Hedley Health Fair to be held Friday

The third annual Hedley School & Community Health Fair will be held this Friday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Hedley School.

The Texas Department of State Health Services will hold a flu shot clinic, and organizers expect 10 to 12 booths to also be set up at the fair.

Screenings for blood pressure and blood sugar will be available, and healthy snacks will be provided. Attendees can take ambulance tours, and information about careers in health care will also be available.

Door prizes will be given away "about every half hour," and you do not have to be present to win.

Confederate widow to be memorialized

The Sabine Pass Chapter #2459 of the United Daughters of the Confederacy of Wellington will have a memorial for Belle Langford Smith on November 9 at 10 a.m. at Rowe Cemetery.

Smith's UDC grave marker will be dedicated at that time.

The widow of Captain Nat Smith, she was a charter member of the Julia Jackson Chapter #141 in Ft. Worth in 1915. She died in 1928 and is laid to rest beside her husband.

Regulations topic of cattle seminar

A Donley County Calf Producer Seminar will be held next Tuesday, November 09, at 10 a.m. at the Bairfield Activity Center.

Extension Beef Cattle Specialist Dr. Ted McCollum will be present to address topics on new beef cattle regulations of concern to beef producers, Range Management practices to enhance grazing acreage, and winter supplementation needs and economical feed alternatives to meet nutrition requirements of fall and spring calving herds.

For any questions or special needs please contact Leonard Haynes at 874-2141 or by cell at 806-282-7680.

CC to begin winter/spring registration

Pre-Registration begins Monday, November 15, for the Winter 2010 and Spring 2011 semesters at Clarendon College.

Anyone interested in taking classes this winter or next spring can stop by one of our 3 locations to get pre-registered. Those interested can also call Jamie Ward in Clarendon at 806-874-4837, David Hall in Pampa at 806-665-8801, or Wendy Altman in Childress at 940-937-2001, for more information.

Winter session classes start Tuesday, December 7. Spring classes start Tuesday, January 18.

A complete schedule of classes is available on our website, www.clarendoncollege.edu, or can be found in area newspapers next week.

Anyone needing assistance with financial aid can call 806-874-4858.

Methodist Church to hold centennial celebration

The opening of a new building and the birth of a new Methodist conference were big events in 1910, and now the First United Methodist Church of Clarendon will commemorate those occasions with a 100th anniversary celebration this weekend, November 6-7.

What was then known as the Methodist Episcopal Church South started out in 1888 at the southeast corner of Fourth and Kearney Streets, but the congregation quickly outgrew that wood frame building. So in 1910, the present building was erected under the pastorate of Rev. O.P. Kiker at the corner of Fifth and Jefferson at a cost of $40,000.

Preparations for the church were rushed to completion in time for a meeting of Methodists from across much of Texas, who came to Clarendon to establish the present Northwest Texas Annual Conference and Central Texas Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church. Legend holds that the workmen went out the north door of the building as the bishop came in the south door.

The building has continued to serve generations of Christ's followers, although some modifications have been made to modernize the building. The most notable change occurred in 1950 when the landmark domed roof was replaced with a gabled roof due to chronic leaks that had plagued the building for many years.

To commemorate the opening of this beautiful structure and the organization of the two conferences, the First United Methodist Church will hold a two-day celebration this Saturday and Sunday, November 6 and 7.

The Saturday program will feature Dr. Tom Fuller, General Evangelist for the United Methodist Church, who will discuss the influence of John Wesley and how his teachings apply to Christianity today. The program begins at 6:30 p.m. and also will include a selection of music that will span the generations since 1910.

Sunday service on November 6 will begin at 9:45 a.m., and former pastors have been invited to attend and participate. Conference representatives will also be on hand as the church building is rededicated and a special message is brought by Dr. David Murrah, the author of "Are We Yet Alive?": The Centennial History of the Northwest Texas Conference.

A color postcard depicts the Clarendon First United Methodist Church building not long after its construction in 1910.

Following the service, a noon meal will be served in the Fellowship Hall.

Commemorative plates featuring the original and modern appearances of the building have also been commissioned and are on sale through the church office. Note cards bearing the church's original design are also available.

Super Friends

The streets of Clarendon were protected from evil-doers by several members of the Justice League of America last Saturday evening. JLA team members included Elaina Estlack as Supergirl, Russell Estlack as Superman, Nori Buckhaults as Hawkgirl, Tessa Buckhaults as Wonder Woman, Albert Buckhaults as The Flash; Nathan Estlack as The Batman of Earth Two; and Benjamin Estlack as The Batman of Earth One.

Services will recognize Americas' veterans

Three services have been planned next week in Donley County to honor those who have served in the US armed forces.

A Veterans Day program will be held at Clarendon College on Thursday, November 11, at 7 p.m. in the Bairfield Activity Center.

Jack Moreman, a Korean War Veteran, will be the Master of Ceremonies. John Howard, MD, OIF Veteran, will be the guest speaker. The Clarendon College Choir will perform.

This program will honor veterans of all wars, and everyone in the community is invited to attend.

Hedley's Adamson-Lane Post 287 of the American Legion will hold a Veterans Day service next Thursday, November 11, in the Rowe Cemetery at 10 a.m.

The Post will place flags on the graves of 220 veterans.

Lloyd Stice, pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Clarendon, who was raised in Collingsworth County, will deliver the keynote address. Stice served in the US Army from 1966 to 1969.

Following the Rowe program, Hedley ISD will honor veterans with a meal and program at the school with a keynote address by Dick Bode of Alanreed, who was born in Holland, lived through five years of German occupation. Bode's father worked with the Dutch Underground to provide hiding places for Jewish people.

Enterprise to honor service men, women

THE CLARENDON ENTERPRISE is compiling a list of active and reserve military personnel from Donley County and plans to recognize those patriots in next week's edition.

The paper has 36 names from last year's list and is asking readers to call or e-mail with names of those they know of people who either live here or who have graduated from Hedley or Clarendon High Schools and are now serving in the United States armed forces.

The names will be available on our website - www.ClarendonLive.com - and at www.Facebook.com/TheEnterprise as we get them, and they will be listed in a large display ad next week ahead of Veterans Day.

Businesses, individuals, or organizations who would like to appear on the ad also are asked to call Julie, Anndria, or Roger at 874-2259.

Star Photo of the Week

Wayne Gordon (center) with sons Aaron and David attended the first World Series Game at The Ball Park in Arlington over the weekend as the Texas Rangers got their first win. "This was one of the best times of my life being able to be there with my two sons and living this moment," Gordon writes. And now, for being part of history and sending us the photo, he's the lucky winner of a ClarendonLive.com t-shirt. Submit your photos at www.ClarendonLive.com, and you could be our next winner!

Guilty plea gets woman three years on probation

A Clarendon woman was placed on deferred adjudication Monday after pleading guilty to aggregated theft when the district court met in Wellington.

Amanda Renee Roys was placed on probation for a period of three years for the third degree felony offense of aggregation of amounts involved in theft. Roys pleaded guilty and was placed on deferred adjudication for the offense.

Roys, a 26-year-old resident of Clarendon, was arrested in Collingsworth County for the offense that took place on July 9, 2009. Roys was the secretary of Collingsworth County Attorney Keith Davis where the aggregated thefts took place.

"Texas Ranger Jay Foster did an excellent job in investigating this case which resulted in the plea today," said Inman. "His expertise in aggregated theft investigations is exception and is very appreciated by my office."

Roys pleaded guilty to a complaint and information filed by the State on August 26, 2010.

If Roys violates probation, she could face up to 10 years in the Institutional Division of the TDCJ.

A total of $1,000 in fines was assessed as a result of the plea that took place on November 1. In addition to the fines, the defendant was required to pay a total of $376 in court costs and $15,233.79 in restitution.

District Attorney Luke Inman prosecuted the case for the State of Texas with the Honorable Judge Stuart Messer presiding.

The court also met in Memphis last Friday, October 29, and heard one plea resulting in a conviction.

Jeffrey Mark Butler was placed on probation for a period of two years for the state jail felony offense of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Butler, 27-year-old Turkey resident, was convicted and sentenced to two years in the State Jail Division of the TDCJ, but the sentence was probated for a period of two years.

"Hall County Chief Deputy Tom Heck responded to domestic disturbance and did a thorough investigation into that matter which resulted in a felony conviction today," said Inman.

Butler was arrested in Hall County on May 17, 2010, and was later indicted by a Hall County Grand Jury on June 29, 2010.

A total of $1,000 in fines was assessed as a result of the plea that took place on October 29. In addition to the fines, the defendant was required to pay a total of $376 in court costs.

Election will not result in significant difference

The day after the 2010 Elections, what some have described as a "political earthquake," is no different from the day before. At least not when it comes to the real problems that plague average Americans like you and me.

Sure, the Democrats will have lost some vital seats and the Republicans, powered by Tea Party activists, will have gained enough to claim a "comeback." But the government as we have come to know it—corrupt, bloated and controlled by big-money corporations, lobbyists and special interest groups—will be largely unchanged. And "we the people"—overtaxed, overpoliced, overburdened by big government, underrepresented by those who should speak for us and blissfully ignorant of the prison walls closing in on us—will continue to trudge along a path of misery.

The office of the president will continue to expand far beyond the borders of the Constitution, aided by an inept Congress that fails to provide oversight to the president and the numerous bureaucratic agencies that periodically terrorize average Americans. Aggressive war spending which has put the government on the brink of bankruptcy will continue to bleed us dry, all the while the military industrial complex continues to direct both foreign and domestic policies.

The family structure will continue to break down, deepening the already gaping spiritual void. Marriages will continue to splinter as children face a schizophrenic world lacking any true moral compass or leadership. And the schools, which no longer teach young people moral values or their freedoms, will continue to impose a draconian uniformity, conditioning American children to live in an Orwellian state.

With roughly 25 lobbyists per Congressman, corporate greed will continue to call the shots in the nation's capital, all the while our elected representatives will grow richer and the people poorer. And elections will continue to be driven by war chests and corporate benefactors rather than once-touted values such as honesty, integrity and public service. Just consider: $4 billion were spent on the elections this year, yet not a dime of that money will actually help the average American in their day-to-day struggles to just get by.

In other words, next week won't be any different from last week or the week before, because the sad truth is that nothing taking place on Election Day will limit the emerging police state or alleviate the suffering of the American people.

Yet it was not always this way. There was a time in our nation's history when a person's vote counted for something more than merely the illusion of participation. There was a time when the people's referendum at the ballot boxes brought about a change in the way government did business. That is no longer the case.

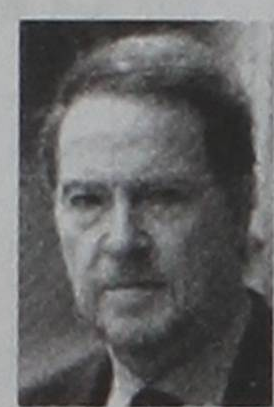

So what's the answer? There are countless tomes written on the nature of government and the duties of citizenship. And while we are certainly guilty of abject civic illiteracy, that's not really the root of our problem. The problem, as I see it, is that we have allowed ourselves to be enchained by bureaucracy, corporatism, consumerism and militarism for so long that we have forgotten what it is to be free.

Great leaders throughout history have understood that freedom is not based on which party is in power or what laws are enacted but on a universal understanding that what we call freedom—true freedom—is a spiritual state that is innate. No truly free people would allow themselves to be branded and tracked like cattle or probed by strangers or sold to the highest bidder. Yet to be able to stand up for your freedoms and object when they are being threatened or violated, you first have to understand what they are and where they come from, keeping in mind that everything being done by the government today is aimed at one thing: to disconnect us from our spiritual roots—our freedom roots.

And what are our freedom roots? Thomas Jefferson sets them forth with eloquence in the preamble to the Declaration of Independence: "All men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness." And "whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness."

Great dissenters like Martin Luther King Jr. took to the streets and conducted civil disobedience against a government that wouldn't listen. He knew that it takes more than voting to change the way government works. As King said, "We must see the need for non-violent gadflies to create the kind of tension in society that will help men rise from the dark depths of prejudice and racism to the majestic heights of understanding and brotherhood."

Are you willing to be a gadfly? Or are you going to continue to play their game and passively sit on the sidelines and wait for the next so-called "political earthquake" to shake things up?

Congress could be lamest of lame

By Martin Frost

What if you threw a party and no one came?

That's everyone's worst nightmare. Now, let's try another one. What if Congress held a lame duck session, did virtually nothing and quit for the year?

That is not beyond the realm of possibility. Particularly if there are lots of lame ducks packing up and having to vacant their offices by early December.

Some people are saying that congressional inaction would be a good idea during the lame duck session that is set to start Nov. 15. But anyone in the business community with half a brain is more likely to be appalled.

Here's what happens if Congress convenes, passes a new continuing resolution, funding the government until sometime in February or March, and then leaves.

First, everyone's taxes go up on Jan. 1 -- since all Bush era tax cuts expire on Dec. 31 without further action by Congress.

Second, taxes on dividends are due to increase to the taxpayer's top marginal rate -- meaning 39.6 percent for couples making more than $250,000 a year -- from 15 percent. This is set to happen on Dec. 31 without further action by Congress.

Third, taxes on capital gains will increase to 20 percent from 15 percent.

This 15 percent rate also expires on Dec. 31 without congressional action.

Fourth, the estate tax reverts to a $1 million exemption and a 55 percent rate. The old estate tax -- $3.5 million exemption and 45 percent rate -- expired on Dec. 31, 2009, and then bounced back to the $1 million exemption, 55 percent rate on Jan. 1, under legislation passed during the Bush administration.

Obviously, Congress won't let any of this happen. Right? Not necessarily.

Should the Republicans make big gains as predicted -- taking control of one or both houses of Congress -- Republicans may take the position that they won the election and all major decisions should be deferred until the new Congress takes office in January. Certainly that is a defensible position. But for the fact that the laws mentioned above all expire on Dec. 31.

It is also possible that Democrats are likely to continue saying that the middle class tax cut should be continued, but tax cuts for the top 2 percent (those making more than $250,000 in family income) should expire; while Republicans take the position that all tax cuts should be continued. If neither side blinks, deadlock occurs.

I had never believed that Congress would let the estate tax expire on Dec. 31, 2009. But it did. It is now possible that Congress will also fail to agree on the future shape of the estate tax -- though many thought a middle ground position of a $3.5 million exemption was both reasonable and inevitable.

So what happens if Congress fails to act on any of this by Dec. 31? The new Congress could always pass legislation that would be retroactive to Jan. 1. However, President Barack Obama will still have a veto and might exercise it. Particularly if the deficit reduction commission -- scheduled to make recommendations on Dec. 1 -- declares that the country needs the extra tax revenue generated by letting the Bush era tax cuts expire.

In addition, if Congress fails to act on individual tax rates before Dec. 31, businesses will have to change withholding rates effective Jan. 1, to reflect the new higher individual rates.

Unscrambling that egg would be interesting.

Leaving town without acting on these tax matters makes no sense. But then, very little about this year has made any sense.

Martin Frost, who served in the House from 1979 to 2005, was the Democratic Caucus chairman and head of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee. He is now an attorney with Poinsett Shugart PC.

Texas Rangers enter history books

On April 15, 1972, the Texas Rangers played the first game. It was in California against an expansion team, the Angels. Thirty-nine years later, the Rangers are playing another Californian team in a historic series. This time, the Rangers are taking on the San Francisco Giants in their first ever World Series. With their decisive win in the American League Championship series against the New York Yankees, the Rangers ended one of the longest World Series droughts in Major League Baseball.

Prior to the Rangers coming to Texas, the Astros were already a well-known team in Houston and minor league baseball thrived in the state. But Texas was still considered football country. The presence of baseball in Texas expanded in the early 1970s, when Arlington Mayor Tom Vandergriff boldly went after the expansion Washington Senators team to lure them to the area. Poor attendance in Washington, and an even poorer win-loss record, made the move to Texas an attractive option for the sputtering Senators.

The newly-christened Texas Rangers quickly became one of the Metroplex's signature sports teams, and the Rangers earned the following and allegiance of area residents. Old Turnpike Stadium was expanded for the team and Arlington Stadium remained an iconic fixture on I-30 between Dallas and Fort Worth until the new Ballpark opened in 1994.

Throughout the Rangers' 39 year history, the team and its fans have witnessed Nolan Ryan pitch his sixth and seventh no-hitters, win 300 games and make his 5,000th strikeout. They have witnessed Kenny Rogers pitch a perfect game and hosted a Major League Baseball All-Star game. And now, fans who have loyally stood by the team during good times and bad, have the opportunity to root for the team as the Rangers compete to be the world champions.

Fans fondly remember the great players of past teams who helped make the Texas Rangers a powerhouse franchise in the American League. Players like Ryan (now the team's President and part-owner), Ferguson Jenkins, Mike Hargrove, Jim Sundberg, Rubeen Sierra, Ivan Rodriguez, and so many others, who battled the heat of Texas summers to bring a love of America's pastime to the fans of North Texas.

The current team's heroes—Cliff Lee, Colby Lewis, Josh Hamilton, Nelson Cruz, Vladimir Guerrero, Bengie Molina, Ian Kinsler, Michael Young, and so many other teammates—are now household names throughout the area. And this group of players also has a team-approach that made its wins even more appreciated. Every Ranger star has credited the support of the whole team. Fans, young and old, are sporting Ranger red and blue tee shirts and caps. The entire area has caught Ranger fever.

Sports contests have a way of uniting people in so many ways. Texans have always enjoyed cheering on their local school, college, or professional teams. Even when folks can't agree on issues they can find common ground when discussing their favorite team. We saw the entire state cheer for Houston when the Astros reached the World Series in 2005. Now, we have consensus agreement in the Lone Star State that the Texas Rangers playing in the World Series is a remarkable achievement. New York has its Subway Series. In Texas, the Rangers and Astros play for the "Silver Boot" in the Lone Star Series. Our Texas teams make us Texas proud! And this year all of Texas is rooting for the American League Champion Texas Rangers!

Economist: Cattle prices to stay strong

BRYAN — A Texas Agriculture Extension Service livestock economist has forecasted continued strength in cattle prices heading into 2011, but has warned to keep a watchful eye on the corn supply.

Dr. David Anderson said at the recent Brock Faulkner Cattleman's Clinic/Doug Davidson Hay Show in Bryan that cattle numbers will be fewer over the next decade, but the price of corn will dictate the level and spread in calf prices.

"I think we will continue seeing beef production and cattle numbers drop off in the next couple of years," Anderson said. "We are forecast to produce 25.4 billion pounds of beef in 2011 versus 25.9 billion pounds in 2010. That will lead to increases in price, but it also depends on corn prices and (their effect on) calf prices."

With the nation's corn supply receiving more attention in recent weeks as a result of declining harvest yield estimates, Anderson said he has backed off somewhat on his price outlook for the calf market heading into 2011.

Anderson said producers can expect to see higher calf prices next year, but not as high as he first estimated earlier this year. His 2011 forecast has 600-pound calves priced at $104 to $112 per hundredweight and 700-800-pound calves priced at $99-$105 per hundredweight.

The first quarter of 2010 resulted in the least amount of beef supplies, net of beef exports, since 1997, and each quarter through 2012 will continue to decline, Anderson said. Overall, beef demand has been hurt by the recession, but has been strong due to consumers "trading down" to stretch their income. That's led to more grinding of specific cuts of beef — chunks and rounds — to "take advantage of the hamburger demand." Cull cattle have also been fetching premium prices — a result of the demand for ground beef.

The export markets also continue to show strength with Vietnam emerging as a top customer for U.S. beef exports.

"What I'm suggesting is that booming exports tighten domestic beef supplies even more and should lead to higher cattle prices for the next couple of years," Anderson said. "Supplies keep cutting back because we're not making enough money to build herds back."

The last few years have been one of transition for the cattle industry, Anderson said, as beef cattle numbers are at the lowest since the 1950s. However, pounds of beef produced per cow are much higher compared to that period as a result of feeding, improved breeding, and overall technology and science.

"We're not using the same type of cattle we were using in the 1950s," Anderson said.

With higher corn prices, one of the important things to do in the current calf market, is to put purchased calves on grass to cut down on the amount of costs to add pounds, Anderson said.

"Putting them on grass becomes cheaper when you look at the cost of corn," he said. "The price spread, or slide, becomes compressed as corn prices move higher. The hardest hit are often the lightweight heifers since it takes more feed to put gain on them."

Overall, there are fewer replacement heifers being held back, Anderson said.

"We're also slaughtering more cows as a percent of the herd than in a decade," he said. "We're going to have fewer cows in 2011-2012, but also higher prices."

The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular Tuesday noon meeting November 2 with Boss Lion Roger Estlack in charge.

We had 13 members and one Sweetheart this week.

Lion Lloyd Stice was presented with his official name badge and will no longer have to live in fear of being fined by the monkey each week.

Lion Chuck Robertson presented a banner to the club that had been given to him as Boss Lion last year by Lion Velda Ross. The banner commemorates the Lion Jimmy Ross' year as president of Lion International.

The club discussed the catering for the regular noon meals.

There being no further business, we were adjourned.

Clarendon Church of Christ
DANGERS OF UNBELIEF

"Take care, brethren, that there not be in any one of you an evil, unbelieving heart that falls away from the living God. But encourage one another day after day, as long as it is still called 'Today,' so that none of you will be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. For we have become partakers of Christ, if we hold fast the beginning of our assurance firm until the end," (Hebrews 3:12-14)

Here we see the writer of Hebrews warning his Christian brethren about their journey with Christ. He tells them they must be careful day by day in their walk with the Lord as they could be in danger of becoming untrusting, unbelieving again. They would do well to encourage each other daily while there is time given to them to strengthen their faith. Once a person begins to fade away from God, he becomes "hardened" or calloused to the love of God and will begin to shirk his duties as a Christian. He will lose sight of the goal and miss it if not careful.

This scripture shows how a person can be a Christian, yet if not careful can revert back to his or her former lifestyle and be lost. Some don't like this doctrine but it is taught throughout the Bible. If you read the next few verses, the writer uses the children of Israel as an example. Weren't the children of Israel God's people when they left Egypt? Did they not all follow Moses as they journeyed to the "promised land?" Didn't all of the adults, except for Joshua and Caleb, die in the wilderness because of their unbelief and lack of faithfulness? They began to long for the place they had been instead of trusting God. They should have continued in their journey with their eyes on God and trusting Him at every turn. What they did instead is what a lot of us do and that is to lose faith when there are tough times! Remember Peter fell to this very sin. He was told he would deny Jesus 3 times before the cock would crow. Peter was insistent that he would never deny Jesus, but he did. The tough times came as he was accused of being a follower of Jesus, and Peter became scared and did exactly what he thought he would never do.

As we serve God, we must encourage one another daily so we can avoid the temptation to "go back" to our former lifestyles as did the children of Israel. We must focus on the "grand prize" and not sell out. The reward will be far greater than any temporary pleasure we have here on earth. I pray that we will always trust in the Lord and follow His footsteps. It makes the trip we're taking much easier.

Remember to set clocks back Nov. 7

November is here even though it feels like summer with the wind and temperatures in the 80s while flowers continue to bloom if you keep the deer out.

The deer are growing their winter coats, and bucks are on the hunt for a doe, all signs of approaching winter.

I know one morning soon we will awake to freezing weather, possibly without warning from the local weather-guessers.

In the meantime I will enjoy the warm weather.

November is a month of many holidays or days worthy of mention, two will be this week.

The first is Election Day, and I hope you voted on Tuesday. It will be interesting to watch the governor's race this year.

The second is my favorite. Daylight Saving Time ends; and if you have been reading my column very long, you know how I ridicule this time change.

No one can answer my question of how do you save time by moving the hands on a clock and where does this saved time go?

There are still 24 hours in a day, the sun still rises and sets and people who want to, like farmers, still work from daylight to dark.

What does it matter to the rest of the country except annoy you when you have to change all your clocks.

Some clocks change automatically like the computer, cell phones, and TV, but there is still the alarm clock and the one I hate the worst in the car because I always have to first find the instruction booklet.

My body has adjusted to the time very well, thank you, but after November 7 I won't remember if I spring forward or fall back.

Marshall Hardin is in the hospital with heart problems, please put him and Joyce on your prayer list and hope for a speedy recovery.

New time changes Saturday night, so please fall back one hour to keep up with the times.

Tanya Burton, Hedley School Nurse, will be holding a Health Fair on Friday, November 5 at the school where she will have flu shots. Please call her at 856-5323.

Pam McCleskey, Stephanie Spillers, Amy Best, and Kelly Day won the Average in the Women's Ranch Rodeo Association National Finals in Kansas.

Hedley is trying to grow in more ways than one. We have a few new people moving in, and there is more community response to everything.

This is wonderful for Hedley. The city is working on the roads, and the water lines. We have the possibility of a new Senior Citizens building, and the Methodist Church is growing.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if all our churches were full to the rim again?

The Methodists are trying to start an adult Bible Study, and we have Youth Services on Wednesday night at 7:00 with a meal, a devotional, and some games. We have been having around 50 kids. This is very exciting.

Recipe: Easy Burgoo: Serves 6: 1 (3 to 3 1/2 pound) chicken, cut into 8 pieces, 2 pounds beef top round, cut into 1/2 inch cubes, 3 (14.5 ounce) cans ready-to-use beef broth, 1/4 teaspoon ground red pepper, 2 (16 ounce) packages frozen vegetable gumbo mix, thawed, 1 (10.75 ounce) can tomato puree.

In a soup pot, combine chicken, beef, broth, and pepper; bring to a boil over high heat.

Devin

Funeral services for Thomas Nickless McCain Devin, 27, of College Station were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday, November 2, at Geo. J. Carroll & Sons in Gainesville, Texas, with Jonathan Brooks officiating. Burial will follow in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of George J. Carroll & Sons.

Thomas Nickless McCain Devin died October 30, 2010, at Fort Worth, Texas. Nickless was born March 31, 1983, in Tulia, Swisher County, Texas.

Survivors include his parents Thomas "Mac" and Karla McCain Devin of College Station; his grandparents Horace K. McCain of Gainesville, Delbert L. & Betty Devin of Tulia, Roy T. & Ireta Janiec of Bend, Oregon, and Bob McDaniel of Gainesville; his sister, Noel Devin of College Station, and brothers, Nelson Devin of Tuscaloosa, Alabama, and Neil Devin of College Station. Nickless is also survived by uncles, aunts, cousins, and countless friends. He was preceded in death by his grandmother, June Davison McCain of Gainesville.

Nickless, a 2001 graduate of Clarendon High School, was class valedictorian, a three-year football letterman, and a member of the Bronco Band. He was a decorated Eagle Scout. At The University of Alabama, Nickless earned a B.S. in Mechanical Engineering. While at UA, he was honored as the Outstanding Freshman and Sophomore of the Year and maintained a 4.0 GPA during his undergraduate career. Nickless was a member of the prestigious Jasons Society and was a Capstone Man. He was also a member of numerous academic honor societies and was the recipient of the President's Scholarship, many departmental scholarships, and the DHS scholarship. He played flag football for The House, a team that was placed second nationally on two occasions. He was a dedicated fan of the Alabama Crimson Tide.

Nickless began his career with Chevron Pipeline as an intern for Pascagoula Gas Plant in the summer 2006. He returned to Chevron working for Pipeline in March 2007 as a Field Engineer for MidContinent Texas "Dream Team".

During this time, Nickless received the President's Award for outstanding achievements. In March 2009, Nickless was promoted to Operations Supervisor for MidContinent Weatherford Field Team. Nickless was one of the few high potential Horizon's engineers chosen for the supervisor position with the program. During his time as Operations Supervisor, Nickless received numerous awards for leadership and commitment to operational excellence. He will truly be missed by the many people who had the honor of calling him friend and co-worker.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that all gifts be directed to the Nickless Devin Endowed Scholarship at the University of Alabama. Checks should be made payable to the Nickless Devin Endowed

Clarendon rolls Lockney; District title in sight

By Sandy Anderberg

Clarendon's 'boys of fall' are getting the job done in the District 2-1A race.

The 48-0 shutout of the Lockney Longhorns in Bronco Stadium Friday night set the scene for a goal not achieved in three decades.

The win put the Broncos on top of their district race and in great contention to bring home a District championship outright next Friday night against Panhandle. The 500 plus total yards racked up by the Broncos was impressive and overpowered the 67 yards that the Longhorns recorded.

All of the Bronco points were achieved in the first half of play with 34 points scored in the opening period.

"We came out and blew them away in the first quarter," head coach Gary Jack said.

"Our defense played great. We held them to three and out and turned around and scored touchdowns."

Quarterback Johnny Gaines and Bradley Watson teamed up for the first two Bronco scores early in the game that went 59 and 72 yards.

Mike Crump ran it in from 38 yards out for another touchdown, and brother Chris Crump got in on the action with a seven-yard run for six.

Charleston Harris, Wes Williams, and Gaines sealed the Bronco win with touchdowns before the break.

"We scored real quick on our first five possessions. Because of our lead, we were able to run the clock in the second half and all of our JV kids got in the game. Everyone played well."

Jack noted that the defense did a great job holding Lockney under 100 yards on the night, and the offensive line was sharp once again.

"We overwhelmed them," Jack said.

"Chris Schultz had two sacks, Jacob Pigg had a fumble recovery, and Chris Crump had two sacks. Johnny Gaines had an interception, and Bradley Watson made some great catches."

Jack also noted that R.J. Nino, Jayson Pigg, Jacob Pigg, Trent White, and David Roberts did a great job on the line and gave Gaines good pass protection throughout the night.

Jack is proud of the way the Broncos are playing and the success they have had this season.

"We have a great group of seniors," Jack said. "They have great leadership—the best by far that I have seen in my time here."

Jack also credits the coaching staff for the great season.

"Our coaching staff has been great. Clarendon has a lot of talent, but it takes great coaches, too."

The Broncos will take on Panhandle Friday night and a out-right District title is on the line for the Broncos.

"We haven't won a District Championship since 1981," Jack said. "We have been in the play offs for four years straight. We want to win the Panhandle game and go in as the number one seed. That will give us a bye in the first round of the play offs."

Jack knows the Panthers can be a tough opponent.

"They have struggled some this season, but they always play hard."

The game will be played November 5 in Panhandle beginning at 7:30 pm and will be the last regular season game for the Broncos.

CHS Colts bring down Longhorns

Charles Mason ran for two touchdowns to help lead the Clarendon Junior High Colts to a victory over the Lockney Longhorns on the road Thursday night.

Romello Smith converted both two-point bonuses in the 16-8 win.

After a scoreless first quarter, Mason got the ball and scampered 15 yards for the score to put the Colts up a touchdown. He would score one more time in the final period of play to seal the win for Clarendon.

Coach Steve Reynolds noted several players had an outstanding game offensively: Montana Hysinger, Zack Laroe, Charles Mason, Romello Smith, Blaine Ellis, Lee Buckhaults, Cooper Bilbrey, Jacob Bishop, Jonathon Taylor, Zach Watson, and Isaiah Grays.

The defensive players who stood out were Mason, Smith, Buckhaults, Bryce Hatley, Hysinger, Laroe, and Bilbrey.

The Colts will take on Panhandle in their last game of the season. It will be played in Clarendon at Bronco Stadium Thursday, November 4 at 5:00 p.m.

CHS to compete at C-C Regionals

The Lady Bronco Cross-Country team has advanced to Regionals after placing 2nd in the district meet held in Panhandle last week.

Regionals will take place November 6, in Lubbock at noon.

The Lady Broncos team consists of eight runners; Audrey Shelton, Sarah Luttrell, Deborah Howard, Haley Ferguson, Jessica Ceniceros, Phara Berry, Maci White, Trevela Dronzek and Jentry Shadle. Coaches are Molly Weathered and Shanna Shelton.

Polar Bear Two-Man scramble to be held at CCC

By Sandy Anderberg

The Clarendon Country Club will host the annual Polar Bear Two-Man Scramble November 6-7. Teams may still enter the 36-hole event by calling the Pro Shop.

Wendol Miller won the Wednesday men's game with a net 71, and Bob Hornberger was second with a net 72.

Sherol Johnston shot a gross 86 to win the women's game on Thursday, and Tanis McMorries won low net with a 68. Mary Ann Sawyer and Gayle Rogers tied for second low net with a 71.

Friends at the CCC would like to send condolences to the family of Butch Schollenbarger who passed away last weekend. Butch, you will be deeply missed on the golf course.

Lions celebrate 88th anniversary

The Clarendon Lions Club celebrated its 88th anniversary last Tuesday evening and recognized three of its members for service to the community and the club.

Lion Jerry Woodard was presented with his 25-year chevron, and Lion Chuck Robertson was given an award for bringing new members into the club as well as recognition for his service as Boss Lion last year.

Lion Bill Auvenshine was honored as the Lion of the Year for his service to the club.

Crowns and roses were presented to the club's three Sweethearts — Annie Patten, Ashlyn Tubbs, and Kaleigh West.

Lion Larry Capranica sang and entertained the club with his trumpet, and Past District Governor Lila Vars of Canyon delivered the keynote address, praising the club for its work in the community and encouraging members to recruit new people into Lionism.

Attending the banquet were: Lion Renee and Grett Betts; Lion Carey, Brandie, and Maloree Wann;

Lion Rick Sheppard; Lion Jerry and Nelda Woodard; Lion Bill Auvenshine; Lion Monty and Melodie Hysinger; Lion Mike, Susan, and Aiden Word; Lion Chuck and Lindsey Robertson; Lion Roger and Lion Ashlee Estlack; PDG Lila and PDG Don Max Vars; Lion Larry and Karen Capranica; Sweetheart Kaleigh West and Donna Hicks; Sweetheart Annie Patten and Britt and Virginia Patten; Sweetheart Ashlyn Tubbs and Laban and Jennifer Tubbs; Frankie Henson; and Sharon Winfrey.

Clarendon College Theatre to present 'Picnic'

The Clarendon College Theatre Department announces the opening of the 1953 Pulitzer prize winning play "Picnic," a summer romance written by William Inge, produced with special arrangement with Dramatists Play Service, Inc.

Performances are scheduled for Friday, November 12, and Saturday, November 13, with curtain at 7 p.m. All performances will be in the Harned Sister Fine Arts Center.

McLean, Maggie Webb from Ponca City, OK, Morgan Wheatley from Clarendon, Karl Williams from Miami, and Dakota Young from McClean.

Admission is $5 for adults and $3 for students. Admission is free to all Clarendon College regents, administration, faculty, staff, and CC Students as well as high school theatre groups.

Synopsis: The play takes place on Labor Day Weekend in the joint back yards of two middle-aged widows.

The one house belongs to Flo Owens, who lives there with her two maturing daughters, Madge and Millie, and a boarder who is a spinster school teacher. The other house belongs to Helen Potts, who lives with her elderly and invalid mother. Into this female atmosphere comes a young man named Hal Carter, whose animal vitality seriously upsets the entire group. Hal is a most interesting character, a child of parents who ignored him, self-conscious of his failings and his position behind the eight ball. Flo is sensitively wary of temptations for her daughters.

Madge, bored with being only a beauty, sacrifices her chances for a wealthy marriage for the excitement Hal promises. Her sister, Millie, finds her balance for the first time through the stranger's brief attention. And the spinster is stirred to make an issue out of the dangling courtship that has brightened her life in a dreary, minor way.

Applications available for Preservation Fellows Program

AUSTIN — The Texas Historical Commission (THC) is seeking student applicants for the 2011 Preservation Fellows Program, which strives to increase the diversity of professionals working in the field of historic preservation.

The program was created through the Friends of the Texas Historical Commission to build interest in, and awareness of, historic preservation, specifically among students from underrepresented ethnic groups.

This initiative targets undergraduate and graduate students to promote their interest in pursuing fields of study in history, preservation, architecture, landscape architecture, archeology, downtown revitalization, and heritage tourism. Past fellows have gone on to receive a Ford Foundation Diversity Fellowship, work at the National Trust for Historic Preservation, and pursue various graduate degrees.

The Preservation Fellows Program is entering its fifth year and the THC especially encourages applications from students who are studying landscape architecture. Please see the eligibility portion of the application for more information. Applicants must be students at the sophomore level or above attending a college, university, junior college, or community college in Texas, or a Texas resident attending school out-of-state. Fellows receive a $5,000 stipend for eight weeks of employment under the supervision of the THC.

To access an application and for a complete description of eligibility requirements that must be met visit www.thc.state.tx.us. Applications must be postmarked by December 31, 2010. For additional information contact Karen Knox with the Friends of the Texas Historical Commission at 512.936.2189.

Immunization Clinic to be held in Donley county

The Texas Department of State Health Services will hold several immunization clinics in Donley County during the month of November.

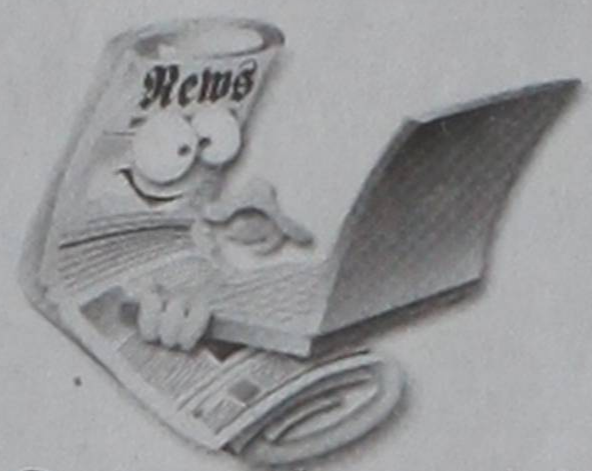

The department will be at the Hedley Health Fair in the Hedley School from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.; and a clinic will also be held at the Hedley Senior Citizens Center on November 8 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. with only the influenza shot being offered that day.

Clinics will be held in Clarendon on November 4 and 18 at the TDSHS office at Five Medical Drive from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. also from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Shots will be available on a first come first served basis.

All clinic times are subject to change or cancellation due to weather conditions or scheduling conflicts.

"I didn't know how I would manage on my own."

Speaking from the heart

I already had a doctor for my diabetes and another for my heart problems, but after I fell, they said I would need physical therapy. I didn't know how I would manage it all on my own. So I talked to my doctor, and he explained my options. I chose Accolade Homecare.

When I met Kathy, the nurse from Accolade, she taught me how to manage everything from the doctors and medications right down to my lifestyle, like what foods could help me. I had no idea Accolade did so much. Thanks to Kathy, I'm moving around again and am even healthier than before.

History about 3H

We are in our 9th year of selling USDA Certified All Natural Angus and Charolais Beef. Our ranch is certified as a USDA All Natural Age and Source Ranch. That means that each calf born on our ranch is under the All Natural Program, each is personally cared for all the way through harvest, and they are never given growth additives, hormones, or antibiotics.

Historic county courthouses preserved

AUSTIN — Historic county courthouses serve as an anchor for communities throughout Texas. These structures take center stage in the upcoming issue of the Texas Historical Commission's (THC) Courthouse Cornerstones, emphasizing the benefits of saving these irreplaceable buildings.

From restoring delicate architectural elements to the unfailing dedication of county preservationists, the featured articles showcase the significance of the THC's Texas Historic Courthouse Preservation Program.

Included highlights are the recently rededicated Lavaca County Courthouse and the many artisans and craftsmen that work on the restoration projects, noting that the survival of their unique skills is aided by their role in the THC's program.

Announced in June 1999, the Texas Historic Courthouse Preservation Program provides partial matching grants to Texas counties for the restoration of their historic county courthouses. The 1890

Donley County Courthouse was one of the first courthouses to be restored by the program. That project was completed in 2003 at a cost of $4.2 million.

Since its inception, the program awarded $227 million to counties, and local governments have matched this with more than $150 million.

Courthouse restorations have generated more than 8,579 jobs throughout Texas and more than $19 million in local taxes. The 81st Texas Legislature included $20 million in bond funding for Round VI of the nationally recognized program and additional rounds are dependent upon continued funding from state lawmakers.

For more information on the Texas Historic Courthouse Preservation Program and Courthouse Cornerstones visit www.thc.state.tx.us or contact the THC's Architecture Division at 512.463.6094. A downloadable version of the publication will be available on the THC website.

Hinkle to be featured in Art Show

Clarendon native Norma Hinkle will be featured in an Art Show & Reception as Pampa's Artists of the Year this Sunday, November 7.

The Art Show & Reception will be held at the White Deer Land Museum in Pampa.

The reception will be held from 2 to 4 p.m., and Hinkle's art will remain on display until December 1. Hinkle, the sister of Clarendon's George Self, enjoys painting nostalgic country items - old barns, rusting cream cans, etc., and her medium is primarily oil and watercolor.

According to an interview with Focus magazine, Hinkle's interest in art began in elementary school in Clarendon when drawing on the blackboard was a form of entertainment.

She retired from teaching school in 2003, and has since devoted most of her time to art.

NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE
On September 30, 2010, GreenLight Gas ("GreenLight"), in accordance with the Gas Utility Regulatory Act, filed an application with the Texas Railroad Commission to change GreenLight's city gate gas transportation rate for gas utility service to the following cities and nearby unincorporated areas: REVISED NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE
On September 30, 2010, GreenLight Gas ("GreenLight"), in accordance with the Gas Utility Regulatory Act, filed an application with the Texas Railroad Commission to change GreenLight's city gate gas transportation rate for gas utility service to the following cities and nearby unincorporated areas: Clarendon, Dodson, Dozier, Estelline, Hedley, Lakeview, Lelia Lake, Lutie, Memphis, Newlin, Paducah, Samnorwood and Wellington. A revision to the application was filed with the Railroad Commission. The proposed rate is $2.628 per mcf. GreenLight proposes to recover rate case expenses through a $0.046 per mcf surcharge which will be in effect for three years. The combination of the rate plus the surcharge results in a rate of $2.674 which reflects an increase of $0.254 per mcf and is expected to increase GreenLight's revenue by about 2.7%. About 3,255 residential and 523 commercial customers would be affected. An average residential monthly bill (4.5 mcf) would see an increase of $1.14 per month. An average commercial monthly bill (31.3 mcf) would see an increase of $7.95 per month. This rate change requested by GreenLight, which is organized as a not-for-profit company constitutes a major increase as defined by Section 104.101 of the Texas Utilities Code. The effective date of this proposed rate change is December 1, 2010. Information concerning the application may be obtained from GreenLight's main office at: 116 South 6th Street, Memphis, Texas 79245
Any affected person may, on or before November 29, 2010, file written comments or a protest concerning the application with:

Ranch Management University helping with decision making

COLLEGE STATION - At Ranch Management University, students come from not just Texas, but California, Illinois - even Costa Rica - to learn more about managing agriculture and natural resources.

The four-day program held recently in College Station drew more than 40 participants to hear experts from the Texas AgriLife Extension Service and Texas AgriLife Research give presentations on producing high-quality forage, managing fish and wildlife and what type of livestock operations that best fit their land resources.

"Ranch Management University is a new program we've brought to College Station targeting the novice landowner," said Dr. Larry Redmon, AgriLife Extension state forage specialist.

"Many are buying land in Texas and don't have a firm understanding of how to manage the resources on their property.

"We like to think we are sending them back maybe with not all of the answers, but with at least some basic understanding of how to manage those resources. It's all about stewardship and land resource management."

workshop were forage species, genetic strategies for profitable beef production, cattle vaccination, deworming, and castration, hay production and forage nutritive value, marketing livestock, weed and brush management strategies, farm pond management, feral hog control and Rio Grande turkey management. Demonstrations were also made on how to obtain good soil and forage samples for laboratory analysis.

"Ranch Management University has been great," said Justin Withers of Austin. "I came here with a pretty specific question in mind: Do I want to run a cow-calf operation or do I want to run a stocker operation on my land? Being able to come here and learn about stocking rates, making sure my pastures are healthy...I'm learning the perfect steps of what I need to do to and make sure I'm maximizing the amount of weight gain my cows can (achieve)."

Dr. Mike Masser, AgriLife Extension fisheries specialist, gave an extensive overview of pond management. He discussed several aspects of fish behavior, especially the largemouth bass.

"The question becomes how do we develop a strong food chain?"

Masser explained to the group.

Masser said that starts with plant life and microscopic algae that leads to green water, which is the equivalent of green grass on a pasture for livestock.

One of the ways to ensure the fish are getting enough to eat is to fertilize ponds, which fuels the growth of algae and other pond vegetation.

"When it comes to fertilizing ponds, it's phosphorus that is the main critical ingredient," he said. "You can use liquid fertilizer or powder fertilizer. That's what we need to grow algae.

"By fertilizing a pond, fish production can be increased four to six times."

Masser said a good management technique is to keep catch records so you can look back and see what you've got over a period of time.

Ranch Management University in College Station will be held again in Spring 2011 and the enrollment is limited to 50 individuals per class. For more information about the ranch management program, visit <http://forages.tamu.edu/workshop.html> or email Redmon at l-redmon@tamu.edu.

Prevent Whooping Cough with Vaccination

The incidence of whooping cough (pertussis) in the U.S. is increasing. In 2009, the US Centers for Disease Control (CDC) estimated that there were about 17,000 reported cases of whooping cough, compared to the 10,454 reported cases in 2007. This is a respiratory illness. Mild symptoms of cough, fever, and congestion appear first, and infected individuals typically develop a severe cough which sounds like a "whoop" one to two weeks after symptoms begin. This condition can be prevented with proper immunization. Infants and young children should receive vaccination with DTaP which protects against three diseases (diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis). The Tdap vaccine is recommended for adults and adolescents. The CDC recommends that unvaccinated new mothers receive a Tdap shot before being discharged from the hospital to prevent the spread of whooping coughing from mother to infant.

Bordetella pertussis is the specific bacteria responsible for causing whooping cough. It is usually spread when an unvaccinated individual comes in contact with secretions or droplets from a cough or sneeze of an infected person.
