FARM VS. TOWN LIFE.

The percentage of people living in the towns and cities in the United States is gradually growing. Rural life is growing less attractive, and the people are moving to town where they can have the advantages of school and church, privilege of going to town, and the country. At the present rate in two more decades half the population in this country will live in town. It is often said that boys and girls and they become disgusted and move to town where many of them see out a miserable existence where they could have lived independently had they remained on the farm. When one man better his condition by moving to town two or more barely make a living. The life of a townman is often deceptive, and some, apparently, well to do, can hardly make both ends meet, but many of them do not. A farmer is the most independent person on earth if he only knew it. True, he may have to work hard in the sun and the rain, often live on coarse diet, and his house may not look as attractive as his friend's house in town but what he is far more independent than his town brother if he is anything like a man. He is not worried about monthly bills, he is not scared about losing his job, or if he is worried about losing his trade should bring him to want.

If farmers and people in the country would spend a little more time making their homes attractive, plant shade and ornamental trees, use more paint on the boys and girls would not want to run off to town so much when they grow up. It is a fact nevertheless that most of the successful business men in the cities were farmers but, they would do could have succeeded just as well though perhaps in a less degree had they remained on the farm.

We know where we speak when we say that, take it all in all, the farmer has an easier time than the average townman.

If a man cannot succeed on a farm he will find it much more difficult to make a living in town, unless, he has some special occupation that will enable him to make a living. Competition is sharp in town and unknown in the country almost.

One thing that has made this nation great is because it is a nation of home owners. Emigration from the country to town is in a great measure doing away with this because many a person who owned a good home in the country often becomes a tenant when he moves to town. Money made in the country is so often lost in town.

Writers of all ages have harped on this theme to no effect, because each one is determined to settle this question for themselves, because no matter how many others may tell each one thinks he can succeed and nothing but a trial will satisfy them.

The question of breaking up the country and moving to town is one that should be carefully and thoughtfully considered by any one before a decision is reached.

Perhaps you too late many realize that from an independent farmer or stockman is a dependent townman in most very pleasant transition by any means.

Many a man has had to return to the country and strive hard to regain what they lost by moving to town.

We are not trying to discourage town building by any means, and every one who is sure they can benefit their condition should go to town, but unless they are absolutely sure of this they had better stick to the farm.

We are now six months more town and lose all they had accumulated by many years of hard toil in the country that we feel in our duty to give a note of warning. This will apply to any country or town as well as our own.

No one can stand panic and hard times as well as a farmer, and no one is less prepared to withstand such a person who depends on his daily labor or a professional man. A live. All such are the first to feel the pinch when hard times come as many have learned by sad experience in the past.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers never thought of trying anything else for indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appleson's Nervous Prostration or Heartfailure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull, acid had with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing sorer the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac R. Phillips. 30-1f

BAIRD VOL. FIRE CO.

The Baird Vol. Fire Co. met in regular session Monday night and after disposing of the regular business elected the following officers for the ensuing term:

Joe H. Walker, Chief.
 Jim. McManis, Asst. Chief.
 B. N. Leonard, Secy.
 C. S. Boyles, Treasurer.

A meeting is called for Friday night at 8 o'clock in the ice cream parlor in the near future to raise funds to complete first payment on Hook and Ladder Truck, which was shipped from Racine Wis. on the 11th and will probably arrive about Aug. 1st. Any one wishing to donate anything to help the boys out in their undertaking to equip the department with this fine truck, will please hand it to one of the officers before the 1st.

A BRYAN TICKET TO BE PUT OUT IN OHIO.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 14.—On July 13, Ohio democrats who believe in Bryan and the issues which he represents, which the recent democratic convention ignored, will assemble in Columbus and make up a State ticket. Ten men met this morning in a down town office building in this city and decided that a bolt should be made. That a new party should enter the field of Ohio politics.

The attendance at the conference was large and represented a large part of the State than was expected by those who called the meeting. A formal statement of principles was submitted to the conference and was adopted. This will be printed and sent throughout the State to those who are known to be faithful to the Nebraska. A convention was decided upon to be held at Columbus July 31. To this convention may come all those who sign their names to the declaration of principles.

All the ladies who attended the picnic, will find a variety of face creams at Powell & Powell's Drug Store. 24.

FRESH BREAD.—Mrs. E. K. Kane has fresh bread every day, made from the best flour. 13

PUTNAM POINTERS.

July 17.—The drought remains unbroken in this section and stock water is becoming very scarce. Crops are badly damaged and unless we should get rain in a few days the cotton crop will be almost a failure.

Last Thursday was a busy day in Justice Jackson's court, four cases being disposed of. The young men charged with burglary were discharged on evidence being found against them. We have a good joke on our County Attorney, but if John will do the right thing we won't tell it.

Putnam and Delmar crossed tracks on the Putnam diamond last Saturday and Putnam was defeated by a score too numerous to mention.

A. M. Sprews left Sunday morning for a visit with relatives at Terrell. Sheriff Noble, of Eastland county, will be in town Sunday on official business connected with Ranger and Gorman burglaries.

Fl. J. Hatcher made a business trip to Cuba Saturday.

Mrs. N. K. Clifford has been quite sick with measles, but is reported better today.

A. L. Clemmer has sold his farm east of town to Mr. T. J. Davis.

Rev. A. L. Jobe has gone to Johnson county where he will assist in several protracted meetings.

J. N. Allen, of Clyde passed through Putnam Saturday enroute to Sherman where he goes to visit relatives.

W. C. Coston and A. L. Clemmer left Monday morning for a protracted tour through Western Texas.

Mr. J. A. Devalt and Miss Eva Stewart were married last Friday night at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Stewart, Rev. G. W. Parks officiating.

Rev. C. W. Young returned Saturday from a visit to his old home as Milford, Texas.

Y. A. Orr and wife visited relatives at Merkel Sunday. Mr. Orr returned on the night train while Mrs. Orr will remain in Merkel a few days.

Jan. H. Walker of The Star was in our city Saturday.

B. F. Williams, of Garland, is in the city looking after his ranch interests.

John Curtis, an old time Putnam boy, but now of Ranger, is spending a few days with friends in and around Putnam.

Ray Harris, of Admiral, was in town Monday.

Mrs. E. Sigler returned Monday, from a two months visit with relatives at Fort Worth.

Miss Jennie Harris and Miss Walls, of Admiral, are visiting in the city.

Our friend, R. F. Gureney received a verbal message this week from an old friend of his representing a building and loan association, stating that he would call on him as soon as possible with a view of selling a few more shares in his company. President Shaffer will help—Many of the strikers were only a new feature in the strike situation and all eyes interested were turned to that plant.

The democrats of Ohio evidently think a change in the policy of the party is necessary to insure success. They are for a change in the platform and the careless delegates actually trampled Bryan's picture in the dust.

The Ohio Bryan democrats now threaten to play the role adopted by a portion of the Cleveland democrats in 1896. They want to rule or ruin and they mean to do it.

WATER FOR BAIRD. Mr. Editor.—We see that there is some controversy among several citizens who are in favor of completing our water system as to the way to be done.

Some of our populist friends with nothing else to do are trying to define a democrat.

The Board of Health has advertised for bids for the erection of the buildings for the state life colony at Annettsville will be opened at Annettsville August 8th.

Crops in Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and part of Missouri are bumper up from drought. Kansas has made a fine wheat crop, but without rain soon nearly all other crops will be a failure.

Some of our populist friends with nothing else to do are trying to define a democrat. We thought it might be well to settle the question.

The Democratic Chief says that the proceedings of the Ohio democratic convention as an item of news that it endorses them. Why does the Chief think it necessary to apologise for publishing the same news, even though that news may be rather distasteful to some of its friends?

We find many believe the best and cheapest way to make a reservoir is to enlarge the wells. However The Star does not make any recommendation on the subject.

Senator Butler, of North Carolina, gives out the startling intelligence that the populist party is not dead.

The democrats of Ohio ignored both Bryan and the Kansas crisis when they had a perfect right to do so. On the heels of this comes the news that the Bryan democrats will both nominate a ticket, and will not do so.

Ex-governor Hubbard died at Tyler last Friday after a long illness. Gov. Hubbard was born in Georgia, 1854 and received a classical education came to Texas in an early day when engaged in the practice of law.

Senator Butler, of North Carolina, gives out the startling intelligence that the populist party is not dead. If some one were to announce that George Washington was not dead it would not be any more of a surprise than Senator Butler's statement that the pop party is not dead.

At the close of the Civil War, a discharged Confederate soldier, with his wife and family, trudged wearily over the foothills of Kentucky from their little homestead in the village of Georgetown to Stanton, Va., for protection, writes Robert Mackay, in the July number of Success. The family consisted of two boys—bright cherry fellows. One was tired and sore from the continued tramp over the hard roads, but the other was helping him as best he could and urging him on to the place where rest awaited them. At the same time he was encouraging his downhearted father and mother with kind words. "Don't mind pa," he said, "I kin sell papers an' will give you all I make."

Today that boy is mentioned as a candidate for President of the United States. He is Tom L. Johnson mayor of Cleveland, Ohio. When Tom Johnson told his father that he would sell papers to help him along he was just 11 years old. In the five weeks immediately following Lew's surrender he proves that he had the head of a financier. In that period he earned $88. There was a great thrif for news in Stanton, but once a day only was it in communication with the outside world, and then it was by rail-road. Tom saw his chance for a monopoly in papers and straightway cornered the market. He made the friend-ship of the conductor of Stanton's daily train who turned over to him all the papers. For five weeks he held this monopoly selling daily papers for 15 cents each.

As we stated last week, the Gazette is today only half the size, it has been and perhaps some of our readers will begin to "stink" because it is such a "thin sheet." It contains as much home reading matter as it ever did, but it means about three pages of foreign advertising and four columns of state reading matter; we will save from $10 to $15 per month for the grand and noble privilege (?) of not circulating this matter among our readers. Newspapers are just what our home merchants need. A paper cannot live if it grows larger than the business the town gives it. If our business men can all home print 5 column folios, give us the patronage and we will get a larger press at once. If you are satisfied with the size of the Gazette, we are.—Pulsan Gazette.

Modern Palestine.

It has often been stated that if one of the prophets had returned to the field of his labors he would have had little difficulty in recognizing the old scenes, but now matters have decidedly changed. The railway from Joppa to Jerusalem is now on a paying basis and other lines which will connect with points of interest up and down the valley of Jordan have been projected or are actually being constructed. In Jerusalem there are electric lights, telephones, phonographs, modern stores and sanitary plumbing. Trolley lines are projected to connect Jerusalem with Bethany, Bethlehem, the Lake of Galilee, Samaria, Jericho, and Nazareth. Recently an American salesman went to Beirut and Jerusalem and sold modern merchandise to the amount of $1,800. It is believed that in a few years the Holy Land will be a good consumer of four. More than two hundred phonographs were recently sent to Jerusalem, Damascus and nearby places, the Moslems buying them largely for their harems. There seems to be a substantial demand for windmills and irrigating machinery, and the Sultan seems favorably disposed towards the modernizing of this portion of his domain.—Bioscopic American.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

To the M. E. H. P. and Companions of Baird Chapter No. 192, H. A. M.

On the 12th day of May, 1901, in the 57 year of his age, Companion Calvin Windham died at his home near Tucumseh, Texas.

Companion Windham was a charter member of this Chapter; and his departure hence makes it our sad duty through fraternal resolutions to note his death, his loss to the fraternity, his family and country, with words of sincere grief on the minutes and book of marks of this Chapter.

Companion Windham was a man whose life was characterized by simplicity of manners, unassuming, faithful to every trust, a kindly friend—a man without envy or malice,—true and devoted to his family, a good citizen and a zealous Mason.

Be it, therefore, resolved:
I. That in the death of Companion Windham this chapter has lost one of its oldest and most esteemed members, and the Masonic fraternity a zealous brother.

II. That his family has lost a kind husband, devoted father and faithful friend; his country an honorable man and a good citizen, deploring his loss to his country, regretting the untimely death of our friend and companion, we deeply sympathize with his family in their affliction, and assuring them with confident faith we doubt not that his soul is at peace with God in Heaven.

Free for the Asking. Our booklet "Told by a Doctor," a discussion of the diseases of the digestive tract, and testimonials of hundreds who have been cured of constipation, dyspepsia and stomach troubles by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.
