Good Times Ahead

Not since the fall of 1929, when business toppled and the depression began, have business conditions in the United States been so favorable as at the present time.

Never before have there been so many indications of a returning prosperity as at the present. The magazine Time reports that the first 76 corporations to publish third-quarter reports show aggregate profits of about $71,500,000 which amounts to a 47 per cent improvement over the same period last year.

All of which is an indication that the prediction of the United States Chamber of Commerce of better times for 1937 is to be borne out by the facts.

Typical of the point of view of leaders of business is the statement of Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors, who, in announcing the employee bonus, an increase in wage scale and a year-end stock dividend said the announcement was made "in view of the fact that it is likely the current trend of business activity will continue, so far as can now be seen—at least as to 1937—and further."

Short Crop, Low Price

Texas pecan growers facing an unusual situation this—the shortest crop in many years, coupled with an extremely low price. It is generally understood that for agricultural products at least, the supply to a large extent governed the price paid for commodities.

In spite of the department of agriculture prediction—borne out by facts—that the crop would only approximate 34,000,000 pounds this year, the price for pecans has remained under 10 cents a pound in most parts of Texas.

From Ben F. Tisinger of Garland, chairman of the State Board of Education, comes the suggestion that Texas abolish the election of a State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Appointing School Leaders

It is a worthy suggestion. There is no particular reason why a school man should be required to make a political race every two years for a school job.

Certainly it would be to the advantage of the State to have either the State Board of Education or, as Mr. Tisinger suggests, the Governor, name the superintendent.

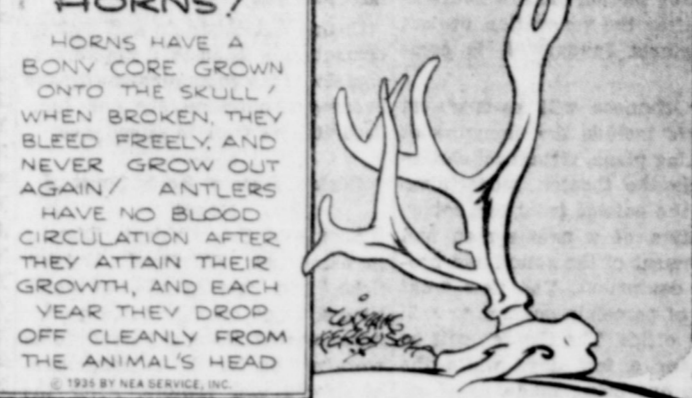

The Sour-Grape Roosevelts

One of the things about the past two presidential campaigns which has appeared to us to be in especial bad taste is the bitter public opposition the descendants of Theodore Roosevelt have offered the candidacy of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Now comes the most assinine thing of all. Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., was to speak in Fort Worth on a Town Hall program, and Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President and a resident of Fort Worth, was invited to introduce her.

Crop Insurance

(From The Houston Post) As the Roosevelt administration goes back to work cheered by a smashing farm belt vote of confidence, crop insurance is certain to emerge as a major part of the government's new agricultural program.

Undoubtedly this matter will loom large in the deliberations of the next Congress, rivaling even revision and extension of social security measures for a top place on the legislative calendar.

Both presidential candidates sponsored a crop insurance proposal, and the Wallace plan will be incorporated in a bill to be introduced early in the session.

Crop insurance is not a new idea. It has been studied by Senate committees since 1922. Not until 1936, however, did it receive really serious attention.

Raymond Clapper, writing in the November Review of Reviews, calls attention to the fact that all other schemes for solving the farm problem have leaned on the Federal treasury or sought to gouge the city consumer, whereas the Wallace crop insurance plan proposes that the farmers shall take care of each other.

As Mr. Clapper points out: Secretary Wallace and his group of experts in the department of agriculture discard completely the idea of trying to insure farmers against price declines. The basic principle in mind is to guarantee the farmer a minimum quantity crop. In surplus years, the farmer throws a percentage of his crop into an insurance reserve, and in bad years, he makes up his crop shortage out of the reserve.

As a starting point, the advice of those experts working on the details is to confine the operation for a time to a limited number of crops, concerning which there is adequate data. They would prefer to work only upon wheat, corn and cotton.

The individual farmer desiring crop insurance would sign a policy agreement by which he would turn over to crop insurance authorities a specified percentage of his yield above a certain base line. In return, the government would contract to lease to him a percentage of the commodity in the event his yield proved deficient.

The farmer should be guaranteed not his full average crop but only a portion of it, say 75 per cent. Crop insurance must assure enough in bad years to keep the farmer operating safely, but it should not be so large as to encourage him to let the crop go.

Almost every other form of business has insurance protection except farming. If a plan can be devised that will prevent farmers from suffering from the fluctuations in crop yields due to conditions over which he has no control, a real step forward will have been taken in stabilizing the agricultural industry.

The mineral resources committee is engaged in surveying the mineral resources of the State. The task is a gigantic one and the committee needs the aid of the property owners in compiling authentic data on the State's mineral deposits.

WINNSBORO—On seven cooperating farms in the Winnsboro Soil Conservation Camp area in Wood County, approximately 10 miles of terraces have been constructed in the past two weeks on land where terracing is necessary as a part of the complete erosion control program.

WAXAHACHIE—That soil conservation measures which utilized vegetation were more effective than mechanical control following a 10.5 inch rain in the Waxahachie Soil Conservation Camp area, is the verdict of camp officials who have just completed a careful check on work completed.

LOCKHART—Cooperators of the Plum Creek watershed demonstration of the Soil Conservation Service are showing that strip cropping will satisfactorily control erosion on certain slopes of land.

WEATHERFORD—In 1905 Mr. Walter Reed of Parker county applied 20 loads of barnyard manure to an acre of sandy soil which had been terraced, and neighbors still remark on the increased fertility of this plot, county agricultural agent J. W. Jackson states.

CROWELL—A built-in closet led Maxine Fleser of the Thalia Girls' 4-H Club to make plans for refinishing her entire room, according to Miss Myrna Holman, county home demonstration agent of Foard county.

RIO GRANDE CITY—Fifteen carloads and many truckloads of corn have been sold by the farmers of Starr county, according to Frank C. Bruneman, county agricultural agent, who states that this is the first time that a carload of corn has ever been shipped out of the county.

BELLEVILLE—A garden the year 'round' is the slogan of Mrs. Ed Threik, president of the Nelsonville's home demonstration club, according to Miss Viola McKenzie, home demonstration agent of Austin county, who states that for over three weeks during the past two years has Mrs. Threik's garden been bare.

GUTHRIE—A year ago Mr. V. V. Parr, manager of the Pitchfork Ranch in King county, had three barrels of ham and bacon sides covered with refined cottonseed oil, and recently he reported to R. L. White, agricultural agent of King county, that the meat so stored had been consumed and that it had remained soft and sweet and deliciously flavored down to the last piece in the last barrel.

Rev. and Mrs. Chester A. Wilkerson left last Monday for Houston where they attended the joint Centennial session of the five Methodist conferences in Texas, in celebration of the 100 years of Methodist work in Texas. All Texas Methodism is meeting in joint session instead of the usual separate conferences. Rev. Wilkerson has been pastor of the Methodist congregation at this place for the past two years, and they are congratulating themselves on his being returned to this church for another year.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker W. Hicks of Cisco were here Monday accompanied by a group of friends to attend the burial service of Mrs. Hicks' uncle, Dave Williams, of Cisco.

A large number of pupils and teachers and also a number of patrons of the school spent Saturday in Dallas attending the Centennial. They report a delightful trip.

Word of the death of Mr. Dave Williams of Cisco which occurred Sunday evening. Services were held in Cisco and burial was made in the Blanket cemetery Monday afternoon at 2 p. m. Relatives from Hamilton, Post, Houston, and Cisco were here for the burial. He leaves a wife, and two sons, and two step-daughters to mourn his loss, besides a host of other relatives. Mr. Williams was a brother of the late A. H. Williams, of our city. He also was a resident of this community a number of years ago, and has many friends who regret to hear of his passing.

Miss Murtel Bailey had as her guest last week, Mr. Jack Hammond, of Bellevue.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Robison and sons spent the week-end in Stephenville visiting Mr. and Mrs. Noah Norwood and family. Mr. Robison returned home Sunday while Mrs. Robison and sons remained over at Hesse for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lagrove.

Mrs. A. H. Williams returned Monday from Poteet where she spent the past week visiting a sister, whom she had not seen in 35 years.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dahney spent Wednesday in Brownwood visiting relatives.

Mr. Clayton Brown of Ennis was here Sunday visiting his step-mother, Mrs. Nettie Brown.

Funeral services for Mr. Sol Baker, whose death occurred in Central Texas Hospital in Brownwood Thursday, Oct. 22, were held in the Blanket Methodist Church the following afternoon at 2 p. m. with Rev. C. A. Wilkerson and Rev. D. A. Chisholm of Brownwood officiating, with interment in the Blanket cemetery. Mr. Baker was 66 years of age. He was born in Clinton, Tennessee, Jan. 15, 1870. His early manhood was spent in this community, where he was married to Miss Jennie Connor. He then moved to Brownwood where he spent 30 years in the employ of Weakley-Watson-Miller Hardware Co. and the Brownwood Implement Company. He is survived by his wife and 6 sons and 1 daughter, 7 grandchildren and 2 sisters, also 7 grandchildren. Mr. Baker was a devoted father, and Christian gentleman, loyal to his church and his God. It fell to his lot to have to bear many days of sickness and pain, but through it all he was so patient and cheerful, uncomplaining, and always so happy to see his friends, which he numbered by the score. The gorgeous floral offerings betokened the love and sympathy of a host of friends from every quarter, and who wish to extend sympathy.

BILLIES' APPLICART FULL TO BRIM; ONLY TWO MORE CHANCES FOR UPSET; HOWARD PAYNE PRAYS

Daniel Baker Hill Billies were very jubilant this week. And why not? With a conference crown so close that they can practically touch it, and with the sculp of the McMurry Redskins in their belt everything looks rosy out on Austin Hill.

The Howard Payne Yellow Jackets haven't lost their sting, either. Daniel Baker has only to slip just a little bit on either of their two remaining games — with Abilene Christian and Southwestern — and the undefeated, tied-but-once Yellow Jackets would have D. B. C.'s crown before they knew what happened. Next week the Baptists go to Abilene for the annual bloody, cut-throat grudge battle with their fellow-churchmen and worst enemies, the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboys.

Wild Kittens No Pushover

Coach Gene Taylor's Presbyterians are putting in plenty of preparation for their approaching tilt with the puny Abilene Christian Wildcats, who are not yet out of the kitten stage. Nevertheless, the bearded sages of football in these parts predict that the game will be no pushover. The fact that the same will be a feature of ACC's homecoming, and that rates on the proposed Daniel Baker special train are rather high are two odds against the Billies.

Fighting to offset a badly injured starting line, the Taylormen filled the air with passes Friday night to upset McMurry 14-7 before a huge homecoming crowd.

Playing under the long range bombardments of "Skipper" Howard, the Billies scored late in the first quarter. Taking the ball on their own 39, the locals uncoiled an aerial attack that resulted in pay dirt as the period closed. A heave from Howard to Chrane turned the trick and Little converted.

A 32-yard pass from Pool to Anthony placed the ball on Daniel Baker's 2 yard line.

Until the last four minutes of play the game remained a deadlock with McMurry holding a slight advantage. Davenport raked in a partially batted down pass to give the ball to the Billies on the Indians' 4-yard line. Watson plunged over and Little again annexed the extra point.

Twice during the third quarter and once in the fourth the Indians were on the Hill Billy 8-yard line with a first down, but the Bakerites tightened the hold.

Howard, Watson, and Newton led the way for the Hill Billies. Anthony ran the Indians' show.

Wedeman, Knudson Shine

Featuring the usual brilliant playing of "King Kong" Wedeman, and a 39-yard race to a touchdown by Knudson, the Yellow Jackets downed a determined St. Edward's University eleven in Austin Friday night to a score of 12-0. The Jackets scored early in the game after a 15-yard penalty set the Tigers back to their own one-yard line.

HUNTERS ANTICIPATE HEAVY SEASON; GAME PLENTIFUL IN REGION

Hunters have already started cleaning and oiling their guns in anticipation of a busy season ahead, as game is plentiful this year, according to Game Warden J. H. Wood.

Open season has been declared on deer, starting November 16; ducks, November 25; and turkeys, November 16. A new federal law forbids the shooting of canvasback and redhead ducks this year. They have a similar gray body coloring and brick red heads.

Duck hunters will also be required to have a "duck stamp" which may be obtained at the postoffice for $1. A shotgun holding not more than three shells must be used when hunting ducks, as rifles are illegal for that purpose. Duck season closes December 25.

Twelve birds per day and not more than 36 in one week is the bag limit on quail. The season closes January 1. Limit on deer is two bucks a season, except Blacktail or Mule Deer, west of the Pecos river, only one a season. The deer season closes December 31. The turkey season is open from November 16 to December 31.

Texas Pecan Crop Extremely Short

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. — The agriculture department estimated today the nation's pecan production this year would be 34,795,000 pounds on the basis of November 1 conditions, about 1,900,000 pounds more than the department's estimate as of October 1.

The board estimated production in Texas at 9,000,000 pounds compared to 44,000,000 pounds in 1935.

ASSISTANCE TO AGED WILL BE SPEEDIED BY DIRECTOR CARPENTER

"Our definite responsibility is to get assistance to the needy aged, and no deserving applicant or pension recipient in Texas should be afraid that we will overlook him," said Acting Director Orville S. Carpenter, of the Texas Old Age Assistance Commission, explaining re-investigation procedure required by the new pension statute.

The new plan, House Bill 8, takes away requirements concerning property, cash ownership, and income as bases for determining eligibility. Entire basis of the new assistance law is the need of the individual. Aid contributed by other individuals, whether cash or free rent, free board, free medical care, or clothes, must be taken into consideration.

Later Investigation

"At present we are busy segregating cases in which recipients show no cash in the bank, no property owned, and no other income except that from the Commission. These cases will not be re-investigated until later because the old people would evidently be in need if they were off the rolls," Carpenter declared.

House Bill 8 requires that all recipients now on the rolls be re-investigated.

"We have started already re-investigating each recipient on the rolls whose eligibility under the new law is doubtful because he has income, property, or is receiving assistance from some individual. However, it should be remembered that we will look at each of these cases with the question in mind: "Is this old person in necessitous circumstances?" he added.

Those Not On Rolls

"Of the applicants whose cases have not been investigated, or now are in the process of investigation, we will ascertain those whose applications reflect need and then get to them first. Many of our policies will be determined by the fact that winter is coming and that the needy aged must be taken care of now and not six months from now.

"The evident intent of the Legislature was that assistance must go to the needy aged, and we will see that they get their grants as soon as possible," Carpenter said.

SANTA FE TO SEND 19 TEXAS BOYS TO CHICAGO MEETING

In recognition of their ability and progress in their various farm projects throughout the year, 19 Texas boys will receive an all-expense paid trip to the Annual Boys and Girls 4-H Club Congress to be held in Chicago November 27 to December 5.

The trip to the congress, which is being held in conjunction with the International Livestock Exposition, is awarded annually by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway System. The prize trip awards are confined to counties in Texas traversed by the Santa Fe which have a full time county extension agent.

Individual winners are as follows: Roy L. Burrows, Tulla; Billy Huffman, Brady; Carlion Homan, El Paso; James Passons, Wheeler; Albert Summers, Dimmitt; Buford Hood, Lorenzo; Ellis Britton, Plainview; Harold Neves, Roby; Joe F. Robinson, Helton; Robert Beasley, Dallas; James Toome, Waxahatchie; Bill Ed Jackson, Ivanhoe; Bud Peace, Paris; Alton Marshall, Ovaslo; Fred Koch, Jr., Gatesville; Herman Spodee, East Bernard; Fay Mowery, Alameda; Noel Yarling, Beasley; Arnold Neumann, Brenham.

The winners will assemble in Ft. Worth on November 27 and leave that evening in a special sleeping car via Santa Fe, returning to Texas on December 6. At Chicago, extensive arrangements have been made for their entertainment. In charge of the group will be Cliff B. Marshall, agricultural agent of the Santa Fe, accompanied by L. L. Johnson, state boys club agent of A. & M. extension service.

Market Still Quotes 12 Cents On Turkeys

Price for turkeys in Brownwood markets still remains at 12 cents for No. 1 birds, old hens, 10 cents, old Toms, 9 cents, and No. 2's, 8 cents. Although the top price of 12 cents is considerably lower than last year's quotation, it is as high for this season.

Although many growers are holding their turkeys in the hope that later markets will bring higher prices, shipments of several cars of dressed fowls was made to northern and eastern markets early this week.

Offerings at local packing houses have been very light during the week, with many raisers holding their birds back for an expected better price on the Christmas market. A 13-cent price reported at Ballinger was offered by mistake for a few days, according to word received in Brownwood Thursday, and was withdrawn. Brady is offering 12 cents a pound, and South Texas shipping points are paying only 11 cents for No. 1 birds.

W. O. McCully & Sons are dressing turkeys again this season, having withdrawn from the market last year.

Simple country life on a farm is said to be the most hazardous.

F. F. A. Group Has Day At Centennial

Saturday was F. F. A. day at the Centennial in Fort Worth and 41 members of the local chapter, accompanied by Miss Colleen Pate, Chapter sweetheart, attended the celebration and livestock show there.

The group, headed by Fred Abney, president, returned home Sunday in school buses after visiting various points of interest in Fort Worth.

Although there are 55 plants in the United States making poultry feed and agricultural lime from oyster shells only two of the plants are in Texas, a state with a coast line of 624 miles, according to data compiled by the Texas Planning Board.

BROWNWOOD IS WINNER OVER EASTLAND, 26-20

Showing surprising strength and a passing attack the Lions were unable to break up, the Eastland Mavericks outplayed the Brownwood Lions in the high school Armistice Day game, but Brownwood won, 26 to 20. The game had no bearing on the Oil Belt Conference race, which sees San Angelo rafter firmly entrenched in first place.

Brownwood, getting the breaks of the game, ran up a 13 to 0 lead in the first half, increased it to 20 to 0 in the third quarter, and actually were never in danger of losing until the closing minutes of the fourth quarter, when the Eastland passing attack began to click with regularity, but the 26 points Brownwood had amassed was too much for the Mavericks.

Thomason made three of the Brownwood touchdowns, running his scoring record for the season up to 81 points. His punting also was a feature of the game. Mr. Horse made the other Brownwood score. Samuels was the outstanding Eastland player.

During the day, Abilene was defeating Breckenridge, 14 to 0 to push them out of the championship race, and San Angelo, undefeated, managed to defeat Big Spring 14 to 6. Cisco and Ranger played to a 6-6 tie.
