DONLEY COUNTY FARM LAND BUYERS STEADILY INCREASE

Farms Range in Size From 160 Acres Up to 720 Acres. Others Making Arrangements to Buy in Near Future

The scarcity of farm land that may be rented, the present AAA farm plan, and the Federal Land Bank taken altogether, is said to make it possible to buy land now on very reasonable terms if necessary, and provide a need for such a purchase.

Many of the farms purchased are paid for with cash. Some are on terms to run through a long series of years. In either case, farm land is growing in demand—the Donley county kind.

Lloyd Risley has purchased outright the old Grounds farm of 160 acres southeast of Lelia Lake adjoining the Gerner property. Carpenters are now at work making any repairs to the buildings needed. Clarence Johnson and family will farm the place this year. This is said to be a choice farm.

The Castleberry Bros., Oscar and Olin, have become owners of the Walter Donnel farm of 720 acres three and a half miles northeast of Goodnight. This land joins the section on the south recently purchased by Mrs. Monica Harvey and son Robert Harvey. The Castleberry Bros. will farm the place this year, it is stated.

The 320 about a mile east of Lelia Lake formerly owned by W. B. Sims for many years, has been sold to two different parties. Tom Anderson of Canute, Oklahoma buys the east half and will reside on the land with his family. The west half was bought by W. N. Pool, formerly of Hedley.

The above sales were made by J. P. Pool who informed the Leader that he had several other sales almost ready to close up.

SCHOOL CENSUS TO BEGIN OVER COUNTY SOON

The annual school census will begin March 1st, and close March 31st. During that time, an intensive effort will be made to secure the name of every eligible child. Every scholastic missed means a loss of $22 to your school fund.

Names of all children from six to eighteen are eligible. Any child who will be six on or before September 1st next, and those who will not be eighteen until after Sept. 1st, are eligible.

Wise (?) Guys Destroy Property Of Guys Under Guise Of Darkness

The Cars of the Guys, Sheriff Guy Pierce and Deputy Sheriff Guy Wright, fell victims to an onslaught of malicious destruction in the jail garage some time after midnight Friday or Saturday. Time makes no difference in this instance.

The right half of the windshield, and the glass in the right door of the Sheriff's car was broken out. The right half of the windshield of Wright's car was broken out. By choosing the right sides, it is presumed that he was after Wright's property and damaged both cars to be sure he was "right."

Local People Share In Snow Storm Trouble

WEST TEXAS UTILITY COMPANY KEEPS SERVICE GOING WHEN HIGHLINE FAILS

Friday and Saturday when highways were closed in the Plainview country, and Childress and environs had the same condition, autoists had a pretty hard time getting anywhere. Most of them got exactly no place.

Coming home from Greenville, Mr. and Mrs. Van Kennedy, accompanied by Mr. H. L. Cagle of Quail, first met trouble when snow drifts formed across the highway east of Kirkland. "There must have been around four hundred cars stalled, most of them off in the barrow pit," Mr. Kennedy stated when describing conditions east of Kirkland.

With the aid of highway equipment, the Kennedys managed to reach Kirkland where they left their car and came on to Clarendon by rail.

Over at Lubbock Bert Smith was bucking snow drifts Saturday in an effort to reach home. He saw a great many cars and trucks stalled along the highway, but he managed to get through and home by way of Amarillo.

In Plainview, L. B. Chunn, manager of the Piggly Wiggly store, could not reach his place of business early Saturday morning. Snow drifts due to the high wind had blocked traffic in general.

Locally, the storm had its effect when the Utility high line went down east of Memphis. Vic Smith spent Friday night with the local engine keeping electric service going. Others took over and Chas. Lowry staid on the job Saturday night. Except for a light flicker of lights, local patrons never knew that anything was wrong with the electric lines, so accurately is every safeguard planned to prevent any form of trouble disrupting the service.

The snowfall was heaviest from Happy south, and from Esteline east. Our section escaped the worst part of the storm by some miracle yet to be explained.

The payment brought the total made this year to $9.

Pastor's Father Dies At Lelia

VENERABLE CITIZEN DIES SUN. AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist church at Lelia Lake at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon for Mr. H. P. Allen, 72, father of Rev. Vic W. Allen, pastor of that church.

Rev. Chas. Talley was assisted in conducting the service by Rev. W. A. Lofland. Interment was planned in Brownfield, but highways were snow-bound. It was decided at the last moment to make interment in the Citizens cemetery at Clarendon.

Mr. Allen is survived by seven daughters and three sons. Mrs. Andy Timmons, Levelland; Mrs. John Pelly, Hale Center; Mrs. Bula Miller, Pawhuska, Okla.; Mrs. Carl Childress, Roswell; Mrs. Robt. Nelson, and Miss Carrie Allen of Santa Rosa, Calif.; Miss Mollie May Allen, Lubbock.

The sons are Rev. V. W. Allen, Lelia Lake; Ed Allen of Childress, and Glenn Allen of Brownfield.

For the past several years, Mr. Allen had resided in Childress with his son Ed Allen, paying frequent visits to the family of Rev. Allen at Lelia Lake where he was Sunday when the final summons came. He was of a strong christian character, a devout church worker and always found a place in his community to spread sunshine among the less fortunate.

The Kelso-Womack funeral home had charge of arrangements.

RUSSELLS VISIT CLARENDON OVER NIGHT THURSDAY

An announced in the Leader two weeks previously, the male members of the Russell family stopped here over night and met a number of old friends and former associates.

In the party was J. E. Russell, former insurance man and school board secretary. He is real estate operator for the city of Denver, and has been for three years.

The sons, Stephen and Reece came along to pilot the car. Stephen is a "big shot" publisher of Denver, his plant producing 26 different publications, one of which is an advertising monitor for the plant.

They left Friday for Houston and will return by way of San Antonio where Golder Russell has been practicing law for several years.

PARSONS GROCERY ROBBED FOR THIRD TIME

Being robbed by night prowlers has little effect upon M. S. Parsons, popular grocer on the "Bowery," as he terms his location. Last night a window light was broken by the side of the front door. It was then an easy matter to reach in and turn the night latch. "There is no knob on the safe and we leave the cash register wide open every night," Mr. Parsons stated.

Only nickels and dimes are left in the store at night. One time the burglar left a few of each just to show the boss man that his heart was in the right place. Last night he took nickels and dimes but left almost a hundred pennies. Nothing else was disturbed so far as the proprietor could find out.

P. O. Inspector Looks Out Site For Local Building

Postal inspector A. S. Page of Ft. Worth spent Wednesday here looking over proposed sites for a post-office building. When the receipts of a postoffice reaches $10,000 a year, the town is entitled to a federal building, he stated. The receipts here for the past year totals $13,698.28. Postmaster Forest W. Taylor stated.

"The fact that I am looking over proposed sites for a federal building, does not necessarily mean that one will be built right now," Mr. Page added. It appears that Clarendon is in line for a building, and that Mr. Page's visit here is more a matter of routine with the department.

SNOW BLOCKS TEACHERS ON WAY TO SCHOOL MEET

Those prevented from attending a meeting of superintendents, principals and English teachers in Amarillo Saturday were Supt. and Mrs. H. T. Burton and daughter, Nelda Sue, Mrs. Margaret Goodner and Misses Hall and Wallace.

They made their way over snow drifts until reaching Claude. They were strongly advised against attempting to reach Amarillo, and returned home.

Gas Company Wants Balance On Old Rate

SOME PATRONS CLAIM THREAT IS MADE TO CUT THEM OFF

About the time that the Railroad Commission upheld the legality of the gas franchise agreement of reducing the gas rate from seventy cents per thousand cubic feet to fifty four cents, a number of local patrons began to offer checks based on the lower rate. Some are said to have been refused, while others were held in escrow.

Those checks held in escrow, are said to have been cashed one day last week. Those depositing the checks based on the lower rate, are said to have since been notified that the remainder of the amount based on the old rate must be paid, else gas service will be discontinued.

The controversy has produced results. Some have paid. Others claim they will stand for a suit in court before they will pay, giving as their reasons that the company has changed hands, and that the new company cannot collect. It is not known if the debts were transferred in the purchase, they claim.

Several substantial citizens contending for the new rate, declare that no further payment on back claims will be made until the rate case between the gas company and the City has been settled. The case is pending now in the Court of Civil Appeals at Austin.

Employees of the gas company removed a number of meters from residences and places of business Wednesday where full payment of the old gas rate had not been paid. Payment had been made on the 54 cent basis, and the checks cashed, it was stated by several of them.

Eggless Egg Bobs Up Here Tuesday

Recalling meatless days of the war period, it is barely possible that an eggless egg is an indication that another war is in the making, some seemed to surmise after inspecting the egg at the Clarendon Hatchery Tuesday.

MEMBER OF PANHANDLE PRESS ASSOCIATION

FIRE—NOT A FOG.

We might as well, to say the least, to see there is some fire causing all the smoke in Texas politics, that it is not just a fog. And, without any disrespect meant, we might say the fog is with the opponents of same government in the good old Lone Star state, yet hold office.

Listening to the announcement of Hon. Harry Hines broadcast from Austin Tuesday night, one could but 'hear' between the lines, Hines wants to be the next governor of Texas. He spoke of the "defeatist attitude," the lack of constructive legislation, and many other ills growing rampant in our state and well rooted in the political soil of rotten politics.

One does not have to be strictly a "Hines man" to agree with him and that he possesses the ability to recognize the ills with which we are beset. There is consolation in the fact though, that he had the ability and the will to bring these thoughts out into the open where people may properly judge men who will offer themselves for office, backed by a record of accomplishment.

AN ALL-CONSUMING SUBJECT FOR TEXAS.

Taxation may be a threadbare subject, but hordes of tax-burdened men and women a few days ago bore down upon the governor of the state of New York and demanded a "cessation of hostilities." Taxpayers are organizing in many other states and even in Texas. They demand a change, and should have it.

Taxes affect all of us. We are taxed on our first swaddling clothes through life, and a heavy tax on the materials with which we are buried. Everything that we eat, use and wear is taxed. We are taxed on some things we see—the picture show.

Taxes represent the cost of government. There is an element crying for more spending because of selfish reasons. Spending in Texas has gone clear out of bounds. Necessary functions of government have been practically forgotten. Naturally, there is but one way to curtail taxes. That is, stop spending until we catch up. At least stay within bounds. If Texans today were to be called upon to pay their share of state and national debt, every individual would have to dig up $1042. We are not being asked to pay it in a lump sum, but we are made to pay a part of it daily, and the interest as it comes due. We may hear a lot of candidates prate about prohibition and old age pensions this summer, both favorite subjects to prejudice the voter in favor of the professional politician who would fool him. The home maker, the family man, wants to know something about the tax burden. He prefers to hear a clean cut remedy for redeeming him from the ravages of bankruptcy by the taxation route.

New Deal Holds No Terrors For Indian Chief

UNCLE SAM SUPPORTS HIM IN SIMPLE MANNER

Over in the woods near La Porte there is a 78-year old Indian with a design for living.

He is B. Harris, who says he is Chief Black Hawk, grandson of Sitting Bull, and he has spent the last 27 years living in the woods, cold weather or not, in the manner of his ancestors.

When the weather gets cold he simply adds more pants and more coats. During the recent sub-freezing weather he wore four pairs of pants and four coats, the last he added being an old swallow tail coat he said he bought in Houston for 50 cents.

There is nothing, he says, out in the woods to bother him. He likes it. He goes into town once a month to get a $15 pension the government pays him because he is an Indian. He has been getting the pension since 1890.

"I don't save any of it," he says. "I buy shotgun shells with it to kill rabbits and birds to eat. And I buy fish hooks to catch fish now and then, and I need some bacon once in a while."

Escapes Taxation But after all, he says, it costs a man a little to live, "even if he doesn't have to pay cigarette tax, gasoline tax, ad valorem tax, county, state, school, or property tax."

He says he knows a lot about taxes because he reads a lot.

"Friends give me a lot of magazines," he says, "and out here in the woods with nobody to bother me, and not much of anything to bother with, I have plenty of time for reading. It does me good."

Chief Black Hawk will readily point out the economic disadvantages of marriage.

"If I was married," he says, "I would have to kill twice as many rabbits, catch twice as many fish, and have twice as many clothes. So I just live alone out here in the woods—it's easy that way."

So the chief goes on the easy way, living in a frame house four feet wide, ten feet long, and seven feet high. His house is crowded with bags of foodstuff, clothing, hunting supplies, and his magazines.

There are no clocks or radios, or trains, or the humming noises of self-made men. He's alone and "nobody bothers me"—A design for living.

A Proclamation

Clarendon, Texas, February 19, 1940. Designating February 25th to March 2nd as Texas Week.

Whereas, the State of Texas is an empire within itself, vast in its area, unparalleled in the glory of its heroic deeds and romantic history, unrivaled in the splendid progress and achievements of its brilliant past and living present, and unmatched in the marvelous opportunities it has in store for its citizens ever in the future; and

Whereas, we are approaching the date, March the Second, which marks the birth of Texas Liberty and the beginning of the Republic of Texas, and its subsequent entry into the Sisterhood of States of this Union; and

Whereas, there is a movement throughout this State that Texas Week, beginning February 25th and closing March 2nd, 1940, be properly observed in commemoration of the birth of the Republic of Texas;

Now, therefore, I, Tom F. Connally, Mayor of the City of Clarendon, in accordance with Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8 of the Forty Second Legislature, proclaim Texas Week and invite our citizens to observe Texas Week, not as a season of holidays but as a week of better work and better living;

First. I urge every home, office, place of business and industry, every public and private school to fly a Texas flag each day during Texas Week, raising and lowering it with proper ceremony and;

Second. I urge all schools and colleges to observe Texas Week with appropriate assembly programs, make Texas Week education week and book week; hang Texas pictures in home, school, and office; plant trees and flowers and dedicate them; and make patriotic pilgrimages to places of historical significance, and to form Texas History clubs and petition membership in the Junior Division of the Texas State Historical Association; and;

Third. I urge the people in the marts and industries, professional pursuits, clubs, conventions, churches, lodges, and other assemblies to render appropriate programs during Texas Week; and;

Fourth. Let us carefully consider more plans for the further industrial development of our state. By putting to use our abundant natural resources, Texas is fast becoming a leader in industry as well as in agriculture; and;

Fifth. We Texans should cooperate in the growing movement for the preservation of scenic beauty and wild life in our state. Texas is an exquisitely beautiful state and only by the support of every loyal Texan can it remain so; and;

Sixth. Let us all, for the brief space of Texas Week, extol the cultural and spiritual values of the romantic traditions of our history and dedicate ourselves to the lofty ideals of statesmanship, character, and leadership which our forefathers exhibited in their lives consecrated to liberty, happiness and service.

TOM F. CONNALLY Mayor of the City of Clarendon.

"The Civic Affairs Committee of Ft. Worth learned that some counties had effected notable economies through use of the unit system of county road administration. The committee found that some of the principles of the unit plan were being complied with in Tarrant County, such as centralized purchasing. It found, in addition however, that further centralization of road planning keeping of accounts, inventory of material and equipment, etc., likely would result in greatly improved service to the road users and effect substantial economies.

"With the complete co-operation of the Commissioners' Court the Committee made a thorough survey of the county road system. It held several meetings, with and without the commissioners, and finally drew up a set of recommendations which the court unanimously approved and planned to put into effect.

"General principles of the recommendations included (1) a unified plan of operation of the road and bridge system for the county as a whole, subject to the statutory limitations requiring that all road tax money be spent from the precinct within which it is collected; (2) central planning by the court, as a whole, of work to be done on this system and of purchases and expenditures for labor, materials and equipment; (3) co-ordination of purchasing under the county purchasing agent and keeping a perpetual inventory of county road equipment and materials; (4) co-ordination of construction and maintenance of roads and bridges under the county engineer, subject to the approval of the commissioners' court; (5) uniform system of reports for the four precincts, giving costs of road and bridge projects, costs of maintaining and operating equipment, use of man-power and disposition of materials.

"On the day the committee submitted its recommendations to the court, the unit plan received a powerful and unexpected endorsement in Washington by Carl Wilcox, chief engineer of WPA road and bridge projects. Wilcox, greatly impressed with the possibilities of the unit system of road administration and long range planning of county roads, has urged that Tarrant County take the initiative in long range county road planning. In taking the lead, it not only would better itself, but would lead the way to better government for the other 3,007 counties in the United States."

TEMPLE OF TRUTH

By the Apostle

ONLY TWO—AND SILENCE.

Sunday we had a birthday dinner. The birth dates of GW and the old Apostle come within two days of being the same. We always celebrate at the same time on the same day. Two of the five boys, their wives and babies were with us. As I sat at the table my thoughts turned back to the days when those five boys were helpless little tots, tow-headed, lined up around the table to help their parents celebrate their birthdays—all in one meal. Then as now, there was a bunch of gifts from each of the boys. Some times they clubbed together and centered on a single gift making it, as they thought, more worth while. Today there is a quietness in the home where once five boys made merriment and noise, but now they have flown out into the big world going their several ways with a smile and a parting goodbye to the parents and the home, apparently not caring if the way be long and hard. They each had life partners going to make other homes. With their going there came that stillness that falls. There is heard no more the loud preparation for the fishing or hunting trip. No more coming late to meals, complaining of cold feet or the temporary absence of the shirt, sock or the worn by a brother in his absence. No more wondering if the task at the printing plant can be completed in time to 'make' the picnic party, weiner roast and many other forms of amusement that appeal to youth. So it has been all down through history. We are not old, mother - - - at least not very old. These missing ones come home again on occasion bringing children, gifts, plans for outings and make older hearts glad all over again. Then they go away again and silence steals into the home and we have to neighbor with friends more closely until the gloom departs. There are no tears, nor any need that there should be. Those things are the very warp and wool of life itself. But the sun goes round unceasingly, and the clouds return, and the dark night comes when all the sky is lit with diamonds and then a little more remembering and soon slumber closes the door to all joys and sorrows for a rest.

AIN'T THERE A LAW?

Down at Daingerfield there is an old-fashioned lawyer in an old-fashioned building across the front in box-car letters appears and appeal. That appeal for business may mean simply that he wants all the folks to know where he is located, and where he has been the past 42 years. The sign reads:

LAW OFFICE

J. M. HENDERSON
Then there are those to criticize his ethics, or lack of them. He lived in a day when men enjoyed more liberty than now. He did not have to consult any one about how he should conduct his personal affairs, at least not in the manner in which he advertised his business. Being old, he still clings to the old idea of freedom. Some day, there will be a law passed similar to the dental bill, and snoozerers will drop in and arrest that fine old citizen for advertising his business. While his neighbors regard him as a fine old christian gentleman, there will be those in authority who will tell him that he should have "squinty little letters on a very small shingle hung in a very modest location." Then the old man will declare that "I ain't ashamed of my name, my business, my record or my location." But that won't save him. He will merely be a victim of ethics, eternally disgraced for having exercised his own mind in his own behalf without bothering anything or anybody.

A COCKED HAT.

As a lad, the writer was strongly urged to emulate the great and good, among them, George Washington. This is George's birthday. After looking at the wood, wire and bone constituting his false teeth as displayed in the National Museum in Washington, I could understand why he deserved sympathy and wore a cocked hat. After being crammed into a corner by robust servants during the process of "putting on" his teeth, his hat got mashed into that three-cornered affair and thus set the style of other dignitaries who had to "gum it" through life for the lack of funds and expert service as she was known even then. From this experience, there was handed down to posterity the saying of: "Knocked into a cocked hat!"

PRE-MEDICAL STUDENTS WEST TEXAS COLLEGE MAKE EXCELLENT RECORDS

CANYON, Feb. 21.—Evidence of the high quality of pre-medical training offered at West Texas State College has been pointed out by President J. A. Hill in the report of the Association of American Medical Colleges.

In a study of first year students at Texas Medical colleges over a 9-year period, the Association statistician found that West Texas State ranked fourth for the percentage of its students making good in medicine, with no course failures. The local state college was exceeded only by Rice Institute, the University of Texas, and Texas College of Mines at El Paso.

Similar work is being offered as a preparation for law, engineering, journalism, public service, and other professions. Several students have prepared for the ministry.

RELATIVE DIES IN NOCONA AFTER USEFUL LIFE

With the passing of Dr. H. F. Wilton, 82, in Nocona the 13th, that section lost one of its most valuable men. For 55 years he had served his people as family physician, and many are they, some grown, who were named after the good doctor, after he had officiated at their births.

A native of Wise county, he went to Montague county soon after beginning his practice in 1885. He married a sister of W. E. Hodges of the Martin community who today with hundreds of others, reveres the memory of this good and noble man who dedicated his long life to the relief of suffering humanity.

COWBOY POET SEES OWN WORKS HONORED

78-year old former range rider and poet, who once sold his best horse to get money to finance his education, went back to Austin the other day to see his own books in a place of honor on University of Texas library shelves.

Lycius Gough of Amarillo, cowboy poet, visited the Texas collection in the University library, where his own works are alongside those of other contributors to the folklore and literature of Texas and the southwest.

Gough presented a copy of his "Spur Jingles and Saddle Songs" to the Texas Collection in 1939. Written in 1935, the book was a supplement to an earlier "Western Travels," printed in 1886. Only one copy of "Western Travels" remains extant, that in the museum of the West Texas State Teachers College in Canyon.

"Spur Jingles and Saddle Songs" contains many of the verse in the earlier work, and also includes a number of ballads that trail-riding cowpunchers sang around their campfires.

Mrs. Nellie Grady spent the week end with homefolks.

HANGED HIMSELF WITH AID OF BALING WIRE

Hollis Scarborough, 49, charged with the slaying of his father June 19, 1939, was adjudged insane and committed to the Veteran's hospital at Waco. Tuesday he secured baling wire and hanged himself from the limb of a tree on the hospital grounds.

The father, W. F. Scarborough, was one of the largest ranch owners of the Midland country for years. He lived a short while after being shot, and on his deathbed, disinherited his son of a share in wealth estimated at more than a million dollars. There are five other heirs.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Frey of Amarillo visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Goldston over the week end.

The Arnold Family

The Otho M. Arnold family in Hall County is one of more than 6,000 former tenant farm families who now live on their own farms purchased under the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Purchase program administered by the Farm Security Administration.

While this program has made only a start toward meeting the serious rural housing situation, it has been a large factor in the recent revival of rural construction activity.

Arnold, who had been a tenant farmer for 20 years, obtained a loan in 1939 with which to purchase his 200 acre farm and make the necessary improvements. Several other Hall County farmers have received similar loans and construction of improvements is, or soon will be in progress.

The national average of farms purchased under this program is 134 acres. The average cost of the homes is $1,313, slightly below Arnold's cost.

During the first two years of the Farm Tenant Act, 147,972 applications were received for the 6,180 loans made under appropriations aggregating $35,000,000. Many of these applications are being reconsidered this year along with the 133,096 new applications.

All of the applications so far received have been taken in approximately 1,300 counties. Because of limited funds, the loans have not yet been extended to other counties. They have been confined, for reasons of administrative economy, to those counties where the tenancy problem is most severe.

The breakdown of this year's application figures by states shows that more applications for tenant purchase loans were received in Texas than any other state. With funds available for about 584 loans, Texas received 16,463 applications, or almost 30 for each loan to be made.

Congress passed the Bankhead-Jones Act in 1937 in an effort to stop the alarming increase in tenancy. The 1935 census had disclosed that 42 per cent of American farmers were tenants, as compared with only 30 per cent 50 years ago, and that a third of these tenants—about a million families—move every year, at a huge cost to themselves, their landlords and the nation.

Other Hall County tenant farmers who soon will become farm owners under this program include Oscar A. Wilson, Aubrey L. Martin, Oscar A. Srygley, Guy W. Smith, Garland Gardenhire, and Glenn M. Stargel.

Farm Families Adopt Modern Suggestions

COLLEGE STATION.—Of the 16,000 farm families in the 22 Panhandle counties included in extension district one, 11,790 adopted improved practices recommended by their county agricultural agents in 1939.

Conservation again headlined the 1939 achievements, according to Parker D. Hanna, district agent of the Texas A&M Extension Service, who supervises the work of county agents in the district. Results include terracing of 91,000 acres; 869,514 acres of feed crops grown on contour; practices to control soil blowing carried out on 1,948,102 acres; recommended crop rotations initiated on 590,120 acres; cover crops planted on 796,630 acres; and approved summer fallow practiced on 708,319 acres.

On range land, 166,120 acres of grass land were contoured. Feeding demonstrations involving more than 18,000 head of cattle were carried on by 385 operators, and 411 trench silos were filled during the year.

These feeding operations do not include those of 4-H club boys. More than 1,100 boys had livestock demonstrations, and the total 4-H club enrollment jumped to 1,831, over 700 above the 1938 figure and a new high for the district. Of the 22 counties in the district, 18 are holding spring 4-H livestock shows.

In the seven counties producing cotton, 2,304 cotton growers planting 68,047 acres to the crop cooperated in one-variety cotton communities and received premiums averaging $2.50 per bale. Demonstrations in blight resistant milo maize, initiated in 1938, were continued on a large scale in 1939, and Hanna predicted that the entire milo acreage of the region would be planted to resistant varieties in 1940.

One of the outstanding programs carried out under the leadership of the county agents was the control of the grasshopper infestation. Early planning and a thorough campaign resulted in the cooperation of 6,000 farmers and ranchmen in the mixing and distribution of 13,176,733 pounds of poisoned bait. Savings through the campaign have been estimated at $2,665,035.

As a result of the 1939 campaign, prospects are that the 1940 grasshopper infestation will be much less severe than in previous years.

DAVIS HAS TROUBLE WITH FIRST COLD SPELL

W. E. Davis, stock farmer of the Brice country for so many years that he has forgotten the date of his landing, was in town Wednesday. Mr. Davis has a model home down on his ranch. In shaping up things just to suit, he had a long string of pipe laid, most of which was a foot and half under the soil. That pipe led from the mill at the house to his stock tank. "Well sir, that first zero weather got that pipe so cold that when I turned in the water, the water froze in the pipe before it got to the tank, and later I found the pipe had burst in three places." That's how cold it was, and no one doubts it for a moment. He lost one cow and calf during the hard freeze.

This is to let you know that I, Ed Hammond, of Granfield, Oklahoma, was down and could not walk on account of siatic rheumatism. I was an invalid for three years. I went there, staying three weeks and went home sound and well. It has been over six years since Milling treated me and I am still well, and working every day.

Santa Fe Rail Crews Rescue Storm Victims

State and county officials offer high praise for assistance offered by the Santa Fe Railway in the rescue of hundreds of persons snowbound on the highways during the recent blizzard which paralyzed South Plains highway traffic.

State Senator George H. Nelson, Lubbock, one of those taking active part in the rescue work, declared that if it had not been for such prompt assistance that doubtless many would have suffered serious harm from exposure.

More than 300 men, women and children were rescued. Officials and train crews were aided in rescue work by State Highway Patrolmen and radio stations.

Several extra trains were run out of Lubbock in response to appeals from Senator Nelson, Mayor T. J. Shelton of Plainview, and others. Working in face of severe hardships the trainmen fought the elements until all were safe.

Addressing the Down Town Bible Class at Lubbock, Sunday, following the storm, Senator Nelson said:

"Anything I might say would be inadequate in expressing my gratitude to Santa Fe Railway officials for the prompt action and aid they provided. Had it not been for this promptness, it is hard to describe the seriousness which may have resulted. I feel that the people of the Plains join me in thankfulness for the wholehearted cooperation in which the Railway officials responded to our appeal for help."

Mayor Shelton declared: "Action by the Railway was one of the most commendable acts I know. As mayor of Plainview, and speaking for the people of this area, I wish to say that such humanitarian cooperation is highly appreciated by all."

J. A. Gillies, general manager of the Santa Fe Western Lines, under whose orders the rescue work was speeded, asserted that officials felt it a public and humanitarian duty to respond to the general distress.

Mrs. Glenn Casey, Mrs. Roy Everett, Mrs. Ralph Kerbow and daughter of Amarillo attended the funeral of little Sammy Jo Lowe here Thursday.

Producer Gets An Even Break

COLLEGE STATION.—Since the federal government began, back in 1923, to collect and publish information as to crop conditions, livestock marketings, and so on, and to sum this up each year in a forecast in the "Agricultural Outlook", farmers have had an even break with speculators.

Another reason for the outlook report of the USDA's Bureau of Agricultural Economics is that in theory, at least, it tends to level out the highs and lows in production and to stabilize consumer prices and agricultural income.

If Farmer Jones cares to consult with his county agent, he may learn, for instance, that supplies of hogs are going to be low and demand strong while there is a record beef slaughter in sight. In this case, he might change his mind about feeding out feed calves and use his grain to fatten hogs; the switch in his plans might bring in a much better return for his labor and investment.

The Agricultural Outlook is not just a guess, according to Tyrus R. Timm, economist in farm management with the Texas A&M Extension Service. A six-year check on the accuracy of the forecast shows a low of 84 percent correct in 1928 and a high of 90 percent in 1929, with an average of 87.3 percent overall.

The forecast lists the supply in sight and probable demand for all major agricultural products, plus information as to agricultural credit and production costs for the coming year. The information is relayed to Texas farmers and ranchmen thru county agricultural agents.

Joe Davis and Gordon Harris of Amarillo are selling the stock remaining purchased at the sale of the Rathjen shoe stock.

HERE AND THERE OVER THE LONE STAR STATE

For your "things I never knew 'til now" about Texas, add the following taken from a list of Texas facts compiled by William Eilers of Austin.

The oldest and the smallest town in Texas is Ysleta, 14 miles below El Paso, founded in 1582 by Spaniards.

The Governor's mansion in Austin is remarkable for the facts that: (1) It was built in 1855 and first occupied by Governor Pease. (2) William Roger Houston was the first child born there. (3) Sam Houston Allred was the last.

(4) Present Governor W. Lee O'Daniel is the first governor to hold regular broadcasts from the mansion. The French embassy in Austin is the only one ever erected by a foreign government in the United States.

A Chicago syndicate built the State Capitol in exchange for 3,000,000 acres of public land. It is the only state capital in the United States not built by taxpayers' money.

The first college in Texas was established at Rutersville, in Fayette County, in 1840.

At one time during 1925 all the members of the Texas Supreme Court were women. They were Mrs. Hortense Ward, Miss Ruth Virginia Brazzil, and Miss Hattie L. Henenberg.

The Alabama Indians in Polk County are the only Indians living in Texas today.

Lieutenant Governor Coke, Stevenson is the only Lieutenant Governor to have been twice elected Speaker of the House before he was elected Lieutenant Governor.

Two Texas Governors, Pat Neff and Oran M. Roberts, have been authors.

The town of Brady is the geographical center of Texas, and Waco is the population center of the state.

TREE PLANTING TO BRING $30 MORE UNDER AAA

Many trees are adapted to wind-break planting, and native trees and other thrifty trees may well be used to form a barrier against cold, sharp winds. Among the trees which will serve for this purpose are desert willow, tamarix or salt cedar, native plum, vitex, native junipers or cedars, native pine and well adapted fruit trees. In areas free of root rot, the Chinese elm is favored because of its rapid growth.

Farmers may earn an additional $30 benefit under the AAA program through planting trees about the farm for the purpose of providing windbreak or through planting shade trees for the increased comfort of the home and for protection of poultry, cattle and other livestock from extreme heat or cold.

Sonja Henie's Latest Film Picture "Everything Happens at Night" Is Thrillingly Different for Ice Star

Story value and acting performances are counted on in "Everything Happens at Night" more than in any of Sonja Henie's previous five productions. A completely different type of story for the famous skating star and queen of the ice, the screen play by Art Arthur and Robert Harari is filled with love and laughter, and mysterious danger, too. It's a timely tale of attraction, intrigue, with the added attraction of Sonja's matchless artistry on silver blades and slippery skis.

Ray Milland and Robert Cummings are featured as Sonja's leading men in the attraction which opens at the Saturday night Prevue at the Pastime Theatre. Because it is essentially a story picture, Irving Cummings, known as an "actor's director," was selected by Darryl F. Zanuck for the megaphone. The cast includes Maurice Moscovitch, Leonid Kinskey, Alan Dinehart and Fritz Feld.

Signed by 20th Century-Fox originally just for her skating genius, the studio asked no real acting talent from Sonja Henie in her first few pictures where they were content just to have her perform on the ice. But it was soon apparent that a real dramatic talent was possessed by the ice champion. Never, however, has Sonja had a part as demanding upon her new-found ability as in "Everything Happens at Night."

As the daughter of a famous European statesman hiding in Switzerland from his enemies intent on extinguishing the light of freedom in Europe, she aids her father in revealing to the world the sensational inside story of the new international intrigue.

These stories, because of their style and content, lead news editors

DOWN is Robert Cummings, but definitely not out in the romantic rivalry between him and Ray Milland for Sonja Henie in her latest 20th Century-Fox picture, "Everything Happens at Night," coming this Saturday night Prevue at the Pastime Theatre.

Frank Cannon, Lee Christie, and Ray Robertson will compete in the dairy cattle judging contest. A number of first year students have shown a good deal of talent in judging dairy cattle, but will not be entered in the contest so they will be eligible for the event in 1941. Redell Henson, Obra Spier, Bobby Harold Smith, Billy Smith, C. G. Kirkland, Woodie Spencer, Bobby Marshall, and Jimmy Goodman are first year boys who have been working out for the dairy cattle team.

Creameries and dairies in Lubbock will provide the training grounds for the teams Friday, and they will compete in the contests at Tech Saturday and return to Clarendon Saturday afternoon.

1940 Chick Brooding Program

The F.F.A. chapter has approximately 140 two week old chicks on feed for the annual Father-Son Banquet to be held in the latter part of April. All but seventy of the broilers will be sold and the remainder will serve as the chief portion of the menu to be served at the annual Father-Son banquet.

A number of F.F.A. members have already started brooding their chicks in the F.F.A. coop brooder. Approximately 2,000 chicks will be brooded during the present season in the coop brooder for broilers and laying flocks for the individual members. Buff orpingtons, white orpingtons, S. C. R. I. W., White Langshans, white Giants, black and buff leghorns, partridge wyandottes, Columbian wyandottes, Brahmas, and white wyandottes are the breeds that will be brooded out by the individual members. Approximately 500 of the chicks are in the brooder at the present time. Chapter members hope to be able to continue their show winnings next fall with the best of the chicks started in their coop brooder.

Cotton Bagging Favored Most

Cotton bagging came to the front in Texas during 1939 as 233,976 bales were covered with this material, F. E. Lichte, cotton gin specialist of the Texas A&M Extension Service, has announced. Less than 17,500 bales were put up in cotton bagging in 1938.

Advocates of cotton bagging have pointed out that a normal crop of cotton in the United States would require the use of about 135,000 bales of cotton annually. Spinners generally favor cotton as a bagging material, as the jute now widely used mixes with the cotton fiber and makes an extra cleaning process necessary. Improvements are necessary which will make cotton bagging more satisfactory than the present type, Lichte said.

Mr. and Mrs. U. J. Boston were in Clovis Sunday where they have mercantile interests.

Harry Hines To Make State Race

AUSTIN, Feb. 21.—Tossing his hat into the ring with an announcement as a candidate for Governor of Texas, Harry Hines, member of the Texas Highway Commission for the past five years, Tuesday night raised the curtain on the 1940 gubernatorial contest.

Hines, announcing that he would later issue a platform and discuss every issue pertinent to the campaign in full detail, put himself on record on several burning issues.

He pledged himself:

1. Against the sales tax, which he termed a tax on poverty and opposed to his understanding of the meaning of Democracy.

2. In favor of fulfillment of the social security program, including payment of adequate old age pensions, and aid to dependent children, needy blind, the State's part of the teachers' retirement program.

3. The raising of the additional money needed to pay these obligations by cooperative effort with the legislators, spreading the cost without "dealing a death blow to any one group."

Hines indicated he will be a conservative candidate, and declared he will not try to "out promise the promisers," and promised to be a "doer instead of a promiser."

"At no time need you expect Harry Hines to play upon ignorance or emotion in an effort to bait voters," he said. "If sound basic fundamentals of government as envisioned by our forefathers based on honesty, integrity and economy is what our citizens want then it is an insult to their intelligence to promise them impractical, unsound, vote getting bait."
