NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION — PANHANDLE PRESS ASSOCIATION

Donley County's Free Fair will be held in Clarendon this fall in early September, and will set a new mark for such events—if we will that it does.

It won't be long, now! The eyes of the nation is focussing on the Democratic Convention at Houston next week, and already the clans are gathering there for the great battle. It will end in a general clearing up of the mooted question of "Who and What is a Democratic?" or it will end in disaster. There will be no compromise on the prohibition issue.

Donley's first truck load of wheat for the season was on our streets early Tuesday morning and was the forerunner of hundreds in the next two weeks. It is estimated that around fifty thousand bushels, or fifty car loads, will be marketed here this season—some four or five times more than has ever been raised or sold in the county before. Our farmers are systematizing their crops now, and we are all to profit thereby.

Wheat selling at a dollar twenty to thirty, and some fifty thousand bushels to be marketed here in the next two or three weeks, means that conditions will continue their upward climb in Clarendon and Donley County. After the wheat comes the marketing of fat cattle, after that the sale of farm and garden produce, and after that the fall, which is to be one of the best falls our county ever knew. Get ready.

On our desk is a copy of a beautifully printed ninety-four page and cover book exploiting the growth and progress of Quanah and Hardeman County. Publicity like this book designed to bring in new population and new capital will do the job and we may expect to see Quanah and Hardeman make still further gains in the next year or so. Editor Harry Koch of the Tribune-Chief and Carl Guin of the Chamber of Commerce, both of Quanah, are largely instrumental in the issuance of the book.

On Saturday, July 28th, coincident with the Democratic primary, the voters of Precincts 3 and 4 of Donley County will vote on a bond issue of $250,000 for roads other than the designated highways within their borders. Voting on the same day with the primary guarantees a full vote and expression on the matter, and the election is being watched with interest by those who hope to see an election called in the next few months on a county-wide road bond issue. All the roads of the county need improvement and The News hopes the election in Precincts 3 and 4, will be the beginning of a movement that will settle the road question in Donley County to the satisfaction and interest of all concerned.

Occasionally one hears of differences that exist between Clarendon and Hedley, and only a person with a sordid outlook can hear of such without regret. The News doesn't believe that the leading men of Hedley are unfair in their aims and purposes any more than it believes that the leaders here in Clarendon are selfish or unfair, but one thing we do know, and that is that Donley County will never make satisfactory progress until we get a unity and consciousness over the county that will not brook hinderances in the road of county progress. If we will cultivate counsel and co-operation we'll find that differences, if any, are small, indeed. We can progress together—or we can shrivel apart.

Panhandle-Plains, Incorporated, is the name of the new organization chartered as an outgrowth of united effort of certain Panhandle-Plains counties to attract desirable immigration from northern and eastern states to this section. An all-Panhandle farm exhibit will be shown in certain fairs in the middle-west accompanied by timely publicity and key-men in agricultural sections will be brought here to get first-hand information as to the great resources and opportunities offered in the Panhandle. We need a million new, aggressive farmers and dairymen in the Panhandle, and the way to get them is to go after them. It means profit to them and us. It means the most desirable growth of the Panhandle.

ON THE MOURNER'S BENCH—ROOM FOR MORE

Rufus Higgs, editor of the Stephenville Tribune, says in a recent issue:

"The Tribune has been a member of the Texas Press Association for the past eight years, or since the day we entered the journalistic field on our own resources. We believe in the organization and have always taken a great deal of interest in the manner in which officials have carried on the work before them. The only complaint we have ever registered is here and now put forth and that is we are getting mighty tired of Win Salter, of Kerrville; Sam Braswell, Clarendon; and Henry Edwards, Tyler, taking off all the honors in the contest for the best newspaper and the most artistic job printing. While we have had no one in particular to place the blame on but ourselves during the past years for this monopoly of prize winning proclivities we wish to serve notice on the above gents that competition will be theirs to behold next spring when the annual convention of the Texas Press meets in Mineral Wells. "One of them there prizes jes' nat'ly belongs in old Erath county," says the office boy and we trust he shall not be disappointed. Frankly, we are bound for the mourner's bench. Is there another?"

"Come on in, the water's fine", and that goes for a number of the other boys as well as our good friend, Rufus Higgs. Texas has a number of splendid newspapers who would be right up in the middle of the competition, if they only "get in", but right here and now, The Clarendon News wants it thoroughly understood that it doesn't propose to stay out of the competition until it wins the Belo Cup for the best newspaper in Texas and is ruled out for five years by the rules of the contest. After that we'll be right back in there. Anyhow, we want to see that "mourner's bench" all crowded up like a negro camp-meeting in watermelon time, Brother Higgs.

G. M. RICHARDS BARELY ESCAPES FIRE MONDAY

A fire that had no seeming cause almost completely burned the G. M. Richards home in the south central part of the city early Monday morning of this week. Mr. Richards had just returned from Wellington, and had gone through the house to the bedroom in the back part and had gone to bed. He was awakened by the fire at 3:00 o'clock Monday morning and was forced to break a large window to escape from the house. He made his way to the home of a neighbor and turned in the alarm and quick work was done by the fire department in extinguishing the blaze after they had reached the scene. The house was badly damaged, and the interior was practically a total loss, since there is little that can be salvaged. Full coverage was had by insurance. Friday evening of last week the home of Mr. and Mrs. Britz Melton was gutted by fire and the furniture was badly burned when their home in East Clarendon was found afire. The cause of this fire was unexplained. This place can be refinished, and will be made complete with little loss.

DIRECTORS SELECTED AND FIRST PUBLICITY BOUGHT

At the meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Inc., the new organization that is to take the place of the Panhandle Development association was held Tuesday, June 12th in Amarillo with a good representation from the interested counties of the Panhandle well represented in the sessions. The new name has been selected as being more descriptive of the section served, and will give an added distinction to the organization that could not be gained from the original name of the body. One of the first actions of the body was the purchase of publicity in the amount of $1500 to be expended in Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa. Other work was the purchase of 300,000 copies of a booklet or folder to describe the Panhandle section of the state. These to be used in the fairs where the Panhandle-Plains exhibit is shown. Further meetings are to be held in the near future to make plans for the consummation of the work.

Buy the only fine car that has been proved by Two Million Owners...

You will search in vain for a longer or more brilliant record of service than Buick's.

Two million Buicks have proved Buick value on the road. More than a million and a half, still in service, attest Buick stamina.

Every Buick has—as "regular equipment,"—power in excess of any need, beauty and luxury beyond compare—and a degree of dependability which has long been traditional.

You're sure of real value when you buy the car that two million owners have proved.

All Buick models have Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers, front and rear, as standard equipment.

Diversify and Prosper

Agriculture can only be stabilized by a diversity of farm products. One crop farming has proved unprofitable over a period of years even in the most favored sections.

In West Texas it is imperative that you have a few good dairy cattle, poultry and hogs, something that will bring a revenue at all times. Raise enough of these to insure a living and you will have your staple farm crops as profit.

Miss Mary Meadow Honoree of Many Hospitalities

Miss Mary Meadow of Lubbock and at one time resident of Clarendon, who was the charming house guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Trent from Wednesday until Saturday of last week was the recipient of many lovely hospitalities during her stay in Clarendon.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Trent entertained with a dinner party at her lovely home, 403, 5th Street, 8th Park.

The guests arriving early were invited into the dining room where the table was a bower of loveliness with a beautiful imported normandy lace spread, silver candlesticks in which stood tall pink tapers, with a bowl of pink roses marking the center. Dainty pink nut cups and place cards finished the pink and white color scheme.

Bridge was enjoyed later by Miss Fannie Florence Sims, Miss Katherine Patrick, Mrs. Charles Trent and Miss Meadow, the honoree.

Mrs. L. S. Bagby honored Miss Meadow Thursday evening with a dinner-bridge. The rooms of her home were very attractive with a profusion of garden flowers.

Dinner was served in the dining room from a charmingly appointed table which had for its centerpiece a bowl filled with larkspur and roses.

In the games of Bridge which were enjoyed later, high score was drawn by Mrs. Nat Perrine. Miss Meadow was presented with a lovely guest favor. Mrs. W. H. Martin and Miss Katherine Patrick were given table favors.

The guest list included: Mesdames W. H. Martin, James Trent, Charles Trent, Nat Perrine, A. E. Letts, Selden Bagby, Miss Katherine Patrick and the honoree, Miss Meadow of Lubbock.

Miss Meadow was again honored on Friday evening with an informal dance which was enjoyed by the younger set in the palatial George Bugbee home with Miss Katherine Patrick as the charming hostess.

This feature was greatly enjoyed and marked the closing of a busy social week for Miss Meadow, who left early Saturday morning for Memphis, where she will visit for a time before returning to her home.

FARMERS MAKE MONEY

Many farms in this country have a business too small to expect a return sufficiently large to support a farm family well. Size of the business of a farm is of the utmost importance and may be increased in three ways. First, by growing crops requiring more labor or by following a more intensive system of farming—a farmer in Indiana increased the size of his business by growing a few acres of tomatoes for canning. Second, by adding more livestock, perhaps beyond the point where the farm itself will support them—a farmer in Pennsylvania increased the size of his business by adding a few good cows and buying feed in addition to what he could raise. Third, by doing work outside the farm—a farmer in Ohio with a limited amount of land increased the size of his business by doing some team work in oil fields.

One does not usually think of the oyster as having the habit of hibernation. Yet if the temperature in the water surrounding an oyster bed falls low enough, the oysters enter a state of hibernation and cease feeding. Unlike the hibernation of terrestrial animals, which occurs at certain seasons, the oyster enters into a state of hibernation when the temperature of the water falls to 41 degrees F. or below. Most nonmigratory animals hibernate in order to survive when their food supply fails, but the oyster closes its shell and becomes physiologically inactive when the temperature is low enough, regardless of its food supply.

Mesdames Joe Horn, Simmons and Houston Miller motored to Amarillo Saturday.

Mrs. W. M. Spitzer is Surprised by Friends Monday

During Mrs. Wm. Spitzer's seventy years on this earth a number of delightful surprises have been planned and given for her but each time she would receive a gentle hint that it was to be until this the only complete surprise of her life-time Monday of this week.

The ladies of the Home Economics Club arrived at the Spitzer home at high noon bringing with them a large variety of well prepared dishes including a huge cake topped by seventy birthday candles, this being her seventieth birthday.

A delightful afternoon was spent chatting and sewing by the fourteen ladies who had brought so much cheer on this happy birthday.

Home Economics Club in Study

The members of the Home Economics Club met in the home of Mrs. John Clark, Friday afternoon in a most interesting study of "Colors Best Suited to Each Complexion."

A short business meeting was followed by the presentation by Mrs. W. M. Spitzer of a beautiful casserole, the gift of the club members, to Miss Eula Key, who is planning to soon give up her work as Home Demonstrator for Donley County.

Lovely refreshments were served to the members and the guests, Mrs. E. A. Sloan and Miss Peggy Whisand.

Sewing Club Entertained

Mrs. R. P. Morris was the genial hostess to the members of the Thursday Needle Club, Thursday afternoon at her home where several very pleasant hours were spent with light sewing and conversation in rooms laden with the perfume of a profusion of roses and other garden flowers.

At the close of the afternoon a tasty plate luncheon was served to: Mesdames Meredith Gentry, John Ryan, Selden Bagby, W. G. Word, J. R. Porter, R. L. Bigger, W. H. Martin, Sella Gentry, J. H. Morris, Minnie Dyer, R. A. Chamberlain, A. R. Letts, J. T. Patman, James Trent, H. Kennedy, J. W. Ryan, Sr. of Houston, Texas, H. S. Lee of Oklahoma City and Miss Mary Meadow of Lubbock, Texas.

Mrs. L. L. Taylor Recipient of Delightful Surprise Party

A jolly crowd composed of Mr. and Mrs. John Goldston, Mr. and Mrs. Will Lott, Mr. and Mrs. Lanham, Mr. and Mrs. John Beverly, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Longdon, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Liesburg, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Morgan, Mrs. F. C. Whipple, Miss Dollie Corder and Miss Eula Haley gave Mrs. L. L. Taylor a happy surprise at her home Saturday evening, the occasion being Mrs. Taylor's birthday.

The guests arrived about 8:00 o'clock laden with many useful and lovely gifts and their refreshments, ice cream and cake, which were served after the enjoyment of many games and contests.

Happy Crowd at Country Club

It was to honor one of the members of their group, Miss Eula Key, County home demonstrator of Donley County, that a large crowd of girls motored to the Country Club late Friday afternoon.

A dip in the lake gave them a ravenous appetite and they were more than eager for the bountiful picnic lunch which was soon spread and thoroughly enjoyed by the happy group composed of: Misses Eula Key, the honoree, Willette Cole, Dewey Meacham, Opal Pyle, Eva Patching, Anna Moores, Maye Bennett, Naomi Allison, D'Laurel Beville, Evelyn Patman, Mantie Graves, Lucy Lee Aiken, Madge Davis, Lorraine Thornton, Herloise Burrell, Winnie Weatherly, Norma Rhodes, Mamie Wood, Lelia Clifford and Mrs. C. Too often the mistake is made of building a small poultry house with a low roof, involving drudgery in the care of the chickens. Labor is an important factor in the management of poultry and the arrangement of the house for convenience adds greatly to the chances of success. A house should be built so that the attendant can stand up and do the work comfortably; and if from 3 to 5 square feet of floor space per fowl is allowed, this will give enough cubic air space for the flock.

1928 TOUR GUIDE COMPLETE BOOK

ALL INFORMATION NEEDED TO MAKE TRIPS IS SECURED AT LOW COST

Motorists who plan to take a vacation tour, this summer, will be interested to know that The Automobile Club of America has just published the fourteenth edition of its annual road book, the 1928 Associated Tours Guide, which is now ready for distribution.

The Guide in its one hundred and twenty-eight pages, contains a wealth of useful information for exactly planning where to go on your vacation trip and how to get there. The Motor maps, mileages and itineraries shown on the pages of the Guide covering the vast area of the United States east of the Mississippi and eastern Canada, as well as the more popular transcontinental and trans-Canadian routes, afford the motorist a wide range of touring fields from which to select.

In all, the Guide gives over one hundred and twenty-five thousand miles of the best, hard surfaced highways in the country, especially chosen for their charm of scenic outlook, leading to seaside, mountain and inland resorts of rest and recreation. For motorists who plan to drive to any of the big conventions which will be held this summer, the complete motor map of the United States and corresponding itineraries given in the Guide, will furnish adequate information for the entire trip. A large folding map of the entire eastern section of the country, bound in the Guide, is handy for planning a large scale tour.

A feature of the Guide that motorists are apt to appreciate is that all itineraries are so arranged as to allow for a logical stopping place at the end of each day's run, where accommodations for the night in a good hotel or inn may be found. Both the National and State Highway numbering systems are shown on the maps and in the routes. There is also given a digest of all the state motor laws, speed restrictions, license regulations, ferry schedules, as well as numerous maps showing how to enter, leave or avoid them.

Among the tours with large maps in the Guide are: Adirondack, Canadian-Pacific, Cape Cod, Capitol, Dixie, Granite State, Maine, Mid-West, Great Lakes to Gulf, Green Mountain, Lake Ideal, Long Island, Montreal-Quebec, New Jersey, Post Road to Boston, Real Tour to the Berkshires, Scenic, Shenandoah and Transcontinental.

For the convenience of motorists, the Guide will be distributed through local newsdealers in all parts of the country or may be obtained by remitting fifty cents, to cover cost and postage, to The Automobile Club of America, 12 East 53rd Street, New York City.

PELLAGRA AND THE MISSISSIPPI FLOODS
By W. C. Rountree, M. D.

Pellagra has become greatly discussed recently because of its prevalence in the flooded districts of the Mississippi River. The urgent need for relief workers brought to that area many kind hearted doctors and nurses, who gave their time and skill toward the prevention of the disease that are so common after such catastrophes. To their astonishment they found Pellagra in almost every home among the rural population. Not being residents of the South, these doctors at once came to the conclusion that these victims of Pellagra had contracted the disease as a result of the flood. The lack of proper nourishment to some parts of the body has been the popular theory as to the cause of Pellagra. Naturally the devastating flood caused starvation and self denial. Hence it was easy to couple the two things and conclude that the deprivation caused by the extended flood caused the many cases of Pellagra.

Pellagra is not a deficiency disease. It is caused by an infection which destroys the normal functioning of the digestive processes of the intestines. The flood had nothing to do with Pellagra as it now exists in that section. It had been there for years before the flood. These good doctors and self sacrificing nurses only discovered what they had before not had the opportunity to discover—Viz., that in the Southland one woman in almost 75 per cent of rural home is suffering with Pellagra.

Pellagra is a disease that is acquired through the skin. Contact by bare hands with vegetable foliage such as cabbage, beans, collards, etc., brings about the infection.

It is detected by brown, rough skin, sunburn, nervousness, diarrhea, constipation, aching in the limbs and back and funny feelings in the head.

Poke shoots are delicious when carefully cooked. To lessen the slight astringency of flavor, discard first water, after cooking 5 minutes, and continue cooking in fresh boiling water. Serve like asparagus, with butter and seasoning of salt and pepper.

The Big Coach Oil Company has resumed drilling on the Dunaway land in Southwestern Hutchinson County. The 12 1/2 inch casing was delivered at the well Saturday afternoon and was being run Sunday. (25c)

DAIRY COWS PAY BIG DIVIDENDS

CHILDRESS COUNTY FARMER PROVES TO OWN SATISFACTION THAT COWS PAY

E. C. Wilcox, farmer, six and a half miles northeast of Childress, is a practical example of the success of farm diversification and of the practice of making the living at home. However, when H. D. Cuykendall, field representative for the oil mill and creamery, called on Mr. Wilcox a few days ago, he found that planters were at work in the fields, putting in a cotton crop, to indicate that Mr. Wilcox has not given up raising a major crop in connection with his minor occupations.

Mr. Wilcox stated that he has kept a herd of dairy cows for years but up to two years ago they were only kept for home consumption of milk products. He did not begin selling cream until last year, when he had four good milk cows. He says that he made considerable money off the dairy work last year, in fact almost as much money as he is making now off a larger herd.

In October of last year Mr. Wilcox shipped in a carload of Jersey cattle that he bought down state. He sold off all but 11 of the carload and added these to his herd, making a total of 15 milk cows. A queer fact is that the cows all brought bull calves, four of them being sold to Henry Green for $80.

The books of the dairy department of the Wilcox farm show that the family made $359.03 last year, above the cost of feeding and of home consumption. Two of the cows were registered animals and the other two were good grade cows, giving better than four gallons of milk per day. He fed these cows two bales of cottonseed, a practice that he formerly followed, but he has not changed methods and is feeding his dairy cattle cottonseed meal and hulls for which he trades his seed each fall.

In the month of January the 15 cows that he now has made Mr. Wilcox something more than $35 above feed costs. They average making a net profit of $30 to $40 through the winter months and more in the summer when there is native pasture to run on and cut down the cost of high-priced feed.

Last fall Mr. Wilcox purchased 100 pure bred Buff Orpington hens from Crowell, Texas. They sold eggs on the market during the winter months for a good profit. This spring they sold setting eggs for 4 cents each and this money paid for their own increase of flock. They now have 400 young chickens. The young roosters will be sold this fall on the market and the pullets kept for laying during the winter. The Wilcox family expects to make a good profit off eggs during the coming cold season.

Last year Mr. Wilcox had a sow and nine pigs when he began operating with a 15 cow dairy. He sold three of them for $46 and killed six of them that weighed 500 pounds dressed. They were put in cans and cured for home use. He has a number of young pigs now.

Last fall Mr. Wilcox traded about three and a half tons of cotton seed for meal and hulls, in order to have feed during the winter months. He bought his meal at $2.10 and before he quit feeding that cheap meal, the retail price had gone up to $3.00, making him a saving of 90c per sack. This coming fall Mr. Wilcox intends trading about twice that amount of seed, or more, for feed.

The main trouble that Mr. Wilcox now faces is the low productivity of his herd. He wants to build up his herd to more efficient production and realizes that to do so he must purchase a good sire to head his herd. By means of the service of a good sire he believes he can double his dairy production in the next three or four years.

PLAYING THE GAME

If you don't play the game fair the game will play out. Baseball and the hunting game resemble. In hunting, the foul ball is one that is fired at protected game in the closed season,—that's a foul ball. There is this difference: In baseball the foul ball does not count for the team but in hunting every hit counts. The hunter usually fires the foul ball with the idea that one wouldn't count much.

No man who disregards the law feels that the little game he kills will affect the grand total; but if every man should feel and act that way the destruction of game would become complete. In voting for candidates mighty majorities are made up of individual votes and it takes a lot of them to get a man into office. The candidate is careful to get every possible vote. It does him no good for you to say, Mr. Doe, I like you personally and I believe in all you stand for, but I am for your opponent. It is fine to believe in the game laws and in conservation, but if game is to win out you've got to vote for it. A running candidate needs your vote, but he can live without it, but a game candidate cannot because it is running for its life.

Now, a majority will elect a candidate to office, but a majority observing the game laws will not elect game or make it plentiful. A small minority can make it scarce and rob the majority of law observers of the right to a successful hunt. A majority of hunters do obey the law. Are you voting or acting with the majority, or do you bolt the game ticket?

OLD-FIELD TIRES

Firestone Built

WE have astounding values in Oldfield Tires, which have been taken over by Firestone from the Oldfield Tire Company. For over four years these tires were sold by Oldfield distributors and dealers at higher prices than for any other high grade standard tire. We are now selling all sizes of these quality tires for less than any other standard tire.

At still lower prices we have Courier Tires and Tubes, which are built in the great, economical Firestone Factories and distributed direct to us. It is amazing to us how Firestone can build these full over-size tires, with tough non-skid treads and sidewall ribs that protect against rut and curb wear, to sell for so little.

Owners of small cars will find the Firestone-built, Airway Tires the greatest bargain offerings ever made in this locality. WEST TEXAS YEARBOOK IS ARTISTIC PIECE OF WORK

The News is in receipt of a fine piece of publicity from the general offices of the West Texas Utilities Company at Abilene. This booklet gives a comprehensive idea of the holdings and size of the company with reference to West Texas. This company has shown one of the greatest growths that has ever been established in West Texas and continues to grow with leaps and bounds. A large number of the booklets were printed, the major part of which are to be distributed in the manufacturing centers of the North and East, that the men in that part of the United States may know what the Western and Panhandle section of the state has to offer in the way of towns and manufacturing centers. The remainder of the books are to be distributed among the newspapers and chambers of commerce in the towns where the West Texas Company has holdings.

DR. SHERMAN IS PRESIDING LION

GOOD PROGRAM OF ENTERTAINMENT PROVIDED IN ABSENCE OF MANY LIONS

A good attendance was present at the Lions luncheon Tuesday of this week for the program in spite of the fact that many of the Lions were in Fort Worth in attendance at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention while still others were out of the city on their vacation trips and for business reasons.

In the absence of Boss Lion Mulkey and his sub assistants, Lion Sherman held forth and presented an excellent program for the benefit of the Lions present. No business of any sort was attended since so many of the Lions were out of town.

The first to come to the attention of the Lions was a violin solo by Louis Wilder, who gave the Minuet in G as the selection at this time. He was given the whole hearted applause of the Lions. He was accompanied by Mrs. F. L. Stallings.

Guests were introduced following this with D. R. Davis of the City Gas Company as the local guest and Messrs S. P. McMinn and C. L. Smith of Childress as the other two for the day. Later in the program, each of the three were given an opportunity to say a few words. Mr. McMinn was a former member of the Rotary Club in Childress, but dropped his membership when he sold his business. He stated that the Lions were evidently doing good work and urged that the chairman's suggestions be followed when their vacation times appeared.

Lions D. O. Stallings and W. M. Murrell reported on the Pampa trip, each of them stating that Lionism was with the upgrade in the Panhandle with clubs reporting from the four corners of the section of the state. They each reported a splendid meeting and wished that many of the Lions could make the trip to Dalhart when the Group meets in that city during the month of August.

Lion W. H. Patrick used the large egg that has been in the office of the News for the past few weeks as an actual demonstration of the results obtained through the efforts of the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the local business men. The total of the receipts of the cream for the past week was double that of one year ago. The egg was used as an example of what the hens are doing to bring their work to a full part. Lion Watson of the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce then stated that the committee had asked that the breed of chickens be changed to make them lay four ounce eggs instead of the usual sized eggs.

Lion Sherman urged that the Lions who would take their vacation this summer look in every town they visited for a location for their particular line of business. Then, when they returned to Clarendon that they would be better pleased than they have ever been in the past. Others of the Lions asked that this matter be done and the results be brought to the Lions for their benefit.

Adjournment as usual.

CHILICOTHE MAN LIVES-AT-HOME

TENANT FARMER SHOWS WHAT CAN BE DONE BY DIVERSIFICATION

Emerson Bailey, a tenant farmer of near Chillicothe, has demonstrated that the plan of living-at-home, in the only safe plan for the farmer. The farmer of Texas or any other place.

Bailey came to Chillicothe about two years ago from East Texas where he left an indebtedness of about $700. He began his live-at-home plan with a fine garden tract in the creek bottom. He not only had green stuff for his table during the summer, without buying; but he had a surplus which was canned up and used on the table during the winter.

He had a fine flock of chickens and sold eggs the year around. He had a few dairy cows and sold a little cream or butter. From the sale of these farm commodities, he derived enough money to pay the family living expenses the year around, leaving his cotton crop in clear profit each year. This fall he bought a new car and paid cash for it. In addition he now has $1,500 in the bank and has paid off the $700 he owes. All this was done in a period of two years time.

He will have that $1,500 this fall when he harvests his cotton crop because he will not have to draw on it for his living. His cows, chickens and garden will take care of that. He is planning to buy a farm some time during the next year so that he will have a place of his own and not have to give up part of his earnings to the landlord.

What Bailey has done at Chillicothe can be done by any farmer around Clarendon. It takes hard work but in this way a tenant farmer may easily become a landowner. The wonderful fertility of this section in producing feedstuffs, is an asset to this community that should make a great dairy industry possible. If the farmer can raise a lot of his own feed, then the cost of feeding his dairy cows becomes much less. The farmer can trade his cottonseed at his nearest gin for cottonseed meal and hulls and these, supplemented with home grown feeds, will suffice. In this way he produces all his feed at home.

The officers of the Big Coach Oil Company are S. D. Burton, President; C. W. Warwick, Treasurer; Woodville Jarvis, Vice President; Ray S. Daniel, Secretary and W. J. Plesher, Director and Counsellor. (25c)

CLAIMS 390 YARD HOLE-IN-ONE

CREDITS LIGHTNESS OF COLORADO AIR FOR LONG CARRY OF PERFECT SHOT

A certain well-known golfer of this city, recently returned from a vacation in Colorado, claims a Dodo on a hole 390 yards long. Since he was playing alone and cannot substantiate his story, the gentleman refuses to be quoted, on the grounds that skeptical friends would laugh him out of countenance. He admits he could never have socked such a drive on a local course and believes it is explained by the lightness of the air in high altitude and the consequent lack of resistance to the ball.

Whether it is this or extra power lent to one's stroke, due to cool, invigorating climate, is the question. Perhaps it is a combination of both. In any event, golf in Colorado is delightful and popular too. A recent check on a Fort Worth & Denver train revealed that among 83 adult passengers, 59 were carrying clubs. Low summer fare is attracting a heavy traffic to Colorado resorts this year, reports the passenger office of this popular road. (25c)
