Grain Prospects Brightened By Recent Rains HE AND T. E. BAUM FOR 2 VACANCIES

Bill Calhoun and Ben Atwood Are In Race For School Trustees; 2 Places Open

Names of only two candidates will appear on the printed ballot in the city election scheduled Tuesday, April first, at which time two aldermen are to be named for tenures of two years each. T. E. Baum, incumbent, and Willis J. Brown, who served as aldermen a number of years ago but has not been a member of the council for the past six years, will be the candidates. L. W. Placke, whose term expires simultaneously with that of T. E. Baum, is not a candidate, although he had been requested by a number of friends to offer himself

The city election is to be held in the water and gas office with J. C. Watson acting as presiding judge. Only a light vote is expected, due to the fact that there is no opposition and no issues are involved. In the school trustee election, carded Saturday of next week, April fifth, two candidates had been nominated yesterday for the vacances that are to arise the first week in April. A petition was circulated Monday nominating Ben A. Atwood, incumbent, and E. A. (Bill) Calhoun for the places, Jack Lacy, present president of the board, has declared that he will not be a candidate.

It is possible that others will be nominated for the school trustee places, however, petitions of nomination are required to be in the hands land by Thursday night. The Review had not learned, however, at press time vesterday of other candidates trustees are named for 3 year terms. Voting in the school trustee election is to be in the Cross Plains Motor Company, Inc., building with Sam C. Barr acting as presiding judge.

HATCHERY INSTALLS MORE MODERN EQUIPMENT

As a result of the recent installation of a 32,000 egg incubator, in addition to their already ultramodern equipment, Simpson Electric Hatchery at Coleman is now one of the largest hatcheries in this section of Texas. The plant now has a capacity of 99,000 chickens and turkeys per hatch-

already in operation at the plant will be utilized for turkey hatching. It was installed Saturday. Simpsons hatchery enjoys an extremely large clintele, having shipped baby chicks and poults last year to eight different states, according to W. T. Jones, Jr., manager.

Eggs used by the hatchery must be U.S. and Texas approved and their chickens are reputed to have an unusually low mortality rate.

T. B. BURKS BUYS C. S. BOYLES RESIDENCE IN NORTH PART OF TOWN

CROSS PLAINS, TEXAS

The old C. S. Boyles place, in the Northeast part of town, has been purchased by T. S. Burks of this place, who will repair the house and move in within the near future.

The old Boyles place was one of Cross Plains most beautiful homes a number of years ago but in recent years it has been permitted to depreciate. Mr. Burks plans, however, to restore the dwelling to its former beauty and will have a large comfortable home, probably one of the nicest in the city.

The Kings of Comedy spent nearly vear in developing their new story, which unfolds an uproarious farce. taking place in the Colorado gold country of 1870. It gives the Marxes their first "period picture," with costumes of an earlier era.

The comedy was tested for best laughs through 103 performances of the Marxes and a full cast before theatre audiences, before being played before the cameras. This was done to assure perfection in comedy sequences and dialogue.

Supporting the stars is a stellar east, including John Carroll, Diana lewis, Walter Woolf King and Robert Barrat. The production was directed by Edward Buzzell and was produced by Jack Cummings.

The plot is an exciting one about he mad antics of the Marx Brothrs in foiling a group of villains and rens from stealing a valuable deed o land from the hero and heroine. Vhile the plot is well rounded, verything is played for laughs, with with a piano solo by Chico, a harp number by Harpo, songs by Carroll, Miss Lewis and Groucho and a "Can-Can" dance by a dozen lovely
