School Board looking into remodelling old college building

The Clarendon School Board has been looking into the feasibility of remodelling the old College building, as well as new construction to provide more classrooms and an auditorium.

The Board has talked to an architect who has drawn up plans and given them an estimate cost and his recommendations.

The Board will be talking to teachers and other interested parties asking for their recommendations in the near future.

The Board has been putting money aside for years in anticipation of the time when they might have to expand school facilities.

Plans are available in the superintendent of schools office, anyone wishing to go over the plans, may make an appointment to do so.

Plans will be discussed in Thursday's school board meeting.

Girl Scout cookies have arrived

The 1987 Girl Scout cookies have arrived! Troop delivery starts March 9th and will continue through March 23rd. Varieties available include: Pecan Shortees, rich shortbread and pecans; Samoas, caramel covered, rolled in toasted coconut; Do-Si-Does, crunchy oatmeal with rich peanut butter filling; Tagalongs, wafer with peanut butter filling coated with chocolate drops in an old style recipe. Several troops will be having booth sales in case your order was not taken (or if you realized you did not order enough!). Cookies sell for $2.00 per box.

Cookie sales are an important aspect of Girl Scouting. Through the profits received from sales, service to the girls can be provided, enhancing many programs such as camp, training and council activities. The money raised from cookie sales is used directly for maintenance and development of council properties and girl program. The best part however, is the fun for the girls. The girls learn the responsibility of setting goals, meeting deadlines, handling money and relating to the public. Each troop receives 30c per box sold and girls earn incentives on a graduated scale. Incentives this year include: Magic Motion Mugs, Cookie Magic T-Shirts, Pocus (stuffed rabbit in hat), Hocus (hand puppet), and many more. "Magic Money" Coupons are given to girls at $1.00 per case sold. This money can be used within the council for day camps, resident camp and council events until October 31, 1987.

For further information, please contact your Service Unit Cookie Chairman, Maureen Butts at 874-3823 or the Quivira Girl Scout Council at (806) 669-6862. Thank you for your support!

National Employ the Older Worker Week

Recognizing the importance of meaningful employment for older Americans, March 8-14, has been established as National Hire the Older Worker Week. An annual event, Older Worker Week, is designed to spotlight the valuable qualities of the mature worker. Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb encourages both public and private employers to join them in honoring older employees during this time.

Green Thumb, A Senior Community Service Employment Program and sponsored by Texas Farmers Union, currently operates in 126 counties allowing over 1,000 senior workers to earn wages while assisting non-profit organizations. The program enrolees, age 55 and older, provide needed services which contribute to the maintenance and growth of rural communities. Program participants work in such areas as senior services, employment assistance, weatherization, environmental quality, public works, and education.

According to Green Thumb Director, Diane Parrish, "the abundance of talent, resource, and willingness that make up older workers must be recognized and utilized by employers not just during Older Worker Week but every week of the year. Hiring the experienced is good business and our program helps locate jobs for

by Peggy Watt

I saw Myrtle Reeves driving a new car one day last week. Hopefully this one will be accident free.

Pie Adamson of Canadian attended morning worship services at the Methodist church Sunday. She was enroute to Memphis to attend a wedding anniversary celebration of her nephew.

Sharon Ferguson and Jo Bridges attended a class in Amarillo for some sort of ceramics. I've forgotten what Jo told me they were called, but it is similar to decalcomania. Jo had transferred a beautiful fall print onto a ceramic plate.

I've noticed the fruit trees around town are almost in full bloom. I'm afraid there will be some more cold weather before spring finally arrives.

Joyce Boliver is home after spending a month in Amarillo. She first had surgery, then spent the rest of the time in the home of her children, Jim and Sharon Boliver recuperating. I talked to her Sunday and she told me she was feeling fine again.

Paula Clendennen of McLean spent Thursday with her parents, Tom and Opal Clendennen.

Doyle and Delores Beck of Amarillo visited with Bill and Jo Bridges Sunday. Fred and I joined them along with Chester and Trista Moore to help Bill shear his goats, but they had trouble with the shears, and I had to leave before they got started. In fact, I think everyone had to leave before they got started. The trouble might have been because nobody knew how to shear a goat in the first place. I know I don't and don't think Fred does. We did get to see some brand new babies.

Ron and JoAnn Glover and Matthew visited her sister Billy and Jean McClain in Amarillo Sunday.

Rev. Johnny Hoggatt is serving as intern pastor at the Martin Baptist Church. I guess he commutes from his home in Amarillo.

Clyde and Mildred Hoggard visited their granddaughter, Jody Wiginton in the Shamrock hospital Saturday. Jody and Tim have a new baby boy.

J.T. and Helen Lamberson visited his brother, Jack and Bernice Lamberson in Clarendon Sunday. Helen told me J.T. also treated her to lunch in Clarendon while they were there.

Schell Holland told me that she washed my kid Keith's pickup Saturday. All I've got to say is this...it sure needed it. Now if she'd just wash Guy's most of our pickups would be clean until the next rain. Schell, can you take a hint?

Kevin Martin of Childress came Saturday and helped his uncle, Marty work cattle.

Hedley School Open House success

On March 3rd, Hedley School held Open House in celebration of Texas Public Week. The program opened with the introduction of teachers and Board of Trustee members. The kindergarten through third grade students then presented a musical program. Cindy Lee Brown carried the American Flag as the children sang "The Star Spangled Banner". Then they sang "Texas Our Texas" as Kendra Martin carried the Texas Flag. This was followed by several other songs. LaMoss is the drama director and Sheila Wade was in charge of the elementary program.

The Junior High Drama Club then presented some selected scenes from "Hessie of the Hills".

Following the program, the classrooms were open with special displays in the Science, Math, and Agriculture rooms. Refreshments were served by the homemaking class by the homemaking students.

"Fordson, Farmall, and Poppin' Johnny"

Robert (Bob) Williams book "Fordson, Farmall, and Poppin' Johnny" has now been published and will be on sale at the Clarendon Library shortly. The book is a history of the farm tractor and its impact on America.

The farm implement industry has profoundly shaped both American agriculture and the national economy. And no farm implement has had a greater impact on American life than the tractor. This lively history show why.

Williams traces the development of the tractor from the days of mule and horse-power to our massive presentday technology. He covers the mechanical changes, the corporations, and the people that were part of this history, and provides seldom-seen photographs of the tractor's inventors and the machines they created. Equally important is his definitive bibliography on the subject.

What makes this volume truly unique, however, is Williams's analysis of and concern for the social and economic consequences of the tractor's evolution. For anyone with a stake in the agriculture industry --

God's Call

"Preachers" you are called of God to preach the words of life to a Lost and Dying World, and if you are called don't let the world or your people tell you what you should preach. You have people who set in your church who need to hear what God has put on your heart to preach. They need to hear the full message from God.

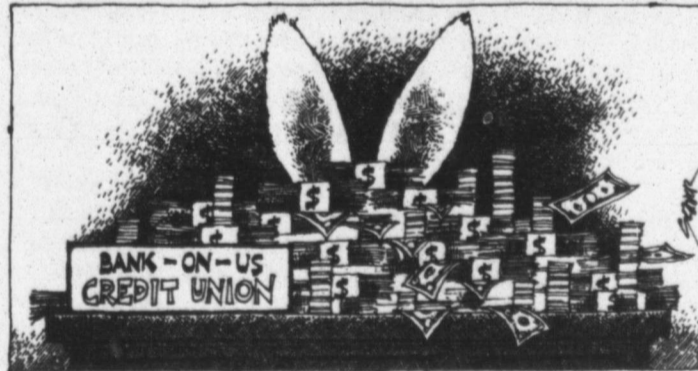

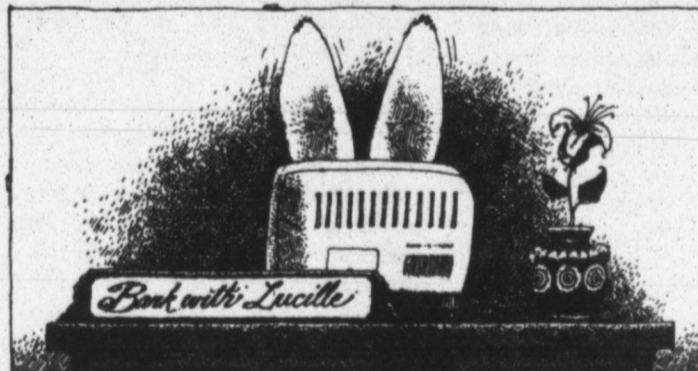

If you are afraid of your Church Leaders, you can not do what God has called you to do.

If you will read about King Saul in Samuel, you will see a King lose a kingdom because he listened to the people and did not obey God.

The people who look to you for guidance for their lives are hunger to hear through you the instructions that God has for them. "I hear them cry," feed me the true word of my God, don't tone it down to fit the wisdom of their world. Make the people uncomfortable enough so they will seek to know all about God's Love and His Saving Grace. Most of this article was written while I was in the Hospital in New Mexico.

After talking to some preachers down through the years, I have been a Christian, and seeing the hurt of some of them who have been handicapped by their church leaders. "Are you guilty?" May God have mercy on us and forgive us, is my prayer.

Would-be bankers are multiplying like rabbits.

Everybody is hopping to include the word "bank" in their names, but that doesn't mean that they're actually bankers.

"Savings banks," "thrift banks," stock broker "bank" accounts, and credit unions, etc. all try to pose as real bankers. But they don't always offer you the experience or, in some cases, the security of bankers.

In fact, the only place you'll find a banker is The Bank, where your deposits are Federally insured up to $100,000.

Now, that's the best financial security there is! And a Full Service Bank offers the newest ideas to help your money reproduce.

Dondra Holland Baptist Student Union Missionary

Dondra Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Holland of Clarendon, a student at West Texas State University, Canyon, has been chosen to serve as a Baptist Student Union missionary this summer at Houston Mission Center.

She is among 126 students from Texas universities and colleges who will serve as summer missionaries in 20 states and seven foreign countries this summer through the special program.

The student missionaries will be supported on the mission field through funds raised by students from 120 BSUs at Texas universities and colleges, said Jack Greever, director of the Division of Student Work of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. The students set a goal to raise $140,000 for the summer missions project.

"As the students serve in home and foreign mission areas and with churches, institutions and Baptist mission centers here in Texas, they can make a crucial difference in sharing God's love with thousands of people," Greever said.

The statewide BSU program is supported through the Cooperative Program gifts of about 5,000 Southern Baptist congregations in Texas.

and colleges is mind-boggling.

Now that I have summarized the work of the project, let me summarize my feelings about it: Texas wants that project located in Texas. Texas needs that project located in Texas. Texas deserves that project.

I spent four days in Washington, D.C., during the latter part of February. I met with President Reagan, Vice President George Bush, top Cabinet officers and leaders of our state's congressional delegation. At each meeting this important project was discussed.

They now know, I assure you, where I stand on this important subject. Texas, by all accounts, is one of the three front-runners for the project. Unlike the other top contenders, our state does not have a major federal research facility. That point was hammered continually during my trip to the nation's capital.

The Texas National Research Laboratory Commission, established during the 1985 Legislature, will coordinate the search for Texas land suitable for this machine. The nine-member committee, which failed during 1986 to have a single productive session, is now being given new life, new membership and new instructions to work diligently.

We, as Texans, need to pull together to offer the federal government an attractive package that will ensure our selection as the site for the Superconducting Supercollider.

It does not matter whether the research facility finds a home in West Texas, East Texas or elsewhere. What matters is that we get the project, and do the legwork necessary to see that we reach our goal.

Glenda Hawkins, president, introduced our guest speaker, Helen Estlack and Helen presented a program on "Lapidary", the collection of rocks. She has turned a hobby into a business. She finds and collects rocks and specimens of minerals, polishes the rocks and makes beautiful gems from them. She gave us some information about what rocks and minerals could be found right here in our own backyard of Donley County.

Next meeting will be March 17. Attending were: Rachael Butler, Evelyn Mann, Mary Hazel VanZandt, Lockie Pitts, Dorothy Whitaker, Thelma Shields, Jessie Adams, Hazel Brandon, Dikki Howell, Dorothy White, Frieda Tucker, Glenda Hawkins, Viola Bones, Betty Veach, and guest-Helen Estlack.

Program cuts cotton stocks

The Texas cotton industry seems headed toward a fairly bright future when compared to falling prices and record world stocks of a year ago. Much of the turnaround can be attributed to the marketing loan concept and competitive price offered by the new cotton program.

The new cotton program is encouraging textile mills worldwide to increase consumption, point out specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. At the same time, consumers are buying more cotton because of its comfort, wearability and lower price. And foreign governments are concerned about huge outlays to subsidize their producers.

As a result, cotton production overseas for the 1986-87 season may fall around 6 million bales short of foreign mill use, say Dr. Carl Anderson and Dr. Bob Metzger, cotton marketing economist and cotton specialist, respectively. That would be the largest production-consumption gap in four years and would open the door for marketing a large amount of U.S. cotton abroad as world trade increases.

Cotton consumption is gaining ground as global use has increased 10 million bales since 1980, point out Anderson and Metzger. Some of the gain is coming at the expense of man-made fibers. Despite increased cotton usage, global stocks by the end of the 1986 marketing year are still estimated to be nearly twice as much as needed.

The marketing loan also will help counter the flood of textile imports that have had the double advantage of lower-priced cotton and a strong dollar. Thus, the marketing loan should add momentum to domestic use, say the specialists. Textile imports in mid-1986 accounted for almost 40 percent of domestic of domestic cotton consumption.

As the adjusted price for cotton nears the 44-cent loan repayment level, the amount of cotton certificates to first handlers declines. The result will be reduced demand for loan equities since first handlers have need for less loan cotton to redeem certificates, Anderson and Metzger point out.

Largely because of the lower price, domestic use of cotton could climb to at least 7 million bales, and exports could reach 7 million for a total 1986 offtake of about 14 million bales. That compares to 8.4 million in 1985. So carryover in the U.S. by the end of the 1986 season could be close to 5 million bales, only 2 million bales more than a reasonable 3-million-bale carryover.

If stocks drop to that level, the market price for 1987 cotton may surpass the expected loan rate of 52.25 cents per pound, say the specialists. The target price is set at 79.4 cents.

The cotton market will likely remain prone to short and sudden changes in price movements. With worldwide market forces driving U.S. prices, political and weather-related events can impact on markets and change prices substantially with little notice, Anderson and Metzger point out.

Producers and buyers have considerable flexibility in pricing opportunities for the 1987 crop. If the market continues to gain ground, producers may need to consider purchasing out of the money calls to hedge in the maximum 1987 expected loan deficiency payment of 27.15 cents (79.4-cent target price minus 52.25-cent expected loan rate).

Given the financial stress across agriculture and the heavy cash outlays to produce cotton, growers must intensify cultural practices and make critical business management decisions to maintain a high yield of quality cotton and glean the most from the marketplace, emphasize the specialists.

Essential cultural practices include minimum tillage; efficient use of resources; appropriate disease, insect and weed control; and careful harvesting procedures to maximize quality. Timeliness of these practices is the key to profitability.

Management of marketing strategies to reduce price risk and maximize income can pay off big in times of wide price swings, say Anderson and Metzger.

If a determination of substantive can be made, then labor, management, land, financing, and equipment is looked at to see if the entity involved can meet the definition of a "person" as it applies to payment limits. In simple language, this means each person is farming separate and apart from any other entity in respect to the 5 major ingredients above.

Several areas of concern are as follows:

1. If you have arrangements to lease equipment from another person, the lease rate and the timing of the lease payment must be normal for the area. As a general rule, if you lease by the hour, then payment should be made at least once a month as no other business will carry you for over 30 days. In addition to your cancelled check, you must keep a ledger showing the date, acres, lease rate, and equipment leased. This helps prove the lease was reasonable and customary for the area.

2. Many producers are doing some custom work. If you do custom work, payment for this work should be made after each farming practice is completed. It is possible to lump together putting trellis and listing because those go together. If you have custom work done or do it for someone, you need a ledger on the date, acres, custom rate, application done, and date paid. Make sure rates charged or paid are customary for the area. The rate book published by the Texas Department of Agriculture is a good source.

3. Corporations are very controversial and simply getting you a lawyer and in incorporating does not make an entity eligible for a payment limit. If you are considering this, you need to consult with this office.

4. Partnerships come in all forms. Simply adding an adult child whose only contribution is labor with dad's equipment being used for farming and also collateral for a loan will not justify the additional person being eligible for a payment limit. It is recommended that if you plan on getting involved with someone in a partnership, that you visit with us about what you can do.

Payment limits are complicated and tough to understand. It is even harder for you to understand when you're trying to survive. We ask that any person whom might be involved in helping a person get started, new entity established, partnership, etc... Visit with this office prior to getting the deal finished. The whole purpose of this part of this newsletter is to make you aware that the government is looking at payment limits harder than they have ever before. Now is the time to find out where you stand in regards to payments and not this time next year.

Any new entities drawing payments for the first time in 1987 will be looked at very close. In addition, there are some that might want to visit about what they are currently doing so they can feel comfortable about receiving any payments that might be due.

The final date to sign up into the 1986 farm program is March 31, 1987.

In 1862, to cure the problem of babies crying during performances, a Salt Lake City theater charged 35 cents admission for adults and $10 for infants.

Congressman Beau Boulter Reports from Washington

Congressman Beau Boulter (R-13) announced February 25 that his Foreign Agricultural Investment Reform (or F.A.I.R.) bill will be included in an agriculture legislative package to be introduced by Republican Congressional leaders sometime in March. Boulter's legislation, which was introduced into the 100th Congress on January 6, 1987, remains a free standing bill, but will be a key part of a larger farm agenda being pushed by Republican House and Senate leaders.

The package of farm initiatives, including Boulter's F.A.I.R. measure, a pledge to retain target prices at their current levels, and across the board export enhancement, was approved at a Washington conference of the Republican Task Force on Farms and Rural America, a working group of Republican Senators, Congressmen and Governors from across the mid-west organized by Senate Minority Leader Robert Dole (R-KS). Latest meeting follows on the heels of two previous discussions held in Des Moines, Iowa, in November, and Chicago, Illinois, in December.

The initiatives in the Task Force's package focus on four agriculture-related issue areas -- Rural Development, Farm Policy, Farm Credit, and Agricultural Trade. Boulter's measure, which would eliminate U.S. participation in loans extended by multi-lateral lending institutions for the development of foreign agricultural exports, was endorsed and adopted under the heading of agricultural trade, and is the only such initiative bearing the name of a specific author.

Boulter pointed out that the working group's adoption of his F.A.I.R. measure will give the landmark legislation added momentum toward passage in the 100th Congress. "I believe that with the support of Republican leaders from across the farm belt behind this measure, we will finally begin to make headway against a policy that is both unsound and immoral."

On a related point, Boulter and a number of Senate and F.A.I.R. Co-Sponsors met with representatives of various agricultural organizations; including the American Farm Bureau and the National Association of Wheat Growers, to discuss the F.A.I.R. bill and develop the strategy necessary for the measure's passage.

Payment limitation problems from Department of Agriculture

Escalating payment rates have caused producers to search for a number of ways to maximize their government earnings. Payment rules are the most difficult of all rules to explain because one change in the way you handle land, labor, management, financing, or equipment may make your operation completely different from your neighbor's. Regardless of what you hear is going on around you, most likely you do not know the whole story! Whether it will or will not work depends on what you want to do and how it is done.

Payment limit determinations are made on the basis as conditions exist on April 1, 1987. Payment limits are applicable to program crop payments and may apply to your farming operation. Payment limit details may be obtained at any county ASC office. Producers who have a doubt as to whether or not ASCS will consider your farming entity a "person" for 1987 have until April 15th of this year to furnish us the supporting documents along with an ASCS-561, 561-A, or 561-B.

Payment limit determinations are broken down into two separate determinations. The first being that there has been a substantive change in this years operation compared to previous years operations. We have guidelines in which to follow and simply bringing in another individual or entity without a substantive change in the land or equipment will not work. Arrangements where a father or another entity sells someone some equipment with the person doing the selling holding the note is not considered substantive. Turning back 320 acres and renting another 320 acres, although different land, is

Atom Smasher May Be Key to Economic Recovery in Texas

By Governor William P. Clements, Jr.

AUSTIN—Words like oil, rig, tool pusher and gusher are familiar to most Texans. They are terms frequently heard in the Texas oil fields, the mainstay of our economy for much of the 20th century.

Less familiar to Texans are words like quarks and leptons. They may well be the basic building blocks of the atom, and they may well be the foundation for the revival of our sluggish Texas economy.

Texas is a leading contender for what well may be the largest research project for the remainder of this century. The name of the project—the Superconducting Supercollider—sounds as though it is straight out of the pages of a Buck Rogers script.

That research effort—prized by scientists and now supported by the Reagan administration—will, in brief, explore the basic components of the atom. The effort involves the construction of a circular, 52-mile-long underground tunnel. Atoms, propelled by gargantuan magnets, will be sent racing inside the tunnel at opposite directions and at a pace approaching the speed of light.

The atoms eventually will be steered on a collision path. Scientists hope that the particles that result from that collision will provide insights into the fundamental nature of matter, and perhaps even the origin of the universe.

Federal officials indicate the project will have an annual operating budget of $200 million, and that the research facility will employ up to 3,000 workers.

The facility could cost as much as $6 billion to construct, providing jobs for thousands of workers. The number of spinoff research projects for universities

Fat—The Good, The Bad and The Ugly

Americans are getting their kicks out of health these days and fat is a dirty word. Before you go around kicking the fat, however, it's wise to bone up on the fat facts.

Fat is necessary for a healthy diet, since it is needed for the absorption, transport, and storage of vitamins A, D, E and K -- the fat soluble vitamins. These vitamins enhance vision, bone strength, fertility and blood coagulation. Diets severely limited in fat content can cause many problems. Fat is not all bad.

Excess fat, however, is bad and most Americans should worry about too much rather than too little. Today, 42 percent of the calories in an average American diet come from fats. The American Heart Association recommends that fats make up no more than 30 to 35 percent of daily calories. AHA also recommends a 1:1:1 ratio of polyunsaturated, monosaturated and saturated fats.

Polyunsaturated and monounsaturated fats are liquids at room temperature while saturated fats are solids at room temperature. Saturated fats are believed to raise cholesterol levels in susceptible persons, while polyunsaturated fats are believed to lower cholesterol levels.

If you're cutting out the fat in your diet for health reasons, you've probably eliminated all kinds of goodies like butter, chocolate, salad dressing, and red meat. But wait!

Take a second look at that steak before you feed it to Fido.

Did you know that 3 ounces of cooked, trimmed top loin have a mere 8.7 grams of fat? Less than half of that is saturated. For persons on a 2,000 calorie diet that sirloin steak is providing only 13 percent of the American Heart Association's recommended 67 grams of fat per day.

Surprised? Don't feel alone. Many people are astonished to discover that beef is a low calorie, low fat, delicious component of a healthy diet. Beef's reputation for excess fat developed several decades ago when cattle were genetically designed and fed to produce lots of fat as well as muscle.

Today's beef animal is a dramatic departure from those butterballs of yesteryear. Modern beef animals are genetically designed and fed to produce lean carcasses with the barest of fat cover. It all adds up to less. Less fat, less calories and less worry about your health.

The chicken is able to run as fast as nine miles per hour.

Williams receives God and Me award

Robert Evan Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Williams, received the God and Me Award at the First Christian Church. Evan is the first Cub Scout in Pack 437 to receive this award for Cub ages 6-8 years old. The God and Me Award unit encourages children to tell the story of their lives, think about the life and teachings of Jesus, and how God is present in their lives today. God and Me Award has three Sections, (1) Me: The Story of My Life; (2) God: The Story of Jesus' Life; (3) God and Me: The Story of Jesus and Me Together.

Les Beaux Arts Club

The Les Beaux Arts Club met at the Fine Arts Building March 6th. Ruth Robinson presented Leslie Schnauer who gave an enlightening program on "Theatre Arts". After the decision has been made as to what type of play and the amount of time to be put into it you then select the play. Then comes the decisions of getting the right ones for each character. This implies knowing something about each ones personalities and inward feelings and sometimes their coloring and size.

Then comes the background for the stage and colors. Costumes can be used over and over with the ingenuity of making changes.

We are fortunate to have Leslie who has so much love and enthusiasm for the arts and in working with our young people. Our thanks to her for helping make Clarendon a better place to live.

Delicious refreshments were served to eleven members and Leslie Schnauer by the hostesses Ruth Robinson, Cy Foxhall, Virginia Browder and Bobbie Thornberry.

THE CHURCH - (HIS BODY)

The Bible portrays the church as "The body of Christ" - Col. 1:18&24! The church is to carry on the work of Christ which He began in His earthly ministry! The church is His voice, to preach and teach the gospel... It is His eyes to look upon a hurting world and see the needs of others... It is His ears to listen to the cries and concerns of others and respond with compassion... It is His feet to run to the aid of others and stand by their side to give strength & support, and to minister to their needs... It is His arms to reach out and embrace & comfort, shelter, protect and love those who are hurting!!! Literally, the church is to be the embodiment of Christ Jesus and all He represents to a lost and dying world, "The fulness of Him who fills all in all" - Eph. 1:23! Therefore, just as Jesus was in the world yet not of the world, so also the church must be in the world but not of the world - John 17:15&16! The church cannot afford to withdraw from the world and live its own little sheltered life away from the presence of others. Jesus didn't do that, instead He was always out with the common people of the land... those who were "righteous" and those who were commonly thought of as "sinners"! Praise God for beautiful Christian people, the church, who instead of withdrawing unto themselves, are out there living & working in our community, our public school system, our shops and businesses, our clubs & organizations, serving others & making Clarendon a better place to live!

TFTA at a Glance: TFTA is sponsored by Texas State Teachers Association and its membership is composed of junior high and high school students. Through chapter programs and statewide activities, TFTA tries to provide these students with worthwhile experiences related to their opportunities in teaching.

TFTA's twenty districts follow the same structure as TSTA and are overseen by a TFTA state executive committee. Each chapter affiliates by paying $10.00 annually and submitting an application for chapter or charter renewal. In return, TSTA makes available consultative services; TFTA Torch, TFTA Handbook, and other materials as needed. TSTA also annually presents two $1,000.00 scholarships to deserving TFTA members.

Panhandle High School helped Clarendon High School put on Marj Ekleberry's skit at the convention. Clarendon chapter of FTA would like to thank Panhandle for helping out. The following students helped: Wayne Stamp, Scott Hermesmeier, Shannon Pipes, Lee Ann Remo, and Beth Burgess. (If there were others, we didn't know their names; but we appreciate your help, too.)

Clarendon FTA would also like to thank James Thomas for driving our bus and Mrs. Peggy Anderson for going along as another sponsor. I as the sponsor (Miss Betty Veach) would like to thank the FTA members for their co-operation with all activities connected with the TFTA state convention.

Advice to competitors

"A winner never quits, a loser never wins". Some people claim they get burned out, but that is not always true. Their interest has been turned in other directions, or they put so much pressure on themselves that they get tired.

Aspiring competitors, appreciate, enjoy and do their best. Not everyone will become a national champion, but everyone benefits from dedication, hard work, and friendship. There are many opportunities for a person who pursues a goal.

Work, work and more work! Remember, when you are not practing, you have a competitor who is!

Practice every day and practice just the way you plan to perform. You can't expect to practice sloppy and do quality work. If you ever intend to conquer the peak, you must start with good practice habits. Remember, "How you practice is How You'll Be !!!"

When you compete, it is your responsibility to do your best. Your parents paid for good lessons; your teacher put good time, and it is very unfair if you cut yourself just to hold on. You are not only cheating them, but you are cheating yourself.

Poisons Act Fast...So Do Children

Poisons Act Fast...So Do Children. And so must anyone who finds a child who has been poisoned. Would you know what to do?

If you think someone has swallowed a poison, remain as calm as possible. Call the nearest hospital, pharmacy, or poison control center. Emergency numbers should be kept near each phone in the house, but these numbers are also located on the inside covers of most telephone books. If a 911 system exists in your community, the answering dispatcher can help; or a call to the telephone operator, stating a poison emergency, can also gain quick assistance.

As a reminder during Poison Prevention Week, March 15-21, Texas Safety Association and many other concerned groups and individuals recommend that you "poison proof" your home, including the garage and storage areas. Very common household products such as cleaning products, cosmetics, over-the-counter medicines, and more can cause severe internal injuries, even death, for a child if immediate help isn't provided. If an accidental poisoning happens, have the container in your hand when you call for help so that you can describe the substance swallowed by the victim.

To avoid the need for one of those emergency phone calls, follow a few prevention tips:

*Store all household cleaning products out of a child's reach and away from shelves containing food. Lock up all toxic products.

*Keep medicines, cleaning products, paint, drain cleaners, and any other potentially harmful products in their original containers. This includes items stored in the garage such as antifreeze, paint thinners, etc.

*Never tell children that medicine is candy since that may tempt them to search for it later. Even too many of those chewable children's aspirin can harm your child. *Buy only child-resistant packaged medicines and keep them closed properly. These packages are only "resistant" for children -- kids learn quickly, so keep even the resistant packages out of reach.

*Be sure to keep emergency telephone numbers close to each phone in the house.

Loving and caring people can be the cause of tragedy. Parents tend to remember the need to child proof a home, but relatives might not be as aware if their own children are grown or gone. If you visit other homes with your children, or you have youngsters visiting you, the same precautions need to be taken -- a little one takes his or her curiosity along when away from home. Findings from a U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission study showed that 36% of the accidental childhood prescription drug ingestions involved a grandparent's medication.

A poisoning can happen anywhere when prevention isn't given enough emphasis. Child proof your youngster's surroundings and keep emergency phone numbers handy.

Poisons act fast ... and so do children.

Most Effective Product

The most effective product for removing disease-producing plaque from the teeth is not a medicine or a toothpaste. Rather, it is the toothbrush. Here are some tips on selection and use of this plaque-fighting instrument:

Type: Many dentists recommend toothbrushes with "soft, rounded, nylon bristles." Soft bristles are actually more effective in removing plaque beneath the gumline than are hard bristles!

Frequency: Brush at least once each day and, preferably, twice daily.

Two Brushes: Buy two brushes and allow each to dry thoroughly between uses.

Replacement: Replace one or both of your brushes at the first sign of matting of the bristles. A new brush is significantly more effective in removing plaque.

Tongue Brushing: Brush the top of the tongue to help control mouth odor and to remove plaque from the tongue.

Other oral hygiene products include floss, pastes, powders, rinses, and fluoride rinses.

State information program offers tax relief tips

Taxpayers can learn how to get property tax relief from their local appraisal district offices, according to Ron Patterson, executive director of the State Property Tax Board (SPTB).

Patterson said the SPTB staff is working with appraisal districts and local news media to help make taxpayers aware of filing deadlines for property tax exemptions and other forms of property tax relief.

"Property owners must file rendition forms by March 31 and apply for exemptions and special productive valuation by April 30 this year," Patterson said. Taxpayers should file all exemption and productive value applications, as well as rendition forms, with the local appraisal district. A rendition is a report a property owner makes listing taxable property owned or managed on January 1, 1987. On it, a taxpayer can record an opinion of the property's value. "If the owner renders a property's value, the appraisal district must notify the owner if it places a higher value on the property," Patterson explained.

Some property owners are required by law to render their property. "Anyone who owns or manages income-producing personal property on January 1 must file a rendition statement with the appraisal district," Patterson said.

The chief appraiser may also require other property owners or managers to render property; if so, the chief appraiser will send a notice and the appropriate rendition form. Property owners must file renditions by March 31.

Homeowners can usually get tax relief through residence homestead exemptions. "Homestead exemptions help homeowners because they allow a part of a home's value to be exempt from property taxes. This in turn reduces the amount of property taxes assessed on the house, Patterson explained.

Homestead exemptions are available for all qualified homeowners and additional tax relief is available for persons who are disabled and those who are 65 or older. Elderly homeowners who receive the over-65 homestead exemption also get a "freeze," or ceiling on school taxes.

Disabled veterans, survivors of deceased disabled veterans and survivors of those who died on active duty also receive tax exemptions from all taxing units.

"Farmers and ranchers can also lower their tax bills," Patterson said. "If their land qualified for productivity valuation, the land will be taxes on its ability to produce, instead of its market value." Productivity valuation comes in two forms, often referred to by the section of the Texas Constitution that provides them: open-space or "1-d-1" valuation and agricultural or "1-d" valuation.

Property owners who last year received homestead exemptions, disabled veterans' exemptions and open-space land valuation do not need to reapply in 1987, unless the chief appraiser requests a new application to confirm the owner's current qualification.

Patterson pointed out, however, that property owners who have not previously received tax relief on their present homesteads or land must apply in 1987. Farmers and ranchers who receive agricultural-use valuation must apply for it annually.

People whose property is in more than one county appraisal district have an additional responsibility. They may have to file for exemptions and productivity valuation in each appraisal district in which the property is located. If they do not, taxing units may tax the property on its full market value.

Applications for exemptions and special valuation must be submitted to the appraisal office by April 30.

Complete information on tax exemptions and rendition requirements is in a pamphlet SPTB produces, "Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities." The pamphlet also explains how taxpayers can challenge the values placed on their property by protesting to the appraisal review board. The free pamphlet is available from appraisal district offices or from SPTB in Austin.

"Local governments will generate nearly $9 billion this year," Patterson said. "It will help fund necessary services such as public schools, hospitals, fire and police protection, water, utilities and local colleges."

"I urge all property tax payers, to file renditions and to take advantage of all forms of tax relief available to them," Patterson said.

Chain letter promotions

Have you ever been asked to participate in a chain letter which is guaranteed to earn you lots of money with one small investment? Don't waste your money - chain letters are a form of lottery and may violate federal mail fraud laws. The same three elements that apply to lotteries (payment, prize, and chance) also make chain letter schemes illegal.

The payment may be money or any other item of value. The prize is the large amount of money you are led to believe you will receive in the end if you participate. The chance is that the chain will break, and it must, because the chance that all participants in a chain letter will receive mail is mathematically impossible. For example, a typical chain letter may require participants to mail letters containing money to six new participants, each of whom must mail six letters to six more individuals and so on. By the eleventh level of mailing, the entire population of the United States (almost three-hundred million) would be exhausted. By the 13th level, the population of the world (over four billion) would be exhausted. And remember, even if the chain letter itself is not mailed, as long as the payment or prize is sent through the mail, the entire scheme is illegal.

Some chain letters masquerade as Multi-Level Marketing (MLM) Plans. These require an original promoter to sell a product and enlist several other people to become seller, who in turn recruit others. Most Multi-Level Marketing Plans are schemes to sell the plan rather than the product, and the fact that selling a product is involved, instead of winning money, or statements saying the plan do not violate federal law, do not ensure legality.

Do not confuse regular chain letters or Multi-Level Marketing Plan chains with prayer chains that promise good luck but require no investment. These are not illegal - they're just a nuisance. You should not be intimidated by implied threats of bad luck, personal injury, or disaster for breaking the chain. Feel free to throw the chain letter away.

Remember, you are under no obligation to participate if you receive a chain letter, and to do so may be a violation of federal law. Turn the letter in to the local post office or send it to the Postal Inspector in Charge, P.O. Box 162929, Fort Worth, TX 76161-2929.

From The PEN of PASTOR PINION

We are warned in the scriptures that as Christians we have an adversary who goes about seeking to devour us. As born-again believers he cannot devour our soul and so he instead seeks to destroy our testimony and effectiveness for the Lord. One of Satan's chief strategies is to defile a believer with the corruptness and lusts of the world. He has been both successful and subtle as today there is the popular opinion that you can be saved, be a good Christian and still look, act and think like the lost world. That attitude is not consistent with the Word of God. Paul wrote to the Church of Corinth in II Corinthians 5:17 and declared that in Christ we become new creatures with new actions and attitudes. In the next chapter (II Cor. 6:17) he exhorted believers "come out from among them and be ye separate." Even the prophet Isaiah proclaimed we should not even touch anything unclean and encouraged, "be ye clean that bear the vessels of the Lord" (Isaiah 52:11). We are even to "abstain from the very appearance of evil" (I Thessalonians 5:22).

As we look at the life and ministry of Jesus we see that those He saved, He called from the life of sin they had been living. Mary Magdalene never returned to her immorality. The maniac of Gadera put on clothes and regained his right mind. Zachaeus became an honest man. Saul of Tarsus was changed from a harsh, religious legalist to a living, compassionate minister. The only one I see who returned to the world's ways was a man named Demas who loved the world more than he loved the Lord.

I have found that whoever or whatever you love, you imitate. As believers we should strive to love and live like Christ. Believers who follow the worlds pleasures, dress, music, and attitudes give testimony that they simply love the world more than they love god.

Pastor Pinion

contempt.

Additional relief in the form of a Declaratory Judgment will also be sought.

Demand for attorney fees will be made against those members of the three Courts in question who vote against the funding.

Such a lawsuit as that is going to be terrible in its divisive and lasting effects. I hope you believe my sincerity when I tell you of my wish that each of your Courts will either fund our budget or work out with the Probation Commission some satisfactory alternatives. I am, tired of taking the heat on this issue in the Coffee Shops of your towns. If this is not resolved, I will welcome the filing of the suit where we can resolve it in a venue where I am more comfortable - the Courtroom.

Yours very truly,

Becoming a Registered Family Home requires a minimum amount of expense and is a simple process. To obtain additional information or registration material call Day Care Licensing at 806/376-7214 or write the Texas Department of Human Services, Day Care Licensing, P.O. Box 3700, Amarillo, Texas 79116-3700.

If your Court votes to fund the budget, mail all past and future payments to Mrs. Lucheryl Speed, Fiscal Officer, in care of the Adult Probation Department in Memphis. If the majority of your Court votes not to fund the budget, please certify to me the names of those Commissioners who vote against such funding.

If funding is refused, your court members can expect that a suit will be filed in the District court, to be heard by a Judge other than me. This suit will seek Writs of Mandamus commanding payment of all sums due from September 1, 1986, and all future months, and enforceable by
