

BOB AND CHERYL WIGGINS
Cheryls Farm Market

The once popular Farm to Market in the early part of the century, where the farmer sold his milk, eggs and produce directly to the consumer is once again becoming popular.

In 1913, Frank Hardin began to experiment with watermelons and cantaloupes. His business grew and to help take orders Hardin had a branch telephone installed on a pole in his field so his customers could call their orders in. In the mid thirties, this was a new type of business for this section of the country and orders were filled daily right there from shady grove of bois d'arc trees. Sorting tables held roasting ears, beans, cantaloupes and other produce.

Now pickups parked under shade trees along Highway 287 in the Clarendon area is a common sight.

In 1976 Bobby and Cheryl Wiggins operated such a Farm Market. They parked their pickup under a shade tree and started the Cheryl's Farm Market. The next year they purchased 70 acres of land along Highway 287 and built a stand. Due to the bad construction design, it did not take the West Texas wind long to flatten the structure. The Wiggins then rebuilt a better designed building which could withstand the wind. They did not count on a tornado, which hit the stand in August of 1981 and once again their farm market was scattered over their 70 acres. Not discouraged, Bob and Cheryl started over, building a bigger and better stand which now houses their market.

In 1977, when they purchased the land, they started planting their orchard. For the next three years they planted about 100 trees each year. Then in 1980 they planted 2500 fruit trees and in 1981 they planted 300 trees. These trees include 11 varieties of plums, including the Bruce for jelly, Santa Rosa for eating and Stanley for prunes. Other trees planted were apple, apricot, peach, nectarine, and just about any kind of fruit tree which will grow in this area plus grape vines. Their goal is to have a 7,000 tree orchard by 1986.

Along with their large variety of fruits, they also plant 250 acres of vegetables and melons. They do not sell corn, because it is too perishable. "If someone comes through and buys corn and puts it in their trunk, by the time they get home the corn is not good and they believe the stand sold them bad corn," stated Cheryl. "We guarantee all of our produce. If someone coming through stops and buys vegetables or melons and the next year when they come through and say it wasn't good, over ripe or whatever, we ask no questions. We gladly replace the item," Bob said. They laughingly told the story about the couple from another state who stopped back by to tell them that the melon they had bought the summer before was so rotten that it had turned yellow. They had never seen or heard of a yellow melon. Bob and Cheryl not only replaced their melon, but cut a yellow melon for them to taste.

The Wiggins have many repeat customers who stop by year after year on their vacation trips. They have had customers from all 50 states and many South American countries as well as Europe, Australia, Romania, France and Germany.

Their stand is open from early May until early October. In the early part of the season, Bob makes two and three trips a week to markets in San Antonio, McAllen, Presidio, Divine, and markets in Louisiana, Colorado and Mexico.

Bob and Cheryl make many trips in the winter months to buy items such as syrup, peppers, honey and jellies to name a few. They also work at the West Texas Gin during the ginning season.

Cheryl's Farm Market is a family affair with the Wiggins family. Their two sons, Chad and Bobo, and Bob's father and brothers help out when needed.

The stand has a pea shelling machine and for $2.00 per bushel, they will shell your canning peas for you. They also have another machine which culls, washes, grades, defuzzes and makes fruit, such as peaches ready to eat. This machine will be on display next year and you can watch it at work.

When their fruits and vegetables began to make, they contract to sell their excess to other markets some as far away as New York.

Some 35-40 years ago, a friend in Colorado gave Bob's father some seeds for Persian cantaloupes. For some reason these melon seeds are hard to find and anyone who buys one of these melons can sell the seeds back to Cheryl's Farm Market.

There must be something special about the soil in Donley County which makes the melons and vegetables taste better as there are approximately eight Farm Markets in the county not counting the pickups and trailers parked along Highway 287 between Clarendon and Hedley.

All these Farm Markets are excellent to buy fresh fruits and vegetables.

The Lions Tale

4-H Horse Club

There will be a parade practice and play-day Saturday, August 27th starting at 6:30. We need everyone to attend who plans on riding in the tri-state fair parade. There is a new addition, each child will be carrying a flag.

MARK GLOVER
Hedley Boy Saves the Day

Jay Gould of Clarendon went to the high mountains in New Mexico over the July 4th weekend to escape the heat and visit his beautiful cabin. He invited his friend, Mark Glover of Hedley to go with him and is very happy to this day that he brought Mark along.

While Mark was helping repair the cabin and enjoy the mountains, Jay experienced a little difficulty as a result of not bringing his heart medications. As a result, he experienced his first ambulance ride to a hospital in Taos.

The doctor told Jay that he was seriously ill and should not drive at all. Mark, meanwhile, had to drive the Gould car from the cabin home to Taos alone. Now the eleven year old had a choice: he could leave Jay in the hospital, abandon him in the mountains with a car he couldn't drive, or drive Jay home to Texas. After weighing all of the alternatives, Mark and Jay decided to risk the trip home.

The Clarendon Press, is published every Thursday, at 106 S. Kearney and entered as Second Class Mail at the post office at Clarendon, Texas.

J.C. and Helen Woody, publishers and Editors. Subscription rates: $13.00 a year outside Donley County and $10.00 a year in Donley County.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character of any person or firm appearing in these columns will be gladly and promptly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the management.

The two friends traveled safely the long journey back. "I'm sure glad I brought my friend Mark," Jay said. "I couldn't have done it alone. He really saved the day."

Mark was just as delighted to help his good friend and hopes to share many more adventures with Jay in the future.

The youth of Donley County are well trained in many skills; driving is among many of them as they work farm equipment at a very early age. Many youngsters learn CPR and first aid skills as part of 4-H and AG programs. We can all be proud of our youth and the willingness they have to those around them. We can rest assured that those near Mark Glover are in safe, responsible hands in any situation.

Mark is the son of Ronnie and Joann Gover of Hedley.

Fire at the JA Ranch Sunday

The Clarendon Fire Department responded to a fire started by lightning at the J.A. Ranch, Sunday, August 21. The call came into the department about 7:55 p.m. Fire departments from Claude, Clarendon and Howardwick battled the blaze while the Hedley Fire Department was on stand by. With the help of the rain which came after the blaze was started these fire department contained the fire.

About noon on Monday, August 22, this blaze flared up again, this time it took four units from Clarendon, all of Howardwick, 2 from Claude and approximately 10 area ranchers and their fire fighting rigs and some 45 to 50 men to contain this blaze. About 5:30 they stopped the fire only about a mile from the J.A. Ranch Headquarters. It is estimated that some 2000 acres were burned.

James McAnear selected as Builder of the Shorthorn Breed

Dr. Roger E. Hunsley, executive secretary-treasurer of the America Shorthorn Association, Omaha, Nebraska, has announced that James A. McAnear has been selected as one of the association's 1983 Builders of the Breed.

4-H Shorthorn Show successful

The Donley County 4-H Shorthorn exhibitors traveled to Guymon, Oklahoma for another very successful summer preview show. Fifty head were exhibited at the Five State Shorthorn Junior Preview Show with Clarendon bringing home seven first place ribbons along with many other high placings.

Friday evening parents and kids alike competed in the judging contest. In the junior division Laura McAnear placed second, Ginger McAnear 5th, Christie McAnear 7th, Jason Klinnert 8th, Nuggett Bland 9th and Kevin McAnear 10th. In the senior division Rodney McAnear placed 8th with the Donley County Senior Team placing 2nd. In the adult division, Laveta Klinnert placed 3rd, Ronald Gooch 4th, James McAnear 6th and Cheryl Burch 7th. The Five State Juniors held their annual meeting and election of officers with Dyron Howell being re-elected Secretary-Treasurer.

Showday the Donley County exhibitors placed as follows: Winter heifer calves, Rodney McAnear 2nd, Traci Burch 3rd, Laura McAnear 6th; Summer yearlings, Rodney McAnear 1st; Late Spring yearlings, Kevin McAnear 2nd, Shane Klinnert 4th, Jason Klinnert 5th; Early Spring yearling, Christie McAnear 1st, Shane Klinnert 3rd, Ginger McAnear 5th, and Jason Klinnert 7th; Junior yearling, Christie McAnear 1st; Cow-Calf, Rodney McAnear 1st. Christie's early spring yearling, 7M Explosion Kandy went on to be Reserve Champion Heifer.

In the steer show, Dyron Howell placed 1st, Shane Klinnert 2nd and Kevin McAnear 3rd with their light weight prospect steers. In the medium weight prospects, Jason Klinnert placed 2nd, Christie 3rd and Nuggett Bland 4th.

Ginger McAnear placed 3rd with her heavy prospect steer and Christie 4th in the market steer class.

The brought home top honors in the showmanship classes. Rodney brought home the silver plate in the 14-21 year old with Shane placing 3rd and Dyron 5th. Christie brought home the silver plate in the 13 and under division.

Todd Roberson also traveled with the group lending a hand with the work and showing a calf for Rodney in the Championship class. He will be exhibiting his Polled Hereford steers at later shows.

Traci Burch joined the Oklahoma Lassie Queen in awarding trophies and ribbons. This was Traci's first time to make that quick change from Wranglers and boots to Scottish kilt and shawl to officiate as Texas Lassie Princess.

Shorthorns became a part of the life of James A. McAnear Jr., while showing steers through FFA work. He purchased his first Shorthorn female at the Houston Livestock Show during his senior year. In 1973, 20 females formed the beginning foundation of what is now the 7M Irish Shorthorns operation. Daughters of the first herd sire, Seven T's King Phillip, are still some of the top producers in the herd. The addition of females from top herds across the country has raised the numbers to the present 60 head cow herd. In 1980, AF Dividend 79-Explosion, having captures All-American honors, brought increases in frame scores and weaning weights while serving as the major herd sire at 7M. Majesty's Red Chief was used successfully as well, while Explosion was making his show reputation. McAnear has served as a director and president of the Five State Shorthorn Association and as a director of the Texas Shorthorn Association. He has served on the Cowtown Classic Sale committee; been a state delegate to annual meetings of the American Shorthorn Association and is listed in Who's Who in the Western Livestock Industry. He is a 10 year 4-H leader; a school board member; and has been elected an Honorary Chapter Farmer by the Clarendon

FFA group. His support of activities for junior members and new producers has aided in the beginning of five new herds and growth of the breed in Texas. This interest shared by his wife, Pat, has been influential in the success of their own family. One daughter, Lisa, was national Shorthorn Lassie queen in 1980, and another, Jamie, was the Texas queen and a director of the American Junior Shorthorn Association. Their son, Rodney, serves as the 7M herdsman, having himself won many honors in the show ring, and most recently was elected to the board of the American Junior Shorthorn Association. The couple's two younger daughters, Christie and Laura, share the same enthusiasm in the care and promotion of their Shorthorn cattle.

UNPAID TAX TO BE COLLECTED

Notices of delinquent taxes owed to each of the Tax Bodies participating in the Donley Appraisal District have now been mailed for this year. Many property owners have recognized that it was an oversight on their part not to have paid. Others have brought their Tax Payment Receipts as evidence of payment; correction of the records is willingly made.

Statewide law requires addition of penalty and interest of 24% to delinquent tax for 1 year. Those property owners who do not pay their tax delinquency will soon face the legal remedy of seizure of their property for sale at auction.

All of the property tax, delinquent penalty and interest collected stays in the community to supplement the budgeted local services.

For more information come to the Donley
Appraisal District office in the Courthouse
Annex. Phone 874-2744.
