Court denied application by County Hospital District

Nov. 16, 1977, the Texas Supreme Court denied an application by the Donley County Hospital District which had been filed to reject a $48,000 settlement between the District and Geo. W. Smith, M.D. The District will probably face further court proceedings in early 1978.

Local agriculture leaders appointed by governor

Five agriculture leaders from Donley County have been appointed by Governor Dolph Briscoe to serve on the Governor's Committee to Make Texas Agriculture No. 1 in Income and Profit.

Committees are being established in every Texas county as part of the statewide effort "to strengthen the economic position of agriculture--our most vital industry." Governor Briscoe said.

The County committees have the responsibility of promoting cooperation and mutual support among agencies, organizations and groups involved in agriculture and agribusiness.

Pilgrims Give Thanks at First Thanksgiving Feast

IN THE SUMMER OF 1621 Plymouth Colony came close to disaster, for a long dry spell nearly ruined the corn. At last a gentle rainstorm saved the crop. Because their prayers were answered, the Pilgrims set aside a day for rejoicing after harvest time. Jeannie Browncombe captured the spirit of the feasting out-of-doors in this oil painting which hangs in Pilgrim Hall at Plymouth, Mass.

The first American Thanksgiving commemorated Harvest of Plenty

The first American Thanksgiving Day was celebrated during the second winter the Plymouth colonists spent in the New World. The first dreadful winter in Mass. had killed nearly half of the members of the colony. But new hope grew up in the summer of 1621. The corn harvest brought rejoicing. Gov. William Bradford decreed that Dec. 13, 1621, be set aside as a day of feasting and prayer, to show the gratitude of the colonists that they were still alive.

The women of the colony spent many days preparing for the feast. Foods were boiled and baked and roasted. The children were kept busy turning roasts on spits, or rods, in front of open fires. More than eighty friendly Indians came to the feast. The Indians brought wild turkeys and venison, as their share. The tables were set outdoors, and all the people sat around them like one large family. Prayers, sermons, and songs of praise were important in the celebration. Three days were spent in feasting and prayer. Then the Indians returned to the forest and the colonists to their tasks.

The custom of Thanksgiving Day spread from Plymouth to other New England colonies. During the Revolutionary War, eight special days of thanks were observed for victories and for being saved from dangers. On Nov. 26, 1789, President George Washington issued a general proclamation for a day of thanks. In the same year the Protestant Episcopal Church announced that the first Thursday in November would be a regular yearly day for giving thanks. "unless another day be appointed by the civil authorities."

For many years there was no regular national Thanksgiving Day in the United States. Some states had a yearly Thanksgiving holiday, and others had not. But by 1830 New York had an official state Thanksgiving Day, and other northern states soon followed its example. Virginia was the first southern state to adopt the custom. The Virginia state government proclaimed a Thanksgiving Day in 1855.

Mrs. Sarah Hale, the editor of Godey's Lady's Book, worked for thirty years to promote the idea of a national Thanksgiving Day. She sent out pleas through the columns of her journal and wrote letters to the various presidents. In 1863, President Lincoln issued a proclamation setting aside the last Thursday of November in that year "as a day of thanksgiving and praise to our beneficent Father." He issued a similar proclamation in 1864.

Each year afterward, for seventy-five years, the President of the United States formally proclaimed that Thanksgiving Day should be celebrated on the Last Thursday of November. The governors of all the states also called on their people to give thanks. But in 1939 President Franklin Roosevelt proclaimed Thanksgiving Day to be observed one week earlier. His purpose was to help business by making the shopping period between Thanksgiving and Christmas longer. Some governors refused to follow his example, and their states celebrated Thanksgiving on the traditional day. Congress finally ruled that after 1941 the fourth Thursday of November would be observed as Thanksgiving Day and would be a legal holiday. No holiday in all our calendar is comparable to Thanksgiving. It is the great holiday of the common people who have worked all year and now thank God humbly for good harvests, and the simple things of life.

This is National Family Week

National Family Week is to be celebrated during Thanksgiving week. Congress passed a joint resolution authorizing President Jimmy Carter to proclaim the week, and Mr. Carter signed the measure into law. The resolution and the proclamation both call upon Americans to recognize the importance of the family unit and the role it has played as the nation's backbone.

Thanksgiving is the traditional time for families to gather together. This year will be the third year in the last four that national recognition of family week has been authorized by law.

The originator of National Family Week is Sam Wiley, an assistant principal at a high school in Indianapolis. He also directs the National Family Foundation, Inc.

His congressman, Representative John T. Myers (R-Ind) first proposed the national proclamation in Washington. It passed the house 400-3. The senate passed it unanimously.

In urging passage of the resolution, Rep. Del Clawson (R-Calif.), house sponsor this year, recalled the pilgrim families.

"The family was their unit of survival," he said. "Techniques essential to self-preservation were taught within the family circle along with traditional book learning when there were no schools. Family unity was reinforced more often than not with family prayer."

Quoting anthropologist Margaret Mead, he added: "As the family goes, so goes the nation."

Clawson also noted that President Carter stressed the importance of the family in his inaugural address.

The congressman then had an editorial reprinted in the Congressional Record about children who became successes despite adversity.

The conclusion: "The Family is the key. The achievers are found to have close family ties which support positive values and where love is in abundance. The other young people fend for themselves and prey on society in an atmosphere of materialism and permissiveness."

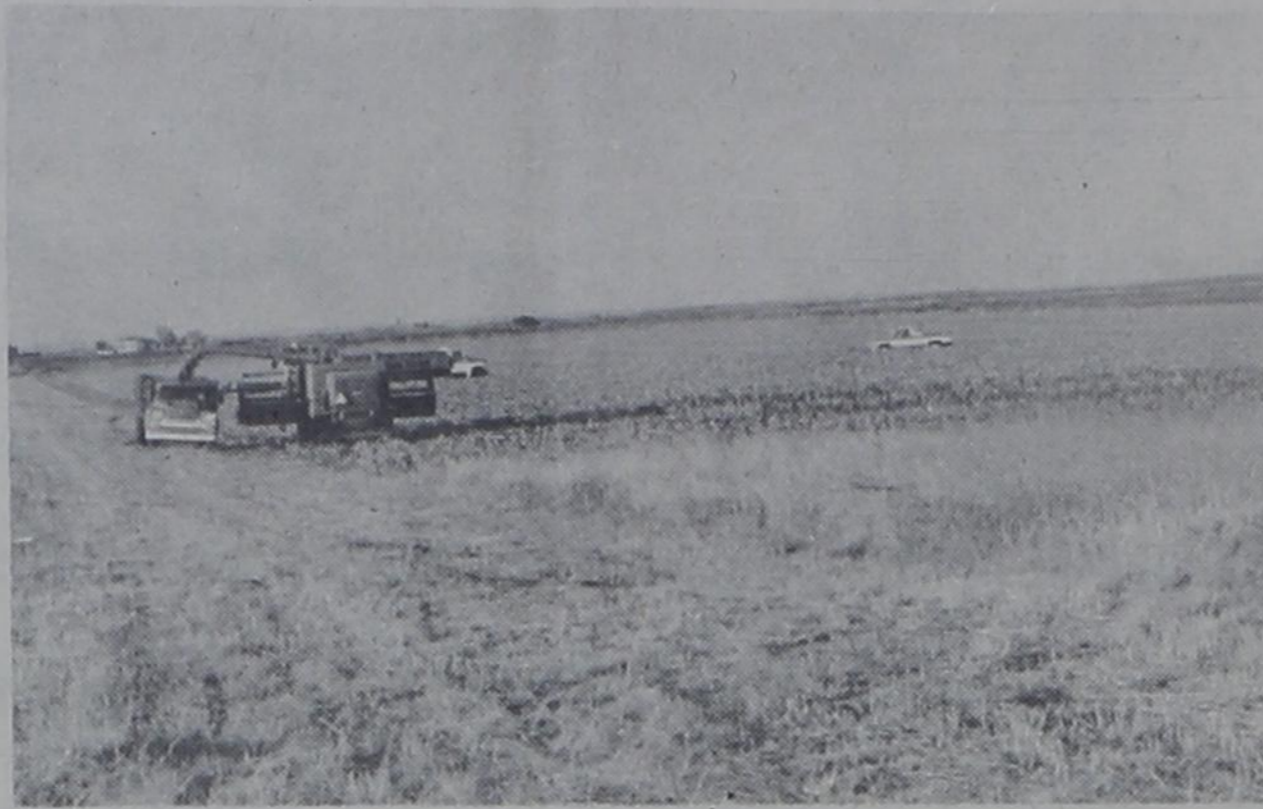

Concluding his message in support of National Family Week, Clawson said:

"The family remains our refuge, our security, the confirmation of who we are and what we stand for and what will be nourished in our children. As the young plant instinctively seeks light, not darkness, our young people, when the twig is bent, will choose the paths of righteousness. It is within the family that the toddler's feet are firmly planted on those paths. And they will choose love instead of hate. Because it is the family which teaches the most important of all lessons - how to love. Love between husband and wife, father, mother, children - and widening to aunts, uncles, cousins, and even wider, to include all mankind."

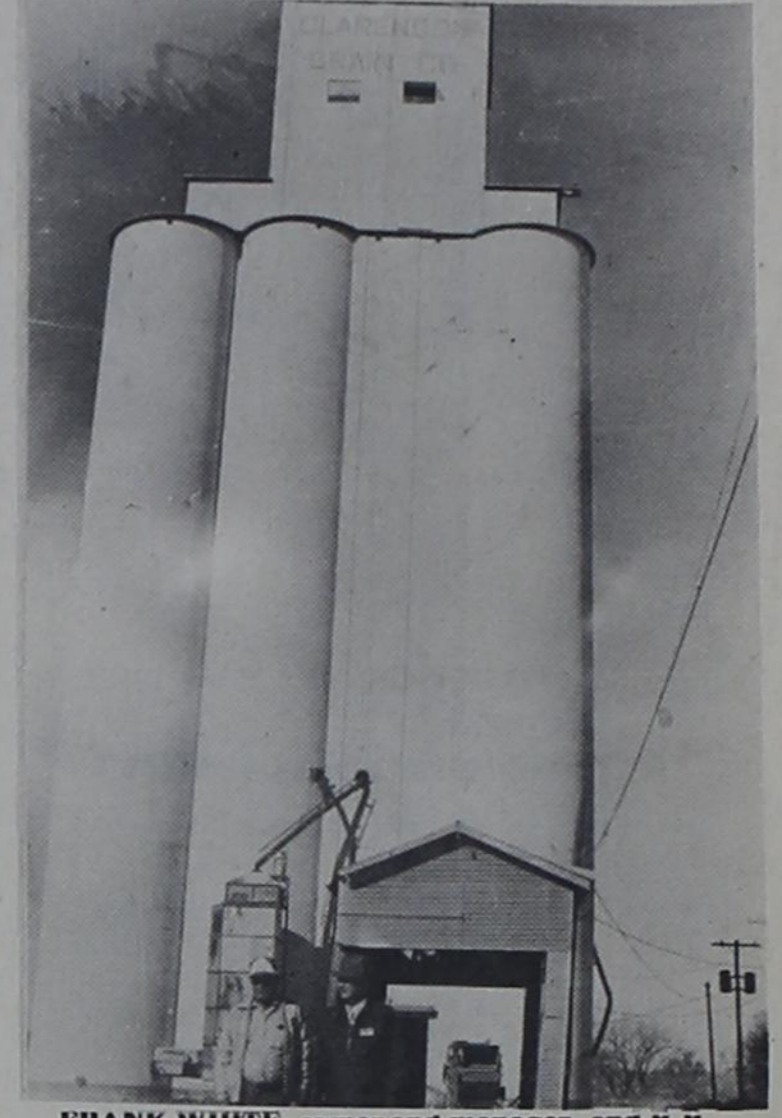

Milo harvest nears completion in Donley County

Milo harvest nears completion

Harvest of milo in Donley County is very near completion with an estimated 99 per cent now in from the fields. This year's crop was probably one of the best as far as yield per acre the county has seen in the last ten years. However, only half as many acres of milo was planted in the county this year as last so the overall yield was off about a third from last year. ASCS office reports show 15,000 acres planted in Donley County for 1977 and 32,000 acres planted here in 1976. Many farmers who generally plant large grain crops didn't plant any at all this year. At planting time the price of cotton was favorable over milo.

Average dry land yields as reported by managers at both Donley County elevators were 1500-3000 pounds per acre for dryland. Dryland acreage accounts for about 70 per cent of Donley County yields. Average irrigated yields were 3500-5000 pounds per acre.

Grain dealers also reported that the majority of milo was of good quality; all showed good test weight. Local elevators have most of this year's harvest on hand, which is about 170 boxcars. Much of this grain will go to area feedlots and will be sold by January 1. As of Saturday November 18 milo was selling for $3.15 per 100 pounds.

Larry Helms brought in the first load of milo to Bolin Warehouses the last of September and Richard R. Dinger brought in the first load to Clarendon Grain Co. September 27. Due to during harvest time farmers have been able to gather their crops earlier this year than in '76.

WHY DOES THE TEXAS FARM BUREAU CHOOSE BLUE CROSS AND BLUE SHIELD OF TEXAS?

In a dollar-for-dollar comparison, there are three simple reasons why Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage is better: 1. Each member of the family has a $250,000 Major Medical benefit; 2. It returns more of its premiums in claim payments to policyholders than most other major insurance companies; 3. And it doesn't set maximum dollar limits on most hospital services.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage means a lot to you. And it shows you mean a lot to the Texas Farm Bureau.

MY SPECIAL THANKS

By Laurie Dawson

For fruits of harvest, fields of grain,
And blessings of the sun and rain.

For colored splendor and season's grace,
For rugged strength in an old man's face.

Freedom for which our fathers fought,
And all the wonders God has wrought.

For beauty of a white moonlight
And stars to guide a man by night.

For the right to choose which course to take,
And a chance to mend the mistakes I make.

For rest at night that knows no fear,
For eyes to see and ears to hear.

For growing plants and fragrant flowers,
For fellowship of worship hours.

For every day's new joy of living -
My special thanks on this Thanksgiving.

HOBART MOFFITT

Hedley to honor longtime businessman on 80th birthday

Hobart Moffitt is well known throughout Donley County and the area. Once a person becomes acquainted with Hobart they never forget his polite, friendly, kind helping manner. Hobart a very successful businessman in the sales of hardware for over sixty years in Hedley, has seen many changes over the years.

Born in Corsicana in 1897, Hobart came with his parents and family on what he calls a "coffee train" to Rowe in 1903. The town of Rowe was located one mile west of present site of Hedley. In 1905 Hobart's father, William, sold the family farm for $12.00 per acre and moved to Elida, New Mexico. Then in 1910 in a covered wagon traveling a week to cross 225 miles, the family moved back to Rowe. After arriving in Rowe, Hobart recalls the family received mail at two locations, both in Rowe and Hedley as those were the days when the townsite of Rowe was vanishing and Hedley was being formed in its present location. Continuing on the move in 1913 the Moffitt family once again moved away from Donley County. This time they settled at Hollis, Oklahoma for a year, moved the next year to the free state of Van Zandt, then to Corsicana in 1915, and finally returned back to Hedley in October, 1917 to make their home ever since.

In 1918 Hobart began working for Moreman - Battle Hardware Company in Hedley and continued with them until January 1927, when he became employed by Thompson Brothers Hardware in Hedley. He worked for them until 1947. In that year he purchased Moreman Hardware and in 1948 bought Thompson Brothers Hardware. Hobart combined the two hardwares and moved to the store's present location.

Hobart has seen buggies and wagons for sale as hardware items. He has seen coal oil heaters and coal oil cook stoves replaced with electric and gas appliances. He has seen 22 short shells sell for 15 cents a box and Super X 12 gauge shot gun shells go for 85 cents a carton. Today they sell for $6.40 per box. Moffitt has seen nails sell as low as 5 cents a pound; today he sells them for 50 cents a pound. In days of lower prices, Hobart recalls, "We made better profits because goods were sold at cost plus per cent rather than at the manufacturers suggested retail price."

Through the years Moffitt has proved himself a very capable and successful businessman always able to establish a good rapport with his clientele. Local people say he always maintains an excellent stock and he draws trade from those throughout the country who know him for his fine reputation.

Joined by his sister, Ruby Beckler, who moved to Hedley from Atlanta, Georgia in August of 1977, the two as a team provide excellent customer service today. Moffitt, who will celebrate his eightieth birthday on Sunday, operates the largest business in Hedley. He operates the business he has known and loved for sixty years.

The Clarendon Press received the following invitation this past week for publication:

"Everyone is invited to a reception in honor of Hobart Moffitt on the occasion of his 80th birthday. Your presence and fellowship is requested on Sunday, November 27, 1977 from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the Hedley Lions Hall. No gifts please.

CLARENDON REBECCA LODGE ladies enjoyed an evening of fun Monday, Nov. 14 with a Hobo Supper. The menu consisted of Hobo stew, cornbread and other trimmings.

Yuletide mailers can choose this year between two attractive Christmas stamps when applying appropriate postage to holiday greetings and parcels being sent through the mail.

A colorful design of a rural mailbox, crammed with letters and packages, will add a cheery touch to holiday mail and customers interested in history may choose the design of General George Washington kneeling in prayer during the winter of 1777-78 at Valley Forge.

Both stamps are on sale currently at the main post office and all branches.

The Washington stamp pays tribute to the Continental Army which spent Christmas, marred by severe hardships and semi-starvation, at Valley Forge in Pennsylvania.

After an unsuccessful effort against the British at Germantown, General Washington wrote: "We have this day no less than 2,873 men in camp unfit for duty because they are barefooted or otherwise naked..."

This design, by artist Stevan Dohanos, is based upon a painting by J.C. Leyendecker which appeared as a Saturday Evening Post cover in 1935. Mr. Dohanos also is noted for his paintings which appeared on more than 100 other covers of the Post.

A snowy winter setting provides the perfect background for the rural mailbox depicted on the other Christmas issue. The designer is Dolli Tingle, of Westport, Conn., who also created the popular needlepoint Christmas Tree stamp of 1973.

Now a familiar sight, the rural mailbox was brand new in 1896 and represented an important link with the outside world for isolated farm families.

Today, rural mail delivery still provides a vital service. Rural carriers each day travel approximately 2.2 million miles to serve 13.8 million families along more than 33,000 rural routes throughout America.

Both stamps were printed by the gravure method. As an economy effort, the Postal Service issued the stamps in regular size rather than the larger, standard commemorative size which significantly reduced costs connected with the multi-billion printing run.

OBITUARIES

JOHN FEIDT McMAHAN

Funeral services for Mr. John Feidt McMahan, age 64, a resident of Clarendon and Donley County since 1928, were held at 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, Nov. 19, 1977 in Robertson Chapel of Memories with Rev. By Elesha Brandon

COACH ABERNATHY, FTA Teacher of the Month.

Man, oh man! What a fantastic and big week! I'm gonna try to cover as much as possible on the happenings of this week so that you will know the things that are going on in CHS! I know you are just dying to know!

Tamra D- Clunk? Hollow head! Ellen G- What were ya throwing the film at? David R- Welcome to Broncho Land! Hear you're pretty popular with a few girls! Mrs. Staton- and that was your child assisting P.C. with his cake? How cute! Stan L- Your method of watching the game can prove to be very interesting! Hmm... Janette M- When ya get that ball ya just don't miss! Kathryn P- Push him on up the wall! Lori

T- Luck comes your way... watch those calories! Shawn B- did ya rig the chance box for that cake? Gary M- Can't ya keep your shoe tied, or do ya have a problem with the little "thing" untying them? Adrienne Y- dig that laugh! And everyone hears! Ken Shelton- Shelby turning "Tarzan"!!! Janet C- Been curtain shopping recently? Bubba N- "Bubba's Newhouses"? Are ya going into the house-building business? Jeanna S- A crush? Really!!! Was it orange? Karen C- reckon "that test" was long enough! Jackie P- Good imitation of a "photographer"!!! Toetoe- "Nose" the answer to everything! Did ya find how many Seniors never have had any alcoholic beverages before? Rick W- are the ACT scores that you're trying to reach hard to come by? David Leathers- He made ya do a little chop on the "face", too? Mrs. Hayes- can ya do the referee stunt? How unique! C. Abernathy- making him swallow that stuff (Soal) could prove fatal! Dan Hall- did ya get them there? How fast? Paula H- finding ribbons growing in the grass? Is it a new thing to try to eat them? Kristi W- "Kristi had a little lamd...." Janna B- three licks and one for real! Really... your first lick? Charlie D- ya better not talk to each other, right! It's dangerous! Terri S- Your Highness... In need of a king! Millie H- did he spit all over ya? How nast... Mr. Nance- doing tricks? Give them those right clues! Jamie S- he said "Hi" three times! Already? Lisa S- beer "boy crazy" lately? Kim M- do ya miss him now that it's basketball? Wade P- done forgot it? What?? Oh! The pictures! Home and Family Sacks? on your heads? That's bad! Mr. Roper- CHS expresses their sympathy in the recent loss of your mother! Mrs. Stave- sorry about the "mistake" in thinking it was you coming down the hall! Hal NEW FAD AROUND SCHOOL: swallowing scole instead of goldfish...right Brad H? Preston B- making such drastic noise in 7th period library? Huh!!!! Mark W- one of Steve's Star's working?! GREAT!!! Billy P- HOLD THAT POSE!!! Gary T- why do ya go down the hall winking? That can make some people embarrassed, ya know!!! Dee Ann C- These quick muscle reflexes in Phisics! Knock them books around? Irven T-Black eye? Who did it? Uh huh! That's what ya get! Nancy J- Don't cry! He enjoys it! It won't be too long!

It's BASKETBALL TIME! Alright!!! The Spanish Club had their taco sell last Friday! From what I hear, they did pretty good!

The class officer pictures were taken at Bubba's house last Wednesday! The Annual staff would like to thank all the officers for cooperating. Also, the cheer leaders had their pictures taken. Watch for other dates that are set for your picture to be taken and please cooperate! It's YOUR Annual!!!

I want to wish all of you in CHS and in Clarendon a very Happy Thanksgiving! Since Thanksgiving is a time for giving thanks to God and friends, I just want to take some time out in this week's Bronc Buster to thank everyone for your support to CHS and the friends that you all are! If there is news on anything, CHS, that I need to know and the Bronc Buster needs to tell, let me know and it will get in here! Thanks for being such great Bronchos and fans! Be sure and let your friends and God know how thankful you REALLY ARE this thanksgiving DAY 1977!!!

The cutest couple for this week is... Todd Curye and Jodi Lemons! Good luck Bronchos and Bronchettes! You are the GREATEST thing that hit CHS! Keep on that Victory road that goes right through BRONCHO LAND OF 1977-78

Colts Corral

By Karen and Anna

Hi once again and welcome to Colt Country. Sorry its been a while since we've had a Corral, but we kinda got behind.

Well, football season is over and we had a pretty good season after all. Congratulations to both the 7th and 8th grade teams for their outstanding effort and for the great way they played. The football banquet was last Monday and was really nice. Brad Thompson was Master of Ceremonies. The Welcome was given by Scott Newland and the invocation was given by Spencer Hayes.

Now that football season is past, basketball season begins. Everyone plays Valley here Monday evening at 4:00. Good Luck!

Gossip: Brian F. has rediscovered his neck and ears. Sala L- Charlie is a cute lil' feller isn't he? Spencer H. and Scott N- Who's Bob Marley?

Karen K. & Lana D- She's a brick...house! Stella R- Come to me! Rosebud A- Go away! Sulynn A- I'm a smart ol' Mert, ain't I? Karen & Karen- Does a chicken have lips? Lacreia P. & Lana D- Does King Kong fly? Brian R- Do you sleep in your coat? Melody M- Chicago ice cream? Gina S- Writing notes to who? Dalyn C- Hardnose? Coach Hall- Is it really as bad as a busted sewer?

FTA action news

The FTA had their regular meeting Nov. 16th. Students who need more candy check it out.

FTA class pictures were taken and the FTA patches are in, they will be $3.00.

Nov. 17th class officers met and elected Coach Abernathy as teacher of the month, Lora Tucker as student of the month and Ellen Green and Bubba Newhouse as Mr. and Miss FTA of the month.

Phone your family this Christmas.

PHSA VOICE PROTEST

The Governing Body of the Panhandle Health Systems Agency, a representative regional planning organization, voted to protest recently published national health guidelines developed by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

The Governing Body unanimously voted to send a letter of protest to HEW outlining objections to the application of national population/bed ratios and other arbitrary criteria to Panhandle hospitals.

The guidelines which focus on "short-term opportunities for cost containment and quality enhancement" would require regional compliance within about 5 years, limit the maximum number of hospital beds to 4 per 1,000 population. The Panhandle currently has a ratio of 5.9 hospital beds per 1,000 population.

If adopted, the national guidelines would require a 33 percent reduction in the number of hospital beds available throughout the Panhandle region.

General areas covered by the guidelines include a minimum 80 percent occupancy rate, a minimum of 2,000 deliveries annually in metropolitan obstetrical units and 500 deliveries annually in rural hospitals, and a minimum of 20 beds in a pediatric unit.

Specialized services guidelines are proposed for neonatal intensive care units, open heart surgery, cardiac catheterization, radiation therapy, computerized tomographic scanners, and end-stage renal disease.

Public comments on the proposed guidelines should be submitted to: Office of Planning, Evaluation, and Legislation, Health Resources Administration, Center Building, Room 10-22, 3700 East-West Highway, Hyattsville, Maryland 20782.

Area hospital administrators voiced strong opposition to the proposed guidelines at the PHSA meeting on November 10th.

DEAN HAWKINS and Starla Mann, 4-H Gold Star Award winners, were honored by more than 350 parents, government officials, Extension leaders and other supporters at banquet in the Hilton Inn.

4-H Gold Star Winners honored

Thirty-seven outstanding boys and girls from the Texas Panhandle were honored, challenged and presented awards here Saturday night, November 12, at the annual 4-H Gold Star Awards Banquet.

For their achievements, the youths were honored by more than 350 parents, government officials, Extension leaders and other supporters who gathered for the banquet at the Hilton Inn.

They were challenged by Max Sherman, president of West Texas State University, Canyon, to continue their leadership and to strive for new accomplishments.

And they received their Gold Star Awards, the highest county honor offered in the 4-H club program, from District Extension Agents Sue Farris and Paul Gross. A boy and a girl from each of the 20 counties in Extension Service District 1 are eligible to receive the award each year for outstanding leadership, achievement and contribution to 4-H.

"You already have proven that you are leaders," said Sherman, speaking on the theme "Freedom to Be." He said the qualities recognized by the Gold Star award are qualities that will be needed in the Texas Panhandle, the state, the nation and the world in the years ahead.

He cautioned the youths to remember that the achievements for which they were being honored were not theirs alone. The game of life is a team game, he said, noting that team members who helped the youths achieve their Gold Star honors were represented by those attending the banquet. "It is the team spirit that makes it possible to have the freedoms we enjoy," he said. "What we need are people who are doers and who will continue to be doers," he said, urging the youths to use that evening "as a stone upon which to continue to build your life."

The banquet guests were welcomed by Nick Craig of the Rita Blanca Electric Cooperative, Inc., one of the five member-owned electric cooperatives which sponsor the event. The other four are Deaf Smith, North Plains, Hall County and Swisher County cooperatives.

Toastmistress was LuAnn Kiser of Dumas, vice chairman of the District 1 4-H Council. Entertainment was provided by the Midnight Flyers, a country and western band of 4-H'ers from Hartley County. Band members are Garre (cq) Shepherd, Dale Burson, Terry Williams and Troy Williams.

Gold Star honorees from Donley County are Starla Mann and Dean Hawkins.
