RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

Here are some more salad recipes. A good salad will tease the appetite; it also adds color and charm to the table. Be sure the salad plates are cold, before you serve them; and that the salad you serve blends with the rest of the meal.

Carrot Cube Salad

- 1 c cubed carrots
- 2 c coarsely chopped cabbage
- salt to taste
- savory mayonnaise

Toss carrots and cabbage lightly; season and add savory mayonnaise.

Savory Mayonnaise

- 1 t Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 c cream
- 1 t grated onion

Just before serving combine ingredients in order named and mix thoroughly.

Vets Interest Rates Increased

The annual interest rate charged by the Veterans Administration on National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) policy loans has been increased to 11 percent effective July 29.

NSLI coverage was provided service personnel on active duty from October 8, 1940, through April 24, 1951. Those who converted this World War II coverage to a permanent plan may obtain loans up to 94 percent of the cash value of their individual policy. In fiscal year 1980, VA made about 96,000 loans on NSLI policies.

The July 29 change does not affect the loan interest rate on United States Government Life Insurance (USGLI; policies, VA pointed out. Interest rates on USGLI policies, which were extended to military personnel who served between May 1919 and April 1951, are set by law.

The loan interest rate on NSLI policies was increased to 5 percent in 1971. Since that time, other investments made for the insurance trust funds have yielded increasingly higher earnings and dividends for policy holders. The increased interest rate will permit earnings on policy loans to become comparable with other investments.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Roming, Long

Keva Gayle Roming and William Donnie Long exchanged wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony, July 25, at 7:30p.m. in the First United Methodist Church. Officiating was the church minister, Reverend Bill Kent. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Roming of Muleshoe and the bridegrooms parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Long of Needmore. The service was held before a basket of white gladiolas, ball mums and babys breath, accented with white bows. The altar was flanked by candelabras holding white tapers, intertwined with greenery, babys breath and pink bows. Arrangements identical to the first of white mums and gladiolas stood in pedestals on each side. The unity candle nestled between white tapers, greenery, babys breath and pink bows. A kneeling bench completed the setting. Aisle markers were sprays of springer and babys breath accented with bows in shades of pink. Window lights were created with candles, greenery and bows in shades of pink. Guests were seated from the sides while satin rope closed the center aisle until the bridal procession entered. The bride was given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father. She was attired in a formal length gown of chiffonette over peau de soie with chantilly lace bodice fashioned with a fitted waistline and modified Queen Anne neckline accented with pearls. Sheer fitted sleeves were adorned with chantilly motifs and pearls with a small flounce at the wrist. An a-line skirt edged with wide lace over a flowing ruffle cascaded to a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion accented with chantilly edge was attached to a wreath of lace and silk flowers sprinkled with pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet of fresh white roses, bouton poms, miniature pink roses, spoon mums and babys breath. Fresh greenery, satin tubing and lace streamers atop a testament which was given her at birth by a great aunt and her great grandmothers hankerchief completed the bouquet.

To fulfill tradition, something old was a hankerchief of the brides great grandmother; something new, her gown; something borrowed, a pearl necklace belonging to her mother; something blue, her garter which contained pennies minted in the years of the couples births.

Matron and maid of honor were the brides sisters, Jo Williams and Benetta Roming. They were gowned in formal length rosette chiffon, fashioned with scooped necklines, a-line skirt, blouson top with peplum waist. The cascading nosegays were of fresh pink roses, bouton poms, babys breath, spoon mums and streamers in shades of pink.

The bridegroom was attired in a white asheley tuxedo featuring satin trim and ascot tie. His bouton-niere was a fresh white rose. Best man was Michery Long, brother of the bridegroom and groomsman was Danny Wilson. They wore silver tuxedos with white shirts and silver ascot ties and boutonnieres of pink miniature roses.

Matt Williams of Amarillo, brother-in-law of the bride and Billy Vinson of Muleshoe served as ushers and candlelighters. They also wore silver tuxedos.

Flowergirl was Misty Collins of Ft. Towson, Oklahoma, niece of the groom. She wore a floor length floral dress and carried a white basket of pink love knots.

Shiela Long, sister of the groom, presided at the guest book.

Organist Mickey Cloud played the traditional wedding music for the ceremony. Janis Kelton sang "Through the Eyes of Love" as the candles were lighted and other selections were "Wedding Song", "O Perfect Love", "Follow Me" was sang as the unity candle was lighted.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Roming chose a navy formal length dress of pleated chiffon. Mrs. Long wore a floor length lavender dress of crepe satin with a lace jacket. The mothers wore corsages of miniature pink roses.

Following the ceremony a catered reception was held in the fellowship hall. Serving at the reception were Michelle Agee, Lynett Shafer, Sharon Carpenter and Sheila Black.

Scott Murrah of Fairbanks, Alaska and Shawna Collins of Ft. Towson, Oklahoma presented the rice bags to the guests during the reception.

For travel the bride chose a white linen sundress with a red jacket and red accessories. Her corsage was of roses.

After a wedding trip to New Mexico the couple is at home in Canyon where they will work and attend the university.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Long, July 24, at the Corral Restaurant. The head table contained an arrangement of fresh flowers of pink and white.

The bride was honored with a spice and recipe shower by Mrs. Eric Smith on July 18. Also a wedding shower was given on June 28, at the home of Mrs. June Wagon.

Miss Mardis, Morrison Exchange Doublering Vows

MRS. JAMES BRADLEY MORRISON
[nee Mitzi Jan Mardis]

Miss Mitzi Mardis became the bride of James Bradley Morrison in a candlelight ceremony Friday, August 7 at 7 p.m. in the United Methodist Church. Rev. Joe Stone read the double ring vows.

The bride's parents are Clifford Mardis of Muleshoe and Leatrice Mardis of Loving, Texas. Morrison is the son of Herman and Joyce Morrison of Muleshoe.

The altar featured a bouquet of gladiolus, quel mums, agapanthas and a unity candle. Twin branch candelabras featuring colors of peach, tan and ivory with peach tapers completed the church decorations. Rick Nash of Amarillo, soloist, sang "That's the Way It's Got to Be".

Given in marriage by her father the bride chose a full length ivory gown styled by Charmante Creations. The dress was made of lace overlay and a voile slip dress giving an old fashioned aura. A gathered chantilly lace ruffle formed a high neckline. These ruffles also formed diagonals on the bodice front. Cloth covered buttons down the front center emphasized the blouse bodice. Leg-O-Mutton sleeves were formed from Chantilly lace and featured cloth covered buttons for cuff closure. A wide satin ribbon covered with chantilly lace accented the waistline. The full skirt was joined to the ribbon and fell to floor length, where it was trimmed in two borders of lace, one cluny, the other Schiffli embroidery. The train continued into a chapel train.

The cascading bridal bouquet was made of sonia roses, miniature carnations, azalea blossoms, baby's breath, honeysuckle and camelia flowers, tied with rose satin streamers.

Mrs. Sammie Henderson of Canyon, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Mrs. Rick Nash of Amarillo, Mrs. J.T. Nichols of Canyon and Sharla Morrison of Muleshoe, sister of the groom were bridesmaids.

area, square bracts, and at times, on other parts of the plant. Ordinarily, the egg hatches in 2-4 days, depending on the temperature. Eggs are laid singly and scattered over the plant. Looper eggs, on the other hand, tend to be laid singly on the underside of the leaf. Newly hatched worms feed predominately in the terminal area and on small squares. Larger larvae will feed on larger squares, blooms and enter bolls. Most economic loss is a result of boll feeding, not square or bloom feeding.

The pupal stage is the overwintering form, and is found in the soil at a depth of 1-4 inches. The larval period is approximately 14-18 days long. The pupal stage lasts about 14 days. Total egg to adult time is approximately 30-35 days.

Damage: Bollworms feed on squares, blooms and bolls. Except for some terminal feeding by newly hatched larvae, all feeding is concentrated on fruit. Damaged squares usually turn yellow, flare, and fall off. When infestations are severe, terminal feeding can "top off" the plants. Holes made by bollworms are jagged.

Scouting Hints: While terminal checks will usually suffice, some whole plant counts should be made, particularly late in the season and when field humidity is high. Eggs and newly-hatched larvae in terminals give warning of possible outbreaks. Beneficial arthropods often give control before any real damage occurs. Square counts detect square damage caused by 1/8-3/8 inch long worms. Larger worms have passed the stage for effective biological control. Damaged square counts are a good indicator of beneficial activity but counts of actual larvae, their size and plant location are critical for proper management decisions. Since egg laying frequently occurs in a clumped distribution, decisions should be based primarily on infested plant counts taken across the entire field.

Bumper Peanut Crop May Dampen Prices

While the peanut market looks strong at present, farmers may be facing depressed prices later in the year in the wake of a bumper harvest. So contracting this year's crop could be an important move on the part of producers.

"Although many shellers have already contracted large supplies of peanuts, contracts are still available that would enable producers to lock in a good price for both quota and additional acreage peanuts," points out Johnny Feagan, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Because most peanut growers have considerable expenses tied up in this year's crop, Feagan advises forward contracting where possible to enable them to reduce some of the risk by assuring a reasonable market price. Harvest prices will likely move near the loan rate until this year's crop picture gets a little clearer. A large crop could force prices down.

These meals may be applied for through the school business office. Families will be notified within ten days of eligibility for these meals. Copies of the application form will be sent home with each child and additional copies may be obtained from the various school principals.

If a question arises regarding the decision made on any application, the family may request a hearing to appeal the decision. This request may be made orally or in writing to the superintendent of schools, Harold Horne.

"Currently, peanuts in the South and Southwest are making good progress following rains that caused some planting delays," notes Feagan. "Good moisture conditions point to a better-than-average year, with total planting up about 4 percent over last year."

Most producers remain optimistic about the market for their 1981 crop due to the past year's peanut supplies, which are 30 percent below 1979. Although peanut imports were incre-

Field Day To Focus On Sorghum Research

The breeding nurseries, hybrid testing sites and insect and disease resistance screening area will be featured four stops for farmers who attend DeKalb's research field day, September 10 near Lubbock.

The farm, located seven miles north of Lubbock on FM 2528, serves as DeKalb's southwestern U.S. grain sorghum breeding headquarters.

Among the displays planned for field day participants are the nursery fields where breeders select plants to enter the research program and the testing plots where the researchased in mid-April to ease the shortage, these should have little or no effect on the domestic price support program. According to Feagan, the special import quota will expire before the new crop comes to market.

What have higher peanut prices done to consumption?

"Edible usage is currently running well below last year's levels and will likely be down 17 to 20 percent by the end of the marketing year (Aug. 31) due to short supplies and high prices," notes Feagan. "Manufacturers are concerned that these high prices will continue to turn consumers away from peanut products."

ers evaluate the finished hybrids.

Special emphasis at the Lubbock research farm focuses on developing grain sorghums which can fight stress from disease, drought and insects, particularly the biotype E greenbug and sorghum midge.

The field day begins at 5 p.m. and supper will be served.

The electronic age isn't just coming to the farm - it's here in a big way. Computers in agriculture have become a reality. Individual producers - farmers and ranchers - are reaping the benefits of home computers programmed for such applications as farm records, budgeting, yield records comparison, test plot records and continuous market information. Also, many are using separate electronic information sources connected directly to their home computer. Individually owned satellite receiving installations are bringing to the farm and ranch not only a universe of entertainment and information, but also are a direct tie-in for continual market and weather updates, special USDA reports and conferences, etc., via satellite and recorded on the home computer terminal. At least on the farm and ranch, in matters of technological and electronic matters, the phrase "the sky's the limit" is as antiquated as a horse drawn plow.

Food Stamps

Helping Needy

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block issued the following statement after meeting with food stamp recipients and advocates last week about proposed cuts in USDA nutrition assistance programs.

"I believe we developed a better understanding concerning our attitudes about many problems in our assistance programs. With this understanding, the group that I met with has indicated they would help me monitor fraud, waste and abuse in the program. In turn, I assured them that state agencies that administer the programs will comply with all federal regulations. The recipients are rightfully concerned that some of the problems are administrative in nature.

"This meeting also increased my awareness that the overwhelming majority of food stamp recipients are honest Americans doing their very best to cope with the assault inflation has made on their lives. Neither President Reagan nor I want our campaign against fraud, waste and abuse to be construed as an indictment against the average food stamp recipient.

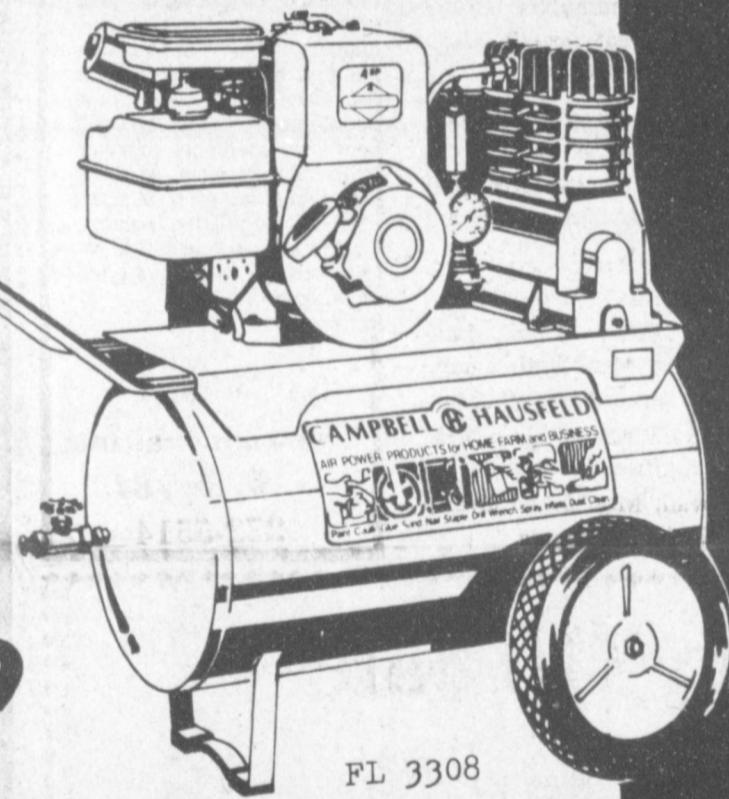

"The food stamp recipients were in Washington last week for a meeting of the National Anti-Hunger Coalition.

Muleshoe Youth Take Prizes

Six Muleshoe youth traveled to Brownfield recently to compete in the Brownfield Open Tournament sponsored by the Brownfield Tennis Association.

Those competing were: Monte and Cory Horne, Loy Triana, Terry Graves, Kristi Heathington and Deborah Nieman. Loy took third place in the age 14 Boy's Singles, Loy and Terry captured first place in the 14 Boy's Doubles. In girl's competition, Deborah and Kristi won third place in the girls doubles, and Kristi won a second in 14 girl's singles. Monte came in last in 14 boy's singles and 2nd in 16 boy's singles while Cory took first place in the 10 boy's singles.

These youngsters have been instructed by Harold Horne, Muleshoe School superintendent in a sum-Public Weigher Law

AUSTIN--Recent revisions in state law (House Bill 275) have modified the guidelines that persons must follow to become official public weighers. Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

A public weigher is a person who is elected or appointed to issue an official certificate of accurate weight or measurement of a commodity for the public.

The new classification of County Public Weigher, Deputy County Weigher, and State Public Weigher, will replace the past classifications of Independent, Secretary of State Appointed, and Deputy to Secretary of State Appointed.

Interested parties may obtain more information by writing: Reagan V. Brown, Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, P. O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Mohair Export Team Returns From European Trade Mission

AUSTIN--A Texas mohair market development team has returned from a successful trade mission to Eastern Europe, the first since a 1972 mission which resulted in Texas' first sale of mohair to Poland. Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said.

Members of the team were: Fred Campbell, executive director of the Mohair Council of America and the Texas Mohair Producers Board; Ben Baisdon, marketing director of the Texas Department of Agriculture; Dr. Joe David Ross, a Sonora mohair producer and secretary-treasurer of the Mohair Council of America; and Rick Honaker, representing the Texas Wool and Mohair Warehouse Association.

"The team called on spinners and buyers in Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Poland and East Germany, as well as some of our older established markets in England and Spain," said Brown. "One of the most important stops was Portugal, which is progressing rapidly toward development of its own textile industry."

Texas has not shipped mohair directly to Portugal in the past, Brown noted.

According to Brown, "In the mohair business, there simply is no substitute for personal contacts and 'eyeball-to-eyeball' dealing. Our visits to overseas markets are very formal, very official and add tremendously to the worldwide status of our mohair industry. If we don't keep our hand in the international mohair market, we'll lose it to other producing countries such as South Africa who remain in constant contact with their customers."

According to Mohair Council Director Campbell, "Texas today is exporting its mohair to twice as many countries as it did 10 years ago. If we did not constantly strive to broaden our markets, we would still be selling mainly to England, probably at a wider price gap than we are seeing today."

Brown noted that as well as contacting potential customers and surveying overseas markets, the team also will work to overcome the unfounded belief that Texas mohair contains large amounts of "kemp." This is an undesirable fiber that is considered a contaminant of quality mohair.

"There has never been any basis for the rumor that Texas mohair contains kemp," said Brown. "The best way to counter this negative image is to show buyers actual samples of the high-quality mohair that we produce in Texas. Everyone who sees our mohair says it is among the best in the world."

He added that convincing Japanese buyers of this fact on a 1979-80 trade mission led to a 400-percent increase in sales of Texas mohair to that country.

Texas now produces about 97 percent of this country's entire supply of mohair, Brown said. In 1980, Texas produced 8.8 million pounds, with a value of over $30,800,000.

West Texas Onions

AUSTIN--The late Texas onion crop, harvested around the High Plains and Trans-Pecos regions, is forecast at 127.4 million pounds, a 28 percent drop from 1980, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

Yields in the High Plains have been affected by hail and extremely hot weather. Though hail damage occurred in the Trans-Pecos, yields there have been generally good, Brown noted.

BEACHED... and forgotten!

This old forgotten boat is almost buried in the reeds. Can this boat in any way be compared to our talents? What of these talents that God has given us? Have they been beached, forgotten, buried?

Heaven expects us to help in this matter of creating a better world where brother helps brother by using to the fullest extent the talents He has bestowed upon us. God always provokes and prods mankind to do good works, and accomplish great things. And He says that if we dedicate ourselves to this matter He will help. But the decision to use our talents and develop them is our choice.
