Laws governing historical sites announced

Just recently a number of enquiries have come to the Donley County Historical Survey Commission concerning the status of the old court house here in Clarendon. This 100th Birthday year of Clarendon and an increasing number of visitors from out of town have renewed interest in many of the historically rich places and persons near us.

It is one of the purposes of the Donley County Historical Commission to inform the public about these matters. We are happy to make this information available to those who have asked about present statutes.

The following sections are applicable, and are from Texas Historical Commission Article 6145 Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes

(As amended by 65th Legislature). The definition and purpose is explained in section 1 a.

Section 1 a. There is hereby created a permanent historical commission of eighteen members to be known as the Texas Historical Commission and is hereby declared to be a state agency for the purpose of providing leadership and coordinating services in the field of historical preservation.

Aims or goals are set forth in Section 7.

Section 7. The Commission shall furnish leadership, coordination, and services to County Historical Commissions, Historical Societies, and the organizations, agencies, institutions, museums, and individuals of Texas with an interest in the preservation of historical heritage and shall act as a clearing house and information center for such work in Texas.

The commissioners court must receive an application for any changes - other than routine maintenance.

Section 14. (1) No county may demolish, sell, lease, or damage the historical or architectural integrity of any courthouse of the county, present or past, without first giving six months notice to the Texas Historical Commission.

(2) If, after notice, the Commission determines that a courthouse has historical significance worthy of preservation the Commission shall notify the Commissioners Court of the county within 30 days after receiving notice from the county. A county may not demolish, sell, lease, or damage the historical or architectural integrity of any such courthouse for 180 days after receiving notice from the Commission. The Commission shall cooperate with interested persons during the 180-day period to preserve the historical integrity of any such courthouse.

(3) A county may carry out ordinary maintenance and repairs without notice to the Commission. To insure the safety of such buildings penalties have been set as explained in section 24 and 25.

Section 24. A person who violates this Act is subject to a civil penalty of not less than $50 nor more than $1,000 for each day of violation.

Section 25. The Attorney General or any resident of this state may file suit in the district court to restrain and enjoin any violation or threatened violation of this Act, to recover on behalf of the state a civil penalty provided in this Act, or for both injunctive relief and a civil penalty. Venue of a suit filed as provided in this section is in either Travis County or the county in which the activity sought to be restrained or penalized is alleged to have occurred, be occurring, or be about to occur.

Complete information is available at the court house, from the County Attorney or the County Judge's office.

Use your Refrigerator Wisely...

- * Open and close the refrigerator and freezer doors only when necessary. Several items can be removed at once to reduce loss of cold air.
- * Freezers and refrigerators operate most efficiently when filled to the correct capacity. Foods should be placed slightly apart on refrigerator shelves for correct circulation.
- * Cover all liquids stored in the refrigerator (especially frost-free models). Moisture is drawn into the air from uncovered liquids making the refrigerator work harder.
- * Be sure your appliance is standing level so that the door seals properly. By standing a glass of water on the top, you can see if it is level.

Defensive driving course to be held

A course in Defensive Driving under the direction of the Texas Department of Public Safety, will be held in Clarendon on February 21st and 28th in the Clarendon College classroom building. Jerry Burgdorf, Safety Education Officer, will be the instructor. The course is an eight hour curriculum that is designed to teach people to be better drivers—to drive defensively. The class will be held from six to ten each evening.

Just what is Defensive Driving? Through lectures, discussions, films and other visual aids, ALL drivers, even the seasoned motorist, is shown how to improve his driving habits. It is based on the time proven safety principle of "Recognizing the hazard, understanding the defense, and acting in time." Defensive Driving is driving to prevent accidents in spite of the incorrect actions of others and adverse driving conditions. Building on the established driving techniques of professional drivers, the course takes the basic driving principles of the motor transportation industry and applies them to John Q. Public in the belief that he who thought himself as good a driver, and better than most, could learn even more about avoiding accidents.

The course is open to drivers of all ages, and on completion, participants will be awarded certificates which will be honored for discounts on automobile insurance. The Certificates are good for three years. If you now hold one of these certificates, you are urged to check with your insurance agent and renew it at this

Farmers' tax deadline is Mar. 15

While most taxpayers have until Apr. 15 (actually Apr. 17) to file their 1977 income tax returns, the filing date for farmers and ranchers is much sooner.

"Agricultural producers who did not file an estimate of their income by Jan. 16 and did not pay the estimated taxes must file their tax returns and pay due taxes by Mar. 1," points out Dr. Richard Trimble, economist in management for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "However, if farmers filed an estimate, they have until the Apr. 17 deadline to file final returns."

Trimble notes that several changes were made in the income tax law during 1977 which should be of interest to Texas farmers and ranchers.

A major change was the elimination of the standard deduction and the low income allowance. These two items have been replaced by a flat amount called "zero bracket amount." This amount depends on your filing status.

"The zero bracket amount is not a separate deduction, but the equivalent amount is built into the new simplified tax tables and tax rate schedules," explains the economist. "This is true if you file the 1040A or 1040 income tax forms. However, a person who chooses to use the 1040 form and itemize deductions will need to make an adjustment if his itemized deductions exceed the amount allowed for his particular filing status."

Another change is that the deduction of $750 for each exemption and the general tax credit have been built into the new tax tables, so there is no need for the taxpayer to determine these. The general tax credit has also been revised to consider exemptions for age and blindness, adds Trimble.

Filing requirements have also been changed for the 1977 tax year. For example, an individual must file a return if his gross income is $2,950 or more and a married couple under 65 years of age must file if their joint gross income is more than $4,700.

"HELLO SUNSHINE". After days of cold, clouds, and snow the warm sunshine of last Saturday was most welcomed by Donley County Citizens. Pictured here Johnny Gaines sits atop the Lions Club sign and drinks in the morning sunshine.

If both are 65 or older, they may make $6,200 before being required to file a return. There are many other minor changes, and Trimble suggests several publications that may be of help. One is a publication No. 17, "Your Federal Income Tax," 1978 edition, from the Internal Revenue Service. Another, publication No. 225, "Farmer's Tax Guide," 1978 edition, is also available from the IRS or from any county Extension office.

to be drilled in Donley

Eight wildcat wells approximately 12 miles north of Clarendon are listed with intent to drill by Suoco Oil Corp.

Demand for drilling rigs is soaring as the petroleum industry comes out of a near-record year of exploration activity.

Area manufacturers say they are back-logged with orders for new rigs and drilling contractors report all their available rigs are running at full steam.

According to Ed McGee, executive vice president of the International Association of Drilling Contractors in Houston, the latest industry figures show 61 rigs working in the Texas Panhandle as of Jan. 30 with 37 making hole during a comparable period in 1977.

Hedley news

By Willie Johnson

Last Thursday, February 2nd, was Ground Hog day. The weather had been cold and cloudy all the week but the weather cleared in the afternoon and the Ground Hog could see his shadow. Whether he did or not we do not know but we are looking for more winter.

Mrs. Elsie Shaw fell on the ice at the Hedley School last Tuesday afternoon. She was taken to the doctor at Memphis. Her right shoulder was dislocated. She will probably be absent from school work for a week or so.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Bogue returned Wednesday of last week. They visited relatives and as far east as North Carolina. They saw a lot of snow.

Guy Bell of Wellington was in Hedley Wednesday of last week.

The first meeting of the Hedley Lioness Club was held at the Lions Den last Thursday evening, Feb. 2nd. It was well attended. They enjoyed a pot luck supper. The Hedley High School girls' and boys' basketball teams played the teams from Lakeview High School here Friday night. Hedley won both games. These were District Conference games.

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be at the County Court House in Clarendon every Thursday in February from 9:15 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

The Hedley High School girls' and boys' basketball teams played the teams from Quail here last Saturday evening. The Hedley teams won both games.

Miss Martha Sue Noel of Phillips visited her sister Mrs. Gertrude Boatright Saturday afternoon. They both visited another sister, Mrs. Mary Anderson, in Wellington. Mrs. Anderson has been seriously ill.

The pastor, Rev. Robert Brown of Clarendon, was back in the pulpit for the early morning service at the Hedley United Methodist Church. Attendance was a bit off for the service. Must have been the cold weather.

The Hedley F.F.A. and F.H.A. enjoyed a field trip to Memphis on Jan. 17th. They toured the cotton classing office and the Memphis Compress. It was an organized and very interesting trip to all the group. They were accompanied by Doyle Messer, Mrs. Sue Shields and Glyndol Holland.

The board of directors of the Greenbelt Water Authority are scheduled to meet in Childress this Thursday evening February 9th. Meeting time is 6 p.m. Virgil McPherson, the Hedley director, plans to attend.

The next meeting of the Hedley Lions Club will be this Thursday evening at 7 p.m. It will be just a regular meeting with dinner served by Mrs. Kate Stone and Mrs.

J.M. Baker.

Congratulations to Mrs. Marie Skaggs. Her birthday is this Wednesday, February 8th.

Burt and Kate Stone were in Amarillo the first of this week on account of sickness in the family.

A 'Happy Birthday' to Becky McPherson Doss. Her birthday is this Friday, February 10th.

Miss Vanessa Myers of Amarillo spent the weekend in Hedley with her grandmother, Mrs. S.A. Younger.

From One Act of Kindness Boy Scouts originated

The Boy Scouts of America got their start in a London fog.

William D. Boyce, a Chicago publisher, lost his way in a fog. A young boy helped him out and refused a tip for his services. He said he was a Scout and could not accept a fee for doing a "good turn."

Intrigued, Mr. Boyce interviewed Lord Baden-Powell, founder of Scouting in England. The Boer War hero told of his vision for a new kind of training for youth. He explained how he had taught his first group of 21 boys much of what he had learned from African guides.

Mr. Boyce took home the ideas he had heard from Lord Baden-Powell and became founder of the Boy Scouts of America incorporated on February 8, 1910.

One act of kindness led to the training of millions of boys and girls in leadership and sound values.

Mr. Stanley Harris of Watauga Co. North Carolina has the honor of being the oldest living Boy Scout in the world. He celebrated his 93rd birthday last year.

Lone Scouts another branch of Scouting

Lone Scouts is a branch of scouting that is unfamiliar to many people, even to some who have achieved high ranks in scouting and to some who have served as scoutmasters. This phase of scouting originated in England and the first Handbook for Lone Scouts was printed in 1913 and authored by John Hargrave.

Lone Scouts was designed for young boys who lived in isolated rural areas where transportation and distance were factors that prohibited boys from joining with regular troops of Boy Scouts. Lone Scouts linked boys all over the world. A chief requirement of the brotherhood was "Every Lone Scout write a letter or post card each week to another Lone Scout." Out of this requirement grew a world wide network of communication linking Lone Scout to Lone Scout.

Growing up on a farm near Kirkland, Texas Carl Morris, as a young boy, was attracted by an advertisement in "Cappers Farmer" magazine. The publication authored by Senator Capper of Kansas encouraged young farm boys to join the Lone Scout brotherhood. Being influenced by the advertisement, Carl joined with thousands of other boys across the nation and became a member of the Lone Scouts in 1924.

Experiences of Scouting taught Carl many things about camping, hiking, wildlife, woodcrafts, but most important he learned to live by a code of honor. The code of honor is very similar to the laws Boy Scouts are guided by today. The code read as follows: "1. A Lone Scout honor is to be trusted. 2. A Lone Scout is loyal to his master, home, parents, and country. 3. A Lone Scout does at least one good turn each day. 4. A Lone Scout is clean in body and thought."

The rally cry of the Lone Scout was "Live pure, speak true, right wrong, follow the king."

Today there are some 200,000 Lone Scouts in the United States and Canada and only about three of this number are known to be in the Panhandle area of Texas. Carl Morris and two in Amarillo.

Carl remained active as a Lone Scout three years, and a neighboring friend, Robert Hall, also, became a Lone Scout member. The Lone Scout program was composed of seven degrees that could be earned. At the completion of each degree the Lone Scout was entitled to wear the badge for that degree. Carl earned the first two degrees. The requirements were very detailed for each degree and a total of twenty tests had to be completed for each degree.

All degree work was passed by means of correspondence to the Lone Scout headquarters in Chicago, Illinois.

Lone Scouts are governed by Grand Council and by a Fellowship of Officers. The motto of the Lone Scouts is "Have Faith". The colors are: Blue and Gold. Their by-line is "Without Friends Our World would be a garden without flowers." The adopted Indian motto is "O Great Spirit, forbid that I judge any man until I have walked two moons in his moccasins."

Lone Scout work was patterned after the crafts and skills the American Indian Scout used in daily living. The Lone Scout learned to understand the signs of the woods, to find his way by the stars, to look after himself and to help other people each day. Two types of tribes were formed out of the Teepe Lodge. They were the local tribes and the mail tribes. Carl belonged to the mail tribe named "Lone Star."

Each year national jamborees of Lone Scouts are held. Last year the Lone Scouts met in Tocomo, Washington. One of Carl's highest aspirations is to attend one of these national meetings in the future.

Scouting experiences gained as a Lone Scout stirred Carl to become a Scout leader and member of the Adobe Walls Council during the years his three sons, Carl Jr., Dale, and David, were active in scouting.

For thirty years Carl worked for the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad as an Agent Telegrapher. Carl has always been active in civic affairs. He is a member of the Lions Club, Shrine Club, Past Patron of Order of Eastern Star, and a Mason. Today he is retired and is associated with Morris Sand and Gravel and with his wife, Pauline, in Morris Book-keeping Service.

Carl attributes his success in life to the training he received as a youth in scouting and in his heart lives a vow made in boyhood "Once a Lone Scout - Always a Lone Scout."

MELVILLE MILLS

Local Health Planning group active

Melville Mills, a resident of Howardwick, is currently serving as a volunteer on the 30-member Governing Body of the Panhandle Health Systems Agency (PHSA). The PHSA is responsible for health planning throughout the Texas Panhandle.

Mills is working hard to maintain and further develop quality health care at reasonable costs for all residents of the 25 northern Panhandle counties.

The major task now before the PHSA is the development and approval of a Health Systems Plan (HSP) and an Annual Implementation Plan (AIP).

The HSP is a broad planning document which specifies long-range goals and objectives for the Panhandle area. These goals and objectives relate to the health status of the area residents and the health care delivery system designed to serve them.

"The AIP is a more focused operational document which outlines high priority goals, objectives, and recommended actions that can realistically be accomplished within one year," Mills stated.

In order to meet the challenge of better health planning, five separate task forces drawing on local and regional expertise have been working on problems related to health education and information, preventive services, chronic and degenerative conditions, maternal and infant health, and mental health. Task force reports and recommended actions will be completed by early February.

Public comment on the HSP and AIP is encouraged. Drafts of the plans can be obtained during the second week in February from the PHSA, P.O. Box 9257, Amarillo, Texas, 79105, or from Governing Body members.

A public meeting is being scheduled for March 9th in which the plans will be reviewed and public comments received. It is hoped that many residents of the Panhandle will find time to participate in this health planning process.

Earth, The Blue Planet

Earth, the blue planet, covered by clouds and seas, presents itself as an impressive body to anyone viewing it from a vantage point in space.

The rather small planet carries as its passengers all the life that is known to exist in the entire solar system. Earth alone has the requirements and balances necessary for that magic of all entities the living organism. But earth was not always like this, nor will it always be as it is.

To understand our planet we must journey back in time some five-billion years--back to a time when our entire solar system was an enormous cloud of swirling gas and dust.

Visitors to the Don Harrington Discovery Center, a non-profit organization in Amarillo, will have the opportunity to do just that at public performances of "THE BLUE PLANET" on Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 3:00 PM, through March 11/12. Admission prices are $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for students under eighteen. The box-office opens one-half hour early.

The Don Harrington Discovery Center, located across from High Plains Baptist Hospital on the Medical Center at the western edge of the city just north of I-40, is operated for students Monday through Friday during the school year (over 27,000 attended last year) and for the general public on weekends. The address is 1200 Streit Drive.

Beef production short course to be February 13

A beef production short course for adult farmers will be held Feb. 13-16 under the sponsorship of the Hedley High School Vocational Agriculture Department according to Mr. Vernon Scott, Superintendent, and Mr. Doyle Messer, Teacher of Vocational Agriculture.

Dr. Richard C. Thomas, Beef Production Specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Animal Science at Texas A & M University, will be the instructor for the course. He is headquartered at Texas A & M University.

Dr. Thomas has a strong background in animal production and genetics. He received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Texas A&M University and his Ph.D. degree from Iowa State University. His graduate thesis was a detailed study of growth and size of cow and their affect on weaning weight of the calf.

For the past seven years Dr. Thomas has been in charge of the Beef Cattle Research at the Experiment Station at McGregor. His responsibilities there included the direction of record keeping and management of an 850-cow herd that was bred totally by A.I. and of a 500-head feed lot. This entailed direct supervision of the nutrition, health and reproduction programs employed there.

The short course at Hedley is scheduled to begin Feb. 13, 1978 at 7 p.m. in the Hedley Lions Den. Other meetings in the series of 4 will be held 2-14, 15, and 16. During the dates the short course is in progress. Dr. Thomas will be available to assist cattlemen with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction, according to Doyle Messer.

Cattlemen interested in attending the short course should write or call the superintendent of schools, Vernon Scott, or the teacher of agriculture, Doyle Messer. An entry fee of $5 will be charged.

Beef Production Short course certificates will be presented to each cattleman who attends all the training sessions.

Dr. Thomas states that the beef cattle producers of today must take a close look at efficiency of production. Production costs such as land, feed, labor and taxes are rising without a relative increase in market values. The specialist also states that in order to deal with this type of situation, the producer must look at the costs and returns of the different types of production systems. Dr. Thomas states that considerable time will be spent during the short course looking at the potential costs and returns of some of the production systems. Selection of important characteristics such as fertility, ease of calving, size and growth will be discussed along with topics such as pregnancy diagnosis, range management, supplemental feeding and herd health. The course can be changed to meet the needs of the producers enrolled.

"Short courses in beef production, as well as in other areas, are now available to farmers and ranchers throughout the state under a cooperative program between the Texas Education Agency and Texas A&M University," states Bob Jaska, associate professor, Department of Agricultural Education at Texas A&M University, who coordinates the program for Texas A&M.

"This cooperative program," states Jaska, "is designed to make the services of specialists available to conduct short courses under the supervision of public schools. Such a program will enable teachers of vocational agriculture to provide improved educational services to farm and ranch people."

Specialists are now available in the fields of beef production, farm electric wiring and safety, farm electric motors, arc welding, swine production, tractor maintenance, pasture, and oxy-acetylene welding.

Why do steers put on weight after eating cement dust? That's what research scientists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture are trying to find out. Cement dust is high in minerals, it's 27% calcium. And cattle fed this dust had a 28% faster rate of gain in weight than those fed the diet without cement dust. The steers turned the dust to beef not only more of it, but of a higher grade beef than steers on a regular diet. Which gives the scientists something more to puzzle over. Cement dust comes from mixing and curing ingredients used to make Portland cement, which is 99 percent of all cement made in this country. Thirty-three thousand tons of dust are collected daily by Portland cement plants, and there's a lot of it available in many of the developing countries, too. Obviously, the stuff is cheap in cost though rich in minerals. Scientists are looking over the organs of these steers and are finding nothing abnormal in any of them. In further tests, the dust put weight on sheep and rats. But to date, only animals working in research are authorized to eat cement dust, and only researchers are authorized to feed the dust and only for research. There is no meat on the market from any animals fed cement dust. We Hope!

U.S. Senator Herman E. Talmadge, Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry, urged Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland to make greater use of all available means for boosting overseas sales of the nations plentiful agriculture products.

Talmadge said the present surpluses of corn, wheat and other commodities, a major concern of producers and cause of depressed farm prices and farmer unrest in this country, make it imperative that "no effort be spared in expanding sales abroad." Talmadge outlined a number of steps that USDA should consider. Talmadge said "I urge USDA to develop an export promotion package which would include a variety of tools to expand U.S. markets throughout the world." Talmadge said he was in no way minimizing the Department's past efforts but it is clear that we face an extremely competitive situation.

After appearing before a Senate committee in Washington, Secretary Bob Bergland expressed his faith in the 20% set aside program on some of the major commodities. Bergland told Senator Bob Dole that he had no intentions of raising the support prices on some crops. Bergland said that if the setaside is left alone it will show its success. Even if he wanted to raise anything, I'm convinced that the White House would put the stops on it. After all, it appears 6.3 billion dollars is all agriculture needs out of a budget of 450 billion. How greedy to ask!

With spring coming up and the dust on its way, how will you clean your house plants? Be careful. You can use plant shines but they can damage your plants. By rubbing the leaves with anything other than a soft material you can damage the chemical coating on the leaves and therefore cut down on the amount of light the plant receives. The easiest way is to use a sponge or soft cloth and water with soap warmed to a temp of 100 degrees. Plants that have hairy leaves use water that is room temperature. Your plant should rise and shine.

One final note. It would be a good idea to contact your local ASCS office about any questions that you might have. Remember, we are operating under a very complex Farm Bill and not doing or doing something could cause you some problems later on.

Valentine Love Birds

Why are love birds the symbol of Valentine's Day? Because long ago it was believed that they always mated on this day in mid-February. Though this proved to be myth, the association lingered-

In 1896 William Jennings Bryan said it best, "Burn down your cities and leave our farms, and your cities will spring up again as if by magic, but destroy our farms and the grass will grow in the streets of every city in the country." As long as the North American farmer can supply our food at a price that allows us to spend the greatest part of our income for our cars and TVs and recreational items, our high standard of living can continue. But, when our farmers can no longer produce our low-cost food, or when they have no economic incentive or ability to produce this food - truly, again, "the grass will grow in the streets of every city in the country."

Because of misinterpretations of the policies adopted at the American Farm Bureau convention January 11, 1978, the following is presented as the total policy adopted:

"Depressed farm income has become a serious problem. Farm production costs are continually being driven upwards by government-caused inflation and burdensome regulatory programs. Farmers should be receiving full cost of production and a profit for their products, and this objective should be pursued with vigor in domestic and export sales. An over-supply of products must be countered by reduced production and/or aggressive promotion and sales.

Grain and other agricultural prices have fallen sharply and total net agricultural income for 1978 is estimated to be at a level comparable to the mid-30's. Agriculture is under serious financial pressure. Foreclosures and a lack of net income in producers' operations are causing a real loss in the use of resources.

We support higher net incomes for agriculture. This has long been the major objective of Farm Bureau and much has been accomplished towards this goal. However, we believe that if improved net incomes are to be long-lasting they must be achieved through market prices obtained in the marketplace and must not be dictated by government or arbitrarily set by individuals or a group of individuals. History has clearly demonstrated that holding farm prices above market levels requires strict controls on the amount produced. Such controls must be imposed and enforced by the government if they are to be effective. Farmers have opposed such controls.

Farm Bureau as an organization cannot legally endorse any form of agreement or understanding which limits the marketing of commodities or controls the prices to be obtained for such commodities without violating the antitrust laws and subjecting itself and its members to severe criminal and civil penalties.

We will:

- (1) Intensify our efforts aimed at improving farm prices and net incomes. This will include, but will not be limited to, the expansion of agricultural exports and domestic programs to expand market demand.
- (2) Develop and strengthen marketing organizations, structures, and programs that will improve net incomes for farmers.
- (3) Institute and support emergency agricultural credit programs which will assist deserving farmers in meeting the current financial crisis. This will include, but will not be limited to, expansion of the Farmers Home Administration's lending authority to meet current needs, with a high priority on FmHA agricultural loans, and an emergency expansion of the FmHA's insured agricultural loan program.
- (4) Urge the Congress and the Administration to control inflation and to examine carefully and remove or appropriately modify those rules, regulations, and programs which place added costs on agricultural producers and thus further intensify the cost-price income squeeze in agriculture."
