Watterson Snubbed.

Henry Watterson got a dose of Wall street that he did not at all relish. He says that he and Clark Howell of the Atlanta Constitution were not treated with even ordinary courtesy by the democratic gold standard papers of New York at the recent meeting of the editors of that city. Those papers refused to print the speeches of Watterson and Howell. Watterson has been cuddling up to Wall street for several years, doing all the dirty work in the south for plutocracy that was demanded of him and now he finds that he is going to the same fate that Benedict Arnold did. After enumerating all the discourtesies that were heaped upon him, he concludes that "these things make us feel in the west and south—particularly in the south—that we are blacklisted in New York, that there is some sectional ban against us, that, personally, politically and professionally, we bear the bar sinister even in the house of our newspaper kindred."

We are sorry for Henry because he takes the matter so to heart. He ought to do as the editor of The Independent does when he goes down to Wall street. He snaps his finger at the whole gang, tells them they are the worst thieves of all God's ages, then on the side gives them a little instruction in the science of banking, or how to keep order, and points out to them the fate that is in store for them. They always listen with the greatest interest, after which the bankers generally ask for a further conversation or offer to take him out automobile riding. He has found out that neither the lords or dukes of England, or the pirates of Wall street have any respect for a sycophant. If a man wants to be treated with respect in Wall street, instead of being obsequious he must make it plain that he is ready to fight for his money and his opinions.—Neb. Independent.

Sir William Harcourt Dead.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Sir William Vernon Harcourt, "the finest political gladiator of his age," died very suddenly today at Nuneham Park, near Oxford, the country seat which he recently erected for his nephew. Only his wife, a daughter of the late John Lothrop Motley, the historian, and former American Minister to Great Britain, was with him.

Do you see the cat? She sits there, and will lick her paws and wash herself clean. I see that, said the other. Well, said the first speaker, did you ever hear of one of the hogs taken out of the sty that did so? No, said he. But he could if he liked, said the other. Ah! verily he could if he liked; but it is not according to his nature, and you never saw such a thing done, and until you have changed the swine's nature, he cannot perform such a good action, and God's word says the same of man.—Spurgeon.

The science of theology can never satisfy the soul's need of God.—Ram's Horn.

Children of Divorcees Go To The Devil.

Divorce is at the root of the greater part of juvenile crime and truancy, according to the superintendent of Chicago's compulsory education system. He figures that there are about 35,000 divorced people, of both sexes, in Chicago, and that there are nearly 40,000 children of divorced parents there. Investigations have convinced him that the majority of the boys and girls committed to various corrective institutions come from among these 40,000. The official says that he finds the children lose respect for their parents, and so are ripe to go to the devil when separations come.—Dallas News.

Rather an unusual accident happened at the Kansas City market Wednesday to a bunch of steers that were being marketed by Al Popham of Amarillo. The cattle had just been sold and were being driven up the viaduct to be weighed. After passing the last gate on the viaduct where the government inspectors are stationed, these officials detected a lumpy jaw in the herd and cut him back. As is customary in such cases, the gate was closed behind the cattle after they passed in. As soon as the steers reached the scale door they turned back and stamped, and before the inspectors could open the big gate they crowded upon each other until ten good steers were crushed to death and many others mangled and crippled. The steers averaged 975 pounds, and had just been sold for $3.26, which at a fair estimate will place the total loss at about $500.—Quannah Tribune.

How is it that the railroad commission has fixed the rate on rice from Beaumont to Dallas in carload lots at 58c per 100 pounds, while it is carried from Beaumont by Dallas to Kansas City for 40c per 100 pounds, and to Buffalo, N. Y., for 39c. The rate on flour from Kansas City to New Orleans is 26c per 100 pounds, while to Beaumont it is 43 1-2c per 100 pounds. On lumber from Beaumont to Brownsville, Texas (491 miles) the charge is $128 per car, while to El Paso (more than 1000 miles) it is only $100 per car. Surely there is something wrong somewhere. Think of this when you cast your vote for the legislative candidate and vote for one who will promise to find this wrong.—Mercury.

"Tired of being in the minority," is the reason given by U. S. Senator Daniel of Virginia, for surrendering to the Cleveland, Belmont, Wall street, Rothschilds element at the Democratic national convention. Well, it is probable all Wall street was after this time was to commit the Democratic party to the gold standard and against all reform. True they are contributing large sums to the campaign fund, but this is wise from a Wall street standpoint, because it ties the hands of all the orators who go on the stump under the pay of the Democratic national committee. With Bryanism stamped out in the Democratic party, they thought all organized opposition to monopoly rule would be wiped out. They thought the People's party could not revive, thought it was dead, not asleep.—Me. World.

There is a wonderful revival of the sheep growing industry in Texas at this time, growing out of the good prices that have prevailed all the year for wool and mutton. If the movement continues as it has started out, the sheep and wool production will be again.—Telegram.

Montana is said to have a forest more remarkable than the petrified trees in Arizona. Arizona has trees of agate—Montana has trees of opal. These are the only opalized trees in the world yet discovered.

There are sixty Japanese employed in the repair shops at the navy yard at Cavite, Philippine islands. They get $1.50 a day. Every one of them sends fifty cents each day to the Japanese treasurer at home to help pay the expenses of the war. That is a kind of patriotism not known in any other nation in the world.—Ex.

The Japanese armies around Liao Yang are reported to be decimated by epidemics, due to decaying corpses. The Japs are said to have dammed the Liao River above Liao Yang, flooding the country, in order to protect their left flank.

Geo. S. Bailey, charged with killing S. P. Brown last year over the townsite fight between Mountain Park and Snyder, was acquitted last week.

The Denver Forum, in describing Bryan's speech in that city, says: "His blows lacked steam and grand rush of oratory there," and it is of Bryan's friends meeting, and he was about by Cleveland while in the city of respectable people to see him."—Ex.

Trust in order to strike rushed into the hundreds of criminals to take the strikers' places, and when the fight was over, set them loose in the streets of Chicago. The result is that during the month of September there were three murders, fourteen persons wounded by hold-up men, seventy four robbed by highwaymen and twenty-five burglaries committed in that city. That is simply one of the things that the people must endure if they insist on having a meat trust, or a system inaugurated by Parry. Whenever these strike breakers have been used the same results have followed.—Independent.

Frank Payne was badly crushed in the loss of a gin at Lone Wolf, Oklahoma, Thursday.

Tom Watson, in his speech at Nashville, Tenn., accomplished a feat that has never been excelled by any orator. That was a speech to southern men principally upon the negro question which was received with a round after round of cheers, and there was not a sentence in it that was in the slightest degree offensive to any northern man.—Jeffersonian Democrat.

All boodlers are geniuses and sleek rascals. They are hard to catch, and hard to handle. They ignore the law of the people, yet wish to be regarded as honorable gentlemen.—Money.

Near Watson, Saturday the infant son of Bahr, living near Watonga, was killed by a pitchfork from the attic, the tines penetrating the child's brain. The fork was used by other children, who were playing.

THE frequency in which the round bale gins in Texas are being attached in Texas indicates that one attempted monopoly is getting it in the neck, anyhow.

TEXAS products will open the eyes of the World's Fair visitors this year. In Grayson county, Henry Christholm, with whom the editor of this paper is acquainted, raised a fine crop of potatoes on a piece of land, the proceeds of which amounted to $72 per acre. He then planted the same land in cotton, which will turn out a bale to the acre. As cotton will average $50 a bale, it is seen that Mr. Christholm's land will give him $122 an acre this season.

About the only thing to be gained by reading old party politics is the amusement their argument furnishes. Neither can show anything commendable in itself, but can only tell how bad the other is. The following from the Ft. Worth Telegram is a fair illustration: "Governor Durbin of Indiana says the democrats have already sent the sum of $400,000 into that state to 'corrupt us republicans.' The action of Governor Durbin in continuing to harbor Taylor, the murderer of Governor Goebel of Kentucky, shows that 'us republicans' are not incorruptible."

An exchange says the Agricultural department has discovered a small turkey of Guatemala that destroys the boll weevil, and suggests that when it eats all the weevils you can then eat the turkey. The odds are in favor of the turkey.

The interference between Russia and Japan is that the czar is now just getting into his fighting clothes, while the mikado is almost at the end of his resources.—Telegram.

This has been talked for some time, but the results, so far, indicate that the Japs pretty well figured out the cost and duration of the war to begin with.

Since the last democratic administration the cost of living has grevously increased. Those having fixed incomes have suffered keenly.—Judge Parker's Letter of Acceptance.

There you are. The cat is out of the bag. The farmer must take less for his products, because the bondholder, whose income is fixed, "has suffered keenly" from the increased cost of living. How were prices of farm products raised? By increase in the money volume. How can they be lowered? By decrease in the money volume. Parker is a second Cleveland. Cleveland wanted to retire the greenbacks. His secretary of the treasury, Carlisle, hinted at calling in the silver dollars, melting them down and selling the silver at auction. Is Mr. Carlisle to be Parker's secretary of the treasury? Possibly. Probably. He would be just the man to relieve the bondholder of the increased cost of living. Destroy the greenbacks and take the silver out of circulation and the cost of living would decrease, and the poor bondholder would be relieved. 2 1/2 cent hogs and steers, 5 cent cotton, 15 cent corn and 40 cent wheat would relieve the bondholder, but it would not the laborer, for the laborer would be a tramp without money to buy anything. The cost of living was low in the 'seventies, but the laborer has never seen the time in the last forty years when he had less to live on than he had then.—Mo. World.

That our readers' comparison of assessed value of the county, the valuation for 1904, $27,021,850, and of $2,506,630 in the last year, values of different kinds of property are put as follows:

Farm lands, 552,825 acres, valuation $5,913,220, or a little more than $10 an acre.

Horses and mules, number, 15,576, value $515,500, or about $30 per head.

Cattle, 27,042 head, value $254,960, or less than $10 per head.

Floods of rain in New Mexico and southern Colorado has done immense damage. In New Mexico, Half the town of Watrous was destroyed by the flood and at least twelve persons were drowned. Among these were the three children of J. A. Stephens; Felix Villa, his wife, two sisters and several children and O. F. Porter. Stevens and his wife escaped. The greatest damage was around the junction of Mora and Sapelloire creeks. The rocks crushed the great iron bridge and much track at Watrous was washed away. The Gallinas River formed a new channel. The Montezuma Hot Springs track went out in many places. Half a dozen bridges were destroyed and the Montezuma bathhouses were partly carried away. From Santa Rosa comes a report of the loss of a great iron bridge of the Rock Island and much track. The damage near Albuquerque is immense, and all the bridges near Trinidad, Col., are washed away. One hotel in Trinidad was wrecked.
