DEPUTY CHARLES BLACKBURN (l) and Joe Shadle look at the flat tire that ended the high-speed chase down Highway 287 on Tuesday. The Deputy shot the tire to prevent the pursuit from entering Clarendon.

High Speed Chase Nets Stolen Car

Just after 1:00 p.m., August 18, a small white foreign car drove away from the gas pump at the Taylormart in Claude without paying for gas. The car headed south on Highway 287. Store employees called Bud Stange, Armstrong County Sheriff, who immediately started in pursuit of the vehicle. The Taylormart staff got the vehicle's license number, but not the state that issued the plates.

Armstrong County notified Donley County authorities that a chase was under way. Sheriff Strange got close enough to the car to determine that the license plates were issued by the state of Georgia, and Donley County officials immediately ran the numbers through the computer.

As law enforcement officials from Donley County and the Texas Department of Public Safety drove toward 287 to intercept the fugitive, the report came back that the vehicle was stolen from Jessup, Georgia. The driver was thought to be armed and dangerous.

The fugitive outran the Sheriff Strange and stopped momentarily to release two female hitchhikers, then resumed his flight down 287. Deputy Joe Shadle and Deputy Charles Blackburn began pursuit just west of Ashtola. At times the deputies' speedometer indicated 127 or 128 miles-per-hour.

Other officers quickly converged on the scene. Officer Burch and Sergeant Gribble from the Texas Department of Public Safety, Lake Greenbelt Security Officer Faylon Watson quickly joined the chase as did Donley County Sheriff Jimmy Thompson.

In attempting to escape, the flying Toyota crossed the median and ran South on the Northbound lane for a distance, as well as other dangerous maneuvers.

As the vehicle approached Clarendon, Deputy Shadle managed to pull up beside the suspect and Deputy Blackburn shot out the left front tire of the fugitive. The officers felt that they had to stop the speeding car before the driver tried to run through Clarendon at 120+ miles per hour.

When the suspect came to a stop he was sitting on a knife, but he also faced eight law enforcement officers. The man was identified as Jerome Powell, 18, of Tampa Florida. He was wanted in Georgia for grand theft-auto, for two charges of aggravated assault, and two charges of kidnaping as well as armed robbery. There were also warrants in other states.

Powell has an extensive criminal history. He was arraigned in Donley County on theft of gas, then taken to Armstrong County where he was arraigned on a long list of local charges, as well as those from Georgia.

The stolen auto appears to have sustained surprisingly little damage during its unauthorized use.

Therefore, it is important that

Crop Report

By Tim Trimble CEA-AG

Cotton, peanuts and sorghum are progressing fairly well with few problems with insects. The cool spell of last week slowed crop growth, but delayed drought stress in dryland fields. Moisture is needed on most dryland crops. Heavy boll and square shed will likely start in cotton because of moisture stress and cut-out. Cot-

Fever Blisters: Half of Adults Affected

Fever blisters or "cold sores" are fluid-filled blisters that occur on or around the lip or nose. Blisters result from contact with a contagious virus referred to as type 1 herpes simplex virus. The virus, which enters the body most often by way of the mouth or nose, typically infects children before the age of five.

Blisters may or may not occur for many years. The virus lives in nerve tissue and triggers infections (blister formations) during periods of stress or reduced resistance to infection. Typically, blisters become encrusted and heal within one to two weeks without leaving a scar. One reference indicates that about half of all Americans age 20 to 40 have experienced at least one fever blister infection.

While fever blisters cannot be cured or prevented, nonprescription medicines help relieve pain and protect the skin. Protectants such as allantoin, cocoa butter, glycerin, and shark liver oil in emollient creams may help soften blisters and prevent cracking of the skin or crust. Products containing local anesthetics such as benzocaine, lidocaine, camphor, and menthol may reduce lip and nose pain. The Handbook of Nonprescription Drugs suggests that those who "associate cold sores with sun exposure may benefit from the application of a sunscreen or ultraviolet ray blocker in the form of a lipstick."

Needless to say we are all very enthused as we can now foresee just how lovely it is going to be when it is finished. PTA Will Present Program

Tuesday, September 1, at 7:00 the Clarendon PTA will meet in the school cafeteria for the first meeting of the year. The PTA is proud to open the 1992-93 school year with an outstanding program and speaker.

Martha Sibley, Dyslexia Coordinator of the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Children in Dallas, will present a fascinating and informative program on the often mystifying disorder of dyslexia.

Mrs. Sibley has traveled all over the state of Texas speaking to educators, administrators, parents and communities on the subject.

Dyslexia, (meaning, simply, trouble with words), is a disorder in children with adequate to above adequate intelligence, who, despite conventional classroom experience, continue to have difficulties in the language skills of reading, writing, and spelling. Mrs. Sibley will discuss characteristics of dyslexia, identification procedures, recommendations for classroom modifications and multisensory remedial language training, both necessary for success in the classroom and the legal right of every identified dyslexic student.

Every mother, father, grandparent, educator, Sunday school teacher, adult dyslexic or interested individual will want to be present for the wealth of information Martha Sibley will bring to our community. One of seven students is dyslexic. Please attend and learn about these precious students/adults and the extraordinary gifts and talents each possess! The dyslexic or any learning disabled child's worst enemy is the uninformed adult.

Ashtola Exes Gather

The 11th Ashtola Ex-Students and teachers and community reunion was held August 9, 1992 at the Donley County Community Center.

All attendees were greeted at the registration table by a former teacher, Mrs. Hazel (Cole) Brandon and an ex-student Willa (Poovey) Cook.

Some research into the past uncovered two facts of which most Ashtola-ites were unaware. At one time Ashtola's basketball team was called the Antelopes and the team colors were orange and black, so a large orange and black Ashtola Antelopes sign and orange and black balloons were used as decorations.

The Clarendon Class of '57 had graciously left us their decorations to enjoy also.

Merle Howard Holland of Dallas and his family were the winners of the prize for coming the furthest. They also were the recipients of the prize for the family with the most present. Numerous other fun awards and door prizes were given out.

All exes and their families and guests enjoyed a delicious pot luck lunch. Amid much eating, visiting, reminiscing, and remembering when, old friendships were reunited and new friendships were cultivated.

Each Ashtola-ite was an important part of the community. Our characters and personalities were influenced by each teacher, student and friend.

Those attending were: from Ashtola: H.A. And Naomi Green, Vance and Ismanell Gray, Ruby Jewel Hardin, Robert and Alene Partain, Larry Green; from Clarendon - Della Allen, Roeda Rattan, Redell and Frankie Henson, Gene and Doris White, Ruby White, Buster Gray, Helena Catoc, Hugh Mahaffey, Teresa Watson, Viola Graham, Maurice and Mary Neal Risley, J.R. and Hazel (Cole) Brandon, Haskell Swearingen, Doyce Myrne Swearingen; from Amarillo - James and Kathleen (Brisson) Berg, Art and Linda (DeBord) Jewitt, Gloria Clark, Kirven and Evelyn Jones Irwin, Roberta and Jamie Kime, Jack Eddings, Pete and Marie Miller, Tina Eddings, Harold and Dorothy McKee, Jeanne Gray Tittle, Charles and Joyce Hunt, George and Judy Sell; Willard and Willa Cook, Claude; J.F. and LaNelle White, Borger; Murl Howard Holland, Dallas; Rudy Partain, Panhandle; Larry Gray, Earth; Charlene (Gray) Brown, Roxene, and Rhealene, Floydada; Buster and Selma (Barker) Vaughn, Lubbock; Ricky Rattan, Granite, Oklahoma; R.L. (Doc) and Dorothy Rhodes Adamson, Prescott, Arizona; J.B. Scarborough, Lubbock; from Wichita Falls - Beverly, Christopher, Roderick, Nicholas and Camilla Medlin; from Childress - Sandi, Michelle and Micael Taylor, Alicia and Joshua Kelso.

Public Meeting Set

A public meeting will be held at 6:00 p.m. on Wednesday September 9, 1992 at the Clarendon Fire Department for the purpose of requesting a variance for the Clarendon Emergency Medical Services regarding staffing requirements for the ambulances imposed by the Texas Department of Health.

Mr. Mike Lindsley, Field Representative for the Texas Department of Health in Canyon will conduct the meeting. The Health Department presently requires that two state certified personnel respond on each ambulance on every call. Clarendon EMS has requested a variance so that an uncertified person may serve as the driver on calls along with a state certified EMT, ECA, or Paramedic.

This meeting is open to the public and anyone in attendance will be allowed to ask questions or provide comments regarding granting of this variance. Any citizen of Donley County is invited and encouraged to attend this meeting.

Curriculum Changed

The 1992-93 school year marks the beginning of the end for watered-down courses in the curriculum of Texas' public schools.

Under a plan approved by the State Board of Education in June, below-level courses in English, mathematics and science will no longer be offered for graduation credit beginning this school year. The phase-out of the courses, which could be taken for credit in lieu of mainstream course offerings, was approved by the board on an emergency basis in July, so that it would become effective for the 1992-93 school year.

The below-level courses have been an obstacle in raising performance standards and levels of expectations for all students, board members said in assessing the impact of the changes in July. The courses tend to isolate low-performing students by minimizing expectations of them and keeping them in a remedial curriculum track.

Under the plan, Correlated Language Arts I, Fundamentals of Mathematics, Consumer Mathematics and Introductory Physical Science no longer can be used to satisfy the graduation units required in English, mathematics and science. Students may still take these courses for elective credit in 1992-93, if a school district believes eliminating the courses during the coming school year would be detrimental to its students.

School districts planning to continue offering the courses for elective credit must notify the Commissioner of Education of their intent and the number of students enrolled in the courses. After the 1992-93 school year, the courses will no longer be offered.

The immediate phase-out does not apply to Correlated Language Arts II through IV, Applied Biology and Pre-algebra. Districts may continue to offer the second through fourth years of Correlated Language Arts and the biology

School Lunch Programs

For the 1991-92 school year, Texas public schools served a total of 334 million school lunches along with 100 million breakfasts, making it the second largest school food service program in the nation. Approximately 62 percent of the lunches and 89 percent of the breakfasts served daily are provided free or at a reduced price to low income students through the National School Lunch program and School Breakfast programs. There are about 1.5 million students eligible to receive free or reduced price meals.

Eligibility requirements for free or reduced price lunches are based on a sliding scale tied to household size and income. For example, during the 1992-93 school year, public schoolchildren in a family of four would qualify for free lunches if the family income is $18,135 or less.

The same children would qualify for reduced price lunches if the family income is $18,136 and $25,808.

Applications for free and reduced price meals can be obtained from the local school district.

A lunch eligible for reimbursements from the federal program must meet a meal pattern requirement and must provide one-third of the daily nutritional needs for a student.

It is comprised of two ounces of cooked lean meat or a meat alternate, milk, bread, and usually two vegetables or a fruit and a vegetable.

The meal pattern requirement for the breakfast program is milk, fruit or vegetable juice, or fruit or vegetables and a bread or meat product. As often as practical and possible, an item that will yield protein, such as bacon, sausage, or eggs, should be served.

According to John Perkins, director of child nutrition programs for the Texas Education Agency, the Agency is working with local school districts to meet the new national dietary guidelines adopted in November 1991. "We are working with the local programs to improve the nutritional value of the foods served. The districts have been very cooperative in working towards the new national goals," Perkins said.

More than 95 percent, or 1,030 of the state's 1,057 school districts, participate in the lunch program and more than 94 percent, or 1,021 districts, participate in the breakfast program.

Approximately 5,800 schools operate the school lunch program and approximately 5,600 schools operate the breakfast program.

The School Lunch Act was enacted in 1946, making it one of the oldest federal programs in existence.

For the 1992-93 school year, officials have projected federal reimbursement in Texas to be at least $500 million for the child nutrition programs.

Spider to Watch Out For

The brown recluse spider is a big problem in Texas and throughout the central and southeastern portion of the United States. A non-aggressive spider by nature, the recluse normally tries to avoid contact with humans. The spider prefers to hide in dark places but will bite if handled, trapped in your clothing, or flattened between a person and some other object.

The bite of this pest is especially dangerous to children, the elderly and those in poor physical condition. A fatal reaction to the bite of a brown recluse is rare but bites are extremely painful, with intense local pain, blisters, inflammation, of the affected area, and ulcerating sores that literally eat away at the skin, muscle, and nerve tissue.

This spider can be found outdoors under rocks, loose bark on a tree, or other sheltered areas. Buildings that are dry, littered, and contain many insects are the indoor areas most likely to attract the spider. They may also be found in attics, closets, basements, and barns. These creatures will often inhabit clothing left hanging in these places.

The brown recluse is difficult to eliminate by controlling the insects on which it feeds however a powder or dusting method is used by some exterminators.

In case of a bite apply an antiseptic solution to the fang punctures to help prevent infection. Apply ice packs to the area surrounding the bite. Do not cut the fang punctures, apply suction or employ a tourniquet. Try to find the specimen that caused the wound for positive identification.

A scientist and educator well known and respected across the nation's cotton belt will join the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in February as cotton agronomist at Lubbock. Kater Hake, 39, manager of the cotton physiology education program and production technology for the National Cotton Council, will assume his new duties Feb. 1. He will replace Dr. James R. course for graduation credit through the 1992-93 school year. Students may take Pre-algebra for graduation credit through the 1995-96 school year.

The courses were implemented in 1984, at the same time that state requirements for graduation were increased from 18 to 21 credit units. Since then, enrollments in the courses have declined by more than 11 percent, from 516,631 in the 1985-86 school year to 457,592 in 1990-91. The courses were designed as an alternative for students not prepared to meet the demands of the more rigorous statewide curriculum.

BLACKIE JOHNSON, Hedley Constable Shows the new video patrol camera given to him by the Hedley Young Homemakers.

Johnson Receives Gift

Tuesday, August 18, Constable Blackie Johnson was surprised with an ice cream party hosted by the Hedley Young Homemakers. He was presented with the patrol camera purchased with funds collected this summer by the Hedley Young Homemakers Club. The fundraising was launched on Sunday, June 28, when the club sponsored a barbecue lunch at the Hedley School Cafeteria with all proceeds used to begin the camera fund. Since that day, numerous individuals and businesses have generously donated to the fund. It was originally hoped that the camera would be paid for by October or November. Due to the overwhelming response of the citizens of precincts 3 and 4, enough money had been gathered by August 1.

The Hedley Homemakers and Constable Blackie Johnson are extremely grateful to everyone who contributed either money or efforts to this project. Special thanks go to these major contributors: Reynolds Machine Shop, Hedley Lions Club, City of Hedley, District Attorney David McCoy, and Community Bank-Hedley Branch. All donations were appreciated. A special thanks goes to State Trooper Jerry Morris for demonstrating the camera, for ordering it, and for installing the unit.

Hedley Data Released

AUSTIN
Despite widespread reports last Fall of school budget cuts, trustees adopted the largest spending increase in history-- $1.8 billion more. Classroom teachers received one dollar in six of the additional spending.

Spending was $1.4 billion more than budgeted revenue, and trustees increased school taxes by a billion dollars. However, when the beginning balance is included, resources far outpaced expenditures.

The figures come from the latest issue of Benchmarks 1991-92 School District Budgets in Texas, an annual publication of the Texas Research League, an Austin-based, educational corporation engaged in governmental research.

An average of $3,979 per students for current operations was budgeted last year plus $337 for repayment of debt and $617 per student for capital outlay.

Hedley Consolidated ISD's budget provided $6,342.76 per student for current operations, $0.00 for debt service, and $805.83 for capital outlay based on Hedley ISD's students enrolled in October 1991.

The average base salary for classroom teachers paid by Hedley ISD in October 1991 was $22,617 plus supplements for career ladder, the average for administrators was $29,243 and $29,024 for other professional support employees (librarians, counselors, nurses, supervisors, etc.).

Four dollars in each five were spent for salaries. Statewide payroll expenses averaged $3,236 per student, as compared to $4,533.24 in Hedley. Payroll expense is determined by salary levels and staffing patterns.

Taxpayers provided one teacher for 7.6 students in Hedley while the statewide pupil-teacher ratio was 16.3 to one.

School districts and county education districts imposed a property tax at the rate of $1.274 per $100 of appraised property value, which value averaged 98.8% of market value (selling price). The "true tax rate" was $1.259 ($1.274 times 98.8%) statewide. Locally, the Hedley ISD imposed a rate of $1,000, including $.780 by the county. Property was appraised at $980% of its market value, making the true rate $.980 per $100 of market value (selling price).

The report points out that the calculation of a true tax rate based on market value rather than on appraised value is necessary to make a valid comparison of tax levels with other schools.

The tax on a house that would sell for $80,000 in Hedley ISD would have been $744. If the homeowner were eligible for homestead exemptions, the tax would have been $578. That compares with a statewide average tax bills of $998 and $793 respectively for an $80,000 house.

Last year Hedley ISD's revenue from property tax increased by 84.7 percent for 1991-92 as compared to a 12.0 percent increase statewide.

Local property taxes plus state aid totaled $6,109 per student in Hedley ISD as compared to $3,969 statewide.

The state and county education districts will fund the total cost of the foundation program, which averaged $2,784 per student last year and was $5,090 in Hedley ISD. Local school districts can levy property taxes to enrich the foundation program. Enrichment last year averaged $831 per pupil to which the state added an average of $354 per student to guarantee the tax yield in property-poor districts. Enrichment by the Hedley ISD was $399; the state guarantees an additional $619.

For the coming school year, there will be $1.3 billion more for 1992-93 school budgets without tax increases by school trustees other than the 10-cent increase by county education districts. That will consist of $627 million from county tax plus $684 million more state aid already appropriated by the legislature, the report concludes.

Hedley Report Released

The Texas Education agency has just released a report for Hedley Independent School District called Academic Excellence Indicator System District Report. The complex document reports numerical scores for various grade levels and subjects and breaks the results in to various ethnic and economic categories.

A copy of the report is available at the school or at the newspaper.

ton squares that flower after August 25th will have little chance of producing harvestable bolls unless moisture is received and temperatures increase for the next several weeks.

Bollworm populations have been light in Donley County, but reports from the Brice area indicate some heavy worm pressure. We have had some indications that we do have more budworms in fields this year than normal. Very little difference between bollworms and budworms except budworms are much harder to control (with current pesticides).

Headworms, greenbugs, and midge are present in sorghum fields. Midge can be very damaging to late planted sorghum.

Leaf spot is occurring in some peanut fields and fungicide applications should start if they haven't been initiated by now. Weather has been very favorable for leaf spot development. Generally, 10 to 14 day intervals can be used between applications depending on which fungicide is used. Shorter intervals are necessary when disease pressure is great and weather conditions favor infection.

We still need 600 to 800 more heat units to mature most cotton and peanut fields. That means September temperatures need to be warmer than normal and particularly nighttime temperatures staying above 55 degrees.

Thank You,

I want to express my appreciation for all the hard work and donations that went into the recent campaign to raise funds for the purchase of a video camera and T.V. monitor for the Donley County Precinct #3 & #4 Constable's vehicle. The campaign to purchase this equipment was a project of the Hedley Young Homemakers, and I certainly appreciate this organization's conscientious endeavor to make my job safer and easier, and our community a safer place to live.

The campaign to raise funds began with a dinner prepared by the Hedley Young Homemakers, and they worked very hard to prepare all the delicious food. The community response to the dinner was great, and we appreciate it. The fundraiser continued with donations made in receptacles placed in various business places, and individuals, group and business donations. The final results were that this effort raised more than enough funds from public and private sources to purchase this equipment for the use of the county without any county money being used. I think this speaks very well of the citizens and businesses of this area. I was pleasantly surprised when this drive began, and I was informed of the equipment that was going to be purchased for the use of Donley County Precinct 3 & 4 constable's vehicle. It would be impossible to thank each one of you who helped individually with this project, so I want to take this means to express my appreciation to everyone who had a part in buying this equipment.

Thanks again,
Blackie Johnson,
Constable,
Donley Co. Pct. 3 & 4.

Numbers Mixed

State Comptroller John Sharp released the sales tax tallies for August (July sales) and tried to put the best possible interpretation on the figures for this election year.

John Sharp, the Comptroller, says that the year-to-date figures "show slow, but steady growth across the state."

Statewide, the year-to-date figures are up 4.4 percent over 1991. But they also include new revenues from cities that increased their sales taxes. And the figures are not adjusted for inflation.

Houston showed a 1.2 percent decline, while Dallas and San Antonio were up slightly.

Many small towns in this area have not been helped by the last year however.

Claude boasted a 12.16 percent increase over July sales in '91, but slid down .15 percent YTD. Briscoe County was up 12.31 percent for the month and up 15.42 percent for the year, but the gain was uneven. Quitaque was up 33.5 percent and 46.44 percent—whopping improvements. But Silverton was down 9.46 and 6.75. Carson County sank 3.84 percent in July sales, but edged up 4.47 percent YTD.

Childress figures were not comparable due to a tax rate increase.

Collingsworth County declined 5.44 percent for the month, but maintained a tiny positive margin for the longer period of .07 percent.

Donley County fared better than most. Sales were only off 1.8 percent for the month and were still positive YTD at 3.9.

Clarendon was off by 5.9 percent for the month, but still .81 for the YTD. Hedley did quite well, up an astounding 101.53 percent and up 58.89 percent. Howardwick was down and up, -14.28 and +15.62, respectively.

Gray County slumped 9.19 and 2.59 percent. Hall County's figures were mixed, -13.33 and +16.34. Hardeman (Chillicothe and Quanah) were off 8.80 and off 0.72 percent. Hemphill County, likewise was down on both measures, -24.87 and -13.54. Hutchinson (Borger, Fritch, Sanford and Stinnett) were off 13.72 and -0.72 percent. Jayton posted -39.13 and -7.67.

Motley County lost 20.47 and 6.75 for the two sets. Perryton was also off 5.86 and off 11.79.

Potter County (Amarillo) was up 3.18 and up 4.31, but Randall County (Amarillo, Canyon) was off 5.92 and 2.97.

Wheeler County (Mobeetie, Shamrock, Wheeler) sank 28.69 percent for the month, but was still up 19.83 percent for the longer period.

Many other medium-to-small towns across the state showed similar figures. Statewide, monthly declines in the 30 to 40 percent range were not unusual. Even the Year-to-date figures were mixed, at best.

Fortunately for many merchants, much of the year's spending often comes in autumn and winter. That means every retailer will have to exert maximum effort for the remainder of the year.

QUICK QUIZ

It's our nation's 11th largest city, yet sycamore trees shade its new downtown transit mall and its Municipal Rose Garden is surrounded by green lawns and trees shading tables for quiet picnics. Can you name this historic city? Here are some more clues.

CLUES: Its climate, with some 300 sunny days per year and mild year-round temperatures, is rated eighth best among 333 cities, higher than Honolulu, Miami and Seattle. In terms of quality of life, the city is 29th in the nation among 300 metropolitan areas according to Money Magazine, which rated cities on health costs and availability, cultural arts, leisure activities, crime rate, education, housing and climate. Its early beginnings reflect a cross section of California's colorful past. As the state's first civil settlement under Spanish rule, the city, on the banks of the Guadalupe River, was founded November 29, 1777 when Eastern colonists were just beginning the war for independence. Can you guess this city's name?

ANSWER: It's San Jose, California's third largest city, and one that's currently undergoing a billion dollar renaissance. A colorful brochure on the city's points of interest is available free by writing to: San Jose Convention & Visitors Bureau, P.O. Box 6299, San Jose, CA 95150 or by calling 408-283-8833.

"We don't inherit the land from our ancestors, we only borrow it from our children." Amish proverb.

USED OIL: 240 million gallons a year are poured on the ground and into drains that foul sewer systems, lakes and rivers.

AMSOIL
The Environmental Alternative
Environmentally conscious motorists can reduce the amount of drain oil they personally produce by as much as 70%. AMSOIL recommends extending oil drain intervals (on mechanically sound engines) to 25,000 miles or one year, when using AMSOIL Synthetic Motor Oil.
