

Emergency Feed Loans Ready In Next Ten Days

Procedure in Making 1936 Loans Will Follow Precedence Established Last Year.

Emergency crop and feed loans for the year 1936, as authorized by the President's Executive Order of February 28, will be available within the next ten days, Governor W. I. Myers of the Farm Credit Administration stated this week. Regulations governing the loans have been issued.

Governor Myers said the loans will be made through the same channels used in previous years. Farmers eligible may obtain applications from the field supervisors or the local emergency crop loan committees already operating in most counties.

He said the loans will be limited to the minimum amount necessary to meet the immediate and actual cash needs of farmers who are unable to obtain credit from any other source, and in no instance exceed $200 to one farmer. Applicants who can get credit from any other source, including a production credit association, will not be eligible for emergency loans, he explained.

Loans will be made for the production, planting, cultivating, and harvesting of crops, for summer fallowing, for supplies where they are necessary for production of 1936 crops, or to produce necessary feed for livestock.

According to the Governor's statement, preference will be given to applications of farmers whose cash requirements are small, and no loans may be made for purchasing livestock or machinery or for payment of rents, debts or taxes.

The loans will bear interest at the rate of 5 1/2 percent a year and be secured by a first lien, or an agreement to give a first lien, on all crops financed in whole or in part with the proceeds of the emergency loan. Where loans are made for the production of feed for livestock, they will be secured by a first lien on the livestock to be fed.

Where farmers applying for emergency loans are the tenants of a private landowner or concern, the maximum amount of loans to the tenants of one landowner in one county may not exceed $500. The maximum amount of loans to members of one household who are occupants of the same farm is $200. All disbursements for Texas will be made from the local Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office located at Dallas.

DAIRY SPECIALIST WILL JUDGE CATTLE

E. R. Eudaly, Extension Service specialist, will give a demonstration in judging dairy cows at Shelton's Dairy Friday morning and will discuss a dairy improvement program at a meeting of dairymen to be held at the courthouse Friday afternoon. C. E. Bowles, agent for district 7 will be present for the demonstration and will meet with the dairymen.

All 4-H boys in the county have been asked to attend the judging demonstration, which will start at 9:30 a. m., according to County Agent C. W. Lehmer. Other interested persons are also invited to attend. Mr. Eudaly will give the demonstration in judging dairy cows and selecting and developing the right type of dairy calves. He probably will also discuss the different classes of dairy calves to be shown at the Centennial Exposition in Dallas in November.

At the afternoon meeting, Mr. Eudaly will discuss the dairy improvement program and the importance of organizing bull circles for improvement of dairy herds. He also will discuss use of trench silos in dairy work.

PAVING CROSS CUT HIGHWAY TO START ABOUT APRIL 15TH

Work on the paving of the Cross Cut highway will start about April 15, according to Leo Ehlinger, district engineer. The work will be pushed as rapidly as possible, and should be completed by August 15, if weather conditions are fairly favorable.

Formal award of the contract has not been made on this road, but will be made upon approval of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, as this is a federal project in which the state is not participating.

R. W. McKinney of Nacogdoches was low bidder, at $59,710. The contracts calls for seven miles of caliche base and double asphalt surface. Grading and drainage structure work was done by the county some time ago.

Meanwhile, the old road to Walton Park and the dam is closed as PWA workmen are preparing it for paving. This road, from Belle Plain Avenue to the entrance to the park, also will receive a double asphalt treatment. Cost of the project is $28,191, of which $4,798 is being furnished by the county and $23,483 by the WPA.

During construction of the lake road, traffic is being detoured over the Cross Cut road and the new lake road, which intersects the Cross Cut road about three miles from the city limits.

BRIEF VISIT MADE BY SHOW BOOSTERS FROM FORT WORTH

A group of about 100 Fort Worth business men traveling in special chartered buses, stopped in Brownwood Tuesday afternoon to extend an invitation to Brownwood citizens to attend the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth, March 13-22. The men, members of the Fort Worth Credit Men's Association and the Ad Club, are making the invitation tours over the state as a part of the activities of the Southwestern Exposition Roundup Club.

With the delegation was Bob Calen, one of the three foremost trick and fancy ropers in the world, who has been a star at the stock show for a number of years, and Bob and Gene McLaughlin, the youngest of the rodeo performers who have been sensations at the Madison Square Garden rodeo for the past two years.

The Fort Worth party was greeted here by a number of Brownwood citizens. Arrangements for their welcome were made through the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce.

Added Schedules On Fort Worth Run Are Allowed Bowen

An additional new through schedule from Fort Worth to San Angelo over the Bowen Bus line became effective Thursday, giving Brownwood four round trips to San Angelo and five round trips to Fort Worth daily. Announcement that the Railroad Commission had approved application for the new schedule was made from the bus line headquarters Tuesday.

According to L. C. Eastland, secretary-treasurer of the Bowen Motor Coaches, the increase in business at Brownwood necessitated the increase in service.

The coaches will leave Brownwood for Fort Worth at 7:35 a. m.; 11:20 a. m.; 2 p. m. and 4:35 p. m. West bound coaches to San Angelo will leave at 3:30 a. m.; 12:10 p. m.; 5 p. m. and 9:25 p. m.

Presidential Possibility Here

Colonel Frank Knox of Chicago, pictured above with Mrs. Knox in Arizona, just before the candidate for Republican nomination for President left for Texas. He spent several hours in Brownwood Tuesday night between trains. Mrs. Knox remained in Arizona, and the candidate was accompanied on the Texas trip by John O'Keefe of Chicago.

FRANK KNOX, WHO WANTS TO BE PRESIDENT, IS VISITOR

Colonel Frank Knox of Chicago, chunky, personable, sandy-haired publisher of the Chicago Daily News, who hopes to be the Republican candidate against Franklin D. Roosevelt in the next presidential election, spent several hours in Brownwood between trains Tuesday night. The Chicago publisher is making a tour of the Southwestern states to advance his candidacy. He was en route from New Mexico to Houston, where he spoke Wednesday. Thursday he was guest at a dinner in Dallas.

While here, Colonel Knox was informed that the entire Republican delegation from New Hampshire, his old home state, was favorable to his candidacy. Delegates in New Hampshire were elected Tuesday.

The colonel was pleased, and issued the following statement: "Naturally I am grateful that my old friends in New Hampshire where I lived for so many years, in the first presidential primary this year are favorable to my nomination at Cleveland. It is fine to know that the old Granite State still entertains cordial feelings toward me and desires to cooperate with Illinois in the selection of a Republican standard bearer in the vital political contest which lies ahead. This evidence of confidence and esteem from my former neighbors and friends in New England touches me deeply."

On the announcement of Governor Frank Merriam of California that he would support Governor Alf Landon of Kansas for the Republican nomination, Colonel Knox refused to comment.

The Chicago publisher thinks he will be nominated and elected. Should this happen, he pointed out, he would be the first man from private life chosen since Lincoln. All the others have either been military men or politicians; that is, ex-governors, ex-senators and the like.

He once ran for governor, but was defeated. "That was a youthful error," said the colonel.

WPA LEADERS CALLED HERE FOR CONFERENCE

All project superintendents and field supervisors of WPA district 14 have been called to a meeting to be held at district headquarters here Saturday for instructions regarding the continuation of the WPA program, extended from March 15 to June 1 under a new order. Allotment for the 12 counties in the district was increased this week from $463,085 to $655,104 and time for operation of projects was extended from March 15 to June 1.

The increase amounts to $192,019. To date the district has spent approximately $250,000 of the total allotment. The program will be carried on under the same principles it has been following, according to a statement made by district officials, who added that a number of new projects would be started to replace those that are being completed this month.

More than 100 people will attend the Saturday meeting and receive specific instructions regarding continuation of the WPA program.

LOCAL BREEDERS BUILDING FINE SHOW HERD; PLANNING AUCTION HERE IN DECEMBER

ONE of the best herds of Hereford cattle in Brown county is owned by the firm of Hazel Largent and W. L. Harkrider, established here last July. The firm, which breeds cattle for exhibition few are kept for show purposes at the Brownwood headquarters, located at the Ben Shropshire place on All females in the herd are of the Prince Domino blood line. The head sire is Publican Domino 35th, owned jointly with Largent and Stevens of Brownwood. All the herd calves are from Mary 3rd, registered merit cow. Included in the herd is the dam and two full sisters to L. S. Domino, 2nd, which brought a top price of $2300 at auction in the Grand Falls, Montana show last fall.

In a discussion of plans to make the Brownwood headquarters of the Largent and Harkrider firm, one of the outstanding show place of this section. Roy Largent, supervisor, said "we plan to build a sales arena at the barn and hold our first auction sale next December offering cattle from Largent and Harkrider, Largent and Stevens and C. M. Largent of Merkel. Each of the three firms already have some calves on feed for that purpose. We hope to make the auction an annual affair."

FARM LAND BEING RETIRED AS GUARD AGAINST EROSION

Many Brown county farmers are retiring land which is so badly eroded that tillage is unprofitable and turning it into pasture. The retirement of this land, which has become eroded because of excessive slope and improper cultivation, is one of the most important phases of the soil conservation program now under way in this area.

Upon retirement the land is ridged from top to bottom of slope with contour ridges placed from 12 to 15 feet apart. The ridges are then sodded and in some instances seeded, stock being kept off until a suitable pasture is available. The contour ridges serve a five-fold purpose by holding moisture, conserving fertility, checking erosion, preventing grass seeds from washing away and controlling runoff water, thereby minimizing flood conditions.

Brown county farmers who are retiring their land are Bob Low, W. B. Shannon, M. H. Denman, Mrs. Willie K. Turner, Bill Boler, Dudley Nabors, Douglas Coalson, J. W. Sneed, D. K. Smith, Harry V. Hoover and T. E. Hill.

Work crews from the Soil Conservation Camp have been working during the past two weeks on the following farms: E. W. Gill (W. L. May, operator), Mrs. Willie K. Turner, J. L. White, Harry V. Hoover, Homer Boyd and Dudley Nabors.

Terracing is being done by the county road machinery on farms belonging to J. W. Sneed, Dudley Nabors and Jenkins Martin, while Warren Fortson is demonstrating the feasibility of constructing terraces with freeso and Kelly long-tracing terracing plow. These terraces have the advantage of being bulky and wide, and are thoroughly compacted by tramping of the team in construction.

March 14 Closing Date For Entries In League Contest

All entries in contests of the annual Brown County Interscholastic League meet, to be held here Friday and Saturday, March 27 and 28, must be sent to Superintendent Arthur Maberry of Bangs, director general, before Saturday, March 14. Program for the meet was outlined at a meeting of the League executive committee at the courthouse Tuesday afternoon and will be announced in detail within a few days.

The playground baseball contest will be held at May Saturday, March 21, a week ahead of the meet.

Trustees Choose Not To Run Again

The only two members of the Brownwood school board whose terms expire this year, A. N. Thomason, president, and J. C. Galloway, secretary, have announced that they will not seek re-election in the annual school board election April 4. Five other members of the board are holdovers.

Bruce Francis, Roscoe Brooks and J. A. Henry have announced as candidates. The members whose terms do not expire this year are R. R. Holloway, vice-president; Henry Wilson, J. K. Wilkes, P. C. Barnes and Dr. H. B. Allen.

Held as Suspect in King's Killing

Suspected by French police of implication in the assassination of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Foreign Minister Barthou of France in Marseille in 1934, Katarino Schisseler, shown here after her arrest in Sao Paulo, Brazil, was held to await word from the French government. She is from Croatia, where it is believed the murder plot originated.

LOCAL RIFLE TEAM WINS IN REGIMENT

Word was received in Brownwood this week that the rifle team of Company A, 142nd Infantry, Texas National Guard won first place in the regimental musketry competition for the William Randolph Hearst trophy. The Company A team shot in the competition about a month ago, and the targets were sent to Washington for judging.

The team now has until March 31 to shoot in the national contest. Last year, the Company A team won first place in Texas in the competition for the Hearst trophy, and third place in the national contest.

Senator E. M. Davis, captain of Company A, stated this week that he was hopeful the team would win the national contest this year.

J. C. PENNEY, CHAIN STORE EXECUTIVE, IS BROWNWOOD VISITOR

J. C. Penney, founder of the chain stores bearing his name, visited the local unit in his vast chain Tuesday. He spent the day greeting visitors to the local store, talking with customers and employees of the store. Mr. Penney stated that 1935 business of the 1500 retail stores making up his chain was better by $17,000,000 than business in 1929. He predicts that 1936 business will be even better.

Mr. Penney is on a tour of the Texas units in the chain. He came here from San Angelo, being met at Ballinger by J. A. Henry, manager of the Brownwood store. It was his first visit to Brownwood.

HPC SPEAKERS ENTER NATIONAL TOURNAMENT

Several debaters and speakers from Howard Payne College will attend the national speech tournament which opens at Houston March 31 and in which speakers from colleges and universities all over the United States will participate. The Brownwood Phi Kappa Delta chapter will be one of the host chapters to the tournament, which is being held in the South this year for the first time.

Albert McChrissy and Lindsey Dublin, debaters, Elton Greenlee, extemporaneous speaker, and Blanche Dabney, entry in oratorical contests, made a good showing in contests at the Savage Forensic Tournament held at the South-east Oklahoma Teachers College at Durant Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Leta Newby Shelton, coach, accompanied the students to the tournament.

ON TARLETON SQUAD

Considered as one of the most promising of the new track material at John Tarleton College, Lowell Pouncey of Brownwood is working out daily with the squad in preparation for the track meet at the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, March 21. Pouncey is working out on the broad jump.

RAPID PROGRESS IS BEING MADE IN TAX SURVEY OF COUNTY

A group of 14 WPA workers is making good progress in the Brown County Tax Survey.

This survey is being carried on as a statewide project under sponsorship of the Texas Tax Board and is financed by WPA funds. R. Lee Clark is the district supervisor and Tom Kellum is the supervisor for Brown County for this work.

Both Mr. Clark and Mr. Kellum are well pleased with the cooperation given them by land owners and county officials in this survey. Practically every land owner on whom the field workers have called has been glad to give them the correct information.

The purpose of this survey is to discover land and other possessions now escaping taxation, the elimination of duplicate tax assessments, and classification of lands as to productivity in order to establish a basis for fair evaluation for tax purposes.

"The purpose of this survey is, therefore, not to raise taxes but to work out a fair and equitable basis of taxation," Mr. Clark states. "If the thousands and thousands of acres of land and other properties now escaping taxation can be placed on the tax rolls it would considerably increase the state tax income and may result in the lowering of the state tax rate."

Tom Kellum, local supervisor, is at present compiling an up-to-date ownership map of Brown County which will be of great value to the citizens of this county.

The information gathered in this survey is being carefully compiled and will be filed in the local courthouse. Data contained in these records will be available to county officials as well as to the general citizenship.

DINNER IN HONOR OF WPA OFFICIALS WILL BE HELD WEDNESDAY

The dinner for state and district WPA officials and for chamber of commerce officials from this district, will be held Wednesday, March 18, at 6:30 o'clock. It was announced this week at the luncheon of directors of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the dinner.

Several officials from the state WPA offices in San Antonio are expected to be here for the dinner, which is being given in appreciation for the work done in this district by the WPA. Chamber of Commerce presidents and secretaries from the counties embraced in this WPA district will be invited. Arrangements are in charge of Chester Harrison, secretary.

Directors passed a resolution thanking the Bowen Bus Lines for increasing the number of bus schedules between Brownwood and Fort Worth and San Angelo.

Mr. Harrison was instructed to supply the Dallas Chamber of Commerce with material about Brownwood and the local centennial celebration. The material will be used by the Dallas organization on a trade trip soon to be made, and was requested by that organization.

Trade Assures City Airport At Brownwood

City-County Swap Also Paves Way For Permanent County Welfare Home

Construction of an airport for Brownwood, to be built under a WPA project sponsored by the city, will be started as soon as labor is available, according to Carl Blasig, assistant director of WPA district 14. A 200-acre tract was secured by the city this week in a transaction by which some city property and a cash payment was traded in exchange for the airport site, the tract formerly used for the county poor farm. The project was one of four or five such projects in Texas approved by the government.

The airport site is situated four miles north of the city a short distance off of highway 23 between Brownwood and Rising Star. Construction of the airport will give Brownwood its first standard, government approved airport. City officials state that with construction of the port Brownwood will probably be placed on one of the main airlines and that the port will in all probability be used extensively by the army as a landing field.

City and county officials have been working together for several weeks to reach an agreement on a trade whereby the airport site would be secured. About 200 citizens attending the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in February voted approval of the project and urged continued efforts to secure the project.

The property received by the county was a six acre lot with a two story house in North Brownwood. The house will be used as the county welfare home, saving the county rent charges now being paid for a house on Melwood avenue. The commissioners also plan to build a complete welfare unit on the tract through assistance of the WPA. Plans for the unit include construction of several small brick buildings.

County Gives State Permission To Move Boards Near Roads

Authority to remove all advertising signs on county lateral roads where such roads intersect state highways and where the signs are within 100 feet of the state right-of-way in so far as the court has authority, was given the State Highway Department by Commissioners Court in a resolution passed Monday. The resolution was passed on request of the Department which is seeking to remove the signs as a part of its program to beautify state highways.

Payment of $128.52 to deputy tax assessors for assessing 1936 county and state taxes was authorized by the commissioners. Payment of monthly bills was ordered and one charity case was investigated.

Ladders, not roads, are the only approaches to Norway's more inaccessible farms, which are mere ledges on the mountains. Norwegian farmers in the old days sometimes pulled up their ladders when the tax collector came by, but a law later made a stationary ladder of iron compulsory.

COWBOYS HERE

The Bird Brand Cowboys will be in Brownwood Friday, March 13, it was announced this week. The entertainers will be here all day, and will give free entertainments during the day at various stores.

Horses Play Too

Where the Rhone divides before entering the Mediterranean, it forms a salt delta, the Camargue, one of the most romantic regions of France. Flamings with pink feathers inhabit its marshes, herds of cattle roam its fields, and steers and branding are a part of everyday life. The cowboys of the region are expert and their small white horses are very intelligent, taking as lively interest in the games of their riders as the men themselves do.

Fallurrias in South Texas first achieved national recognition with the fine quality of butter it ships in vast quantities throughout the nation. Its annual Fourth of July rodeo this year is dedicated to the Texas Centennial observance.

WHAT KIND OF A HAT SHOULD TEXANS WEAR TO CENTENNIAL?

What kind of hat should be worn by Texans during Centennial Year, or by Texans attending the Centennial? That seems to be quite a debatable question these days. The Texas Centennial publicity department started it all by advising Texans to don ten-gallon hats and other items of cowboy attire in honor of the state's birthday. The suggestion brought forth criticism by many who believe Texans thereby would create the wrong impression of our glorious state. Newspaper editors have been debating the question pro and con for several weeks, and yet no decision has been reached.

Below we publish two typical editorials from West Texas newspapers on the subject, among many that have come to our attention.

CENTENNIAL COWBOYS

(Goldthwaite Eagle)
 J. Frank Dobie, illustrious Texas author and the outstanding authority on Texas pioneer history, has called attention to the fact that not a single Texas Centennial monument is planned to honor the Texas cowboy. On the heels of his protest comes a publicity item that citizens of Dallas and Fort Worth have been urged to wear ten-gallon hats to give local color to the centennial celebrations.

Both items rile us considerably. Mr. Dobie is right in asserting that the Texas cowboys of the last century did more to develop Texas than any other class. They have given color to the state's history and flavor to its folklore. Those hardy pioneers who rode the cattle trails to Kansas, one of which may still be traced on the outskirts of Goldthwaite, were far removed from this generation. The privations they withstood, the perils they survived, stamp them as men of heroic mould. It is indeed fitting that their fame be perpetuated in marble or bronze for this and future generations to profit by.

It is cheap and degrading for the drug store cowboy to imitate their headgear. For men who never forked a saddle or saw cattle on the range to masquerade before centennial visitors as cowboys is as abhorrent as it would be for them to clown about in Santa Claus suits.

If we cannot honor our pioneers in a befitting manner, let us at least not descend to burlesque.

LET'S DRESS THE PART

(Abilene Reporter)

The Denison Herald is just a little indignant that the Texas Centennial commission's publicity department should advise all Texans to don ten-gallon hats and other items of cowboy attire in honor of the state's birthday. The Herald insists it would be just as sensible for New Yorkers to don Dutch colonial garb and drive ex-carts down Broadway.

While it is easy to understand the Herald's dissent from the view that Texans should go cowboy and its insistence that Texas is grown up and should put aside the childish ways, we cannot follow it all the way. In the first place, everybody who comes to Texas for the show will be expecting to see a lot of ten-gallon hats and fancy boots and if they don't see them in quantity they will be just a bit disappointed. What if it isn't our custom to go around looking like Tom Mix. It's just a gag, part of the stage setting.

We used to get sore at Glib Sanderfer for parading his Cowboy Band all over the map tricked out in flashy vaquero attire, on the ground that it would give an entirely false impression of this grown-up community; but our indignation has cooled. Indeed, we have a sheepish admiration for it now; it's the symbol of a snappy, strutting, dashing bunch of real musicians playing their fool heads off and giving the spectators an eye full at the same time.

So if Texans want to fool around in a garb to which ninety-eight per cent of them are total strangers, let 'em go to it. In the eyes of tourists the ten-gallon hat is as distinctively a part of every Texan's everyday garb as the turban is of every Arab. Let's not disappoint our guests. Let's dress the part, think the part and play the part in dispensing that brand of hospitality for which the cowboy is famous. Whoopieee!

LONGHORN CAVERNS WERE HABITAT OF PREHISTORIC MAN

Discovery in Texas of a new habitat of prehistoric man by a geologist of the National Park Service was announced today by Arno B. Cammerer, Director.

Dr. Charles N. Gould, geologist of the seventh regional office of the Service, made the discovery in Longhorn Caverns State Park, near Burnet, in the Lone Star State, where he has been studying geologic formations in connection with CCC work, under joint supervision of the National Park Service and the Texas State Parks Board. His find includes arrow points, metates, and numerous bones of animals, the leg bones of which had been split, evidently for extracting marrow.

"Longhorn Caverns bear every evidence that they once served as shelters and probably as homes for prehistoric man", states Doctor Gould. "They are of the 'trap cave' type, into which, for untold centuries, animals have fallen and perished, leaving today a rich deposit of prehistoric remains. These are now being uncovered and studied for classification."

Doctor Gould further pointed out that in view of the scientific value of these materials, both archeologically and paleontologically, it is of the utmost importance that every care be exercised to preserve even small and seemingly insignificant fragments of bones, pottery, arrow points, and other objects.

Three natural entrances lead into Longhorn Caverns, which consist of a series of channels, dissolved by the action of ground water from the limestone formations. The largest chamber is approximately 300 feet long by 50 feet high, containing fantastic forms of stalactites and stalagmites. Another room is lined with beautiful crystals of Iceland spar and calcite.

The caverns lie from 50 to 150 feet below the surface. Dirt and silt have choked part of the natural entrances. Some 20,000 cubic yards have been excavated, and an equal amount remains to be dug out. Possibilities of future discoveries are eagerly awaited by members of the Texas State Parks Board.

ASSOCIATION PLANS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE FOR CONCERT YEAR

Plans for the annual membership drive of the Brownwood Co-operative Concert Association, to be held the week following April 27, were perfected recently and workers for the campaign were named by J. Edward Johnson, president of the association. The campaign for 1936-37 members will open with a dinner at Hotel Brownwood on the evening of Monday, April 27, when Mrs. Amelia Sperry, representative of the national office through which the local organization secures concert artists for appearance here, will be the principal speaker.

Mr. Johnson, re-elected president of the association at the close of the 1935-36 season which closed recently, has named members of the executive committee as follows: Vice-presidents: Rev. Wm. H. Foster, Rev. R. Guy Davis, Douglas Coalson, J. Horace Shelton, E. J. Woodward, and Dr. Mollie W. Armstrong; secretary, Miss Mary Alyce Watson; treasurer, Chester Harrison; membership chairman, Mrs. Norman Locks; and co-chairmen, Mrs. Leta N. Shelton and Mrs. David S. Camp, Jr.

Named to assist with the campaign are Mrs. Wesley Hall, headquarters secretary; Mrs. H. F. Mayes, dinner chairman, Miss Mary Alyce Watson, appointments; Mrs. Mac Ledbetter, transportation chairman; and publicity chairman, Mrs. James R. Beadel.

Team captains will include Mrs. McAdoo Keaton, Mrs. W. D. McCulley, Mrs. Edna Savage Saunders, Miss Marguerite Wilson, Mrs. Chas. J. Horn, Mrs. L. J. Honen, Mrs. Karl H. Moore, Mrs. Leta N. Shelton, J. Horace Shelton, Mrs. J. R. Stone, Mrs. J. C. Galloway, Miss Mae Brantom, Miss Edith Scrimbeour, Mrs. Leo Ehlinger, Mrs. Wendell Mayes and Mrs. D. T. Strickland.

Campaign headquarters will be at Hotel Brownwood.

Only those persons who purchase memberships during the drive can attend the concerts, with the exception of out-of-town visitors. All money paid for the memberships will be used to secure artists for the concerts scheduled in advance of the season. Since the size of the membership will determine the quality of the Brownwood concert season, all workers are eager to secure as large a membership as possible. Last year's membership was approximately 300, and it is hoped that this number will be exceeded in the coming membership drive.

Dance Everywhere

May 8 is the great day in Helston, England, for at that time the whole population joins in celebrating the "Furry Dance". All day long dancers surge through the streets and enter houses, dancing and capering. Far from being upset by this intrusion, housewives consider it a sign of good luck, and pity those whom the dancers do not visit.

WILLIAMS

The entire Williams Chapter of the F. F. A. will leave early Friday morning to spend two days at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. The trip is to be financed by the members of the Chapter, and should be well worth the money that each member spends.

The trip should be very educational, in that the boys will be able to see the best livestock and poultry of the nation on exhibit, and of course the industrial exhibits will be of much educational value too. The boys are to make a trip through one of the large packing plants to observe proper methods of slaughtering animals, and proper methods of curing the meat.

MAKING Smart CLOTHES

At the very recent Paris Ensembles, prints were shown more than they have been in years. There's a reason for that. The prints themselves are smarter and show more imagination than they have for a long time. Grand combinations of color—turquoise and brown, chartreuse and navy, lipstick red and brilliant blue. Smarter designs—interesting conventionalized florals, bow-knot prints, prints of animals and people and masks.

For these reasons, I think that you will be wanting a print dress this year. So I have found you a design that I think will be particularly smart for your interesting and distinguished—yet essentially simple. A set-in piece at the neckline gives the effect of a collar. Echo one of the colors in your print with a jeweled clip at your neckline, center front... and you will have an exceedingly chic dress which should cost you very little.

You can buy this pattern at the pattern counter of your local department store.

INGLET IS AWARDED DAMAGES OF $15,000

Damages of $15,200 were awarded W. M. Inglet et al by a jury in 35th district court Friday morning in the suit of W. M. Inglet et al vs. Kimbell-Diamond Milling Company of Fort Worth. The damages were asked in connection with the death of Mrs. W. M. Inglet, 63, who was struck by an automobile driven by an employe of the milling company on highway 7 near her home, two miles east of Bangs the night of January 1.

Benjamin Bowman was driving the automobile which struck Mrs. Inglet. He brought her to a Brownwood hospital where she died.

The jury allowed damages in behalf of Mr. Inglet but did not allow damages on behalf of the children.

Honor Roll Lists Many Who Lead In Student Activity

Many of the students whose names appeared on the honor roll for the past semester at Daniel Baker College are also making good records in campus and social activities. Among the outstanding students who are making high grades in their school work are the following:

Dorothy Nell Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Solie Baker, made the honor roll with an average of one A and four B's. Miss Baker, a freshman, is a member of the W. I. T. freshman society and is a popular student.

Edna Merle Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smith of Indian Creek, made the semester honor roll with an average of two A's and three B's. She is classified as a junior.

Thelma McCulley, senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. McCulley of Blanket, made an average of three A's and two B's. She was elected football sweetheart and was candidate for the most beautiful girl in a recent election. Jake McCulley, her brother, was recently voted the most popular boy on the campus. He is one of the outstanding basketball players on this year's team.

Maebelle and Aleene Fitzgerald, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fitzgerald of Indian Creek, also made the honor roll. Maebelle, a freshman, was one of the few to make a straight A in all her subjects. Aleene made an unusually good average of four A's and one B.

Thompson Announces For Commissioner

In this issue of The Brownwood Banner I am announcing my candidacy for re-election of Commissioner of Precinct No. 1 of Brown county (Ward 4 in Brownwood). I desire to thank the people of the precinct, who have honored me in the past by their votes, and it has been my constant endeavor to render to them a faithful and efficient service. It is their privilege to pass judgment upon the character of that service.

In this connection, I beg to refer to the many miles of improved roads in Precinct No. 1. I have consistently tried to get value received for each dollar of the county money spent, and point with a degree of pride to the uniformly good condition of the road and bridge account of my precinct.

I have always stood for economy in county affairs and have sought to conserve the general fund in every way possible. I have at all times cooperated with the farmers in terracing work, and will continue to do so.

If elected to another term, I feel that my past training and experience, together with a thorough knowledge of conditions in the precinct and county will enable me to render an even better service during the next two years. I shall appreciate your support.

E. S. THOMPSON.

Enumerators for the city directory now being compiled are this week making second visits to homes not enumerated on the first round of visits. Mrs. S. Fomby, in charge of preparation of the directory, urges that people receive the enumerators and provide the necessary information, since this is the only means by which a complete census of the city can be made.

Immediate danger of war in Europe seems to be less as the tension caused by the militarization of the Rhine by Germany eases up a bit. Experts on international problems are agreed that the situation is bad, that war seems inevitable within the next few years, but that there is no cause to expect immediate war, now that the crisis has passed.

Clouds Pass

The reasons are many. Germany, in spite of hurried preparations, in spite of statements by Hitler, in spite of the military attitude of its people, is not yet prepared for war. With 650,000 men under arms, and a reserve strength of some 1,400,000 more, Germany is not able to cope with France's standing army of 600,000 and England's 400,000, with a combined reserve strength of more than 1,500,000 men. Consider, too, that Italy, who might be brought in to any international European problem, has the largest European standing army, 1,200,000 men under arms, and a reserve strength of nearly six million. France, too, has 2,500 airplanes, the largest European flying unit.

France does not want war; England certainly does not want any war at the present time, and Germany is unprepared for a major conflict. Italy seemingly has her hands full with Ethiopia. The time is not ripe for any conflict, and only some grave frontier incident along the Rhine could bring about a war at the present time. Germany has made a daring maneuver again, and once again seems to be getting away with it. The excuse for the militarization of the Rhine, in defiance of the treaty of Locarno, was the signing of the Franco-Soviet pact a few months ago.

Meanwhile, although the World War is now nearly twenty years behind us, the lessons learned by America in that conflict are still fresh in the memory of the people of this country. This is the best safeguard against our being drawn into any European war, no matter what the pretext might be. American people will remember the suffering and the cost of a major war, and will be loath to approve any move that might draw this country into any foreign entanglement. And, despite the criticism that has come following the huge military appropriations that will build up this country's military and naval strength, that action will do more to assure peace for the people of the United States than any other one thing.

Most cheering news is the announcement that the City of Brownwood and Brown County have reached an agreement whereby the city becomes owner of the old county farm for use as a Municipal Airport, and the county takes possession of a two-story house in North Brownwood for use as a Welfare Home. It is cheering news because both of these governmental agencies, the city council and the commissioners court, have need of the property acquired.

A Good Trade

The county plans to put the newly-acquired property to good use, and seems to have made a good trade. Any real estate trade that brings $2,000 cash in the deal is a good trade these days. And the property in the city that becomes the county's, will actually be used for the purpose for which the county farm originally was purchased; assisting in caring for the poor of the county. Owning the property will be much more satisfactory than renting a house—the procedure followed now—and better attention can be given those at the welfare home through its improvement by WPA assistance. While most of us were prone to look at the transaction from the standpoint of securing an airport, the securing of a permanent, county-owned and government planned welfare home is just as essential, and as important to the well being of the residents of the county as the airport could be.

To be sure, the importance of the airport is not to be minimized. An airport is essential to the growth and progress of any city in this modern age. The need of an airport will increase as the years go by, and the possibility of securing one will grow less and less. With increased use of airmail, this service is being extended by the government as rapidly as local conditions will permit. Eventually, the postoffice department will want to include Brownwood on an airmail route, either through San Angelo to Fort Worth, or a north-south route through Brownwood. Possibly both will come in time, but neither would come if the city were not prepared.

Possibly at no other time would it be possible to secure such favorable assistance from the government in building an airport, and from that standpoint it was important that the property be secured as early as possible, before the government withdraws from this work.

Considered from every viewpoint, the exchange of property between the city and county was a good trade, and one which will enable two important projects to be carried through to the advantage of the people of the city and county.

Fort Worth has announced the employment of intrepid Billy Rose as director of its Frontier Centennial Celebration, which daily is gaining favor with West Texans. The announcement brings added interest to a celebration that already has caught the fancy of Texans, and which bids fair to overshadow in point of interest the Central Centennial Exposition at Dallas.

Stealing The Show

Billy Rose is a spectacular producer, who does things in a big way. His success with seemingly impossible tasks makes his job of putting over the Fort Worth show seem comparatively insignificant. But it's not. It will be one of the biggest jobs that Mr. Rose has tackled, and if he puts into it the enthusiasm and vision that has marked his work in the past, the Frontier Centennial Celebration will be a great success.

Already the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has transferred its major exhibit from Dallas to Fort Worth, with a rather incidental exhibit for the Dallas exposition. Fort Worth is a unit in its endeavor to stage a worth while Centennial celebration; the Dallas exposition has been handicapped by internal friction. And while the Fort Worth show doubtless will not reduce attendance at Dallas, it is sure to make Centennial visitors divide time between the two North Texas cities.

TREES

JOYCE KILMER—who died in action August, 1916, has immortalized himself by the following verse:

I think that I shall never see
A poem as lovely as a tree.
A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast.
A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;
A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;
Upon whose bosom snow has lain
Who intimately lives with rain.
Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

Have you ever considered the individuality of trees—the most kindly of plants? They have personalities as fascinating to study as human beings. We find the age old Cypress trees throughout the ancient hills of Italy, straight, dark and uncommunicative, symbolizing death and its mystery in the poet's mind. "Woe to him who never sees the stars shine through his Cypress trees!" Then in contrast we see the spreading and hospitable branches of the glorious Elm. We rejoice in the refinement and culture of the beautiful Maple, in the steadfastness of the sturdy Oak! We wonder at the exquisite delicacy of the white-barked Birch that thrives so often near, and in such contrast to the physical endurance of the hardy Pines. Trees are living creatures. The man who has no special tree friends is indeed a lonely creature.

President Coolidge first instituted "Forest Protection Week," bringing to the American conscience the fact that the tree life of our country must be spared if we wish to safeguard America's natural resources. Forests prevent floods, they make the soil fertile by holding moisture. Think what trees have done for civilization.

The third and fourth lines of the beautiful poem above recall what a scientist once told me. Some of our large forest trees have the life giving power of lifting 66 gallons of water daily from Mother Earth into their branches.

The boy and girl scout movement of America is teaching our youth to love trees. When this becomes universal, no more will selfish lumber corporations, with pecuniary interests, be allowed to cut down the marvelous Redwoods of California, as old as the time of Christ. No, these belong to the ages, an inheritance of posterity, no one generation owns them.

UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM

(Dallas News)

Although economic conditions are noticeably improved, nearly 9,000,000 jobless persons are registered with the government's employment agencies.

This huge army of jobless men and women in a country outwardly prosperous remains the principal problem confronting the Nation.

Billions have been spent for relief. Additional billions have been thrown into the war on unemployment through vast programs of public works. Public works are under way on the greatest scale of history at present, yet millions of jobless bread winners remain without employment.

This is a matter that is beyond the pale of politics. The Hoover policy of ignoring unemployment, though the needy might starve, certainly did not improve the situation. But the Roosevelt policy of a job for every man willing to work, even if the government must provide the money, also has failed to eliminate the hungry millions clamoring for an opportunity to earn their own way.

The Roosevelt administration has done everything that a government without admitting that the country has a needy class which must be supported by an outright, recognized government dole. We are, however, still as far from a real solution of the problem as we were four years ago.

Here is a basic problem in National economics that challenges the thought of the best minds of the country. The political approach has proved inefficient. Perhaps, if it is treated as a purely economic problem, the solution may be found.

More than 20,000 derricks surmount that many wells in the great East Texas oil field which is eight miles wide and 60 miles long. The field, one of the most interesting industrial sights in North America, will attract thousands of Centennial year visitors in Texas.

A "Memel semester," with special lectures on Memel, has been established at the University of Kansas, Lithuania, due to the students' intense interest in this former German territory.

Newcastle

Sixty-five and one-third bushels of corn were sold for $1.17 per bushel by feeding it to beef cattle, states Charles Blanton of Newcastle, Texas, in Young county.

put five head of steers in the feed lot with an average weight of 700 pounds and a total value of $175, November 1, 1935. These steers were first put into a field of hegarl which was well headed, and were given the full benefit of this for 30 days. They were then put into the feed lot and fed a ration of corn, bundles and cottonseed meal.

The total amount of feed consumed in addition to the five acres of hegarl which was hogged down was 3,300 pounds in bundles, 4,704 pounds of corn, 440 pounds of heads and 980 pounds of cottonseed meal. The total feed cost including the feed grinding was $196.25. Total marketing expense, including trucking and selling commission was $18.68, making a total expense of $124.93.

The steers at completion of the demonstration weighed an average of 992 pounds and sold for seven cents per pound bringing a total of $347.20. The total profit above the initial value of the calves plus all the expenses was $47.27 which added to the price brought the total sale value of the corn up to $1.17 per bushel instead of 45 cents which was the amount Blancett could have received by selling on the market.

Canyon

George E. Mason living in the Highland School community in Randall county bought a farm level in 1935 to lay off contour rows for his row crops, according to B. A. Zorns, county agricultural agent.

On 160 acres that Mason planted in 1936, his average yield was nine bushels per acre. His neighbors, some of them harvesting only the best parts of their field, averaged from five to six bushels.

Big Spring

A well built concrete cellar with shelves on two sides for storing canned goods has been constructed by Mrs. G. W. Overton, 4-H pantry demonstrator for the Overton home demonstration club in Howard county, according to Miss Mayme Lou Parr, home demonstration agent.

The entire cellar is concrete lined and white-washed, with the shelves painted white. This makes the cellar very light, and it is possible to read all labels on the cans easily. A well balanced canning budget has been followed, providing sufficient leafy, starchy, and other types of vegetables.

Pampa

Gray county home demonstration club women have been invited to bring their young children to club meetings with them and leave them under the care of a specially trained young girl working under the National Youth Administration, according to Miss Ruby Adams, home demonstration agent.

A girl accompanies Miss Adams to each club meeting and while the club meeting is in progress for the mothers, she will entertain and instruct the children in another room.

As the girl has received training in kindergarten methods and child psychology, the children will thus receive worthwhile pre-school

Henrietta

Empty baking powder cans have been used to advantage by Mrs. C. E. Witte of the Cambridge home demonstration club in Clay county for baking quick breads in dainty round loaves, according to Miss Margaret Stewart, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Witte greases the can on the inside just as she would a loaf pan, fills the can three-fourths full and places it upright in the oven. The resulting loaves are dainty and round and suitable for making party or lunch sandwiches.

McKinney

Twenty-six grape cuttings out of a total of 32 set out in February, 1935 are now strong plants and will be moved to a permanent location next month, Miss Hannah Johnson of the Union home demonstration club in Collin county has reported to Miss Helen Dunlap, home demonstration agent.

In order that they might produce large root systems during dry weather Miss Johnson sank a two inch pipe between every two or three plants and poured large amounts of water down each pipe. The roots were thus forced to reach downward for water, and Miss Johnson says that some of the runners reach a length of three feet by actual measurement.

George West

A total value of $148 for one-fifth of an acre of tomatoes was received by Pauline Maguglin, Live Oak county 4-H club girl, according to her report to Miss Linda Sears, home demonstration agent. Tomatoes were used fresh for three months, and 800 quarts were canned. The total cost of producing the tomatoes was $12 for seed and labor, and all tomatoes sold brought $1 per bushel.

Pauline reports that her success was due to wise selection of seeds, thorough cultivation of plants, and keeping the plants free of insects and disease.

Beeville

I have added a pantry with 50 feet of shelving at a cost of $10 and have provided a home food supply of 539 containers of foods," says Mrs. Charles Sugarek of the Central home demonstration club in Bee county, according to Miss Lorena Yates, home demonstration agent. The cost of the pantry was for lumber to wall in a small porch in which to store the foods she had canned. Her only other expense was for 100 tin cans, and her pantry is valued at $10. In addition to the 539 containers of canned food, Mrs. Sugarek has stored 115 pounds of nuts, lard and bacon.

Muleshoe

Doris and Grace Churchill of Bailey county have produced $431.50 worth of turkeys as a result of their efforts during the past seven months, records in the hands of J. B. Waide, Jr., county agricultural agent, show.

Doris, 11, and Grace, 15, secured 95 poulters late in May and raised 75 of the birds to be prime specimens. Total cost of poulters, feed, and improvements necessary in caring for the turkeys amounted to $101. The confinement method was used, and the girls did all the work connected with raising the birds except grinding and mixing of feed.

WPA WORKERS HURT WHILE RETURNING FROM JOB AT BANGS

Twelve WPA workers were injured, one seriously and four others who were hurt badly enough to need hospital treatment, when the truck in which they were returning from work on Bangs WPA projects collided with a car on the Grosvenor road north of Bangs late Wednesday afternoon. After collision with the car, driven by J. W. Newton of Cross Cut, the truck ran into a ditch. Fifteen men were riding in the truck but three who were riding in the cab were uninjured.

E. L. Ford, 30, is the most seriously injured. He is receiving treatment in Medical Arts Hospital for fractured ribs and numerous minor injuries. Attending physicians expressed the opinion Thursday morning that he might have received internal injuries.

Four others, all less seriously injured than Ford, were taken to Central Texas Hospital for treatment. They are E. C. Robertson, 50, dislocated shoulder; Jodie Strawn, 49, fractured ribs; Wm. M. Purcell, Jr., 32, fractured shoulder, dislocated elbow and dislocated shoulder, and Eddie Miller, 46, dislocated shoulder. Others injured received only slight bruises and cuts and were treated in Bangs.

BOWMAN EXAMINING APPLICATIONS FOR OLD AGE PENSIONS

Preliminary examinations of applications for old age assistance are being made in Brown county by J. M. Bowman of Brownwood recently appointed district investigator. A thorough investigation of every application made is necessary, according to Mr. Bowman who said that he would make the investigations as rapidly as possible.

"In justice to everyone concerned, our investigations must be thorough," Mr. Bowman said. "This means that we must visit each applicant and check every item of information given in the application. Our major purpose is not to throw out unworthy applications, but to see that accurate statements of fact have been made and to assist in correction of errors which might invalidate applications from persons who are actually eligible under the law."

"Since this work is tedious, and we have no assistants as yet in the investigation work, we urge all applicants to be as patient as they can, and assure them that attention will be given to them in due time."

"Unless the applicant is notified to the contrary, he may take for granted that his application is progressing through the necessary channels, and no news is good news in such cases."

He also said that it would not be necessary for any applicant to call upon him as he would visit the applicants as quickly as possible.

Mr. Bowman, who was in Brady for several days last week working with C. A. Trizec, district supervisor for the Old Age Assistance Commission, is now working on 785 of the 1500 or more Brown county applications that have been prepared. No announcement has been made regarding appointment of an assistant for the work here.

Growth of Lockjaw Germ
Injuries from explosives favor development of lockjaw, because the germ grows only in the absence of air, and injuries from explosives are apt to form incised wounds with deep airless pockets.

Lions Club Views Demonstration of Optical Machines

Practical use and the many benefits of the optometric machines invented and put on the market by the Taylor brothers of Brownwood and Dr. R. A. Ellis was given by Dr. Ellis at the regular meeting of Brownwood Lions Club this week. The machines have been taken over for manufacture by the American Optical Company, but it is hoped that the plant, now operated here by the Taylor brothers, can be retained here.

At present the local plant employs 20 men. If the market for the machines comes up to the expectations of the A. O. A. a force of 200 men will be required to operate the plant for their manufacture, Dr. Ellis said.

Next good will trip sponsored by the Lions club will be to Winchell March 24.

All Night Celebration

Hundreds of travelers gather in Rattvik and other towns of Dalecarlia, one of Sweden's most picturesque regions, for the celebrations of St. John's Eve, June 23. The festivities do not get into full swing until midnight, and then there is merrymaking straight through until morning. The best groups of dancers from neighboring villages meet at this time in contests, dancing old folk steps and singing songs of country life of sowing and reaping. The bright costumes worn and the high spirits of the dancers make the occasion a very delightful one.

NORMAL PURCHASING INDICATED BY BANK LOAN APPLICATIONS

Return to normal purchasing of farm lands is shown by a study of applications received by the Federal Land Bank of Houston in the past five months, according to word received from the bank by C. M. Carpenter, Secretary-Treasurer of the Brownwood National Farm Loan Association. Nearly three million dollars, or about twenty per cent of the Land Bank and Land Bank Commissioner loans applied for in that period have been for the purchase of farms.

For some months past, Land Bank Commissioner as well as Federal Land Bank loans have been available for financing the purchase of farms. Prior to the broadening of their scope, Land Bank Commissioner loans could be made only to refinance existing indebtedness.

From October 1, 1935 through February 29, 1936, 4,160 new and reinstated applications were received by the Federal Land Bank of Houston, for amounts totaling $15,923,550.

Federal Land Bank loans now are available through N. P. L.'s, said Mr. Carpenter, at the lowest interest rates in history and may be made for the following purposes: (a) To purchase land for agricultural uses; (b) to buy equipment, fertilizers, and livestock necessary for the proper and reasonable operation of the mortgaged farm; (c) to provide buildings and for the improvement of farm land; (d) to liquidate indebtedness of the owner of the mortgaged land incurred for agricultural purposes or incurred prior to January 1, 1933; and (e) to provide the owner of the mortgaged land with funds for general agricultural uses.

GARDENING on a Budget

This is the third of a series of articles on gardening by budget.

BY PROF. C. H. NISSLEY
Extension Horticulturist, N. J. College of Agriculture and Experiment Station, Rutgers University

THE real key to growing fine vegetables lies in the seed catalog. High quality seed purchased from a reliable seed house will make those hours spent in weeding seem time well spent when your meals are enhanced by fresh peas, tender beans, and firm, sweet tomatoes, fresh from the vine.

Cheap seeds may be so old that there is no life left in them, or they may be of a badly-mixed variety unfit for planting. Since it helps to know the names of varieties which other gardeners have found satisfactory, some of them are listed here.

Hybrid sweet corn varieties like the Top Cross Bantam or Golden Cross Bantam are resistant to a common disease called "wilt". The ears are 7 to 8 inches long and have golden yellow kernels.

The Bountiful bean is tender and flat, and the Tendergreen is a stringless round-podded variety. If you have a fence for it, the Kentucky Wonder is a good climbing variety.

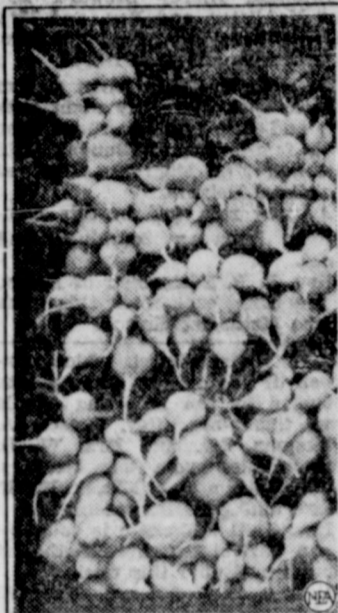

The Crosby's Egyptian beet is an early spring beet of quality, and the Detroit Dark Red is a late or fall variety.

THE Marion Market cabbage is resistant to the dreaded "Yellows" disease and matures early. Where this disease is not serious, the Golden Acre variety is preferred by many. Late varieties of cabbage, as the Danish Ballhead or Flat Dutch, should be selected for kraut or for winter storage purposes.

If your ground is heavy, a short-growing carrot like the Oxheart should be planted, and if your soil is a loam to a sandy loam, then a longer type carrot, such as the Chantenay, will grow well there.

A few hills of cucumbers in the garden will supply an ample quantity for the family. The Early Fortune or any of the White Spine varieties will grow fairly large for slicing and salads. They make good pickles, too, if picked young.

Dependable very early varieties of lettuce are the New York or Wonderful, an iceberg type, and the Big Boston, the latter type. The Grand Rapids variety will supply your table during the hot summer months. This is a loose-leaf lettuce, and generally can be not lend itself to staking purposes.

Turnips are a good family vegetable. The mature in about 50 to 70 days, and may be stored throughout the winter. The Purple Top Globe is a white-fleshed variety; Golden Ball or Aberdon are yellow-flesh varieties.

Morris, as administrator of the estate of John Dorian deceased, and as administrator of the estate of Mrs. Annie Buckley deceased, and as guardian of the estate of J. F. grown during the entire season.

THERE are many varieties of peas, but the World's Record, the Little Marvel, and the Laxtonian are the most popular of the small growing varieties.

When it comes to peppers, the World Beater and the California Wonder are good producers.

The Scarlet Globe radish for early planting, and the Icicle variety for summer and early planting, are recommended.

Spinach is a spring and fall crop and cannot be grown during the heat of the summer. For a spring crop, the regular Savoy variety is recommended, and for the late crop, the Virginia Savoy or the Old Dominion varieties.

Tomatoes of the highest quality are the Marglobe, the Pritchard, and the Rutgers. For a pink tomato, the Globe and the Acme are good. The Pritchard variety does

Freak Fire Result Of Lightning Here

During an electrical storm which accompanied a heavy rain here early Sunday morning lightning struck near the J. R. Holley home, 1508 Third Street, entered the house along a gas pipe and burned through a rubber gas hose setting the gas on fire.

Members of the Holley family were awakened by the noise and at first thought their water heater had exploded and tried to extinguish the flames with water. Realizing that the flames were caused by gas they stopped the fire by turning off the gas. The fire department answered the alarm but arrived after the gas had been turned off.

MEXICAN GRAPPLER TAKES ON BULLDOG IN TUESDAY'S MEET

"Bulldog" Jackson, who aroused the ire of Brownwood wrestling fans at Pa Sprinkle's opening program Tuesday night, has been booked for a return engagement next week, when the second number of the wrestling series will be staged. The date is Tuesday, March 17; the place, Memorial Hall. Jackson's ability to draw popular indignation won for him the feature spot on next week's program. He will tussle with Louis de la Torre, billed as middleweight champion of Mexico in the two-hour limit final. In the 45-minute special event, Jack Gorman will meet Speedy Franks of El Dorado.

The opening show was a nice family party in which all the spectators entered into the vocal argument, with no words barred. Jackson lost the opener on a foul to Mervin Barackman. His tactics were such that it looked for a time like he would have to fight the entire crowd.

German Youth Hikes
Everywhere in Germany one meets groups of four, five, ten young people carrying light knapsacks, for German youths are fond of hiking and mountain climbing. After a walk of miles they spend the night in a hotel, of which there are hundreds scattered over the country. A night's lodging and breakfast in one is very inexpensive, and many American college students join groups of young Germans in these excursions, for the hiking organizations extend courtesies to foreign visitors.

Bond Perfected By Eugene Livingston

Eugene Livingston, former teacher in this county who was brought here from Firebaugh, California last week to face a three-year-old indictment charging rape, perfected a $3,000 bond and was released Saturday. Sheriff Jack Hallmark arrested Livingston in the California town last week and arrived here with him late Friday night. Since the indictment was returned by a grand jury here Mar 25, 1933, the man had been sought by officers in several states. The alleged offense occurred May 15, 1933.

ASTOUNDING "LIFT" IN SINCLAIR H-C, Local Motorists Tell Sinclair Dealers

When you buy gasoline you buy liquid power. And power is measured by engineers in terms of lifting. A single gallon of Sinclair H-C Gasoline has the potential energy to lift 99 million pounds one foot. Putting that into a power picture we say one gallon of H-C could lift a 40-ton Brontosaurus 1/4 mile.

In automobile road tests Sinclair H-C Gasoline gave 15% to 20% more smooth power and from 1 to 3 more miles per gallon—compared to 12 other well-known gasolines!

Your neighborhood Sinclair dealer will tell you what local motorists are saying about H-C's astounding "lift"—what it means in extra power for their cars. Ask him!

INSTRUCTORS MAKE REPORT ON PROGRESS OF WPA ADULT EDUCATIONAL WORK PROJECT

REPORTS of the work being done in the various classes being conducted in Brown county under the WPA adult education program were made by members of the teaching staff at an Adult Education teachers institute held at the courthouse Monday afternoon. Teaching materials, miscellaneous supplies and books and the securing and distribution of the same were discussed. Pedagogical problems relative to the teaching of adults and ways and means of increasing and maintaining enrollment were also brought before the group for discussion. Nolan Schultz, Supervisor of Emergency Education for WPA District 14, outlined the purpose of the educational program. He said that it was the purpose of the Federal Government to stamp out illiteracy and to foster self-study for personal improvement on the part of the public in general.

The adult education program in Brown county is a WPA project sponsored by County Superintendent F. D. Pierce. In the many classes taught the work ranges from the general academic on the elementary high school and college level to the cultural and vocational.

Mushes to Dogsled Victory

Pushing his dog team until his huskies were in a state of complete exhaustion as they mushed across the finish line, 17-year-old Lloyd Van Sickle, of Ashton, Idaho, won the annual American Dog Derby staged in his home town. Sponsored by the Porcupine CCC camp, in which he is a worker, Van Sickle and his team completed the run in 2 hours, 14 minutes, 4 seconds, even though slowed up at the finish by a crowd of exuberant friends, who blocked the course. Above the boy is shown leading his tired team across the line, and at left he is comforting his weary lead dog.

ESSAY CONTEST FOR TEXAS STUDENTS TO BE HELD THIS YEAR

High-school teachers of Brownwood have received announcement of two national competitive events—a poster contest and an essay contest—open to high-school students of Texas. Scholarships and cash prizes will be awarded the winners.

Both contests are sponsored by the live-stock and meat industry of the United States, through the National Live Stock and Meat Board. The poster contest is being held for the first time, which the essay contest has been an annual event for the past thirteen years. Last year's state title holder in the essay contest is Miss Dorothy Smith of Houston.

Texas students entering the contests will also compete against students in other states for district and national championships. In 1935 the national winner in the essay contest was Miss Dorothy Lee Gillins of Ashmore, Ill. who won this coveted honor in a field of 12,369 contestants.

In both the poster and the essay contests, the entries are to be on phases of the subject of meat as a food. Prominent artists and

POWER INJUNCTION CASE BEFORE COURT

Arguments in the trial of the case of Texas Power and Light Company vs. Brownwood Public Service Company, a non-jury case being tried before District Judge E. J. Miller, were concluded Saturday afternoon, but a ruling on the case will not be made until several briefs being prepared by attorneys for plaintiff and defendant are filed. The T. P. & L. is seeking a permanent injunction to restrain the other company from building and operating a power and light plant here.

R. O. Mathews, head of Brownwood Public Service, is already under temporary injunction granted by the Third Court of Civil Appeals at Austin last October. The appeals court granted the temporary injunction and remanded the hearing for a permanent injunction to the lower court after Judge Miller had refused to grant a temporary injunction and the case had been appealed by T. P. & L.

home economists will make up the committee of judges; according to the announcement. The contests close on April 15.

SUIT FILED AGAINST BANGS TO FORCE PAY ON DELINQUENT BONDS

Payment of delinquent waterworks bonds by the City of Bangs is sought in a suit filed in 35th district court this week by H. C. Burt & Company, Inc. of Houston. The company is petitioning for a writ of mandamus compelling the payment and an injunction to restrain the city from using its funds in any other manner until the debt is paid. Trial of the suit, which alleges that the delinquency totals $3,165, will not be held until the next term of district court.

The suit is against the City of Bangs and the officials, H. L. Allcorn, mayor; L. B. Snapp, John P. Eads, J. S. Wilson, Peyton Dick and F. R. Early, aldermen, and C. B. Lovelace, city secretary, tax collector and treasurer.

According to the petition, the city issued waterworks serial bonds dated March 1, 1928, in amounts of $1,000 each, bearing interest at 5-1-2 per cent per annum, payable on March 1, 1929, and semi-annually on September 1 and March 1 each year, and maturing $1,000 on March 1 of the years 1930 to 1962 inclusive, and $2,000 on March 1, 1963 to 1968 inclusive, the total amount being $45,000. The petition alleges that the bonds were presented to the Seaboard National Bank of New York City as they came due but that they have not been paid. Money on hand in the treasury together with moneys due the city in taxes would be sufficient to pay the indebtedness, according to the petition.

The suit also asks a mandamus directing the city to take immediate steps to collect unpaid taxes levied and assessed for 1935 and all preceding years, and apply funds received on plaintiff's debt and requiring the city to assess sufficient taxes to meet the payments.

The Colorado Desert
The Colorado desert is an arid region in southeastern California extending from San Geronimo pass southeast to the Gulf of California. It includes the depression known as the Salton Sink and is about 200 miles long and has a maximum width of 50 miles.

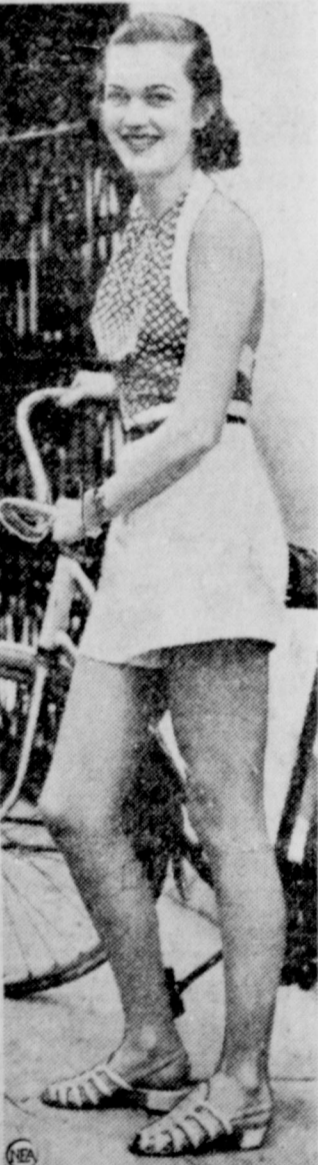

Palisade Glacier
Palisade Glacier is in Inyo county, California, near the crest of the Sierra Nevada mountains, on the northeast flank of Mount Winchell, at the head of Big Pine creek. This glacier is 12,200 to 13,500 feet above sea level and is the largest of the small glaciers in the Sierras, measuring about three-eighths by seven-eighths of a mile.

of experience teaching in public schools and some have college degrees. This work is of a highly efficient nature as well as a social enterprise under the federal government to give employment to teachers and put money into circulation. Plans are being made to establish vocational classes. Electrical wiring and other practical subjects will be taught in those classes.

Named as New Naval Aide at White House

NEW naval aide at the White House is Commander Paul H. Bastedo, native of Buffalo, N. Y. Bastedo was appointed to the post after Capt. Wilson Brown, who has been on duty at the executive mansion, was ordered to sea service.

Though her mother is one of the most famous hostesses in New York's social whirl, all the society Miss Cobina Wright needs, evidently, is her trusty bicycle. Charming daughter of Mrs. Esther Cobina Wright, who, as the Irrepressible Cobina, frequently startles Manhattan's exclusive set with her staid parties and society circuses, Cobina, Jr., is shown vacationing at Palm Beach.
