The Speakership Race

Usually the selection of a Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives is a matter that attracts little attention outside legislative halls. This year, however, a condition has arisen that makes the outcome of the warm contest being conducted for the office of interest to every citizen. The issue is not a new one: Fergusonism. It has just broken out in a new place.

Nominally, the contest is between Coke Stevenson, who is defying tradition by seeking a second term, and Robert Calvert. Yet we see the unusual situation of the real contest being not between these two distinguished legislators, either of whom doubtless would make a creditable presiding officer, but between Jim Ferguson and the incoming Alred administration.

Two years ago Coke Stevenson, personable and able member from Junction, was a candidate for Speaker. His candidacy became formidable when he secured the endorsement of Ferguson, and overpowered strong opposition when the Ferguson administration leaders presented the argument that the new administration should have the cooperation of a friendly Speaker. With characteristic inconsistency, the argument of the same group now is that the incoming Alred administration should have a Ferguson-endorsed Speaker so as to offer a check on administration activities.

Few laymen realize the importance and power the office of Speakership enjoys. His power of appointing committees, his decisions affecting legislation, the importance of his attitude toward legislation, are matters with which the average man is little concerned. How well these matters are known by those at Austin is indicated by the alacrity and vigor with which Alred partisans became interested when Ferguson entered the lists by advocating the re-election of Stevenson.

To those of us "at the forks of the creeks," however, the Speakership contest is interesting largely as another test of strength of that wily political strategist, Jim Ferguson. For more than 20 years he has wielded an influence out of all proportion to any good he has done the state. After each election, he solemnly states that he is through with politics, and yet he is ever active. We know that he is out of sympathy with the people of the state; that his influence has lost much of its potency. Last summer he urged Texas voters to elect Hunter, Pundt and Lattimore, and not one of this triumvirate could push to victory bearing the Ferguson label. The voters, plainly, resent Ferguson dictation.

But what of the members of the legislature? There is another story, and one that is being watched with interest by Texans everywhere. A defeat for Ferguson might possibly relegate him to the has-beens. A victory doubtless would bounce him back in the arena, again an important, but disturbing influence.

Jim Ferguson has spoken. It will be interesting to see how many members of the Legislature will line up.

In San Antonio an interesting situation came up last week when one of the district courts was called upon to appoint a receiver for a gambling house. The receiver was appointed, and instructed to operate the house pending settlement of a suit. The proposition was clearly up to the receiver.

A Gambling Receivership

As an officer of the court it would be extremely embarrassing, to say the least, to operate a gambling house in violation of the laws the court was supposed to be upholding.

The receiver took the easiest way out. He made an inventory of the establishment, then reported back to the court for instructions. "Judge, you have appointed me receiver for a gambling joint," the San Antonio Light relates that he told the court. The court then ordered the house closed, but a disturbing situation now exists, for no one knows just what to do with the valuable property. Should it be sold, or confiscated, or just retained for use again when the case was settled?

Incidentally, the house did not go into receivership through lack of profit, but through disagreement between operating partners.

The purchaser of a loaf of bread, according to the National Investment Transcript, pays 17 kinds of taxes when he lays his dime on the counter.

Taxes And More Taxes

If he walks home on leaving the store, he is wearing out shoes which are taxed 23 times. If he rides in an automobile, he is paying 42 different kinds of taxes.

All of these taxes, obviously, are indirect—and very few of us know that we pay them. As the Transcript says, "Tax ignorance is the crowning element in mass ignorance today." Most of us pay few or no taxes directly—and we think because of that we are contributing nothing to the cost of government.

There is not a thing in the world that isn't taxed. The house we live in represents a legion of taxes—running all the way from taxes on standing timber to taxes paid by the store which sold the finishing paint and the manufacturer which produced it. Food, clothing, transportation, entertainment, periodicals, books—the tax bill is a substantial item in their cost to the consumer.

It is obvious that these indirect taxes, sales taxes if you prefer, which provide the bulk of government revenue, fall more heavily on persons of moderate means than on those with higher incomes. A loaf of bread will last a millionaire as long as it will a laborer—and the tax is the same on the loaf each buys. Tax reduction would be the greatest boon the average American could have—a boon that would at once be reflected in more jobs, more purchasing power, more spending for the necessities and luxuries which keep the industrial machine turning.

We will have tax reduction when we spend less tax money—and not until then. Only massed public opinion, backed up by knowledge of the facts, can bring it about. The cost of government can and must be reduced—all the way from Washington down.

DARK STREETS

(Weatherford Democrat)

Weatherford is fast becoming recognized as a city of darkness. It is probably the only city of its size in Texas that does not have street lights, and there are several smaller towns that we can call to mind that are well lighted while the city of Weatherford continues to remain in darkness.

Of course there are more reasons than one why the street lights do not burn in Weatherford. Possibly a larger part of the blame rests upon those who are delinquent with their city taxes. There are some few who owe delinquent taxes who would pay but are unable to do so, while, we take the liberty of saying, there are many who owe delinquent taxes that are able to pay but for some reason refuse to do so.

The government has originated a plan whereby delinquent tax owners are enabled to borrow the money to pay their past due taxes. We feel that it is incumbent upon each taxpayer who is delinquent with his taxes to make a special effort to pay same. Street lights are not exactly a luxury but are very necessary to the peacefulness and orderliness of a city.

Those in authority are not entirely responsible for the darkness of Weatherford. They probably do the best they can with the means they have to work with. It is the staggering total of delinquent taxes that has brought this darkness upon our town.

We urge that each taxpayer of Weatherford make a sincere effort to do his part in having the street lights turned on at the earliest possible date.

Exports of iron and steel scrap from the United States during the first nine months of 1934 were eight times as great in volume as the 1932 exports.

Cuban foreign trade is showing a substantial increase in value as compared with a year ago, the United States taking 70 per cent of Cuba's exports.

ON TEXAS FARMS

Midland—A sport coat has been made from a white woolen blanket at a cost of 80 cents by Mrs. S. H. Gwyn, former wardrobe demonstrator of the Busy Bee Home Demonstration Club in Midland county, according to Miss Myrtle Miller, home demonstration agent. Two packages of red dye and one of brown were used, and hand carved buttons made from an old table leg completed the coat.

The sport coat, another coat, and a suit made from two discarded woolen suits were valued at $50 by a local saleswoman. The cost to Mrs. Gwyn was $3.15 for dye, thread, buttons for the suit, and pressing.

Wharton—Ten Indian currant plants from "just over the fence" have been transplanted to the base of the home of Pauline Villareal of Wharton county as a part of her work as yard improvement demonstrator for the Mackay 4-H club. Pauline worked out the plan for her yard with the help of Miss Madeline Rector, home demonstration agent. Hedges are to be used to make the borders of the yard and to screen the outbuildings. A cutting bed is to be started to grow some plants that she does not have, and all rose bushes will be planted in a rose garden.

Refugio—After feeding ensilage from a trench silo to his dairy cows for two weeks, Raymond Gillespie, Refugio county dairyman, is a firm believer in trench silos, according to L. A. Weiss, farm demonstration agent. Mr. Gillespie reports that his cows have increased about 25 per cent in milk production, and that from now on his feed will always go into a trench silo instead of being stacked out in the weather as in the past.

Jefferson—Fifteen bushels of corn to the acre were produced on the terraced farm of W. F. Fowler of Marion county this year, while about five bushels of bunnins per acre were produced on unterraced land on adjoining farms, according to John H. Erickson, farm demonstration agent. The Fowler farm was terraced soon after it was put under cultivation, and as it is a rather steep hillside farm the races are placed about 80 apart. While the farm is small is one of many on which terraces proved its real value to Mar- cony farmers this year, Erick says.

Lubbock—A flock of 225 W Lughorn hens belonging to Eric Shelly, Lubbock county 4-H boy, made a net profit of $25 in 1934, according to R. N. McCl farm demonstration agent. Y Shelly sold 1944 dozen eggs $313.67 and broilers and fry amounting to $33. He has learned through experience that he can his own feed according to recommendations from the farm demonstration agent. He has kept proved poultry and brooder records and reports that he is going make a real record with his flock next year.

Three Coke county livestock operators are trying out new methods of storing feed. Two of them are using trench silos but with feed put up in different methods. Mr. Roe Williams of Bronte, Tex cut his feed before filling the silo while Mr. Chester Kiker, also Bronte, has filled his silo with he die feed. Mr. Fred Roe of Robe Lee has gone in for the saving Russian thistles on his ranch making large stacks of it. So the feed is keeping and in good shape.

"Four tomato vines which were sub-irrigated have supplied our family of four with fresh tomatoes all summer and fall," says Mr. Marlin Garrett, 4-H pantry demonstrator for the Cross Plains Home Demonstration Club. Mr Garrett has 50 feet of tilling already laid and is now working on another 100 ties which will be laid in preparation for next spring an summer gardens.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Garrett are firm believers in the good that tilling can do and intend to have the best garden that is possible next year.

For the past two years, more than 300 head of cattle have been carried the year around on the 70 acre pasture belonging to W. O. Turner of Jefferson county. When the pasture demonstration program was started in the county, this pasture was infested with weeds and the carrying capacity was reduced to a point that was not profitable. A systematic program of mowing was planned three years ago, and the weeds were practically eliminated. An excellent turf was then formed of Dallis and Bermuda grass with Lespedeza and some White Dutch clover.

The praying palm of Paridpore India, bowed down each evening as the temple bells were calling the people to prayer. It was later found that temperature was responsible for the peculiar actions of the tree.

BOARD TO LAUNCH
CIVIL FOR IMPROVING
BROWNWOOD PROPERTY

The executive committee of the Brownwood Federal Housing Act decided at a meeting last Friday to launch a house to house canvass of Brownwood early in the new year to determine the extent of repair, renovating and re-erecting that is needed on Brownwood property. P. S. Luttrell, of Brownwood, an assistant director of the modernization division of the Federal Housing Administration, met with the Brownwood property owners and told of house to house canvasses that had been conducted in other Texas cities. The canvasses who will make the canvass in Brownwood will be furnished from county relief rolls. The canvass will be started upon when the workers can be secured, Smith Bell, county FHA representative, advises. Mr. Bell and the committee want to carry on the canvass in the most successful way possible so this they must have the cooperation of home owners. The canvassers will go from house to house and will fill out information blanks on repairs needed, seek the desired information from the owners. The executive committee includes

Man Held After Christmas Raid

Grady Carlisle, who lives in the 2700 block on Third Street, Brownwood, was arrested Christmas Day by county and city officers and charged with possession of a whiskey still. Examining trial was waived and Judge E. T. Perkinson placed Carlisle's bond at $1,000. Sheriff Jack Hallmark, Deputies Ellis and Avinger and City Patrolman Cy Thigpen raided the Carlisle residence Tuesday afternoon and confiscated a 50-gallon copper still, six mash barrels and other paraphernalia used in making whiskey. The raiding officers stated that before they gained entrance occupants of the house were able to destroy the mash on hand and that a quantity of whiskey was poured out.

BROWNWOOD Chamber of Commerce officials are continuing their efforts to secure establishment of an agricultural experiment station in the sandy land section of either Brown, Callahan, Eastland or Comanche counties. Letters have been written to Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally, to Congressmen of this section, and to A. B. Conner, director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at College Station. Chambers of Commerce and other interested citizens at Rising Star, Cross Plains, Comanche and Eastland are cooperating with Brownwood in efforts to secure the desired experiment station.

Government To Buy
225 Head Of Cattle

The federal government will purchase another 225 head of cattle in Brown county Friday and Saturday of this week, County Agent C. W. Lehmborg announced Wednesday.

This will complete the county's quota in the latest allotment made Texas in the government's drought relief cattle purchasing program. Deliveries for the sale Friday and Saturday are to be made at the Prisco pens.

MAKING
Smart CLOTHES

Probably the newest and smartest thing we have seen happen to pajamas in years is the Butcher Boy silhouette. It is borrowed from the cute smocks that the Paris market and butcher boys wear. The belted front and loose back proves an immediate success in dresses—you undoubtedly own one yourself. So now it is translated over into the most becoming pajamas you have ever laid your eyes on. Make them in tie-silk and they will be lovely for lounging — for informal evenings at home before the fire. Make them in lingerie silk and they are perfectly charming sleeping pajamas. (We hope you will choose a smart new shade like sunshine yellow or peachy rust or hydrangea blue.)

We can't imagine any smarter design for a gift than this. It is a Butterick Pattern and may be purchased at your local department store.

New Oil Section Is Opened By Producer

An oil well with an estimated daily production of between 50 and 100 barrels was brought in Saturday night, December 22, on the Gwathmey tract four or five miles west of Brownwood. The well opens up a new section for oil development and operators say that other drilling is contemplated in the vicinity of the new producer. The well was brought in by Alf Tillman and associates. It was opened and pumped and a half. It was opened again at and flowed and pumped in six hours. Salt water in the well at first but shut off. In the early days of the United States postal service the fees for sending an envelope containing a single sheet of paper ranged from six cents for the first 30 miles to 25 cents for 350 miles.

To lift 500 tons of solid steel 8 stories—there's a job calling for giant power! And giant power there is in the new powerful Sinclair H-C Gasoline! A single gallon of this motor fuel actually could lift a 500-ton locomotive 8 stories — if its potential energy could be fully utilized.

In a recent road test, where the new H-C was tried out against 12 other well-known gasolines, the results were as follows: The new H-C gave from 15% to 20% more smooth power. It also accelerated from 15% to 20% quicker than the other gasolines and gave from 1 to 3 more miles per gallon!

Ask the Sinclair dealer for a folder which fully explains how one gallon of the new H-C could lift a 500-ton locomotive 8 stories.

EYESTRAIN CAN OFTEN BE RELIEVED BY USING BETTER LIGHTING » » »
 Young eyes were never built for close work, so when reading or close work must be done see that your child gets enough light.
 Test the bulb in her study lamp tonight. Just sit in the chair she uses and try to read this line of fine print without squinting. If you can't do it, play safe and replace the bulb with a new and brighter one, or possibly the lamp she is using should be replaced with . . .
THE NEW STUDY LAMP
 .. designed to Safeguard Eyesight!
 The new study lamp is not a product of any single manufacturer. It is a joint creation of lamp designers, eyesight specialists, research men, Mazda Lamp manufacturers, physicians, scientists, and others concerned with the conservation of human vision. It has the sanction of the leading lighting authorities of the world. Its height is 28 inches—the height prescribed by science for delivering the proper light on table or desk. Equipped with a white glass diffuser, it throws the light downward and upward, giving soft, well diffused, glareless light for reading with greater eye comfort. It makes seeing and reading easy.

Weatherby Motor Company
 Fisk at Adams
 BROWNWOOD, TEXAS
 December 27, 1934
 To The People of Brownwood Trade Territory:
 Dear Patrons:
 It's always news when Henry Ford introduces a new car. Three years ago, he startled the automobile industry by bringing-out a V-8 at a low price. For 1935, he's presenting CENTER-POISE RIDING—an important advance in motor car comfort.
 The reason for the remarkable comfort of the New Ford V-8 is a fundamental change in automobile design, with new weight distribution, new seat position, and new developments in spring suspension. You ride forward, toward the center of the car—away from the rear axle and away from the bumps. Hence the name Center-Poise Riding. For almost the first time a car has been specially designed to give real comfort to back seat passengers.
 The wider, longer, roomier New Ford V-8 for 1935 will be introduced this Saturday, December 29, and we will have it on display at our showrooms. Please accept this letter as a cordial invitation to see it and learn the full story of its distinctive new features, including the new easy-pressure clutch and newly designed self-centering brakes.
 The combination of fine-car comfort and fine-car performance makes it an outstanding value. The luxuriousness of its upholstery and appointments has never been approached in a low-price car.
 Very truly yours,
Weatherby Motor Co.

DRESS UP YOUR CAR with streamline JUMBOS

Our special change-over plan makes it easy to do

General Jumbos—America's only Streamline Tires—will set your car apart as the smartest of its kind on the road. These huge, handsome tires actually make a car look heavier, with longer wheel base. The Jumbo is the ONLY tire that can run with only 12 to 15 lbs. of air—so safe you can forget about blowouts—luxuriously easy riding.

But not a luxury in cost. Jumbos actually pay for themselves by protecting the car from vibration and repairs. In hardest service—taxi, delivery fleets, etc., they are giving amazing mileage. Let us tell you about our plan that lets you enjoy Jumbos' unequalled comfort, safety and economy—and pay while you save!

DIVISION OF PARITY PAYMENTS EXPLAINED

The proportion of the cotton parity payment due to the share cropper or share tenant on farms covered by cotton acreage reduction contracts in 1934 is that proportion which his share in the acreage grown to cotton this year by him bears to the total acreage permitted to be grown to cotton on the farm under the terms of the reduction contract. Information received from the Administrative Section, Department of Agriculture, is as follows:

Parity payment checks are being mailed out to farm demonstration agents direct from Washington at the rate of 20,000 per day and will be distributed by them to the producers as soon as proper forms for receipts are received from Washington, Mr. Lichte said.

When the landlords receive these parity payment checks they sign an agreement which covers distribution to share croppers and tenants. They also agree to report within 30 days the distribution of the parity payment, including signatures of tenants and share croppers who were entitled to a share of the payment. Instructions on procedure are included in the forms which are provided at the time of delivery of the check.

"Parity payment checks amount to one cent per pound for each pound of lint cotton in the producers' farm allotment which is 40 per cent of the average production for the base period years 1925 to 1932," Mr. Lichte explained.

The manager plan of government is used in 425 cities and six counties in the United States.

Butter is made from approximately 40 per cent of the total milk production of the United States.

One hundred eighteen different taxes are levied on the oil industry in this country.

ENROLLMENT STARTED FOR COUNTY'S QUOTA OF CCC MEMBERSHIP

As was announced last week, Brown county's quota in a new CCC enrollment drive has been set at 20 with boys between the ages of 18 and 25 being eligible. Taking of applications for the quota of twenty is now under way and will continue through Saturday, December 29. The applications are being received by C. E. Boyett, county relief administrator. No instructions as to what camp or camps the Brown county enrollees will be sent to have been received by Mr. Boyett but it is believed that most of them will be sent to the Lake Brownwood camp. The first call for boys to leave for camp will be made January 7 with the second call being scheduled for January 8 or 9.

Instructions in regard to eligibility for CCC service, received by Mr. Boyett, follow:

Only those men who are accepted for enrollment who are willing to allot a substantial amount of the $30 monthly allowance to their dependents.

The maximum amount to be allotted is $25 and the minimum is $22 per month. Preference will be given to those who allot $25.

Allotments must be made to dependents who are in need of money. Checks are mailed to the dependents and will reach them by the 15th of each month.

Boys marrying while in camp are ineligible for further service and will be discharged not longer than three months after their marriage. Allotments will not be changed from the dependents to the wife where investigation shows that the family is still in need of the allotment.

Men who have formerly been enrolled in the CCC are ineligible.

Anyone who has a brother now enrolled is ineligible.

If a man entered the CCC thru falsification or ineligibility he will be discharged and returned home. Transportation in this case will not be furnished.

Relief Roll Preference

Preference in this and all other enrollments will be given to those on relief rolls, when such persons are qualified.

Before a man seriously considers enrolling he should be certain that he is physically fit for hard work and that he is willing to spend at least six months in the CCC. After the first three months he may or may not be permitted to remain in camp.

All applications for enrollment must be made to the county administrator in the county of residence.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED IN MEMORY OF WOODWARD AND LEE BY BROWN COUNTY BAR

FOLLOWING are the resolutions adopted at special Memorial Services held in District Court last Thursday in memory of Judge R. E. Lee, former county judge of Brown county, and of Judge J. O. Woodward, former district judge of the 35th Judicial District:

Judge R. E. Lee
To the Honorable E. J. Miller, Judge of the District Court of Brown County, Texas:

We, the committee appointed by Your Honor to prepare resolutions touching the death of Robert E. Lee, until recently an active member of the Brownwood Bar, in keeping with the suggestions of propriety, and prompted by those sentiments of favorable regard entertained for him by the surviving members of this bar, desire to express those sentiments in a public way.

Robert E. Lee became a member of this Bar in the year 1903. He was modest, unassuming and studious. He at all times displayed fidelity to those whose interests were placed in his keeping. He attained an honored position as a lawyer. He won the esteem of those with whom he labored for many years. His life was clean and honorable and daily demonstrated that he was a gentleman. His faith in the richness and assurance of a higher life was such as might be emulated by the best. His going away in the meridian of a useful career is to be especially deplored. Multiplied words can add nothing more.

We feel that in his death, this Bar has lost a member whose place will not be easily filled. The community has lost an outstanding citizen whose usefulness will long be remembered. It need scarcely be said that those nearest to him have suffered an irreparable loss.

Therefore, BE IT RESOLVED:

(1) That the foregoing is a genuine and sincere expression of the sentiments we cherish toward the memory of the deceased;

(2) As a testimonial of the sentiments thus expressed, we have the privilege of asking that the foregoing expressions be entered upon the Minutes of this Court, and that a properly authenticated copy be sent to this surviving wife, as evidence of the kindness of feeling and well-wishing regard we entertain for her.

Respectfully submitted,
C. L. McCARTNEY,
W. U. EARLY,
T. C. WILKINSON, JR.

Judge J. O. Woodward.
To the Honorable E. J. Miller, Judge of the District Court of Brown County, Texas:

Your Honor having designated the undersigned committee to prepare some memorial expression suggested by the death of Judge J. O. Woodward of Coleman, Texas, beg leave to submit in open court what here now follows:

Judge Woodward went to his last reward only a few days ago. He was judge of this court for terms aggregating 16 years. His native intellectual endowments were of a high order. He was possessed of a sense of justice rarely equalled by any. His sympathy for those possessed of lowly estate was made manifest by his constant attitude toward them throughout his long judicial career. While he was a friend of all classes, he was especially a friend of those fated to tread the humble walks of life, and if his sympathetic heart could not always find a redress of their grievances, it was because he was forbidden by the stern dictates of the law. To his everlasting honor can it be said of him that whatever errors may be found in his many judicial pronouncements, none were errors of the heart.

In whatever arena of life he was called on to act, he displayed a broad and comprehensive conception of duty in whose performance he won and held the esteem of all classes; and the many and deserved honors heaped upon him mark him as one of fortune's favorites.

His serene fortitude during the last months of his long and useful life, his Christian forbearance toward his fellows, and his patient and satisfied waiting for the last call challenge our admiration along
