Speak! What Is Your Opinion?

A great deal has been said and written in the past few days concerning the possibility of a Home Economics department being added to the local high school system. As yet, however, no definite strides have been taken in that direction.

Surely the people of this school district want their girls to be permitted to study this most important course, which, deals primarily with the duties most of them will pursue in after years. The girls want the instruction. Now what is to be done?

If you are enough concerned about your school to be interested in this matter—and all good citizens are interested in every matter which effect the school—you should express your opinion one way or another to members of the board of trustees. They do not intend to tackle the problem unless the patrons of the school are interested enough to at least "ask it."

Members of the board are: E. I. Vestal, Arthur Mitchell, V. C. Walker, W. H. Carpenter, Pat McNeel, A. G. Foster and Erwin Ervin.

As explained in the columns of this paper last week the erecting of a home economics cottage could probably be handled as a P. W. A. project with 45 percent of the money spent being given to the district as an outright grant by the federal government.

Voice your opinion in this matter. If you think the girls are as much entitled to study Home Economics as the boys are Vocational Agriculture, tell the board of trustees about it.

Don't be one of the group that sits back and says nothing until some worthwhile project is launched and then starts knocking it with "fire and fever."

Does Politics Mean This?

The modern definition a politician seems to be "one who ridicules all living statesmen and pays homage to the popular patriots of the past." There is more backbiting, unfriendliness, discord and lack of cooperation American today than at perhaps any time in history.

Every man seems to have a different idea as to how every branch of the government should be run. Let a man lift his head above the sea of oblivion because of some good theory or plan, that has as its objective humane legislature for the benefit of the masses of people, and before his ideas are even understood "the self styled 'know alls' begin their campaign of whispering, backbiting and destruction until the benefactor is politically ruined.

There is little hope for this land of liberty, and free speech until people become more cooperative and are willing to overlook a few faults in every man and measure him only by whether his virtues overshadow his shortcomings.

Surely there are one or two honorable men and women in state and national politics today but we challenge you to find 10 men in a row who will speak favorably of any one you might name.

Stuff 'n' Dates by Ned Moore THE ARMY MANNED THE FIRST SHIPS OF THE AMERICAN NAVY GEN. WASHINGTON PURCHASED ON HIS OWN INITIATIVE TWO VESSELS WHICH HE NAMED THE 'CONGRESS' AND 'THE MOUNTAIN' WHICH HE FITTED OUT WITH ARTILLERY, CAPTAINS AND MANNED BY SOLDIERS.

A Matter of Opinion

Mr. Arthur Brisbane asks the question: "What will Franklin D. Roosevelt do to make his memory outlast that of his cousin who built the Panama canal?" He says that "a hundred or a thousand years hence, everyone will know that Theodore Roosevelt built that canal."

It occurs to us that if Franklin D. Roosevelt should bring the United States into a position of leadership among the nations in a movement to end the economic and social chaos which has followed in a wake of the World War and to usher in an era of patient and persistent international cooperation, his name might survive to be honored in a time when men will have forgotten that anybody built the Panama canal.

Mr. Brisbane, of course, would not agree with any of this, because he does not think the United States should assume such a position of leadership and he is quite sure that the League of Nations never was, is not now, and never will be of any importance. But that's because Mr. Brisbane is—well, Mr. Brisbane. (The Texas Weekly).

Now He's a "Fool Scientist."

Charles A. Lindbergh, who made millions of hearts beat faster when he flew from New York to Paris, is the inventor of a new mechanical heart which will, in the words of the AP, "enable surgeons to remove a whole organ, such as kidneys, heart, spleen or glands from an animal's body, and keep it alive indefinitely, growing independently, in an artificial chamber."

The announcement is made by the great and dignified Rockefeller Institute, where the young man who was once called a "flying fool" has been pursuing experiments of his own choosing for several years.

Medicine, we are told, has been seeking this goal for 123 years—the goal of keeping alive parts of the body in a glass container so that scientists may observe them and learn by visual evidence their reactions to applied remedies in the search for curative treatments.

Lindbergh furnished the mechanical genius, Dr. Alexis Carrel, Nobel prizewinner, supplied the chemical ingredients for this factory of artificial blood. In 26 experiments with the device, only two infections resulted, and these infections were in the organs before removal.

It may be that the quiet, introspective Lindbergh has made in his new device a greater contribution to medical and surgical science than he made to aviation in blazing the trans-oceanic trail.

The country has fresh cause to be proud of one of its greatest unspoiled heroes. (Abilene Morning News)

But then, some folks being named Woods might think I was calling their kids, chickens. I am somewhat like Rogers and I don't know anything except what I read in the Review and a few other periodicals. Well back to the "Tree chickens" Wood. One day last week over somewhere near the bull-frog dairy things broke loose with bombarding on all sides. Boy howdy! I knew Caton or Eli Powell were bound to be on the chicken rustling line.

I'll bet Dr. Eli buys his shells from Alfred or down at the Mercantile, or Higginbothams. They top different and Caton handles shells of his own. And besides, well you know Caton folks, he stays there at the Racket Store. He's the guy that does not wear any hat and never gets in a hurry only when his trigger finger gets to itching. Well, when he gets that old fowling piece into action he pulls the trigger so slow, and by the time the handful of shot gets going in the air Mr. and Mrs. T. "tree chicken" has moved.

Well he keeps her in action until his side kick says: "Well you got one." But of course he means this Caton fellow had shot off a limb of the tree. (An Old Tennessee Hillbilly) A. C. Jones.

THE BOOK

the first line of which reads, "The Holy Bible," and which contains Four Great Treasures 64. BRUCE BARTON ESTHER

THE story comes late in the Old Testament chronology, dealing with the period when there were numerous Jews in Mesopotamia, descendants of those who were carried away captive by Nebuchadnezzar in 586 B. C. A hundred years had passed and, while many Jews had returned to Palestine, others were settled in different parts of the big unwieldy Persian kingdom, ruled over by Ahasuerus.

Mordecai was plotted against by a politician named Haman, who through misrepresentation caused the king to promulgate a decree of massacre against the Jews. It was at this crisis that Mordecai went to Esther, demanding.

That she should go in unto the king, to make supplication unto him, and to make request before him for her people.

She replied that no one was permitted to approach the king without being sent for by name and that the penalty of disobedience was death. In noble words Mordecai argued the case, and at length Esther was persuaded.

Go, gather together all the Jews that are present in Shushan (she replied), and fast ye for me, and neither eat nor drink three days, night or day: I also and my maiden will fast likewise; and so will I go in unto the king, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, I perish.

The third day came. Modestly but with firm step and head erect, she moved into the inner court where sat Ahasuerus on his mighty throne. There was an awful moment of suspense while the courtiers watched with bated breath to see what destruction would descend upon this girl who had dared to break the law. But her beauty was irresistible. The king held out his scepter, the sign of royal recognition. Esther knelt and touched it and made her plea and won.

A new decree was promulgated; the Jews were restored to favor and began promptly to take advantage of their opportunities to grow rich. Haman by poetic justice was hanged on the high gallows which he had built for Mordecai.

The finest passage in the whole book is Mordecai's ringing answer to Esther when she hesitated to approach the king, arguing that her feeble strength and abilities could not possibly prevail in such an emergency:

Those words have rung down the corridors of Time as an undying challenge to the courage and faith of youth. "Let no faint-heartedness turn you aside from the duty to which you are clearly called, no matter how hard that duty may be or how much apparently beyond your powers."

CROSS PLAINS HAS DONE WHAT FORT WORTH COULD NOT, SAYS C. A. LOTIEF

Dear Editor: I wish to add to what was said in last week's paper by Mr. Chas. F. Hemphill in the article headed: "Hemphill Points Out Why Cross Plains Is Worthy of Boosting", the following:

Cross Plains deserves to be congratulated in having what I think is the best governing body in any small city in Texas. Under the leadership of our beloved Mayor Rev. S. P. Collins and with the assistance of our present Councilmen, they have done the "impossible" in building a municipally owned gas system, whereby they have saved the consumers hundreds of dollars on gas bills. They deserve to be especially commended, I think, because of the fact that their efforts were started without any capital at all.

The city of Fort Worth has tried to do what we have already done here, and with all their wealth and wisdom they have failed to reach their goal.

In closing, let us all stand behind our Mayor and present council to finish their task.

Very truly yours, CECIL A. LOTIEF

"CALLAWAY IGNORANT OF FEELINGS OF PEOPLE ON RELIEF", WOMAN WRITES

Sir: I wish to offer this letter in refutation of the erroneous and ridiculous statements made in a letter written by Cleve Callaway. He says that the people on relief are getting too little publicity for the large amount of money they are sucking from the national treasury. I think his statement is not true that he is championing their cause by asking greater publicity. Without wishing to become personal, I must say the gentleman who makes this statement is entirely ignorant of the feeling and attitude of the people on relief. First of all, the large amount he claims is received in our county for relief is entirely inadequate for even the bare necessities of life, and the idea of giving publicity, to the fact—that people are not able to pay doctor bills, dental bills, rent, gas and electric bills and without the means of purchasing the cheapest forms of amusements is beyond comprehension. I know from personal contact with people on relief that most of them are disgusted with present conditions and are ashamed of their personal and individual situations. I advocate publicity for the farmer, even though his check is a handkerchief one.

Flaura Jackson, Cross Plains.

NIMRODS GIVEN HAIL COLUMBIA BY AN OLD TENNESSEE HILLBILLY

Editor the Review: If you will allow me space in your columns, I would like to ask some of the nimrods how many shots it takes to kill a "tree chicken", or where they buy their cartridges, or how many is the bag limit. I might call this "tree chicken" a wood (or woods) chicken.

Happenings In And Around
CLYDE

By M. H. Perkins

Charlie Tate, the young son of Elmer Tate, had his leg severed by a binder while his father was cutting grain last Friday.

The boy was riding a tractor and he jumped off of the tractor to run out of the way and, but he was hit in the head and before the machine could be stopped the cycle had almost severed his leg.

Sunday morning at 8 a. m. Mr. J. A. Nance and Mrs. Preston Clark were married. The ceremony took place in Abilene. These were both prominent people of the Enla community.

Saturday afternoon about five o'clock, the son of L. V. Munson, who lives about three miles South East of Clyde on the hi-way was instantly killed by a tourist from Chicago. The boy was riding a bicycle, going East on the hi-way and was approached from behind. The boy was buried in the Catholic Cemetery at one o'clock. The cemetery is just about a mile West of where he was killed. Funeral services were held at the Catholic Church under the directions of Father Nufer. Patterson Funeral Home had charge of the body. It was a very sad affair.

Billie Jo Turner of Ranger, Texas is visiting his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Gerdis. Also Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Perkins, his Uncle and Aunt.

Mrs. Clyde Moore and children, Peggy Marie and John, Ed have returned to their home at Plainview. They had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. O. G. South. They were accompanied as far as Sweetwater by Mr. and Mrs. O. G. South while they were entertained with a picnic supper and fishing trip out at the Sweetwater Lake by Mrs. L. T. McBeth and Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Minnix Jr.

S. B. Strahan of Cottonwood was transacting business in Clyde Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Conrad Cotton and mother, Mrs. Cotton, Mrs. Robert Bassetti, Lena Harris, Mrs. J. M. Richardson and Enla Cotton left Sunday at one o'clock on a motor trip to Carlsbad Cavern.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Damewood of Jal New Mexico spent the week end visiting their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Walker.

Mr. M. E. Smith Construction Superintendent of the Standard Oil Company is spending his vacation with his father who lives in Clyde. Mr. Smith has just completed the construction of a large refinery for the Standard Oil Company on the Island of Ruby in the Dutch Indies.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Harris have returned home after having visited here, his and her folks, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bailey, and Mr. and Mrs. John Harris and other relatives and friends in and around Clyde. Mr. Harris and Mr. Damewood are connected with the Natural Gas Company.

Persons in and around Clyde now see vegetables and all kind of fruits on the market. Crops are looking fine. One would think that there never had been a drought around Clyde.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawk Roberts of Dudley, who are prominent merchants, were transacting business in Clyde Tuesday.

The cannery is running full blast right now putting out as many as a thousand cans some days. They are unable to keep up with the things that the people are bringing in to be canned. We hope before another season that the cannery will be enlarged so that it will take care of this entire community.

The 4-H Clubs in and around Clyde are making preparations to attend the county meeting at Baird July the 6th.

The Nimrods around Clyde have been pretty busy and seem to have a right smart of luck.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Green and family and Professor Jennings and wife are spending an outing at Luders, Texas, on the Clear Fork.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Hunt and son, spent the day with Mrs. Hunts parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kendrick in the Denton Community last Sunday.

bid except the rodeo which will be handled, if deemed advisable, by the general picnic committee.

Reserving the right to reject any and all bids the committee will sell to the highest bidder the entire concession and carnival privilege with the understanding that such amount as is bid is to be paid in cash that successful bidder will provide such license fees as may be necessary, clean the grounds, furnish a public address system for both days' program, thoroughly advertise celebration and provide free drinking water and seats for the convenience of the public.

All bids to be considered must be in written form and be turned into Ralph Chandler, Chairman of the Picnic Committee, before five o'clock Monday afternoon, July 1, 1935.

Howard Coburn and Parker Baum, who are working at Big Spring, spent Tuesday night with their families here.

C. C. Neeb was a visitor in Fort Worth last week.

COOPERATION

It takes cooperation within a family for complete happiness, cooperation in a business for success, cooperation of citizens for growth of a community. NO word commands more meaning.

Every citizen of this trade territory should be interested in the growth and prosperity of Cross Plains. To farmers a thriving town means a greater outlet for all marketable commodities. To merchants a prosperous population is a greater potential outlet for the goods he has to sell. Schools, churches, lodges and all individual enterprises are dependent upon the welfare of their people. The destiny and prosperity of all are congruent.

These facts are indisputable, And merely by working hand in hand—cooperation if you please—our town and our people could be happier and enjoy more of the comforts of life.

Let's all get the "Boosting Fever" and herald the advantages, good points and possibilities of Cross Plains to a pessimistic world. A little bit of optimism and a great deal of cooperative boosting is the remedy and recipe for forward strides.

This newspaper is pledged to support a campaign of this nature. Will you do your part by enlisting under the banner of Home Town Loyalty and trading in your home town exclusively, boosting it, helping the farmers to achieve a market for every commodity they have to sell?

Let's Make Cross Plains

RACE THRILLER AT LIBERTY THEATER

Roaring around the motor ovals at flashing speed, Tim McCoy puts plenty of thrills and excitement into his latest Columbia action drama, "Straightaway," on the bill tonight and Saturday at the Liberty Theatre.

When Tim gets orders to throw a race, he resigns his job and goes to work for a rival manufacturer, builder of speedy cars, who is bringing out what promises to be the fastest car on the tracks. As captain of the racing team, Tim insists that his young brother drive the car.

Tim's ex-employer, seeing in the new car a menace to his continued prosperity, bribes his own driver to "get" Tim, and to put the new car "through the fence". Their attempt on Tim fails, and when they try to wreck his brother's car, he interposes his own between and takes the crash himself.

The balance of the cast includes Francis McDonald, William Bakewell, Samuel S. Hinds, Lafe McKee and Ward Bond. The direction is by Otto Brower, from an original story by Lambert Hillyer.

COTTONWOOD MEETING WILL BEGIN SUNDAY

Rev. J. B. Baker, of Tye, will do the preaching in the annual Summer revival of the Cottonwood Methodist church which is to begin Sunday night, June 30. Two services will be held daily; one in the morning at 10 o'clock and the other at evenings at eight fifteen.

Rev. McCord, pastor of the Cottonwood church, in commenting upon the man who is to do the preaching, said: "Brother Baker needs no introduction to Cottonwood people. He formerly served as pastor of the church. Everyone is urged to come and hear this man so loved by the people he once served."

STAR'S AGILITY AVERTS MISHAP ON MOVIE SET

Raymond Walburn, Broadway leading man recently brought to the screen by Columbia made a hero of himself by courageously preventing a possible fire on the "Mills of the Gods" set, which stars May Robson in her third Columbia picture of the year. A buffet breakfast was being served for the scene, with Walburn serving himself from a silver hotplate of liver and bacon on the buffet. Suddenly the alcohol lamp under the hotplate flared up, scorching the lace. Walburn, attempting to lift the thing off the buffet, found it was scorching hot, and grabbed it twice before he hit a possible spot. He set the thing on the floor successfully but got a three inch blister in the palm of his hand that could be seen from across the set.

Two prop men, rushing to his aid, battled unsuccessfully with the blazing hotplate until a third brought a wet cloth to smother it. "Mills of the Gods" will be seen Wednesday at the Liberty Theatre.

MRS. PINK BARR HOME IS SCENE OF REUNION

A typographical error which appeared in an article last week telling of a family reunion at the home of Mrs. Pink Barr, greatly detracted from its meaning. The article should have read as follows:

A reunion of the Williamson family was held at the home of Mrs. Pink Barr Sunday, when members of the family gathered there at noon for luncheon.

Those attending the reunion were as follows: Dr. Ed Williamson and A. J. Williamson, both of Gurley, Alabama; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Williamson, of Seminole, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. YOUR HOME

What Does It Need

Make A Careful Check Each Year

—It is safe economy to keep your home in good repair at all times. If your roof is leaking, the porches beginning to rot, the paint cracking and peeling, a few dollars spent now will save you many dollars later. The longer you let these deteriorations go before being repaired not only endangers the safeness of your house but accumulates more expense.

Glass

We have one of the largest stocks of glass in this part of the state. We can cut any size that you need, in any type of glass you might need.

Before You Build Or Repair Let Us Furnish An Estimate

Quantity buying enables us to sell you quality lumber at money saving prices. We are fully stocked to give you any type of material that you need. We offer you the advantages of our home planning service, maintained by our employes to assist you in making plans for repairs and new homes. Whether it be a grainery, outhouses, barns, fences, home, or what not, we feel you can make a definite saving by letting us make an estimate on the job.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

OUR kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as nature intended—fail to remove impurities from the system when retained. Then you may suffer nagging back-ache, dizziness, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, swollen limbs, feel nervous, miserable—all upset.

Don't delay! Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are especially for poorly functioning kidneys. They are recommended by grateful users the country over. Get them from your druggist.

Telephone News

The "night rate" on long distance calls has been changed from 8:30 P. M. to 7 o'clock P. M.

As telephone users all know, the "night rate" is much cheaper. We are, therefore, exceedingly glad to announce this improvement in our service.

Why Take A Chance ?

TORNADOES Strike Anytime

—This fact has been clearly demonstrated. Why not build a cellar and protect yourself and your family from the ravages of the elements by building a strong cellar. The cost is not prohibitive and a cellar makes an ideal place to store canned goods and vegetables. Come by and let us give you the figures on the cost of a good cellar.
