Chief Of Police Reports Rash Of Accidents

Police Chief, Gary Gerdes, reported a rash of auto accidents within the city limits the past week end period and is extending a plea for all drivers to be a bit more cautious and careful in their driving habits. Although injuries have been minor, the material damage has been high. Gerdes reported a two car smash-up 1 block east of the School Administration building Tuesday morning involving Miss Shirley Taylor, high school student, and Thomas Owens, a college student. Personal injuries were slight but both autos received extensive damage. Another two car collision at 6th and Gorst Saturday afternoon involving Mrs. Dorothy Hahn of Arkansas and Mike Smith, college student, caused considerable damage to both cars but only minor personal injuries. Chief Gerdes reported just before press time that a car driven by Wondell Luttrell hit the rear of a pickup driven by Major Hudson at the noon hour Wednesday, as Mr. Hudson was beginning a left turn at Bartlett Motor Co. He said that Luttrell's attention had been attracted by another auto that had collided with a calf Tuesday night. Both vehicles were traveling west. Hudson's injuries were believed to be minor but could prove more serious as the impact of his head broke out the back glass of the pickup when the collision occurred. Colts Lose Title Game To Memphis Thurs. Nite

Clarendon Junior High Colts lost their game to Memphis by a score of 14-0 and their chance to become district champs in a game played at Memphis Thursday night. The game was scoreless until the second quarter when Memphis reached pay dirt for a TD and conversion. The half ended with an 8-0 tally. The second Memphis score came in the fourth quarter but the try for extra points failed. The Colts played a good game and put forth fine effort on the part of the entire team. Memphis fielded a heavier, larger, and in some instances an apparently older group of boys. The usual pep rally was held prior to the game and cheerleaders were taken by bus to the game. In an earlier game Thursday evening the seventh graders of Clarendon were defeated by Memphis seventh graders by a score of 22-0. The Colts ended their season play with a 5-2 record. The entire squad and their coaches want to extend thanks to local fans who supported them all the way this season. It is a tremendous help to know your home folks are backing you. The Colts conclude their season with their annual Father-Son Football banquet Thursday night. Pictures of the group were made Tuesday of this week.

Broncs To Meet Traditional Rivals At Memphis Friday Night - 7:30 P.M.

by Tom Higley

The improving Memphis Cyclones pose as a large threat to the fortunes of the Clarendon Bronchos this week in Memphis. Starting slow at the beginning of the football season, the Cyclones have shown considerable improvement each week and will go into the Friday night clash at least as 15-point favorites to hand Clarendon its sixth loss against three wins.

Memphis features a well-balanced running and passing attack as was the highlight of the recent 55-0 victory over Silverton before District 2-A action began. The cyclones trounced Canadian 22-0 and were defeated by Wellington, 8-0. Clarendon will be meeting the Cyclones at less speed than normal. On the ailing list are starting end Richard Thornberry, out with an ankle injury, and starting guard Mike Horton, who received a mild concussion in the game against McLean. However both players are expected to see action. Kickoff is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in Cyclone Stadium.

This will be the last meeting of the two teams as district foes. Memphis moves into District 2-AA next season.

LAND CLEARING COST VARIES

"What does it cost to clear an acre of brushland and establish a good pasture cover?" This question is often asked by Texas farmers who need to clear more land for pasture but aren't sure of the cost involved or whether the clearing cost will ever pay for itself.

In Franklin County, on the H. J. Andrews farm near Mount Vernon, 26 acres have been cleared and accurate cost records kept, says County Agent, Charlie Brown.

Pushing and burning costs were $52 per acre, fertilizer cost was $11 an acre and seed $2.50 per acre. Total cost: $65.50 an acre. The Andrews land was thick with brush and trees, and Brown points out that clearing costs will always vary according to the density of brush and locality. It may run as high as $100 an acre.

The Andrews land was seeded with 5 pounds of common Bermuda grass an acre and has a good cover now. Cattle are stocked on the pasture at the rate of a cow to every two acres. The trees and brush were pushed off by a bulldozer with an A-type blade which slides along the ground and cuts the trees and brush. Brown says a large bulldozer with this type blade can cut trees up to 42 inches across.

The brush on the Andrews farm was pushed into windrows and aligned with the prevailing winds (southeast to northwest) and burned two weeks after cutting.

Brown said its a good plan to burn brush from 10 to 18 days after cutting, more of it will burn at that time than any other.

Campus Chatter by Jimmy Blackerby

Flash! Report from Secret Agent 999—as he was boarding a fast ship to Hong Kong: "Am still on trail of a girl hitchhiker who departed from Lump's in Clarendon, Sunday, October 24." The girl that caused so much excitement at Lump's lured our fearless secret agent away, but he left his spy notebook behind.

The secret agent's notebook has some candid comments in it, although I don't quite comprehend some of them. For instance, what is meant by this notation, "Is Harry Pool running a taxi service without a permit?" Another puzzling item that strikes the eye is about Buddy Wooten. It seems that Buddy embarrasses easily, especially when he asks for autographs. There were many other interesting observations in the secret agent's little notebook, but I must leave them out, because they are too candid.

Did anyone notice Buster Branum dashing around all week. Poor, Buster, harassed by sophomores, could not keep his egg safe from all the attacks. All of Buster's valiant efforts were in vain; he still had to go through with initiation.

Speaking of freshman initiation, it was the big thing this week and almost everyone cooperated to make it a success. At no time was it dull, yet, at no time was it out of hand. The freshmen evened their scores with the sophomores by beating them in two rope pulling contests, both boys and girls.

If the spirit reflected by all concerned during initiation is an example of things to come, the fast-approaching basketball season should receive much support.

THIS AND THAT

Dafynitions by Gwen King

Fellows, have you heard the latest definition of a girl? She is always one of three things: hungry, thirsty, or both.

"A girdle," says Kenneth Price, "is a device to make waist out of waste."

Asked to define "oleomargarine," Johnny Lacy replied, "The food of people who haven't seen butter days."

"A dime," says Mr. Tucker, "is a dollar with all the taxes taken out."

Mr. Overcast: "Lila, where is the capital of the United States?" Lila Holman: "All over Europe."

Johnny Fithen defines "broad-mindedness" as the ability to smile when you suddenly discover that your room-mate and your girl are both missing from the dance floor.

The chairmen of various committees gave reports on the activities of their committees.

Plans were made to cancel the Halloween party because of a conflicting Aggie party. The tentative plan now is to have a party the first Thursday after nine weeks.

WHEN AND WHERE

Locals To Attend Journalism Conference

Mrs. Jean Moore, sponsor of the Bulldog Banner, will take a group of CC students to Texas Tech Saturday, November 6, for J-Day. Kenneth Price, student editor of the BANNER, and Ronnie Roberts, sports editor, will be part of the group, as will

J-Day is a journalism conference sponsored by the Texas Tech Journalism Department and the Southwestern Council of Student Publications. The meeting will include problem sessions in three areas: newspaper, yearbook, and photography. Lunch will follow a tour of the Journalism Building. The afternoon will be devoted to career conferences and business meetings. The conference will be climaxed by the Tech-New Mexico State football game Saturday night.

History Conference at Wayland College

Mrs. Lucile Naylor, Head of the History Department, and Mr. Lawrence Neece, instructor in the Department, attended the Fifth Annual Conference of College History Teachers from the Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma areas, at Wayland College, Plainview, on Saturday, October 30th.

The conference got under way with a coffee at 9:00, which was followed by discussion sessions and lunch. The program included papers on various subjects and phases of history, and was conducted under the supervision of Prof. Jerry Dawson, Head of the Department of History at Wayland College.

BULLDOG KENNEL

Bulldog Profile

Coach Overcast predicts that this year's team, though young and inexperienced, will be strong and defensively—only fair offensively. The two sophomore repeaters, Varnell and Alexander (who, by the way have been chosen as captains this year), should each have a good season. There is good reserve power in the Bulldog squad and strong competition should cause an early fluctuation in starting assignments.

Coach stated that we have been picked last in the conference standings this year. How about it, boys? Lets make the experts eat their predictions.

Aggie News

The Aggie Dance was a big success Thursday night. Some ninety people (85 of them paying guests) enjoyed the music of the Velasquez Brothers from Wheeler. Thanks for your support, gang.

The Aggie Club recently elected their Queen for 1965-66. The honor went to Miss Catherine Ivy, freshman daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ivy of Memphis. The selection of the queen is based on personality, character and charm.

Advance sale of season tickets has begun—a real bargain for people who like to make a good trade. The adult ticket for twelve home games sells for $6.00—half price. The student ticket costs $3.50. All tickets are good for any of the home games. They may be purchased at the Registrar's office, from Coach Overcast or any of the basketball boys. Phone orders will be processed. Simply call 874-3552.

Coach Overcast will make a trip to Lubbock Saturday, November 6, to attend the annual fall meeting of junior college coaches. They will be discussing, among other things, eligibility standards and problems. He plans to stay over for the Tech-New Mexico State tilt that night.

WHO AND WHAT

NAYLOR IN WHO'S WHO

Mrs. Lucile Naylor, Head of the Social Science Department at Clarendon College, has been notified that she will be listed in "Who's Who in American Education, Inc." The 1965-66 edition will be off the press early in January, at which time Mrs. Naylor will receive a gift copy with her name inscribed in gold.

Mrs. Naylor's selection was based upon the recommendation of President Vaughan and upon her achievements and experience in the teaching field. She has taught continuously at Clarendon College from 1942 to the present time. She is a past president of Gamma Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, International Society of Key Women Teachers, and is a Past Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Our congratulations to Mrs. Naylor for this honor and recognition. Clarendon College is justifiably proud of her academic and professional achievements.

EIGHT RURAL ACCIDENTS REPORTED IN COUNTY

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated eight accidents on rural highways in Donley County during the month of September, according to Sergeant J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for 3 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $4,970.00. The rural traffic accident summary for this county from January through September of 1965 shows a total of 48 crashes.

November 29, 1965 is the deadline for the next Patrol Training School. "Applications for the position of patrolman should be made as soon as possible," the Sergeant stated.

"The work of the patrolman is challenging," the Sergeant pointed out, "but the rewards are many. Each man answers a call to serve with the best of opportunities for participating in the constantly developing efforts to curb the dual menace of crime and traffic accidents."

50th Wedding Anniversary

M. C. Rumpys Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Rumpy of Clarendon observed their Golden Wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon, October 31, with a tea at Patching Club House. Their children and grandchildren were hosts for the occasion.

The entertaining rooms were beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and other fall flowers in bronze and gold taken from the lovely flower garden at the Rumpy home.

Melvin Carl Rumpy and Lois Williams were married October 29, 1915 in Abilene, Texas. For a wedding trip the couple journeyed to the State Fair in Dallas. The couple made their home in Abilene until 1925 when they moved to Clarendon.

The refreshment table, laid with an ecru linen cloth was centered with an arrangement of bronze and gold chrysanthemums. Streamers to either side of the floral piece bore the numerals "50." Mrs. Max Rumpy and Mrs. Ray Rumpy of Lubbock presided at the punch and coffee services.

Guests were registered by Marcia Alexander of San Angelo and Kandys Rumpy of Lubbock, granddaughters of the couple, and Shane Alexander of San Angelo and Kirk Rumpy of Lubbock, grandsons, assisted at the door. Kim, Delisa, and Donna Rhea Rumpy of Lubbock, also grand children, assisted in the dining area.

A delightful program of afternoon music was presented by Marcia Alexander, and Vernon Nesmith of Lubbock, a great nephew of the Rumpys.

Approximately 150 guests registered.

Hosts for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Alexander and family of San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. Max Rumpy and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rumpy and family, all of Lubbock; and Miss Geraldine Rumpy of Pampa.

1919 STUDY CLUB OF HEDLEY MAKES TOUR

A field trip to Amarillo, Canyon, and Palo Duro Canyon was enjoyed by eight members and four guests of the Hedley 1919 Study Club. The group left Hedley at 9 a.m. and had lunch in Amarillo, later visiting the museum on the campus at West Texas State University where interesting items were viewed from those of Western life to Fine Arts.

At Palo Duro State Park ladies were guests of Mr. Raymond Welch for refreshments. Mr. Welch is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller. Some shopping for souvenirs; we drove into the canyon and viewed the wonderful amphitheatre located on the canyon floor where "Thundering Sounds of the West" was presented during the past summer session.

Stopping at Sad Monkey Station we enjoyed ice cream cones before boarding the Burlington Special for a train trip into the canyon. We saw Sad Monkey face, Spanish Skirts, Catarina Cave, Devils Tombstone, Light-house, Santa Anna's Face, The Giant's Footprint, Jack and the Bean Stalk, and many other formations including the Gnarled Juniper Tree. Our engineer and narrator, Ead Burtz, was so thorough that we felt we had a wonderful program in Texas History. His marvelous sense of humor made the trip more enjoyable.

After this tour we continued into the canyon to the Circle where so many picnic areas are located. The drive covered seven miles.

We returned to Hedley at 6 p.m. all having had a wonderful time. Enjoying the day were Mesdames Joe Miller, Bill Scales, J. M. Baker, Myrtella Deahl, Hobart Moffett, Lem Wilson, Earl Allen, Clifford Johnson, and guests Mesdames Herman Kirkpatrick, Ray Moreman, D. F. Reed, Mrs. Buster Hinds of Silverton joined us in Amarillo. —Rep.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Gov. John Connally's sudden cancellation of plans to go to Japan and Viet Nam this week added a note of tension to the Austin scene.

Connally's statement indicates that he sees the possibility of a special session of the Legislature on congressional legislative redistricting or voter registration.

"We are awaiting federal court decisions on the poll tax, congressional redistricting and House redistricting, any one of which could cause action on my part within the next few weeks," Connally stated.

If federal judges throw out either congressional or house reapportionment acts of the 59th Legislature — without specifically allowing time for redrawing lines in regular session — Connally may have to call a hurry-up session before the early 1966 filing deadline.

Should the federal courts invalidate the poll tax as a voting requirement, Texas could be left without a voter registration procedure. This, too, could make a special session necessary on short notice.

Hearing on the attorney general's suit attacking the poll tax is not until mid November. Judges already have heard arguments on redistricting challenges, however, and rulings could come at any time.

Connally also made clear he fears defeat of key constitutional amendment proposals in the November 2 election and plans an all-out personal campaign on behalf of four-year-terms for state-wide officials.

ENROLLMENTS UP — More students than ever before have enrolled in Texas colleges — and most institutions are bulging at the seams.

Average enrollment increase among the 22 state-supported colleges and universities in the state is 13.8 per cent. Stephen F. Austin in Nacogdoches had the largest increase at 34.9 per cent. Arlington State College's 2.9 per cent was the smallest.

University of Texas' population increased 2,220 this year, representing a percentage increase of only 9.3. This is 4.3 per cent below the state average.

Average increase among the 32 public junior colleges reached 26.9 per cent. Cisco Junior College's 59.8 per cent increase leads all others. Smallest increase was the 2.1 per cent by Laredo Junior College.

Largest recorded increase among independent senior colleges and universities was the 30.9 per cent at Bishop College, Dallas. Sherman's Austin College enrollment fell off 2.5 per cent.

AG OPINIONS — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has ruled the Civil Rights Act of 1964 isn't applicable to rules and regulations of Texas A&M University regarding discrimination by sex.

Also, Carr said the Board of Directors of the school has the right to issue rules and regulations making the University either an all male school or co-educational.

Carr said the present policy of the board to exclude women because the applicants aren't wives or daughters of staff members or students, or widows of daughters of deceased staff members, is discriminatory and constitutes unreasonable class distinction.

Rulings were in response to a request by H. C. Heldenfels, president of the Board of the Texas A&M University system.

In another opinion, Carr ruled that the issuance of a state warrant for the payment of an honorarium to United States employee delivering a commencement address at the University of Houston would violate the state constitution.

OIL PRODUCTION INCREASED — Texas Railroad Commission has cranked the November oil production allowable up to 30 per cent of potential. It's a high mark for the year.

Commission, recognizing recommendations of 10 out of 13 oil purchasers, set production for next month at 2,976,361 barrels daily. This compares with 2,944,109 barrels for October under 28.8 per cent formula and 2,884,856 for November, 1964, under 28.4 per cent factor.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme court heard rival arguments as to whether Rice University alumni have a right to appeal the lower courts' decision that permitted Rice to admit Negro students and charge tuition.

Rice trustees filed action to allow integration and eliminate tuition restrictions. This despite trust fund restrictions imposed by founder William Marsh Rice in 1891. Trustees now maintain that Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr is the only one who could have appealed the decision favoring their action. Carr left appeal up to the alumni group.

High court held in a Waco case that cities are liable for damages where property owners are denied reasonable access to their property by highway construction.

In a companion case, however, court denied damages to another firm because it had access to its property by another street.

HOUSE COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS — House Speaker Ben Barnes has appointed Rep. Vernon J. Stewart of Wichita Falls chairman of the House Interim Committee on Juvenile Crime.

Named to serve with him are representatives W. T. Dungan of McKinney, John Ray Harrison of Pasadena, Alonzo W. Jamison Jr. of Denton and George H. Richards of Huntsville.

Committee is charged with the responsibility of studying the growing juvenile crime problem in the state with a particular emphasis on developing a program for its prevention.

Group will make recommendations to the next Legislature on legislation needed to combat the problem and implement the program.

committee has held the first in a series of hearings to determine why Texas faces an acute shortage of nurses and what can be done about it.

Committee heard witnesses that Texas ranks 46th among the 50 states in the number of nurses per 100,000 population. Also, that enrollment in Texas nursing schools has declined drastically, and that at least 10,000 professional nurses aren't working at their profession.

Second session is scheduled for October 29 in Lufkin and a third in Houston on December 3-4.

TIRE TESTING BIG BUSINESS — More than 1,000 persons are employed in a growing tire-testing industry which contributes $5,000,000 a year to the economies of Texas communities.

University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports that there are large testing installations near Laredo, San Angelo, Uvalde, Pecos, and Fort Stockton. Also in El Paso, Kerrville, Devine, Tyler and San Antonio.

TOURISTS DRIVE UNDERSCORED — Texas communities should devise their own tourists programs to cut themselves in for a slice of the $30,000,000,000 a year national travel industry, Governor Connally advises.

Connally, addressing the First Governor's Tourist Development Conference, said Texas is "lavishly endowed with attractions the traveler seeks." He recommended communities back up the state's advertising program by beautification projects, conditioning citizens to be friendly and knowledgeable hosts, and by publishing up-to-date information about their areas. Need for coordinated state, local and regional efforts was emphasized.

Texas, Connally said, drew 14,200,000 visitors last year, making the state's share of the national travel market $680,000,000. Tourism, he predicted, will rank with space-related industries as one of the most lucrative sources of future income.

By Vern Sanford

Nearly every deer hunter, at one time or another, has been stricken by "buck fever."

It's a temporary, uncontrollable disease which grips the hunter at a most inopportune time.

Usually it strikes just as he is drawing down on a deer and during that moment of truth when the finger begins to tighten on the trigger.

But it can strike swiftly and unexpectedly almost any time. Never is the hunter really immune from it.

For example, here's what happened to a hunter in Central Texas a couple of seasons back. He was sitting in the high fork of a treetop when a big buck came wandering past. A well-placed deliberate shot dropped the critter neatly.

But, as the deer fell, the dreaded "buck fever" hit. The hunter momentarily forgot he was in a tree. He jumped and ran toward the animal, right out of the tree... into space. When searchers found him later, he was clutching a broken leg, not 50 feet away, lay the dead deer.

Germs of buck fever penetrate the nervous system when emotion overcomes reasoning. And no hunter, notwithstanding his experience and age, is immune from the bugaboo. It can happen to the best of us.

Consider what happened to a veteran hunter in South Texas last year. A companion heard him shoot 11 times. Later on the veteran hunter came dragging in his kill and announced proudly, "Got 'im with one shot." "But I heard 11 shots," his friend protested.

VIETNAM HUSTLE—A radio operator of the U.S. Army's 173d Airborne Brigade hustles to catch up with fellow paratroopers in Phuoc Tuy Province, Vietnam. The troopers had just dashed from helicopters of the 82d Aviation Battalion during the air assault phase of a search and destroy operation.

"You did," the hunter answered. "I shot once to attract the deer's attention, nine times to clear out the brush and once to kill him."

Curiously, persons who have a reputation of being superduper deer hunters often are those most susceptible to buck ague. In the presence of others, they must "prove" their reputations are earned, not blown into myth by talk. This pressure often makes them think, to try and reason out each shot, and when the hunter starts thinking he is throwing his defenses open to the fever.

At that critical moment . . . when the sight settles on the deer's vital area and the trigger finger starts applying pressure... it should be a subconscious move. It should be done without any forethought or doubt.

If there is a twinge of doubt in the hunter's mind as to his own ability, then, brother, he's really exposing his vulnerable side to that dread disease of hunting.

A hunter does queer things when gripped by the fever. Morton Burnham of Marble Falls tells about the time he stationed a novice hunter against the trunk of a live oak tree and started walking around in an attempt to drive a deer within gunshot range. He jumped an exceptionally big buck and noticed the animal was heading directly toward the spot where the hunter lay in wait. It was on a course as straight and true as if an engineer had laid it out.

Morton listened for the anticipated shot. The silence was overpowering. Surely, he thought to himself, the hunter had seen the buck. He couldn't have avoided it.

When Morton came upon the hunter, he appeared to be in momentary shock. His eyes were wild-looking and glassy. Morton asked if he'd seen the buck. The hunter nodded his head weakly.

Yeah, but I missed him with every shot," he gasped dejectedly.

Missed every shot? How could he? Morton hadn't heard him shoot, even once. Then he looked down to the ground and there, sparkling in the sunlight, were five live cartridges. The hunter had jacked them out of the rifle without ever once pulling the trigger.

In that maddening moment of excitement . . . when game is sighted . . . just about anything can happen.

But a man is even more likely to catch buck fever when he has a chance to wait and think. Perhaps he sees a buck lurking off in the bordering brush, moving around where there isn't a chance for a shot. The hunter sits impatiently, hoping the deer will eventually show himself. Meanwhile he has time to think about the circumstances, the buck, and how he'll react when and if the deer does step into view. As the nerves screw up tightly, the fever really goes to work on him. And when that happens it would take a near miracle to send the bullet true to its mark.

Every hunter dreads that fever. Only consolation is that sometimes it strikes the best of them.

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

A memorial gift has been given to the library to be dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Glenn Wallace.

It is still a mystery why so many adults can't stand Dr. Seuss and his books and yet so far I have been unable to find one child who does not love both.

Rudolf Flesch who should know what he is talking about has this to say: "I 'predict' that Dr. Seuss will emerge as one of the great classics of this era. In 2059, children will still hoot with joy when they come across Seuss books. What exactly is it that makes this story immortal? I don't know. There is something about it—a swing in the language, a deep understanding of the playful mind of a child, an undefinable something that makes Dr. Seuss a genius pure and simple."

Here is one answer to the question, just what makes a book a classic? "The world of books is one of the most remarkable creations of man. Nothing else he builds ever lasts. Monuments fall; nations perish; civilizations grow old and die out; and after an era of darkness, new races build others. But in the world of books are volumes that have seen this happen again and again, and yet live on, still young, still fresh as the day they were written, still telling men's hearts of the hearts of men centuries dead."—Clarence Day. If that looks familiar it is I have used it before as it may be a bit flowery but it does such a beautiful job of describing books and their world.

Mrs. Rosalyn T. Shamblin, Texas State Library Field Consultant, said she was going to have the Texas State Library, Field Services Division send to the library a book compiled of all of the publications that have anything to do with small libraries. She was more than prompt as the book came October 29th. The book is quite impressive and is a complimentary gift. It is a complete set of the Small Libr-ies pamphlets. It is an excellent guide to the establishment, governing, and operation of small libraries. It is not only a book for the librarian but anyone who might be interested can check it out.

A new magazine to the library at lease will soon be on the rack. It is "Fact." Quoting: "FACT is a crusading new bi-monthly, scrupulously honest, fiercely libertarian." We will wait and see.

Tigers Take Advantage Of Bronc Errors To Win 28-22

by Tom Higley

The gamble did not pay off Friday night at McLean and the Tigers pulled off an Arkansas Razorback finish to down Clarendon 28-22 and gained a minor upset in the District 2-A meeting.

With about 30 seconds remaining on the clock, Clarendon was faced with a fourth and eight situation in the game with the score tied at 22-all. However, McLean led in penetrations 4-3, and under district rules, that would have counted as a win over the Bronchos.

Faced with that problem, Clarendon had but one choice: go for the complete win and the call went to Odell Louis who gained only two yards and McLean gained control of the ball.

Using a pass to the flat to kill the clock, the Tigers connected on their second aerial toss and the tie was broken on the score.

McLean gained the tie by recovering a Broncho fumble on the 30 with less than two minutes left in the game.

David Mooring scored the first Broncho touchdown when he found an opening from four yards out in the first quarter. The Broncho quarterback then passed to Mac McClellan for the two point conversion. In the third period, Louis added another touchdown on a six yard plunge and Mooring again connected for the conversion, this time to end David Easterling.

In the final quarter, Larnce Gardner found plenty of running room from six yards out for the final Broncho tally but the attempted conversion, on a run, failed when the ball was fumbled.

The loss made Clarendon's record stand at three wins and five losses.

Tri-captain Mike Horton received a slight concussion during the early stages of the game and missed the second half of play. He is expected to be able to see action against Memphis this week.

BUCKS ON TOP IN DISTRICT 2-A

They said it "could never be done," but they were wrong, 40-0 wrong.

That was the score when the smoke cleared in White Deer Friday night as the state ranked Bucks scored almost at will in ending the unbeaten string set up by Wellington, a team expected to give the Bucks their stiffest competition to date.

The win gave White Deer the unchallenged right to sit in the champion's throne as they lead District 2-A with two games left on the slate before the state play-offs start.

White Deer's defense manhandled the Skyrockets at every turn and only allowed them one scoring opportunity—which they muffed—in the final quarter. The game was so lopsided, many fans left before halftime and drove over to watch the Groom-Wheeler game at Groom.

In other district action, McLean was taking care of Clarendon 28-22 and Memphis shut out Canadian, 22-0.

NEWS FROM CITY HALL

by R. L. Gilkey, Mayor

At the end of October approximately one-half, or $22,000.00 of the current taxes due have been collected. We hope to collect an additional $18,000.00 or more by the end of the year.

For the coming year the city will collect approximately $40,000 in taxes, $12,000 in permits, licenses, and franchise taxes, and over $90,000 in water and sewer revenue, for a total of over $140,000. You can see that City business is big business even in a town of our size.

The City Council meeting scheduled for Tuesday, November 3rd will be postponed. Many of the city officials will be attending the annual Texas Municipal League Conference in San Antonio on that date.

The work on the red brick community center is progressing. The roads and grounds about the building are being reshaped. The roof has been replaced with the assistance of John Jones. If you should see him on the street, give him your thanks as a citizen. He supervised the repairs and put in a lot of his own time so that the roof could be repaired at a minimum cost to the city. It is a pleasure to be associated with such persons who consider the citizen's tax dollar.

Chamber of Commerce Activities

Three committee chairmen were appointed during the regular directors meeting of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce last week.

Named to the Airfield Planning Committee was L. L. Wallace, while Junior Spier was charged with the Sidewalk Sale Committee and Clyde Price, Jr., was named chairman of the Christmas Activity Committee.

All three committees will hold meetings in the next few weeks.

A chamber newsletter will be published on a monthly basis beginning this month and will be sent to all members of the Chamber.

The directors voted to cooperate with the City of Clarendon in the rent and use of a small postage meter machine which will feature small ads about Clarendon.

New members of the chamber are Kenneth Vaughan, Bright Newhouse and Weldon Day. A report was also heard on the progress of the "Welcome to Clarendon" boxes for new residents.

The next regular meeting of the Chamber directors has been set for Dec. 2.

BUFFS FACE DRAKE IN LAST HOME GAME

The West Texas Buffs will be trying to overcome a two game losing streak when they clash with Drake University in their last home game of the season Saturday night at Buffalo Bowl. Game time will be 7:30 p.m.

The Buffs won their first five games boosting the morale of team members as well as fans. Fans this week will be hoping to see more of those pay-off plays in this final home game of the season. The shake-up, if it may be called that, of the last several weeks has not paid off. Washington has been connecting on fewer passes and averages gained lower with penalties high. Several Buffs are on the injured list this week.

Last day to purchase tickets in Clarendon for this week's game was Monday but don't miss this opportunity to enjoy a game in Buffalo Bowl. Tickets may be purchased at the Field House or at the gate. Lets fill the stadium for this game. Remaining games will be played against Lamar Tech and Texas Western, neither on home ground. November 20th is an open date.

HIGHWAY DEPT. NOTES

Texas motorists are driving a bit faster than they did last year, the Texas Highway Department's 1965 Speed Survey indicates.

The survey, conducted by the Department's Planning Survey Division to determine traffic needs, was made public today.

Another report comparing average speeds at night was released at the same time. It makes it clear that darkness does not necessarily bring a slow-up in driving speeds.

In Texas, the speed limit for passenger vehicles, pickup trucks and buses is 70 miles an hour during the day and 65 at night. For large trucks the daytime limit is 60 miles an hour and 55 at night.

As in 1964, the data for the Speed Survey was obtained thru the use of a radar speed machine.

An effort was made to camouflage the survey operation at each of the 31 locations where the checks were made. For this reason, it is believed that the speeds are indicative of the normal driving habits of Texas motorists.

More than 34,000 vehicles, including passenger cars, trucks and buses, were checked for the survey.

The survey found 10.2 per cent of the passengers exceeding 70 miles an hour, compared to 5.1 per cent a year ago.

For buses, there was a decided drop in the per cent exceeding 70 miles an hour. The 1965 survey found only 0.6 per cent of the buses exceeding 70, compared to 3.7 per cent in 1964.

There was an increase, however, for trucks with 1.1 per cent exceeding 70, compared to 0.4 per cent last year.

The average speed of all vehicles was 58.6 miles an hour. This compares to 56.6 miles in 1964. The average speed for passenger cars was 61.2 miles an hour, compared to 58.8 miles an hour last year.

The average speed for trucks was 53.1 miles an hour, compared to 51.8 in 1964. For buses, the average speed was 63.3 miles an hour, compared to 58.8 miles an hour.

For the day and night report, more than 7,800 vehicles were surveyed—5,381 during the day and 2,454 at night at five locations.

Although the average day speed was 59.8 miles an hour, compared to a slight drop to 58.2 at night, 16.5 per cent of the drivers were exceeding the posted speed limit, 65 miles an hour.
