4-H Club Boys Will Produce More Meat

According to county agent H. M. Breedlove of the Texas A&M College Extension Service in Donley county, 4-H club boys are going to produce a great deal of pork and beef for the war effort in 1942.

"We have now over 165 pigs that are being weaned," the county agent stated, "and we expect to market these pigs this fall. We have on feed at the present time 10 beef calves and by the end of next week we expect to have around twenty five on feed."

The 4-H Club boys are producing beef and pork for the boys in the armed forces. The boys believe that if they put all of their efforts to producing food stuffs for the armed forces that it will help the boys in the forces to make better fighting men.

4-H Clubs in the state of Texas are devoting nearly all of their attention to those kinds of meats and materials that are needed most by the war department in the planning of their projects.

CLARENDON ARTIST ILLUSTRATES BIT OF TEXAS HISTORY

Harold Bugbee, Clarendon's own artist of nation-wide reputation, illustrates an exciting bit of Texas history told by the historian J. Frank Dobie in the first July number of Ranch Romances magazine.

"The Story Under the Grasses" tells of the founding of one of the oldest ranches near Beeville and of the staggering hardships met by the founder. Mr. Bugbee's drawings are decorative and authentic and the article should attract all lovers of Texas history and folklore. It may be found in the issue of Ranch Romances on sale at news stands from June 5th to the 18th.

Donley Gardens Best Ever

This is the biggest year in the past ten years for gardens says county agent H. M. Breedlove. The big drive over the nation for "Victory Gardens" has certainly been a success for Donley county farmers and town people. There are more gardens this year than many of the old timers say that they have ever seen before. This is due to the big live at home program, the advance in price of food and the need for food for the armed forces.

There will be a lot of canning in the homes this year of vegetable and fruit even if there is a shortage of sugar. People are going to put up all of the food that they possibly can and make the cellar a place to get the food instead of having to go to the store.

Spring and fall gardens in this county will help a lot of people to hold down the expense of living and to also send more food to the boys in the armed forces.

BRAY WILL BE HOST TO CANDIDATE RALLY

A candidate rally will be held at the Bray school house, Friday, June 12th, beginning at 8:30 p.m. A box supper will be held in connection with the rally, and a grand time is promised all those who attend.

There are some excellent cooks in the Bray community, so don't miss the good eats, and at the same time hear what the candidates have to say.

'Hopper Threat Not Acute

County agent H. M. Breedlove announced this morning that reports were coming from farmers over the county that the grasshoppers were beginning to hatch out in various parts of the county. The infestation has not become serious yet but with favorable conditions it might become a menace to the farmers.

"We are prepared to fight any outbreak that might occur," Breedlove said. "We have plenty of bran and poison on hand and any person wanting to get this poison can do so by calling at my office," he added.

"If the infestation gets bad enough," he further states, "we will have a poison plant at Hedley and Clarendon, but until the infestation gets bad we will only distribute the poison at Clarendon where the poison is stored. The farmers will mix the poison themselves as we can not get the labor and want to hold down the expense of the mixing plant. The best time to poison the hoppers is when they are small."

The boar was purchased from Don Rives of Shamrock, where the Shamrock club boys had used him for a period of approximately one year. The boar sired the grand champion litter of the 1941 Tri-State Fair at Amarillo, and many of the top placing barrows in both the Amarillo Fair and Fat Stock Show.

The boar was bred and raised by C. H. Woods, Amarillo Spotted Poland China Breeder, who has one of the most outstanding herds of registered spots in the entire Southwest.

Earl Hay, Haskell's son, purchased an outstanding spotted Poland gilt from a Custer county, Oklahoma Club youth last fall.

SHELBY C. BELL PROMOTED

Shelby C. Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bell stationed at Lubbock with the air school there, has been advanced from private to 1st Sergeant of the ground crew in Technical Inspection of the planes. He earned this promotion in little less than five months.

Robert Dunn Advanced

Robert B. Dunn, son of Mr. Milton Dunn of Route 1, Ashtola, Texas, was recently advanced to the rating of Aviation Machinist's Mate third class at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., according to an announcement made by the public relations office of that station.

Dunn enlisted in the Navy in January, 1941, at the Recruiting Station in Wichita Falls, Texas, and was sent to the Naval Training Station, San Diego, Cal., for his preliminary training. In March he was transferred to the Naval Air Station, also at San Diego, and in August to Pensacola.

He was attached to the ground crew of one of the flying squadrons at "The Annapolis of the Air." His latest promotion gives him a petty officer rating with a considerable increase in pay.

Dunn is one of the many men in the Navy today who have voluntarily joined their country's fighting forces to serve wherever they may be needed. At the same time they have the opportunity to learn established trades that will be profitable when they return to Hereford.

A check later on revealed that 15 head of horses had been blown off the caprock and killed. Several homes in the Wallace community were damaged, and a few persons were slightly injured. There were several reports of death to cattle. Heavy rain and hail accompanied the storm.

Last Rites Held For W. T. Lowe

Funeral services for W. T. Lowe, who passed away Sunday morning, May 31st, were held at the First Baptist Church by Rev. E. L. Moody, Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Mr. Lowe, who was 80 years old, had been in failing health for some time. He came to Donley county in September of 1919, and engaged in farming south of Clarendon the most of the 23 years that he had lived here.

Born in Ochata, Ark. in 1862, Mr. Lowe was left an orphan at a very tender age. His father was killed in action during the Civil War and was never heard from. His mother died soon afterward, leaving him to face the world while just a baby. He came to Texas in 1892, making his home in Erath county until 1919. He married Miss Annie Langley in 1882. To this union were born eleven children, nine of whom are still living.

While in early life, Mr. Lowe joined the Baptist church, and had remained a devoted christian throughout his long life. During his life time, at different places, he had served the Baptist church as deacon more than fifty years. While living in Erath county he served as county commissioner five terms.

Mr. Lowe lived a long and useful life, and the path that he trod was strewn with roses of love, friendship and devotion. He raised a large family, and he lived to see them take their places in the world as men and women, respected and loved by all who knew them. Mr. Lowe's friends were legion, and as he lived from day to day, he spread a path of sunshine that will long remain in the hearts of those who knew him best. The indelible marks of righteousness that he left behind will nourish and enrich the lives of those whose memory holds him dear. He did not reach the height of fame, nor crowned with kingly riches, but he did leave behind a priceless humble prayer—and then immortality.

Survivors include his wife and nine children. The daughters are Mrs. J. D. Farrar of Melrose, N. Mex.; Mrs. W. O. Bower of Port Arthur; Mrs. Hubert Brown of Clayton, N. Mex.; Mrs. T. D. Thomason of Van Nuys, Calif.; Mrs. Roy Broadway of Wichita Falls. The sons are Sam and Walter Lowe of Clarendon; Jesse Lowe of Texarkana, Ark.; Fred Lowe of New Orleans, La. Also 23 grand children and 13 great grandchildren. All of his children were present for the funeral except Mrs. Thomason and Jesse Lowe.

Funeral services were held by Van Kennedy, Neal Bogard, Nolie Simmons, O. C. Watson, Kirk Doshier.

Flower girls were Mrs. Haskell Hay, Mrs. Nolie Simmons, Mrs. Bill Brumley, Mrs. Bob Head, Mrs. Carl Peabody, Mrs. Donald Ballew.

Buntin Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements. Interment was in Citizens Cemetery.

VISIT PATMAN'S

Tornado Strikes Near Silverton

George W. Jones, his wife and small son, who live near Silverton, managed to dodge a tornado last Friday afternoon but their car made a bad landing.

Seeing the "funnel-shaped" cloud, they hopped into their car and drove at high speed, with no thought of the tires, to a nearby canyon. They stopped the car and crawled into a cave.

Within a short time the tornado hit. The car went sailing off the caprock and was demolished. The Jones family walked home.

A check later on revealed that 15 head of horses had been blown off the caprock and killed. Several homes in the Wallace community were damaged, and a few persons were slightly injured. There were several reports of death to cattle. Heavy rain and hail accompanied the storm.

FOXWORTH-GALBRAITH HAS NEW MANAGER

J. K. Morton, who managed the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co. at Lelia Lake from the time the yard was started there, about 1917, until it was closed on account of war condition in 1941, has been appointed local manager for this same concern here, succeeding Tommy Harris, who will resign his position to join Uncle Sam's army within the next few days.

Mr. Morton has many friends in these parts who welcome him and his fine wife to Clarendon, where he states they hope to make their home later.

USO Drive Going Slow

In last week's issue of the Leader, Buddy Knorrp, chairman of the USO for Donley County, promised the publication of a letter from someone in the service, regarding the benefits of the USO fund. The following letter is from Joseph Marvin Warren, stationed at Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyoming to Mr. Knorrp.

Dear Buddy: You may be surprised to receive this letter, but I saw the article in the Leader about the USO in Clarendon and thought perhaps I would tell you about the USO at this post.

The Number 1 club on this post is a very large building, has plenty of tables, chairs, paper and envelopes for the use of soldiers, also there is a large library and reading room just off the balcony; also tables and chairs on the balcony. Most every table is filled during the time the club is open. There is a Cafeteria just off the writing room where one can get sandwiches, soft drinks, ice cream, cigarettes and candy. Beer and whiskey are not sold in the club. The tables are folding card tables and can be removed from the center of the room for dancing.

Monday nights there is usually some kind of entertainment. There is a piano and loud speaker system here that can be used for the entertainment. Also there is an information booth where one can have friends paged over the loud speaker. Stamps and information are available too. I think this is a wonderful organization as it helps a lot of boys find something to do and it is a good place to loaf, write and meet friends. You may use all or any part of this letter in any way you see fit, if it will help the cause.

I enjoy the home town paper each week and hope to read of your organization reaching or even passing your goal.

Yours very truly, Joseph Marvin Warren.

"Everyone can get a better picture of the USO through this letter, and see where their donations are going. Let's put this drive over in a big way," Mr. Knorrp stated today.

LOCAL LIONS WILL GO TO HEDLEY TONIGHT

Approximately twenty-five local Lions and their wives will journey to Hedley tonight for the Charter and Ladies night of the Hedley club. For the third consecutive year, the Clarendon Future Farmer Chapter has won top honors in the State F.F.A. Swine Production and Improvement Contest sponsored by the Texas Swine Breeders' Association for the 692 F.F.A. Chapters in the state. Permanent possession of a large silver plaque presented by the swine breeders' group was given to the local chapter for their third straight victory in the swine production work. The local chapter was not eligible to compete for the $100 cash premium this year as a result of having won this award the past two years.

The forty-five members of the local youth owned seventy-four registered Hampshire, berkshire, Poland China, Spotted Poland China, Duroc and Chester White gilts and sows during the year and produced a total of 1216 live pigs. 612 of these pigs were fed to a top market weight to produce 151,000 pounds of pork. In addition to the registered sows owned by individual members, the chapter as a group bought and brought into the community for use of members and patrons six outstanding registered boars of the various breeds.

Homegrown rations composed of ground and whole milo and kaffir, cottonseed meal, tankage, ground alfalfa, limestone, and salt were fed both the fattening and breeding animals. Over 760,000 pounds of milo and kaffir alone were fed by the youths in producing their pigs and pork. Self-feeders were used by each of the members, and temporary pastures of sudan, rye, or wheat were provided for their projects.

The Clarendon youths won $2,124 cash premiums on their fat barrows at two local shows, the Amarillo Fat Stock Show, the Tri-State Fair, The Dallas State Fair, and the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show, where they exhibited thirty-one breed champions and five grand champions at these shows.

The enterprising youngsters are not resting on their past laurels, and sixty-five Donley County youths now have over 400 head of select barrows on feed to perform their part in the food for victory campaign. The breeding and feeding operations of the group is under the direction of J. R. Gillham, Clarendon Vocational Agriculture Instructor.

THE MASK IS OFF

The people are turning a deaf ear to the agitation of proponents of public ownership of electric power. It is a dead issue compared to the important issues of the day. A notable example of this fact just occurred in the Pacific Northwest, home of Bonneville and Grand Coulee dams, where the socialists have used every conceivable weapon in continuous attempts to destroy private electric companies. On the 15th day of May, three Pacific Northwest districts voted "No" decisively on public ownership proposals. This occurred despite the costly, aggressive campaigns waged by government-employed public-power advocates. You don't have to be a Sherlock Holmes to figure out what went on in the minds of the voters participating in these elections. They know that private power companies are giving excellent, low-cost power service to industries, farms and homes—and also paying gigantic taxes. They know that a private utility is completely regulated and controlled by local government, while government power projects are not subject to local control or taxes. They also know that to vote themselves further into debt at a time when Federal taxes, due to war, are increasing geometrically is the height of community folly. And lastly, they are beginning to realize that the insidious drive to centralize power control and ownership under a politically dominated powerful government bureau in Washington is a poor and dangerous substitute for local self rule and control of power development and distribution. To socialize private utilities doesn't add one kilowatt to the power supply. It simply increases the financial burden on all the people, and puts bureaucrats in the saddle.

PENALIZING FAIR DEALING

The general price-freezing order which recently went into effect has not completely solved the price problem by a long shot. Important readjustments must be made if thousands of American businesses are to be saved from economic disaster. The most difficult problem confronting the retail merchant is that of the so-called "roll-back." Long ago, retailers were asked by the government to hold their prices to the lowest possible level, and the splendid manner in which they did that has been highly praised by such informed officials as OPA Administrator Leon Henderson. Patriotic retailers priced their wares on the basis of original cost instead of replacement cost. As a result, general price freezing has put them in an impossible position. The freezing order made absolutely no allowance for the wide lag which has existed between the wholesale and the retail price indexes. Unless merchants are permitted the "roll-back," they will legally be bound to sell many items without any margin of profit whatsoever—and some items at an absolute loss. It is obvious that they would not last long under those circumstances.

Worst of all, the merchant who cooperated with the government and held his prices to rock-bottom is severely penalized by the freezing order—while the merchant who charged all the market would bear is actually benefitted. And it is apparent that the blow is most severe in the case of small stores which have no accumulations of capital to tide them over a period of doing business at a loss.

AFTER THE WAR

Writing in Banking, Paul F. Cadman, Economist of the American Bankers Association, said this: "The whole spirit of the two tragic decades which followed World War number one, was one of restriction, regulation, control, super-government. The spirit of the post-war world should be one of release: Releasing the vast energies of the common man; creation of mass buying power through work rather than bounty; the courageous extension of credit to men and nations for the reconstruction period. All this may sound both flowery and general but it stands up clearly against this fact: Post-war planning is going to be done on a large scale. It will be done either by the dreamers, the reformers and the inexperienced, or by men who know the immense difficulties involved in the production and conservation of wealth."

From the pioneer days to the present time, banking has led in the development of this country. Banking helped push back the frontier—even as banking made possible the growth of the industries which are the source of our fighting power in time of war, and the creators of an ever-rising standard of living in time of peace. Banking has been at the forefront of the war effort, meeting with speed and efficiency the

PUBLIC FORUM

When asked his opinion of the effect the candidacy of Mr. Miller of Pampa would have in the Congressional race, F. H. Hardie said: "Well, there is not enough 5th columnists in the 18th District to defeat Gene Worley. Worley's district is being looked after. The people who voted for Worley knew he would go to war in case war was declared. He stated that in his campaign. Lynden Johnson did the same. Worley is now in active service aboard a fighting vessel. Lynden Johnson is with MacArthur in Australia. Hitler, no doubt, would sanction the defeat of Worley and Johnson. Let's have more men in public life of this type. Giving Mr. Miller the benefit of the doubt, his motives may be pure, but he is not a thinker. Worley's job should not be accepted as a gift, much less sought for. This is a Democratic country and Mr. Miller has a perfect right to run for any office, but in this case to my way of thinking, he is legally right but morally wrong."

EAT THE SAME BREAD

No country on earth has as many automobiles per capita as the United States. In no country is the automobile such a necessity in the daily life of the people. We have used it so universally that steam and electric railroads long ago discontinued the bulk of their interurban service throughout the country, and interurban tracks have been generally abandoned and torn up. Now, as a war necessity, people are required to give up, to a large extent, this basic means of transportation. When gasoline rationing went into effect, many Congressmen and Senators who regulate the acts of private citizens, signed up for "X" cards giving them unlimited amounts of gas, on the theory that their driving was essential to national defense. Probably nowhere else in the world is a private car for a public official less needed than in Washington, D. C., where taxicabs are as thick as fleas on a dog's back and rates are the lowest. Most Congressmen and Senators live in apartment houses and hotels where it is more advantageous to use a taxicab than a private car.

Writing on this situation, Raymond Clapper says: "The attitude of these Senators and Representatives makes one's blood boil." This gasoline grab is a glaring example of privileged officialism asking the common people to make sacrifices which the officeholders do not wish to share. It's high time that our growing army of public servants, which is acquiring more and more special privileges, was set back on its heels and made to eat the same kind of bread it rations out to the people.

Many small Texas plants which do not lend themselves to war activity, and which are unable to secure raw materials for the production of civilian goods will either have to suspend or curtail operations. Nearly half of the college students in America have never had a course in mathematics a Student Opinion Surveys of America reports. Published by the University of Texas, the report shows 56 per cent of American college students have had some math, but that only 53 per cent "liked" the course.

GARDEN SASS.
If you have trouble distinguishing your garden vegetables from weeds, just hoe them off level with the ground. If they come up again, they are weeds.

OUR WEAKLY POME.
Grandpa used a roll towel; A comb on a string, The common cup, tripped him up, And made him bark and howl, Yet he was 93 this spring.

BACK ALLEY WAY.
"Lady give us a dime and me little brudder will imatushion a hen."
"What will he do, cackle like a hen?"

"Naw, we ain't the cheap kind. He'll eat a worm!"

INDOOR ADVICE.
Advice to a young couple will often apply to an older couple as well. A wedded pair should do team work. When she washes the dishes, he should wash the dishes with her. When she mops up the floor, mop up the floor with her. Nothing like teamwork, boys.

Being old and bent is little worse than being young and broke. I've been both, and ought to know. See you next week if the weather cools off.

What Is Faith?
"Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." Heb. 11:1. This scripture shows the difference between historical faith, and that living, trusting and obeying faith of the child of God. I believe Hitler is the ruler of Germany, but I neither trust him nor have any desire to obey him, because I do not believe in him with all my heart. This is historical faith.

Is Faith Necessary To Salvation?
Gospel Saves Believers:
"For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth." Rom. 1:16.

"It pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe." 1 Cor. 1:21.

"Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ." Rom. 5:1.

Will Faith Only Save?
Faith only excludes everything but the bare assent of the mind that Jesus is the Christ. There can be no repentance, no confession and no trusting in faith only.

Faith Without Love Will Not Profit:
"Though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing." 1 Cor. 13:2.

Faith Alone Is Dead:
"Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone." Jas. 2:17.

Faith Without Works Is Dead:
"But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead." Jas. 2:20.

Not Justified By Faith Only:
"Ye see then how that by works a man is justified and not by faith only." Jas. 2:24.

Noah built the ark by faith, but not by faith only. Every stroke of his hammer was a stroke of faith. Every step that the believing sinner takes in becoming a Christian, is a step of faith; not his own works, but the works or acts of obedience that is commanded him of God. Heb. 5:8.

Next week my subject will be repentance.

Plan For Tomorrow

Straight thinking is important today, as Government war expenditures bring increased earnings for many families.

Prudent persons will take advantage of today's opportunities to pay off their obligations and get out of debt - - - to invest regularly and as much as they can in U. S. Defense Bonds - - - to save in advance for heavier Taxes next year - - - to lay aside a reserve fund for post-war readjustment.

Think straight - - - and think about tomorrow.

ON THE HOME FRONT

Our big "home front" offensive, the War Production Drive, this week began to make its effects felt directly on the dinner table, in the living room, the bedroom and the bath of the average citizen, and on the retailer's shelves and in the dealer's show rooms of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and the other States.

Production has been halted on a list of American household products that grows longer and longer. That means, of course, that most of us are going to have to work and eat and play differently. Our way of living must change—and change quickly.

And, as production and the accompanying drain of materials and supplies increases, the Office of Price Administration continues to extend its orders fixing maximum prices for materials, products and household articles, as part of its determination that "the public shall not be compelled to submit to unreasonable and inflated prices, simply because supplies are short."

Many retailers have been fighting a good fight to keep prices down, but as Dexter M. Keezer, assistant OPA administrator, told the National Conference of Business Paper Editors a few days ago, these retailers must have allies if the war against the terror of inflation is to be won.

"The simple fact is that today we are losing the battle against inflation," Mr. Keezer emphasized. "Prices are going up all along the line—and at a dangerously accelerated pace."

Cotton Important For War Victory

COLLEGE STATION — When farmers throughout the cotton belt were urged to plant the full allotment of 27,400,000 acres for 1942 it was no April Fool's yarn that there is a pressing need for every inch of staple, every pound of linters, every drop of oil and every ounce of cake and meal that can be produced.

Cotton fiber probably is more essential to the successful prosecution of the war than rubber, tin or any other materials of which shortages exist or are threatened, according to experts at the A&M College of Texas.

The United Nations look to agriculture of the United States for food and clothing and no other crop is so important to the war effort as cotton.

There is no "dangerous surplus" of lint cotton today. Of 23,000,000 bales on hand, domestic consumption will take 13,000,000, leaving 10,000,000 bales in the carry-over August 1, 1942. Government frozen stocks account for 4,000,000 bales of this carry-over, leaving 6,000,000 bales.

In addition to low quality of much of the 1941 crop, 2,500,000 bales are tied up in normal mill stocks. Therefore the available stock of free cotton from which mills can make selections may not exceed 3,500,000 bales.

Consumption at the rate of 1,000,000 bales per month after August 1 might exhaust this carry-over by December 1, 1942.

Importance of cotton linters in war time has resulted in War Department designation as one of the nation's most important materials for smokeless powder and other types of explosives. Mills now cut 170 to 200 pounds of linters out of a ton of cottonseed, but there are not enough tons of seed to meet the needs of the armies and navies of the United Nations.

The Cotton seed is one of the most important sources of fats and oils essential to winning the war, because more are needed to increase the caloric value of foods consumed by fighting men and civilians engaged in strenuous labors. More paint and varnish oils are needed, special lubricants are necessary, soap-making and glycerine plants require them.

Cottonseed meal is a universally used protein concentrate for livestock feed and the United Nations must have more meat, milk and poultry products than this nation ever before has produced.

These facts clearly point out the urgent necessity for planting the full allotment of cotton acreage allowed under the law in order to safeguard a shortage of so important a crop as cotton, which is vital to the nation's war effort.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Lemons of Plainview visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buntin Monday night.

Mrs. C. H. Russell of Dallas is visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Lovell this week.

Mrs. Florence Hvass returned to her home at Lubbock Monday after visiting relatives here for some time.

BIG CHIEF WAHOO

LIVING UP TO TRADITION

In normal times, the banks of the country are interested in financing and encouraging all legitimate business and industrial activity. In war time, the job of the banks necessarily undergoes considerable change.

First, the banks must devote their resources to war production. That is a vast, ever expanding task. Second, the banks must aid the ordinary citizen in getting out of debt—not into debt. Increasing taxes and higher costs of all kinds impose a tremendous strain on the average budget. All avoidable civilian spending must be curtailed. Loans which in peace time would be immediately granted, must be refused.

There is no question of the efficiency with which banking is doing its war job. Officers and employers are working overtime.

Expansion of banking service has taken place with a minimum of delay. The fullest possible cooperation has been given the government. And banking is rendering all possible service to civilians and consumer industry.

Banking is doing everything in its power to keep the economic machine running. It is living up fully to its splendid past traditions of service.

RAZOR BLADES CUT

Whiskers may come into fashion again as a result of the WPB action ordering the production of safety razors restricted to 70 per cent of the 1940 average monthly output, and the output of safety razor blades held to 100 per cent of the average monthly production of 1940.

Fire Fatalities On Increase

AUSTIN—Fire has cost the lives of 120 persons in Texas during the first three months of this year, Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, said today.

From the list of fatalities by fire, Hall revealed that the year had a horrible beginning. Forty-one persons were burned to death in the first 10 days of 1942, with a single fire resulting in seven deaths.

Twenty-eight persons died in eight fires which caused two or more deaths during the three-month period. On each of two days, Jan. 1 and Feb. 18, fires resulted in the death of nine people. The death of eight persons was recorded on Jan. 2; seven on Jan. 8, and six on March 29.

Forty-nine of the 1942 fire deaths were children 15 years or younger. The fire victims' ages ranged from infancy to two of more than 100 years.

"Fire fatalities are always horrible," said Commissioner Hall. "The deaths recorded this year should stand as grim reminders for all of us to be careful with fire at all times. Besides those lives which have been lost, there has also resulted countless hours of agony by persons suffering from serious burns. Carelessness with fire—the toleration of needless fire hazards—too often bring death and disaster upon us."

Another Industry Converted

Manufacturers of domestic washing machines will devote the entire capacity of their industry to war production after May 15, in line with a recent War Production Board order. Production of replacement parts for domestic laundry equipment is not affected by the order.

ACCIDENTS IN U. S. UP SHARPLY FROM PREVIOUS YEARS

There were 500,000 more accidental injuries in 1941 than before the defense program started, in 1939, with fatal accidents up nearly 9,000 in the same period, a reflection of the greatly increased cost of carelessness as the nation steps into high gear on the war effort, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

The cost to the nation for this accident toll increased nearly half a billion dollars in these two years, the Institute reports, but the most vital loss today is the man-hours lost on war production.

WPA Workers To Collect Scrap Metal

SAN ANTONIO, June 1—WPA trucks and workers are organized to collect scrap metals and rubber from farms throughout Texas as one phase of the War Production Board's campaign to convert waste materials into war production, it was reported today by E. A. Baugh, state director of WPA operations.

Managers of the twelve Texas WPA districts have mailed cards to farmers throughout the state, asking them to report to WPA offices the quantities and types of scrap metal and rubber which they can turn over to collection crews.

Previously, Texas farmers have received from War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson a letter outlining the importance of turning unused scrap metal and rubber into the production of tanks, guns, and planes.

Thousands of tons of war-precious metal are expected to be the yield of the salvage, Baugh said, the War Production Board having estimated that each Texas farm contains an average of 500 pounds of usable scrap metal.

Farmers may donate or sell scrap to the WPA collectors, Baugh explained. The Government will pay 25 cents per hundred pounds for scrap metal and half a cent a pound for rubber. He pointed out that the Government pays a flat price for all metals and rubber, making no exception for such non-ferrous metals as copper, brass, and lead, nor, in the case of rubber, for inner tubes.

WPA laborers will assemble the collected metal at convenient railway shipping points, where it will be auctioned to the highest bidder. After that it must be shipped to war factories and mills within 60 days.

Although WPA will attempt to serve in every county where assistance is needed, Baugh stated, he emphasized that in some counties where many WPA workers have been released for farm work and where rolls have been depleted by workers obtaining private employment the agency may not be able to give immediate service when requests for assistance are received.

PRIVATE PEANUT GOES TO WAR

I'm Private Peanut and I'm plenty tough! My hitting power is in terms of oil. From 12,000 pounds of peanut oil, can be made 3,000 pounds of soap and enough nitro-glycerine to fire a 16-inch gun on a battleship. One blast from that gun sure could mess up a lot of Japs! Many other things needed by our fighting men and civilians can also be made from peanut oil, such as cooking fats and oleomargarine. Huge supplies of these things will give the United Nations the power to bury the hatchet—in the Axis' neck. Uncle Sam has asked farmers to mobilize five million acres of boys like me. And they're doing it!

"Every request to pick up scrap materials will be answered as soon as possible," he declared. "Speed is the essential factor in getting this vital material to the mills and the facilities of WPA are 100 percent available for expediting the movement of scrap."

USO Needs Support

HOUSTON, June 2—Reporting a new total of 695 USO clubhouses and other units in operation, Harry C. Wiess, state USO chairman, today called attention to the growing need for support of this civilian service to America's fighting men.

Mr. Wiess said that demands upon USO for services to the American troops have been so heavy since March 23 that USO has been obliged to add fifty eight units to a system which already encompasses forty five states as well as Alaska, Hawaii, the Canal Zone and other bases from the Caribbean to Newfoundland.

Of this operational total, Mr. Wiess added, 662 units are in the continental United States and thirty three are overseas. There are now 450 USO clubhouses, of which 424 are in this country and twenty six are extra-continental. Buildings erected, or renovated, by the federal government, house 184 of these clubs.

The new report, coming soon after USO launched its Texas war fund campaign for $1,110,000, showed that 1,394 professional staff workers are employed by USO, an increase of 146 over the 1,248 who represented the organization professionally as of March 23rd.

USO operations are now centered in 324 cities and towns and in nine "territories, possessions and offshore bases." Fifty-one units of the operational total are for USO's troops-in-transit service.

"The steady expansion of USO," Mr. Wiess said, "shows conclusively that we are filling a vital need in America's ever-growing defense. As the Army, Navy and Marine Corps continue to increase, USO hopes to keep its present service standards intact by increasing with them. Only in that way can the troops be sure of adequate recreational facilities during their off-duty hours."

"I expressed myself as carried away with this piece of wild land, whereupon the party told me it was his; that he owned the point—a labor, 177 acres—known as Parker's Point; that he would sell it very cheap, and named as his price $1000. He then told me his name, Davis Moore; that he was on his way to his father's place on Chocolate Bayou, Dr. Moore; that his papers were there; that I had better go with him, spend the night, and ride to Houston next day. SIDE GLANCES ON TEXAS HISTORY

By Lorena Drummond University of Texas Library

Tenderfoot "Greenhorns," or "tenderfeet" have never had a very easy time of it in frontier territory. Not all of these newcomers have had the persistence and fortitude of Francis Richard Lubbock, who not only accepted with good grace the stiff "skinning" some of the old-timers took of him, but persevered in his determination to adjust himself to his new environment—so successfully that he later became governor of Texas. In his memoirs, published post-humorously in 1900, Lubbock described several of his "tenderfoot" experiences. This volume is a valuable source of Texas lore and history in the University of Texas Library's vast Texas Collection.

Fig in a Poke Lubbock, who came to Texas in 1837, set up his mercantile business in Houston. On the return leg of a business trip to Brazoria, he recounts, the first experience, which left him a wiser man, occurred.

"While traveling along the Brazos on the edge of the prairie I was joined by a party of men," he wrote. "After journeying to-

RED CROSS VOLUNTEER SERVICE

From the Volunteer this month comes a rather nice paragraph congratulating the production workers on their tact and ingenuity in meeting a difficult situation—namely, the sustained enthusiasm of the workers versus the curtailed supply of materials.

Right now, during the summer months, to some of you, it may be difficult to bring yourself to helping in Red Cross work. We know that it isn't particularly pleasant to knit when the weather is so hot and sultry.

Knitting Sweaters turned in this week include those knitted by Mrs. Foyd Lumpkin (o.d.), Mrs. C. E. Griggs (o.d.), Roy Guy (muffler), Mrs. Will Barker (o.d.), Mrs. Harvey Shaw (squares for afagan), Mrs. J. R. Porter (o.d.), Mrs. Geo. Jones (o.d.), Mrs. Carl Peabody (o.d.), Mrs. C. B. Morris (w.p.), Mrs. G. E. Norwood (o.d.), Mrs. B. C. Antrobus (o.d.), and Mrs. R. O. Thomas (o.d.), and Mrs. John L. Hutson (squares for afagan).

War production wool was taken out by Mrs. G. E. Norwood, Mrs. A. B. Turner, Mrs. L. N. Cox, Mrs. Bill Bromley, Mrs. Alvin Landers, Mrs. Carl Peabody, Mrs. Karl Adams, Mrs. B. C. Antrobus, Mrs. R. O. Thomas and Mrs. H. A. Sibley.

Here's good news for some of you. The knitting chairmen have received the news that the time for the shipment for the sweaters with sleeves has been extended to September so this will extend your own knitting time until the 1st of September. This does not apply, however, to the sleeveless olive drab sweaters for the armed forces which should be turned in as soon as possible. Mrs. C. E. Gatlin gave a very nice donation to the Red Cross last week and it will be put in the Donley Chapter fund and used locally. Many of you who feel that you aren't able to help with the other work and wish to help us out in any way may do so by giving any donation, and no matter how large or how small, it will sincerely be appreciated.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

"The battle of production has been won," wrote Paul Mallon recently. "American industry went over the top in April, out of the preparatory organizing phase, and into the great American stride of mass production which no one can equal anywhere. From now on the production line on our charts will go nearly straight up."

That is an incredible achievement, and it takes incredible statistics to describe it. In April, our war production was at the rate of $40,000,000,000 a year. The June rate will be about 25 percent greater. And by the end of this year, the economists confidently predict we will be producing at the rate of $70,000,000,000 a year.

cause of lack of materials, labor difficulties, etc. But those delays grow fewer.

There is only one dark spot—merchant ship output. The shipbuilders have done an excellent job in the face of staggering technical difficulties, but the fact remains that United Nations' losses are somewhat ahead of replacements. For some time delivery of steel plate was behind schedule.

The warship building program is reported ahead of schedule. Special emphasis is laid on the production of the destroyers which are needed for convoy duties, and for protecting ships-of-the-line in naval squadrons. And the U. S. submarine fleet is growing satisfactorily.

Not until the war is over and the information is of no use to the enemy will it be possible to tell the whole story of America's production effort. What can be said now is that no nation or group of nations ever did so much in so short a period of time. At the end of the last year, Von Ludendorff wrote, in bitter admiration, that the United States understood how to wage war. The cold production figures show that the United States understands it better still today.

The President, Secretary Hull,

Vice-President Wallace and other top-flight officials have warned the people not to become too optimistic—and to disregard the current crop of rumors to the effect that the Axis is on the verge of collapse.

The newsmen who were recently released from Hitler's Europe brought some very interesting information with them. Axis morale, they say, dropped when Germany and Italy declared war on us. But Hitler has most of the people sold on the idea that they must win or perish. They are doggedly determined to fight on to the very end. There are relatively few rebels—and the Gestapo is active and efficient.

It is possible, of course, that the war could end with startling suddenness. That happened in 1918. But it would be the height of folly to anticipate that. We can hope for a short war. But we must build and plan for a very long one.

One Flaw "Have a quick one?" asked Jones. "Don't drink," replied Smith. "Have a fag, then." "No, thanks. I don't smoke." "Ever have any headaches?" asked Jones. "Yes, pretty often these days," answered Smith. "Just as I thought. Your halo's too tight."

Over 10,000 children in approximately 4,600 families were aided in February by the state and federal governments under the Aid to Dependent Children program.

SIDE GLANCES ON TEXAS HISTORY

By Lorena Drummond University of Texas Library

Military "Uniforms"

While the Texas defense Guard of today is a snappy, well-clad and well-drilled military organization, early forerunners of this army—in the days of the Republic—could scarcely boast as much. When a battalion was mustered out at Houston in the fall of 1838 to "chastize" a band of predatory Indians, there was no "government issue" of clothing—each soldier, even the commander-in-chief, wore whatever garb he had that he thought suitable for rough wear, according to F. R. Lubbock, member of the battalion and later Governor of Texas.

Lubbock describes the habitments of the battalion, himself included, in his Memoirs, "Six Decades in Texas," a copy of which is found in the University of Texas Library's extensive Texas Collection.

"Major Bonnell... was of medium height, with red hair and freckled face under a slouched hat," Lubbock wrote, "and he came into camp in a very long coat reaching nearly to his ankles.

making quite a priestly appearance, and but for a belt around his waist and a long old sword dangling thereby, he looked less like a frontier soldier than any of us, though there was no uniformity of dress in the battalion, each one wearing what he could get as most appropriate for a hard winter campaign."

Buckskin Pants

Lubbock himself wore a pair of fine new buckskin pants "such as worn by frontiersmen," especially made for him for the expedition. But he soon lost his affection for his new possession.

"Once, while out scouting for several days with a small party, we were overtaken by a heavy rain storm when in our camp asleep," he recounted, "I was lying in a low place, so that the water ran against me in a flood, saturating my buckskins. Not thinking of the consequences, and being very wet and cold, I backed myself up to a hot mesquite fire made up to dry and warm us.

"Before discovering it, my pants had crawled up to my knees, and I had to ride in that plight a day or two. They got tighter and tighter all the time until we reached the main camps. Then I had in a manner to cut them off my limbs.

"I have never owned a pair of buckskin pants since," he added. "They are more entertaining in a picture or a romance than they are on one's own shanks."

Homecoming

But Lubbock's apparel suffered still further turns for the worse before the battalion finally returned home.

"I remember well how I appeared and how astonished my wife and friends were when they beheld me marching through town," he concluded. "The legs of my pants had disappeared, and I had made leggings of an old green baize crumb cloth that I had taken with me for a horse cover. This I cut up and divided with the boys, for many of them were fully as bad off as myself."

10,000,000 BALES

During the year 1941, the cotton textile industry consumed about 10,000,000 bales of cotton and produced the astounding total of twelve billion yards of cloth. This figure has never been approached during the entire 150 years of the industry's existence in America.

Burned materials, food and essential supplies, can't be used by sailors, soldiers, marines or pilots in fighting the enemy. Economic waste by fire definitely hinders our war production efforts.

A Natural Thermal Therapy

STEAM BATH

The soothing, warm vapors of the health bath raise the temperature of the body, eliminating the contraction of the blood capillaries; warming up and thinning the blood; permitting a free circulation, relieving the strains on the vital organs; increasing oxidation, and promote elimination.

It is not uncommon for a severe cold, a sore throat, a case of neuritis, or a fever, to entirely disappear as a result of taking one of these simple treatments.

Some astonishing and marvelous results have been obtained especially in old chronic maladies—even after the case has been given up as incurable.

Electro-vapor fume baths are very invigorating. They vitalize and rejuvenate the entire nervous system. They soften and beautify the skin. They reduce obesity and build up those under weight. They place your body in a condition to serve you buoyantly. They not only aid in making one well, but are a true natural means of preventing diseases and are especially valuable in the treatment of Rheumatism, Neuritis, Lumbago, Diabetes, High Blood Pressure, Dropsy, Brights Disease, Asthma, Catarrhal Conditions, Depleted Nerves, General Debility, and all forms of skin eruptions and blood disorders.

TO THE PRODUCERS OF DONLEY COUNTY.

Walter J. Flynt, Secretary
Donley County ACA

I would like to call the attention of the farmers to the reports that they are asked to turn in from time to time. These reports, though necessary, are sometimes tedious and hard to figure out, and especially the cotton reports are difficult to keep track of since they are issued in the early fall and must be kept until harvesting is completed.

These reports are very necessary because the whole system on which the Agricultural Association is based is the keeping of records. We must have a record of how much cotton, feed and government land is planted, and how many soil building practices are carried out in order to know how much payment is due each person. We must know how much cotton and wheat is produced on each farm in order that we might have a basis on which to figure the rate of payment per acre on each farm.

We ask producers to make reports from time to time because they better than anyone else, know what each individual farm has done, or will do, or will need in the current year. For instance the cotton reports which each Operator has been asked to turn in on each farm: We have found in many instances that errors were made in the reports from the gins and in this office which would make quite a lot of difference in the actual yield, and if these reports were not sent in by the operator we would have no way of knowing that an error had been made. Also there are the cards which are sent out asking for your estimate of the amount of milk, eggs, livestock, and certain other commodities, will be produced on your farm or farms in 1942. These taken as a single unit would not amount to very much, but taken by a county as a whole, or as a State, the War Department, as well as Department of Agriculture and other Departments of the Government, know to a very close figure on what to depend in the production line.

In making these reports, a very essential factor is promptness. If a questionnaire is sent out, and returned within a period of a week or ten days it takes just about one-half the time and expense to tabulate it, than if the receipt of these questionnaires were spread out over a period of from a month to six weeks. In the interest of more efficient service in the county office, as well as a saving in Association expenses, these reports should be turned in with the least possible delay. Letters of instruction which are usually mailed with reports should be studied and followed where possible since this would leave the time spent in instruction to individual producers for attending to other work which must be done in the county office.

Any thing which may be done to decrease the expense of the association work should be considered closely by each producer, since payments seem to be getting smaller each year, and the work to be performed by County Associations does not seem to be decreasing any.

The United States Civil Service Commission has extended the closing dates for applications for radio inspector, technical assistant in engineering, and junior engineering positions. Applications for radio inspector must be filed with the Commission's Washington office by June 30, 1942, but will be accepted for the other positions until the needs of the service have been met. Naval News

Young men enlisted in the V-5 (naval aviation) branch of the navy and now on inactive duty were urged Friday by Lieut. Comdr. Barry Holton, senior member of the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board, Dallas, to enroll immediately in Civilian Pilot Training courses. These men so enrolled may be granted a reasonable deferment from active duty to permit the completion of the course.

This additional leniency in the keeping of men on the inactive lists was announced by Commander Holton following notification from Washington officials. In addition to the already authorized deferment from active duty granted college sophomores, juniors and seniors, these students, if enrolled in CPT courses, may be granted a reasonable deferment beyond the end of the current school year to permit the completion of the flight course.

Mr. Holton pointed out, of course, that all deferments are subject to revocation and that all students so deferred may be called to active duty any time their services are required for the best interests of the government.

Miss Wilma Dee Smith of this city has accepted a position as assistant time keeper for the Shamrock Oil Company at Dumas. She will start her duties Friday.

Hitler Gets My Job

By forcing the good old U.S.A. to freeze the cars and everything pertaining to them, it has caused the Clarendon Motor Co. to lay all their sales force off for the present time, and until conditions will permit me to go back to my old job, I have decided to buy and sell a few cars and do some trading for the public. So if you have a car and want to make a change,

I shall be glad to try to match a trade for you or sell you a car. Will be glad to have you list your wants with me at the Sinclair Station across street from City Hall.

Thanking all my friends who have made it possible for me to make and attain the 100 car club for the past 5 years and inviting you to continue same, Heath's Used Car Exchange G. C. Heath, Mgr.
