COUNTY TRACK MEET MAY BE HERE

HOME TOWN GOSSIP

We are told that the romance of seven seas no longer appeals to Harlie Neel's adventurous fancy. Rosalie Outbirth, why would you wreck such a career?

And those of you who missed seeing Harve Vestal pay his 'hair pulling' wager to Bye Montgomery, should urge that the spectacle be repeated. It was really a dandy.

Nomination for one of the most interesting books ever written on Texas politics, 'The Battles of Peace' by Pat M. Neff.

'Snip' Caton has risen to the height of Cross Plains most gallant son. A girl hardly hangs her bonnet here until he is giving her the 'rush act'. Most recently, he is taking an active interest about the Farmers National Bank.

To date John Browning has landed the largest bass, in the Cross Plains Hardware Company's contest to determine the best local nimrod. If a certain fellow we know of can secure some license, however, John's title may be disputed.

Interesting facts about local people: Chase Adams has set more than six miles of type in his five years with the Review; S. F. Bond has been the first man to town more than 2,000 mornings; Stanley Clark is the youngest proprietor of a local business concern; Wilber (Skipper) Wright has more seniority than any other man working on the Katy railroad between, and including, Cross Plains and DeLeon.

It befalls our conscientious duty to reprimand C. W. Kemper and Bon Huntington this week for their part in the football game at the high school gridiron last Friday. We were of the opinion that the gents in question were dyed in the wool supporters of the ol' home town. But would you believe it, we heard them giving out a few rah rahs for the visitors. Tsh, tsh.

And speaking of football, did you notice the pep squad on parade after the game Friday afternoon? They promenaded right down Main Street with shirt-tails floating in the breeze. Even the sponsor, Miss Louise Nelson, entered into the spirit of the occasion and was at the head of the column.

With such loyal (and might we add, charming) supporters, how could these Buffaloes fall down. And it is largely because of this unbeatable spirit that we are picking the thundering herd to tromp Moran in the third conference game here this afternoon, when dope stacks up just about equal.

Nationwide Buy Now Move Hits Cross Plains

N. R. A. OFFICIALS SEE MORE PURCHASING AS RESULT OF THE PLAN

Swinging into line with the rest of America in the great "Now Is The Time To Buy" movement Cross Plains has already developed a militant organization and is ready to go ahead with the drive just as rapidly as preliminary details can be worked out. In a statement yesterday I. H. Kendrick, chairman of the local committee, made it clear that everything possible will be done by this group to speed up business in accordance with the plans outlined by the N.R.A. in Washington.

"This program is an attack on the depression from an entirely different angle than anything that has been done before," said Mr. Kendrick. "We are attacking the depression with the weapons of salesmanship. We all know that during the last three years or more there has been great lack of buying by individuals, family groups and business organizations. The present nation-wide campaign is simply a drive to get people to buy the things they would have been buying during the last three years or so if it had not been for their fear complex.

"Of course, we are well aware of the fact that there are some people who can not afford to do any special buying at this time. But they are very much in the minority. Most families here, can make at least some extra purchases.

"The subject of our efforts will be to convince such persons that it will be to their interest to buy now the things that under ordinary circumstances they would have bought in recent years. Bear in mind that just a little more spending by each family in Cross Plains and vicinity will make all the difference in the world to the business interests of this city and trade territory.

Mr. Kendrick said that reports from Washington indicated that the present movement was spreading like wild-fire over the country and was bound to be a great success.

"N.R.A. headquarters in Washington are getting reports of tremendous enthusiasm for the drive," he said. In numerous places, mass meetings of the business men have been held, definite plan have been mapped out, committees appointed and the work is getting under way in real American go-getter fashion. The increased business momentum which started with the Blue Eagle drive is now being accelerated. We know that Cross Plains is not going to lag behind. I do not say this as a matter of patriotism, though I realize that this campaign has a patriotic side to it. What is outstanding at this time is that it really is a matter of local self interest to get into this prosperity parade.

METHODISTS TO CLOSE REVIVAL AT SUNDAY EVENING'S SERVICE

Cross Plains' Methodist annual revival for which Rev. C. C. Armstrong, pastor, has been doing the preaching, will close with the evening service Sunday. The meeting began last Sunday with Presiding Elder W. M. Murrell delivering the opening sermon. The Rev. Armstrong assumed the pulpit that night and has filled it twice daily since.

Good crowds have attended practically every service both morning and night. The morning devotional is at 10 each morning at the evening at seven thirty p. m.

In a statement to the Review yesterday Rev. Armstrong said, "We are thankful for the cooperation that has been shown us thus far in the meeting but urgently request church members of all denominations, non church members", christians and non christians to rally to our cause for these three last days. Every person in the Cross Plains trade territory is extended a cordial invitation to any and all services".

Mrs. M. G. Underwood has been conducting song services during the revival and Mrs. Robert Gaines is at the piano.

FEDERAL LAND BANK HEAD EXPLAINS HOW FARM LOANS MADE

The basis on which appraisals are made in connection with applications for loans from the Federal Land Bank and the Land Bank Commissioner was outlined last week by A. C. Williams, President of the Federal Land Bank of Houston. The statement was made, Mr. Williams said, because many persons have evidenced a lack of understanding of the appraisals made of farm properties offered as security for loans.

It was explained by Mr Williams that the basis of appraisal is the normal value of the land for agricultural purposes and its earning power for such purposes is a principal factor. Average prices of farm commodities during the five year period from August 1909 to July 1914 are now being used as a principal guide in determining the earning power and normal value of farms, allowance being made, of course, for changes in taxes and other costs and in the economic position of commodities produced.

LOCAL STUDY CLUB HOST TO 50 GUESTS AT MEET WEDNESDAY

Callahan County club institute held its semi-annual meeting here Wednesday afternoon in the auditorium of the Presbyterian church, with the Wednesday Study Club, of this place, as host. 50 visiting delegates were present, representing Putnam and Baird.

Mrs. R. E. Gaines, president of the local organization, presided. Mrs. Peyton Smith, recording secretary of the local club, acted as secretary of the countywide organization.

Plans were instituted to secure a Home Demonstration Agent for Callahan County. A committee composed of Mrs. L. L. Blackburn, Baird; Mrs. Ace Hickman, Baird; Mrs. John Cook, Putnam; Mrs. C. B. Synder, Jr., Baird and Mrs. R. E. Gaines, Cross Plains; was appointed to work out the details of securing an agent. They announced that a county wide petition would be circulated among tax payers and presented to the commissioner's court to employ a demonstration agent, in the same fashion as is done with a County Agriculture Agent.

The program opened Wednesday afternoon with a welcome address by Mrs. R. E. Gaines. Mrs. Bill Hatcher, of the Delphian Club, Baird, responded. "Texas our Texas" was sung by the assembly. Mrs. John Cook, of Putnam, offered the invocation. A piano solo was played by Mrs. R. E. Gaines, Cross Plains; musical reading by little Miss Bettie Foy Latimer, of Baird; vocal duet, Mesdames M. J. Holmes and Buster George; piano solo, Miss Elouise Norred, of Putnam.

Mrs. J. A. Caton introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland who is president of Sixth District Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. She gave a brief review of the beginning and progress of Women's Clubs in America full of humor and interesting information, her message was received with enthusiasm. Mrs. James Horton, of Eastland, who as official secretary, accompanied Mrs. Perkins was introduced to assembly and spoke briefly of the value of Junior Clubs, and circulating libraries.

Institute adjourned to meet April 11, 1934, with Delphian club, of Baird. Refreshments consisting of congealed salad, bread and butter sandwiches, coffee and mints were served in the tastefully decorated basement dining room. A season of animated conversation and social fellowship brought to a close a most delightful afternoon.

BUFFALOES WIN 7 6 OVER PIONEER IN HECTIC GAME

In the most spectacular football game seen on the local gridiron since last Fall, when the Cross Plains 'Buffaloes' bowed to Rising Star in a hectic contest of one point majority, the thundering herd triumphed over Pioneer seven to six Friday afternoon, before a crowd estimated at 1,000.

The game was featured by groomed offense by both delegations and unexpected open field dashes. Hungry Spencer, Buff back, crossed the Pioneer goal in the second quarter for the first and only touchdown for Coach Goober Keyes' charges. Halbert kicked from placement for the extra point.

Pioneer's marker came in the third quarter after one of Halbert's kicks had been blocked by a Panther lineman. At that juncture the visitors took the ball and plowed for two first downs and a touchdown. The attempted place-kick was blocked.

Cross Plains is credited with 12 first downs and Pioneer five.

Outstanding stars were numerous as both clubs rose to unexpected heights in their spirited endeavor for victory. For the visitors, however, Hardy Harris, Panthers quarter, was perhaps the most consistent ground gainer and was also a valuable man on the defense.

For the herd, Floyd Halbert, Hungry Spencer, Jimmie Lusk, 'Beevo' Webb and the entire forward wall turned in a creditable afternoon.

The game was the second in '33 conference play for both teams and will be inscribed in the second books as Cross Plains second triumph.

Miss Anna May McConathy spent week end in Cisco.

WOULD ATTRACT MORE THAN 1000 VISITORS LOCAL MEN BELIEVE

Callahan County's interscholastic league track meet may be held in Cross Plains for the second time in history this Spring. A movement to secure the annual school boy competition for this place was instituted this week by members of Cross Plains Lions Club and representatives of Cross Plains schools.

A petition of invitation was being mailed interscholastic league officials yesterday offering Cross Plains as the next meeting place. Superintendent Nat Williams, of Cross Plains schools, told the Review that he was of the opinion that the invitation would be accepted and that the meet would be held here.

This city was host to the event in 1931, when more than 1,000 visitors were attracted here by the keen competition in athletic and literary events. Inclement weather kept hundreds of other visitors away on that occasion and should Cross Plains get the meet for this year and the weather be fair, we could expect at least 1,500, the Review was told by a reliable authority yesterday.

Mr. Williams in placing the movement to bring the track meet here before the Lions Club said, "From a financial standpoint it will be cheaper for Cross Plains to entertain the entire body next Spring than it would be for us to transport 150 students to the county seat for competition.

Lions Club officials told the Review that they felt that in lieu of the fact that Cross Plains schools are the only one in this county to possess a gymnasium and since the local system is so thoroughly equipped to accommodate the visitors, they felt that this city's invitation would be accepted.

Cross Plains schools have won the greatest number of points—both athletic and literary—for three successive years and are already making preparations to duplicate the feat at the next meet.

Baird has been host to the gathering or the past two years.

PIONEER COACH WILL HAVE SHIFTED LINE FOR BAIRD CONTEST

Coach Gus Snodgrass has shifted the line-up of his Pioneer 'Panthers' for their encounter with Baird Friday afternoon, to add weight to his forward wall. Baird is reputed to have one of the bulkiest in the loop.

Joe Wheeler has been shifted to end, from guard position and his former place in the middle of the line will be filled by Oval Plumlee. Arledge has been moved back to end from the backfield.

Pioneer's starting line-up for Friday afternoon's fray will probably be as follows, said Coach Gus Snodgrass yesterday: ends, Arledge and Wheeler; tackles, Gibbard and Coon; guards, Barton and Plumlee; center, Harris; half-backs, Cash and Rockett; full J. W. Stone and quarter, Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. George Lamar and Mrs. Cordie Booth attended the Easter Star meeting in Baird Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Freeman and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Medford visited in Eastland Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Honk Alexander of Coleman visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burgin Wednesday.

'Buffaloes' To Meet Moran Here Friday

HERD WILL BE OUT TO CONTINUE FLAG MARCH

The Buffaloes will be out to continue their march for a district championship this Friday against the Moran Bulldogs on Murphy field. The Bulldogs are slated to have a strong team this year, having held Albany to a 6-0 victory last week end. They have 5 letter men returning this year, and have built a strong hustling team around them.

The Buffaloes, who have won two conference games and lost none will be out to keep their slate clean.

Last Friday the Buffaloes whipped their neighboring rivals in a hard fought contest. The Buffaloes showed their supremacy in almost every way. The Buffaloes scored early in the second quarter, with Spencer making an eight yard run around left end. The Pioneer boys scored late in the third quarter, with Harris going off right end for 3 yards. The Buffaloes came close to scoring several times, but fumbles and penalties were costly. The Panthers scored their touchdown as a result of a block punt.

See your favorite girl look her best! There will be a big Beauty Contest!

SPIRIT AROUSED AT PEP RALLY THURSDAY AND FRIDAY MORNING

The Spirit of Cross Plains High School was aroused Thursday morning when all the students of the high school met in the study hall for a short assembly. Miss Nelson had charge of the assembly. Short talks were made by the members of the faculty and the officers of the Pep Squad. Several school yells were given. This pep rally was continued Friday morning in the Study hall. Jack Scott, a representative from town, made a short talk. All the football boys made short talks and some of the members of the faculty. All of the members of the high school showed their feelings toward our football boys when they joined hands and sang our school song. This proves that it takes the old fighting spirit to win a ball game.

The Benefits of Government

By Charles Hemphill

Many people fail to appreciate the benefits derived from the taxes they pay; but who would go back to the trail through the forest, the ford in the river, the muddy roads and streets, the log school house, the undrained, swamps, and all the other discomforts of former times, even if taxes were twice as high as they are now?

Government protects our property from criminals. If it were not for the sheriffs, constables, and policemen, persons who are known to carry large amounts of money would never be safe; indeed persons who carry any money would be in constant danger of being robbed. Furthermore, every night one would retire with the dread of being murdered for the few pieces of silver in the house, and on getting up one would seldom find the milk which the milkman leaves on the doorstep.

Government performs functions which would be unprofitable as private ventures. The public health service is charged with preventing the importation of diseases from foreign countries or from State to State. In addition to the protection given to life by police officers and courts, we have traffic regulations, factory inspectors, safety appliance laws, and weather bureaus. If it were not for our government most of the insane would be at large to murder or destroy as the notion struck them. Also many thousands of poor would have to beg on the streets or starve, were it not for government. Congress gives aid to agriculture, protects the public morale, aids in commerce, takes censuses, and changes old laws in the interest of society.

Then there is free education. Over $2,000,000,000 is spent for public free education annually. This is an average of nearly $200 for each high school pupil. From these figures it can be seen that poor parents with large families could not afford to send their children to school were it not for free education. Free libraries, art galleries, and museums are also provided by governments; altogether government is an indispensable organization.

PEP SQUAD AND BUFFS APPRECIATE THE TOWN'S ATTITUDE

The football team and Pep Squad greatly appreciate the attitude of the town toward our school activities. They boost our football team, they back our Pep Squad in all our business transactions, and above all they boost our school. This is very encouraging and we thank you with all our hearts.

The Belton yarn mill is resuming operations and will use two shifts of eight hours each with approximately 200 workers engaged and a payroll of $10,000 a month. Within a few days after opening up the plant added 100 men to its payroll, doubling its output.

Oh! that everyone could have a car for general use like Gorth Fortune. It seems to be quite a fad with him to take sick girls home any time of the day.

What a life for a sailor! Floyd Halbert, besides having to learn all his football plays and pass his scholastic work, has to keep two jealous members of the female sex in his favor at the same time. Bah! (By one member)

When those Buffs pass the Moran team with a victory, things will be looking sweet and rosy. "Soe" will be back for next weeks game, probably. Ducean will be eligible soon, as will J. T. Cross, by the 30 day rule, and the teams moral will be mounting. On to District Championship! Selah! (this is borrowed from Jack Scott).

Berle Lusk has his heart and sole set on winning every football game this season. Besides from various other reason he would like to hug Frances McD. after every game, like he did last Friday, for winning.

SPORTS

The United States women's hockey team, composed of players from Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York and Boston, now touring Europe, won its first two games.

H. H. Seeley, of Amherst, Mass., in 1875, chinned himself with two hands 65 times. That's probably a record.

In 1880 H. Leussing, of Cincinnati, with his hands alone, lifted 1,384 lbs. in 1868 W. B. Curtis, of New York with the help of harness, lifted 3,239 pounds.

Back in 1918 the Pittsburgh Pirates playing against the Boston Braves went 20 innings without a score being made. In the 21st inning Pittsburgh scored two runs and won the game.

Here is the record for fungo hitting 419 feet, one-half inch. It is held by Ed Walsh, who at the time the record was made was with the Chicago White Sox. That was in 1911.

In a baseball game between Baltimore—National League—and St. Louis, back in 1892, Wilbert Robinson playing for Baltimore, was at bat seven times and made seven hits: six singles and a double. That's a record.

Women were not allowed to attend ancient wrestling matches. A few of them tried to get in by dressing in men's clothes, but they were promptly thrown from the top of a high cliff and the practice was broken up.

I oared a rustic boat today
Far up a shaded stream,
And rested then as thought were May
To meditate and dream.

October days and still the air
Is bathed in warm sunshine;
O such a day should banish care
It seems almost divine!

The leaves are turning yellow, red
The nuts are falling some;
A train of geese far overhead
Means colder days to come.

And still birds sing and squirrels play.

Could one but love the fall?
October seems to me, today,
The best month of them all!

SUCCESS

With Poultry

By Fuller D. Baird

What Breed Is Best?

The question of what breed is best is one that has been asked a great many times and is one that is very difficult to answer satisfactorily. The fact of the matter is that there is no one breed that is suitable for all purposes or is desired by all poultrymen.

Poultrymen who prefer high egg production with little or no consideration of table qualities usually select the Single Comb White Leghorns. To a lesser extent the other varieties of Leghorns and the Anconas are kept for egg producing purposes.

On farms or on commercial poultry farms where a dual purpose fowl is desired, because of the fact that there is a demand for table poultry, such breeds as Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds or New Hampshire Reds are preferred. For broiler production, the Barred Plymouth Rock, Wyandottes or crosses between Barred Rock and other breeds are especially popular. For the market trade demanding larger birds such as fowls, roasters, or capons, the Plymouth Rock, Wyandottes, Sussex, Cornish and Orpingtons rank the highest.

The selection of a breed to keep depends upon several factors including the demand of the markets that are easily accessible the demand of markets that are not close at hand and the advisability of meeting their demand, the stock available, the economy of production of the breed and the purpose of the individual poultryman. Rightly or wrongly, the preference of the individual poultryman is a factor which most often determines the selection of the breed kept. This may be for the best, due to the fact that it is probable a poultry keeper will take better care of the breed that he likes the best.

The color of eggs demanded by the most successful markets quite often is a factor in determining the breeds to be kept. Some markets pay more for white eggs than they do for brown eggs, and vice versa. If this difference amounts to enough in the course of a year, it will pay to keep the breed that lays the color of egg that is in greatest demand.

The color of the plumage is sometimes an important factor in the broiler market. A considerable number of markets demand or pay a premium for barred birds, others prefer white and there is sometimes a definite prejudice against red plumage. In the larger sizes of table poultry there seems to be a market tendency away from the barred toward the white plumage in certain markets and this must be given careful consideration.

The selection of a breed definitely depends upon the stock that is available. One cannot expect to be successful with one particular breed unless the qualities are present. The strain of a breed or variety is of much more importance than the breed or variety itself. It would be foolish to keep a breed or variety unless it was possible to get the desired qualities and at a reasonable price.

If economy of egg production is desired, the Single Comb White Leghorn probably has definite advantages. It is usually considered to have a somewhat higher fertility and hatchability, a lower chick mortality and a lower maintenance cost. They are also less broody than the heavier or medium weight, breeds, or varieties. To offset this, there may be equally good egg production and an increased return from the better table quality of breeds such as the Barred Plymouth Rock, White Wyandottes or Rhode Island Reds.

Cecil A. Lotief, State Representative, who is attending sessions of the legislature in Austin, spent the week end with his family in Cross Plains, returning to the capitol morning.

BY HIS WORKS

WHEN later Jesus had his brief hour of triumph, when the crowds flung their garments into the streets before him and shouted their "hosannas," even then his heart must have been sore at the thought that in all that multitude there was not one of the brothers for whom he had sacrificed so much of his youth. A warm hand-clasp from one of them would have meant more than all the high homage of the multitude. But they were far away, still, ashamed of the relationship, still regarding him as well meaning but not quite sane.

His best friend died doubting him. To that friend, John the Baptist, he owed his initial success. John had introduced him to the people; his first disciples had come because John pointed him out as a greater prophet than himself. The two men were entirely unlike in character and method. John was austere, harsh, denunciatory—a lonely spirit, dwelling apart. Jesus was cheerful, friendly, never happier than when in a crowd. John laid down for his disciples a rigid program of ceremonies and fasts; Jesus disregarded form and encouraged his disciples to disregard them. He recognized that he and John must do their work in different ways, but it had not occurred to him that their differences would ever loosen the bond of friendship. He was cut to the quick, therefore, when two messengers came from John with a wistful doubting question:

"Are you really a prophet, as I told people that you are?" John asked. "Instead of fasting you banquet. Instead of calling on men to abjure pleasure, you share their pleasures. Are you the hope of the world, as I believed you to be, or must we look for another?"

Very tenderly, but sadly, Jesus sent back his reply: "Go tell John what you have seen and heard," he said, "how the blind see, lepers are cleansed and the poor have the good news preached to them."

It was a wonderful answer, but did it convince his friend? A few weeks later, in the dungeon of Herod's castle, John paid the last great penalty for his idealism and courage. Jesus, when he heard of it, "withdrew into the hills alone." In that heart-breaking event he saw an omen for himself. They who had been strong enough to murder John would one day destroy him also. It was a bitter blow to his visions of success. He saw at the end of his path the shadow of the cross. And his heart was heavy because the friend who ought to have understood him best, had misunderstood him and died in doubt.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wittmer were in Ranger Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Cook were in Cisco Sunday afternoon.

ATWELL

LOCAL BOY WRITES NEWS OF TREE ARMY

The following interesting letter from Lowell Booth, a Cross Plains boy, who has just completed an enlistment with President Roosevelt's forest army and who has signed for another six months, was received by the Review this week.

"Well folks, things are mighty quite around here just now. Over half of the boys left for home Saturday. Guess they were glad to get back, they seemed to be pretty happy because of their leaving here".

"We started moving our camp today to New Mexico. Most of us are glad to be on the move for this scenery of cedar trees and rocks is becoming monotonous. In New Mexico—where our camp will be located we are told there are lots of Pine trees, and that it is really a beautiful place. We do not know what kind of work we will do at the new location."

The new camp has four barracks, a mess hall and recreation hall. All are made of lumber and cement, which is quite a contrast with the tents, which we have been using.

Well, 'Buffaloes' stay right in there and pitch and be sure to beat Baird. There was not a single boy from Baird to stay in the tree army.

Very truly yours,

Burkett Family Gets Verdict Of $13,250 Against Oil Company

Lenton Brown and children, of Burkett, obtained a jury verdict for $13,250 in district court at Coleman Wednesday afternoon in the suit brought against The Texas Company.

Trial of the case began Monday morning before District Judge E. J. Miller. Many witnesses testified in the case and much testimony was obtained before it went into the hands of the jurors late Wednesday.

Judge W. Marcus Weatherred, representing Mr. Brown in the case, said his client was pleased with the verdict of the jurors. About $30,250 had been asked.

The jury, of which T. E. D. Shepherd was foreman, answered the following issues in the case: They believed natural gas accumulated in the Lenton Brown cellar, that it was from The Texas company's Edmondson well, that The Texas company had been "negligent" and was the "proximate cause" of the explosion.

The verdict also said the jurors believed: Lenton Brown, Harold Brown and Verle Brown should be compensated to the extent of $10,000 for the death of Mr. Brown's wife and mother of the other two plaintiffs, it was the jurors' belief $5,000 should go to Mr. Brown and $2,500 each to the children of the $10,000.

Hospital expenses amounted to $250, the jurors said. In a special charge to the jurors they answered they believed Mrs. Brown suffered pain and should have been compensated to the extent of $3,000 and that it should be divided equally between the plaintiffs.

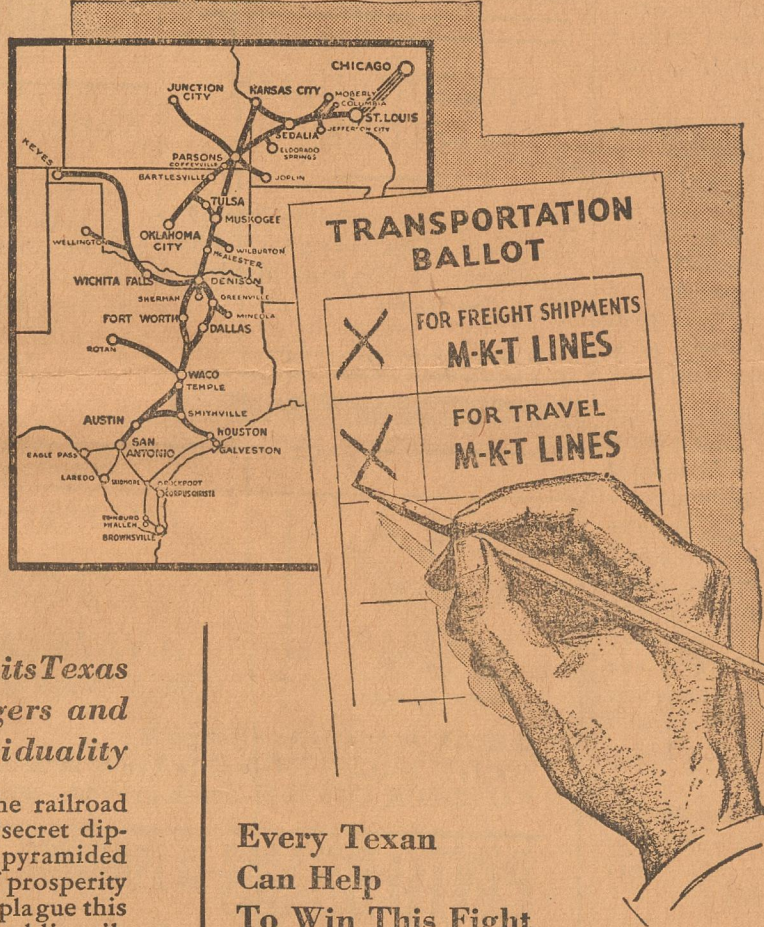

Mrs. Lenton Brown died May 24 at the Santa Anna hospital following an explosion the day before near her home. It was charged in the case that Mrs. Brown had gone to a cellar near the home when she saw the approach of what appeared to be storm clouds.

On striking a match at the cellar door an explosion occurred, causing her to become seriously injured. Her husband, hearing the blast, went to her aid and was severely burned about the hands and body in trying to effect a rescue.

A vote for the Katy is a vote for Texas

— and on the Record Below I am Confident of a Sweeping Victory

ON August 9th, in these columns, I appealed to the people of Texas, "frankly and directly." In plain language, without restraint or apology, I told you Texans the present position of this Texas railroad — this pioneering institution which opened untold opportunities to the ambition and industry of your forefathers and made possible the Texas of today.

In all the advertisements published to date I have based my plea for your support and patronage on a sort of informal Katy "platform" of four simple but powerful "planks." So frequently have these been applauded in the thousands of communications received that I elaborate on them here.

THE KATY "PLATFORM"

1 The Katy has sought none of the people's money, through any governmental agency.

All railroads must operate daily or a national calamity would exist. So vital is this need that if the railroads cannot operate on their own money, the people must advance it themselves. The Katy is gratified and proud to tell the people of Texas that it is one of the very few railroads in the whole country and the only one in the Southwest which has not put onto the people the burden of maintaining a service without which they would surely perish.

2 The Katy has unflinchingly paid taxes and all other bills.

The Katy has paid every obligation on due date. In many communities served by the Katy, this railroad is the largest taxpayer and those tax payments provide salaries for school teachers, peace officers, and help meet other local governmental expenses. Some local treasuries have run short of funds—the Katy has gladly paid many tax bills months in advance of due date, so school teachers and other employees could be paid in cash.

3 The Katy has maintained its Texas identity, free from mergers and influences that destroy individuality

The Katy has attended strictly to the railroad business. "Entangling alliances," "secret diplomacy," the now discredited device of pyramided financing were shunned in the days of prosperity and now there are none to rise up to plague this organization. The management of a public utility like the Katy is a public trust — that trust has been faithfully discharged.

4 The Katy has actually improved its facilities and service through the darkest days of the depression.

The Katy has not conserved its cash resources by letting the roadbed, engines, cars and shops go to rack and ruin. The exact reverse is true. All facilities are in shipshape order. New passenger trains and equipment have been added—freight service has been speeded up so much that many shippers now attach invoices to bills of lading, because they reach the consignee sooner than by first class mail.

While the railroads are specifically excluded from the NRA, the Katy is modestly proud of having been continuously in tune with the spirit of the National Program by its policy of improved service, and reports to the people that it is without a peer in maintaining its employment record at the highest possible peak, commensurate with the volume of business entrusted to it.

People of Texas! Does this record fire your imagination, challenge your fighting spirit and earn your support? Surely it does—your response thus far proves it. I thank you, but must remind you that the emergency we face still exists—and it is only by a continuation of the splendid response you have made that victory shall ultimately rest with the fine organization it is an honor and a privilege to lead.

Every Texan Can Help To Win This Fight

Don't hesitate to join the Katy in this fight because you feel that anything you might do would be unimportant. It IS important to the Katy no matter how inconsequential it may seem to you.

Here's How YOU Can Do Your Bit

There are four things you can do. First, ship your freight via Katy both within and outside of Katy territory. (On shipments coming to you from the North and East specify Katy routing through St. Louis or Kansas City). Second, ride our trains. Third, use your influence on every hand to boost the Katy. Opportunities are constantly presenting. Fourth, when you hear about movements of freight or know of people who intend to travel, see, phone or write the nearest Katy employee — for every Katy man and woman is in this fight, eager and anxious to pass on information to proper officials.

It costs you nothing extra to join this movement. Use coupon below — Mr. Cahill will personally see every communication.

I'll do my bit for the KATY

Trip To State Fair Contemplated

2 Busses May Take Students To Dallas

The High School has been contemplating a trip to the State Fair at Dallas this Friday. They will—if it can be arranged—leave Friday morning about one o'clock and arrive in Dallas about seven. Both busses will probably be taken.

This will be the third year Cross Cut High School has gone to the great exhibition. Each year something different is to be seen—something that is interesting and educational.

Some of those who went last year came home telling about a breath-taking ride on the greased lightning. They have advised novices to wait until they are ready to go home before they attempt to take the scary ride, so they can get around without their knees rattling together.

The airplane and automobile exhibition houses were also spoken of extensively. Several came home—after examining the different types of planes, determined to become an aviator. And there were a few—having seen the swell automobiles—who decided to take up chauffeur as a profession.

There is no doubt but what such a trip is worthwhile and interesting. The students learn much in this way that would never have been learned from text books or from teachers. Seeing is believing—and believing is convincing.

It has not been positively ascertained whether or not the planned excursion will be made, but it probably will. The question is left for the school board to decide.

Should they be permitted to go, the tickets and fare to and from the fair ground will be given free, Friday being Children's Day.

Monday Was 'Fish' Day At School Here

Monday was Freshman Day! The Juniors and Seniors planned a program for the Freshmen class in chapel. It consisted of the following more or less embarrassing acts: Ruth, Tula, Lorene, and Lena in "The Barefoot Girls"; a song by Lorene; a song by Lorene and Vaunda; "The Laughing Girl," by Opal; "Bah, bah, Black Sheep," by Raymond; a dance by Ruth and Lena with Chloe at the piano. "Mary Had a Little Lamb," by Vaunda; and a piano solo by Mildred. The Freshmen has as much, if not more, fun as the Seniors and Juniors.

The Freshmen girls were given orders to come to school Tuesday, and the remaining part of the week, with their dresses on backwards, without socks, with ribbons in their hair, and with their shoes not alike. The boys were told to have their breeches legs rolled up, and their shirts on backwards.

Is Life Eternal?

By Norris Chambers

Is life eternal, or is a man dead when he is pronounced dead by the physician? Does the consciousness stop at this stage, or does it go on? These are seemingly unanswerable questions, but the Hindus of India who have known occultism for centuries, have answered them. They have set down the principles of man's physical and spiritual consciousness, and told of the different planes on which he manifests.

There is a chain of planes around every inhabited planet in this universe and other universes, and these planes are termed the Astral World. This is the abode of the dead. The souls of those who die of that world are taken to the Astral World where they rest until they are again ready to return to that physical existence and advance another plane—or perhaps only a fraction of a plane. According to the spiritual advancement of a man, the number of his plane of astral existence is determined. When the top plane of enlightenment is reached on this earth, perhaps the man is ready to be transferred to a planet of higher spiritual advancement.

In this manner life is eternal—there is a possible way of destroying a human soul. If one soul were somehow destroyed, the whole system of universes and chains of universes would crumble and fall. One consciousness, although it is as a grain of sand of an eternal beach, is as important as God himself.

The experiences of our previous lives are stamped indelibly on our consciousnesses, and they help to form the perfect pattern for a future life which we are to live. The ills and misfortunes of lives millions of years ago are brought out consciously by means of an Inner Guide, or small still voice, sometimes still voice, sometimes spoken of as a conscience.

But how far does one soul advance? Is there any ultimate goal toward which to work? None—only upward and higher. From plane to plane—from world to world—from universe to universe—from eon to eon—an endless monotony. But probably someday the highest stage will be reached. Then there will be two Gods instead of one. Then there will be more and more—and finally, so far from now that the years would make a string of figures around the world a billion times, we shall all be Gods.

That is the way the Hindus put it—and the Hindus know; so believe this who will; and those who won't will discover it after they die.

WE WONDER

Lillian likes to go to Pioneer. Noble likes to play with carbide. Hollis can't make a hit with the girls.

Emma Lee doesn't like Cross Plains.

The Sophomores wonder if they were as bad last year as the Fish, are this year. (We hope not.)

Lorene Mitchell and Estelle Looney were visitors in Cross Plains Saturday night, and also Rising Star visitors Sunday night.

WHAT IF?

- 1. Doc Pickett were to be present every day?
2. Hester's beau should fail to spend all of the week end with her?
3. Lela Murrell could sing?
4. June had curly hair?
5. Andy liked the girls?
6. Lavonia lived in Grosvenor?
7. Faye couldn't laugh?
8. Estelle had white hair?
9. Billie Clark could go to Burkett?
10. Norris loved Ondelia?
11. Forister liked Cross Plains?
12. Lee knew his civics lesson?

Lillian Pickett entertained friends with a dance Friday night, a large crowd attended and a fine time was reported.

GRAMMAR GRADES TAKE AN INTEREST IN PAPER

The high school paper is spreading to Grammar School. Here is an article sent us by a seventh grade student, Margaret Pyrd:

Mr. Plummer is the teacher of the 6th and 7th grades. There are eight students in the sixth grade, and thirteen in the seventh. Our report cards were taken up the first thing Monday morning, and then Mr. Plummer put on his specks and signed our lessons, after giving us our books.

We appreciate these articles from the Grammar School, and if you other grades will hand in the number in your room, your teacher, etc, we shall be glad to publish it and give you credit.

LARGE FRESHMAN CLASS

There is a large class of Fish this year. Of course we don't want it told, but we are intending to take those upperclassmen down and paddle them good.

And that is not all we intend to do. We intend to study and make good grades. We believe we can get the largest percent on honor roll in high school. We like more science than we do algebra, but we are pretty good in both. English and History is easy for us too.

We are for the paper a hundred percent, and we intend to do our part to make it a success.

"Loans by the Federal Land Bank and the Land Bank Commissioner ordinarily are made for periods of from around ten to thirty-six years," Mr. Williams said. "In order to arrive at an estimate of the earning power of a farm, over a period of years, many things must be considered by the appraiser. He must determine the number of acres of good crop land, the number in pasture, and the number in orchard, timber, or waste; the character and condition of the soil; average rainfall; drainage; susceptibility to erosion; the carrying capacity of the pasture land; the prevalence of insect pests and plant diseases; the condition of the roads; and accessibility to markets. He must estimate production costs and the amount and kind of livestock that can be carried on the farm and the probable income from that source.

"Although earning power is given the greatest weight, other factors are of course considered in determining the value of a farm for loan purposes. These include anything that affects the salability of the farm, such as the location, the size and type of farm, community and development, and the distance to markets, schools, and churches. The amount and condition of the farm improvements is likewise important.
