New Womack Funeral Home To Have Formal Opening

With the formal opening of the Womack Funeral Home here April 17-18-19th, the Womack Burial Association will have added their fourth funeral home to the organization during the past three years. The public has been extended a cordial welcome to inspect this modern funeral home, and to see for themselves the many conveniences offered at the home.

The organization began operation in Hedley in 1939 with Harry G. Womack as manager, later opening homes in McLean and Memphis. The territory is covered on a plan that one home can depend upon the other homes for support in time of emergencies.

The Burial Association was begun in the fall of 1939, and has grown to over a million dollars of burial insurance in force in this short time. The opening of the Clarendon funeral home will be a big benefit to the Womack organization. As time goes on, this home will be the home office due to the central locality, thus enabling a larger selection of merchandise and the maintaining of more ambulances and other funeral equipment.

Harry Womack personally manages all four homes—makes all funeral arrangements personally, and is in charge of all services handled by his firm.

Lewis T. Simmonds will be in charge of the Clarendon home with Billy Ralph Andis as an attendant. Mr. Simmonds is a licensed embalmer and well trained in ambulance and First Aid work. He holds an instructor's rating with the American Red Cross, and has recently completed classes at Hedley and Lelia Lake with plans for future classes in the county. This is an added service offered indirectly through the Womack Funeral Homes.

Harry Womack is spending at a cost exceeding $9,000 to bring this new funeral home to Clarendon. There has been no details overlooked in the planning and arranging of the interior of this home. The chapel and reception office is covered with beautiful blue leaf carpet. A private family room set just off from the chapel. The home is furnished with the very latest in furniture to harmonize with the blue carpet and blue venetian blind color scheme. Most of the edifice is equipped with indirect lighting and will be completely air conditioned. Mr. Simmonds, local manager, will occupy the second floor for living quarters, enabling an attendant to be on duty to answer calls twenty-four hours a day.

On the end of the chapel is an alcove which will be divisible by drape curtains permitting the family to view the remains in complete privacy. Two connecting family rooms adjoin this room—one is for small groups while the other is for larger groups. The outlook from these rooms can be enlarged together and be directly in line with the position of the clergyman and casket. Several families can be taken care of in privacy with neither one disturbing the privacy of the other.

TO SAN ANTONIO
Miss Grace Harvey has accepted a civil service position at Duncan Field near San Antonio. She will leave next Monday to assume her duties.

Candidate Rally At Chamberlain School

The first candidate rally of the year will take place at the Chamberlain school house, Friday night, April 10th.

A special Quiz Program will be featured along with candidate speeches and selling of ice cream and soda water. The Quiz Program will consist of important questions and answers with Bill Todd, principal of the school doing the questioning.

"It's going to be a first class affair, and we expected around twenty candidates to be present," Mr. Todd stated at the Leader office Tuesday.

Everyone is invited to be there to help put the first rally of the year over in grand style. The proceeds taken in will go to the general school fund.

GRASSHOPPER MENACE EXPECTED SLIGHTLY OVER NORMAL

According to county agent H. M. Breedlove the infestation of grasshoppers in the county this spring should be slightly over normal. This prediction was made from the egg survey made by the entomology department.

"If the infestation should be greater than expected," Breedlove said, "we have over two hundred sacks of bran and equal amount of poison to go with it to take care of the situation."

The bran and poison is stored in the county and will be available at any time that the hoppers begin to hatch. When the hoppers begin to hatch the farmers should notify the county agent's office, if the infestation appears to be larger than usual and the poison will be issued.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT TO ATTEND SUGAR RATIONING MEET

Miss Ruth Richerson, county school superintendent, has received word to attend a meeting at Amarillo next week at which time all the particulars and details of the sugar rationing problem will be explained.

Business firms will be the first to register April 27th and 28th at the high school buildings in Clarendon, Hedley and Lelia Lake. Volunteers wishing to offer their services in helping with the registration should get in touch with J. R. Bulls at the Rationing Board Office.

DRUNK DRIVING CHARGES FILED

Charges were filed here Tuesday against Roy Darnell of Hedley for driving while intoxicated. According to Sheriff Guy Wright, this is Darnell's second offense. His bond was set at $1,000 awaiting the action of the grand jury.

EASTER SPELL BRINGS MUCH NEEDED RAIN

A total of 1.03 inches of rain was the report released by official weather observer Joe Goldston this morning. If this was our annual Easter spell, it was heartily welcomed, for a hard pan was giving our farm friends plenty of trouble with their plowing.

Donley County Folks Observe Army Day

Despite threatening wind and sand, a high percentage of Donley county people attended and took part in the Army Day celebration here Monday afternoon.

A colorful parade of horses, bicycles and cars, gaily decorated and flaunting the national colors, highlighted the afternoon program in which marching school children added the patriotic touch. By-standers watched with pride as the sound of marching feet and martial music by the Clarendon band commemorated the 25th anniversary of this historic occasion which marked the entry of the United States in World War No. 1 on April 6, 1917.

A sudden burst of rain and sand sent to cover most of the large crowd who had gathered at the courthouse following the parade to hear informative and patriotic talks. Undaunted, however, by the few remaining listeners, the speakers carried out their scheduled talks.

Speakers on the program were Walter Knorpp, Mrs. U. J. Boston, H. M. Breedlove, and District Attorney, John Deaver who gave the patriotic address.

Grim faced men of the American Legion, who sponsored the event, were well satisfied that their effort in seeing the day properly commemorated had not been in vain. The enthusiasm and response of those taking part in the days program attested to the kind of patriotism typical of the American rural people—far from the bursting of cannonade—yet so near to the heart throbs of the boys at the front.

Letter Postage Is Free To Soldiers

Postage-free letter service for army and naval forces of the United States was put into effect Monday. The new ruling was placed in effect following an announcement by the post office department which states that any first-class letter mail matter admissible to the mails as ordinary mail matter which is sent by a member of the military or naval forces of the United States, including the United States Coast Guard, while on active duty or in the active military or naval services of the United States, to any person in the United States, including the territories and possessions, will be handled free.

Letters must bear in the upper right corner the word "free" and in the upper left corner the name of the sender, together with his rank or rating and the designation of the service to which he belongs.

Messages on post cards may be accepted under this provision but the ruling does not apply to packages or parcels or any matter other than messages in the form of ordinary letters and cards.

The free mailing does not apply to matter sent by air mail nor to any matter sent to the members of the military or naval forces by persons not members of the service.

Postage-free letters began arriving in Clarendon Tuesday, according to the local post office.

HARRY G. WOMACK

Mr. Womack is manager of the Womack Burial Association with funeral homes at Memphis, Hedley, McLean and Clarendon. He is a native of Donley county, having been born between Clarendon and Lelia Lake. His family moved to Memphis while he was still quite young. He has lived in Memphis practically all his life with the exception of time spent away at Baylor and Simmons Universities. Mr. Womack enjoys a wide acquaintance over Donley county and surrounding counties.

COUNTY AND SCHOOL DISTRICTS WIN SUIT

The county of Donley and Common school districts eleven, twelve and sixteen received judgment of $2,595.40 against J. W. Adamson and the New Amsterdam Casualty Co. in district court last Thursday. This is the alleged amount collected and not reported. The check for this amount has already been received and is awaiting the endorsement of trustees of the above named districts. The New Amsterdam Casualty Co. (Bonding Firm) also received judgment against J. W. Adamson for the same amount.

CENSUS DEADLINE APRIL 15

April 15th is the deadline for school census enumerators to file their reports at the county superintendent's office, according to a statement by Miss Ruth Richerson today.

THE SIX STAR J. A. HELTON FAMILY OF CLARENDON

That may be a 10 Star family within the next few months. Mrs. Helton was feted in Amarillo Monday along with two other Six Star mothers and a Seven Star mother as the highlight of the All-Panhandle Army Day celebration. Mr. and Mrs. Helton, retired farmers, are seated in front of their now nationally known sons and daughter. To the left of the daughter, Mrs. Nettie Fields, standing center, are the five older sons while to the right are the five younger sons. There are two years difference in ages of the 11 children beginning, left to right, Bill, 40, Amarillo; Tom, 38, Clarendon; Ernest, 36, Officers Training Corps; Newt, 34, Negritos, Peru, South America and on leave from the Army; Nath, 32, Adrian; Mrs. Nettie Fields, 30, Groom; Allen, 28, Radio Air Corps; Carrol, 26, Radio Air Corps; 2nd Lieut. Joe Helton, 24, Air Corps instructor; Harrell, 22, Air Corps and Claude, 20, Air Corps. The four sons not in service believe they will be in service before many months have passed.

REPAIR MACHINERY NOW USDA BOARD URGES

County agent H. M. Breedlove stated this morning that Nollie Simmons, chairman of the USDA War Board in Donley county was requesting that all farmers and ranchmen start repairing their machinery at this time before the parts for the machinery were difficult to obtain.

"It would be a good idea to check over your machinery and see what needs repairing, and if at all possible it should be done at this time," Breedlove said. "It would possibly be cheaper at this time as well as saving time for the obtaining of parts."

All Persons Asked To Plant Garden

All persons in the county who have not started their victory gardens at this time should do so in the near future says County agent H. M. Breedlove. Gardens on the farm and in town are going to mean much to the national defense of the nation the county agent advised.

The War Department through the United States Department of Agriculture is asking that all persons plant a garden, and in this way increase the production of food stuffs. All food raised at home will leave just that much more to be sent to the men in the armed forces.

The Department is asking that all persons have a victory garden this year, and if all of the people of Donley county will join in this program it will be of great help in carrying out this program.

Only forty-seven votes were cast in the local school trustee election Saturday, with E. R. Andis being re-elected to the board and W. E. Clifford elected to the place vacated by Odos Caraway.

Funeral services were in charge of Buntin Funeral Home.

Blue Food Stamps Creating More Farm Markets

Increase of $2,613.50 in food sales during March due to the food stamp program in Donley County was pointed out today by Wynn S. Goode, Area Supervisor, Agricultural Marketing Administration. This amount represents blue food stamps issued last month.

Clients using food stamps were required to buy an additional $3.-374.00 in orange food stamps, bringing the total of food purchased with food stamps during the month to $5,987.50. Families participating in the program totaled 243, representing 1,033 persons.

A total of $55,236.50 in food stamps has been issued since the beginning of the program, Wynn S. Goode revealed. Of this amount $24,247.50 in blue food stamps represents the creation of additional markets for American farm products.

"The Food Stamp Program of the Surplus Marketing Administration is a part of the United States Department of Agriculture's broad program designed to help in assuring American farming and is very little trouble."

"It cost so very little to treat for smut," Breedlove said, "and the seed is better for the livestock and they eat it better. The seed can be treated just before planting and is very little trouble."

Farmers in Donley county who have treated their seed for smut have continued to do so, and find that it really pays, and the feed is fine and better for the livestock. Breedlove said that he had heard farmers complaining this past year from the smut in their feed.

BROUGHT HOME

Tom Goldston was brought home Sunday in a Buntin Ambulance from Amarillo where he had been in a hospital there. His condition is reported as just about the same.

War Board Plans New Program

According to county agent H. M. Breedlove, the USDA War Board of Donley county will launch a big campaign for the collection of aluminum and old rubber tires.

"We expect to start this program in the near future," Breedlove said, "but of course it will depend on when the board thinks that it is the correct time."

Nollie Simmons, chairman of the board has made the statement that if Donley county brought in all of the aluminum and the old rubber tires that were available, it would make a big car load to ship to the factories.

"We are going to start this program in the near future, so be gathering up all of the old aluminum and the old automobile tires that are absolutely worthless," Breedlove said. "This material can be used by the war department and will be of great help in the national defense program."

All persons in the county will be notified when the program starts, and will have the chance to turn in the old tires and aluminum.

Despite inclement weather here Tuesday, more than 500 Clarendon voters shook off the rigors of a chilling rain to set a record vote, and elect two new men to fill the City Commission job.

Bert Smith and George Norwood, long time business men, received the greatest number of votes among a five-man campaign. Both the winners are strong advocates of strict economy in the City's administration, and made their campaign drive along this line.

Due to the drizzling rain, the voting was light during the morning. However, the citizens had made up their minds to vote, and regardless of the rain, they came in droves during the afternoon to pile up a record vote. Their desire to see a change and put in younger men was well borne out by the way the voting went.

Smith and Norwood were new candidates and displaced J. T. Patman, present incumbent, and filled the vacancy made by the resignation of Frank Bourland.

Smith was high man with 313 votes. Norwood received 307; J. T. Patman, 225; B. L. Jenkins, 67, and Henry Williams 64.

The two newly elected commissioners will be sworn into office as soon as bonds are made, which probably will be some time next week.

Farmers Urged To Treat Grain For Smut

County agent H. M. Breedlove is asking that all farmers treat their grain sorghum and sweet sorghum seed for smut this coming year. The seed can be treated with either copper carbonate or ceresan or any other treatment that will hold the smut from the grain. The two above mentioned articles will do the job in good shape and is cheap to use.

"It cost so very little to treat for smut," Breedlove said, "and the seed is better for the livestock and they eat it better. The seed can be treated just before planting and is very little trouble."

Farmers in Donley county who have treated their seed for smut have continued to do so, and find that it really pays, and the feed is fine and better for the livestock. Breedlove said that he had heard farmers complaining this past year from the smut in their feed.

"It will be their fault this coming year if there is smut in the feed," Breedlove said, "for the above treatment will eliminate this smut from the feed."

SUMMER WATER RATES NOW IN EFFECT

Mayor Tom Connally announced this morning that the summer water rates went into effect the first of this month. The minimum is $1 for 2,000 gallons with next 3,000 at 30c per thousand; next 25,000 at 20c per thousand; next 50,000 at 15c per thousand, and all above that at 12½c per thousand. The winter rate was $1.50 for first 3,000 gallons with all over that at 40c a thousand. This is quite a saving and will allow many users to grow more food-stuff in their victory gardens and keep their yards in better shape.

VEGA MAN CHARGED WITH DRUNKEN DRIVING

F. H. Simpson of Vega is said to have sideswiped the auto of Pete Land near Martin Saturday night and went into the bar ditch as a result of carrying too much liquor in his stomach. He was charged with drunken driving and his bond was set at $250. He is to appear before the court here April 14th.

The high cost of food prices must not be blamed on the farmer. Though he is now receiving higher prices for what he produces, he is by no means better off—in some instances he is doing well to hold his own. Many a farmer is actually getting less net return now than in the days of lower prices. The public must realize that a higher price for farm-produced goods does not necessarily mean a larger— or as large—a return to the farmer.

THE FARMER'S PROBLEM

The farm labor problem grows more acute as the days roll by. High industrial wages have attracted a great percentage of the men who used to work on the farm. The farmer is now forced to pay high wages even to incompetents. As a result, the farmer must now ask more for what he produces to offset the high cost of labor—plus the high cost of living, taxation, supplies and everything else that is essential to his existence.

The farmer, like many others who are supporting the war effort, is denying himself and his family many things which he rightly deserves. He asks only for enough return on his labor to keep his head above water, and to do the best job he can possibly do for Uncle Sam. He is not crying for higher pay—he is not paralyzing the flow of food into the army camps. On the other hand, he stands as a sentinel of the good earth—producing more and asking less than any man who labors for his sustenance. He has more than met the challenge of the war effort that the American breadbasket be kept full. He will keep faith with the soldier boy at mess time—his only anxiety is that the soldier may fall with empty hands.

It is high time that the American people stop wasting, and start an aggressive campaign to prevent waste and save materials of all kinds. The war program, the most gigantic of its kind in history, demands that all materials needed to execute the war be used to a minimum. The War Board is constantly appealing to the American people to help in every way possible to meet the demands of war production.

SAVE FOR VICTORY

The most timely and excellent advice coming from those in authority is the warning not to waste food. Food is as essential to winning the war as bullets, planes and tanks. Don't throw away or burn your waste paper. Save scrap metal, old rubber, rags, etc. Give this salvage to the Boy Scouts or to some charity organization or sell it to some junk or waste paper dealer.

Those who are prone to waste should immediately reverse their erstwhile habits and try to get the maximum service out of all materials which have a definite and important place in war production. Civilian usage must be cut to a minimum in most instances where war production deems it necessary. All mechanical equipment should be well cared for. Repairs and replacement will become constantly more difficult. Save on fuels and all types of appliances. In other words make it a habit to economize. Save as you've never saved before—save for victory!

CC Corps Will Graduate 150 Mechanics

The Civilian Conservation Corps will graduate 150 trained automobile mechanics this year from its Central Motor Repair Shop and School at Lufkin, Texas. James J. McEntee, Director of the CCC, today informed J. S. Murchison, State Director of CCC Selection. There are fifty-one Central Motor Repair Shops operated by the CCC, primarily to service its own fleet of motor vehicles. Sixteen of these shops have schools and dormitories attached to them. Lufkin is one of these school centers.

Enrollees now studying at Lufkin were hand-picked for their aptitude in motor mechanics; had to have good conduct records, and had to be recommended by their company commanders. The course is divided into seven departments, enrollees being assigned to departments they show special fitness for after preliminary trials. The departments are Motor, Chassis, Body and Sheet Metal, Paint, Blacksmith and Welding, Carburition and Electrical, and Tractor and Heavy Equipment Repair. Actual work in the shop under civilian mechanics is supplemented by work in the classroom. Enrollees are fed and housed in barracks on the shop grounds, much in the manner of the vocational boarding school pupil in civilian life.

Robert D. Barnes, superintendent of the Lufkin shop, reports: "After completing training most of these men are able to secure employment in mechanical fields. A number of our graduates now are employed in shipyards as welders, in foundries as machinists, and in local auto dealer service and repair shops as mechanics. We are in steady contact with a number of these men and are well pleased with their progress."

In all the fifty-one motor repair shops selected enrollees are trained on-the-job. In the sixteen repair shop-schools they are trained on-the-job and in the classroom. From its fifty-one shops this year the CCC expects to graduate 3,500 trained mechanics.

This state has been called upon to fill a quota of 3,000 boys from 17 to 23½ years of age. Any unemployed boy of good character is eligible, since applicants are no longer required to qualify on the basis of need. Application for enrollment may be made at the local county welfare office.

PICKED FOR SLAUGHTER

When you want maximum results in minimum time, you go to an expert.

The government has generally worked on that principle during this war emergency. The motor makers, the steel mills, the oil producers and others have been urged to do their utmost. They have to face many problems, of course—but they don't have to face the problem of long-planned government competition with and destruction of their enterprises.

In the case of electric power, which is one of the most vital of our industries, the situation is flagrantly different. The development of the power industry is the result of American genius at its best. In little more than two generations it turned an "experiment" at which wisecracks scoffed, into a $15,000,000,000 industry providing a service most Americans regard as indispensable. It made electric power the cheapest important thing used in the household. It multiplied over and over again the productivity and the earning power of workers. It gave sparsely populated rural areas service as good and as cheap as that provided in the great cities. It was a major factor in the astonishing increase in general industrial output which followed World War I. It became one of government's largest and most reliable sources of tax revenue.

Despite all this, the power industry was picked for political slaughter. It has been reviled by every soap-box socialist. Political fanatics weren't satisfied with relegating it to the limit—their ambition is to destroy it as an individual enterprise. Hundreds of millions of tax dollars, and countless thousands of tons of strategic materials have been wasted building unnecessary, duplicating, socialized plants and transmission lines. And that ruthless campaign is still going ahead, unabated.

If any power shortages occur, they will be the direct result of past political activity which frightened investors and made normal electric expansion impossible. The continuation of those activities will mean more and greater power shortages in the future. Any school child can understand the effect that will have on war production.

Why is the power industry not treated like other basic industries on which we depend for production for victory? Why are political groups still permitted to use tax funds to hamper and compete with this invaluable, irreplaceable industrial resource? Congress only can answer that.

Price Support For Certain Crops Only

College Station, April 8—The U. S. Department of Agriculture is supporting the prices of certain crops only and not of all agricultural products, the Texas USDA War Board points out.

Products whose prices are being supported at not less than 85 percent of parity include cheese, evaporated milk, dry skim milk, eggs, hogs, chickens (except broilers), tomatoes for canning, peas (Alaskas and sweets) for canning, peanuts for oil, and soybeans for oil. B. F. Vance, board chairman declared.

Prices of the basic crops, cotton, rice, peanuts and wheat, are supported by regular Commodity Credit Corporation loans, he pointed out, while the production of rice and peanuts for oil is being encouraged also by 1942 AAA payments.

Some misunderstanding has developed about price support and the Food for Freedom program, Vance continued, in that the call for greater production of certain crops was interpreted in some quarters as a call for greater production of all farm commodities.

"The Food for Freedom program is designed to get increased production of commodities which are deemed vital to the war effort," he explained, "and price support is being given those commodities only. The government has not undertaken any intensive measures to support the prices of non-war crops."

Vance mentioned particularly the call for increased production of canning peas, pointing out that price support would be given only to Alaskas and sweets for canning and not to the many other varieties which are grown in Texas.

BITTER PILLS COMING

One of the main arguments against the sales tax is that it is "politically dangerous." Even so, Congress may yet discover that necessity will dictate the adoption of some sort of sales tax, political expediency notwithstanding. "Politics as usual" may be finally forced by war necessity.

to take a back seat. We are reaching the point where it will be impossible to substantially increase revenue from taxes on business and individual incomes, without endangering the very existence of the economic and social system we are fighting to defend in every corner of the world. When that point is reached, a sales tax, which will be paid by all, is the only solution, bitter as the pill may be for vote-hungry politicians to swallow.

on the inside keeping defense plants closed. It might be well for all America to understand that the defeat of France was caused because she was caught with her plants down.

OLD MOTHER EARTH.
God Almighty first planted a garden. Garden making to this day continues to be man's purest pleasures, and the greatest refreshments to the spirits of the man who really feels down and out. Gardens are going to be worth a lot to our folks this season. Better plant one and gauge the size by your ability to take care of it properly.

THE DIPLOMAT.
The story is told of how a worthless tramp augured up to a back door in Amarillo and asked for a hand-out. The home was that of an old maid who was not inclined to encourage a man to seek the course of least resistance when she said: "You seem to be an able-bodied man and ought to earn what you want require." Then the diplomat came right back and said: "Madam, with all your loveliness and excellent expression of truth that burns my soul, you are right. At the same time, you should be in Hollywood making pictures where there is a thousand-dollar-week market for your graces and talents. Yet, you appear to prefer the simpler life." Then what do you think she said? Well, she invited him in, gave him a square meal and a suit of her brother's best clothing and sent him on his way to finagle some other woman out of what he should have earned by honest labor.

From where I sit . . .

by Joe Marsh

BEST storekeeper I ever knew was a fellow named Sam Abernethy. Sam's specialty was to take over some run-down store that somebody else had given up as a failure. Then Sam would turn it into a gold mine.

Well . . . the brewers feel the same way about it. They don't want their beer sold in wrong surroundings. They know it doesn't pay. And they know it hurts the good name of beer.

"But the most important thing of all," he used to say, "is to remember who's Boss!"

I was reading the other day how the brewers and the beer distributors work together and cooperate with law enforcement authorities. The idea is to make careless beer retailers clean up their places and practices . . . or close up.

"You may think you are Boss of your business . . . but you're not. The Public, your customers, are the real bosses . . . and you've got to run your business the way they want it."

It's a good plan . . . and it seems to me it ought to work. I understand it is already in operation in a number of states and is being extended.

That little statement of Sam's made a big impression on me . . . particularly since it certainly seemed to work so well in Sam's case.

It's a mighty fine thing when a great industry has the gumption to do a job like that on its own initiative. And if Sam Abernethy was right, the brewers should be mighty successful . . . because they're running their business the way the public wants to see it run.

And Sam isn't the only one. I see the beer industry feels the same way . . . certainly, the brewers believe in running their business the way you and I would like to see it run.

Folks like us like to see beer sold in clean, quiet, decent places.

1928 BOOK CLUB

A special pleasing feature of the Tuesday afternoon Book Club program was the review of "The White Cliffs" by Mrs. McHenry Lane.

Mrs. L. B. Penick gave a brief sketch of the life and works of the author, Alice Duer Miller, an American poet and novelist. "The White Cliffs" was the author's first long narrative poem. The book was published in 1940 and received almost instant popularity. It expresses so completely what many Americans feel about England in this dark hour. It has been reviewed innumerable times. The author herself has read it on several occasions for British war relief purposes.

The heroine of the story is an American girl who went for a week's visit in London. The visit was prolonged indefinitely because she had met and fallen in love with an Englishman. After a few happy months of marriage the husband gave his life to England in the first World War. The widow remained in Devon, overlooking the white cliffs of Dover, to raise her son as befitting an English gentleman only to be faced with the inevitable tragedy of giving him to Britain in the present world crisis.

Miss Maurice Berry and Mrs. W. E. Ray were hostesses to the Club in the Home Economics rooms.

During the business session, Mrs. C. V. Gattin was elected to membership in the Club. Mrs. Thelma Bennett's request to be placed on the associate roll was granted.

Ornamental Plants Becoming Popular

COLLEGE STATION—Sodding of 4,823 farm home lawns in 164 counties is a substantial step toward over-coming dust, mud, glare and heat, according to Sadie Hatfield, specialist in landscape gardening of the A&M College Extension Service. "Many persons in Texas," she adds, "still consider it a mark of laziness to let grass grow around their houses." But this pioneer custom is being over-come in 147 counties which reported the improvement of 6,368 lawns in 1941.

"Interest in growing plants for their ornamental value continued to increase during the year," Miss Hatfield explains, and people of town and country are becoming more conscious of the need for landscape planning. Planting of 665 windbreaks in 42 counties shows that people are trying to grow protection from the destructive winds which blow in many parts of the state. In 114 other counties, trees were planted for shade. Partial reports give a total of 88,231 trees planted during the year, Miss Hatfield says.

FRESHMEN & SOPHOMORES MAY JOIN NAVY

NEW ORLEANS, April 4.—Designed to provide a continuous supply of officer material with a qualified basic education, a whirlwind campaign to acquaint the nation's educators with the Navy's vast officer procurement plan—under which 20,000 college freshmen and sophomores will be recruited annually in Class V-1—will be launched next week, Eighth Naval District Headquarters announced today.

Five meetings, which will cover all states in the Eighth Naval District, have been arranged for the period from April 9 to April 16. Invitations have been forwarded to colleges to send representatives to the meetings.

Under V-1, college freshmen and sophomores will be enlisted as Apprentice Seamen in the United States Naval Reserve. They will be placed in an inactive duty status and allowed to continue their college education at their own expense, at least until the end of their second college year and perhaps until they receive baccalaureate degrees.

Approximately 35,000 of those who are enlisted will be selected each year for further training leading to commissions as Ensigns in the Naval Reserve.

Defense Training Film Is Now Available

AUSTIN—Ten prints of a sixteen millimeter defense training film entitled "Fighting the Fire Bomb" have been made available to the National Defense Committee for Texas, Governor Coke Stevenson announced recently. These are sound films and were received from the Regional Office of Civilian Defense.

Three of these prints will be used by traveling instructors for Air Raid Warden training of the Texas Department of Public Safety, and one print will be used by the training staff of the State Health Department. The six remaining prints, together with Instructor's Manuals, will be loaned to the 894 local defense councils in the State.

Governor Stevenson advised that the mayors and county judges, as municipal and county defense coordinators, are eligible to borrow these prints and may obtain them by writing the Executive Department at Austin. A service charge of fifty cents for each film, to cover cost of repair and handling, will be made by the two film distributors who have been designated by the Office of Civilian Defense to handle these prints. Express or postage costs will also be borne by the borrower.

Inasmuch as the number of prints available for loan is so small, Governor Steverfson has requested that the prints be returned to the distributor within twenty-four hours after they are received by the local defense coordinators, so that as many communities as possible can be given consideration. It is requested that these films be used only by instructors of civilian volunteers.

West Texas Construction And Oil Field Men Wanted

New Engineering Unit Being Organized At Camp Claiborne, La.

The West Texas Recruiting and Induction District, with headquarters at Lubbock, and Recruiting Stations at Amarillo, Pampa, Plainview, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Odessa and Fort Bliss has an assignment which is right down its alley.

It has been authorized, between April 10 and May 20 to enlist a group of NINETEEN—count them 19—different specialists for the Army. And these men are the type of rugged workmen who are numerous in West Texas oil fields and ranches. Allotments cover BOTH white and colored specialists.

The list includes Tool dressers and "Cat-skinners"; Railway construction Foreman and Highway construction Foreman; Welders and Quarrymen; Structural Steel Workers and Crane Shovel operators.

Enlistments can start on April 10, which means that Recruiting Stations can actually start shipping men on April 9.

This newspaper has a complete list of all the trades wanted. So has every recruiting station.

If you are between the ages of 18 and 45, and feel that your place is in this man's Army; if you feel that you want to get to work quickly, and at jobs which your civilian training fits you—where you can pull your own weight and more, in licking the Japs and Germans, then get hold of your nearest Recruiting representative right off and get all the information on openings in this call for the Corps of Engineers, Camp Claiborne, La.

West Texas, Let's GO!!

Aviation Cadet Candidates Get Another Chance

The Army Recruiting Service announced today that men who have tried the mental examination for aviation cadet, and failed to pass it, are now eligible to try the second examination.

The questionnaires for a new examination have been received by the Aviation Cadet Examining Boards in this district. One board is located at Headquarters West Texas Recruiting & Induction District, Lubbock, Texas. The other board is located at the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, Fort Bliss, Texas, "where the street cars enter the post."

Men who have previously tried the mental screening test for aviation cadets, and have failed should go to their army recruiting stations and make a new application. To do this they will need their birth certificates and three letters of recommendation from people other than relatives. Full information and instruction are available at every army recruiting station.

If you want to fly for Uncle Sam, see your Army recruiting station to-day. Army recruiting stations are located at Amarillo, Big Spring, El Paso, Lubbock, Odessa, Pampa, Plainview and Sweetwater.

Mrs. O. L. Fink, Mrs. M. A. Hahn and Julia and Alfred Hahn took Mrs. McInnis home to Wellington Sunday. They came back by way of Childress where Mrs. Fink visited her son Kenneth and family.

Mrs. Karl Adams and Mrs. Ed Dishman left Tuesday for Dallas where they will attend Presbyterial.

More Parachute Troops Wanted!

Most movie goers have been thrilled in the last month when they saw news reel pictures when they showed parachute troops in Utah, combining the technique of parachute troops and ski troops.

Now that the ground work has been laid the army is opening its doors to a few more young men who want to combine thrills, adventure, and good pay with their service to Uncle Sam.

The Army Recruiting Service has openings for 11 qualified men in this recruiting district this month. Men must be 18 years to 30; weigh not over 185; have good but not necessarily perfect eyesight; and normal blood pressure. They must be well-built, well-muscled, and aggressive. Full information is available at every army recruiting station.

Parachutists get regular army pay of their grade plus $50 a month bonus. If the new army bill goes through increasing the pay of a buck private to $42, the lucky young man who was accepted for the parachutist would get $92 per month, room, board, clothes, medical attention right from the start. That is as good as $150 per month civilian pay. And in addition he would get adventure, thrills, and the knowledge that he is one of Uncle Sam's front line men.

Miss Edna Shaffer, 2nd Lieutenant Army nurse of Flying Corps at Lubbock Army Flying school spent Sunday and Monday with her aunt, Mrs. C. R. Skinner.

Miss Rachel Melton of Amarillo spent Easter Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Karl Adams and family.

BOMBS!

... after 10 Years of Inaction

WASHINGTON is "concerned" because the country has not awakened to the danger of bombs!

And the people are concerned—nay, alarmed—because Washington has not awakened to the danger confronting the country!

For 10 years the average American has been exposed to perpetual e-motion. Each so-called "emergency" has resulted in creation of some new alphabetical bureau or agency until today he has little sympathy for the inconveniences of an over-crowded Washington.

With patience exhausted, the average citizen now is demanding something more than words, something more than cajolery to build up his morale.

He wants examples, actions, in high places.

Why, he is asking, is his money (taxes, bonds and stamps) allowed to be wasted on non-essential activities while boys in the armed forces are dying for lack of guns, ships, tanks and planes?

He ordered fighting equipment to rain bombs on the Axis!

No other country can compare with America's potential war production. No other has the men, the machines—or the electric power.

America's electric companies, under trained and experienced business men, are supplying power for the vast wartime industries, in addition to your home and business, where it's needed when it's needed and in quantities greater than the combined total of all the enemy countries.

Last year they paid $510,000,000 in taxes—enough money to equip 2,400,000* soldiers... enough money to build 9,273* pursuit planes, 2,429* light bombardment planes, or 1,522* flying fortresses!

Here's a business built the American way—by local enterprise and public individual investment—and regulated by the government and dedicated to defending America's freedom and democracy until the last dictator has fallen.

Can You Become Limp Like A Cat?

Can you become limp like a cat? To be able to completely relax in sleep is the secret of health.

Many never know the satisfying comfort of relaxation and health because of the fact that there is disturbance of the alignment of joints of the spinal column. This causes pressure on spinal nerves at the nerve exit and the result is irritation, reduced transmission of mental impulses and loss of normal nerve function.

Why Investigations In Public Assistance
Are Necessary

By Mrs. Dorothy Tarrell
Field Worker

When a citizen applies for public assistance—which in Texas includes Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Needy Blind, and Aid to Dependent Children—the State Department of Public Welfare is then required by law to investigate his eligibility and determine the amount of his entitlement. Many wonder, "Why does the law require investigations?"

The federal government puts up half the money on condition that the state set up certain qualifications for eligibility. Within the framework of these federal requirements, the state defines who is eligible to receive assistance. Sound public policy requires that the government not only secure the facts which support or disprove eligibility but that these facts be placed of record. Then field workers may change without endangering the aid being given. Federal and state auditors can verify by inspection of the records that eligibility has been established and public funds are being paid out in accordance with the law.

Actually the investigation is simply a study of the needs, resources, and other information about the person applying for assistance. Many people have a mistaken idea that an investigation is an unnecessary inquiry into an applicant's personal affairs. The public welfare department has no commission to probe into any facts not directly related to establishing eligibility and determining the amount needed for the purchase of the necessities. Investigations are confined strictly to the purpose of finding out, first, whether an applicant meets the laws requirements and, second, the extent of his need.

Although the securing of such information may appear simple, often it is extremely difficult. Birth or other records may have become lost or destroyed. No aged person born in Texas has an original birth certificate as the state kept no records in those days. Often it is necessary for the welfare office to check county records of marriage, church baptismal records, Bible records, lodge records, or to procure certificates of age records made by insurance companies, the census bureau, or have official records of other states transcribed.

In an investigation, the first source of information is the person who is asking for help. He is in possession of the greatest amount of information about himself and a local welfare office does not get in touch with any persons or agencies until after full information has been obtained from the applicant.

STAYING HOME FOR BETTER BARGAINS

"Is this war going to bring back the little town, which was practically put out of business by the good roads and the automobiles," asks the Gainesville News. Because the necessity of war has stopped the manufacture of automobiles, tires and other necessities in our modern day living we are very much of the opinion that such a thing is quite possible. Where local people, for instance, motored to other and larger cities to do their shopping, they will now do without or do their trading at home because modern transportation is out of the picture for the duration of the war at least.

R. Y. King Announces For Re-election

In asking for re-election to the office of county judge, I wish first to thank the people of this county for their whole-hearted support which they have given me in past years, both in the court house and at the polls.

I am running on my record, but at this time, I will neither try to tell you what I will do nor explain what I have done; a great majority of the people have my political finger prints anyway.

I will not get around to see each and every voter personally, unless the county rationing board can be induced to include the candidates in the favored class who may purchase tires for their cars.

I will however, try to see as many of the voters as possible between now and the primaries in July, and I will greatly appreciate your influence and support at the polls in July, and if elected I will do my best to return the favor by giving you an honest and economical administration of the county affairs.

Memphis Easter Cantata Is Decided Success

The Easter Sunrise Service at Memphis Sunday was a decided success, with more than fifteen hundred people attending. Those who witnessed the Cantata were well pleased with the manner in which it was carried out. The chorus and soloists rendered the hymns beautifully in telling the story of the "Resurrection Morn" in song. The Easter message brought by Rev. Ernest B. Motley was inspiring as well as informative.

The Cantata was sponsored by the Memphis Rotary Club.
