Ronnie Edwards, agriculture science and technology teacher from Clarendon High School, received the Ten Year Service Award at the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas annual awards program, August 2, 1995, at the Abilene Civic Center.

Edwards received a bronze lapel pin to commemorate this occasion. The Association presents tenure awards based on years of teaching while being a member of the Association. James Dawley of Mexia, Association president, presented the award.

The Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas represents agricultural science and technology teachers throughout Texas. It has over 2,000 members, most of whom teach the 92,000 students enrolled in Texas agriculture science programs. Newspapers, radio stations, service clubs, legislators, school administrators, and other individuals also received awards for their support of agriculture science and FFA programs.

Countless students have benefitted from the experience and dedication of Edwards and will continue to do so as he continues his career at Clarendon.

BLACK-AND-WHITE PICTURES do not begin to show the beauty of the flowers that Perkins Osburn has planted around his house on Highway 287 East, but the whole town looks better as a result of his efforts. With recent rains, many flowers are putting on quite a show at the end of summer.

Girls Complete Silver Project

Mary Hoggatt, Jessie Shelley, and Kirsten Bertrand have remodeled the Bronco Football concession stand to receive their Girl Scout Silver Award.

The project included planning and organizing, as well as receiving approval and getting the funds donated. The concession stand was cleaned, painted, old locker and tables were moved out and new cabinets were installed. They got the funds donated by Bronco parents and colt parents organized their troops and mom's in cleaning and painting. Roy Bertrand, Marion Bolinger, and Robert Bertrand help in the actual cabinet installation.

Each girl logged well over 50 hours work on this project.

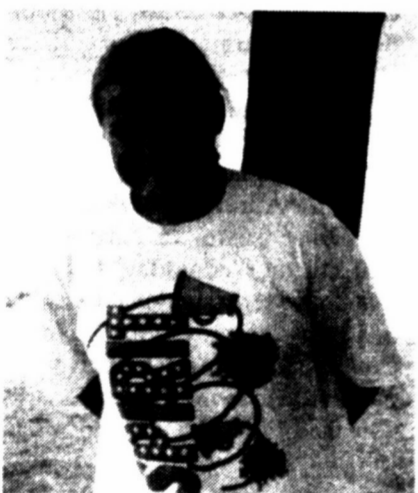

Hoggatt Goes To Camp

Gainesville - A unique camp eight miles east of Gainesville now has a special connection to Clarendon. Mary Hoggatt of Clarendon has joined some 550 campers ages 6 to 18 at Camp Sweeney, a safe, active, and educational environment for kids with diabetes.

Camp Sweeney's 80 member staff offers medical attention around the clock, as well as training in such vital needs as blood-sugar monitoring and insulin injections. In this monitored setting on 340 wooded acres, children feel free to enjoy the camp's activities: horseback riding, soccer, crafts, swimming and canoeing on Lake Dealey. Campers also learn about exercise and nutrition, and perhaps most importantly, they meet other children learning to cope with diabetes.

Summer camps often turn away children with diabetes because of their medical and dietary needs. But to attend Camp Sweeney, the only requirement is that the child have diabetes. Founded in 1950 by endocrinologist Dr. J. Shirley Sweeney, the summer camp proved to youngsters that diabetes is manageable, and that by taking responsibility for their health, they can enjoy a full and active life.

Camp Sweeney is funded by donations from individuals, foundations, and the United Way. About 95 percent of campers receive scholarship aid to defray summer-camp costs. Camp Sweeney is operated by the Southwestern Diabetic Foundation, Inc., P.O. Box 918, Gainesville, TX 76241, (817) 665-9502.

MARY HOGGATT of Clarendon attended Camp Sweeney in Gainesville recently. Camp Sweeney is a camp for diabetic children ages 6 to 18.

Cancer Society Offers Loss-Of-Life Seminar

The American Cancer Society will hold a Life After Loss Seminar during the month of September at the American Cancer Society office in Amarillo. Sessions will be held on consecutive Monday evenings, September 5, 12, 19, and 26 from 5:30-6:30 p.m.

The American Cancer Society offers this seminar and support group, without charge, to anyone who has experienced the death of a loved one within the past two years, regardless of the cause of the loved one's death.

Dealing with the death of a loved one is one of life's most difficult and stressful experiences. Often people feel lonely and confused because friends and family expect them to be over the death, yet their grieving continues. People may feel angry, guilty, or depressed. Many people find it helps to meet with others who understand. That includes others who are dealing with the death of a loved one, and professional counselors experienced in helping people work through their grief.

In the safe and supportive atmosphere of a small group, Life After Loss offers the opportunity to talk about experiences and hear from others in similar circumstances. Participants can begin to understand the grief process, their emotions, and how to deal with them. They can get ideas that may help them day-to-day, week-to-week, and long term.

The American Cancer Society offers Life After Loss as a community service, at no charge to participants. It is recommended that participants plan to attend all sessions to receive full benefit of the program.

For more information and to register for this program, please contact the American Cancer Society at 353-4306. The American Cancer Society is the nationwide community-based voluntary health organization dedicated to controlling cancer through research, education, and service.

Sharp Takes New Position

Dr. Kelvin Sharp has resigned his position as Dean of Instruction at Clarendon College effective August 18, 1995, to take a new position at West Texas A&M University.

Sharp has served as instructional dean for the past three years and had been with the college for almost a decade previously as mathematics instructor, division chairperson, and rodeo coach. At West Texas, Sharp will become a mathematics professor and also perform some administrative duties.

"Dr. Sharp's leaving represents a tremendous loss to Clarendon College," said Dr. Scott Elliott, college president. "He has been a major asset to the college for a long time. He has worn many different hats during his tenure and worn them all equally well."

Elliott credited Sharp, a champion team roper in rodeo competitions, with being especially instrumental in developing off-campus instructional activities during his administrative tenure.

"Dr. Sharp has developed relationships with communities and school districts within the college's service area that have resulted in bringing new and greater educational opportunities to the Texas Panhandle," Elliott said. "His expertise in academic issues in tandem with his agricultural and ranching background proved an outstanding combination in building those relationships for the college. He also did a superlative job in helping to recruit many, many students to the college and assisting them in developing academic and career paths."

Elliott said he has no immediate plans to replace Sharp, and will take some time to consider the college's options before conducting a job search.

"Kelvin had done so many valuable things for the college over the years that it's one of those cases where you don't try to replace the man, just the position," Elliott concluded.

"Fill The Boot" For MDA

Union and non-union firefighters across the nation will be participating in the "Fill The Boot" program to aide in the fight against muscular dystrophy. The firefighters will be collecting donations in Clarendon Saturday, August 26, from 7:30 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. at Hwy 287 and Main (downtown). The firefighters will be wearing official T-shirts to collect donations for MDA. Many of them will use their own "Boots" as collection containers.

The firefighters who are dedicated to saving human lives have a special interest in the same fight for human life as MDA. It's amazing how the loose change from concerned citizens pockets adds up to benefit the over 200 families locally affected by any of the 40 neuromuscular diseases that MDA covers. Collected donations stay in the Panhandle District. In 1994 the Firefighters collected $20,849.00. The funds go to local clinics at St. Anthony's Hospital providing free of charge to the patients, a monthly clinic which includes diagnostic testing and follow up card, monthly support meetings at West Pines Hospital, the purchase and repair of wheelchairs, summer camp, and much more.

Survivors include two sons, Mike Arisla of Clarendon and Marion Arisla of Amarillo; two daughters, Patsy Morgan of Bellview and Betty Wiley of Soddy Daisy, Tenn.; a brother, Duffie Fitzpatrick; 10 grandchildren; and 11 great grandchildren.

Henrietta Salmon

Funeral services for Henrietta Page Salmon, 82, were held at 10 a.m., Wednesday, August 9, 1995, in the First Baptist Church, Memphis, with Rev. O.K. Bowen, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Citizens Cemetery in Clarendon under the direction of Spicer Funeral Home.

Henrietta Edens Salmon died Monday, August 7, 1995. She was born July 17, 1913 in Granbury, Texas. She married Rowland Salmon on August 3, 1934 in Amarillo. He preceded her in death in 1977. She was a member of the Leaky, Brice, and Martin Baptist Churches.

Survivors include two sons, James Nolan Leon Salmon of Brice and Mackie Clark Salmon of Cedar Park; two daughters, Gaye Lynn Galvan of Atascadero, Calif. and Sammie Lou Deering of Clarendon; three brothers, Seth Edens of Glen Rose, Bill Edens of Clovis, N.M.; and two sisters, Bernice Coon of Abernathy and Grace

Baker of Clovis, N.M.

Pallbearers were Kirby Hatley, I.W. Lindley, Public Fowler, Thelma Lindley, Everett Williams and Cagle Davis.

Honorary pallbearers were Max Johnson, Bob Foard, and Myrland Foard.

The following is a eulogy written by Zackie Salmon, Sammie Downing, Gina Dilly, and Mackie Salmon.

In the wee hours of Monday morning, after we had shed our tears and said our good-byes, Sammie suggested that we write a eulogy for her mother. What we have tried to do is create a picture with words, a picture we can share as we sit here together, remembering a person we all loved very much.

Henrietta Salmon, best known as Net, was a great supporter of the farmer, an outspoken opponent of taxes, an enemy of weeds, and one heck of a Democrat. She fed every stray cat, dog, and human being that showed up at her door. Her home was always open, beans on the stove, cornbread in the oven, and a thick pallet of quilts on the floor.

She was always there whenever we needed her. She'd give a person a second chance if they deserved it. Some of us needed a third and fourth chance and she gave that too. I never heard her gossip or judge a person on hearsay.

Her motto was "use it up, wear it out, make do." She faced through the depression and had to learn to improvise. This included everything from making a tin can coffee pot to breaking an outlaw horse in order to haul water.

She loved to travel and enjoyed the thrill of going to new places and meeting new people. She never met a stranger, they were just friends she didn't know yet.

Amst Net loved the earth and could make anything grow whether it was a black-eyed pea or a young child. As Little Susie said, "Some of my best childhood memories are of times spent at Amst Net's." There are a lot of us in this room who can say the same.

I'd like to close with a story. Several years ago, Amst Net and her sister Kink were in Amarillo. By an honest mistake, they got into a car that looked exactly like Amst Net's Ford Falcon. As fate would have it, her key even fit the ignition. Off they went. Down around Tulia, it was flashing red lights and blaring sirens. Amst Net was pulled over for car theft. To make a long story short, Nolan had quite a time getting her out of that predicament! So lets remember, Amst Net's isn't gone, she's just driving a stolen car to heaven.

Dr. Dobson Answers Your Questions

Q. Since there are so many problems about the use of television in our home, wouldn't it be better to just get rid of TV until our children are grown up?

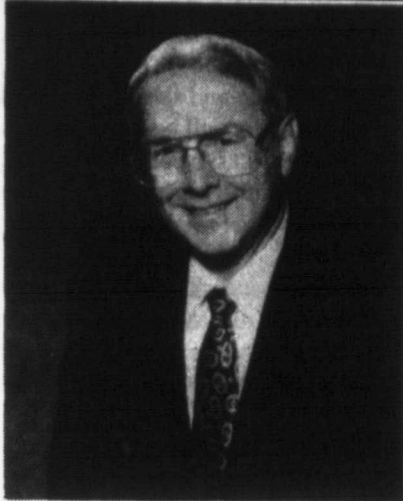

A. Some families have done just that, and I admire their courage in doing so. But I think it is possible to keep our television sets without being dominated by them. I would suggest that the entire family get together to talk specifically about television--what's wrong with it, how it can be managed, and how children can learn to be discerning and selective in their use of the TV set.

Furthermore, it is important for parents to watch television with their children, not only helping them understand what they are experiencing, but as a pleasant family activity. Watching TV together can be a wonderful springboard into various kinds of teaching and discussion if it is approached properly.

Q. I have a defiant 5-year-old son, and I'm doing my best to cope with the assignment of shaping his will. Lately, I've had feelings of guilt and self-doubt over the constant tug-of-war I'm in. Do other parents of strong-willed children feel the same?

A. Yes, many do. One of the problems is that parents have been told by the "experts" that managing children is duck soup for those who do it right. That leaves them with intense self-condemnation when things don't work that smoothly in their homes.

No one told them that parenthood would be this difficult, and they blame themselves for the tension that arises. They had planned to be such loving and effective parents, reading fairy tales to their pajama-clad angels by the fireplace. The difference between life as it is and life as it ought to be is a frightening bit of reality.

I'm glad you were able to verbalize your feelings of guilt and depression. That is important. In response, let me give you three assurances that will help you:

1. It isn't all your fault.
2. It won't always be so difficult.
3. You're probably doing a much better job than you think.

Hang in there. Your strong-willed child will someday be a stalwart, respectable, hard-working citizen whose only source of depression will emanate from conflict with his own strong-willed child.

Q. The children in our neighborhood are bratty with one another and disrespectful with adults. This upsets me, but I don't know what to do about it. I don't feel I have a right to discipline the children of my neighbors. How can I deal with this?

A. Parents in a neighborhood must learn to talk to each other about their kids, but that takes some doing! There is no quicker way to anger a mother than for another woman to criticize her precious cub. It is a delicate subject, indeed. That's why the typical neighborhood is like yours, providing little "feedback" to parents in regard to the behavior of their children. The kids know there are no lines of communication between adults, and they take advantage of the barrier.

What each block needs is a mother who has the courage to say, "I want to be told what my child does when he is beyond his own yard. If he is a brat with other children, I would like to know it. If he is disrespectful with adults, please mention it to me. I will not consider it tattling, and I won't resent your coming to me. I hope I can share my insights regarding your children, too. None of our sons and daughters is perfect, and we'll know better how to teach them if we can talk openly to each other as adults."

Parents who take this important first step--and it won't be an easy subject to broach--improve the chances of raising well-behaved children.

High Plains Better Health Notes

Claude Medical Clinic
A Service of High Plains Baptist Hospital
Tom White, P.A.

This article and the next two will cover the more common skin cancers. The focus will be on detection and steps that we can take to prevent developing skin cancer. This subject is important because all of us in this part of the country are at greater risk of developing one form of skin cancer or another due to our greater exposure to the sun's rays here in the Southwest.

Diagnosed skin cancer is increasing in frequency with one of every three cancers discovered in this country this year being a cancer of the skin. The projections for 1994 are that some 700,000 new cases of skin cancer will be diagnosed. About 80 percent of these will be basal cell carcinomas, and some 15 percent will be squamous cell carcinomas. Malignant melanoma will account for the remaining 5 percent. Fortunately, all three of these skin cancers responds well to treatment if found early.

Basal cell carcinoma is the most common skin cancer with about 560,000 cases projected in this country for 1994. It is slow growing occurring commonly in areas of chronic sun exposure like the head, neck, and hands. It rarely spreads to other parts of the body, but, left untreated, it can spread locally and severely damage surrounding tissue.

Squamous cell skin cancer will be found in about 100,000 people this year. It also usually develops in areas of chronic sun exposure such as the face, lips, hands, and outer edges of the ears, etc. It is invasive, that is, it can spread or metastasize to other parts of the body. About 1,000 of the people found to have squamous cell skin cancer this year will die from it and it is the damage from the metastases that are usually the cause of death.

The third type of skin cancer we will discuss, malignant melanoma, is the least frequently seen, but it is the one with the greatest increase in frequency. In fact, the incidence of malignant melanoma is increasing faster than any other form of cancer in this country. Some 53,000 people will be found with malignant melanoma this year and about 7,000 people will die from it. The incidence of this disease has increased from 1 person in 1,500 to 1 in 100 since 1930. While this increased incidence is worrisome, it appears that a large part of the cause is related to our increased exposure to the sun's rays, especially in childhood. Malignant melanoma is also invasive, spreading to other parts of the body if not found early. It too can be controlled with early diagnosis.

Texas Supreme Court Clarifies Hunting Lease Waivers

College Station - Landowners who lease their land for hunting often obtain waivers to minimize their liability. Recent rulings by the Texas Supreme Court have clarified what a waiver should contain.

"A waiver is defined as the intentional relinquishment of a known right," says Judon Fambrough, attorney with the Real Estate Center at Texas A&M University and author of The Texas Deer Lease.

"To be effective, the release provision must be based on an offer and acceptance where the parties have equal bargaining power," says Fambrough. "For example, parents cannot release in advance a minor's right to recover for personal injuries caused by the negligence of another."

Likewise, the agreement for release must be based on consideration, but it need not be monetary. An agreement not to sue in exchange for hunting rights may be sufficient.

Recently, the Texas Supreme Court added three requirements for an effective waiver agreement. First, there must be a statement in which the hunter expressly releases the landowner from any acts arising "from the landowner's negligence."

Second, the written contract must give the hunter fair notice of the release provision. The fair-notice principle focuses on the appearance and placement of the provision, not its content.

"The fair-notice requirement is not necessary if the landowner can prove the hunter had actual notice or knowledge of the provision," says Fambrough.

Third, the release provisions must be conspicuous. The element of "conspicuousness" is tied to the "fair-notice" requirement.

"Basically, the release provision must be conspicuous enough to give the hunter fair notice of its existence," says Fambrough. "What is conspicuous? There's no real answer."

Fambrough suggests several ways to make a provision conspicuous. These include emphasizing entire paragraphs, not just a portion; placing provision at the beginning or end of the contract on a separate sheet of paper; use of italicized headings and having hunter initial the waiver paragraph if it is part of the contract or to sign the page if it is a separate sheet.

Calling the Shots on Crucial Issues

I have promised not to send out mass mailings at taxpayer expense, using the so-called franking privilege, so I have not conducted any formal surveys of constituents through the mails.

But since this newspaper has made a commitment to inform its readers on issues affecting all of us, I am asking them to allow me to communicate with you on an informal basis by asking you to answer these questions and return this form.

- 1) Do you favor replacing the current income tax with a flat tax (one rate for everyone, regardless of income with no mortgage or charitable deductions)? Or a national sales tax or a consumption tax, which wouldn't tax you on money you save, but only what you spend?

Beauty Pageant Set

San Antonio - Mrs. Texas International officials are looking for the next Mrs. Clarendon. The woman selected will receive her crown and banner and will have the opportunity to represent Clarendon at the 1996 Mrs. Texas International Pageant which will be held in San Antonio February 22-25. Married women between the ages of 24 and 54 who have been married for a minimum of two years and have resided in the Clarendon area for at least six months qualify to compete for the title.

The Mrs. Texas International Pageant is an official preliminary of the Mrs. International Pageant, a system which recognizes the virtues of professional, family, and community involvement among married women. "Contestants compete in three categories," says State Director, Shonnie Bray, "Fifty percent of the score is given in the interview category. Twenty five percent is awarded in the physical fitness category, and twenty five percent is awarded in the evening gown category. Contestants wear aerobic wear for the physical fitness competition and there is no swimsuit competition in our pageant." Partial proceeds from the 1996 pageant will benefit The Mrs. Texas Scholarship Fund, a fund which is used to support students who demonstrate good citizenship.

Selected City Queens will be invited to participate in several community service oriented projects including the Anthony Robbins Foundation Thanksgiving Basket Brigade, Easter Seal Telethon, and Mrs. Texas International's Youth Celebration.

To receive an application for the Mrs. Clarendon competition, call the state office at (210) 590-6877, or write to Bray Creative Service, independent producers of the Mrs. Texas International Pageant, at 5410 Vista Court, San Antonio, Texas, 78247.

"Unpredictable" Sums Up Spring Weather Pattern

Trying to chart the spring 1995 weather is like watching a roller coaster ride, as temperatures and moisture fluctuated, which dramatically affected cotton germination and early season growth.

"It was really cool during April and early May," says Terry Wheeler, Ph.D., associate professor of plant pathology at Texas A&M's Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock. "Soil temperatures were as low as 57 degrees and rarely reached 68. Seedling diseases often are severe when soil temperatures are less than 68."

A warming trend in late April was quickly erased, says Kater Hake, Extension cotton agronomist at Texas A&M's Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

"May was the critical month," Hake says. "As we went into May, the first few days were fairly favorable. Then we had some rain on May 5, and the soil temperature dropped to the same temperature as the water."

By the end of the first week of May, soil temperatures were 60 degrees at 8 inches and 50 degrees at 2 inches, Hake says. The second week, temperatures rebounded by about 15 degrees at 8 inches. It rained again the third week, and heavy rain the fourth week dropped temperatures to 60 degrees at 8 inches by the end of the month.

If the seed absorbs cold water during the first few hours after planting, chilling injury can occur and damage young seedlings.

"To summarize, we had an awfully cool spring and accumulated heat units very slowly," says Norm Hopper, Ph.D., associated professor of seed physiology at Texas Tech University and Texas A&M's Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Social Security Turns 60

By Jim McDaniel

Social Security Manager in Amarillo

Social Security celebrated its 60th birthday on August 14. AS one of the most successful programs to grow out of the Great Depression, it is in some ways the victim of its own success. Many people take it for granted while others worry about its future.

As a basis for viewing the program's future, it helps to look at the record, what it has accomplished and how it is performing right now!

- Currently, the Social Security Administration (SSA) serves 43 million Social Security beneficiaries, five million individuals who receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits, and 141 million workers who are paying into the system.
- Out of each dollar you pay in Social Security taxes, only about one cent goes to pay for the administrative expenses necessary to run the largest social insurance system in the world.
- Every month, 99.8 percent of SSA's beneficiaries receive their checks in the right amount, at the right address, and on time. And, this service has been ongoing for more than a half-century through an era that has witnessed the nation at war, in recession, at peace, and in prosperous times.
- The largest single SSA workload is processing requests for new and replacement Social Security cards. Every working day, about 70,000 applications are taken and for 94 percent of them a response is in the mail to the customer in less than five days, with a 99.7 percent accuracy rate.
- The primary purpose of the Social Security number is to help track the earning of workers who pay Social Security Taxes. Social Security benefits are based on earnings reports submitted by employers and credited to the workers Social Security number. Every year, more than 220 million earnings reports are received from thousands of employers across the country: 99.6 percent of those earnings are accurately posted to SSA's records.
- Every year, more than three million new claims for monthly benefits are filed by retirees and their dependents and by widows, widowers, and children of workers who have died. These claims are processed and the first check is ready to mail in about 14 days, with a 99.8 percent accuracy rate.
- Each year, 230,000 claims for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits are received from people aged 65 or older. Their first payment is ready in about 17 days, with a 96 percent record of accuracy.
- Every year, SSA receives more than 60 million reports of changes of address, marriage, divorce, death, and other events that affect a person's eligibility for Social Security benefits. Social Security representatives with "online" access to beneficiary files record the new information and update the files instantaneously.

'LOOK FOR LEVI SIGNS'

Wrecks Rack Community

Donley County was hit hard by a rash of wrecks in recent days. The most serious injury was to Wanda Hill of Hedley, who lost control of her car north of Hedley on Saturday evening. She was Medivac'd to Amarillo where she remained in serious condition as of press time. Her family would appreciate everyone's prayers.

Early on Thursday morning, a truck driver apparently went to sleep and struck a curb in Lelia Lake. His van overturned, blocking several lanes of Highway 287 and scattering beer cans on the highway. Prompt arrival of law enforcement officers prevented the loss of any of the consumable cargo. David Wilson, who lives just west of the scene, reported that the officers' vigilance was so thorough that he was not able to sample a single can.

Several other automobiles were damaged in a variety of incidents over a period of several days. Two or three brand-new vehicles were damaged in separate incidents recently, but fortunately personal injuries were minimal, although the monetary losses were significant.

Sheriff's Deputies and DPS Officers are urging area residents to use an extra measure of caution in driving. School is about to begin and excited children are often not as cautious as they should be. In addition, it is easy to become careless in the hot weather that accompanies this time of year. One moment's inattention can lead to personal tragedy.

Soup to Nuts

Asparagus lovers, there must be lots of you, this one is yummy!

Asparagus Chicken

- 1 cup Uncooked Rice
- 1 can Cut Asparagus
- 1 can Cream of Asparagus Soup (condensed)
- 6 Chicken Thighs
- Paprika

Mix together the juice from the asparagus and the condensed soup. Pour 1/2 into a square baking dish. Add rice. Layer chicken pieces over the rice and pour over the remaining soup mixture. Sprinkle with Paprika for color. Bake covered at 350 degrees for 45 minutes until the rice is done and the chicken is tender.

When I was 16, my mother and I went to Utah to visit an aunt and uncle. Asparagus grew wild in the ditches along the highway and it was common for people to pick what they wanted. My aunt cooked it in some kind of cheese and cream sauce.

Fresh asparagus could be substituted and would probably be tastier than the canned. Use a cup of water to substitute for the juice in the canned product.

If you are looking for a special recipe or would like to see one of yours in print, drop it by the newspaper, or write to Lynne Williams, Box 807, Clarendon, TX 79226.

Sheep Producers Say Lamb Feeders Concerns Off-The-Mark

Denver, CO. - Producer leaders of the American Sheep Industry Association say a move by the National Lamb Feeders Association to derail checkoff efforts are off-the-mark.

"The feeders are raising issues they failed to address as we built this package more than a year ago," said ASI President Pierce Miller, a San Angelo, Texas, rancher, in response to NLFA's announcement it will oppose the checkoff. He said the issues being raised by the feeders are a "mask for their real concern, which is the amount of feeder-based power on the board."

"This checkoff was built by all segments of the industry in more than nine months of open meetings and the legislative process. It represents the best consensus of the industry for a checkoff that's good for the entire industry."

The bottom line, say industry leaders, is a checkoff that adequately represents the grassroots of the nation's 90,000-plus growers and feeders by continuing promotion efforts for lamb and wool. The 120-member board, contested by the feeders, ensures every state will be represented in the setting priorities in promotion, research and education. Miller said that was a priority for industry leaders.

"With the phase-out of the National Wool Act, we are losing our ability to promote our product," Miller said. "This check-off renews our self-help program. If we don't promote, no one will do it for us."

Miller says American promotions are not prohibited under the draft marketing order, despite the growing misinformation that the checkoff compromises the ability to promote American lamb and wool. "We fought for the ability to promote American lamb and wool since day one, through the entire legislative process and the compilation of the marketing order. At this point, the power to decide will be in the hands of the promotion board," he said.

The inclusion of importers in the checkoff will bring an additional $6 million to the table to create effective, aggressive promotions in the meat and textile areas, Miller said. "American growers and feeders will continue to contribute the same amount, $7 million, as they have contributed to promotion through the National Wool Act." The total projected $13 million will enable the industry to enhance its lamb and wool promotion.

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, GROUPS, AND PERSONS:

Seventeen (17) days after this publication, the above named City of Clarendon intends to request the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs to release Federal funds under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. As amended, to be used for the following project:
Project Title or Name: Sewer Improvements
Contract Number: 714189 -

Texas Community Development Program
Purpose or Nature of Project: To replace existing clay tile sewer lines with 6" PVC sewer pipes
Location of Project: City of Clarendon

Estimate Cost of Project: $215,000
FINDING OF NO SIGNIFICANT IMPACT

If it has been determined that such request for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment and accordingly the above named City of Clarendon has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environment Policy Act of 1969 (P.L. 91-190). The reason for such a decision not to prepare such a statement is based upon the fact that all environmental concerns could either be minimized or mitigated.

An Environmental Review Record for the proposed project has been made by City of Clarendon which documents the environmental review of the project and more fully sets forth the reasons why such a statement is not required. This Environmental Review Record is on file at the above address and is available for public examination and copying, upon request, at City Hall between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

PUBLIC COMMENTS OF FINDING

All interested agencies, groups, and persons disagreeing with this decision are invited to submit written comments for consideration by the City to the address as set forth above. Such written comments must be received at the address specified within sixteen (16) days after this publication. All such comments so received will be considered and the City will not request the release of funds or take any administrative action on the project prior to date specified in the preceding sentence.

RELEASE OF FUNDS

The City of Clarendon will undertake the activities described above with the Community Development Block Grant funds under Title I from its Program Year 1994 under grant numbered 714189 from the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. The City of Clarendon is certifying to TDHCA that Mr. Steve Smith, in his official capacity as Mayor, consents to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal Courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision-making, and action; and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, City of Clarendon may use the Block Grant funds, and it will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. TDHCA will accept an objection to its approval only on one or more of the bases and the procedures described in 24 CFR Part 58.75. Objections are to be addressed to the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs, P.O. Box 13941 Austin, Texas 78113-3941.

Objections to the release of funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by the TDHCA. No objection received later than thirty-three (33) days after this publication will be considered by the TDHCA.
