

Work On Stadium and Lake Project Begins This Week

P. A. Projects Take 700 Men From Relief Rolls In District.

Work on two of the largest WPA projects in district 14 and the largest in Brown county started this week.

The project for construction of a reinforced concrete stadium for Brownwood High school was scheduled to begin today.

Total cost of the stadium will be $2,426,49. WPA to furnish $111,000 and the school district $1,000.

The stadium will be 65 by 180 feet with 21 rows of seats, built of reinforced concrete.

The seats will be 30 inches wide, giving room for walking space and for walking between seats.

The stadium will include two showers, 15x45 two ticket booths, 15x15, and a box, 8x15 feet. Seating capacity of the stadium will be 2,500.

Twenty-five tons of reinforcing steel and 696 yards of concrete will be used in its construction.

The field will be enclosed with a 7-foot high chain mesh and an evergreen hedge will be set entirely around the fence.

Work to be done at Walton Park includes construction of several stone houses, public boat dock, ways, breakwater wall, picnic tables and construction of a dam across the dam.

Total cost of the project will be $27,010. To furnish $22,890 and the district $4,120.

Seventy-eight will be employed. More than 700 men have been out of the ranks of Relief and on WPA Projects during the ten days.

During this period new projects have gotten under way in District 14, according to Director, Karl E. Wallace.

Total of 25 projects are now operation, which when fully completed, will employ approximately 200 men.

Work orders are expected within the next few days to secure employment for able-bodied unemployed persons in this district who are unable to find employment in private industry.

National Reemployment Offices in various counties where projects have been started have been busy for the past ten days signing workers.

With additional project approvals coming in the District Office daily, it is expected by WPA and NRS Offices that all persons who are seeking relief, and have not as been given WPA employment, will report at National Reemployment Offices to ascertain when National WPA Projects will start their respective counties and municipalities.

Even projects were in operation in Brown County on Thursday of this week. They include 7 miles of road work on the Denver - Brownwood - Cross Cut road, operation of a rock crusher in the city of Brownwood, 3.8 miles farm-to-market road in Precinct No. 1, construction of a $21,000 concrete athletic stadium at Brownwood High School, extension of 261 feet of water mains in city of Brownwood, caliche surfacing of 3.27 miles on the Byrds road, and an extension park movement program at Lake Brownwood.

The total cost of this construction will aggregate $104,000. The Federal Government is furnishing $68,425.00, and the donor is supplying $35,575.00 of the funds. These projects will provide employment for an average of 322 workmen.

20,000 STUDENTS RECEIVE NYA AID PAST TWO MONTHS

Twenty thousand Texas boys and girls have been placed in schools or given an opportunity to go to work, in two months by the National Youth Administration.

Lynndon B. Johnson, state director, said Tuesday night in a radio address at Austin.

Of this number 5,700 have been part-time jobs in all the eligible colleges and universities of Texas.

Approximately 9,000 have been given jobs to help defray incidental expenses in high school. Freshman college centers are being opened to care for 750 high school graduates who did not enter college this fall.

Two thousand young men and women from 16 to 25 have been called for work on WPA projects, in addition to the adult workers requisitioned and NYA projects designed exclusively for youth, are to be started soon.

"The NYA is investing this money in actual, productive work," Johnson said. "It is work which is good for the young people who are doing it, and is of real permanent value to your city, your town, your county, the whole commonwealth of Texas."

"No one gets anything for nothing under any of the NYA programs. The NYA has no dole to give out to young people. Any assistance they receive springs from their own desires to better themselves by their own initiative and determination. Whether a young man or woman goes to school or gets a job, he or she must give in return for the pay received a service to earn it."

Identification of some equipment found stored at Albany has already been made by the owners and a search is being made in nearby towns and cities for other supplies taken from Brownwood during the past few weeks.

Farley Stamps Self as Postal Clerk

When the Postmaster General of the United States takes to selling stamps that's a sight worth seeing and here the event is recorded for you to see. The occasion was the opening of the new post office at Haverstraw, N. Y., home town of Postmaster General James A. Farley, who's shown selling the first stamps to 8-year-old Kathryn Babcock.

AGREEMENTS TO STORE PECANS SIGNED BY SEVERAL HUNDRED GROWERS FROM OVER STATE

Rail Tests Made On Santa Fe Lines

Inspection of all rails belonging to the Santa Fe Railway Company was made in this vicinity last week.

Detector Car No. 1, which consists of a specially constructed rail automobile and control car and is used to detect flaws in steel rails along the Santa Fe lines, was operating here three days last week and was taken to Temple Thursday. Rail tests are being made of all lines between Temple and Brownwood.

Defective rails are detected by means of a sensitive electrical apparatus. The defect is then examined and marked for correction.

M. P. Wagner, local Santa Fe agent, said the use of the detector by the Santa Fe, one of five systems using this device, is to insure as near as possible the safety of its passengers and freight.

"The detector costs lots of money to build and it costs lots to operate it, but what is this cost compared with the protection of lives and property entrusted to the Santa Fe? You can rest assured that when a defective rail is located it is taken out within 24 hours," Mr. Wagner concluded.

Concentration points for the pecans will be in Brownwood, Dallas and Kansas City. Any grower may join the association, sending his pecans to any of the three points for storage.

Growers in a community may form their own pool if proper storage facilities are available, according to H. G. Lucas, Brownwood, leader in the program to raise the price of pecans to a price fair to the growers.

Mr. Lucas has been named alternate for Texas on a control board of nine members set up in a marketing agreement for handlers, of paper shell pecans, intended to improve marketing conditions and increase returns to growers, which has been tentatively approved by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

Mr. Lucas says the agreement for paper-shells has nothing to do with plans for government aid on which seeding growers of Texas are working, and which were discussed at a meeting here yesterday.

MORNING GLORY SEED NEEDED FOR HIGHWAYS

A request for donations of morning glory seed to be used as a part of the Highway Beautification Committee's contribution to making this section more attractive for Centennial Year has been made by Mrs. Will Roberts, district chairman. The work of planting the seeds, which should be done immediately, will be accomplished with the cooperation of the state highway department and interested citizens.

Mrs. Roberts requests that persons having seed bring them to her. Both large and small amounts will be welcomed, and she is hoping that large quantities can be secured in this manner.

NO. 1 TURKEYS BRING 21 CENTS THURSDAY

The price of turkeys Thursday was 21 cents for No. 1 birds, three cents higher than the opening quotation. Receipts are fairly heavy. Dealers are offering 16 cents for old toms and 13 cents for No. 2 birds.

Four dressing plants are operating in Brownwood, receiving turkeys from all this section and preparing them for shipment to eastern and northern markets to grace the tables of thousands of people Thanksgiving day. Between 30 and 35 carloads of dressed turkeys will be shipped from here this season, bringing growers between $120,000 and $130,000, it is estimated.

Radio waves are reflected from layers of ionized air high in the atmosphere, scientists say.

ELIGIBILITY FOR WPA EMPLOYMENT DEFINED

Applicants for relief now who were not on relief rolls prior to November 1, 1933, will not be assigned to WPA jobs, according to orders received from the Texas Relief Commissioner by District Administrator Doye T. Brooks. However, persons who were on the rolls and were off for a time doing seasonal labor will be eligible for work on WPA projects.

Orders also have been received not to accept federal transients (those who are crossing state lines) for either care or referral to Federal Transient Bureaus.

The relief allotment for the five counties of district 14-A, received by Mr. Brooks, totals $5,700 for the first half of November. The allotment is divided among the five counties as follows:

Brown, $2,650; Coleman, $1,145; Concho, $280; McCulloch, $575; Runnels, $1,050.

Funds for hospitalization for the entire month have been made available to the counties as follows: Brown, $133; Coleman, $52; Concho, $28; McCulloch, $43; Runnels $77.

INTANGIBLE ASSETS RULED UNTAXABLE IN FEDERAL COURT

Collection of taxes on the intangible assets in Brown county of the Atlantic Pipe Line Company was prohibited in a permanent injunction ordered in federal court in Dallas Saturday. Judge William H. Atwell made the ruling, which nullifies the Texas intangible tax law amended by the Legislature in 1933 insofar as it applies to oil pipe lines. Assistant Attorney General Grady Chandler gave notice of appeal following the court's decision.

Holding that the 1933 law was evidently framed to reach oil pipe lines and was therefore discriminatory, Judge Atwell ruled that the respondent (Brown county) be permanently enjoined from any attempt to collect taxes on the intangible value of the company's property in Brown county, assessed at $161,720.

POSSIBILITY OF LOAN DESCRIBED BY LUCAS

There is still hope that the RFC loan sought by Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1 will receive final approval, according to board members. A report made by H. G. Lucas at a meeting of the board of directors last week stated that the application is still being considered and that there is hope for final approval until a rejection is received. Mr. Lucas conferred with several government officials regarding the loan on a recent trip to Washington, D. C.

SEEK TO MINIMIZE HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS

An order has been issued to State Highway Patrolmen stationed in the Brownwood district to arrest and fine all motorists caught breaking the state speed limit of 45 miles per hour. Speed limit for vehicles weighing more than 6,000 pounds is 25 miles per hour, except buses, which may go 45 miles per hour. The speed limit for cars and buses on state highways thru any town is 25 miles per hour, and the truck limit is 18 miles per hour.

The order was issued by L. G. Phares, head of the State Bureau of Public Safety, who said that a great number of the recent accidents have been caused by excessive speed.

GENERAL POULTRY SHOW ANNOUNCED

Members of the Central Texas Poultry Association in meeting this week voted unanimously to hold a general poultry show in connection with the National Cornish Exhibition and Convention here December 19-22. Services of M. B. Cosby, judge appointed for the national show, for the general show were offered by representatives of the American Cornish Club.

Plans for holding a short poultry course during the exhibition were also discussed. Committees were appointed to work out arrangements for such an enterprise.

Approximately $1,000 in prizes will be awarded during the American show, and entries from all over North America are expected. First donation for expenses of the show was received from Waco this week by Taylor McGarrity, secretary of the American Cornish Club.

William Cullen Bryant was town clerk of Great Barrington, Mass., from 1816 to 1825.

Differ on Olympic Stand of U. S.

Hinting that agitation against participation in the Olympic Games next summer was being prolonged by politicians, Avery Brundage, of Chicago, above, chairman of the American Olympic Committee, declared that "positively there would be teams representing the United States."

Brundage's statement came at the same time that Jeremiah T. Mahoney, president of the National Amateur Athletic Union, below, challenged anyone to prove Berlin worthy of being the scene of the games.

Big Membership Signed Up For Red Cross Here

Hope To Fill County's Quota Before Booths Close Thursday Night.

A. P. Rowland, county Roll Call Chairman for the American Red Cross, reports excellent response so far to the call for volunteer contributions in the annual drive now being conducted. By Thursday noon a total of $265 in memberships was reported received in the five booths in the downtown district, and no reports had been sent in by the district captains. Quota for this county is $1,000 and every indication is that the amount will be raised by the end of the drive, Saturday night.

No solicitations are to be made this year unless it becomes necessary to solicit contributions to fill the quota. Mr. Rowland, in discussing the drive, said that he wished to stress the fact that the Red Cross membership drive is not merely for town people but that rural members will be welcomed.

The booths will be closed Thursday night, but rural shoppers can obtain memberships from any of the district captains Friday or Saturday. The list of captains follows: Joe Weatherly, John Blake, Jimmy Mitcham, Tom Denman, Walter Emison, Roy Chinn, D. C. Pratt, W. H. Talbot, Oswald Daugherty and Dr. J. L. Morris. Dr. Karl Moore is in charge of rural subscriptions.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday volunteer subscriptions were accepted at booths located in the business section. Mrs. D. T. Strickland and Mrs. Scott Pevey, Junior Service League members were in charge of the booths which were maintained in cooperation with members of practically every women's civic organization in the city.

A partial list of the workers who assisted at the booths follows: Mesdames Sammy Lee, David Henley, Ben Shelton, Bob Miller, Winnie Weakley, J. R. Stone, Tom Wilkerson, Raymond Boyett, Frank McFarland, J. L. Morris, Frank Noad, Arthur Rentro, Carl Blasis, Ned Robertson, Grider Lee, Ruth Dickerson, Ruby Ables, John Snyder.

Hubert Roberts, A. P. Rowland, Arch Bucy, W. W. Nelson, Wm. Camp, J. W. Keen, Fred Bell, John Allen, M. W. Ledbetter, Sergines, James Padgett, R. Y. Davis, Henry Ford Lee, Joe Hamilton, Wendell Mayes, Seth Thompson and H. G. Lawrence.

Misses Mary Alyce Watson, Estelle Duren, Katherine Beadel, Vera Louise Robertson, Dorothy Wilson, Norma Weatherly, Alyn Newton, Maurine Tirivoren, Juanita Thomason, Elbertine Corbin, Marianne Busby, Mary Fleming, Betty Bell Morris, Elizabeth Stone, Roberta Moore and Lucy Mae Brown.

A number of school girls were also enlisted to serve at the booths after school hours each day.

The citizenship in general has cooperated with the workers in their effort to make the drive a success, and Mr. Rowland is pleased with the response to the call made for volunteer memberships.

LLANO MAN TO FACE EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE

E. E. Martin of Llano has been arrested and will be brought here for a preliminary hearing on charges of embezzlement. A complaint signed by C. H. Lanzford in the name of the Brownwood baseball team charges Martin with embezzling funds belonging to the Hill Country Baseball League. The amount is approximately $80, according to Sheriff W. E. Hallmark.

The Hill Billies are expected to play the Abilene College Wildcats here tonight, and the Jackets will play the powerful Hardin-Simmons in Brownwood Saturday afternoon. Record crowds are expected for both tilts, which are to be eventful although favor the visiting teams in games.

Brownwood High School has no scheduled for the week-end their game with Big Spring postponed.

Jackets bowed to the St. University outfit last night, losing what looked like a game in the third quarter their apparently safe 13 to 0 was wrecked for a final tied 13-12.

Baker's Hill Billies were luckless at Abilene Saturday when they lost their battle to McMurry Indians 8 to 0, their hopes of winning the Indians, whom they have beaten since 1928.

Cotton growers throughout the South are up in arms against the state of Wisconsin, and not without cause. Wisconsin seems to have a particular ability to rub prospective customers the wrong way.

Boycotting The South

A few years ago the Lower Rio Grande Valley in effect placed a boycott on Wisconsin-made goods because of that state's action in barring land salesmen from the Valley. Now there is much talk of a boycott of Wisconsin-made farm implements, tractors, cream separators and other items, because of the action of the Wisconsin legislature in placing a 15-cent a pound tax on oleomargarine.

Oleomargarine is made largely from cotton seed oil, and the tax was for the purpose of barring this product from the State in order to increase the home consumption of Wisconsin dairy farm products. The idea might have been born of good intentions, but to say the least, the astute members of the legislature did not use tact in declaring by resolution that this important product of the Southern farmer is "deleterious to the health and well being" of Wisconsin people.

Unfortunately for Wisconsin, that state is a large manufacturer of farm implements, used extensively in the production of cotton and other farm crops. The resentment of the cotton farmers of the South in the unfair legislation against this cottonseed oil product well could hurt that state. The volume of Wisconsin imports of products of the South, even without the oleomargarine tax, would not be a factor to compare with the South's annual purchases from Wisconsin manufacturers, estimated at approximately seventy million dollars.

Cotton farmers have no desire to deal unfairly with Wisconsin manufacturers. Their products have been extensively and profitably used for many years. With proper consideration of the products of the South, this favorable relationship would continue to exist. But resentment of Southern farmers is growing, and the activity of cotton associations throughout the South is keeping that feeling alive in an effort to have the unfair legislation repealed.

So far there is no indication that Wisconsin desires to make amends. But, unless action is taken in the near future, there is likelihood serious antagonism against Wisconsin-made goods will result. The boycott is a poor weapon when used with justification; legislative boycott of the cottonseed oil product by the State of Wisconsin is a serious handicap to the Southern farmer, and one which should be withdrawn at once.

The announcement that the poll being taken of members of the United States Chamber of Commerce is expressing emphatic disapproval of the New Deal is no more surprising than the results of the recent corn-hog poll among American farmers, and has no more political significance.

No One's Surprised

The results of each could have been forecast months before the poll was taken. The U. S. Chamber of Commerce referendum, now being taken, is for the direct purpose of discrediting the Administration, in so far as its policies affect business.

Membership in the United States Chamber of Commerce is made up almost exclusively of Eastern big business. The organization was created by capitalists and industrialists of the East, and has been under their control since its inception. It is their mouthpiece, and as such expresses the views of that group. But in no manner can it be claimed that the organization is a cross section of business in America, as the name would imply; and in no manner does it speak for others than those it directly represents.

That is a definite sign that recovery is on the way. When conditions were blackest; when few business men knew which way to turn and none was certain of his own or his country's future; then the New Deal was popular among business leaders. As recovery became nearer and nearer a certainty, business cooled toward "interference," and directly in proportion to the return of prosperity will come hostility toward policies which have come to be classed under the New Deal label.

The real test of the New Deal is not whether it is popular at the present time, but rather whether business conditions now are better than they would have been had President Roosevelt and his advisors preferred to do nothing to aid business recovery. On this basis there can be no doubt as to the value of the New Deal to American business.

Within recent years, the American Red Cross has been given two great opportunities to demonstrate the indispensable place it occupies in the life of the American people. The first of these was during the World War, when almost alone of the various agencies devoting their attention to the humanitarian needs of the soldiers, it was able to render an invaluable service to the soldiers of the Allies, without excessive cost and without the odium of suspected waste and misuse of the funds which it administered for the American people.

The second came a few years ago with the coming of the depression, when the Red Cross again demonstrated forcefully that in times of need, there is no other agency that serves so willingly and so well.

Of course these two major opportunities do not represent the extent of the work of the Red Cross. Throughout the year, every year, they are first on hand in case of disaster, giving money, food, clothing, medical assistance and other aid to those in distress. And in almost every community is kept a fund for use for the benefit of those who find themselves facing an emergency without resources or friends.

Brown county often has been the beneficiary of the Red Cross, not alone in time of disaster, but throughout the year. During the past five years, more money has been sent into Brown county from the national offices of the American Red Cross than that organization has received from the citizenship of the county.

During the past few days an opportunity has been given for Brown county citizens to pay the small fee required for annual membership in the Red Cross. Many have been happy for the opportunity to contribute of their means to this worthy cause. Many have neglected to make their contribution, either through indifference, lack of knowledge of the importance of the work, or some other cause.

During the remainder of this week, the annual Red Cross Roll Call will be continued. This is the only time that the Red Cross makes a general appeal for funds. The money so contributed goes to a most worthy cause. If you failed to volunteer during the first part of the week, see some of the solicitors Friday or Saturday, and do your part again this year.

SAM HOUSTON'S DREAM

(By Deskins Wells in The Texas Weekly)

The approaching Texas Centennial has awakened interest in Texas lore of all kinds. To embryo historians it has brought a golden opportunity to expatiate on the glory of the Republic and the significance of the so-called annexation of this State to the Union. The entry of Texas, which The Texas Weekly has taken pains to delineate as the voluntary action of a sovereign State, was an important event in the history of the United States. It made possible the expansion to the Pacific, thereby changing the map of this country and in so doing altered the history of the world. Because of the truth of these facts, patriots, who like to believe that everything has happened for the best, derive keen pleasure in extolling every action that has contributed to our existence as a vital unit of a great nation. There are people who glorify things as they are with scant attention to what might have been. On the other hand, there is a small group of skeptics, greatly outnumbered though they may be, who like to think of what Texas might have been if it had continued as a free and independent Republic. This group, cynical and sentimental at the same time, like to dream the dreams of Sam Houston, who never seceded from the Union. In his mind was no disloyalty to his native South, but a vision of such magnitude that it ranked with his supreme efforts when he, more than any other man, created Texas. Houston did not join with the Confederacy, because he was thinking of the day when Texas once again might be an independent nation. Old age, probably more than anything else, kept it from coming to pass. If the dream of Gen. Sam Houston had been realized, there is no way of knowing what might be the fate of Texas today. It is possible that we would have been swallowed up by Mexico, and as a result be a hundred years behind in modern development. It is possible that circumstances might have forced us under the wing of Great Britain, and in that case we would be worrying about our young men being sacrificed in war much more than we are today. On the other hand, it is possible that Sam Houston's dream might have come true in the real sense. In that case we would be a sovereign nation.

A VISIT TO THE BELGIAN QUEEN

Ten women physicians, from as many countries met in Belgium for a convalescent. Among them was a friend of mine from Iowa. It had been arranged for them to meet the Belgian queen. When the appointed hour came they were ushered into a long saloon of the palace, to await her majesty. Much excited were these visitors no one of whom had ever before seen a queen. Most of them were able to speak English, although some brokenly. The question on the lips of each was, womanlike: "How will the queen be dressed?" "Will she wear a velvet gown, have jewels in her hair; will she be tall and queenly?" The subdued conjectures stopped as the attendant asked the physicians to form in line to meet the queen. Immediately her majesty came smilingly into the room.

Extending her hand to the first visitor, she said: "So your home is in England. I love the English resorts, we play over there whenever we can." The next physician in line had come from France and the queen in passing told her of her recent visit to Paris. The American physician stood third; to her the queen expressed her gratitude for the wonderful horses Iowa had sent to Belgium in the past. Thus through the line she went, until she had spoken personally with each one.

After she had gone, the women looked their complete satisfaction. "A real queen," they voted in unison. "What kindly eyes she had," said one. "Her low well modulated voice I shall never forget." "Her handclasp was firm but gentle." Said another: "She seemed sincerely glad to meet us, she had a personal word for each." Suddenly the queen asked: "How was the queen dressed?" The ten women recalled only with difficulty, for jewels, or lack of them, passed unnoticed, when they looked into her eyes.

Thus this, for it is the greatest of life, can be a part of everyone who genuinely desires it. It is not alone the attribute of queens though it can be a queenly trait. Personality cannot be taught in six lessons, as I saw recently advertised in a weekly magazine. It comes from the heart, it must live years before it becomes one's whole being.

The queen had put her queenly adornments within her hair instead of upon her head. Her crown of jewels was an understanding heart. Is this not within the reach of each one of us?

The first white man to behold the Grand Canyon was Garcia Lopez de Cardenas, who had been sent from Zuni, N. M., to find a river far to the west of which natives had spoken.

ON TEXAS FARMS

CANYON.—Silage in a "ditch" silo is cheap cow feed according to R. O. Allison, a dairy farmer who lives west of Canyon in Randall county.

Mr. Allison has just finished filling a 100-ton ditch with grain sorghum at a total cost of $2 per ton. This included 40 cents a ton paid for the operation of a cutter. He estimates the cost of filling the silo at about the same as the cost of cutting, shocking and stacking the same acreage of feed in the dry state.

Last winter, Allison paid $17 a ton for poor quality roughage to feed his cows. He says this silage will be better as well as cheaper.

ALICE.—F. L. Jennings on Chas. Maul's purchased Hereford ranch near Alice in Jim Wells county; planted eight pounds of Rhodes grass per acre on 50 acres of additional land in February, 1935, and has grazed it for two periods and also secured two cuttings of hay.

In the spring of 1935, about 60 head of cattle grazed this pasture down, thus causing the grass to spread. In the summer, a cutting of hay was made and stacked loose without weighing. Cattle were grazed during the summer again and removed later to allow a hay crop to develop. In early October, one and a half tons per acre of bright hay were cured.

"I was well repaid for planting this crop for grazing," Jennings said, "and in addition I secured two hay crops." This ranch has several fields of Rhodes grass and will have more next spring.

AMHERST.—Crooked rows have nettled Bill Langford, Amherst farmer in Lamb county, $5.12 more per acre. Cotton planted on his contoured land has yielded 50 pounds more lint per acre than cotton planted on uncounted rows. "My entire farm will be contoured next year" states Langford.

SIERRA BLANCA.—More than 100 No. 2 cans of string beans have been canned by Mrs. Gordon McAdoo, who is food supply demonstrator for the Allamore home demonstration club of Hudspeth county which was started in May, according to Miss Gladys Young, home demonstration agent.

Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo have worked together and have irrigated a small garden spot from their stock tank, and have had fresh beans, squash, corn, pepper, onions, turnip greens, and spinach. They also canned a few each day for their winter pantry. There are four children in the McAdoo family.

GEORGETOWN.—From surplus milk, Mrs. R. S. Caskey, farm food supply demonstrator for the Center Point home demonstration club in Williamson county, and her daughter, Merle Caskey, have made more than 100 pounds of American cheese, according to Miss Beagle L. Vogt, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Caskey says that the homemade cheese helps out with the protein requirement in her food budget, as cheese takes the place of meat and can be easily prepared at home. She has her own cheese press and prepares a good product. Five gallons of whole sweet milk make about four and one-fourth

Think of the power of plunging pistons... sufficient to move tons of rock up steep mountain grades. Yet the efficiency of pistons depends on the adequacy of the combustion chamber. Carbon-stuck valve leaking rings, weaken the piston stroke and make motors lag and balk.

PYROIL increases power in motors because it seals rings and keeps valves carbon-free. Simply added to regular gas and oil. Supplies constant lubrication to the entire motor head where withering heat kills ordinary lubricants. Actually builds lubrication into the metal.

PYROIL deposits a patent-processed heat-, wear- and dilution-proof element on all metal parts, building and eliminating an actual self-lubricating surface. Bearings run freer, cooler. Power, endurance, are marvellously improved. Lasts many times its small cost.

Quite a nice little crowd met at the school house Saturday night or the Townsends Club speaking. B. Jones spoke for us. He was unable to get another speaker at that time. The Townsends Club will have its regular meeting Sunday afternoon. We now have thirty-one paid-up members. Come in and help us get fifty so that we can get our charter and begin to set our literature. If there is anything we can do to relieve the present distress, let's do it.

F. F. Conley, minister of the Melwood Ave. Church of Christ at Brownwood, preached for us Sunday afternoon. His theme was "Watch," and was an exhortation to steadfastness in the Christian life. He admonished us to watch our time, talent, and tongue; our character; and our homes. Bro. Conley expects to be with us again on the afternoon of the second Sunday in December.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hardin and W. L. Ladyman accompanied Bro. Conley here from Brownwood Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Price and children, Nelda and Franklin M., and Mrs. W. A. Alford, and J. L. Alford, all of Brownwood attended. Cloud Mashburn has been quite sick. He has been having some teeth pulled, and the doctor finds him in rather a bad run down condition.

Grandmother Wilmeth is about to get over the catch in her back. She was able to be out at church Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Crowder and their tiny daughter, Betty Lou, were invited to a birthday dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Beeman near Indian Creek. The dinner was in honor of little Martell Crowder.

Mrs. J. R. Briley was the recipient of a surprise birthday dinner at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. O. Dwyer, Sunday after church. Mrs. Dwyer carried out a yellow and white color scheme. The house was decorated with marigolds and white chrysanthemums, while the large white cake was beautiful in its setting of yellow marigolds. Those present besides Mr. and Mrs. Dwyer were Mrs. Clara Wilmet, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilmoth, Mrs. Nellie Malone, Miss Bernice Wilmoth, Lillard Wilmoth, and Mr. and Mrs. Briley.

Common Everyday COLDS

"Colds" are dangerous! Don't regard them lightly. According to government statistics, diseases of the breathing apparatus are responsible for more deaths than any other single cause, including cancer or heart disease. While respiratory diseases often start seriously, they are closely related to "colds" and in many instances are directly traceable to catching cold.

Municipalities have made great progress in stamping out typhoid fever, smallpox, diphtheria and other communicable diseases that once demanded their grim death toll. But America's Public Health Enemy Number One, the common cold germ, still rages rampant as a constant threat to the health and safety of our loved ones. Frequently "common colds" pave the way for such serious illnesses as pneumonia, bronchitis, influenza, tuberculosis and other serious respiratory diseases that result in so many deaths each winter.

Any sudden change in temperature as you go from a warm room into a cold one disturbs the heat-regulating apparatus of the body and makes it susceptible to the vicious attacks of "cold germs."

Your health and that of your family is your most valuable possession. Guard it this winter with proper ventilation and adequate heat in every room in the house.

ventures, includin' one of them fine Kitchen Cabinets, built-in, so the ole woman can stand and prepare and cook a big meal of vittles without skeerfully movin' from her tracks, and which kitchen cabinet, she says, ort to be in every up-to-date house in Brown county, now that them Higzinthoms Lumber Co. fellers is co-operatin' with the government to help folks build fine new homes and also repair up their old ones on awful reasonable terms. That ain't no excuse nowadays for folks a-livin' in ole rattle-trap shacks, without conveniences. Such as lectricified lights a fur distance talkin tele phone and naterl gas for the very first thing she done, after Higzinthoms turned over the new house to us, was to march her self right into Brownwood and get the obligein Mr. McKee district manager of the Southwestern States Telephone Co. to come right out thar with a passell of wire and poles and hook up up to their Telephone Co. because she said she warn't goin to be pesterin the neighbors a horr-ryn their telephone when she could fit one of her own at aw-ful reasonable price whilst them Southwestern States Telephone fellers is a settin right thar with plenty of telephones and also plenty of wire and poles to hook us up to them talkin telephones.

Yes, sir, that's a fact, and we are also being het up by the one Star Gas Co. nigh whose gas pipes we had sense enough to locate our selves at. They fitted us down in Van Zandt county and immigrated up here to Brown county whar we can sorter take life easy by raisin' fine stock, such as Jersey cows and Poland China hogs. And Lucindy is a-raisin' fine White Leghorn chickens, because she don't have to waste so much time a-tryin' to git me to eat and tote in wood to keep the house hot up and for her she has to do is to strike a match and tech it to one of them gas heaters which that Community Natural Gas Co. sot up in our house last fall—and dorgone if the room ain't all het up in five minutes so hot we have to open the doors and widners to git cooled off a little. That is, in the winter time. Right now a body don't need no stove to get het up with. Now that shore is the truth—and she can cook a meals vittles on her new Garland Gas Range before I can git out of bed, take a chaw of terbacker and git my shoes on. Yes, sir-ree, them new-fangled gas ranger cooking stoves kist that fast. I shore do need thank to them Lons Star Gas fellers which discovered all that natural gas and bring it to us pore, down-trodden men so's we can git a breathin spell from cuttin' and totin' in wood for the fireplace and cook stove and take a little time off to read so's we'll know what's goin' on in the world, yes, sir!

Lucindy she is devilin' the life out of me ever since we got our new farm all hooked up to the gas pipes of the Lone Star Gas Co. to get her one of them Electrolux Refrigerators which she sed Austin Morris Furniture Co. was plum full of them and a bein bought stiddy goin by their customers (who was fine furner and linoliums and all sich) which she sez everybody tells her is a awful good mechanical refrigerator—runs like a clock and is as quiet as a mouse. Yes, sir, and don't cost skeerfully nothing to run after a body gits 'em installed and sot up and plugged into a gas-pipe by the Community Gas Co.

She's been threatenin for some-time to march right in to Brownwood and git them Gas fellers to sent out one of them Rudd water heaters an hook it up in our bathroom so's she can git me to take a bath at least once a week without me a hollerin my head off about the water bein too cold and she wants to have hot water handy any how for dish washin and all sich, an she sez thar ain't no more convenient or necessary article ever invented for pore down trod women than them hot water heaters so's a body can git bilin hot water any time day or night. Sich article is needed an she purposed whilst roamin round the COMMUNITY GAS CO.'s store thar in Brownwood to also take a look at them floor furnaces which swings under the floor and heats the room all over and no danger in a body gittin up in the night to put out the cat and stumplin their toe over a gas heater.

No, I ain't seed nary minutes peace since she seed all them articles advertised in the Brownwood Banner so when I up and told the ole nory critter this mornin that I was figgerin on going down to Brownwood at Brownwood Hotel and sojournin thar for a few days a lookin at them stores and also to go out to the Hospital and let one of them known doctors lance this here big carbunkle on my neck which busted loose tother day—and also take some pain me a right smart and what do you think that pestiferous ole critter spoke back to me when I spoke them remarks about gittin that carbunkle lanced (and also to git my self looked over and analyzed to see if thar was any serious and includin disease a lurkin in my system unbeknownst to me).

AUNT LUCINDY

Well, ever since that thar circumstance took place, Lucindy has kept a awful watchful eye on me and she ain't skeerfully ever willin for me to drive down to Brownwood in our new Ford V-8 car by my self and I ain't sartin shore I can git off as fur as Brownwood to do a little shoppin without bein followed by Lucindy, who you know is a plum pestiferous critter and settin more pestiferous every day.

Now I reckon you heard tell, didn't ye about how scallous she cut up when we dry through Brownwood last fall a seekin another location after we had struck fle on our farm in Van Zandt County, when I discovered her a tryin to make arrangements with Sam Morris to make an overtake and funeralize me when I ain't even dead yet and aint even thinkin of dyin, after she heard tell from several critters thar in Brown county that the Austin Morris Funeral Directors puts every body away in one of them fine Morris Burial Vaults (which was invented by Roy H. Morris—his own self)—and which service is giv' to every body rich or poor without extra cost, no matter whether you are put away in a $1000 casket or a $10 pine box and that thar Morris Burial Vault is a bein composed of metal it is water proof vermin proof and termite proof so thar ain't no danger of your body bein et up by worms before you get to the obligein Austin Morris Funeral directors puts a feller away. So that's one of the reasons Lucindy begun dickerin with Sam Morris to undertake and funeralize me from his fine Funeral Home right thar in the Austin Morris Furniture Store for she told Sam I warn't much good no more when I'm all over the worms willin for me to be et up by worms after I git dead and buried.

ter over to Dallas to see what's goin' on over thar in the way of politics or other big things, such as the Centennial which is sponen a head of money but don't skeerfully nothing. But speakin' of politicks, I was jest about to forget to tell you that my piece, Alvir Jones, livin' in Brown county, has done give birth to another baby boy, which she has named Jimmie Alford Jones, which youngster she sez is the peartest kid in the whole world and gittin more pearter every day. Yes, sir, she sez he is. And if you ain't heard about the arrival of that thar youngster in this vale of tears, this is yer official announcement and you mought also mention in yer valuable paper that Alvir has done changed the name of one of them two big twines named John Kirby, and Joe Bailey, hanged if she ain't done hauled off and changed Joe Bailey's name to Tom Connally.

Yes, sir, she has done that very caner, and when I rebuked her for makin' such a radical change in that thar twain's name, she jest up and 'howed' at how I 'bears like' that thar big U. S. senator Tom Connally is a more go-ruttin' feller than young Joe Bailey is and she wants them youngsters of her'n to be go-zitters. Yes, sir, and she sez from the way her little Jimmie Alford hollers day and night ('cussin' when she's gettin' it in his mouth) she figures that a Jimmie also will be something of a go-zitter himself.

Well, now, recollect, I'll be in Brownwood as soon as I can git Lucindy steered in another direction so's to keep her mind off of comin' with me (being as I heard her say also as how she figgers to do considerable shoppin in Brownwood at Dublin & Cannons instid of goin' to Fort Worth, whar she mought git cheated, but which she knows won't happen in Brownwood) so look out for me when you see me.

Yours truly, JEEMS RAINWATER, Esq.

bu-bustable wind shield and them Houdalle shock absorbers which makes a feller feel like he's travellin' in a air ship.

Yes, sir-ree, and with one of them rumble seats in the back end which I purpose to make Lucindy ride in when she goes with me, so's she can't be grabbin' my arm and tellin' me to 'Look Out!' every time a ole cow tries to cross the road.

But you don't know Lucindy. Sez she ain't goin' to ride thar nary time, but will let Nigger Bill learn to drive our new Ford V-8 De Luxe Sedan, which that young feller, inveegled us into buyin' last fall and which vehicle Lucindy ain't never willin' for me to ride in my self, so that's why I got the sport model V-8 Coupee and which vehicle I purpose to trade in on one of them new 1936 Ford V-8's which critters they're de buyin' the last word in style and comfort and havin' plenty of head room as well as leg room and plenty of space in the back for my verlose and equipped with them Ford Super Safety Breaks so's I can stop plum sudden like if some lazy feller steps in front of me when I'm a drivin'.

But the pint of this here whole letter is to let you know I'll be in Brownwood this week, if I can git off from Lucindy, and I 'lowd maybe me and you (if you can also give yer wife the slip) might san-

"No, gosh-durn ye, I ain't goin' to let ye tech my neck and yeres with that thar lye soap, and likely as not scrub the skin off of my carbunkles like ye generally do. Ye ain't willin' for me to go no-where without scrubbin' my neck and yeres, and I say ye ain't goin' to wash Jeems Rainwater's neck and yeres nary nother time." And I lit out for the barn (followed by Tige) whar I could sorter ca'm down my nerves and chaw my ter-backer in neace whilst I figered out ways and means to git away from Lucindy, because I wanted to go to Brownwood and have a decent conversation with you are F. S. Abney and Sam Morris and git yer ideas about the bustin up of that N. R. A. by the supreme court, so's us business fellers can now attend to our business in the regular way without hain' to be told by some of them smart A-look young baree-crists which ain't skeerfully dry behind the yeres yet how to manage our business, and whar to head in and git off. Yes, sir, them was my figgerations, and I also wanted you to see me come drivin' in to yer office in my new Ford V-8 coupee which I bought from the obligein Joe Weatherly right thar at the Weatherby Motor Co. after Joe had so obligeinly drive me all over town showin' me the workin's of that fine little critter which has got all steel body, a

VOTERS TO DECIDE ON PARKING SYSTEM FOR CITY STREETS

City Council in regular session Tuesday night ordered a referendum on the automobile parking method to be used in the city, for November 23. The election will be held in the four city wards at the regular polling places, and only qualified voters may cast ballots. The election was ordered following a request made by Mayor W. H. Thompson who said he wished to end the wrangle that has been going on for some time between advocates of parallel and angle parking on city streets.

An ordinance giving R. O. Mathews authority to transfer his original franchise to build and operate a power plant here from his own name to Brownwood Public Service was passed on third and final reading.

Petitions have been presented to the council by attorneys for Texas Power & Light Company requesting that an election be held on the franchise granted Mathews October 22. A counter petition was presented by Mr. Mathews attorney containing 173 names of persons wishing their names removed from the referendum petition. City Secretary F. E. Scott is checking the petition and requesting the election determining the number of qualified voters among the signers.

LUCAS RETURNS FROM TEMPLE CONFERENCE

H. G. Lucas returned Thursday from Temple where he attended a statewide agricultural conference. Mr. Lucas is a member of the Texas cotton advisory committee. He is also a leader in plans of pecan men of the state to form an association for storing pecans and securing loans on this year's crop. While in Temple Mr. Lucas conferred with government officials and leading pecan growers of the state regarding problems of the pecan industry.

LOCAL MEN EMPLOYED ON WORK AT CCC CAMP

Local labor is being used on the construction of several new buildings now being assembled at the local Soil Conservation CCC camp. Material for the buildings, which are to be of wood and composition structure, arrived this week, and a corps of six Brownwood carpenters is employed on their erection. The structures include a garage, offices for the technical staff, a blacksmith and machine shop and a large store room.

Additional equipment to be used in the soil conservation program here was received this week at the camp. Two members of the technical staff, C. L. Hasgood and S. J. Decker, returned Wednesday from Ludale where they had gone to make arrangements for securing the supplies.

MAGAZINE FEATURES LOCAL TURKEY MARKET

"Turkey Time in West Texas Again" by Clark C. Coursey, local newspaperman, is the feature article in the November issue of "West Texas Today," official monthly publication of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The story presents Brownwood as the capital of the turkey producing section of Central West Texas, and gives this section much valuable publicity.

December issue of the magazine will carry data on the pecan industry in this area with much information about the marketing problems of growers and the government pecan experiment station located here. Mr. Coursey is also preparing this story.
