MAC's Golden Mule Shoe Promo Starts

MAC Includes All Business In Promotion

It was a small, but enthusiastic group of MAC members who met at First Bank Thursday morning to discuss upcoming promotions.

Eddie Morris, chairman of the MAC group, asked all businesses to try to have their stores decorated for Christmas by Thanksgiving Day.

He also announced that the city lights will be turned on the day after Thanksgiving.

MAC proposed a big, new promotion, which will be getting underway tomorrow, Monday, November 16, and will conclude on Wednesday, December 23.

This promotion will be the 'Golden Mule Shoe' promotion, and each and every business in Muleshoe can participate.

It was explained that it will not be necessary to be a member of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, or the Muleshoe Activities Committee (MAC) in order to participate.

Jerry Hailey is the chairman of the promotion, and is already scheduling the Golden Mule Shoe for the businesses.

In fact, the first three stores to have the promotion will be Fry and Cox, Inc.; Perry's and Cont. Page 6, Col. 5

Richard Campbell said a nursery will be provided for the Cont. Page 6, Col. 3

DeShazo, Dillman Set Open House

Joe Cearley, principal of Mary DeShazo Elementary, and Barbara Finney, principal of Neal B. Dillman Elementary, invite parents and local citizens of the Muleshoe area to attend Open House, Tuesday, November 17, on their respective campuses.

Parents and patrons are encouraged to visit with teachers and other school personnel concerning the school improvement plan, new programs, and other school related activities.

Open House at Dillman will be from 6:30-8:30 P.M. and Open House at DeShazo will be from 7:00-9:00 P.M.

Mr. H. John Fuller challenges the citizens of Muleshoe to seek information concerning their most valuable investment, the Muleshoe I.S.D., which is in "Pursuit of Excellence" for all students.

Patrons are given a special invitation for Thursday night, but they are welcome to visit any of the campuses during this week.

Wayland Ethridge and Bob Graves, principals of Muleshoe High School and Watson Junior High will host Open House on their respective campuses in the spring of 1988.

THIS IS NOT A PRACTICE, THIS IS FOR REAL--During the noon hour on Friday, the Bailey County Ambulance Service was summoned to Bovina Feeders, five miles west of Clay's Corner to pick up a possible heart attack victim. Persons at the Feedyard administered CPR until the ambulance arrived with emergency medical personnel. The Spirit of St Mary, Flight For Life helicopter from St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock, set down at the Lubbock Water Works east of Muleshoe, and the patient, a 50-year old man from Amarillo, was transported to a hospital in Lubbock. City, county and state police blocked the eastbound lanes of Highway 84 until the emergency transfer could be made.

CofC Manager Speaks To Lions Club

It was a program with an 'upbeat' -- when Toni Eagle, Manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture was guest speaker for the Muleshoe Lions Club on Tuesday.

Introduced by Lions' Program Director, Carroll Precure, Mrs. Eagle talked about programs and projects currently underway for the CofC and plans for the year to come.

Mrs. Eagle explained that the CofC has been involved with many projects, "we try something and if it doesn't work, we drop it," she commented. "we realize we do not please everyone at any given time, but we're working and working constantly."

"One of the main things we try to do is to alleviate problems for Muleshoe. We realize how good it is to live in Muleshoe and Bailey County, and our intention is to try to make it a better place for people to live."

The Chamber manager told the Lions about the upcoming slate of officers, including the officers held over, the new officers and directors, and the outgoing board members.

She explained a recent survey which was sent to 87 CofC members, and 50 non-members, asking for 'feedback' as to what they believe the CofC is doing right, and what they think the Chamber is doing wrong.

The survey will be used to help plan new projects, and decide whether to keep ongoing programs and projects, said the manager.

"The survey will be very beneficial in helping plan projects for 1988," added Mrs. Eagle.

Also coming in for discussion was the Community Banquet, scheduled for Saturday, January 16. Mrs. Eagle said there will be a 'mystery speaker' not revealed until the night of the banquet.

Dillman Students Have Contest

During the Month of October, Dillman Elementary School held a four-week attendance contest, with grade levels, pre-kindergarten through second grade, participating.

A clown with balloons was displayed in the lunchroom indicating the grade with the highest attendance. The balloons were moved with the highest balloon representing the grade level with the highest percent in attendance each day.

Weekly competitions were conducted between classes in each grade level, and the highest percentage class was given a treat each Friday.

The class in each grade level with the best attendance at the end of the four weeks received treats from Tropical Snow.

Receiving those treats were Early Childhood-Amy Gilleland's homeroom; Kindergarten-Anita Boyd's homeroom; First Grade-Sherry Skinner's homeroom; and Second Grade-Kay Leopard's homeroom.

To conclude the contest, the grade level with the highest overall attendance at the end of the four weeks was awarded a movie and popcorn party. This award went to the second grade.

Individuals from each classroom in every grade level were given a certificate if they had a perfect attendance record during the month of October.

PRE-K

Mrs. Carver's room; April Garcia, Tasha Norman, Juan Olguin, Mary Vargas and Bobby Guccerro.

Both ginners and growers were nearly 100 percent in agreement -- "We're excited about this year's cotton crop."

Fields of cotton are like snow -- and the mike is good, and the grade is good -- although some wish for a better price for their 1987 crop.

Yields of nearly three bales have been reported by some ginners, and growers.

Steve Bell, who farms southwest of Muleshoe had yields of up to 2.8 bales per acre on his crop that was gathered and ginned three weeks ago.

He did not predict that type of yield, but it was confirmed by Charles Moraw, manager of the Muleshoe Co-op Gin where the cotton was ginned.

Marshall Pool will have yields only slightly below that of Bell, and many other growers will see yields of nearly three bales.

According to ginners at Muleshoe Co-op Gin, yields of two to two and a half bales will be common this year.

Moraw, who first predicted he would gin 12,000 bales, has revised that figure upward, and says now, Muleshoe Co-op Gin may gin as much as 20,000 bales.

Fairview Gin, southwest of Sudan, is just getting into the ginning season, and expect to be in full swing within the next week after the hard freezes this week, is predicting a good year.

Around dryland cotton growing country at Bula in southeast Bailey County, Clauch Gin has already ginned 500 bales, and said the common yield is around one and one-half bales per acre.

Skipping to the southwest corner of the county, the Maple Co-op Gin says they have ginned 3,900 bales as of Thursday evening, with good yields of from one and one-half bales on dryland to more than two bales per acre.

They reported both the mike and grades have been very good.

Also, from the gin, it was reported that one grower got 16 bales from 11 acres of dryland.

From the Needmore community, Needmore Co-op Gin has 500 bales processed through the gin, and says the yield is generally one bale to one and one half bales on the dryland cotton in that area.

They are projecting 9-10,000 bales this year, double last year's production.

Skipping to Nickels Gin at Pleasant Valley, the gins are just now beginning to 'crank up' and they are expecting some two bales as their general yield for this year. Also, they expect to double last year's production with 5-6,000 bales this year.

At Enochs, Farmer's Co-op Gin had ginned 725 bales Friday morning, and almost all cotton ginned has been over a bale per acre, said Bob Newton. He expects to gin three times as

Mighty 'M' Band Plans Concert On Monday Night

"Just to say 'THANK YOU', and we appreciate you," says Mark Heidel, director of the Muleshoe Mighty 'M' Marching Band, and the band members, a free concert is planned for Monday, November 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the MHS gymnasium.

"This will give the other students, parents, and those supporters of our band a chance to hear some of the season's music presented in contest," said the band director.

"We will be featuring some songs from Marching Contests, some from football games and a few new selections."

All interested persons will be welcome to attend this free concert Monday night.

Area Girl Scouts Visit National Wildlife Refuge

Saturday morning, Nov. 7, cars filled with Girl Scouts began arriving at the Girl Scout Hut where at about 11 a.m. they formed a long caravan and proceeded South to the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge for an afternoon of learning, exploring and making new friends.

Upon their arrival at the picnic area of the refuge, they all gathered together to enjoy the sack lunches they had taken. Then it was off to the various "STATIONS."

Junior Girl Scouts (grades four, five and six) earned a Wildlife Badge. Their first station was in the wooded area where the scouts sat under the trees and learned all about trees and insects.

Nelda Merriott, chairman, conducted the part concerning trees and Patsy Chance explained all about insects. She also told of the fascinating travels of the Monarch butterfly. One of these butterflies was tagged in Canada and was found later in Old Mexico, a 2,000 mile migration.

Their second station was conducted by Sharon Black, Friona Service Unit Chairman and also troop leader from Friona, she explained poisonous plants of this locality, also recognizing wild plants in this area. She conducted a short field trip to locate and identify these plants.

The third station was conducted by Glenda Copley, who is employed at the Refuge. This station had a beautiful view of White Lakes, the favorite night-time haven of the sandhill cranes.

She explained the selection of the pecan tree as the state tree of Texas, as well as the state flower, the bluebonnet, and the state bird which is the mockingbird. She also identified and discussed other birds of this area and explained that the sandhill crane winter here because of the abundant grain crops and other type of lakes we have.

White Lakes, Goose Lake and Paul Lakes are all located on the refuge. They are all shallow lakes, large in area, and surrounded by treeless terrain.

The cranes stand in the water to sleep, but predators, such as coyotes, are easily spotted as they approach or splash through the mud and water to reach the cranes who can take to the air in safety.

Ms. Copley was assisted by Gilrobert Rennels, a Boy Scout. The fourth station was conducted by Kalam Puckett, and assisted by Darrell Whitaker, both Boy Scouts. It was held beside a prairie dog town, where the girls could view the antics of the prairie dogs while Kalam explained all about them. He also took a rattlesnake skin stretched on a board and told about reptiles, amphibians and mammals.

Following a cookie and coke break, the Jr. Girl Scouts hiked back to the refuge office where Don Clapp, Jr. Girl Scout Manager, answered their many questions. They viewed the stuffed cranes, bald eagle, badger and other interesting birds and animals. It was reported that on the hike, a perfectly carved arrow head was discovered, which was donated to Clapp. He showed a movie about Wildlife Refuges to the group which all found very interesting.

Then the group hiked back to the picnic area to begin preparations for the cookout.

The Brownie Workshop was set up along the trail at the refuge. The 16 Brownies hiked to the stations set up by Muleshoe Boy Scouts, Troop No. 610 Brownie leaders and mothers.

At the first station, Pam Bell, leader of troop 202 from Bovina, showed the girls how to make Trail Snacks from nuts, dried fruit, marshmallows and several other yummy ingredients. She told them that it would come in handy while on a hike and away from mom's kitchen.

The girls played games while waiting for their guide to lead them to the next station. Boy Scouts, David Lutz and Darrell Whitaker, took the Brownies on an Ecology hunt at the second station where they learned about several different species of trees.

Several interesting things were found for the girls to study and observe. At the third station they learned more about how to be an outdoor discoverer as Anita Johnson, assistant leader of Troop 322, Rose Mary Anzaldua and Gilrobert Rennels, Boy Scout, showed them how to use their senses in a touch, smell and listen hunt. They also learned how to take something home without disturbing nature.

The Brownies were then led along the trail by their guide, Cheryl Puckett, leader of Troop 322, to station No. 3 where Knots and Trail Signs were the theme. Boy Scouts, Scott Mirrimontes, Ryan Clapp and Robbie Clapp, instructed the girls in the art of knot tying and trail signs.

The workshop concluded with a visit to the refuge office where Clapp had a slide presentation for them and answered questions posed by the girls.

Then they joined the Jr. Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts at the picnic area where a roaring campfire heated the hot chocolate and hot-dog-makings. Mrs. Den (Louise) Clapp joined them for their out-door meal.

Several flocks of cranes passed over the picnic area on their way to the lake and the girls were surprised at their size. Some cranes reach a height of four feet! It became evident that many of the returning cranes circled the rather noisy and active group and approached the lake from the South. Their returning flights were watched as the sky grew darker. The group then went to the lakes to see the black areas of cranes on them.

By now the stars were visible and they heard the night-time "hanking" of the cranes. Suddenly the "yip-yipping" of coyotes was added to the honking sounds and that's when the girls scrambled to get back into the vehicles, claiming, "that gives me cold chills".

It was reported that all the way back to town the girls practiced barking like coyotes and came out with some pretty good imitations.

Eight troops were represented at the workshop. The four Junior troops were: Troop 92 from Friona, Alice Blac, Andrea Escobedo, Connie Clark and Tammi Martnez. Also Troop 182, being Jacklyn Peace, Kristi Meese and Abby Johnson. Sharon Black, Troop leader from Friona brought the group.

Although Sharon Williams, troop leader from Troop No. 328 was not able to attend, four of her troop attended, they were Sharon Johnson, Yolanda De-Hoyos, Kimberlee Vaughn and Carissa Buie.

Junior Troop No. 190 of Muleshoe was represented by leaders, Mary Franklin and Renee Rudd. Cathy Gable, a parent, was also in attendance. Their troop members present were Angie Gable, April Franklin, Genny Eggers, Casie Dodd, Shawna Delaney, Rebecca Flores, and April Sawyer. Lantonya Payne of Sudan joined the group also.

The Outdoor Fun Badge was earned by the Brownies attending the workshop in the World of Out Doors. Those girls were: Tracey Orozco, and Margaret Olvera of Troop 273 from Muleshoe, and Kayna Puckett. Vanessa Orozco, Anna Zera, Misti Johnson, Stephanie Sexton, Amy Campbell, Crissy Davis, Kimberly Anzaldua, Rhonda Copley and Cambrai Lewis of Troop 322 from Muleshoe. Guests were Tina Orozco and Lisa Johnson, future Brownies.

Troop 202 from Bovina, Jessica Stowers, Tammy Stormes, Lori Beauchamp and Kasey Bell.

It was reported that Martha Couch, Field Service Director of Plainview, came and declared the event a resounding success.

The girls agreed to be a Girl Scout was a LOT of Fun... especially badge workshops at the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge.

ABOUT YOUR HOME

By April Rhodes

Gutters and drainspouts should be cleaned often where falling leaves collect.

Brisk walking, an excellent exercise, is most enjoyable at this season when mother nature has displayed so much beauty.

Don't forget to put out seed, bread crumbs and rendered suet for the birds when the ground is covered with snow.

It's already late if you haven't begun to think about Christmas and shopping. Prices usually go up on many items in December, selection is more limited and crowding more intense.

much this year as he did in 1986. Newton also said almost all cotton in that area is yielding more than a bale per acre.

Lariat Gin, on Highway 84, west of Muleshoe said they will probably gin 2,500-3,000 bales this year and early indications are from one and one half bales per acre to just over that amount.

"We're really excited this year," said Don McDonald at Clay's Corner Gin, where they are just beginning the season.

"It's tremendous," he said of the one and one half to two bales per acre being brought into the Clay's Corner Gin.

They are expecting to gin about twice the bales they did a year ago.

McDonald, who said he has been farming for 33 years, said he has never seen cotton yields like those being reported this year.

All, in all, this is turning out to be a very good year for farmers in this area.

every business in Muleshoe is eligible.

There will be a poster for the door or window of the business stating, "The Golden Mule Shoe Is Here. Can You Find It?"

It is expected to create much interest during the Christmas shopping season, and a word to shoppers -- you will have to look for it -- it will not be out in 'plain sight' for anyone to find quickly or easily.

Any business wishing to participate in this big promotion should contact Jerry Hailey at Ben Franklin, who will set the dates for the Golden Mule Shoe to be at your business.

Also announced by Morris was the Christmas Parade for Saturday, December 5, and the Arts and Crafts Show for Friday and Saturday, December 4-5.

Heart Association Plans Heart Phone Give-A-Way

The Bailey County Division of the American Heart Association will be conducting two drawings and giving away two Crusader Heart Phones. The first drawing will be held on Saturday, Dec. 5 following the Annual Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce Christmas parade. The second drawing will be conducted the day before St. Valentine's Day on Saturday, Feb. 13, 1988, during their Annual Heart Association Radio Day and auction.

Students in grades three through fifth are eligible to win. With each twenty-five cent donation to the American Heart Association, the student will be entitled to one registration for the free Heart Phone or five registrations with each dollar donation. (That's five chances to win the Heart Phone). There are no limit on the amount of donations and chances.

"For each of you as parents, we urge you to encourage your child that 'Giving is far more rewarding than receiving,'" said Hugh Young, development chairman of the Bailey County Division of the American Heart Association.

"The American Heart Association is one of the most vital charitable organizations in the United States. The Texas Affiliate as well as the local Bailey County Division is working toward the goal of eliminating the Number one killer in the United States--Heart Disease. Without your help, there could be no vision of that hope.

"The Bailey County Division of the American Heart Association takes this time to thank all of you for your continuous support. We are fighting for your life--and your donation makes that fight worthwhile--Good Luck in the Drawings!!!" he continued.

Texas A&M researcher finds school counselors need suicide training

COLLEGE STATION — High school counselors have a weakness in identifying suicidal behavior in students, research at Texas A&M University reveals.

After a student he was counseling committed suicide, Brookie Pitcock, a high school counselor in Texas for almost nine years and a Texas A&M doctoral student, was prompted to find out how many counselors recognized the warning signs of suicide.

"The increase in adolescent suicide in the last 25 years is startling and counselors often have the first opportunity to observe suicidal indicators in their students," said Pitcock.

The research showed that counselors are deficient in recognizing the warning signs of suicide and that many of the counselors said they feared working with suicidal adolescents because they felt they were inadequately prepared.

One surprising research result, according to Pitcock, was that the smaller school district counselors seemed more aware of suicidal tendencies of their students than the larger school districts.

TOUCH OF HISTORY

Muleshoe Journal First Edition Published Saturday, 2-3-1924

By JOELLA LOVVORN

Muleshoe Journal's first edition, Vol. 1, Number 1, was published Saturday, February 23, 1924, beginning 39 years of service to Muleshoe and Bailey County.

Above the mast head of the first paper was a slogan which read: "It Is Too Late Now To Become Dissatisfied With This Part Of The Country, Because King Cotton Has Taken Charge Of It!"

Bold headlines across the six-column page blasted forth, "Muleshoe School Is Given Class 'B Rank by Examiner" and a subhead below went into more detail by proclaiming, "Approval of $1,000 for Special Aid or Bonus Announced. Consolidated District Reaching Popular Support. Next Ambition Is To Reach Class 'A'."

The front page also carried three pictures of a train engine foiler which had exploded and killed two men. The cutlines beside the pictures read: "Above-Demolished boiler of engine No. 1455 which exploded 12 miles northwest of here last week, killing engineer, O.E. Plumlee and fireman, Tim Cronin. Right below-drive wheels and frame of locomotive sent rushing down the track by the impact of the explosion."

D.O. Smith who lives west of Progress at the present time, saw the explosion take action.

Publisher and proprietor of "The Muleshoe Journal" was E. E. Hull and Levi Pressly, the editor.

The newly established weekly paper's subscription price per year was $1.50.

-1924-

An editorial in the second paper, Vol. 1, Number 2, published Saturday, March 1, 1924, stated the paper's purpose and began by proclaiming, "The Journal is proud of the expressions of confidence and faith received from people of Bailey County and with the continued cooperation of every citizen of the County, we can have a paper worth while. We are here to stay, and it is our aim to boost the County and surrounding country. There are several things the town and county need and we are going to do our best to get them. We have one of the best farming sections of the State and there is no sound reason why we should not come to the front and do some real building and development during the present year. We should have a telephone system, a new court house and other things too numerous to mention. Let's all continue to pull together and get some of these things."

Across the top of the six-column mast head of the second paper was, "With Butter At Fifty Cents and Eggs Twenty-Five, The Cow Has The Hen Backed Off The Board".

Those listed in the "Political Announcements" column in the second paper were, County Judge, F.E. Abney and R. J. Klump, (re-election); for sheriff, Elmer Hoskins and H.A. Douglas; for County Judge, F.E. Abney; and for Hide and Animal Inspector, J.B. Rutherford. They were announcing their candidacies for the Democratic nomination for their various offices subject to the action of the primary election to be held July 26, 1924.

-1924-
Some of the Muleshoe Journal's first advertisers included: Worrell's Optical Shop; A.V. McCarty, Jr. Drugs and Sundries; Leon Dropff Auto Repair; Muleshoe National Farm Loan Assoc.; D.O. Smith Ford Cars, Trucks, Tractors; Bailey County Abstract Co., L. S. Barron, mgr.; Levi Pressly, Attorney-at-Law; Blackwater Valley State Bank; Kendall Dry Goods Co., Clovis, N.M.; A.R. Matthews, Physician and surgeon; Mrs. Ann Moeller, Staple and Fancy Groceries.

C.F. Moeller, brick layer and plasterer; New State Auto Garage, Clovis; Arnold Morris, Automobile repairing and adjustments; A.L. Faulkner & Company, Investments; J.L. Taylor Barber Shop; Muleshoe Abstract Company, A.P. Stone, proprietor; A. Wiedmann Shoe Store, Johansen Shoes;

M.P. Smith, Dry Goods and Grocery; White Front Garage, A.W. Coker, proprietor; E.R. Hart Lumber Company;

C.D. Gupton & Son Groceries; Bailey County Elevator Company, Ray Griffiths, manager; R.L. Brown, Real Estate and Farm Loans; Gupton Hotel; J.C. Penney Co., Clovis; W.G. Panter, dealer in lands; and R.B. Canfield, dealer in lands.

-1924-
An interesting slogan across the top of the third paper reads, "Pop Boone, of the Fort Worth Record Has Finally Located Muleshoe. But Pop Hasn't Traveled Much."

-1924-
A little announcement by the Methodist Church stated, "preaching second and fourth Sunday mornings and nights, Sunday School each Sunday. We have Junior choir for children. Please let us have your child, D.R. Fort, P.C., Pastor."

-1924-
Area correspondents were searched out early in the paper's history, as in the lower righthand corner of the third issue a solicitation was made; Correspondents Wanted. The Muleshoe Journal wants correspondents from all neighborhoods of the county. To all regular correspondents, The Journal, stamps, and paper will be sent free. Let us hear from you for next week's paper.

-1924-
An editorialized note in the first paper stated that The Journal did not believe in hoisting the red flag unless it was entirely necessary, and in the third issue another note stated, "hoisting the red flag might be necessary if there is not some steps taken toward making the highway south of Muleshoe passable. Nuf sed!!

An announcement of new ownership of the Journal was made by R.B. Boyle, editor (and we assume owner) in the February 6, 1925 issue. He quoted rules and regulations of the paper in a half column statement.

Another paragraph stated, "The best paper published in Bailey County, The Muleshoe Journal is in its new home across the street from the court house. (East) Equipped to handle all your printing, from the simplest to the most

Sudan Lions Club Sponsored Halloween Carnival

By Kenna Sue Richards

On Halloween night, the Sudan Lions Club sponsored the Halloween Carnival in the Sudan school bus barn. Among the booths were a Sponge Throw sponsored by the ninth grade. The eighth grade had a basketball booth and a booth where a candle had to be put out by a person shooting a water gun.

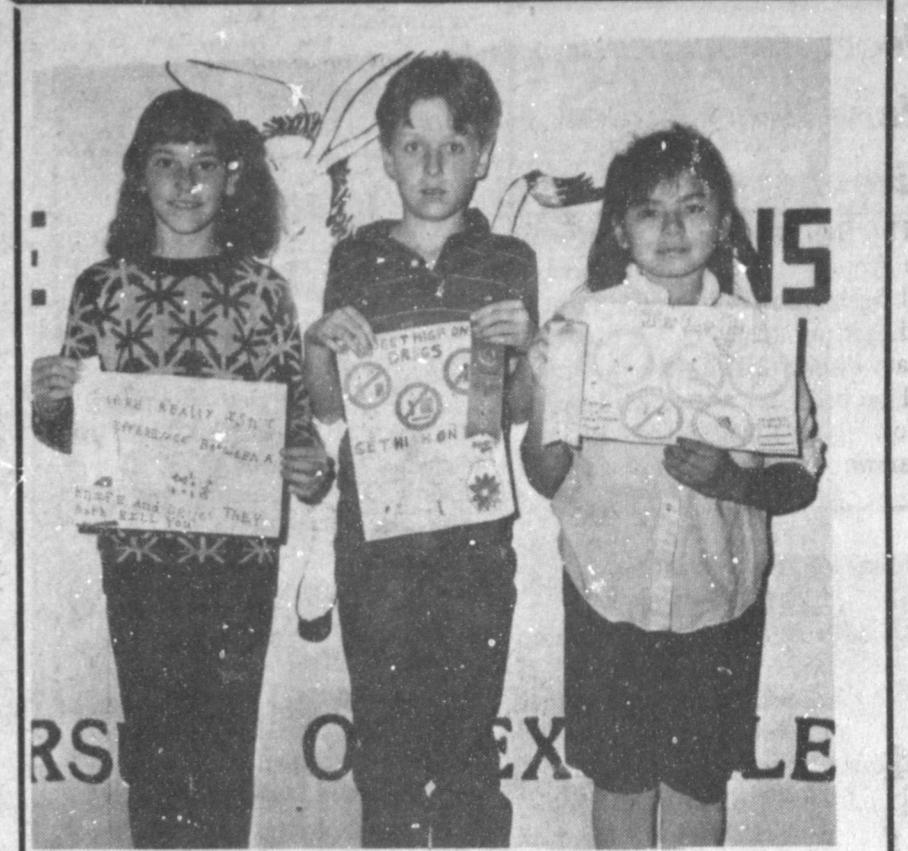

The junior class had a jail where for 25 cents a person could have a friend or enemy arrested. Then that person could either serve ten minutes in jail or pay 50 cents bail to get out. A pardon could also be purchased for $1.00. This insured no arrests all night.

A new booth this year was a fajita wagon also sponsored by the juniors. Everyone enjoyed his or her fajitas while trying to win either a pie at the tenth grade pie walk or a cake at the senior cake walk.

The Sudan Women's Club also got involved with a bean bag toss and putt putt goif.

Other clubs with booths were Industrial Arts with a nail driving event, and FCA with a basketball shooting booth.

The Lions Club not only sponsored the carnival, but had Bingo and the Concession Stand.

FIFTH GRADE DRUG POSTER WINNERS--Anna Mendoza drew the first place poster during Say No To Drugs week at Mary DeShazo Elementary. Donnie Matthews placed second and Julie Gilleland placed third. They are all fifth grade students.

Something Special XI Coming Up

There's Something Special coming up for you at Sudan. It will be Something Special XI and is simply entitled "Let's Be Thankful for Thanksgiving."

It will be staged Saturday, November 21 at the Sudan High School Auditorium, and will of course, be featuring The Anchor Brothers Band who will be sharing some of the brand-new songs from their latest album.

Many of the songs were written by Reydon Stanford, and others will be standard favorites.

"I feel assured that we are all thankful for America and the freedom that we share," said Kenneth Richards of The Anchor Brothers Band and a founder of the Something Special series.

"We also should be thankful for the knowledge of a higher power, bigger than any of us.

"This Something Special is full of good, clean family entertainment and will feature:

Hilton McLaurin, a bab-piper; Don Caldwell, with his get-down saxophone; Johnny Barbosa and his classical guitar; C. L. White and some soul gospel; Cecil Caldwell with country fiddlin'; and Cecil Caldwell's granddaughters with their dance-clogging.

All the entertainment except The Anchor Brothers Band will be coming to Sudan from Lubbock.

Crime Funds Available For Victims

Residents of Muleshoe and the surrounding area will be among those benefitting from recently approved grants for crime victim assistance programs announced through the office of Governor Bill Clements. Lubbock's Women's Protective Services (WPS) will receive $40,324 for its regional victim and volunteer outreach program for a 12-county area surrounding Lubbock. Funds for the grant were made available in Texas for fiscal year 1988 through the federal Victims of Crime Act. Money collected from federal fines and forfeitures is distributed throughout the state for victim programs. The fact that the money comes from criminals and helps victims should not be overlooked, Clements said. "The offenders pay for their crimes in more ways than one," he said. "Recognition of victims and their rights is a continuing concern of my administration." Angela McGranahan is the coordinator of the regional victim volunteer program which serves the Muleshoe area. "Last year with this grant we concentrated on establishing initial contacts with criminal justice personnel in the 12 counties," she said. "the funding of the grant this year will enable WPS to concentrate on establishing local resources for victims of crime."

FUN... AND WORK

To receive pleasure we must put out some effort. The building of a sled, or pulling it afterward is work, but all of these things add up to a wonderful time. The same holds true with the Lord, those who serve him receive the greatest pleasure.

"Serve the Lord with gladness... enter his courts with praise."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

COTTON LOOKS MORE LIKE SNOW--Stalks of white, white cotton resemble a field of snow--and this is a familiar sight all over this area. This year, bumper yields are being reported. This field is expected to yield up to three bales per acre, or perhaps more. Stripping started on the cotton Thursday.

Needmore Thanksgiving Dinner Set

Needmore is coming to Muleshoe!! That's right! This year, the annual Needmore Community Club Thanksgiving Dinner will be served in Muleshoe at the Bailey County Coliseum. Saturday, November 21.

For many years, the dinner was served at the Needmore Community Building. This was long outgrown -- then for a couple of years -- the dinner was served in the former Beene Grocery Building.

Now, the popular dinner will be served at the Bailey County Civic Center and Coliseum -- it will be the same good food in a different setting.

Serving will be getting underway at 5 p.m., and continue until 8:30 p.m.

Tickets will be $6 for adults and $3 for children under the age of 12.

During the evening, a king-size quilt will be given away to some lucky winner. Tickets for the quilt are $1 each and may be purchased at the door.
