Fall Fair - Horse Show & Races Sept. 19-20

The board of directors of the Donley County Shows met in the office of county agent H. M. Breedlove on Saturday, August 23rd and discussed the horse show, races and fair to be held in Clarendon on the 19th and 20th of September. Breedlove said that all plans were not complete at this time but the committees were working out all of the details.

The fair will feature community exhibits from all over Donley County. The exhibits will be set up by an individual or group of individuals from any one community. The different community booths will show field crops, canned goods and any other things that the community wishes to put on their booth. Prizes will be given for the three first place booths. The booths will be judged by some judge from out of town.

The community booths will be set up on the 18th of September and remain in place until the evening of the 20th. County agent Breedlove will take commodities from the community booths to make up the county exhibit at the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo on the 22nd of September. The prizes and location of the fair exhibits will be announced later as the committees finish the details. This is to give people in the various communities a chance to start thinking about their community booth and plenty of time for planning.

C. L. Lewis, president of the show board is expecting the biggest horse show in the history of the county. Joe McMurtry is chairman of the fall shows and Joe and his committee are working out the different classes to be judged in the horse show. There will be two breeds of horses shown—Thoroughbreds & Quarter horses. They will be judged separately. The horse show is an open show and any one in the United States can show in this show. It is not limited to Donley County.

The horse show will be held the afternoon of the 19th of September at 2:00 p. m. at the roping grounds. An entrance fee of $2.00 per head will be charged for each entry in the show. There will be three placings in each class and prize money will be given for the different placings. The first place winners of each class will compete for the champion of the breed and then the champion Quarter horse will compete with the champion Thoroughbred for the grand champion of the show. The details and prize money will be announced as soon as the committee gives its report. Mr. McMurtry is urging that all persons with horses to show, enter them in the show.

The races are purely for sport and not for gambling. The location for the races will be announced later, but will be held on the afternoon of the 20th at 2:30 p. m. Races are open to all counties in this section. Races will consist of a 220 yd race, 330, 440 and a kid pony race of 220 yds. Children 12 years of age and under are eligible for this race. Match races will be held after the scheduled races are run. Judges for the races are Fontayne Elmore, Rolle Brumley, Pete Kunz and T. L. Roach Jr.

A charge of fifty cents will be made for the horse show and races for all persons over twelve years of age. This money will help to pay the prize money for the entire show. The Clarendon Roping Club will hold a match roping the two nights of the show at the roping grounds. The two days of the fall fair, horse show and races will be packed with excitement, day and night, because there will be plenty for every one to see attending the show. The plans will be completed this Friday at 1 p. m. in Breedlove's office at a joint meeting of all committees. Any one wishing additional information should call by the county agent's office.

City Ordinances Will Be Rigidly Enforced

In conversation with a representative of your Donley County Leader Tuesday, Mayor C. B. Morris and commissioner Pete Kuntz went on record as heartily in favor of the new highway code, and also stated that they, as city officials, would back up the effort to save human life and property by seeing that the city ordinances be enforced to the letter.

Those who have been in the habit of turning around in the middle of the block will have to find a more secluded place to pull such hazardous tactics hereafter. Cutting corners and running red lights will have the attention of Marshall R. T. Brown who has been instructed to see that the law is obeyed.

Backing out from the curb and damaging a passing car will entitle the offender to pay a fine. Look carefully, you reckless folks, before you back out.

Now that school is starting again, hundreds of peaceful mamas and papas will be glad to know that their children will have the protection of the law in going to and from school.

The new state highway code has abundantly taken care of the school bus question. Every safeguard will be placed around the precious freight that will be on the highways each week day.

New Driving Law Will Have Plenty Of Teeth Come September The 5th

Hit and run motorists are in for trouble come September 5th. The new laws taking effect on that date over Texas is patterned after those of 28 other states where such regulations have been most successful.

And remember, that the new state highway traffic code is for your benefit, if you care to travel Texas' most noted highways in safety. For the past few years, taxpayers have been paying for "streaks of death" instead of a luxurious travel-way of which any people might be proud.

Separate penalties have been provided for persons leaving the scene of an accident when there is no personal injury, and those who speed away leaving injured passengers in the other car, or scattered over the country as has been the case many times.

Under the old law, all hit-and-run drivers were guilty of a felony. Often grand juries were slow to indict such persons for a trivial offense when the charge meant a

UTAH HAS ATTRACTIONS FOR LOCAL COUPLE

Returning home from a western trip the last of the week, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Jacobs relate many interesting sights on their trip to visit their son Wm. T. Jacobs and family at Melba, Utah.

They were accompanied by their son D. L. Jacobs and wife and son Donne Jr. of Amarillo.

The trip was made through New Mexico by way of Gallup, thence north to Cortez, Colorado, northwest through Utah to the Colorado river, the highway passing through the only oak grove in all that section and which is found on a hill. Another curiosity near the river is a sandstone butte fashioned in the form of a temple and which may be seen for 40 miles.

From Moab, Utah the party went toward Salt Lake City. Snake river valley had its bees and their products, fine crops grown by irrigation and many wonders.

Some days were spent with the relatives near Melba where the farmers are paid ten cents a pound for corn after it is taken off the cob at the cannery.

The return trip was made back through Wyoming and Colorado going east from Denver and south through Lamar. No accidents marred the pleasure and the folks have much to talk about after this trip to the far west.

All senior high school students are required to bring one dollar to pay library fee upon enrolling.

Have You Any State Fair Souvenirs

Have you any souvenirs from the State Fair of Texas of bygone years? If so, shine them up and get them ready to enter in a souvenir contest to be sponsored this fall at the Fair. Announcement of the contest, as a feature of Souvenir Day, was made Saturday by David A. McMinn, director of special events for the State Fair.

Cash awards and ribbons will be given in three classes of souvenirs—documents, glass and metal, and miscellaneous. Souvenirs must be received by the State Fair not later than Oct. 1. Any person except Fair employees may enter.

First step is to write the State Fair for souvenir entry form. All forms should be returned to the Fair as soon as possible.

Souvenirs may be newspaper clippings, booklets, programs or posters to qualify under the category of documents. Spoons, glasses, jewelry and china come under the heading glass and metal. Handkerchiefs, ballgowns and so forth come under the category of miscellaneous. All souvenirs must bear the words State Fair of Texas and date they were obtained.

Souvenirs will be displayed throughout the Fair in an exhibit in the Hall of State, and returned to their owners after closing date of the Fair, October 19.

J. S. Reynolds Describes Hospital

EDITORS NOTE—The following is a letter received recently by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Reynolds of Lelia Lake from their son J. S. Reynolds, who is located at Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C. He has been in the service nine years. We believe the letter will be of interest to everyone as it gives a very good description of the hospital there.

Washington 12, D. C.
August 11, 1947
Dear Moma and Daddy:
Well at last I will try to write you, you know I just don't write any one.
I have quite a job now am ward master on the Presidents ward. It is new. Was completed in May. I wish that you could see it, there are five bed rooms, one large living room, kitchen and dining room and a sun porch for the President. Everything is just beautiful. There was no expense spared in the construction and furnishing. So you can imagine what it is like. It is for the President, his family and also his cabinet

I have been meeting some very interesting and important people. We have had the secretary to the President as a patient for the last month.
The secretary introduced me to Mr. Truman and had me to show him a picture of Winnie Jo. Mr. Truman wrote "Best Wishes" and signed his signature on the back.
To be of such important people they all seem very nice and friendly. I also have met Mrs. Roosevelt and others.
How is everyone getting along. Write me all the news.
Lots of love your son

Veterans' News

About two out of every three of the 1,825,000 veterans recently enrolled in educational institutions under the GI Bill are taking courses leading to definite job objectives, VA reports.

VA arrived at this conclusion from a sampling of the records of veterans who were enrolled in schools, colleges, universities and other institutions on May 1. Engineering ranked first with 229,000 students, and trade was second with 208,300 students. Third in popularity were commercial courses with 154,000 students. Business administration was fourth with 146,400 students.

Thoes courses which VA considers as not generally falling within a definite job objective classification include liberal arts, physical and natural science, elementary school courses, and others.

Liberal arts course accounted for the largest number of enrollees 392,500 - - - in the latter group.

Veterans enrolled in other courses include: agriculture, 69,518; art, 42,000; education, 56,615; flight training, 81,494; law, 33,233; medicine, 59,316; theology, 8,979; journalism, 10,514; music, 22,338; natural science 45,977; social studies, 35,124.

In 1844 the first telegram was sent over the wires from one city to another. The telegraph line was constructed by Samuel F. B. Morse with funds provided by Congress and amounting to $30,000. The line went from Baltimore, Md. to Washington, D. C. and in 1866 the United States and England began sending messages to each other.

Will you be the GOAT — ten years from now?

Why should you be the goat, and risk your present and future reputation, when it's a demonstrated fact that unless new homes are wired for ELECTRIC RANGES they're not modern now and will be even farther behind the times ten years from now. Survey after survey proves that!

Protect your reputation by building houses that are truly modern. Avoid kick-backs by including wiring for an Electric Range.

An Electric Range requires only: 3-wire service from point of cut-in to the distribution panel; a minimum of two No. 6 wires and one No. 8 wire; a 60-amp. switch with overload protection and a 3-wire circuit from the distribution panel to the range outlet in the kitchen. Make this your minimum wiring specification.

THE TEMPLE OF TRUTH

By the Apostle

Flattery is like tobacco, made to chew but not to swallow.

One of the sad sights is to see a man who is old enough to know better, but doesn't.

Middle age is that period in life when you'd do anything to feel better except to give up what is hurting you.

Juvenile delinquency is when kids begin acting like grown-ups.

No one "goes out on a limb" more often than the weather fore-caster and the foot doctor.

Hastoon Yazzie says "effen a man talks by the yard and thinks by the inch, he aught to be kicked by the foot."

Many a man who makes up his mind to stay in at night finds out that his wife has made up her face to go out.

Discouraged by a clothes cleaner who kept sending some of his clothing back so shrunk and out of shape that he had much trouble in getting them on, a customer finally sent the firm a railroad spike wrapped up in a package with a note that read: "I bet you can't shrink this." In a few days a small package was delivered to the customer. In it he found a carpet tack and a note reading: "The heck we can't!"

Mrs. Jack Brooks, the program leader, introduced Mrs. Jolly Johnson, who presented the program, a one-act play: "Alice's Blue Gown." The members of the cast: Jane Johnson, Sandra Shelton, Pat Estlack, Ann and Jane Thompson, Ladelle and Inelle Cox, Shirley Brumley, and Jack Brooks, Jr., won the audience with their clever portrayals of the roles assigned them. After the play, the same people sang songs of long ago, each appropriately costumed. It was hard to decide which the audience liked best, the play or the old songs—both were well received. The Garden Club hopes to see this group again.

DISCS OVER AMERICA

The most amazing event in history is the appearance of unexplained discs over America. Their explanation is necessary to every Man and Woman in this country.

The amazing explanation involves not only the discs alone—but it answers the greatest and most potent of mysteries.

Why do anthropoid apes sit spellbound before two crossed sticks?

Why do children draw an arc one third of the way up a sheet of paper when confronted with the idea of death?

What is the meaning of the twenty eight fires that struck at the exact center of the American population?

The answer to these questions is the most important information you have ever received. Send one dollar now for your copy of the survey, "Discs Over America". Mail to des Arc Foundation, Lake Forest, Ill. (28-2c)

Cotton Carnival Promises Much Entertainment

Memphis—Still more amusement attractions are being added to the calendar of entertainment here Oct. 3-4 for the First Annual West Texas Cotton, Chemurgic & Ceramics Carnival the "Mardi Gras" of West Texas.

Announcement was made this week that one of the largest rodeos of the region would unfold here Oct. 2-4 in four performances. The contests will be sanctioned and promises to draw the top-ranking hands of the southwest before they move on to Madison Square Gardens and the world championships. The points gained here will apply to those championship scores, according to rodeo producers Ralph and Bill Jones.

From Amarillo will come the famed Maverick Club tumblers and trampoline champions to thrill the spectators with almost unbelievable stunts, according to coaches Ralph Dykeman and Nard Cazell.

Clarendon is preparing an excellent stage production to open festivities here at midnight Oct. 2 and will be seen throughout the following two days and nights many times.

Add these new features to an already crowded menu of wrestling matches, football game, carnival attractions, street dancing, Queen festivities, radio broadcasts, aerial shows, band concerts, speaking by dignitaries of the state and nation, demonstrations of the latest farm implements and machinery, inspection of hundreds of elaborate displays of communities of West Texas, industrial exhibits, National Cotton Council and State Chemurgic presentations and the visitors has a fair idea of what is in store for Carnival guests.

A gigantic parade headed by Gov. Beauford H. Jester and boasting floats, bands, mounted rillers and colorful parade units leads off the Mardi Gras of West Texas festivities on educational programs prepare the visitors for a gala climax.

All agricultural areas of West Texas are invited to exhibit resources and manufactured products at the Carnival. There is no charge for exhibit space.

Every community, civic club or reputable organization or firm in West Texas is invited to sponsor a queen candidate for the occasion. Every single girl 16 years of age or over is eligible for the contest with the exception girls from Memphis. The winner will be known officially as the "Maid of West Texas" and will be given an all-expense-paid vacation trip.

Bands from every city is invited to participate in the first Carnival of its kind aimed at presenting the natural resources of West Texas.

Many cities are hesitating to exhibit because they do not produce cotton, officials of the Carnival said. Cotton is but one phase of the Carnival program. All agricultural products are invited as the Chemurgic division of the festival will appeal to wheat growers, grain growers, dairy men, orchard and truck farmers especially.

"The prime objective of the Carnival," said James F. Smith, general chairman, "is to acquaint the grower and producer with industrial needs and acquaint industry with our products and resources of a brand new Empire for Development."

Many textile firms processors of grain and other food products are exhibiting all phases of their products at the Carnival and have expressed interest in knowing possibilities of this region for future development.

Scores of newspapers and feature services have reserved accommodations for reporters and photographers to cover the occasion and 13 radio stations have announced commentators would be here to broadcast the highlights. Two news reel companies have reserved rooms for their camera men thus insuring all communities represented nationwide publicity.

Memphis residents are throwing open their homes to take care of additional thousands of guests expected for the two day event. Many have made reservations in near by towns and scores of letters have been received inquiring about trailer house space and camping facilities.

Just about two years ago, the war ended—remember? Everyone thought then that there would be plenty of materials and equipment of all kinds available immediately. That hasn't been the case with us. CITY FINANCIAL STATEMENT to March 31, 1947

That you may know in 1944 your tax rate was cut from $1.10 to $1.00. Since that time the City Commission has added three new water wells with connecting lines to reservoir and 4 pumps at a cost of $17,316.00. About 300 new water meters have been bought and installed and most all old meters have been taken out and repaired. As a result of this investment, through these hot summer days Clarendon has had water, for which we are thankful, while some of our neighbor cities have had a water shortage.

Your bonded indebtedness has been reduced from $166,000.00 to $152,000.00, and we have $29,500 in Sinking Fund to be applied when Bonds are payable.

Several hundred feet on new sewer lines has been added and new sewer maintenance equipment has been bought.

The City needs to extend sewer lines in two or three localities, also a new sewer disposal plant is needed. All of the streets of Clarendon need paving, some of them could be helped with more repaving. Our equipment for repairing is worn out and we could not buy new equipment if we had the money, but we are going to do our best with what we have.

Whatever has been accomplished is due, to a large part, because the people of Clarendon have paid their taxes and we sincerely trust that you will continue to cooperate by paying your taxes currently.

Free Cotton Classing And Market News

Free classification of cotton and market news service, provided by the U. S. Department of Agriculture under the Smith-Doxy Act passed by Congress in 1937, is available again this season to cotton farmers who are organized in their community to improve cotton.

In Donley County a county-wide group has made application for the free classing service, and all county gins are cooperating in the program, according to the Cotton Branch office of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, at Altus, Oklahoma. That office reported that last year 82.6 per cent of all cotton produced in the Altus district, consisting of eleven Texas counties and five Oklahoma counties, was classed for groups of this type. Interest this year in the classing program is stronger than ever before, and they are expecting better than 90 per cent of the cotton produced in Donley County to be submitted for classification.

One of the purposes of the free classing and market news program is to give the cotton grower an impartially classed grade and staple on each bale of his cotton, according to Official Cotton Standards, and put him in a better bargaining position when he sells his cotton. This knowledge will also help him to judge what varieties are best adapted to his community and his own farm, will help him check up on the performance of his planting seed, and will show him the effect of good harvesting and ginning practices on the quality of his cotton.

Well, it looks at last like I am going to get a few days vacation after all; maybe I will find a lot of new things to tell you about next week. In the meantime it will be a short trip, and the way I have it figured out it won't cost me much. I am going to try out the fishing spots that are nearby to some of my Mama's kinfolks. If I can get in a pretty good days fishing and then drive a couple of hours, I think I can make several nights lodging. Anyway I am going to try it again. Last year some of their children were taking orders for some kind of salve and I didn't figure I was too much ahead. Some of the better places have already been made by some of the other folks, so I am going to have to be careful and not follow too close in their tracks.

One of my Uncles came by the other day that I hadn't seen in twenty years, and I sure did enjoy seeing him and listening to him talk. He is getting old, and has had a stroke, he can just barely reach to top of a cane when he walks, he is so stooped over. But he would joke about and tell us to give him a little more time to get to the table, and he swears he is coming back and go coyote hunting. I have a weakness for people who can smile and take it when hardluck is dished out to them. He had retired from working for the Santa Fe last month after working forty-two years. Twenty five years ago he was injured seriously while working, and has been a cripple all these years. But, he says they were nice to him and found jobs that he could do all along.

Another time that I visited one of Mama's Uncles he was selling a new-fangled kind of fly-spray, and as you could guess I bought one. It is real good to stand against a door to keep it open, almost as good as a brick. Anyway, I am still going to try a little visiting on my trip. It costs a lot of money to stay in tourist camps and lots of time they cook hot biscuits.

Look in one of the large Farm Magazines that is due in your mail box within the next few days, and you may see our little column in it for the first time. They have so generously consented to try it out and see if the readers like it, and of course that leaves me scared to death almost. Anyway, here's hoping.

Please don't try visiting your kinfolks along the way on your trip, until I get back and let you know how it works. So all you folks down along the rivers of Central Oklahoma and down toward Sulphur be on the look-out for a real hungry Panhandler from the Panhandle.

Highway Patrol Will Be Tough On Reckless Drivers

AUSTIN—Highway patrolmen and other traffic officers are going to get tough with reckless, selfish, careless drivers after Sept. 5th.

Authority for the statement is Homer Garrison, director of the Department of Public Safety.

Sept. 5 is the date the state's new uniform traffic code goes into effect. In that code, Garrison, emphasized, is a reckless driving clause designed particularly for "those persons who think they are the only ones on the road."

"Under the present law a person could drive recklessly without violating some specific law, like speeding, and the police could do nothing with him," Garrison explained. "We used to have a reckless driving law, but it was declared unconstitutional. Now this clause has been revised in the new code. It was put in there especially for the benefit of the 15 per cent of the drivers who cause 85 per cent of the accidents."

"There will be a period of 'gentle enforcement' until persons get used to new provisions of the code," Garrison said, "but there won't be any delay in starting strict enforcement of the reckless driving clause."

Good drivers have nothing to worry about under the new code, Garrison emphasized. "The whole thing is based on good sense and safe driving practices," Garrison declared. "Good drivers have been doing most of the things stipulated in the code for years."

As an example of legal modernization, Garrison cited the 1917 clause that required a motorist to slow at sight of a wagon and team and to stop if the wagon driver threw up his hand.

"Texas horses are about convinced that the automobile is here to stay," Garrison said. "We don't need this old law any more. But we do need one permitting passing on the right on multi-lane thoroughfares, and that's one provision of the code."

The code, passed by the recent Legislature, is patterned after uniform laws in effect in thirty-two other states. One of its chief features is that persons travelling from city to city or from state to state will find traffic laws, signs and signals of the same type.
