Agent Has Cotton Sale Certificates

County Agent H. M. Breedlove said Wednesday that he has received cotton sale certificates, and is out cotton buyers.

Breedlove said that when a producer sells his cotton he should have the buyer execute the sale certificate, and the producer must file it with the county agent within 15 days after the sale is made.

"This does not apply to cotton placed in the government loan. Loan cotton must, however, be sold prior to June 30, 1938 to be eligible for subsidy payment," the county agent added.

COOKING SCHOOL SCORES SUCCESS

ATTENDANTS PARTICIPATE IN 42 PRIZES GIVEN BY NEWS AND MERCHANTS

The three-day motion picture cooking school sponsored by The Clarendon News and participating advertisers, which had its final showing Wednesday morning at the Pastime Theatre, was an outstanding success both from the standpoint of being an instructive course for housewives, and a merchandising event for the merchants who participated.

The News was gratified with the results, in that there was a large attendance each of the three days the cooking school, "The Bride Wakes Up," was shown in Clarendon.

Many new recipes were shown and demonstrated at the school, and the instructive methods of preparing wholesome meals will have a lasting impression on all those who attended.

Several organizations attended the cooking school in groups, including the high school Home Economics classes, the WPA sewing room workers, and several social clubs.

Visitors registered from nearby towns further showing the wide interest created in home management by the Clarendon showing of the cooking picture.

Several merchants cooperated with The News in awarding 11 attendance prizes at the respective stores while manufacturers donated a large number of gifts to be used as daily attendance prizes and were awarded at the theatre at the conclusion of each day's session. The News and cooperating manufacturers awarded 31 attendance prizes.

A printed sheet of the various recipes shown and demonstrated at the cooking school was given to each attendant at the daily sessions.

Miss Dorothy Jo Taylor of Amarillo spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Taylor.

PICKUP EXPECTED IN CHINA BUSINESS

HISTORY IS BEING MADE UNDER OUR EYES SAYS CHINA RESIDENT

Business has suffered naturally, but I am sure it will start picking up real soon," is the comment of K. B. Hill, in writing to his mother, Mrs. Newton C. Smith, about the Sino-Japanese troubles in China.

Mr. Hill is representative of several large American insurance companies in Shanghai, China, where he has been located nearly eight years.

Even though the insurance business generally has suffered from the conflict of the two warring countries, Mr. Hill says that his casualty business is going along just about the same.

It was believed by the China resident that the trouble would have been over by the time his mother received the letter from him, dated Sept. 2 but stated that the trouble was quite exciting and a little worse than that of 1932. He had sent his family to Manila in case there had to be a complete evacuation of Americans.

In his observations of the activities and around the settlement, he said: "It was very interesting to be right on the edge of a real war and watch the different events about which you have been reading. We are being well protected and can easily leave if necessary, which won't happen. History is being made right under our eyes."

SUPT. BURTON ATTENDS FUNERAL OF A BROTHER

Superintendent H. T. Burton and family were called to Decatur Tuesday afternoon on account of the death of his brother, H. D. Burton, 46, who died Monday afternoon from pneumonia following an operation, in the Marine Hospital at Galveston.

Mr. Burton is survived by a wife and two grown sons and a daughter.

Burial took place in Decatur Wednesday afternoon.

Forest Sawyer Loses Finger In Ensilage Grinder

Forrest Sawyer suffered the loss of one finger and severe cuts on three others while he was repairing a feed grinder at a trench silo demonstration at his farm last Thursday afternoon.

During the demonstration Sawyer was repairing a broken part and had his hand in the grinding box. Without knowing Sawyer was working on the box, others started the tractor, the grinder blades almost completely severing the small finger of his left hand, and cutting a deep gash across the knuckles of the other three fingers.

He received emergency treatment at a local physician's office, who held high hopes of saving the three other fingers.

SALE BY DRINK HAS OPPOSITION

Austin—A proposal to legalize sale of hard liquor by the drink met a sharp reverse in the House of Representatives today as the Legislature began the second week of its special "tax session."

A bill which would permit and tax such sales where authorized by local option elections was ordered by a 75 to 43 vote returned to committee for public hearings beginning Wednesday.

Another possible indicator of division on the issue, long one of the most controversial, was the vote of 60 to 64 against killing the motion to recommend. Last week the committee on liquor traffic reported the bill favorably, 10 to 5.

The motion to return the bill was made by Rep. Dallas Blankenship of Dallas, who asserted it was not fair for the House to consider such an important measure without giving the public a hearing.

Mrs. C. W. Galloway Is Injured In Wreck

Mrs. C. W. Galloway was seriously injured in a car wreck near Ft. Sumner, New Mexico, early Saturday morning. Mrs. Galloway was enroute to her home in Hot Springs, New Mexico following a visit with friends in Clarendon.

No details of the wreck were learned but according to information received by her friends here, Mrs. Galloway received serious cuts and bruises and was taken to a hospital in Ft. Sumner.

Wesley Knorpp Supplies Data On Rogers Book

A Clarendon man, Wesley Knorpp, was a valuable source in Harold Keith's "Boys' Life of Will Rogers," published this month by the Thomas Y. Crowell company of New York City.

Knorpp was a classmate of the beloved humorist at old Scarritt College of Neosho, Mo. in 1896 and know him intimately. His memory of Will at Neosho was so good that the author was able to use a great deal of material furnished by Knorpp.

Keith drove to the Texas Panhandle in the summer of 1936 to write down the story of Frank Ewing, of Higgins, where Will Rogers lived off and on for four years after running off from Kemper Military school in 1897, and would have called on Mr. Knorpp personally had he known at that time that the Clarendon banker knew Will Rogers, a fact he didn't find out until later, hence the necessity for gathering the material by correspondence.

Four Kansas Youths Jailed Here Sunday

Four youths who claim to be from Kansas City, Mo., were lodged in the county bastle Sunday night and charged with vagrancy, following an investigation of their suspicious actions around an automobile owned by K. S. Cox.

The father of one of the boys is expected to arrive in the city tomorrow to return the boys to their homes.

LIONS ENDORSE TRAFFIC DRIVE

CITY AND COUNTY OFFICERS TO JOIN IN TRAFFIC LAW ENFORCEMENT

Installation of the traffic stop-and-go light at the blank corner of Kearney Street and the state highway, is the signal for a campaign to bring local traffic up to standard in safety according to the state and city ordinances, and the plan to bring this about was explained to the Lions Club Tuesday when Sheriff Guy Pierce, following a two-weeks' educational campaign through the local newspapers and by local officers, the lid is to be clamped down hard and all traffic violators will be haled into court and fines indiscriminately assessed. The club voted unanimously to back the movement.

Lion Bert Smith spoke in this connection on the serious threat of cotton and other trailers on the highway at night without tail-lights or reflector buttons, and urged that this menace be included in the campaign. Aside from this being a violation of the law, lack of tail-lights is one of the main causes of highway accidents after dark.

Program Chairman Drennan presented a much appreciated program of violin and guitar music and songs by Kenneth Sloan, Lawrence Hickman and Raymond Woods, whose offerings were much applauded by the membership.

By unanimous vote Walter Wilson, former member of the club, was reinstated as a full grown Lion.

Harold A. Chun of Mt. Belvieu, Texas, here visiting his father-in-law, Lion Braswell, was introduced as a guest, and responded briefly.

The football game here Friday evening under the lights between CHS and the Shamrock Irishmen was announced.

Lion W. H. Patrick was in the chair for the day account of the absence of President H. T. Burton called to Decatur by the death of a brother.

CENTENARIAN HAS PICKING RECORD

TAYLOR LOVELACE WORKS UP APPELITE ON DELTA COUNTY JOB

Taylor Lovelace, 99 years old, returned here last week after a month in the harvest fields of Delta County, where he picked cotton for George Newkirk, farmer. Picking the staple instead of pulling it, Lovelace averaged 119 pounds a day.

"Did picking tire you?" the ex-Union soldier was asked.

"Nota lot, but it made me hungry and I slept soundly," was the reply.

Lovelace will be 100 years old March 24. He says he has never missed a meal because of sickness. "The only meals I ever missed are those I postponed during the Civil War and a few others I was unable to get to on time."

Recently a proposal of marriage reached him through the mails. A 77-year-old widow of Wichita Falls was the romantic figure in the correspondence. But Lovelace said he believed a man only loved once and that he had roamed about so much in recent years that he was afraid he would be unable to settle down again. He added also with a twinkle that 22 years difference in ages was not enough.

Although Lovelace draws a government pension he is a thrifty individual and a willing worker.

Kennedy Farm Home Destroyed By Fire

The farm home of Tom Kennedy, located one mile south of Lelia Lake, was destroyed by fire Wednesday of last week.

The home was a total loss, with Mr. Kennedy having a small amount of insurance on the house, but none on the furnishings.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chun of Mt. Belvieu, Texas arrived Monday afternoon for a visit in the Braswell home. Mrs. Chun is the former Miss Clair Marie Braswell, daughter of Editor Braswell of the News.

One group of five calves and 14 singles will be fed by 12 students; five students will feed 12 lambs and 22 students will feed approximately 75 pigs for the spring shows.

With an early start on feeding projects, the spring fat stock show promises to be one of the best ever held, and a lively bit of competition will be observed.

HON. MARVIN JONES

Marvin Jones, Congressman, was notified by the Department of Agriculture this week that his request for a modification of the government cotton loan requirements on staple gradings, had been granted. The new standard of grading will permit all West Texas farmers to participate in government cotton loans, the department said.

DEPARTMENTAL CHANGES IN COTTON LOAN VALUES TO AID FARMERS

Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo, chairman of the House Committee on agriculture, was notified Monday of the success of his plea that government loans on cotton be granted on all West Texas cotton tenderable as to grade and staple.

The department of Agriculture in Washington notified Mr. Jones provisions had been changed to make loans possible on all West Texas and Panhandle cotton.

Loan on the lower grades will be slightly under the nine-cent figure on cotton included in original provisions but the new regulation meets the request of hundreds of West Texas farmers who could not obtain loans on their cotton.

Loans Classified

Loans on the lower grades will be as follows:

Eight and one-half cents a pound on cotton 7-8 inch, strict low middling or equivalent in grade; 7 cents on cotton shorter than 7-8 inch, strict low middling or equivalent in grade; 6 cents on cotton shorter than 7-8, low middling or equivalent in grade.

Mr. Jones explained that these provisions would make all tenderable cotton in Texas eligible for the loans.

At the request of farmers in widely separated sections, Mr. Jones worked out the new provisions and submitted them to the department at Washington with his recommendations. Work of changing the regulations had been going on in Washington more than a week.

The report from Washington came while Mr. Jones was conferring with farmers.

County Agent H. M. Breedlove has received telegrams from agricultural authorities stating that Donley county is included in the portion of West Texas counties affected in the request by Congressman Jones.

As a further part of the government program of accepting loans on different grades of cotton, and following concerted action on the part of several organizations in this part of the Panhandle, A. C. Polton, government cotton classifier from the United States Department of Agriculture, Memphis, Tenn., has been stationed at the Memphis Compress Company at Memphis, and with an assistant has assumed the duties as government cotton classifiers.

The classifiers will pass on the grade and staple of all cotton submitted and will guarantee the class in accordance with regulations of the Commodity Credit Corporation, the federal agency in charge of the loans.

Cotton marketing has been delayed considerably so far this season due to confusions over the loan provisions.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Adams and June of Sunray spent the week-end with friends here.

MUSTANGS TAKE BRONCHOS UNDER

LOCALS FAIL TO SCORE AGAINST 1936 DISTRICT CHAMPIONS

When the Clarendon Broncho eleven under the leadership of G. O. Hubbert, coach, invaded Wheeler last Friday night, they were drubbed 26-0 by the Mustangs, last year's district champions.

Wheeler opened the scoring early in the first quarter when Weeks snapped over from the 23-yard line. The Mustangs scored again in the second and twice in the fourth quarter.

On the last tally, Weeks scored after the Mustangs had recovered a fumble on the Broncho 1-yard line.

THE SKIES CLEAR FOR OUR COTTON CROP

Announcement the first of the week of government loans supporting lower grades of cotton, in response to wide-spread appeals from the Panhandle and West Texas, lifted our section out of the depths of uncertainty and forebodings, and gave assurance of a fair-scaled price for the 1937 cotton crop.

Business has suffered appreciably in the past two weeks account of the laggard settling of details of cotton loans to peg the 1937 price at something like a fair price, with the result that every possible avenue of approach to the powers that be in Washington was choked with clamor from over the Southwest. Many farmers felt that low grades of cotton would hardly be worth gathering and there was threat of thousands of bales being left in the fields to rot.

Now the skies are clearing and under the new rules announced there will be a fairly scaled price for all tenderable grades.

Confidence is restored and business will gain in momentum as West Texas farmers hopefully turn to the gathering of the best all-round crops this Fall that have blessed this section for almost a decade.

A SAD DISPLAY OF HORSEPLAY

Few thoughtful Americans but what sincerely regret the sad display of horseplay, political type, in the Ku Klux controversy raging about Hon. Hugo Black, and his seating on the Supreme Bench.

So far as this writer recalls there is nothing in the constitution which prescribes which if any organizations or societies a citizen may or may not belong to before he is entitled to the rights of any other citizen.

Those who are sore at the President for the appointment of Judge Black to the Supreme Court, have no just reason for complaint. They could hardly expect the President to appoint one not in accord with his policies—it just isn't done that way in politics. Granting that premise, the past affiliations of the appointee have nothing to do with the merits of his seating in a high office.

The Ku Klux Klan, modern type, is dead—deader than the 1866-70 type. Those who seek to use its hood for personal political profits deserve the condemnation of fair minded men all over the nation.

Forget it, Judge Black will likely render just as fair and impartial service as any other hard working member of the nation's Supreme Court.

THE WALLACE PROGRAM

The six-point program for cotton outlined by Henry Wallace, secretary of agriculture, is encouraging in that it recognizes the several difficulties which beset cotton and in that it seeks to provide a continuing, long range course of treatment rather than a temporary palliative.

It takes due note of the need for systematic soil-building methods in the South, of the ills that have been suffered through large yields of low-quality cotton, of the inroads that have been made on the export market and of the

Courts Protect Our Rights

Why does our Constitution make the federal courts independent of Congress and the President.

"The complete independence of the courts of justice," says Alexander Hamilton, "is peculiarly essential in a limited Constitution which contains certain specified exceptions to the legislative law-making authority of Congress; such, for instance, as that it shall pass no bills of attainder for trial without jury, no ex post facto laws [law passed after an act was committed] and the like.

"Limitations of this kind," concludes Hamilton, "can be preserved in practice no other way than through the medium of courts of justice, whose duty it must be to declare all acts contrary to the manifest tenor of the Constitution void.

Without this, all the reservations of particular rights or privileges of the people as specified in our Constitution would amount to nothing." Copyright 1937 by Max Berns great need of a farm program that depends so heavily on a single crop. It takes note, further, of the fact, that the federal government cannot indefinitely continue the policy of subsidization of cotton growing.

In other words, it is an accurate diagnosis of the South's ailments in respect to cotton. As the secretary himself points out, the recommended course of treatment is in between the extremes of unrestricted production on the one hand and strict crop regulation on the other. It will be opposed by those who believe that the way to regain the lost export trade is to produce all the cotton the soil will yield. It will be opposed by those who think that regimentation is the only safe course.

When everything that recommends the program has been set down, however, it is difficult to view it with optimism. The fact that it contemplates keeping the federal government in the role of nurse-maid to the cotton belt cannot be viewed with favor. The fact that it involves sharp changes in the South's farming habits suggests the difficulty of putting it into effect.

The job of making cotton as profitable a crop as it once was is going to be a tedious and painful one. The South might as well face that fact. There is no quick and easy remedy. Mr. Wallace recognizes as much. His program is a sound one, but there is not much comfort in it for the South.—Wichita Falls Daily Times.

OUR CONDOLENCES

The News desires to extend its sincerest condolences to Gene Howe of the Amarillo News-Globe in the loss of his father and mother who died within a few days the past week. Mrs. Howe was buried Sunday, the day Col. Ed Howe died. The mother died in New England where she had made her home with a daughter for many years, while Col. Howe died in his beloved Kansas.

Notable people were these, but the hand of death falls relentlessly in the ranks of the high and low, and on occasions such as this double loss, as friend to friend we express our sympathy to a member of the newspaper fraternity and a citizen of the Panhandle.

TREE PUBLICITY NEEDED

Although the widespread plainlands with their romantic cowboy figures have received more publicity than any other aspect of Texas its wooded areas could well claim their share of the glory. In 1930 the total commercial forest area was 12,624,000 acres, and three state forests in Cherokee, Montgomery and Newton counties added 5,600 more acres. Principal kinds of wood are yellow pine, oak, red gum and tupelo, but with the state forests and laboratories, experts are now making research toward growing new varieties.

GREAT SOAP COMPANY KEEPS STEP WITH RISING WASHER SALES

Discovers way to make famous soap better than ever

Sales reports for last year show that 1,729,135 washing machines were sold—an increase of almost 300,000 over the year before. As more and more washers are being sold the demand for a soap that will give rich, lasting suds and wash clothes whiter and brighter with absolute safety becomes increasingly urgent.

Richer suds

The makers of Rinsol recently announced the perfection of the latest and most important step in the production of the ideal soap for washing machines. After many months of intense research and experimentation the Rinsol Laboratories have discovered a way to make Rinsol better than ever. According to reports from washer owners everywhere, the New Improved Rinsol now gives from 25 to 50% more suds, even in hard water.

LIBRARY NOTES

(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

There has perhaps never been such a volume of biographical writing as at the present time. And present day biographies read like romances. They are no longer like romances, they are no longer a dry summary of facts which one must wade through, instead they make their characters live for the reader. Our Centennial last year accounted for much Texas biography. Many obscure heroes of early Texas history have formed a literary "Cavalcade" which has greatly enriched the literature of our state and may we dare be egotistical enough of our state to say that this has had something to do with the biographical trend elsewhere.

In 1930 Marquis James won the Pulitzer Prize with his biography of Sam Houston in "The Raven". In 1933 he followed this success with "Andrew Jackson: The Border Captain". And now he has just had published the concluding volume of Jackson's life in a brilliant volume devoted to Jackson's stormy career as President. This volume he calls "Andrew Jackson: Portrait of a President". A reviewer says, "It would be next to impossible to write a dull book about Jackson. Whether at the head of an army, in public office, or in private life, the man was a fighter of indomitable spirit, and merely to follow his course from day to day is like reading an engrossing tale of adventure. And his truculence is just the starting point in the list of qualities that made up his flaming personality with his passionate loyalties, his love affairs, his duels, his race horses, his plantations, his bitter enemies, his train of relatives and words, he must inevitably have started a legend." Mr. James gives much time to the personality of Jackson, but he also tells the history of the period, the politics of this stirring period in our history, and the telling of all these things involves much of the lives of other prominent men of the times.

Only a short time ago there appeared another biography of interest, "Henry Clay: Spokesman of the New West," by George R. Pogue. Mr. Pogue had already written "Henry Clay and the Whig Party".

And another book has recently been added to the many about Lincoln—"Lincoln's Rise to Power" by William Boring. It is said that this is a work of academic significance and value and still so written that it will entertain the lay reader.

A new Browning book is attracting much attention in literary circles. This is "Robert Browning and Julia Wedgwood: A Broken Friendship as Revealed by Their Letter". Edited by Richard Curle. The world has thought of the life of Robert Browning and Elizabeth Barrett Browning as being such an ideal married life that his admirers are rather reluctant to think of him as seeking other friendships. But this series of hitherto unpublished letters by Browning and Miss Wedgwood, written between the years of 1863 and 1870 indicate a stronger than friendly feeling. She was the great granddaughter of Josiah Wedgwood of pottery fame, and a niece of Charles Darwin.

Those who heard Joe Hill, Jr. in his lecture on his experience with the second Byrd Expedition to Little America will be very much interested in the fact that he has put these experiences into book form. The title of the book is "In Little America With Byrd". By Joe Hill, Jr. and Ola Davis Hill, with Foreword by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, U. S. N., Retired. It is being published by Ginn and Company, Dallas.

Mr. Hill's collaborator is his mother, Mrs. J. A. Hill of Canyon. It will be remembered that Joe Hill was only 20 years old when he left on this remarkable journey as orderly to Admiral Byrd with 55 other men into this region of ice and penguins. Admiral Byrd pays tribute to him in words of unstinted appreciation. Joe Hill is at present studying mechanical engineering at the University of Texas—will complete his work at Boston Tech.

Hendrick Willem Van Loon recently received the order of Orange of Nassau with the rank of officer from Queen Wilhelmina in recognition of his unusual services to the Netherlands, particularly in the field of literature. Mr. Van Loon has just had published a new type of book for him, "The Arts." He has illustrated the book with his own drawings as he did his "Story of Mankind" and "Van Loon's Geography". His new book is spoken of as a major book of the fall season, and a first printing of 155,000 copies is being made.

Whooping Cough Is Dangerous Disease

"To the very young there is no disease as dangerous as whooping cough," states Dr. Geo W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"In addition, there is no other disease causing an equal amount of suffering of which parents show so much inexplicable disregard, not only for the safety of their own children, but also for that of their neighbor's children.

"There does not exist a natural immunity against whooping cough during the first six months of life as there does for measles. It is at this age that whooping cough strikes its hardest blow, and over fifty per cent deaths occur in children under one year of age.

"Whooping cough is usually transmitted by direct contact with the secretions of the mouth or nose, and only a very short exposure is required to contact the infection. Handkerchiefs, drinking cups and toys may also transmit the infection.

The infection is communicable from the appearance of the first symptoms and is most contagious at this early period when the nature of the affection can only be suspected. The incubation period is commonly seven days. A slight fever, running of the nose, and a cough make their appearance so gradually and insidiously that diagnosis is practically impossible unless a history of exposure is obtained.

"When the whoop appears there is no mistaking the disease. If there is whooping cough in your community, keep other children away from your little children and keep your children at home. Call your family physician early. Isolation of all cases from at least two weeks from the development of the characteristic whoop should be rigidly enforced."

DAIRY COWS ON ROUGHAGE ALONE PRODUCE A PROFIT

Dairy cows in good condition may produce profitably on roughage alone when grains are scarce and expensive without in effects upon the herd reports the Bureau of Dairy Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Sixteen registered Jerseys at the Lewisburg, Tenn., station, allowed only legume hay and pasture, in a year produced more than 60 percent as much milk and butterfat as when on roughage with a full-grain ration.

In similar tests over a longer period, Holsteins also produced above 60 percent as much milk and butterfat when on a roughage ration as when on a full-grain ration. Although averaging from 200 to 300 pounds less in weight, the Jerseys consumed an average of 12 pounds more roughage each month for each 100 pounds of weight.

Both breeds received only best quality hay. All cows were accustomed to a roughage-alone ration before the feeding tests were started.

There is no work as interesting, challenging and inspiring as God's work. Christ was so completely dominated by the alluring task of God's work that he said, "I must work the works of him that sent me. When that spirit obtains in a church life there is no defeat for that church. When that spirit enters the life of a christian he begins to be useful to himself and all those around him. The swing of victory always characterizes the step of a christian who feels that he is engaged in the work of God.
"Who does God's work will get God's pay,
However long may seem the day,
However weary be the way,
Though powers and princes thunder—nay!
No human hand God's hand can stay."

HEAT-CONTROLLED OVENS HELP OFFSET RISING FOOD COSTS

Make Oven Cannery Easier, Surer

"Yes ma'm" says your favorite butcher a little sadly, "beef's gone up another penny today." "Yes ma'm," he agrees sympathetically. "It went up last week, too." Butchers and grocers and buyers all agree that the trend of the times is inclined to be onward for foods.

Just recently Robertshaw, makers of oven-heat-controls, has added what's called a "Thermal Eye." This is a window set in the face of the control panel and the instant the oven reaches the temperature dialed, a red signal jumps into view.

New Flavors From Low-Cost Meats

Time was that the cheaper meats met with a sad reception at mealtime and mother was accused of holding out on a food-loving family. But the blame really belonged to the old fashioned ranges of the day.

Such complete control over the oven temperature as control over advantages, such as control over meat shrinkage. How many times have you placed a big luscious roast in the oven and brought it out considerably smaller in size? That's shrinkage, a great waster of meat.

Controlled Shrinkage Saves Money, Too

Of course, you know how heat control works in the modern ovens, but just in case—here's a quick explanation:

New Accuracy Makes Canning Easier

Perfect control over oven operation has made even canning the accepted modern way to put up foods. The method is much more convenient than the old way and the results give better taste and better appearance.

Two Oklahomans Arrested Here

Two men, Clyde Hilley and Jack Cecil Dew, were arrested by the sheriff's department Wednesday morning on a felony warrant issued at Watonga, Okla.

"With increased supplies and lower prices of feeds along with the present relatively high price of cattle, it is expected that the slaughter of cattle and calves in 1938 will be smaller than in 1937, with most of the decrease occurring in the first half of the year," he says.

Texas Congress of Parent-Teachers Make Contributions to State Welfare

The Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers representing the united, unified effort of all the local organizations is making a great contribution to the welfare of the state, according to Mrs. O. L. Jenkins, president of the Clarendon Parent-Teachers Association.

Mrs. Jenkins says that the achievements of the Texas body in their importance is as follows:

United Effort
Held the first Child Welfare exhibit in Texas.
For the first time in the history of educational movements in Texas it called together eighteen State organizations to discuss conditions affecting child life in the State and to concentrate on fundamental needs.

Was the first organization to inaugurate an educational campaign for birth registration and for the prevention of infantile blindness, and the first to promote an infant mortality survey.

Editor's Corner

This week, October 4th to 8th, is National Fire Prevention Week. In C. H. S. and C. J. C. it is being observed by the writing of student themes in English department, and the organization of a student fire patrol. Fire drill will be held regularly from now on.

Six new Remington typewriters were received by the school this week. These typewriters replace the old ones. This addition will be a great relief to the students who have had trouble with the old machines. It will enable them to gain speed and to be more accurate.

A press Club will be organized by the staff and reporters of the Broncho Range and all other students who are interested in the newspaper Monday, October 11, after school in Miss Headrick's room. Everyone who can write or is interested in writing is urged to attend. Officers will be elected and plans for the year discussed.

COLLEGE STUDENT BODY ORGANIZES FRIDAY

WILL ORGANIZE CURTAIN CLUB

The student body of C. J. C. met Friday, Oct. 1, and organized for this year. The following officers were elected: President, Wesley Powell; Vice-president, Allen Patman; Secretary-Treasurer, Peggy Word; Reporter, Pauline Carlile; Sergeant-at-arms, Howard Strawn.

It was unanimously decided to organize a College Curtain Club for the purpose of producing plays. Nell Cook was elected chairman-director. She appointed an executive committee composed of Allen Patman, Jeanne McDonald, and Fred Wells to help her and they will appoint other committees to work in the club.

The Sophomore class chose these officers for 1937-38: President, Howard Strawn; Vice-president, Pauline Betts; Secretary-Treasurer, Margaret Nell Hillman; Reporter, Pauline Carlile; Sergeant-at-arms, Raymond Wood. The Sophs also selected a committee for Freshman Initiation Week. This committee is: Chairman, Maurice Lane, Dorethea Watson, Helen Risley, Wesley Powell, Allen Patman, and Howard Strawn.

ADD COURSE CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT

Will our school system be changed within the next few years? If so, how? This question is being asked by students, teachers, and parents all over the country. This has become a question of such vital importance that a special course has been added to our school so that we may discuss this problem, and offer our individual opinions as to what may be added to, or subtracted from our schools to improve them. This course is called Curriculum Development.

The purpose of this course is to prepare those students who graduate to step right into a position which is best suited for them, individually, because we know that every person has a talent for some particular thing.

We might think of any number of courses which could be added to our schools to make them more interesting. For instance, someone has suggested that a course of study for character building for children be added. We can find many arguments for this suggestion; however, the affirmative side has the best argument. The negative side argues that character building should be in the home. The affirmatives answer this by simply saying, "Many children have the wrong kind of character building at home. Sometimes, parents are unfit to set the moral standards for their children."

Such things as this are being discussed in our new course of Curriculum Development.

Our school system must be changed, so that we may keep more children interested in school. Too many students withdraw from school at the eighth or ninth grade because they have lost interest, and the idea of school becomes a dreaded thought to them. If new courses can be added which will interest pupils, and at the same time be educational, I believe that we shall have a great many more High School, College, and University Graduates within years to come.

Our present Curriculum will continue to be as it is, unless we start working for a new one. We must be very determined, and we must discuss it among each other. The citizens of this country must want it, as well as students and teachers, but first, they must understand it and know its advantages thoroughly.

S and NS

Howard Strawn announces that as much as he would like to, he cannot accept false credit. He only played on the football team that set a previous record of 81-0 not 71-0, the present record. Just a typographical error, Howard. Mr. Larimer does not think that there is a forecast in his Eco class (anything but that), but that there is a forecast because of the three Woods (Louis, Winston, Raymond). However, the class is turning to a plain since one of the Woods dropped out.

The End
And then there was the beautiful but dumb college co-ed who thought Henry Clay was a new kind of mud facial.

Intricate Math Problem
At last we are going to win a ball game this Friday. How? Very simple.
Wellington beat us 71-0
Wheeler beat us 26-0
45-0

A decline of 45 points between two games in our favor. If a continued improvement takes place and the score from last Friday's game is decreased 45 points, we shall win from Shamrock by 19-0. Why take anything else in consideration? Figures don't lie. (We hope).

The longest word in the English language is osseocarisanguineorisericardilarionervemedullary, a medical term. (I believe that is spelled correctly).

Every year in a questionnaire, college fish are asked why they come to college and there is the usual trite answer—to get an education. One co-ed had a different reason. She wrote, "I came to be with you, but I ain't yet." All my life I have advocated eating four meals a day, and then someone comes along and puts it into practice. Menu for fourth meal—sandwiches.

Happy Birthday

This week's birthday list includes the following:
10th - Phebe Ann Buntin and Pete Morrow,
11th - Lois Scoggins,
12th - Jane Hillman,
16th - Oleta Marshall.

Ethelyn Drennan Is Elected Pep Leader

Jane Kerbow, who was elected pep leader at the first of the year, resigned last week, because of the conflict of her duties as drum major and pep squad leader. At the meeting held by the Senior class, Ethelyn Drennan was elected to fill the position. We were sorry to lose Jane, but we are all boosting for Ethelyn.

The pep squad was unable to go to the Wheeler game last week as it was impossible to get cars. The girls hope to attend the rest of our out-of-town games, however.

The squad is practicing on a stunt this week for the game with Shamrock here on Friday night.

SECOND ASSEMBLY OF YEAR HELD AT SCHOOL FRIDAY

The second assembly of the year was held last Friday the fourth period. It was opened by the singing of several favorite songs. A musical program was then presented. Billie Cooke played a number on the piano. Lawrence Heckman and Kenneth Sloan gave two fiddle and guitar selections, and Raymond Wood, a new student, sang to his own guitar accompaniment. Mr. Drennan and Mr. Burton made several announcements to complete the program.

AGRICULTURE CLASSES SEE SILO DEMONSTRATION

Forty-five members of the vocational agriculture classes visited the trench silo demonstration conducted last Thursday on the Forrest Sawyer farm, north of the city. The group was especially interested in the construction and filling of the silos, that has gained such widespread interest throughout the Panhandle.

Each student studied the size, slope of walls, methods of filling, watering down of silage, and the advantage of trench silos over dry lot stacks, and the old time above-ground silos.

In use during production was the Rekab photophone, considered the most revolutionary improvement since Douglas Shearer's invention of the "push-pull" amplifier. Perfected by M-G-M sound engineers it is a complete miniature public address system installed within the camera's bungalow and features automatic dual control.

It enables the cameraman or director to thrust his head into the bungalow and, eyes sealed to lens, converse with members of the cast or with assistants, to suggest changes in position, lighting, etc. The Rekab photophone was employed for the first time in the making of "The Emperor's Candlesticks" and was pronounced perfect by Director Fitzmaurice and John Sietz, cameraman.

TYPING ROOM CHATTER

This is an article dedicated to the students of the dancing keys and to the honorable instructor, Mr. W. C. Larimer.

A change in the brand of cigarettes of several has been admitted; Camels are the new brand. They steady nerves, Y' know.

Everyone knows Mildred Atterberry; truly a loyal and sweet pal. As an example of her sweetness, I give you this. She looked at good friend Jimmie's typing card and then she showed her stuff by typing sick Jimmie's needed exercises. Ain't that a pal for ya.

When that evening bell rings don't be surprised if you find yourself in the midst of a very chilly blast of breeze. It's just teacher Larimer going home. Very breezy fellow.

Gail Adams learned from a very reliable source that while partaking in a little nap (not at school) he said, "tat tat tat ding a ling".

Junior Swift can really type, so says the man of the hour. And now a few words about the writer of this article. X means an unknown name, or article, so yours truly is taking the name of Mr. X. I like to add a little mystery to everything.

So until next week, this is Mr. X signing thirty.

Why nothing ever happens around here.

Range Rider

After two defeats and one tie the Bronchos are about to enter into a fourth engagement. This fourth encounter will be on more equal ground than the other three. Wellington, Wheeler, and Claude had more experienced teams than Clarendon, but Shamrock has the same number of lettermen as Clarendon. If the Bronchos are developing an inferiority complex, now is the time for them to defeat it. In my opinion the team that fights the harder will be the winner of Friday night's game.

I have not seen Shamrock play, but I have seen the Bronchos play. There is no power in Bronco offensive attack, and power plays constitute the backbone of high football. The passes in this school are merely chance. The passer throws the ball and hopes a Broncho will be near it. There is not a Broncho in the backfield who has the power and drive for a line-plunger. The backfield starts off fast, but when a tackler comes close they all but come to a dead stop.

The lack of Broncho sportmanship was shown last Monday when two regulars quit. Although the Bronchos will be lacking in regular starters, the team will be better off because it will give more experience to the boys who really need it.

Joan Thompson visited in Memphis over the week-end.

Coach Hubbert was in Lubbock during the week-end.

"Emperor's Candlesticks" Coming To Pastime Work of Renowned Writer

"The Emperor's Candlesticks," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer romantic drama, which reunites William Powell and Luise Rainer in their third co-starring picture, comes to the Pastime Theatre Oct. 14-15 as an adaptation of the best-selling novel by Baroness Orczy, author of "The Scarlet Pimpernel" and other distinguished works.

Writing of the book was inspired by the rare and unusual candlesticks said to have been owned by Marie Antoinette, each of which contained a secret compartment in which she is alleged to have hidden secret correspondence from her consort, Louis XVI.

George Fitzmaurice directed the new production which boasts a cast including Robert Young, Maureen O'Sullivan, Frank Morgan and Henry Stephenson, together with twelve more featured players.

LEMON CHIFFON PIE FEATURE IN FAMOUS MOVING PICTURE

BIRTHDAY CAKE SYMBOLIZES MUCH

Cake, gay with candles, adds joy to Natal Day

Every day is a birthday for someone. Perhaps it's a member of the family, or someone within the immediate circle of friends—and, naturally, the home maker who is to bake the birthday cake wants to produce one which is very much more than an "average" cake. Birthday cakes symbolize so much in our modern, hurried life. Father may be rushed with his business; sister or brother may have any number of things engaging their attentions; but a gay birthday cake makes that day seem brighter, draws the family closer together. Just a cake, it's true, but a beautiful cake with lighted candles means much to the person in whose honor it is served.

Perfect Cakes Assured

There is one way, as many home makers have discovered, of assuring cake perfection every time. That is by using Pillsbury's Sno Sheen Cake Flour, in time-honored family recipes or in the recipes printed on the gay blue and yellow Sno Sheen box.

This fine flour is milled from choice, specially selected, soft wheats. Pillsbury knows from long experience in the milling business that these fine, soft wheats are especially adapted to producing tender, velvety-textured cakes.

Every Recipe Proved

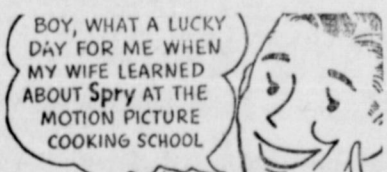

The millers of Sno Sheen go even further than simply milling a fine flour. A complete Cooking Service, directed by Mary Ellis Ames, is maintained, in which new recipes are constantly being developed and proved. It is only when a recipe has been made as nearly failure-proof as possible that it is released to the public.

Thus it is the combination of a fine cake flour, Sno Sheen, which is used exclusively in the Motion Picture Cooking School, and the careful recipe supervision by Mrs. Ames, which assures the housewife of cake perfection either in birthday cakes or in "everyday" cakes.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—Accompanied by a fanfare of oratory and belligerent press statements, emanating from Gov. Allred and Sen. Tom Holbrook of Galveston, leaders of the more tax and anti-tax factions, the legislature laid the groundwork during its first week's session for a memorable tax battle. The house revenue and taxation committee, receiving some 30 tax proposals, sent them to subcommittees. The general plan adopted was to lump most of the revenue proposals into an omnibus bill, which would raise tax rates on natural resources, theatre admissions, public utilities, carbon black and cement of about 45 per cent—sufficient to yield three-fourths of the $15,000,000 demanded by Allred. In addition, including an amended franchise the committee likely will bring out several "single shot" measures tax bill and some method of increasing taxes on oil pipelines.

BATTLE YET TO COME.

As public hearings on this general skeleton plan got under way, it appeared that at least another week will be necessary before a definite line on the real tax battle can be obtained. Stiff opposition is certain to be encountered from many sources that will be penalized under the omnibus bill. The new rate on crude oil would be 4 per cent, and marginal well owners claim many of them will be forced out of business by such a tax. Residents of rural areas and small towns already are registering bitter opposition to proposed increases on gas and power and light companies which serve them. Rates in these rural areas have always been higher than in cities, because of low volume and limited buying power of most of the customers. The legislature has recognized this by exempting gross receipts in town of 2,500 and under from the gross receipts tax, and graduating the tax scale in towns up to 10,000. Under the new bill, this graduation is wiped out. Small town consumers claim their rates will be unjustly increased, and the power companies declare they cannot continue building rural lines to extend service to farmers, if the tax is raised.

SALE BY DRINK PROPOSED.

The house liquor committee favorably reported Rep. Emmett Morse's bill, proposing to legalize sale of mixed alcoholic drinks in establishments whose main business is sale of food. Morse estimates the 10 per cent sales tax provided on such drinks, together with license fees, will yield $2,000,000 a very additional revenue. Sentiment for the measure seems stronger than at any previous time, and several members who have discussed it with Gov. Allred declared they believed he would sign the bill, if passed. It would apply only in the 44 counties which now legalize sale of hard liquor. The governor has been publicly silent about the measure.

SENATE MAY BALK.

Regardless of the house's action on the tax problem, there is sure to be a bitter battle in the senate. The senate investigating committee, headed by Holbrook, put itself in position to force Allred to permit action on reducing appropriations, when it reduced the appropriation bill to pay for the special session from $100,000 to $50,000. This may necessitate a supplemental per diem bill later and the plan is to attach to it amendments to reduce departmental appropriations, thus getting around Allred's refusal to submit economy to the session. The senate bitter-enders will fight to prevent any additional taxes whatever, and there is such a close division of strength in the upper house that the last week of the session will doubtless be the earliest date anybody actually knows how the battle is going.

OIL IN LIMELIGHT.

Federal control and federal taxation of the oil industry, always of paramount interest to Texas, with half the country's oil reserves within her borders, flared into the limelight again this week. At Kansas City, Col. Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Texas railroad commission and chairman of the interstate compact commission, told members of the American Bar association that the compact method has proved its efficacy in regulating the industry, and conserving the oil resources. Congress recently extended the life of the oil states compact two years, on Thompson's urging. The compact, operating as it does thru representatives of sovthe corresponding period last year. "It appears significant that while sales in the lowest and highest price groups decreased moderately from August last year, sales in the two immediate price groups increased sharply," the Bureau's analysis said.

Annual Flowers Make Best Bouquets

A Generous Planting of Annuals.

The small gardener who has an oversupply of cutting material in his flower bed is a rarity. This is one instance, at least, where the old adage, "Your mouth is bigger than your stomach," does not apply, for most people plant too few flowers for cutting purposes, and although they swear each fall that next year they will plant twice as many, when the time actually comes they haven't enough. Annuals are way out and above the other flowers for this purpose. For brilliancy of color, variety, ease of culture and certainty, they are unrivaled. Besides this they have a season beginning on July 1 which lasts until the frosts. Their use applies to every garden, and especially to the renter who does not care to put in an expensive display, but who wishes his full measure of summer blossoms during the season at hand. A few sure-fire growers: Sweet alyssum and ageratum as edging plants, calendulas, excholtzias or California poppies, marigolds, nasturtiums, annual galliardias, petunias, scabiosa. If seed are kept picked, salvias, ten-weeks' stock, verbenas and zinnias. Any of these may be planted in beds, or the border. They show up well in a single color, mixed or in a selected variety of color. If sown around the first of May, you will have blooms by the first of the following month, which will increase as the season progresses.

21,259 Clients Get 1937 FSA Loans

Coincident with the creation of the Farm Security Administration through the re-naming of the Resettlement Administration, officials of Region Twelve of the federal agencies comprising New Mexico and parts of Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado and Kansas, recently released figures showing the progress of the rural rehabilitation program to July 31, 1937. Since the inception of the rural program in Region Twelve up to July 31, 1937, cooperative and rural rehabilitation loans have been made to 21,259 clients. The total amount loaned to individuals in Region Twelve is $8,053,892.32. This does not include corporation funds and is divided among the various states as follows: Colorado, $1,566,950.41; Kansas, $658,020.22; Oklahoma, $420,958.58; New Mexico, $2,392,707.91; Oklahoma, $420,958.02; Texas, $1,967,165.51. Rural rehabilitation loans have been made on the basis of a one to five year repayment plan, depending on the nature of the loan. Of the amount loaned $4,271,430.02 has matured. Because of the drought in many cases farmers have not been able to meet maturity. In many cases to prevent hardships and to permit the farmer to finance himself and continue operations forbearances have been granted. It is expected that delinquencies which foreign states who are responsive to the people of the states, is responsive to public opinion. It is the anthesis of federal control, acknowledging no dictatorship and insuring against decree government and fiat-directed economy. It represents the choice between arbitration and conciliation, on one side, and the harsh decrees from a centralized dictatorship on the other. Meanwhile, several members of the legislature voiced fear that the federal government may soon seek to tax crude oil for federal revenue. Both Gov. Allred and Sen. Joe Hill expressed uneasiness, while Sen. Claude Westfield of Dallas, wrote President Roosevelt, urging him to recommend a federal tax, because he thought the state tax is not high enough.

LIQUOR BOARD IN BALANCE.

Public discussion of the desirability of abolishing the state liquor control board, turning the tax collecting function over to the comptroller, and leaving enforcement to local officers, has brought on a storm of argument. Opponents of the board point to the $1,000,000 a year it costs to operate it, and claim the money should go into the treasury. Drys, however, contend the liquor industry should pay for enforcement thru taxes, and these taxes are not intended as general revenue. They assert tax collections would drop substantially under any other system, encouraging bootlegging, tax evasions and other evils, while liquor law enforcement would be a joke, with 250 different kinds of enforcement being carried out by as many county officials. As a dry, Gov. Allred would be expected to veto any measure to repeal the act creating the commission, which was set up under his administration and furnishes one of the richest sources of patronage for the governor's office.

MEMPHIS WINNER IN DOPE UPSET

WELLINGTON, WHEELER AND McLEAN ALSO SCORE VICTORIES FRIDAY

According to football observers, both the Wheeler and Clarendon teams lacked polish in their Friday night battle on the Wheeler gridiron but the Mustangs nosed the Bronchos out 26 to 0.

The big, bruising McLean Tigers came through their first conference encounter of the season with a 39 to 6 win over the Mobeetie Hornets in McLean Friday night. The Shamrock Irishmen retained their standing in the dis-

LEGISLATIVE BODY DEMANDS CLASSER

LEGISLATIVE BODY SENDS RESOLUTION TO SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE

"The practical operating effect of the plan of using a graduated system of cotton loans based upon the supposed grade and staple of each bale of cotton is such that unless the local compresses or warehouse companies are ready and willing to unquestionably guarantee the grade and staple of each bale of cotton brought by the farmer the farmer cannot obtain any loan whatever, unless he sends samples to the office of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics located at one or two central points in Texas, which procedure is slow, costly, and tedious by keeping off the battle front.

Although the Irishmen are leading the conference with a percentage of 1000 on two games, they are expected to run into a tough bunch when they meet the Bronchos on the local field tomorrow night.

The strong contenders, leading the conference also with Wellington, Memphis and McLean, will be fighting to retain their standing, and to keep the Clarendon eleven on the bottom with Lakeview and Mobeetie.

dious, and highly unsatisfactory and impractical," was the wording, in part, of a resolution passed by the Texas Legislature last week and included in a telegram to Secretary of Agriculture, Henry A. Wallace.

The legislature, in their resolution urged the Secretary of Agriculture to place at all necessary and strategic points in the state qualified and licensed government cotton classers, to guarantee the grades of cotton so that farmers will be able to obtain the proper cotton loans.

The resolution further stated that, "compresses and warehouse companies have no interest in the ownership of the bale of cotton, and having no interest in the profit or loss in connection with the loan of same, naturally, from a self interest standpoint instructs its employees to be very conservative in grading and stapling each bale stored within for loan purposes. As a result of this conservative policy in grading and stapling, the farmer, in many instances, soon discovers that his cotton may be classed and graded either one or two grades below its possible best grade, and therefore in some instances, has been barred from obtaining any kind of loan whatever, and in other instances is forced to accept a loan at a much lower figure than the intrinsic value his cotton justifies."

Authors of the resolution are Worley, Cathey, Oliver, Ragsdale, Moffett, Alexander, Fuchs of Williamson county, Herzik, and Harris of Archer county.

DONLEY RANGES IN FINE SHAPE

CATTLE TRADING IS BRISK AS LITTLE WINTER FEEDING EXPECTED

"Cattle are in fine flesh; grass is growing and feed crops are fine," Allen Jefferies, rancher, said in commenting on range conditions in this part of the Panhandle.

The bumper feed crop has brought assurance to stock farmers and trench silos are being packed with cut silage for feeding this winter.

Floyd Howard, foreman of the M. T. Howard ranch, said little winter feeding would be necessary in Broseco county.

Trading is brisk in the county, and recent sales include 3,500 mixed calves and 1,000 mixed yearlings sold by W. J. Lewis to J. L. Bivins, Amarillo. Seventy-two two-year-olds sold to Bob Vermillion and 330 heifer yearlings delivered to Morris-Barrick company of Amarillo were also Lewis cattle. J. L. McMurtry sold 138 two's to Tinsley Bros. of Aledo.

The JA Ranch sold 900 yearlings to Lewis & Chamberlain, and will deliver them at Ashtola the latter part of this week or the first part of next week.

These Are "The Berries" Today

Some people are of the opinion that the strawberry, served with shortcake, a little sugar and cream, represents a standard of dessert perfection that is hard to beat. Strange as it may seem, there are only two commercial varieties that are widely grown in the South to supply the demand for this popular fruit. This is, indeed, a deplorable situation and something is being done about it by Mr. E. Mortensen, superintendent of our Winter Garden substation. He has developed, in the course of a rather extensive breeding program, a number of very promising new varieties. But this story will have to wait for further tests on the new material before it can be told. Today we want to tell you about the kinds of strawberries now available and how they behave as tested by Mr. Mortensen under conditions in Southwest Texas.

In most producing regions a patch of strawberries remains productive for several years. In contrast to this, strawberries are handled as an annual crop in South Texas. Because of the difficulty of over-summering the plants, the ability of a variety to produce new runner plants is an important consideration. Varieties that are good plant producers, such as Aroma, Klondike, and Missionary can be greatly encouraged in this respect by frequent irrigation. This practice supplies soil moisture when deficient and reduces the temperature of the soil.

Varieties differ markedly in their ability to withstand summer heat. Missionary, Aroma, Blakemore, and Thompson are satisfactory in this respect. Resistance to cold seems to be due, in part, to how well the leaves protect the blossoms from frost. This depends, in turn, on length of flowering stalks and on the amount and size of the foliage. In 1933, following a minimum temperature of 180 F., it was noted that Klondike and Thompson recovered their fruit production more rapidly than did Missionary.

Earliness is an important factor in commercial production; especially during a mild season. Excelsior and Missionary are among the earliest. Blakemore, Texas, Thompson, and Dunlap may also be considered early.

Few varieties outyield Missionary during the commercial harvest period. Klondike, Thompson, and a West Coast strawberry received under the name of "Banner" have consistently borne well.

Strawberries must stand shipping if they are to be grown commercially. Varieties that ship well include Klondike, Blakemore, Missionary, Aroma, and "Banner." Klondike and Blakemore have been found to hold their color after picking better than Missionary, which tends to darken. Even coloring of the fruit adds greatly to the attractiveness of a pack. Excelsior, Blakemore, Dorsett, Klondike, and Narcissa color evenly—that is over the entire fruit.

Only a portion of the strawberry varieties under test will be discussed, but these are the berries of greatest interest:

Aroma is a medium sized plant that produces a reasonable number of new runner plants. The fruit is light red with a fair to good flavor and stands shipping well. Yields are fair.
