CLYDE CLIPPINGS.

Feb. 18.—We have been having some very wet, cold weather. Most everybody housed up which makes news very scarce.

The health of our city is improving. Mr. J. M. Marshall is able to be out again after a spell of pneumonia.

Mr. Jim Morris has built a new residence on a two acre lot which he bought from Dr. Estes.

Mr. Will Ham is building a new residence on a three acre lot bought of Dr. Estes. Clyde still improves.

Born to Dr. J. M. Estes and wife, Feb. 9th, a boy. Mother and boy both doing well.

There is no question about the canning factory now. There has been a company organized composed of citizens of Clyde and business men of Abilene. Enough money has been subscribed to put in the canning factory and work will begin on it in ample time to have it ready for the coming crop. We are very glad to see it come and wish it all the success it may bring.

Constable Flemings succeeded in arresting a man near Eagle Cove one night last week that is wanted in Squire Darden's court.

Mr. A. G. Whittington, our popular R. R. agent, has taken a 30 days leave of absence and is visiting Houston on business. Mr. Geo. A. Littlefield, of Santo, is holding down the depot during Whit's absence.

A gentleman of Clyde, supposed to be Uncle Ned, received a very complimentary piece of poetry through the postoffice at Clyde. We never saw it. Sorry we didn't get it; would have gladly sent it to THE STAR. We think the one who wrote the poetry just the same, and will say next time send it to the editor of THE STAR.

There is quite a lot of guessing around Clyde as to who Uncle Ned is. That we will leave for them to speculate on and will say when we misrep any thing and some one up a tree we will come down and acknowledge the corn and never on the good editor.

UNCLE NED.

SPRING GAP LOCALS.

Feb. 18.—The cold snap has been the worst for several years, not the coldest, but the ice thickest on the trees.

Ed Eudaley accidentally shot his foot with a twenty-two calibre target. We have not heard how he is since the physician dressed it.

A. Ledbetter is complaining with rheumatism. He is now trying a simple remedy taken from the Woman's Century—carry an Irish potato. We will report results when they have time materialize.

G. W. Weeks had a new "false back" put in just in time to try the work of our rock mason.

Tom Holly who has been working on the Oriental railroad for three months came in the last of the week. He says he has enough of railroading for the present at least.

The Pilgrim settlement has voted to have spellings every Friday night. We wish them success in the new undertaking.

The two Mormon preachers have been in our midst several days, passed on and now we remember them by the literature. We had the pleasure to hear them once and to give them justice they talk very interesting.

DC BILL.

M. W. ALMAND BRINGS A MESSAGE FROM TEXAS.

On Monday we met Webster on the street and he had a most pleasant message from B. L. Boydston, Baird, Texas, for us. Great Scott went to Texas year before last and found Baird to be a wonderful town and very much like Conyers, and the store in which we were to perform was presided over by one of the cleverest men we have ever met, and the whole force, and all we came in contact with treated us nicely, and we will long remember with pleasure our short visit in the far western town of Baird, Callahan county, where all of whose citizens are white.—Conyers (Ga.) PUTNAM DOTS.

—This section of the county is well covered with plenty of rain, snow. The ground is certainly thoroughly wet.

A child of Mr. Rice Parks died last night. I understand the illness was pneumonia.

Mr. Frank Ingram has a very sick child.

Mr. Clinton is still very sick. Mr. Purles was on the sick list for several days, but is up again.

Mr. Williams departed this life February 15th about 10 o'clock p. m. It is said that Ollis was loved and respected by everybody who knew him and that he was put to rest in the cemetery with the honors of a soldier. I feel sure that there never was a young man who stood higher in the estimation of the people than did Ollis Williams. He was simply the personification of honesty. But Ollis is gone. His wife and relatives have the sympathy of the entire town and community. His remains were interred in the cemetery by the Woodmen of the World of which order he was a prominent member. Dr. B. F. Britton certainly ought to be commended for having returned loose everything that was left by the bedside of Ollis day after day and gave him all the attention that medical skill could give.

Mr. E. Clifford, of Fort Worth, came to see his step-brother, Ollis Williams in his last illness.

CAROL SURLIS.

We are going to have the drama to be presented at the Opera House, Monday night Feb. 23d, is to be an elegant and interesting play depicting an extreme case of domestic life which will appeal to the better natures and hold the attention of the audience. You must be sure to attend for in all probability this will be the last public entertainment of the kind at the Opera House for some months.

A representative of a private Oil Company was in the city one day last week to order for oil. He had already decided in making up a car when the Pierce Company got on to him and it is supposed they put him out of business here, by meeting his prices. At least it looks as if they had a man up the tree.

Please order now for a spring suit. We guarantee to fit and please you.

PLEASE OF DELAY.

The train is late this week, through no fault of ours however. We were to press yesterday, Thursday, at a usual hour, but owing to the delay of the passenger train, mentioned elsewhere, our paper, due on the train at 2:40 Thursday has not yet been printed, but will probably get out today, Friday. We regret the delay, but it was unavoidable under the circumstances.

WHEN BED TIME CAME.

How a Mother and Five Children Furnished a Car of Travelers.

On the Santa Fe train coming out of Kansas City last Thursday night was a mother and her brood of five-four girls and one boy. They had left Illinois the day before, and were on their way to the "new country" where the husband and father has a claim which is to be the new home.

Presently the cause of all this excitement was made plain—it was bed time, and they had not said their prayers. Quietly, modestly, without ostentation of display—yes, even timidly—the mother and her children knelt together at the long seat—the baby bowing his head with the rest and rubbing with chubby hands eyes that would hardly stay open, while the evening prayers were said.

Miss Jeffe Lambert returned Tuesday from a visit with relatives near Putnam.

CLYDE NEWS.

Feb. 14.—As we have seen nothing from Clyde for sometime, I will write a few lines. We thought Uncle Ned would write every week, but he has so much business on hand he is bound to be silent for awhile.

We are sorry to say that Mrs. Kaykendall is on the sick list. Hope she will be better soon.

B. C. Clemer has the engine and ways. Think he would be better if he could get some wood cut.

Rev. Humphrey has bought the J. L. Lindsey place. R. D. Robins has bought the Humphrey place. Property is worth one hundred cents on the dollar in Clyde.

Our Literary Society was postponed last Friday night on account of bad weather.

The Truck Growers will meet sometime next week. Probably Ned give the proceedings, as he is an up-to-date fellow and never blazes away.

L. L. Johnson, L. L. Welch and W. R. Cook made a business trip to Baird this week.

Some say that Uncle Ned is dead or J. N. Allen has scared him out of his socks; or he has the palsy so bad he can't hold his pen, others say he is absent. Nevertheless, if he is dead we will hear the bells tolling, if absent he will return by and by.

NOTICE TO PHYSICIANS.

In Commissioners' Court February Term, 1903.

It is ordered by the Court that hereafter all medical attention to and for the County paupers, and those on the County, shall be attended to by the County Physician and that no services rendered by others to such persons be paid for by the County, except where said County Physician calls on other physicians for their services, and it is further ordered that this order be published in THE BAIRD STAR and the Callahan County Prodigal.

I hereby certify that the above is a true and correct copy from the minutes of said Court.

W. P. COCHRAN, Clerk County Court. Baird, Texas, Feb. 16, 1903.

We understand that there are to be no villains and no heroes in the play to be given at the Opera House Monday evening, Feb. 23d. Yet the climaxes will be strong, the action brisk and the humor general. Your sympathies will be touched by the pathetic story of the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop, while at the same time your mirth will be revived by the delightful irresistible Mrs. Chetwyn. The audience can not fail to appreciate the strong and forceful part represented as Buxton Scott, a lawyer and mutual friend of the family. The love story between Herbert and the blind girl, Edith, is particularly pretty and interesting and the part played by Dr. Mellbank is well represented. Aunt Ruth to whom they all look for guidance and advice throughout the play represents a motherly character. In fact every character throughout the drama of young "Mrs. Winthrop" is particularly good and all are of equal importance. Reserved seats, 50 cents. General admission 35 cents. Children 25 cents. Tickets for reserved seats on sale at R. Phillips & Son.

DIED.

After a life of affliction and for the last year almost a constant sufferer, the death angel came to the relief of little Oscar Aquilla, son of Frank F. and Martha M. Suggs. Born Jan. 31, 1893, died Feb. 9, 1903, age 10 years and 9 days. Though this ordeal was not an unexpected one, the hearts of the parents deeply grieve for the little one on whom they had bestowed their tender care so long. And now that heaven claims their little treasure may the Lord direct their minds and hearts affection to Him who doeth all things well and may they realize their responsibility in bringing up the remaining brothers and sisters in the fear of the Lord, that when the summons shall come to call them away from the cares of earth they may meet an unbroken family in Heaven where little Oscar so happy and bright will await their coming.

Cancer Cured!! Mr. W. W. Prickett, of Stillwater, writes, Sept. 10th, 1901: I have been suffering several years with cancer on my face, which has caused great annoyance and unbearable pain. I was using Ballard's Salve for a sore leg, and through accident, I rubbed some of the salve on the cancer, and it gave me instant relief. I decided to continue the salve on the cancer, and in a short time the cancer came off, my face healed up and there is no slightest scar left. I have improved in the merits of this preparation. It cannot be too highly recommended. 25c, 50c and $1.00. For sale at Phillips & Son.

"SHALL WE MEET BEYOND THE RIVER."

Shall we meet beyond the river, is a most interesting theme, upon which the mind delights to dwell. When our thoughts in silent Sabbath wooing turn back upon hallowed memories, and in sweet review call up the endearing scenes and events connected with the history of "loved ones," who have passed away—scenes still fresh with gentle spirit breathings, when we almost feel the warm impress of a presence in our communings; like a holy divinity, moving in the midst of our quiet, peaceful surroundings and seemingly from the mysterious depths of our being, comes a constant restless desire to live hereafter, and gather at the "river, the beautiful river." Nor is it confined to any age, or stage of human existence, but runs through all nations and diffuses through all climes, from the untutored native, who looks away with savage faith and long to enter into the "Great Wigwam" of the Good Spirit, and join his brethren upon the green fields and celestial hunting grounds, to the humble devotee of the meek and lowly One, who said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." From whence comes this faith in, and longing after immortality? This endless and eternal thirsting to live forever? and why shrinks the soul back on herself, and starts at destruction? It is the Divinity that stirs within us. It is Heaven itself that points out a hereafter, and intimates eternity to man. Sad and widowed indeed, is the heart, when bereaved, and stripped of this hope immortal. And cold, cheerless and desolate, the thought of being laid away within the curtained folds of a long and endless night, where darkness broods forever and light never comes. If the floral tint, whose life blood touched too rudely by the wintry blast, folds its withered petals and sinks to earth to rest its appointed time, when warmed up by the genial rays of the sun of spring time returns again with refreshing fragrance, why not the light that brightens on infant smile or maiden cheek, when touched by the divinity of the Son of Righteousness, come again in millennial freshness and beauty—if not, why haunt the soul with dreamy comings or memories sweet? Yes, within the portals of a bright beyond, there is a holy radiance of eternal life and hope, and love. And a full assurance of a happy fruition of the redeeming promises, in the revealed word, as penned by inspiration. Every tint and touch on beauty's cheek, every song and forest note or silvered tone of merry running rill, or ocean with its heaving bosom, troubled from eternal depths. The mountain, uprearing the storm cloud with the lightning bolts flash upon its brow or bursting with electric fires, the starlit heaven, with its ever burning lamps, the sun and moon arbiters of day and night, the returning seasons, and rolling spheres all proclaim the eternal song of praise and immortality of man.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach and exposes the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucus instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. relieves all inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach, protects the nerves, and cures bad breath, sour risings, a sense of fullness after eating, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

“But where to find that happiest spot below; Who can direct when all pretend to know?—Goldsmith.

Many are satisfied to live in Northwest Texas, having proved the value of the land in this region as a good crop raiser. Not only Cattle, but Wheat, Cotton, Corn, Feed-stuffs, Cantaloupes, Garden Truck and Good Health flourish here—in a district where Malaria is impossible and very little doing for Jails and Hospitals.

Land, which is being sold at really low figures—the constantly increasing demand is steadily boosting values—is still abundant; and Farms and ranches of all sizes, very happily located, are being purchased daily.

We will gladly supply all askers with a copy of a little book, published by the Northwest Texas Real Estate Association, which contains an interesting series of straightforward statements of what PEOPLE HAVE ACCOMPLISHED along the line of “THE DENVER ROAD,” Passenger Department. Fort Worth, Texas. N. B.—We find our passenger patronage very gratifying. It is necessary to run three trains daily each way as far as Wichita Falls, and two clear thru. We continue, the year round, the excellent class A service that inspires the preference of Colorado and California Tourists, winter and summer. By the way we offer now more than half a dozen routes to California, the newest being via Dalhart (also good for old Mexico) with first-grade Eating Cars all the way. We sell a home seekers ticket, good thirty days, at one and a third the round trip, allowing stopovers at vernal and points beyond both ways
