize liquor to be sold in packages only. I voted for such bill in order to reach a compromise between the radicals on both sides, wet and dry. Under the new proposed law, any person will have the right to purchase liquor in wet counties in unbroken packages but he cannot consume said liquor on the premises where sold. I think this is the best solution that we could reach for the simple reason that the wet representatives who represent Southwest Counties want liquor sold by the drink on the premises, and the representatives from East and West Texas want it sold only by package. However, this bill is now before the Senate, and I do not know what the free conference committee will agree upon.

Now as to the old age pension, this bill will come before the House one day this week, and I do not know what the result will be because the House is divided among itself. Some of the members want to pay every person over 65 years of age and some of them want to pay only the poor and needy, so I am not in a position to inform the readers as to the outcome. Of course, it will require lots of money and the Legislature must raise the revenue with which to pay this old age pension. However, the members of the Third House, known as the lobbyists, are already here working day and night to defeat any new tax proposals in order to save themselves from paying any extra tax by which to pay the old age pension. I have been informed that there are lobbyists representing special interests serving hot tamales and beer and other good beverages, T-bone steaks, etc., to their friends in the Legislature of this State. However, so far as I am concerned I was more than willing to work day and night to comply with the Governor's request and get through with these bills and go home.

Now as to the County Salaries Bill, the county officers from all over Texas are pretty well represented, and they naturally want all the money they can get. They are playing on the sympathy of the

NEWS RECEIVED HERE OF LUBBOCK WEDDING

News of the following marriage, of interest to people here, was received by the Review this week from Lubbock.

Miss Wilma Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jones of Tahoka, and J. Lambert Sossaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sossaman of Lubbock were married at noon Saturday by Rev. R. W. Matthews of the Methodist Church at his home in Wilson. The ring ceremony was used.

The bride wore a navy blue suit of travel crepe with matching accessories.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for an extended trip through Mexico. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Sossaman will be at home in Hurlwood.

Misses Clara Nell McDermett and Elizabeth McAdams, who are attending John Tarleton College at Stephenville visited their parents over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Underwood and son Billie will attend the T.C.U. and A&M football game in Fort Worth Saturday.

Mrs. Joe McAdams left Tuesday for Dallas where she will undergo a gaiter operation.

AIR WHEAT PROGRAM AT DRESSY MONDAY

Fred Stacy, committeeman from this district, announces that a wheat meeting has been called and will be held at the Dressy school building Monday night—October 21—to discuss the new wheat program. County Agent Ross B. Jenkins will be in attendance to explain details of the program.

"This meeting should be attended by all growers of wheat, whether a signer or not for 1933-1935," Mr. Jenkins said the Review in commenting upon the meeting.

BRINSON, MONSEY ARE UNITED IN MARRIAGE

J. R. Brinson of Rising Star and Miss Gerry Monsey of this place were united in marriage by the Justice of the Peace, Drew Hill, at his home Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Brinson will make their home at Paint Rock.

Mrs. Brinson is the daughter of Sam Monsey of this place. She formerly attended high school here.

Mrs. W. J. Gray and daughters, Helen and Verda Marie, visited relatives in Clyde the first of the week.

Raymond Renfro of Coleman was a business visitor in Cross Plains Tuesday.

LOCAL WOMAN WEDS HAMLIN MAN HERE SATURDAY EVENING

Mrs. Myrtle Patterson, of Cross Plains, and Billy Gray, formerly of this place but whose present residence is at Hamlin, were married here Saturday night. The single ring ceremony was solemnized by Rev. S. P. Collins at the Presbyterian manse, in the South part of town. Only a few close friends were in attendance.

A wedding dinner honoring the bridal couple was given by Mrs. Billy Usrey at her home Sunday at noon. Later in the day a group of friends accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Gray as far as Putnam—via Cisco—on their route to Hamlin, where he is employed by an oil company. News of the marriage did not come as a complete surprise to friends of the couple here.

LOCAL DEALER HAS '36 MODEL PLYMOUTH

The new 1936 Plymouth is now on display in the show rooms of Calhoun Motor Company here. The new model was received late Wednesday night.

Price of the car was not announced by E. A. Calhoun, local dealer, Thursday morning. He did, however, extend a general invitation to the entire motoring public to visit his place and see the '36 Plymouth on display.

McAdams Motor Company has received already a 1936 model Ford. The car is a commercial make, however, showings of the passenger models will be on display soon.

Anderson Chevrolet Company announces through the advertising columns of today's Review the first showing of '36 model Chevrolets to be held in their show rooms November second.

F. R. ANDERSON MOVE TO ANOTHER PART OF TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Anderson and family have moved from their residence in the Southwest part of town to the Mrs. Tom Anderson place, one block North and one block East of the post office.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Medford have as their guest this week Mr. Medford's mother, Mrs. Cash Snoddy of Hico.

Mrs. Floyd Halbert of Abilene spent the week end here visiting her mother, Mrs. Walter Westerman.

Mrs. Ben Welch, of Eastland, visited friends in Cross Plains over the week end.

Mrs. J. G. Saunders has as her guest here this week her daughter, of Abilene.

ONE NEW 1936 CAR INCLUDED; WORKERS TO GET COMMISSION

In this issue of The Cross Plains Review is announced the greatest campaign ever staged in this part of Central West Texas.

One splendid automobile and cash awards totaling 1200.00 in value are to be distributed to those who are willing to work a few hours a day. A glance at the list published elsewhere in today's edition will emphasize impressively the attractiveness of the awards. They form a stupendous gift distribution unique in the history of West Texas newspaper campaigns.

The sole purpose of the distribution is to place the Review in every home in the Cross Plains trade territory.

Every person who does not win a prize will be given 10 per cent commission on the subscriptions he sells.

Red Tape Eliminated Here

There will be no red tape in this Gift Distribution. Any person of either sex residing in this vicinity (with the single exception of employees of The Review and members of their immediate families, is eligible to enter free, and participation will not cost one cent either now or later. It is not even necessary to be subscribers to this newspaper.

There will be as many prizes as there are active participants. Each participant is guaranteed the automobile or an award in currency according to the rules of the distribution.

Method Simple

From start to finish, in fact the way has been made singularly easy for you. To enter is easy; to continue to a triumphant conclusion and possession of one of the splendid gifts in a few weeks is no harder.

Take the matter of becoming a candidate. In the pages of today's issue you will find an entry or nomination blank. Properly filled out and mailed or brought to the campaign department of the Review it will start you off with 5,000 FREE votes. After this is done you call or write the campaign department for a free working outfit of receipt books and other material. Then you may begin by piling up votes toward the car in the one way possible in this campaign—by securing subscriptions to the Review. They count heavily and you will find that votes totals mount rapidly.

Campaign Short and Snappy

The campaign is a very short one and under no circumstances will it be extended beyond the date advertised. At the end, a committee of judges will count and tabulate the vote totals, and the one who polls the greatest number of votes may drive away in their own new car. All the other will receive cash in proportion to their vote totals as explained in the announcement in the pages of the Review.

Unrivaled Interest

The unusual liberality of the offers in this campaign, coupled with the fact that each contestant is sure of a prize and the ease with which even the biggest of the gifts may be won, is expected to create unrivaled interest among the people of this section.

Planning with such results in view The Review has tried not merely to obtain gifts that anyone would be glad to use his spare time to secure, but instead has purchased gifts of such quality and value that any individual can hardly afford to stay out of the campaign.

The automobile has been purchased.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Callahan County—Greeting: You are hereby commanded, that by making publication of this citation in some newspaper published in the County of Callahan, State of Texas, if there be a newspaper published in said county (but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published), for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon T. W. Anderson and R. C. Merryman whose residence is unknown to be and appear before the District Court in and for Callahan County for the 42nd Judicial District, to be held in and for the County of Callahan, at the Courthouse thereof, in the City of Baird, on the fourth Monday in October, A. D. 1935, being the 28th day of said month, file number being 7953, then and there to answer the petition of H. W. Ross filed in said Court, on the 23rd day of September, A. D. 1935, against T. W. Anderson, R. C. Merryman, S. W. Hughes, W. J. Laidlaw, Z. E. Marvin Jr., and Lamesa Motor Co., a private corporation and alleging in substance as follows, to-wit: that on November 1935, R. C. Merryman and T. W. Anderson, made executed and delivered to W. L. Cutbirth, seven promissory notes, six being for $200.00 each, and one for the sum of $300.00, payable on the 14th day of November, in the years 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931 and 1932, each respectively, payable to the order of W. L. Cutbirth at Cross Plains, Texas, with interest thereon from date at the rate of ten per cent per annum from date until paid, and providing for ten per cent additional on the principal and interest then due if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, that said notes were transferred and assigned in due course of business to plaintiff herein for a valuable consideration, before maturity thereof, and that plaintiff is now the legal holder and owner of said notes, that said notes were given in part payment for the following described tract of land, situated in Callahan County, Texas, to-wit: 73-1-3 acres out of the Jesse Dyson Survey No. 751, and being all of the tract of land conveyed by Sam Nolley et al to W. L. Cutbirth, by deed, dated November 30—1911, and of record in Vol. 49, page 343 of the Deed Records of Callahan County, Texas, except ten acres off of the North end of said tract, said tract being described by metes and bounds as follows: Beginning at the SW cor. of the J. V. Cook survey of 200 acres which lie in the NW corner of said Dyson sur; Thence East 464 vrs; Thence South 1017 vrs. Thence West 464 vrs; Thence North 1017 vrs. to the beginning.

Plaintiff asks judgment of the court for his principal debt, interest, attorney's fees and all costs of suit, and for a foreclosure of his Vendor's lien on said land.

Plaintiff further alleges that all of the aforesaid notes are past due and unpaid.

Herein Fail Not, but have you then and there before said Court this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness, Mrs. Will Rylee, Clerk of the District Court of Callahan County, Texas.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court in Baird, this the 35.

23rd day of September, A. D. 1935.

Mrs. WILL RYLEE, CLERK District Court, Callahan, Co., Tex.

Like most farms in the oil country, this one had been allowed to run down, and with the exception of some chickens and a few spirited cattle there was no live stock left upon it. There still remained, however, some old fodder; it was dusty and musty, but suitable enough for a bed, and Furlong announced that he was delighted with these sleeping arrangements. He set the lantern down and walked to the door with Betty. There he said:

"You've been mighty nice to me. I wish that fishing job had been harder."

The girl's face was dimly illuminated as she smiled up at Furlong. She was the prettiest girl he had ever known and he felt a great liking, a great sympathy for her. The clasp of her warm hand as she had guided him along the dark trail had affected him in an unaccountable manner, and now it affected him again in the same way when she laid it in his. A sudden recklessness overwhelmed him and before he knew what he was doing he had bent forward and kissed her.

The girl was startled, but she did not recoil. Curiously she inquired: "Why did you do that?"

"I don't know. I—I couldn't help it. I guess, I didn't intend to, but—"

Ben floundered; he felt his face burning hotly.

"Tiller tried that and I slapped him. I've known him a long time, too,—"

Miss Durham shook her head, apparently more perplexed at her own lack of resentment than surprised at Furlong's boldness. "I must like you pretty well."

"I wish you would—did. I think you're wonderful."

"Queen!" Betty turned to go. A moment later she called back through the gloom, "I'll call you when breakfast is ready."

Furlong was not altogether surprised when, on the following morning, Tiller Maddox offered him a job. Maddox, it was plain, was acting upon orders, and he took no pains to conceal his dislike for the new hand; nevertheless, Ben accepted the proffer. Aside from the fact that he needed work, his interest in Betty Durham was now sufficient to make almost any sacrifice worth while.

SYNOPSIS: Ben Furlong, a young but practical oil man and driller from the Pennsylvania field, drifted into the Texas oil country, broke and looking for work. Finally he fetched up at the Durham home where live an elderly aunt, shortly widowed by the explosion of a powder wagon, and her niece pretty Betty Durham—Perhaps because of his smile, Betty cooks some food for Ben and while he eats he learns the aunt, in town on business, has an oil man, Tiller Maddox, sinking an oil well for her—A short 6-inch bolt worked loose from the rigging and is in the bottom of the well. Work has been suspended for days as the crew "fish" for the bolt and operating funds dwindle away—Furlong offers to give a hand but Maddox objects—Betty insists and overrules Maddox so just lowered into the well, hoping to fish out the bolt—NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

Furlong himself handled the rig during this operation, and even Maddox could find no fault with the way he did it. When, after what seemed an interminable time, the wire cable began to stream up out of the depths and wind itself in smooth, black layers upon the drum, the two women pressed in upon the derrick floor.

Out of the well-mouth finally slid the fishing tool; it stopped, hung motionless with the lower end at the level of their eyes. The teeth had been bent inward, jammed together by the blows from above; inside the basket thus formed and tightly bitten between two of those prongs was a battered six-inch piece of steel.

When Furlong had finished washing up he found Betty Durham waiting for him.

"Come over to the house," she said. "You must be tired."

"I told you I was lucky," the young man declared, with a grin.

"Lucky, nothing. You've got sense."

"Simple, wasn't it? I wonder Maddox never thought of it."

Betty stirred; impatiently she exclaimed: "Oh, he's too busy thinking about something—! Say! We've got an extra room, but Aunt Mary says it wouldn't look right for you to sleep there. Don't that make you sick?"

"How about the barn?"

"That's what she proposed. Come on. Well fix it somehow."

It was dark; the trail through the cactus and the mesquite was dim, but Betty knew it by heart, and where its meanderings were indistinguishable she took Furlong's hand and guided him.

"I suppose you think Aunt Mary's crazy, risking all her money like this," she said.

"I sure do," the man admitted. "This thing will show you the chances she's taking. Suppose that bolt had been something else, something we couldn't get hold of? There's a thousand things can happen to a well."

"I know. But she's—greedy. She always was. Tiller talked her into it after Uncle Joe died, and she wouldn't listen to me."

"It's a lot safer to let the big companies do the drilling, and be satisfied with a royalty."

"Some people can't be satisfied," the girl said, quietly. Then after a moment. "Uncle Joe never intended to leave the whole farm to her. They didn't hitch very well. He said he was going to leave part of it to me, but—I guess he never got around to it. I'll bet Aunt Mary's sorry by this time that she listened to Tiller; there's so many things a driller can do to a well."

"Pshaw! Is he that kind of a man?"

"What kind of a man? Men are all alike, aren't they—when they're got reason to be?"

"She better fire him."

"I guess she can't, or dassent— Funny my talking this way to you and not knowing you only a few hours. I'd better mind my own business. Here we are. You wait while I get a light."

They had arrived at the house, and the girl left her companion outside. She reappeared in a few minutes with a lantern and a couple of patchwork comforters. These latter she surrendered to Ben, then led the way to the barn.

ing himself with something else when he felt a hand upon his shoulder. He turned to find Furlong at his side. The latter's eyes were blazing. In a voice ominously harsh and vibrant was fury he said:

"I came down to get that beating. I want it now."

The other members of the crew froze in various attitudes of startled suspense. The two men stared at each other.

Furlong was a burly, thick-necked youth; he was as hard as iron and in his gaze at this moment was an evil quality quite unexpected. His enmity for the driller had finally foamed over. In proximity to this flaming passion Maddox's smoldering dislike gave off no heat; nor at short notice could it fan its embers into a blaze. After a brief survey, pregnant with possibilities, he turned his head and winked at the other men. In a feeble effort at jocularity he said:

"I told you I'd come up there and give it to you. I never ast you to come down here an' get it." He guffawed loudly at his own humor and walked away. Furlong stood shaking in his tracks.

That evening Maddox went over to the farmhouse. Evenings in this thirsty land, like evenings upon the desert, were cool, refreshing, beautiful. The brazen sky cooled, a blessed breeze played through the scrubby bush and brought faint fragrances unnoticed at other hours; the harsh outlines of unlovely objects were softened; birds twittered. Nature filled her lungs and took on new vigor.

Mrs. Durham was rocking upon the little front porch, and of her the man inquired:

"Where's Betty?"

"Her and Ben have gone to town. Maddox scowled. "I allowed they had."

"He's gone in to buy himself some clothes and she took the car—"

"He won't need no more clothes than he's got, on this job," asserted the driller. "He's all through an' washed up."

© 1935, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

In the days thereafter he tried to fathom the peculiar relationship existing between Maddox and the two women, but he did not succeed very well. The driller, it was evident, had his heart set upon Betty, and in his attempt to win her Mrs. Durham was his ally; nevertheless, for some unknown reason the aunt disliked and distrusted the man. About all that Ben could make sure of was the fact that in some manner not readily apparent the oil well was being used by Maddox as a weapon; that somehow it had become the stake in a three-cornered game.

Furlong and Betty meanwhile managed to see a good deal of each other, but they met clandestinely. Neither of them openly referred to this fact, and, although the girl pretended that it was her aunt whom she feared, Ben very well knew that it was Maddox. No longer, by the way, did he apologize when he kissed her, and their stolen moments together had become very sweet.

Work on the well progressed as rapidly as could be expected. Inch by inch, foot by foot, the heavy steel bits cut through the rock; length after length was added to the casing, and as it neared the level of the oil-bearing structure "indications" became evident; occasional sighs and gurgles issued from the well mouth as gas gathered and released itself. Its odor was at times quite strong.

It was at this time that Maddox and Furlong clashed.

Some new tackle was being slung and Ben had been sent up aloft while the foreman issued directions from below. It was heavy work. Ben was forced to cling to the derrick timbers or to balance himself upon a narrow plank, and his progress at times did not suit the elderly man. Maddox was in a surly mood, anyhow, and he became profane. Furlong was hot and irritable. He answered back, whereupon the man below flared out angrily.

"You do like I tell you an' don't argue, or I'll come up there an' give you a dam' good beating!"

The rigging was finally secured in place and Maddox was occupy-

"What's happened, Tiller?"

"We had a row. I was a fool to put him on, in the first place, but his week's up Friday."

Mrs. Durham ceased rocking; her sallow face became more yellow. With an effort she said:

"He's a right smart hand, Tiller. I'd rather you didn't fire him."

"The hell you'd rather!" Maddox exclaimed angrily. "What you got to say about it?"

"Why, it's my prop'ty, my well—"

"Is it?"

"Y—You know what I mean. He's smart. I tell you. Did he fish that bolt?"

"Sure! An' didn't you hire him straight off, so's to spy on me?"

"Tiller! It's no such thing. Why should I spy on you? What you been doin' that you need spyin'—?"

"Shut up an' listen to me. He's fired Friday night an' he gets off this place the next mornin'. So that's that! Saturday, sometime, the powder wagon'll be here an' early Monday the men are comin' to shoot the well. We got a big one; I'll bet my life on that. I can tell! Why, she's makin' gas an' trying her best to let go, but"—the speaker paused, then finished slowly, distinctly—"there ain't agoin' to be no well whatever until I'm took care of."

The widow's colorless eyes fixed themselves hypnotically upon the swarth face of the man before her. He continued:

"I wasn't gettin' along any too good with Betty before this fellow showed up, but since he came she won't have nothin' to do with me."

"I did the best I could," Mrs. Durham declared, nervously, "but she says she won't marry you. She goes hog wild every time I talk about it."

"There's ways to make a girl marry. You got to make her marry me before that well comes in, or it's just like I said—it ain't comin' in!"

"Tiller!" gasped the woman. "You dassent do—anything to it. Not now!"

"Oh, dassent I? Who'll stop me? You won't. That little old bolt made a lot of trouble, didn't it? Well, that's nothin'. It just shows how easy it is to—"

MUST KNOW HIS OKRA ABOUT GROWING YAMS

Attracting wide attention on the streets of Cross Plains Saturday afternoon was a 10 and one fourth pound sweet potato, grown on the Bert Brown place, North of town. The huge "yam" measured 32 inches in circumference.

It was plowed up by Jack Meadows. He and Mr. Brown told the Review that besides the 10 and a fourth pound potato, about five additional pounds were taken from the hill in which the big one grew.

Near 150 bushels of the acre is Mr. Brown's estimate as to what his crop will average. He stated that 75 cents a bushel has been the minimum price for which he has sold to date.

Don't Guess But Know

Whether the "Pain" Remedy You Use is SAFE?

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headache is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about GENUINE BAYER ASPIRIN.

He will tell you that before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate Bayer Aspirin among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this.

You can get Genuine Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by asking for it by its full name, BAYER ASPIRIN. Make it a point to do this—and see that you get what you want!

Leaf tobacco being sold to highest bidder

United States Treasury Building

From 1900 up to 1934 the leaf tobacco used for cigarettes increased from 13,084,037 lbs. to 326,093,357 lbs.; an increase of 2392%

It takes mild ripe tobacco to make a good cigarette.

During the year ending June 30, 1900, the Government collected from cigarette taxes $3,969,191

For the year ending June 30, 1934, the same taxes were $350,299,442 an increase of 8725% —a lot of money.

Cigarettes give a lot of pleasure to a lot of people.

More cigarettes are smoked today because more people know about them—they are better advertised. But the main reason for the increase is that they are made better—made of better tobaccos; then again the tobaccos are blended—a blend of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos. Chesterfield is made of mild, ripe tobaccos. Everything that science knows about is used in making it a milder and better-tasting cigarette. We believe you will enjoy them

Items of Interest From COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE

By Ross E. Jenkins

Wheat Growers Sign New Agreement

Wheat growers of Callahan are signing new agreements with the Secretary of Agriculture in which they agree to control and adjust their production to market demands and be assured that they will receive something near parity for their grain.

Marco Polo related in his "Travels" written in the 13th century that the great Kublai Khan sent his commissioners each year into the land and made inquiry of the wheat crop. If too much was made the Khan bought the surplus and stored it in the government granaries, if the supply was short and have no suffering from too much or too little. That is an old example that is being put into modern use by the Secretary of our country. The new amendments lets the Secretary put into existence the "Ever-Normal Granary Plan" which will insure the growers a rather even level in price range and yet be able to keep sufficient surplus on hand to always be sufficient unto our own needs.

The wheat program may be entered by any grower of wheat who has had wheat grown on the land he now farms during the base years of 1930, '31, and '32. He may not have grown wheat but two of those years, say 1931 and 1932. In that case he will have as a base the average of the two years or if only the year 1932 had wheat during the base period and in each instance it is the intention of the grower to grow wheat this year, his application will be eligible. His base will be the average of the three, two or one year production. His allotment will be the total amount divided by the full three years. He will reduce 5 per cent from his base acreage this year. At no time can the Secretary demand more than a 25% reduction of the base acreage.

There is much more interest in the new program than in the same program presented in 1933. Farmers every day are awaking to the advantage of cooperation with one another and to help hold the price to where a fair value may be obtained for the raw materials so raised.

Those who wish to sign a wheat contract should see their committeeman nearest to them. The men are Claude Morse of Oplin; E. J. Kendrick of Denton; George A. Brown of Putnam; Fred Stacy of Dressy; A. E. Young of Clyde; or see the county agent who is secretary of the new association.

It is hoped that all persons who wish to sign contracts will see their committeeman on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, that is October 22 and 23rd. Callahan can complete signing sooner than most any of the others if all growers will help put the job over quickly. Lets get this one finished so as to be able to get the new cotton contracts and peanut contracts in quickly.

$5,700 Wheat Checks
The secretary of the Callahan Wheat Control Ass'n, N. M. George, received $5,700 for 50 growers who were first to complete compliance this year. These growers received the parity for 1934 which amounted to about 14 cents less the expenses of the association and also the 1935 payment of 20 cents per bushel. There are 28 more that will soon follow that were later in finishing compliance.

Every Corn-Hog Producer To Get Vote In AAA Poll

Every eligible corn-hog producer in Callahan County, as well as each of the 103 contract signers, is entitled to vote in the national corn hog referendum Saturday, October 26, according to H. N. Ebert, president of the County Corn-Hog Council.

All farmers have a stake in the question: Do you favor a corn-hog adjustment program to follow the 1935 program which expires on November 30, 1935? Therefore it is important to get the judgment of every eligible producer on the matter, he pointed out.

All operators and owners, or their official representatives, of farms which produced corn or hogs for sale in 1935 may vote whether they signed corn-hog contracts in past years or not. Community committeemen will determine the eligibility of voters. Each eligible person is entitled only to one vote regardless of the number of farms he may own or operate, no matter where located.

The corn and hog industry, on the one hand, has a choice, of continuing a production adjustment program designed to hold corn acreage down to a safe, desirable level and preventing an excessive increase in hog numbers. The alternative is to release control both on corn acreage and hog production at the risk that during the next three years the increase in hog production from the 1935-36 level will be greater than for any previous period in the country's history with consequent disastrous hog prices.

In the years before the AAA, every corn-hog producer would have had to deal with this prospect in his own individual way, with no means of guessing what the industry as a whole intended to do, and with no means of bringing about concerted national action to meet the problem. Now with their production control association and their voluntary contract system, farmers as a whole are in a position to know what other farmers are going to do and to cooperate to keep supplies and livestock numbers in balance and thereby prevent the periodic uncontrolled ups and downs in pork production and prices which have been one of the major hazards to the industry for many years, and which have been harmful to the consumers of pork as well.

The vote will be taken by mail, Mr. Ebert announced, and the Corn Hog Association hopes every eligible voter will respond to this referendum. Ballots are being mailed out now by the Corn-Hog Secretary, Mrs. R. C. Corn, and should be returned at once.

Announcing A Man

$2,000 FREE GIFT

BY THE CROSS

EVERY BODY W

ALL PRIZES—Cash and Automobile, to be given away ABSOLUTELY FREE to MEN and Women, Boys, and Girls residing in the City of Cross Plains and surrounding territory. You are welcome to share this distribution.

THE PLAN IN BRIEF

The object of the distribution is two-fold; primarily to increase the already large subscription list of The Cross Plains Review, to collect arrearages and advance subscription payments from present or new subscribers, and at the same time afford our friends and readers an unparalleled opportunity to profit, and in a big way, through their spare time during the next few weeks. So it is a plan that works both ways and to the ultimate good of all concerned.

In order to gain this end quickly and advantageously, the most valuable and attractive list of prizes ever offered by a local newspaper in this section of the country has been made ready for distribution among those who participate most heartily.

Ambition and energy are the only requisites for success. The plan adopted is the fairest and most impartial conceivable. There will be no "double vote" offers, extra votes given or any other vote inducements whatever inaugurated during this competition. Neither will there be any long-term subscriptions accepted. The plan of the campaign is straight-forward and simple and is fully outlined in this announcement.

Let it be understood at the very outset that this is no "beauty" or "popularity" contest, but strictly legitimate competitive proposition for enterprising men and women, and the boys and girls and one in which no element of chance enters. One feature of this competition is the fact that there will be no losers in this race.

How to enter the gift distribution

The first step in order to become a candidate and compete for a prize is to clip the nominating coupon appearing below; fill in your name and address and mail or deliver to the Campaign Department of The Cross Plains Review. This coupon entitles you or the person whom you might nominate, to 5,000 FREE votes. These votes are given you as a starter, and speeds you on your way to win. Only one such nomination coupon will be accepted for each candidate entered.

The next step is to call on or write Campaign Department for a free working outfit, consisting of an official receipt book, sample copies of The Cross Plains Review and other information relative to launching an active campaign.

Thus equipped, you have but to go to your friends and neighbors, relatives and acquaintances and have them pay up a subscription to The Cross Plains Review through you. THAT IS ALL THERE IS TO IT. However, you will never win anything unless you make a start, and while it will not be a very difficult matter to capture one of the big prizes, nevertheless, it is necessary that you start early. You must plan out your campaign the same as any successful business man plans out his work for a season. Above everything else, let no one discourage you, but stick to it and finish. Anything worth having is worth trying for. A few short weeks and you may be riding in your own automobile. It takes votes to win, and votes are secured in one way only, and that is by securing subscriptions to The Cross Plains Review. On each subscription turned in a certain number of votes is given, varying according to the amount paid and during which "period" same are received at the Campaign Department. See schedule of votes elsewhere. So you see, the more subscriptions you can get the better your chances are to secure one of the capital prizes. The full advantage of an early the winning votes, but now and up to and including ? ? ? ? you will receive the maximum schedule of votes on subscriptions. Then, too, the first in the field will undoubtedly get the "cream" of votes and subscriptions, while those who put off entering until a later date will have to take what is left.

Don't lose valuable time waiting to "see what the other fellow is going to do," but pitch right in and show the "other fellow" how to do it.

How prizes will be awarded

Every attractive participant in The Cross Plains Review Gift Distribution will receive either a cash award or the new automobile. The person polling the greatest number of votes during the campaign will receive the beautiful automobile. Then the person securing the next highest number of votes will receive $100.00 in cash. To the person securing the next highest number of votes will receive $50.00, in cash. All other active contestants will receive 10% per cent cash commission on all subscriptions they may secure according to the rules of the campaign.

THE ADVISORY BOARD

It is the sincere aim of this newspaper to conduct the Gift Distribution from start to finish, in a fair, honorable and impartial manner. Every precaution has been taken to safeguard the interests of participants and absolute honesty in all dealings is guaranteed. However, not all wisdom lies with any one man or institution, and for that reason, an Advisory Board will be decided upon, whose function shall be to decide any question of sufficient moment that might arise during the Gift Distribution, and from which a committee shall be selected to act as judges and count the votes the last night of the Gift Distribution, names to be announced later.

ALL MONIES AND SUBSCRIPTIONS MUST BE REPORTED TO CAMPAIGN MANAGER AT THE END OF EACH WEEK

CASH PRIZE

HERE ARE THE PRIZES

SECOND PRIZE	$100.00
THIRD PRIZE	$50.00

10 per cent cash commission to all non-prize winners.

$1209.10 IN COMMISSIONS

A special fund of not more than $1,209.10 in cash will be set aside to be distributed in the form of salaries among live non-prize winners on 10 per cent basis. Any candidate who remains active throughout the campaign, making regular weekly cash reports, but who fails to win one of the big prizes offered, will participate in this commission feature. Think of it. Ten per cent of every subscription you collect goes into your own pocket, if you fail to win a prize. This arrangement assures compensation to all candidates and means that there will be no losers in this race—everybody gets something. For further information call, telephone or write Campaign Department, The Cross Plains Review. Office open, evenings to 6 o'clock.

ONLY ONE NOMINATION BLANK ACCEPTED

Rules

and

Regulations

- 1—Any reputable white man, woman or child residing in Cross Plains and surrounding counties is eligible to enter this election and compete for a prize. Nominations may be made at any time during the election.
- 2—No employee of near relative of any person in the business office of The Cross Plains Review is eligible to enter this distribution. The management reserves the right to reject any nominations.
- 3—Winners of the prizes will be decided by their accredited subscriptions, and by votes, represented by ballots issued on subscriptions, and by votes issued on nomination coupon, and first week coupons.
- 4—Candidates are not confined to their particular town or community in which to secure votes and subscriptions, but may take orders anywhere.
- 5—Cash must accompany all orders where votes are desired. There will be no exceptions to this rule. Candidates will be allowed to collect renewals as well as entirely new subscriptions and votes will be issued on both.
- 6—Votes are free. It costs the subscriber nothing extra to vote for his or her favorite. Subscribers should ask for votes when buying their subscriptions.
- 7—Votes cannot be purchased. Every cent accepted through the campaign department must be represented by subscriptions. All subscriptions subject to our check and candidates found putting up their own money for subscriptions other than their own subscription, or turning in any subscriptions that are not bona fide and paid in full by the subscribers themselves, will be disqualified.
- 8—Votes are not transferable. Candidates cannot withdraw in favor of another candidate. Should a candidate withdraw from the race, his or her votes will be cancelled. Neither will it be permissible for candidates to give or transfer subscriptions to another candidate. Votes on such transferred subscriptions will be subject to disqualification at the discretion of the management.
- 9—Any effort or collusion on the part of a candidate or candidates to discourage competition by the spreading of false rumors or exaggerated stories or anything done by any candidate or combination of candidates to the detriment of this newspaper will not be tolerated. Any candidate or candidates entering into or taking part in any such agreement, or efforts, will forfeit all rights to a prize or commission.
- 10—All monies and subscriptions collected by candidates must be reported at the end of each week.
- 11—In the event of a tie for any one of the prizes, a prize identical in value will be given each trying candidate.
- 12—No statement or promise made by any solicitor, agent or candidate varying from the rules and statements published thru the columns of this newspaper will be recognized by the publishers.
- 13—In case of typographical or other error, it is understood that neither

- the publisher nor the campaign manager shall be held responsible, except for the necessary correction of same.
- 14—Every candidate is an authorized agent of The Cross Plains Review and as such may collect subscription payments from present as well as from new subscribers.
 - 15—Extension of subscriptions will receive votes according to the vote schedule in effect when the first subscription was paid, except that no extension votes will be given the final period.
 - 16—It is distinctly understood and agreed that candidates will be responsible for all monies collected and that they will remit such amount in full at frequent intervals or on demand of the campaign department.
 - 17—There will be several big prizes awarded, besides a 10 per cent cash commission to all ACTIVE non-prize winners, but it is distinctly understood that in the event ANY candidate becomes INACTIVE, failing to make a weekly cash report, he or she will, at the discretion of the management become disqualified and thereby forfeit all right to a prize or a commission. READ THIS RULE AGAIN CAREFULLY.
 - 18—To insure absolute fairness in the awarding of the prizes, the gift distribution will be brought to a close under a "sealed ballot box" system, and will be under the personal supervision of two or more judges, selected from the Advisory Board. During the entire last week of the gift distribution the box—locked and sealed—will repose in the vaults of a local bank, where candidates and their friends will deposit their final collections and reserve votes. And not until the race has been declared closed will the seals be broken, the box unlocked, and the judges begin the final count. In this way, no one, not even the Campaign Manager, can possibly know the voting strength of the respective candidates which precludes any possibility of favoritism and insures fairness to the minutest degree.
 - 19—No prize will be delivered at the conclusion of the gift distribution until subscriptions turned in the last week in the sealed ballot box have been checked and verified by the judges.
 - 20—The management reserves the right to amend or add to the rules of this election if necessary for the protection of the interests to both the candidates and his newspaper. The right is also reserved to increase and add to the list of prizes.
 - 21—The Cross Plains Review guarantees fair and impartial treatment to all candidates, but should any question arise, the decision of the management will be absolute and final.
 - 22—Two hundred thousand extra votes will be awarded each candidate with every four one-year subscriptions or the equivalent turned in during their first week in the campaign. These are in addition and above all regular votes.
 - 23—Campaign opens today—closes December 21. In accepting nominations candidates agrees to abide by the above conditions.

Buffaloes To Meet League Leading Albany Lions Tonight

Kick-off Set For 8 O'clock On Albany High School's Illuminated Gridiron; Many To Make Trip

All interest of district 17-B will be centered on the invasion of Cross Plains high school Buffaloes at Albany, Friday night, which will be the week end's only conference conflict in the stronger half of the loop. The kick-off is set for eight o'clock on Albany's illuminated field.

Baird is the only other "strong half" member slated for action. The Bears will journey to Moran for a non-conference game with Coach Jack Gingrich's Bulldogs. Clyde, Putnam and Rising Star are all idle.

With two conference victories already to their credit, which incidentally were from two of the district's strongest teams—Baird and Putnam, Albany is now perched comfortably at the head of the class. The Lions defeated Throckmorton 28 to nothing in the season opener, lost to Winters 14 to 13, trimmed Putnam 28 to seven, and last week overwhelmed Baird 14 to six.

Cross Plains' only conference start was against Baird here two weeks ago, in which the Buffaloes suffered a reverse.

In a telephone interview with C. L. Downing, Albany superintendent and former football coach, the Review has told Monday afternoon that the entire Lion roster would be in perfect shape and ready for action. No injuries were sustained in the game with Baird last week.

Coach Claude Daniel was unable to state definitely Monday afternoon his exact starting line-up. He did divulge, however, that Billy Gray will be shifted from fullback to an end. B. W. Huntington will likely get the fullback assignment.

"Bevo" Webb, who has been nursing an ankle injury, will start at quarterback if the injured member is causing no trouble. In the event his leg is not in shape to handle backfield duties he will be started at center, Daniel stated. Gene Blitch will get the opening call at center if "Bevo" is oked. Daniels revealed, however, he may also be used in the backfield before the game is over.

Daniel was non-committal as to his chances of beating the league leading Albany Lions. Having listened to reports of his scouts, who viewed the Lions at Baird, he is shaping his defense to combat a double wing and occasional short punt formation.

After discussing all positions and various players Daniels intimated that the starting line-up might be as follows:

CROSS PLAINS BUFFALOES

MORAN SWAMPS COLONY TO TUNE OF 40 TO 6

MORAN, Oct. 11.—Moran swamped Colony under a deluge of touchdowns here today to take a district 17-B, division 2, tilt by the score of 40 to 6.

Pennell, Eddleman and Bufkin in the backfield and Wagley at tackle starred for the winners. O'Sharer, Colony full back, stood out for the visitors.

Miss Rosalea Cutbirth, Helen Gray, Mrs. Edwin Baum, and Mrs. Jack Scott were Abilene visitors Thursday.

Results Of Other Teams In This District

PUTNAM VICTOR OVER RISING STAR 26 TO 6

RISING STAR, Oct. 11.—Unleashing a three-touchdown offensive in the fourth quarter after being held on equal terms through most of the preceding game, Putnam's Panthers humbled the Rising Star Wildcats, 26-6, in a conference game here Friday.

The visitors scored early in the first quarter after recovering a fumble deep in Rising Star territory. A bullet pass across the goal line netted the counter after the Panthers had failed at two line thrusts. The try for extra point was wild.

Rising Star drew blood in the third period as result of a blocked punt on the Putnam five-yard stripe. The ball was bucked over but the try for extra point was wild leaving the score knotted at six-all.

Taking the ball on the kick-off as the fourth quarter started, the Panthers marched down the field to a touchdown via off-tackle plays and end runs. Putnam quickly added two more touchdowns as the Panther backs intercepted two Rising Star passes and ran them over the latter's goal line. Only the first try for extra point was good.

Putnam shaded Rising Star only slightly in first-downs, registering 12 to the latter's 11.

The Wildcats will meet Baird at Baird on Oct. 18 in their next game.

ALBANY LIONS TRIUMPH OVER BAIRD 14 TO SIX

BAIRD, Oct. 11.—Albany's Lions closed a big gap in their race for championship honors in district 17-B a second consecutive year by defeating the Baird Bears, 14-6, in a hotly contested battle here Friday afternoon.

The victory left Albany in undisputed possession of first place in district ratings with two victories and no losses. Putnam, with a 26-6 win over Rising Star, advanced to second place with two victories and one loss, and the locals and Rising Star dropped into a tie for third place with one victory and one loss each.

Baird drew first blood in the first quarter by marching 75 yards in a sustained drive to the pay-off stripe. The Lions recounted with a touchdown in the second period, and clinched the game with a second tally in the third.

MAY GRIDDERS AFTER CHAMPIONSHIP DIADEM

May's high school football team continued a campaign for the championship of the weaker half of district 17-B Friday afternoon with a six to nothing victory over Caddo.

May is now tied for the leadership of the weaker half with Moran. Both teams have a percentage of 1000, having won two games each.

PIONEER AND OLDEN IN SCORELESS TIE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Playing only 11 men the full 60 minutes Coach W. Williams' Pioneer Panthers battled to a standstill the Olden Hornets, on the Cat's gridiron, Friday afternoon. The score was nothing and nothing.

While statistics of the contest were virtually even—each team made six first downs—the time keeper's gun for the third time in two weeks halted a Pioneer rally. As the game ended the Panthers were on the seven yard stripe with goal to go. The same thing occurred twice in the Caddo game the week before with Pioneer suffering the damage.

Bad passes from center were also much to the disadvantage of the visitors. The Pioneer forward fall took advantage of four wild heaves to throw Hornet ball carriers for long losses.

Pioneer attempted seven passes. Three were complete, three wild and one intercepted. Olden heaved 11 times, completing five; the Panthers intercepted one and five were incomplete.

The domestics chief gains were made by quarter back J. T. Hammett, who skirted around end for the most spectacular dashes of the afternoon. In open field he was overtaken once by a Hornet tackler.

George Clark, recently shifted to end, gave a nice account of himself at the wing position, halting all offensive thrusts in his direction. Joe Wheeler thrusts in his putting and passing for Pioneer in his customary capable fashion.

SOCIETY CLUBS PERSONALS

RALPH CHANDLER HOME IS SCENE OF SOCIAL

The Victory Sunday school class of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Chandler, president of the class, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Gustive Wustenbecker was Co. hostess with Mrs. Chandler.

The Hallowe'en motif was carried out in decorations. The house was decorated with all sorts of spooky Hallowe'en witches pecking out of dark corners and over all a soft glow from orange shaded lights.

A very profitable afternoon was spent in outlining work for the Sunday school year. Each member of the class was assigned some definite task, and all seemed eager to get into immediate action. After the business session a social hour followed at which time a delightful refreshment plate of pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream was passed to seventeen members and four visitors.

The Victory class meets the second Thursday of each month.

Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Underwood and son, Billie will attend the T.C.U. and A.A.M. football game in Fort Worth Saturday.

Mrs. Joe McAdams left Tuesday for Dallas where she will undergo a goiter operation.

BRIDGE PARTY IS HELD AT EDWIN BAUM HOME

Mrs. Jack Scott and Mrs. Edwin Baum Jr., were joint hostesses when they entertained with three tables of contract bridge at the home of the latter Thursday night.

High score for the evening went to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott and low score went to Mr. and Mrs. Otie Cannon.

A refreshment plate of tuna fish sandwiches, olives, potato chips and coffee was passed to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Volley Joe Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Otie Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Baum, Mrs. V. A. Underwood, Mrs. Stanley Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fargin and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott.

The recent argument in St. Louis about whether women should be permitted in bars or not, gives rise to the observation that wherever mixed drinking is practiced, the tone of the group is decidedly improved. SOUTH IS SPEAKER AT BANQUET WEDNESDAY

Observing "Loyalty Month," members of the Methodist Church entertained with an informal banquet in the basement of the church Wednesday night.

The principal speakers for the evening were Judge South, congressman, of Coleman, and Rev. Curry of Cisco. A large crowd was present to hear these speakers.

Judge South is a very versatile man and a fine example of loyalty. In his ascendance from the small town had to a man of prominence, he has not forgotten the old home town influence. After hearing Judge South's speech every one felt inspired to do greater things and to be more loyal to the church.

SCRANTON High School News

School was dismissed last week so that the pupils might pick cotton or what ever their parents needed them to do in harvesting the crops. But we have started back this week with just as much interest as before.

Dr. Seale and Dr. Clark from Cisco came Friday, October 4, and examined all of the pupils attending school.

The Seniors are working on their play, "The Adventures of Grandpa" They have not started rehearsal yet but intend to this week. They are going to try to present it in about three weeks.

The Freshmen party was a great success. Everyone seemed to enjoy it immensely.

The Sophomore class met recently and organized. The officers were elected as follows:

J. B. Ledbetter, President Leonard Sprawls Vice-President Mary Edna King Sec. & Trea. Roy Lee Boland Reporter Miss Jobe was elected sponsor. We have started the year off with a bang, and we are hoping to have a successful Sophomore year.

Well, I have some sad, sad news to tell you. We didn't get our game with the team we expected. But that does not matter so much. We played the Junior Boys of Scranton. We won the game with the score being fifteen to twelve in the girls favor. Those little Junior boys are good, because they even beat Atwell last year. And you know they must be good by that.

The interest in our team is great. More people from around here come just to watch us practice. Coach Hughes has to pick out a group of twelve girls to keep the while group from playing at once. You may think I am exaggerating a bit, but just for proof, come over and watch us tackle a team some time.

Monday, October 14, the Scranton basket ball team organized. The players are: Whistler Bailey, who is captain, J. E. Ledbetter, Roy Lee Boland, Edwin Bradshaw, Clyde Stansell, Leonard Sprawls, J. W. Alvey, Paul Phillely, Gerald Parks, Leo Purvis David McCorkle, Edgar Bailey, Bennie Brummette, and James Morgan.

VISITORS VIEW DRESSY H.D. CLUB'S EXHIBITS ON ACHIEVEMENT DAY

A completed clothes closet was exhibited by Mrs. Frank Spencer, wardrobe demonstrator, Monday, October 10, as the highlight of the annual achievement day program of the Dressy home demonstration club.

Features of the day were a basket dinner at the Victoria school building, a pantry display at the home of Mrs. Fred Stacy, farm food demonstrator, in the afternoon, also a program at the Stacy home which included songs, readings, and a discussion on the purpose of achievement day observances by Miss Vida Moore, County Home Demonstration Agent.

The completed clothes closet displayed by Mrs. Spencer drew wide praise from members of the club as well as visitors who viewed it. The closet included a clothes rod, hat supports, shoe rack, door pocket and shelves all concisely arranged.

Mrs. Stacy's pantry was uniquely arranged the 4-H way in the cellar and inspired compliments from the entire group.

Visitors from Cross Plains, Rhea, Echo, Comal, Victoria, Burkett and Rowden were in attendance.

Next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Doyle Neeb at two o'clock the afternoon of October 24.

parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Phillips and Mrs. Katie Lee Smedley.

Juanita Neff of Clyde, spent Saturday night with Opal King.

Sikes, Bill Taylor, Vergil Smedley and Mr. Claude Sikes and Miss Lilac Smedley of Abilene and Odie Smedley.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth King, wife of R. E. King, died at the Baird hospital Tuesday morning at 3 o'clock from pneumonia.

Mrs. King was born December 18, 1892, at Burkett and grew to young womanhood at Denton where she was married. The husband, four children, father, two sisters and three brothers are left to mourn her passing. She was laid to rest beside her mother, Mrs. Jones, in the Denton cemetery at four o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, with Bro. Vaughan, Christian minister of Abilene in charge of services. The large concourse of relatives and friends in attendance from Rowden, Abilene, Burkett and Denton attested to the high esteem in which this kind and gentle woman was held. The floral offering were beautiful and profuse. The family have the deepest love and sympathy of their friends. Deceased professed faith and was baptised by Bro. Cox in 1922.

LOTIEF GIVES VIEWS

Legislature saying that they do not make enough to get along on. Many of the County officials from big counties are receiving more salary than the Governor of this State and are still asking for more. For this reason, the Legislature of this State should be careful not to agree to raise their salary because we have to consider the tax payers ability to pay.

There has been a good deal of pressure brought by the Chamber of Commerce asking the Legislature to levy a sales tax of three percent and I am not in favor of such a tax because it will not be right to levy any tax upon the necessities of life, and after all it will be a slave tax instead of a sales tax.
