NYC Program Aids Community Youth

The Neighborhood Youth Program (N.Y.C.) in Donley County is off to a big start this summer. First of all, there has been a good reception by the local non-profit organizations. They have chosen to use this program to their best advantages. This program not only helps the one involved, but also the place of employment and the community at large benefits. An N.Y.C. applicant must be between the ages of 14 and 21, chosen from applications by age, needs, and income of families. These workers are placed in positions located in non-profit organizations such as our local schools, the courthouse, the County Judge, and County Attorney's offices, the local Community Action Center, Planned Parenthood office, and the Medical Center. These workers are not put in these places to take jobs away from others, but to be taught something that will help them in their search for a better life and training for future jobs. These workers are placed in these local areas to help. They are being used to do work so that those already working will have more time to do jobs that there was just not enough time to get to before. These students are paid through Manpower Training Program and are not costing you money or a job. They are young people, who are eager to help and learn.

Ask Now About Fall ABE Classes Planned

It's not too early to be calling about the Adult Basic Education classes that will begin this fall. If you have not been contacted, call either Robbie Hill at Community Action Center or Eureda Mays at Planned Parenthood for further information. Phone 874-3613, or 874-2573.

Volunteer Fire Dept. Adds Truck To Equip.

The Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department will be able to do a better job on rural fires in the future with the addition of a 6 wheel drive Army Surplus Truck. The truck is being converted to a 1600 gallon tanker truck for grass and rural fires. Precincts 1, 2, and 4 purchased the truck from army surplus and are having the truck converted to the tanker truck. The Fire Department will need approximately $1500 to furnish the pump, nozzles, and hose. Donations to the Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department should be mailed to P. O. Box 364 or given to Frank Wootten or Chief Bill Land.

State Capitol Highlights and Sidelights

Constitutional Convention delegates are entering the make-or-draft approval of the proposed new state charter after final agreement on the delayed judicial article.

President Price Daniel Jr. said he hopes all articles will be pushed through the third-reading stage by the end of June.

After that, the document will go to the convention's "Submission and Transition Committee," which will wrap up all proposals in package form and return them to delegates.

At this stage, the document and related separate - submission items (like right-to-work) must be approved by a two-thirds majority (121 votes) to be submitted to voters.

The Submission and Transition Committee will serve as a kind of conference committee, seeking compromises which can rally approval of the necessary majority of delegates.

After months of stormy debate and close votes, the convention began to receive praise from many quarters for its efforts to improve the 1876 constitution.

Kind words were still being withheld by the governor, however. Aides to Gov. Dolph Briscoe said he would "find it very difficult" to support the revision in its present form, because recommended changes infringe on gubernatorial powers in areas of veto and calling special legislative sessions.

TRADING STAMP LIMIT? - The State Finance Commission may ban use of trading stamps and other inducements by savings and loan associations to help attract deposits.

The panel's savings and loan section is scheduled to rule on the long - standing issue June 22.

Opponents argue the regulation would curtail advertising by savings and loan associations, would not benefit consumers and would be meaningless to federally - chartered institutions.

An earlier version of the proposed regulations included an exemption for associations competing with other financial institutions which offer stamps and other premiums.

Savings and loan associations are divided on the issue. Several consumer groups have indicated they will offer testimony in opposition to the proposal.

WASTE HEARINGS SET - Texas Water Quality Board has scheduled 12 public hearings over the state to explore problems concerning disposal of industrial solid wastes, a controversial issue.

The first hearing will be held July 11 in Fort Worth with the final one in Austin October 24. Other hearings are slated for Dallas July 12, Port Arthur July 25, Beaumont July 26, Houston August 6-7, Corpus Christi August 22-23, Brownsville, Aug. 30, El Paso September 20, Midland September 26, Amarillo September 27 and Longview October 2.

Legislative committee probes of TWQB, with special attention to its procedures in processing applications for waste disposal sites are scheduled to begin after the Constitutional Convention adjourns.

COURTS SPEAK - A man who entered a Fort Worth hospital with a cut thumb, fainted, fell off the operating table and suffered a brain concussion and loss of two teeth is entitled to $7,211 damages, the State Supreme Court ruled.

The high court held a Houston ironworker should get workmen's compensation benefits due to inhalation of lead and zinc fumes.

The Court of Criminal Appeals held that a policeman who sees a driver making a movement before stopping is not justified in searching the traffic offender's car.

The Court of Criminal Appeals ruled a common law husband is entitled to have a jury pass on whether he was justified in killing his wife's lover though he did not catch them in embrace.

AG OPINIONS - Atty. Gen. John Hill found the State Democratic Convention date is fixed at September 17 by state law, but said it could be recessed until a later date to avoid a conflict with the Jewish holy day, Rosh Hashana.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: The state's tuition equalization grant program is available to graduate and professional students who meet requirements. A real estate broker being investigated by Texas Real Estate Commission has a right to see the file on his case.

Designation as the juvenile court under the Family Code is limited to courts possessing jurisdiction over juvenile matters from a source other than the Family Code.

A district court lacks jurisdiction to appoint a county attorney or attorney pro tem to work with a grand jury if the district attorney is present and not otherwise disqualified.

A taxpayer is entitled to a refund on gas production taxes if the Federal Power Commission establishes a rate lower than the contract price and requires him to make a refund of the amount overcharged, even though he is permitted to satisfy his obligation through a gas exploration agreement with or without discount provision.

MEAT IMPORT CUT URGED - Agriculture Commissioner John C. White called for restrictions on beef imports into the U. S. immediately.

If the restriction is delayed until after the November election, White claimed beef prices will rise next spring and summer, and the domestic livestock industry will be damaged.

The Howardwick Party Line

Glad to be back home. We had a wonderful trip. From here to Tulsa, Oklahoma to visit our son and family, the Ray Corgills. Then by American Airlines to San Francisco. Then by car up highway 11101 up the coast through the great Redwoods to Oregon, to visit Will's brother, Cecil Corgill who lives at Cove Junction, Oregon. Saw some beautiful country and enjoyed it very much. But is nice to be back among the good people of Howardwick.

Rhuben and Claudia Roundtree were visiting in the George Howard home this week. Rhuben is doing better these days.

The Birthday Game night held the second Wednesday of each month at the Community Building was shy a few domino players this meeting. We are hoping for more people to join as vacation time is here.

Visiting with Jim and Thelma Corgill this week is their granddaughter, Deloris Denny of Lawton, Oklahoma.

Happy Father's Day to all the dads of our little town this past Sunday morning. We appreciate each and every one of you. Hope all of you have lots of fish on your lines.

Sharon Mills is getting along nicely. Won't be long now until she is up and around again.

Visiting with the Will Corgills this week end a sister-in-law, Mrs. Mae Lorraine, and her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, Karen and Debbie of Mulshoe who are looking for a place. Thinking they might join us down here. Also visiting over the week end were their daughters Louise Garvin, Relta and Bo of Turkey; Bud and Sue Strange and children of Claude; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Corgill and Mr. and Mrs. John Trones and children of Childress.

There has been quite a bit of sickness in our community. Do hope everyone is feeling better.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Howard over the week end were their son and wife, Ray and Beverly Howard of Rockwall, Texas.

Rodney and Barbara Neely of Lawton, Oklahoma visited her parents, Corky and Alice Wilson, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hendricks were in Amarillo Sunday for Father's Day. Dinner at Chef Louie's.

Visiting with John and Polly Sarich last week was Polly's son, Ingo Swann of New York. He left Friday to go to Dallas to give a lecture. Will stop off a few days on his way home.

Happy to report good fishing this past week. Mr. Bingham's son and family of Lubbock were here fishing. Brought in 65 one day including a 7 lb. Pike.

Edd Castner also had good luck the past week. Lots of good catfish and a 7 1/2 lb. Pike. A picture of Edd and his fish will be elsewhere in the paper. Lions Saturday night June 22, is Installation of Officers. The meeting will be at the Country Club at 6 o'clock. Everyone remember and be sure and come. Bye till next time.

LEGACY

By: Weldon Rives, Pastor First United Methodist Church

Matthew 16:26-What is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?"

Let me ask you a riddle: "What gets bigger by cutting on the ends?" If you can't figure it out write me and I'll give you the answer.

This riddle holds a profound truth of the Christian experience. Normally we think that to cut on something, e. g., a piece of wood, cloth or some other material, is to make it smaller. To enlarge something by cutting on it - well that's unusual to say the least. Yet, that principle is found in the words of Jesus when he said (Matthew 16:25) "For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it."

What Jesus is saying is that the Christian experience is not something which we can bottle up, set on a shelf and display it to others. To attempt to do this is only to have it to dry up into nothingness. This is all to often the case where one can not point to anything God has brought to pass in his life in recent times. When one can only point back to his "conversion" as the last time that anything significant happened in his life, then the Christian experience is at the point of drying up into that nothingness. He needs a Christian experience that is recent, relevant and alive because of what God is now doing in his life.

To have a Christian experience that is alive because of lives is a witness that we are growing through sharing our faith that we may bear much fruit for the Lord. This is caught up in the song we learned as children and sang as youth and adults:

Count your many blessings, Name them one by one.

For your blessings to have become many the one or two, or however many you have, must be shared with others. As you share them they bring forth fruit "some a hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold" (Matthew 13:8). Which ever, the nothingness of a withdrawn life or the multiplied abundance of a shared life, is the legacy one leaves behind.

Some years ago a woman died who had the reputation of being "the best dressed woman in Europe." After her death her chief legacy to the world was a wardrobe of one thousand frocks and formals. But do you remember her name? Well, neither do I.

Long before, at the beginning of our era, a man died who had nowhere to lay his head. He had one tunic for which Roman soldiers threw dice at the foot of his cross. His legacy to the world was an unforgettable memory of sacrificial love and service.

Which of these two legacies do you prefer?

PEACE! THINK ON THIS: To handle yourself, use your head; to handle others, use your heart.

MY DAY

By Vernon W. Barnes

I lean at my door in the evening The children walk out and away And I think as I see them departing, 'Tis the happiest time of my day.

I sit by my fire in the twilight Watching the shadows at play And I feel as I rest there in silence, 'Tis the happiest time of my day.

I lie on my couch in the darkness And dream as I hear a voice say, 'Oh sleep on and on, weary teacher, 'Tis the happiest time of my day.

I stand at my desk in the morning The children are eager and gay And I know as I look in their faces, 'Tis the happiest time of my day.

Note: Upon reaching retirement Mrs. Robert E. Lee of Shamrock, Texas used this poem to sum up her feelings as she looked back over her years of service. As her brother-in-law we appreciate her very much, and our thoughts go out to so many teachers that we have known through the years. Carl C. Wood.

Miss Susan Webb And Carlton Turvaille Exchange Nuptial Vows At Adrian June 15

Miss Linda Susan Webb of Clarendon, Texas and Carlton Ray Turvaille, also of Clarendon, Texas, exchanged vows in a ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Adrian, Texas, Saturday, June 15, 1974. Mr. Cecil Works of the First Baptist Church of Adrian officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Webb of Adrian, Texas. The groom is the son of Mrs. Floyd Seal of Fresno, California and the late Carl Turvaille.

Vows were read at the altar which was centered with an archway covered with greenery and potted plants of yellow spider mums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal wedding gown of nylon net and lace over satin. The fitted bodice of embroidered lace over satin featured a row of small buttons down the center front, a stand-up collar of lace and long sleeves in matching lace. The skirt of net over satin was designed with a bustle in the back to form a small train. Her veil of illusion was attached to a headpiece of white flowers and she carried a bouquet of white daisies and yellow pom pom mums.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Sherri Diane Webb, sister of the bride. She wore a dress of flocked pale yellow over yellow satin and carried a single long stemmed yellow rose. She wore three smaller roses in her hair.

Dale Mills of Clarendon attended the groom as best man. Serving as ushers were Duane Webb, brother of the bride, and Michael King of Amarillo.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. The refreshment table was laid with a yellow tablecloth and a floral ac-

THP Reports One Accident In May

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated one accident on rural highways in Donley County during the month of May, 1974, according to Sergeant J. R. Smith, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in 2 persons killed and 1 person injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first five months of 1974 shows a total of 22 accidents resulting in 2 persons killed and 8 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for May, 1974, shows a total of 406 accidents resulting in 24 persons killed and 218 persons injured as compared to May, 1973, with 550 accidents resulting in 21 persons killed, and 100 less injured in 1974 at the same period of time.

Crop Insurance Becoming Necessity

Although crop insurance has been a "yes or no" decision for most Texas farmers in the past, it may soon be a necessity, believes an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"One major insurance company is expecting to write two to three times more coverage for crops this year than in 1973 because of the higher cost of getting a crop in the ground, says Dr. Wayne Hayenga. "Also, farmers are expecting higher prices for their crops, and many of them remember the extensive damage done by hail last year." Rates for hail insurance vary by crop, area of the state and A&M University System economist. Grain sorghum rates go from about 1.5 to 8 per cent of the coverage while cotton rates usually start at 3 or 4 per cent. In some hail prone areas, some companies quote prices as high as 18 per cent.

"At present, no commercial insurance companies write 'all risk' crop insurance in Texas," notes Hayenga. "This type of insurance is available in 84 counties from the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, with coverage limited to cotton, sorghum, corn, peanuts and citrus. Its main purpose is to protect farmers from a total crop failure, so the amount of coverage available is limited."

Accent On Health

J. E. Peavy, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Rabies is a subject that has lost its concern to the average person unless . . .

Your dog is picked up and impounded for not having a rabies tag . . .

A pet goes wild, frothing at the mouth . . .

Or, maybe your child is bitten by a stray dog, or wild animal, which runs away. Then, rabies becomes very personal. You may have to pay a fine, have your pet put to sleep and a rabies examination performed, or — worse — have your child submit to a series of painful rabies shots.

During 1973, reports the Veterinary Public Health Division of the State Health Department, there were 271 laboratory confirmed animal rabies cases in Texas. This is a decrease from the 343 cases reported in 1972 but still a sizable figure. The State Health Department furnished 721 antirabies treatment series to people of the state in 1973.

Only a small fraction of the cases of confirmed rabies appeared in pets. But, during 1973, seven dogs and 18 cats had confirmed rabies cases. Most pet owners are extremely lax about having their cats vaccinated.

Forty cases of rabies were confirmed in livestock during 1973, five more cases than were reported the previous year. Cattle accounted for 23 cases, horses 16 cases and sheep one case.

Rabies in livestock can be a rather dangerous situation for both farmers and ranchers and for veterinarians. Often in attempting to diagnose an animal's illness, a person will expose himself to rabies.

Wildlife produced the largest number of rabies cases last year. Two hundred six rabies cases were confirmed in wildlife, and skunks headed the list with more than half the total. Skunks accounted for 140 cases, foxes 31 cases and bats 26 cases. Rabies also was found in raccoons, coyotes and ringtails.

Which brings up another good point. If you observe any wild animal acting strangely, with no fear of man, keep away from it. Also train your children to avoid animals in the wild. These friendly animals could be rabid. It's a sure bet that something is wrong if they don't flee from man.

Rabies appeared in 97 Texas counties last year, and suspected rabies specimen were sent into State Department of Health Laboratories from all sections of the state. In fact, 6,757 specimens were received by Health Department laboratories for rabies examinations.

Rabies may be of little concern to the average person these days, but to your State Health Department and local health departments rabies still is a very serious matter. You can do your part to insure the safety of your family and friends by having all pets vaccinated against this disease.

Be Happy!

Romans 14:22 — "Hast thou faith? Have it to thyself before God. Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth."

Happiness means a lot. It truly is a mark of the child of God. The text scripture speaks for itself. If we allow ourselves to do that which we know is wrong (for it is sin) it condemns us. As one allows himself (as the flesh is weak) to commit sin, there is a condemnation and not happiness.

Happiness is doing the will of our Father. No doubt we all have let the flesh or self take control at one time or another only to find we are living in condemnation — maybe not others condemning us but our own heart. We can be free from condemnation. Romans 8:1—"There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit."

"Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth."

People communicate ideas and feelings by the tone of their voices, facial expressions, and body language — in addition to verbal messages. Ilene Carrington, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, explains.

An acronym was frequently used as a design on Colonial furniture because it was considered a symbol of hospitality.

Select carpeting with an eye to adjacent outside areas—dark carpeting for living area next to white sand outside would be unwise, Patricia Bradshaw, housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, advises. A white carpet would be less practical than a colored one for children's rooms or kitchens, she added.

REDDY'S VACATION TIPS

Clip and save this vacation checklist.

- REFRIGERATOR OR FREEZER: Change thermostat control to slightly warmer (or "Vacation") setting according to the manufacturer's recommendations.
- DISHWASHER: Make sure it's empty. Shut the door, but do not latch.
- DISPOSER: Run and flush with cold water.
- ELECTRIC RANGE: Make sure all switches are in the "Off" position.
- WASHERS: Turn off water supply at faucets.
- WATER HEATER (ELECTRIC): Turn off at circuit breaker panel. When you return, run a small amount of water from a hot water faucet to make sure there is water in the tank before you turn the circuit on.
- TRASH COMPACTOR: Remove any accumulated trash.
- TELEVISION SETS: Unplug from electric outlet and disconnect the antenna lead-in cable.
- CLOCK RADIOS, ETC.: Check these and all other items with automatic "On-Off" controls. Disconnect the ones that won't be needed.
- LIGHTING: Be sure that all lights are off except those needed for security, such as: 1) yard light and/or other exterior lighting with automatic controls — on at dusk, off at dawn; 2) portable lamp in living area with automatic control; 3) hall or bathroom light.
- AIR CONDITIONING: Normally, air conditioning should be turned off completely while on summer vacation. However, if there is anything in your home that might suffer heat damage, the thermostat setting could be raised 5 to 10 degrees above normal operation and the unit left on. For comfort, you might have a friend or neighbor turn on the unit the day of your return.

West Texas Utilities Company An Equal Opportunity Employer

Commissioner of Health
Accent On Health
J. E. Peavy, M.D.,

FOOD POISONING

Summer food poisoning can be carried with you in your picnic basket or obtained at a cafe, cafeteria or a church supper. Or, says the State Health Department, it can be gotten at home.

and how to prevent it, but it continues to be health problem.

The term "salmonellosis" refers to infections caused by any of the numerous members of the genus salmonella. Some 900 varieties are known and they may inhabit most species of warm-blooded animals and many cold-blooded vertebrates. Major reservoirs of human salmonellosis are in domestic livestock, swine and poultry. Organisms may be transmitted to man either directly from animals or through contaminated products of animal origin. Not overlooked in importance is the human carrier.

The most dramatic and highly-publicized aspects of salmonellosis are the food-borne infections which occur in large groups of persons who have consumed a common contaminated food. In this type of contamination, the food most likely has been prepared in advance and then held in such manner that the bacteria had an opportunity to multiply. Perhaps you've read or heard of such outbreaks which followed a banquet or picnic.

The State Health Department is so concerned with the problem of food-borne infections that it sponsors courses in teaching food hygiene. Its regional offices and local health departments help carry out training programs for food handlers. And, films and literature are available on the subject. In addition, periodic inspections are carried out at food handling establishments.

Many of the foods you buy raw and prepare may have salmonella in them. But by proper handling, you can neutralize the dangers from infection. Your home cutting board could be the source of illness unless it is properly washed using hot water after cutting up raw meat and poultry. Bacteria can build up in cracks and crevices and contaminate other foods — or even the meat after it is cooked and placed back on the cutting board.

In some ways, food-borne illness is a matter of chance. Five factors must come into play to produce it. You must, of course, have bacteria present, and you need growth — supporting temperatures, suitable food, moisture and time.

Improper sanitation or improper refrigeration and heating are the main causes of food poisoning in humans. Almost without exception in food poisoning cases, the food was contaminated after having been cooked and allowed to stand at temperatures which encouraged bacterial growth.

These bacteria thrive at temperatures ranging from 45 to 140 degrees Fahrenheit — from cool to warm. So keeping food just barely cool or warm doesn't help. A cold product, says the Health Department, should not be allowed to exceed 40 degrees Fahrenheit. And, a hot dish should be kept above 240 degrees.

Once introduced into foods under proper conditions, the bacteria begins growing. So time is important between fixing and eating the food. The shorter period the better. And, beware of leftovers which have been off refrigeration for long periods.

Some of the things you are most likely to take on picnics are the high protein, moist foods in which germs thrive. These include milk, milk products, eggs, meat, poultry, fish, shellfish and such favorites as cream pies, custards and potato salad.

The extent of the salmonella problem is so great that the federal government is launching an attack on salmonella and other food-borne diseases. Consumer education is being given top priority.

Luckily for Texans, the quality of food handling in the state is such that few large outbreaks occur. But there's always that possibility. And with hot summer temperatures already here, the State Health Department advises everyone going camping or picnicking: keep those cold foods cold and the hot foods hot. Picnicking is a great summertime pleasure, so add to the pleasure with proper food handling.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

Many people who plan to move do so in the summer. If you're one of those who will be packing up and heading for new territory soon be sure you select a reliable moving company to transport your belongings.

Because whether it's a cut-glass punch bowl or a well-used tricycle, your household goods probably would be hard to replace.

Attorneys in our Consumer Protection Division warn that some "hot haulers," or illegal moving companies, are in operation and that dealing with them could result in some problems. For one thing, many of the illegal movers cannot or do not offer proper insurance for your goods.

For another thing, consumers who unwittingly deal with a bootleg moving company could possibly be liable for prosecution under the Motor Carrier Act, enforced by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

There are three classes of moving companies: (1) unregulated ones that can move goods from their base city to another; (2) companies licensed by the Texas Railroad Commission to move goods anywhere within the State; and (3) companies licensed by the Interstate Commerce Commission to move goods between states.

Spokesmen for the Railroad Commission say that many interstate movers have Texas representatives who are also licensed as intra-state movers themselves.

If you plan to move from Wichita Falls to El Paso, for example, you will need a company licensed by the Railroad Commission as an intrastate carrier. Picking a company from the telephone book, as many people do, is no guarantee that you'll get a properly licensed mover.

The best way is to check with the Railroad Commission to see if the movers you are interested in are listed as certified companies or as designated agents for such companies.

In order for a company to be certified, it must prove the need for increased service. Public hearings are held and, if the need is demonstrated, a permit can be granted by the Railroad Commission.

Specialized carriers, holding certificates or permits for the transportation of household goods must adhere to certain requirements.

If a mover says off handedly, "I'll move you to Dallas for $200," beware. He's not a licensed mover. If he were, he would have to take a look at your goods, give you a written estimate of the moving cost, weigh his truck both before and after loading your goods, and check the weight against a fixed tariff rate to determine the actual cost.

He would also have to notify you if the cost exceeded the original estimate by 10 per cent or $25.00, whichever is greater. And, in addition, he would have to inventory all of your belongings and give you a copy of the inventory.

Certified intrastate moving companies must also be bonded, carry insurance, pay a licensing fee, and pay transportation taxes. Individuals employing such movers can also take out additional insurance on their goods, if desired.

If you want to lease a truck and move your own goods, be sure you choose a reputable company for that, too. There are statutes that prohibit the leasing of a truck by one individual to another for a move if requirements regarding such things as proper insurance have not been met.

Any questions about regulations involving a moving company can be answered by the Railroad Commission, the Department of Public Safety, or the Attorney General's Transportation Division. For assistance with other consumer problems, call our Consumer Protection Division, your district or county attorney, or your local Better Business Bureau.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Alderson and children visited the week end with her mother in Midland.

Q—Do Veterans Administration hospitals and clinics treat reservists injured while reporting to, or returning from military training?

A—Yes, provided injuries and illnesses occur during travel time as specified in the reservists' military orders. Both active duty training and inactive duty training are considered active duty for this purpose.

Q—My GI Bill entitlement expired last year, and I am paying for a course at a local college. I need tutorial assistance, and wonder if the Veterans Administration will pay for it?

A—Sorry, no. The agency is not authorized to provide tutorial assistance after expiration of GI Bill benefits.

Q—I'm a veteran who sold a home purchased with a GI home loan from the Veterans Administration. Can VA restore my loan entitlement?

A—Only if the property was disposed of for compelling reasons such as a job transfer, destruction by fire, condemnation proceedings, etc. Before VA can restore entitlement, however, the loan must have been repaid in full, and the agency released from liability for the loan.

New Text Books For Public Schools On Display At Centers

New text materials to be considered for use in Texas public schools beginning September 1, 1975, will be placed on public display at the state's 20 regional education service centers on July 1, 1974. Copies of the proposed textbooks will be sent to the centers by publishers submitting new materials for adoption by the State Board of Education November 9, 1974. A separate display of kindergarten oral language development systems in English and Spanish and bilingual text materials for the primary grades will be set up at Maplewood Elementary School in Austin on June 17, 1974. This exhibit will be open to both educators and the general public each weekday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. through August 9, 1974. Although the exhibit in Austin is the on'y place educators and the general public will be able to actually examine the kindergarten and primary grades learning systems, detailed descriptions will be made available at the service centers. Each system may include books, films, tapes, or other equipment. Text exhibits at the regional education service centers throughout the state will include books for 11 elementary school and 11 high school subjects. The Region XVI Education Service Center in Amarillo is located at 1601 South Cleveland with Mr. Huelyn Laycock in charge.

ALL-AMERICA FOOTBALL GAME AT TECH SAT.

Scouts Have Week At Camp M. K. Brown

Four Scouts and one adult from Troop No. 33 were tapped into the Order of the Arrow Camper Society at Camp M. K. Brown while at Summer Camp last week. They were Gary Thomas, Chris Ford, Keith Floyd, Terry Putman and Mr. Claude Thomas. Nine Scouts from the troop earned the mile swim. They were Keith Floyd, Billy Price, Dan Sawyer, Rex Brown, Chris Ford, Ed Bromley, Wade Porter, Rickey Price and Terry Putman. This is the most boys from the troop to ever receive the mile swim. This brings the troop total to 20 boys. Seven of the boys went on the Old Mobeetie Trek. This consists of a 14 mile hike. They cooked their meals out and slept out one night. The boys who made the Trek were Steve Rives, Danny Alexander, Kelly Tunnell, Drew and Lance Thornberry, Dean Hawkins and Jon Nichols. A special thanks to the following dads for spending the days and nights at camp: Jerry Hawkins, Norman Witcher, Claude Thomas and Rev. Weldon Rives. Texas Farm Bureau Students Seminar In Waco July 15-19

More than 500 high school juniors and seniors from all over Texas are expected to attend the 12th annual High School Students Citizenship Seminar in Waco July 15-19. The seminar is sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau. County Farm Bureaus have indicated they intend to sponsor more students at this year's seminar than ever before. The seminar, held on the campus of Baylor University, will include lectures, films, and discussion concerning "our American heritage and the threat of Communism," according to J. T. (Red) Woodson, president of the TFB. The students' attendance is sponsored by county Farm Bureaus, and they are selected on the basis of scholastic achievement, character, and leadership ability. Several outstanding speakers have been engaged to appear on the program of this year's seminar, the TFB spokesman said. They include Dr. Clifton Ganus, president of Harding College, Sercy, Ark.; Hans Oodgaard, world traveller, author and lecturer from Denmark. Also, W. Cleon Skousen, author, lawyer, educator, and former FBI agent from Salt Lake City, Utah; Dr. Billy Ray Cox, vice president of Harding College and director of the National Education Program, Searcy, Ark.; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ray, ex-heroin addicts associated with the Help Is Possible organization in Dallas. Woodson said the seminar is regarded as one of the major annual activities of the Texas Farm Bureau.

Boy - what a "Hide and Seek" Canoe trip it was for these seven young Scouts Tuesday evening at Greenbelt Lake. Ed Bromley and Jon Nichols were quite surprised when this 1 1/2 lb bass leaped into their canoe of its own free will. It was denied flopping out again by the two alert youngsters. Others on the outing were Butch Blackburn, Kyle Hill, Danny Alexander, Terry Putman, Danny Garman and their faithful Leader, Tommy Saye. Staff Photo
