Petition Invalidated

The petition which was circulated asking for an election to be held to allow the people to vote for or against changing the City's form of government to a Council-Manager plan was declared invalid because the petition did not subscribe to the form as mandated by the State Election Code. The petitioners used the Texas Local Government Code of the Vernon Civil Statute Rule which reads:

§25.022. Petition

(a) The residents of the municipality may file a petition with the clerk of the municipality requesting the mayor to call a special election to determine whether the municipality shall adopt the city manager form of government.

(b) The petition must be signed by a number of qualified voters to equal to at least 20 percent of the total number of qualified voters who voted for mayor at the most recent municipal election at which the office of mayor was to be filled.

§25.023. Proclamation Ordering election

(a) Within 10 days after the date a petition is filed, the mayor of the municipality shall issue a proclamation ordering a special election.

§25.025. Election; Adoption

(a) After a petition is filed, an election to consider the adoption of the city manager form of government must be held on the first authorized uniform election date prescribed by the Election Code that occurs after the date the petition is filed under Section 25.022 and that affords enough time to hold the election in the manner required by law. Each qualified voter in the municipality is entitled to vote in the election.

However, the Texas Election Code reads:

§277.002. Validity of Petition Signatures

atures

(a) For a petition signature to be valid, a petition must:

(1) contain in addition to the signature:

(A) the signer's printed name;

(B) the signer's voter registration and, if the territory from which signatures must be obtained is situated in more than one county, the county of registration;

(c) the signer's residence address; and

(d) the date of signing; and

(2) comply with any other applicable requirements prescribed by law.

(b) A voter registration number is not required to appear on the petition in the signer's own handwriting.

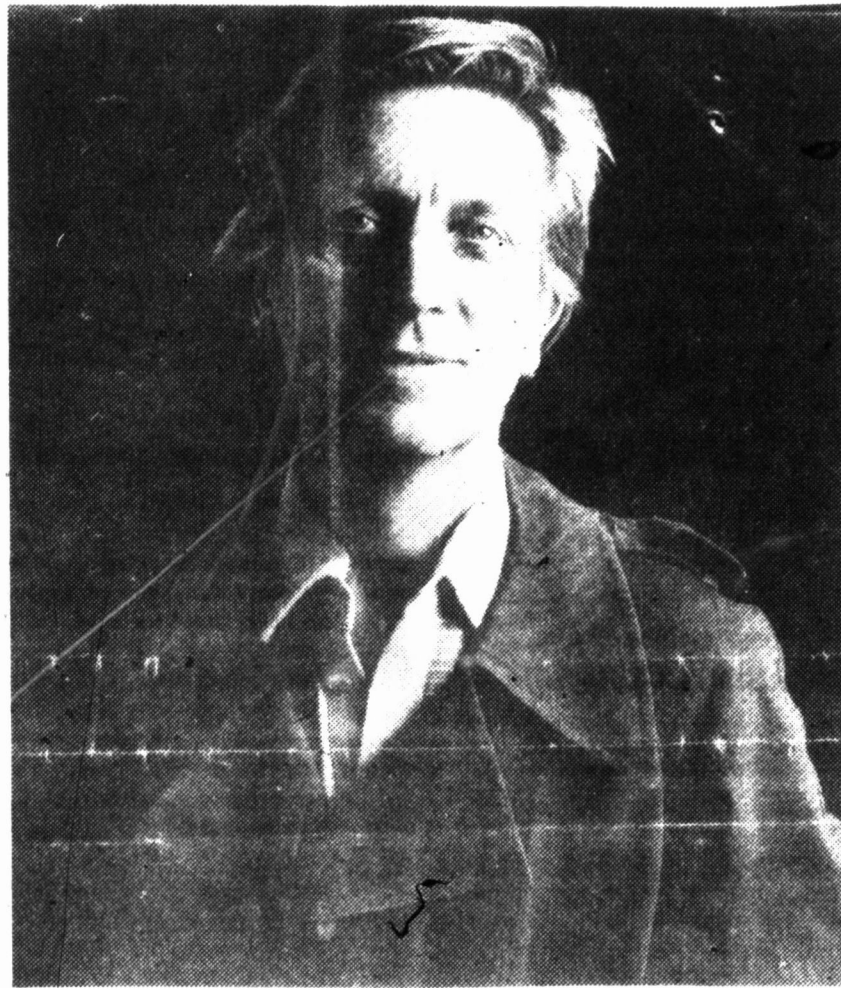

§3.005. Time for Ordering Election

An election ordered by an authority of a political subdivision shall be ordered not later than the 45th day before election day.

Section 277.002 Validity of Petition Signatures has been found invalid in a trial court. It is now under appeal and until that appeal is ruled on Section 277.002 is the law. Since the petition did not meet all the requirements stated under this statute, it was declared invalid and will not appear on the ballot for the May 7th election.

A petition is again being circulated and asks "that an election to consider the adoption of the city manager form of government be held on the first authorized uniform election date prescribed by the Election Code that occurs after the date this petition is filed and that affords enough time to hold the election in the manner required by law."

The next date according to the law that an election may be held will be with second Saturday in August.

NEIL HESS

PTA "Evening of Dance" scheduled for April 11

The Clarendon P.T.A. is proud to present the W.T.S.U. Department of Fine Arts Dance Ensemble, under the direction of Mr. Neil Hess and Mr. Tico Cook, on Monday, April 11, at 7:00 p.m. in the Clarendon College Auditorium. This program is free for all children and students. There will be a $2.00 admission charge for all adults.

Neil Hess has been a major force in the success of the "TEXAS" musical drama, which performs each summer in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. He has directed the Lone Star Ballet, Amarillo Little Theatre and the East Texas State University Department of Music and Dance, to name a few. Currently, he is director of dance at W.T.S.U. and artistic director for the Lone Star Ballet. Mr. Hess recently won an award at the American College Dance Festival where his choreography was cited for Highest Standards of Excellence. He has degrees W.T.S.U. and New York University and trained under the famed ballet masters, M. Pianowski and William Christenson, founder of the San Francisco Ballet Company. Both Mr. Hess's wife, Camille, and three daughters are very involved with dance and theatre.

Assisting Mr. Hess is Tico Cook, a graduate of W.T.S.U. and currently teaching dance at West Texas, who is a key figure in that department, responsible for many aspects of the performances. Mr. Cook has been the liaison between the P.T.A. and the Dance Ensemble. In a letter from Mr. Cook to the P.T.A., he says, "We are looking very forward to performing for the community for Clarendon. We are hopeful that they will enjoy us." Mrs. Cook is bringing about 25 cast members, complete with lights, costumes and sound.

This should be a very enjoyable evening for old and young alike. The P.T.A. hopes that many people will take advantage of this program, which will include excerpts from ballet, jazz, tap, ethnic, etc. Please make plans to attend this presentation which will be a special treat for our community.

McCoy selected for advisory committee for narcotics Task Force

One hundredth District Attorney David M. McCoy was recently selected as one of only two Panhandle prosecutors on an advisory committee to the Board of Governors on the Panhandle Regional Narcotics Task Force. Others on the eight-member board include one other District Attorney, two sheriffs, two chiefs of police, a mayor and a county judge, all from the Panhandle area. McCoy was selected, according to Gary Pitner of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, because of his diligence in pursuing narcotics violators and his desire to rid society of narcotics traffickers.

The advisory committee will meet with the Board of Governors and the Narcotics Task Force to make policy decisions concerning the Regional Narcotics Task Force, which was created when the Federal Government funded $528,000.00 to aid rural communities in investigation, apprehension and prosecution. "The beauty of this task force, according to McCoy, is that it creates for the rural panhandle areas an effective narcotics crime-fighting force which equals that presently available only in larger suburban communities. The Narcotics Task Force will not work in Amarillo, Canyon or other panhandle suburban areas, but will be totally available for communities which cannot, on their own, afford to create a narcotics crime unit." The Panhandle Regional Narcotics Task Force is the most ambitious undertaking of its kind in the State of Texas. "Never before has single organization attempted to cover such a large area. According to Pitner, that is the reason the advisory committee is of such importance. "We need people to make policy decisions who are familiar with the problems of combating narcotics in rural areas. David McCoy was an ideal selection because of his knowledge of the rural narcotics problem and because of his aggressive prosecution."

The Regional Narcotics Drug Task Force recently made a significant advancement in the apprehension and prosecution of narcotics in the Texas panhandle when they, assisted by the Donley County Sheriff's Department and the District Attorney's Investigator, arrested four individuals for narcotics trafficking in the Clarendon area, and confiscated approximately 27 pounds of marijuana. Two automobiles were also seized in the operation.

First United Methodist Church is proud to present Bishop Lance Webb as part of its continuing "Bishops Series of Sermons" on Sunday, April 10. Guests are welcome and there will be a covered dish luncheon after service.

The son of a pioneer Methodist circuit rider, Bishop Webb received his B.A. degree from McMurray College (founded by his wife's father), his D.D. degree from Perkins School of Theology and numerous graduate and honorary degrees.

After pastoring the University Park Methodist Church in Dallas from 1941-53, he was appointed to minister the North Broadway Methodist Church in Columbus, Ohio until his election as bishop in 1964. He served the Illinois and Ohio area until his retirement in 1980.

Bishop Webb has written ten books, including ONESIMUS, a historical novel, for which he received national acclaim from the Ecumenical Publishers Association. He had had major articles published and is the author/narrator of the "Cassette Ministry", which is used for personal and groups study.

He has also chaired or co-chaired numerous national committees, participated in many world-wide conferences and has led retreats, seminars and preaching and teaching missions throughout the country.

Bishop and Mrs. Webb, the former Mary Elizabeth Hunt, have three daughters and four grandchildren. They now reside in Dallas, Texas.

TREATMENT FOR STIFF NECK

If you're suffering from a stiff neck, don't wait for it to take care of itself when treatment is available to correct it.

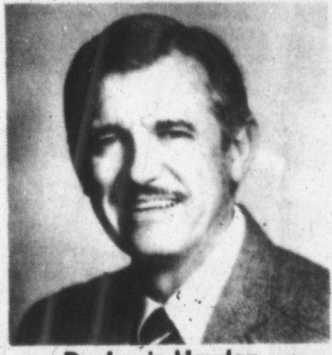

Of all the bones in the spinal column, none are more easily injured or more vulnerable than the seven vertebrae in the neck. None are moved more often. We are constantly turning our heads to look at people and things.

Neck stiffness can have many causes, from sudden and violent accidents to such simple activities as painting a ceiling or just sitting reading a book for a long time. But there's nothing simple about the pain.

A careful examination will reveal the source of the pain and how best to treat it. Any misaligned vertebrae in the spinal column should be properly adjusted so there will be no abnormal pressure on your nervous system. Treatment may also include exercises for the cervical muscles such as gently rotating your head in all directions. This can help restore muscle strength and tone.

Ashtola-Martin news

By Naomi Green

Where has the news been the past two weeks? The first one missed your reporter was in Florida visiting the Kennedy Space Center, Epicot, Sea World and boating on lakes and canals along with attending the Electric Cooperative Directors update.

Second week missed your reporter was putting in the onions and potatoes that did not get planted before we left and probably went in the ground in the wrong moon-but at least are in the ground.

The wild geese are flying south and J.R. and Hazel Brandon arrived home from the valley Sunday night a week ago - so in spite of snow flurries spring is officially here.

We were grateful that Robin Green of Lubbock and Ben Green of Montrose arrived in time to help Christal and Little Jerry get the onions and potatoes in the ground last week. Margafet Green arrived Monday and was official navigator to help her dad Robin fly to Weatherford Wednesday where they picked up Naomi who had gone to leave her car for Ellen, Tiffany and Stephanie to use while theirs was in the shop.

Beth Watts brought Hoss and Charlotte to the farm for the Easter weekend. Our crew forgot to turn their clocks back and arrived late for church.

Katherine and Don Williams were in White Deer Sunday noon and afternoon to have Easter meals with the Horace Williams.

Jason Green went to Amarillo to be with his mother and sister Lori for Easter.

Duane Naylor of Crowell is having 4 by passes in his heart at Harris Memorial Hospital in Ft. Worth Monday morning. He was out of surgery by noon and will be in special care unit 3 or 4 days.

Paula Maxey Nueces and her husband Larty along with her daughter Maxey have moved from Tucson back to Amarillo. Paula and Beth were down Friday to pick up a cook stove and visited with Alley Mae and Naomi.

Veda Elliott married Bill Waddell of Hedley recently and they made a wedding trip to Alpine.

E.B. Morman and his wife Lucille from Ennis Texas are visiting with Pat Scroggins and Mary Land over the weekend.

Leanne and Richard Thornberry, Patricia and Seth of Lubbock visited with Melba and Lloyd Risley over Easter weekend. Jo Schollenburger was also a guest.

Lloyd and Melba had business in Amarillo Friday. Lloyd and Melba Risley were in Wellington and Childress on Wednesday.

Steve Parr and Misty Contreras of Amarillo came Sunday afternoon to visit the Bill Bennetts.

Rudy, Rhonda, Ricky and Riddy Partain of Panhandle and Charlie and Roberta Threadway and Jamie, Kimi and Kerline Garcia, Ramie Lee Jenkins of Amarillo, Mrs. Selvia Threadway of Hereford, Ghanta Moore of Clovis spent the weekend with Robert and Alene Parfain. Florine and Bill Bennett joined the family at church and came home to have Sunday lunch with them.

Skeet and Eillen Brown were in Groom Easter Sunday to visit John and Dorothy Krizen. Several birthdays and an anniversary were celebrated by the Krizen Clan.

Betty Gresham was working in Oklahoma City week before last and came for the weekend with Skeet and Eillen Brown, Marcia, Gary, Kris Ann and Cary Sue Davis joined them for an outing in Amarillo. J.R. and Hazel Brandon returned 27th of February from Harlingen. En Route home they visited a cousin Mrs. Lela McCarty at Austin. They went on to Houston to see Hazel's sister Romaine and Aubrey Meadors and their three daughters and two granddaughters. From there they went to Waco to attend Region 9 Air Stream Trailer Rally. While there they visited former Clarendon residents Mrs. Wilma Batson and Mrs. Gladys Seago.

Jimmy Lee and Don Matherson of Claude, Myrl and Frank Reger of Hedley visited the J.R. Brandons Sunday. J.R. and Hazel Brandon went to Memphis Monday afternoon and visited with Mrs. Julia Springer in the nursing home and with Don Springer and his wife at their home in Memphis.

Chicken Pox and Spring: Still an Inseparable Duo

It happens every spring. Just as the kids are clamoring to go outside and play, just as parents are recovering from treating a winter's-worth of childhood ills, along comes a new outbreak of chicken pox, racing from child to child with the speed of an Olympic runner. And this year's "red-spot sprint" promises to be no different from those that came before.

According to the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta, approximately three-and-a-half million children will be affected with chicken pox by year's end, with a significant number of those cases occurring in April and June. And at this point, there's really no way to check the spread.

"Chicken pox is the last common childhood disease for which no preventive vaccine is yet available, although one is expected to be approved for limited use within the next year or two," notes Thomas S. Spencer, Ph.D. and dermal research manager for Rydelle Laboratories. "Until a generally usable vaccine is developed, the best thing parents can do for their youngsters is to learn more about the disease and its symptoms and the ways in which its inevitable discomforts can be minimized."

Classified as an infectious disease, chicken pox is caused by a form of the herpes virus, one that remains in the body for life but that also renders its carrier immune. In other words, once you've had the disease, the chances of catching it again — or spreading it — are virtually non-existent. Its symptoms, which follow an 11- to 20-day incubation period, include low-grade fever, headache, muscle aches, chills and a distinctive skin rash consisting of small red spots that change to small blisters and then crust over.

Although complications from chicken pox can readily arise in adults, particularly pregnant women and the immunosuppressed, they're extremely rare in otherwise healthy children. Nonetheless, Spencer emphasizes, the child's physician should always be notified of an outbreak so that he or she can oversee a proper course of treatment:

"...three-and-a-half million children will be affected with chicken pox by year's end, with a significant number of those cases occurring in April and June."

Generally, such treatment will include bed rest, plenty of liquids and a non-aspirin pain reliever to reduce fever and alleviate overall discomfort. Because scratching can cause chicken pox spots to become infected — a condition that may result in scarring — the use of a product like Aveeno Bath Regular may also be called for to minimize itchiness associated with the rash. Replicating the pH balance of healthy skin, the natural colloidal oatmeal in Aveeno Bath reduces the irritating itch and in turn, the urge to scratch.

In most instances, a child will recover from a springtime bout of chicken pox within seven to ten days. But parents be warned. A case of spring fever is usually close behind.

Soil moisture important for mechanical brush control

Mechanical brush control methods such as rootplowing, grubbing and chaining work best when soil moisture conditions are good, says Ronald Gooch, Donley County Extension Agent.

Rootplowing is an effective method of controlling brush but is more efficient when soil moisture is sufficient to allow the blade to pass through the soil with reduced resistance. Seeding of forage species is often necessary and desirable following rootplowing.

Because rootplowing is expensive, it should be used on sites with high production potential, says Gooch. Root plows with fins usually provide the best brush control but they also destroy existing turf. A thin bladed root plow without fins will minimize turf damage but may result in reduced brush control.

Chaining involves dragging a heavy anchor chain over brush; this uproots or breaks off brush species. Chaining of live brush species provide only temporary control because of resprouting. However, more live plants are uprooted when soil moisture is high, Gooch notes.

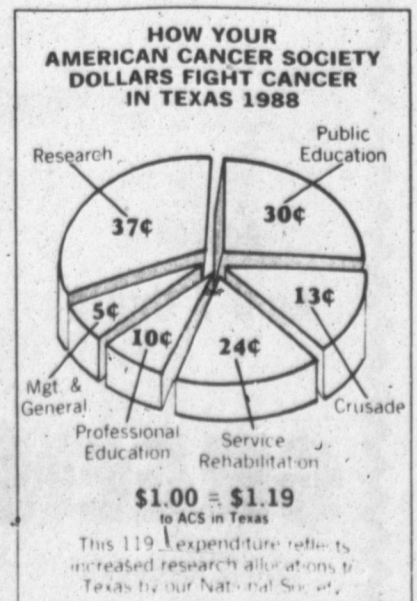

Chaining can provide temporary brush control that will allow sufficient grass growth so that prescribed burning can be used as a follow-up treatment.

Chaining is used effectively to retreat areas that have been treated with herbicide. For example, mesquite may be controlled effectively by chaining an area three years after spraying with a herbicide, Gooch points out. With high soil moisture, many previously sprayed trees are uprooted. Dead or partially dead mesquite trees are easier to uproot than unsprayed live trees. Chaining is most effective on plants with a main stem diameter of 5 inches or more.

Power grubbing is generally used as a maintenance practice, adds Gooch. It is most useful with scattered plants large enough to be easily seen by the equipment operator. The efficiency of grubbing also increases as soil moisture content increases. A large portion of the plant's root system is pulled from the soil when soil moisture is high.

So, ranchers interested in one or more of these methods of mechanical brush control will obtain better results if used in the winter while soil moisture conditions are favorable, says Gooch.

Rolling Plains Production Credit Assn. annual Stockholders meeting.

Rolling Plains Production Credit Association's 54th Annual Stockholders meeting will be held April 8th in Childress and April 9th in Stamford. Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. with the meeting to commence promptly at 10:00 a.m. for both sessions.

The City Audit will be the site of the Childress session, and the VIP Center located one block West of the High School Auditorium will be the Stamford meeting location. A noon barbecue catered by Briarston Manor of Abilene will be served immediately following each session.

Speaker for the 1988 Annual meeting is humorist P. Brantly Knight, well known after-dinner speaker on the topic of cowboy credit and farm lending.

"Preacher" Knight attended high school in Ponder, Texas near Fort Worth and Eastern New Mexico University Portales, New Mexico. He went to work for First National Bank in Portales and in 1947 became a national bank examiner for the Comptroller of Currency. Presently he and the Mama Rabbit are retired to their ranch in Bosque County near Clifton, Texas where they run "Rain-bow Cows" (every color imaginable) on Hereford bulls.

With a redheaded wife, a red pickup, a red house, two red white-faced bulls and a red horse named "Useless," his favorite color is red. Preacher's trade-mark is that he never missed a bad loan or a free meal in his 32 year career as a bank examiner. His motto is "Blessed is he who hath good collateral, for he shall be paid."

Preacher hopes this talk will make us laugh a little because we won't be any smarter when he finishes than we were when he started.

In the business portion of the meeting, a director representing the Spur Branch Office area will be elected. Director W.H. Williams has chosen not to place his name in nomination for this position again. Nominees for this post are Mac Driggers of Spur and Lance Morris of Crosbyton.

Come enjoy an entertaining program, delicious barbecue and drawings for cash prizes.

Rolling Plains PCA is one of 23 member-owned Production Credit Associations in Texas. Collectively they service approximately 11,200 of the state's agricultural producers. LUMPECTOMY: AN ALTERNATE ROUTE

When breast cancer is detected and treated early, most cases can be treated with conservative procedures such as lumpectomy—removal of a small portion of the breast with follow-up radiation therapy—or modified radical mastectomy. Only about four percent of breast cancer cases are currently being treated by radical mastectomy, reports the American Cancer Society.

DUE TO UNFORSEEN CIRCUMSTANCES pictures for 7-9 age group will appear in next week's paper.

Will "GOOD PEOPLE" be in Hell?

"Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom of heaven; but he who does the will of My Father who is in heaven. Many will say to Me on that day, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in Your name, and in Your name cast out demons, and in Your name perform many miracles?' And then I will declare to them, 'I never knew you; depart from Me, you who practice lawlessness!'" MATTHEW 7:21-23

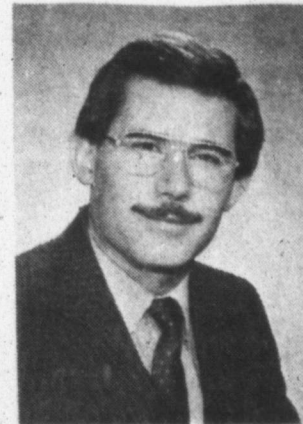

Sadly enough, most people today are woefully ignorant of what the Bible actually says! There exists in our world today the very common and widely accepted belief that if a person is relatively "good" by human standards, they they are okay and God will save them. People wrongly assume that as long as they are "religious", and sincere in their beliefs, then they will be "saved. This scripture completely contradicts that philosophy!

Friends, it is not enough to be sincere, for we may be sincerely wrong in what we believe and practice. It is not enough to be "religious", we must be religiously right in what we preach, teach and practice. Yes, "good" people, even good "religious" people, will go to hell if they are not dedicated to God and obedient to His will, as set forth for us in His word!!!

THE NATIONS MOST EXCITING STORES

Who is your Hero?

MOLLIE
BY EVELYN MESSER

Mollie Dickson may be our most senior of senior citizens, and for that reason she is probably our citizen of the broadest scope of interests. She has lived long enough to see many things to attract her interest and because of those years she has behind her, she is eager to make the most of those in front of her.

Mollie was born October 20, 1893, in Jacksboro, Texas. She and her husband John were married in Jacksboro in 1911. For the first time in her life, Mollie rode a train. When the newly-weds arrived there a welcoming committee was waiting for them at the depot. The Raines Family were there, and Beulah Hall, although her name was not Hall then, is the only person still living at Hedley that was a part of the delegation. There were others there but she cannot remember all the names.

Mollie was eighteen when she married; she, of course, left her family behind. She does not tell a tale of woe and hardship or of being homesick or running home to mama. She says her in-laws were "the best sweetest people that ever was." Her name was Dukes before her marriage. One of her grandfathers was a part of the Dukes tobacco company; they packaged the tobacco in little white cotton sacks. One grandfather was a Methodist preacher. (I forget to ask if this was one grandfather or two).

Mollie did not "depart from her raising". She has been a member of the Hedley Methodist Church for 75 years. (I wonder if that is a world record; I believe Guinness should be informed.)

The Dicksons reared their family on a farm northwest from Hedley. There were five daughters and at last a little son. They know what the dust of the 1930's depression tastes like and what the fatigue from hours of labor given too rearing a family feels like.

Mollie ran a cafe in Hedley - the Owl Cafe located right next to the railroad on Main Street from 1952 until her retirement in 1977. Dozens of people who have grown up in and around Hedley attest to the fact that her hamburgers and cheeseburgers cannot be surpassed. As those people devoured the tons of burgers (not so many as McDonalds, of course, but better) they were given another important kind of sustenance. Mollie and John began their day early - early enough to have a pot of coffee and a pan of biscuits ready for the people who ate their breakfast before they started their work of the day. The habits of diligence were present. The pleasure of a job well-done was evident. A kind word, a bit of encouragement, maybe even a mild word of reproof were all part of the bill of fare at the Owl Cafe. She loved her teen-age customers; she loved to feed them and even humor them from time to time. She fed them hamburgers and fried pies; but she also set an example of fair dealings, enthusiasm, and good will. From them she got joy and satisfaction which sometimes were her only margin of profit. But she gave them in return more than food for the tummy; she gave them a patter of good responsible, contributing citizenship.

Mollie is still making people feel good when she meets them wherever that may be. I can never remember hearing her complain of her arthritis, the bad weather, or of hard times -- all of which I am sure she had known first hand. The only grief that she mentioned was the loss of a 19 year old daughter who died from a car wreck in 1938. There is no other pain like the loss of a child she told me. She told of John's death, but she accepts that as the natural consequence of life; her memories of their life together are sweet enough that she can still taste them with joy.

When she spoke of her husband and of rearing her children, her face was as happy as a child's on Christmas morning. I have considered trying to express some of the little things about their life, but I think it was so especially theirs that it would be unfair for me to try to relate it to you. This page of black and white newsprint just can't reflect the lustre of her face as she shared with me a little of the happiness she has enjoyed over the years - almost a century.

When I asked her what she considered the greatest innovation of the twentieth century, she hesitated only a moment and said, "the washer and dryer". For an instant I think her nose twitched with the memory of the smell of lye soap, and her back ached with the memory of the old black washpot and the rub board.

Her alertness, her bright eyes, her zest for life, her determination to press on are qualities that should be an inspiration to all of us. She has never needed anything to give her a "high"; she has been much to busy savouring the joys of being alive. Who was it that said, "I don't want to come to the end of life and find I have never lived."? Certainly it isn't Mollie. Take a long look: hard work, good relationship with people - she told me she never had any trouble with her hired help - a friendly word, a helping hand all add up to a life well-lived. Which star of stage, screen, or TV could be a happier role model? (Note, too, these things do not cost one cent.)

January 1, 1990, if they want to remain eligible for farm program benefits, loans, and guarantees on all their land," Donaho said.

"We estimate that about 450 new conservation plans need to be prepared for local farmers by our staff by 1990. Our goal is to get at least 200 written by the end of this year."

"Then we will try to schedule the remaining plans during 1989."

Donaho said the planning workload will be difficult for the local SCS staff, especially if farmers wait until the end of 1989 to begin developing plans.

The sooner farmers ask SCS to help them develop a conservation plan, the greater the chance we will have to get to everyone by the deadline, Donaho stressed.

Donaho said that since highly erodible land is not always obvious, farmers should check with their local SCS office to see if they have land that meets the criteria if such a determination has not already been made.

"If people who grow commodity crops on highly erodible cropland do not want a conservation plan and want to give up USDA benefits, that's their business," Donaho said. "But we intend to do our best to help farmers who want to keep those benefits."

Less than two years to meet conservation requirement

Farmers with highly erodible cropland have less than two years to begin meeting the conservation requirements of the 1985 Farm Bill to remain eligible for USDA benefits.

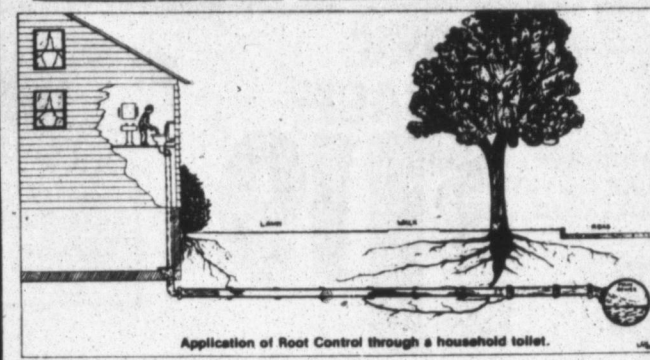

Jim Donaho, District conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service at Clarendon, said these provisions require farmers who have highly erodible cropland to have a conservation plan approved by their local soil and water conservation district by 1990.

Give your heart a chance - know the early warning signs of heart disease

BY CLIFFORD M. KITTEN, M.D.,
F.A.C.C., F.A.C.S.

The human heart, a hollow, pear-shaped muscle about the size of a man's clenched fist, is a truly amazing "machine". It pumps continuously -- 60 to 100 times per minute -- circulating the body's five quarts of blood through about 60,000 miles of blood vessels. Americans, unfortunately, abuse this essential piece of body equipment by eating too many of the wrong kinds of food, smoking, and not getting enough exercise.

The statistics are alarming: more than 45 percent of all deaths in Texas are caused by cardiovascular disease -- that is more than deaths caused by cancer and accidents combined; more than a million Americans suffer heart attacks each year; and over 43 million people in this country live with one or more forms of heart or blood vessel disease.

In most cases, heart attacks are caused by a gradual buildup of deposits, mainly composed of cholesterol, in the inner walls of the arteries that supply blood to the heart. It is a slow process that can go on for years until the obstruction is complete enough to cut off the flow of blood and an attack results. There are, however, some early warning body signals that indicate that the blood supply to the heart is seriously reduced. These signals should not be ignored; advances in cardiac medicine today enable successful treatment in many cases BEFORE the heart is damaged by an attack.

Listen to what your body is trying to tell you. Brief episodes of chest pain, shortness of breath for no apparent reason, a racing, irregular heart beat and dizzy spells could indicate that you may have some level of coronary artery disease, and the supply of oxygen-rich blood to the vital organs is not enough to meet the demand.

Don't take it for granted that your heart won't attack you; it can come on gradually, or it can occur without any apparent warning -- even in people who have never previously experienced any chest pain. Symptoms may vary person to person, but typically the pain of a heart attack is a sensation of a constriction or heaviness in the central chest area. It may range from a feeling of tightness to one of agonizing pressure. The pain -- which may be continuous or last only a few minutes, fade and then return -- usually spreads to the back, jaw and left arm and may be accompanied by shortness of breath, sweating, nausea, dizziness and pallor. If these symptoms last for more than two minutes, don't hesitate a second longer. CALL THE EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICE IMMEDIATELY; waiting could prove fatal.

Obviously, prevention of a heart attack is the best of all possible options and it is never too late to change habits that could be harmful to your heart. Have regular medical checkups and follow the doctor's advice about minimizing coronary risk factors.

Tax reform effects farmers and ranchers

The Tax Reform Act made some changes in how farmers and ranchers deduct expenses for installing conservation measures.

Producers who want to claim a deduction for the cost of a conservation practice on their 1987 income tax returns need to make certain that the practice is listed in the county plan or that they have a site specific plan.

They will also need to complete Internal Revenue Service form 8645 "Soil and Water Conservation Plan Certification" to file with their return.

Jim Donaho, district conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service at Clarendon said management practices such as fencing, brush management, range seeding, and irrigation pipeline are listed in the county plan. For such practices, a dated site specific plan is not necessary.

"However, practices that require technical design and layout need to be in a site specific plan," Donaho said. "These include terraces, waterways, and grade stabilization dams."

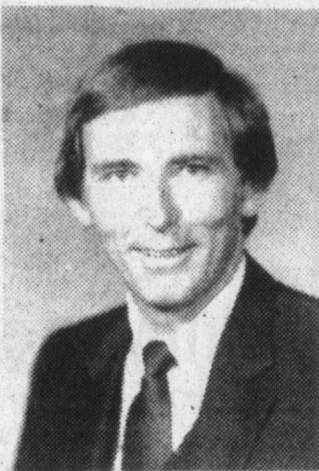

Donaho said he has copies of the county plan as well as the forms 8645. Producers who use the form certify that the soil and water conservation expenses paid or incurred after December 31, 1986, were made according to a plan approved by SCS.

"If anyone needs a site specific plan, we will be glad to try to schedule a date to work out one," Donaho said. "However, we will not be permitted to back-date a plan just to help someone claim a deduction."

The deductible amount is limited to 25 percent of the gross income from the agricultural activity during the tax year.

For more information, producers should talk to their tax consultant.

Katherine and Christopher found two puppies close to their home a couple of weeks ago. Could they belong to someone who lives nearby? Because I am their grandmother, the puppies are playing in my backyard. The male is beige and has the characteristics of a beagle especially the feet. The female looks like she has a lot of chow in her background, approximately 6 to 8 months old, good natured, love people and devoted to each other. I can't keep them because I already have several dogs and would like to find them a good home for them together. I will pay for shots and the female spaded. Jean Chamberlain 874-3490 or 874-3527.

VA announces WWII merchant seamen eligible to apply for benefits

Veterans Administration chief Thomas K. Turnage has announced that VA facilities are gearing up to assist Merchant Marine seamen recently determined to be potentially eligible for VA benefits.

Said Turnage, "We are looking forward to providing these newly designated veterans the same quality service and benefits we provide to millions of other veterans and their survivors each year."

A January 19 Defense Department decision declared that certain Merchant Marine seamen who served in active, ocean-going service from December 7, 1941, to August 15, 1945, would be considered veterans and eligible to receive discharge certificates issued by the Armed Forces, thus making them eligible to apply for VA benefits. In addition, Civil Service crewmembers aboard U.S. Army Transport Service and Naval Transportation Service vessels in ocean-going service or foreign waters also are eligible.

In general, these newly designated veterans (or their survivors) can apply for the same benefits currently available to other World War II veterans, including service-related disability compensation, pension, medical care, certain survivors' benefits, VA-guaranteed home loans, and burial benefits. One exception is eligibility for VA-administered education programs, although in certain limited circumstances eligibility for vocational rehabilitation for those found to be disabled due to military service may be established.

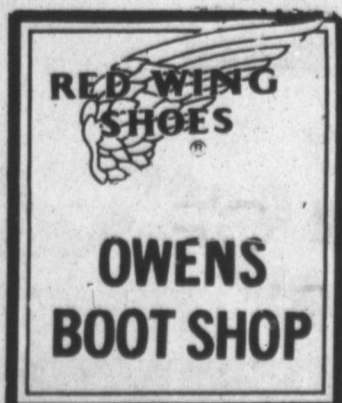

Eligibility for specific benefits will have to be determined on a case-by-case basis, depending on the specifics of the discharge certificate and eligibility criteria for each benefit.

To receive a discharge certificate, application must be made on DD Form 2168, which is available from any VA regional office or Merchant Marine organization. Veterans interested in obtaining this application for form should contact the Waco VA Regional Office by calling toll-free, 1-800-792-3271. The completed form should be sent to one of the following addresses, as appropriate: Merchant Marine -- Commandant (GMVP-1/12), U.S. Coast Guard, Washington, D.C. 20593-0001; Army Transport Service -- Commander, U.S. Army Reserve Components Personnel and Administrative Center (PAS-FENC), 9700 Page Blvd., St. Louis, MO 63132-5200; Naval Transportation Service -- Naval Military Personnel Command (NMPC-3), Navy Department, Washington, D.C. 20370-5300.

Once the discharge certificate is issued by the appropriate Armed Forces element, it can be presented to the VA in applying for veterans' benefits.

REACH TO RECOVERY

Many women may experience fear and frustration after undergoing a mastectomy or a lumpectomy. However, studies indicate that the majority of women can resume healthy, normal and productive lives after these operations. "Reach to Recovery," a free patient service program offered through the American Cancer Society, can be instrumental in helping women learn to understand and cope with their experiences with breast cancer.

Inhaler Medicines

One of the most useful groups of medicines for the relief of asthma and similar bronchial conditions is the bronchodilators. And it has been determined that one of the most effective ways of administering bronchodilators is through the use of convenient, ready-to-use, handheld inhalers. In order for the medicines in inhalers to produce maximum effectiveness, inhalers must be used properly. Correct inhaler use includes:

- Shaking the container well and holding it upright before using.
- Breathing out (exhaling) before using the inhaler.
- Inserting the mouthpiece into the mouth and closing the lips around it.
- Pressing down on the canister or inhaler with one hand as you start to inhale the medication.
- Holding your breath for 10 seconds and then slowly exhaling through your nose or pressed lips.
- Waiting about two minutes before the next dose, if more than one dose is needed.
