DONLEY COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Every farm in the Donley County Soil Conservation District should have a small patch of alfalfa as a part of its conservation program and to strengthen the economy of a well rounded farming enterprise.

Alfalfa is one of the most effective crops known for erosion control. Its extensive and deep root system together with the dense surface cover make the soil porous and able to receive and hold large amounts of water.

This crop will grow under dry land conditions on almost all soil types in the Donley County Soil Conservation District.

Land preparation for alfalfa is not different from that of planting small grain as the land should be plowed to kill weeds and made as smooth as possible. For fall planting on clean land a nurse crop such as sudan, any type of sorghum, or oats should be used to protect the young alfalfa plants from being killed by blowing. These nurse crops will winter kill and leave a non-competitive protective cover on the land through the winter and spring.

Ordinarily it is not advisable to use nurse crops such as wheat or rye as these crops will not winter kill and will offer too much competition to the alfalfa the following spring. An exception to this rule would be when the subsoil moisture at planting time is unusually good or if the land can be irrigated.

Spring plantings of alfalfa are sometimes successful, but generally best results are obtained in the fall as the weed competition is less with the fall planting.

On deep sandy soils it is advisable to plant as soon as possible after the middle of August and not later than the latter part of September unless there is sufficient cover or litter on the ground to prevent blowing. Planting time may be delayed until October if blowing is not a hazard.

Alfalfa may be seeded with a cyclone seeder, drill, or broadcast by hand. Better distribution of the seed can be obtained with a drill.

The seeding rate is 15 to 25 pounds per acre. Texas Common is the variety most widely used in the Donley County S.C.D.

The seed should be inoculated and planted approximately one-half inch deep on a firm seed bed. Additional information on seeding alfalfa may be obtained at the office of the Soil Conservation Service. The District has drills for rent for seeding alfalfa.

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

We have some donations in the form of cash and books. Some one gave us "Bible Stories for Little Folks" by Edna B. Rowe. Mr. Jeorme Stocking gave us "The 1955 National Catholic Almanac." This is the 51st year of its publication. It is compiled by the Franciscan Clerics of Holy Name College. It is very complete in its information.

Another friend, Mrs. Clappitt, gave us five dollars. Now we are financially able to order a magazine for the boys, and to purchase some mending supplies. We shall order some replacement books, some new "Tell-a-Aale" series for little people and some others we have in mind.

All my patrons and I am quite happy over the generosity of our friends. We have received several smaller donations than these mentioned as quite a few over pay their fines due on books.

A notice from "The Extension Loan Library at Austin requires a $10.00 fee for a year's subscription to that library, and postage payment on all packages, fines for over time and payment for loss of material. Or an individual borrower can pay $1.00 per package borrowed, and other expenses.

Mrs. Lee Holland gave us a memorial fee for a book to be dedicated to the memory of her sister. We have ordered "The Prophet", a book which has been suggested on the memorial list mailed from several book shops, and several have inquired here to see if I had it.

Mrs. W. E. Bray of San Antonio wrote me a note that she had subscribed for the Old & New Testament stories that are termed "comics" but are very informative for boys and girls as you know. There are some excellent Classic Comics on the news stands now, and we are gratified to know Mrs. Bray is interested in our Library after being away from here all these years.

VICTORIAN FURNITURE STILL POPULAR—Furniture just like Grandma's is still mighty popular. For example, this Victorian ensemble was extremely popular with retail furniture store buyers at the recent Southwest Furniture Market in Dallas. The sofa and foot stool were mauve Venetian velvet; the tables marble topped. Each year, period furniture retains its popularity despite strong competition from contemporary designs. The pieces shown here were manufactured by the Victorian Furniture Corporation of Montgomery, Ala., and home furnishing experts say their soft lines blend beautifully with the more angular lines of modern furniture.

 General Electric News Bureau
 Hanford Atomic Plant

(The following is the fourth of a series of seven articles disclosing the highlights and sidelights which have accompanied the nation's development of atomic energy. Prepared at the Hanford atomic energy plant, the series deals with the human things which followed in the wake of the first historic announcement that man had harnessed the atom. It touches upon the things which lie ahead.)

Strange and awesome devices are among the tools with which scientists today are probing the mysterious world of the atom. By-products of the atomic age and America's search for nuclear knowledge, many of the new instruments might have been fostered in the mind of Jules Verne or H. G. Wells, and later discarded because they were considered

"too incredible."
 Yet, their collective presence in the laboratories and workshops of American industries and research laboratories eventually may have as profound an effect on the lives of the nation's farmers and city-dwellers as the steam locomotive or the automobile.

The nation's atomic scientists today are employing these hyper-sensitive instruments to explore minute worlds to a degree never before imagined possible.

With the electron microscope used by General Electric company scientists in research work at the Hanford atomic works, for example, particles one ten-millionth of an inch in diameter can be observed.

Viruses and certain molecules became visible under this magnification for the first time in the history of the world, and if you could write letters that small, you could cram 40,000 printings of the Gettysburg Address onto the tip of a human hair. Members of the Biology section of the GE organization operating the Hanford plant for the Atomic Energy Commission use the microscope to observe animal tissues and other materials which have been exposed to radiation.

Seeing to it that Hanford vacuum and gas-filled tubes used in research work are "leak-free" is the job of a mass spectrometer leak detector. The device is so sensitive that if used on a fully inflated passenger automobile tire, it could detect a leak so small that it would require 2000 years for the tire to lose all of its pressure.

Weight-measuring instruments used at the Hanford plutonium-producing plant register weights of particles so small that they are beyond human comprehension. A micro-balance, one of three super-sensitive instruments in use by GE scientists, can measure particles weighing no more than one one-hundred-thousandth of a gram.

There is no place for such a device as this in the butcher shop around the corner, but to the scientist in his laboratory, it is an indispensable tool in his quest for greater knowledge about the amazing world of the atom.

Clarendon F. F. A. Plans Project Farm

The Vocational Agriculture Department of the Clarendon Public Schools in cooperation with the officials of the city of Clarendon, the Donley County Commissioners' court, and the Clarendon Lions Club is planning to set up and operate a small chapter project farm for the use of the students enrolled in Vocational Agriculture in the local schools. The farm will provide space for youths living in Clarendon to carry on agricultural projects under practical conditions.

The city is leasing a small acreage at the sewage plant grounds to the local school system, and the commissioners' court and the Lions Club will assist the F.F.A. members and the public school in preparing the ground for use. The ground will be leveled and will be irrigated with water from the sewage disposal system. Practical proven and experimental projects will be carried on by the students as a part of their agricultural school program. Alfalfa and plots of various types of permanent pasture combinations will make up a major portion of the land usage.

The project will provide facilities for approximately twenty boys, who live in the city limits of Clarendon and have no facilities of their own, to carry on projects in connection with their vocational agriculture work. The work will be started on the project this fall and should be completed during the coming school term.

Opportunity To See Europe While In U. S. Army

The opportunity to see Europe while in the U. S. Army and service with two of the Army's outstanding divisions is coming to a close rapidly as termination date for enlistment with the 11th Airborne and the Third Armored Divisions approaches.

Enlistments for the 11th Airborne must be made by August 23. Closing date for enlistment with the Third Armored is September 2nd.

Under the Army's "Operation Gyroscope," those divisions will be sent to Europe next year for 33 months overseas tour. The divisions know where they are going, how long they will stay, and when they will be coming home. It is the most stabilized tour yet devised by any military service.

Enlistees in the Army may still specify service with the "Gyroscope" divisions and be assured of travel and adventure while in the service. Termination dates for enlistment with these divisions were set in order to allow ample time for new enlistees to complete basic training, advance training, and unit training before going overseas. Ample leave time was also set between training periods.

The Army Recruiting Station, 212 E 7th Ave, Amarillo, Texas will furnish further information on service with the 11th Airborne or the Third Armored Divisions.

Land Grant Colleges Point Out Increased Demand For Ag Workers

Texas A&M College and the other land grant agricultural colleges of the United States has just finished a survey of the agricultural occupations in the United States, and their survey shows that of the sixty-two million employed Americans, twenty five million work somewhere in the field of agriculture. Ten million on farms; six million produce for and service farmers; nine million process and distribute farm products; and a quarter-million scientists directly serve agriculture. Approximately 40 per cent of all jobs are in agriculture.

Agricultural research, agricultural industry, agricultural business, agricultural education, agricultural communications, agricultural conservation, agricultural services, and farmers and ranchers make up the eight major fields of agriculture. There are over 500 distinct technical occupations in the eight major fields. The survey shows that there is a demand for over 15,000 technically trained agricultural college graduates each year at the present time, but that the land grant colleges are graduating only 8,500 students each year in these fields.

The fields of agricultural research and agricultural industry are two of the fastest growing phases of agriculture. Livestock and plant research, dairy manufacturing, the fertilizer industry, and soil conservation are among the more rapidly expanding agricultural industries at this time, but the survey showed a greatly expanding demand also in the public and private service field in agricultural conservation, in agricultural business, and other phases of agricultural industry.

Texas Farmers' Income Shows Increase

AUSTIN — Texas farmers' income has increased, despite a general decline in prices received for farm commodities, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Farm income was up 2 per cent during the first five months of 1955, compared with the same period of 1954, although prices paid to farmers for all products averaged 4 per cent lower this May than in May, 1954. The greatest increase over last year has been in income from cattle, up 4 per cent. At the same time, there was a 15 per cent decline from last year in prices paid for all meat animals.

During May, Texas farmers' income passed the half billion mark, and by the end of the month, the year-to-date total was $555,710,000.

PLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

by Uncle Zeb

We read this someplace; "Any man who would 'Hook' a fish; it would only be natural to assume that he would lie about the size of it."

Some has said; "There are three summer seasons; savings, vacation, broke." As for me you could say; no savings, spent more money, worse broke." Anyway, it's fun to go places and "What is to be, usually happens anyhow."

"Sometimes we go broke rather than break our bad habits."

"It is a lot easier to get folks to admit that something is wrong than to get any of us to do something to make things right."

At this writing it is pretty dry out our way. Always when things get dry and parched someone will think of a story on the drought that by its humor alone will sort of pep us up. I guess the reason our folks have always been able to come through the hard times and the dry times with a smile and tougher and more able to fight the next hardship, has been due largely to this grand sense of humor. The other day we heard the following story about a tourist that stopped at one of our filling stations and asked if it ever rained in these parts; "Yes," said the attendant, "Four years ago it came a pretty good shower out south of town, but I was busy fixing a flat and didn't get to go out and see it."

We don't know who wrote the following little poem, but it seems a good little thought for our scrap books.

I have only just a minute, Only sixty seconds in it, Forced upon me, can't refuse it, Didn't seek it, didn't choose it, But it's up to me to use it, I must suffer if I lose it, Give account if I abuse it, Just a tiny little minute— But eternity is in it.

"Minds are like parachutes; they only function when they are open."

We read the following someplace and it seems so terrible true;

"Wars are fought by boys, suffered by women, paid for by posterity, and usually started by men old enough to know better."

Speaking of wars and world conditions it seems that this bowing and scraping and putting out the sweet talk could be overdone with the Russians. Seems like over the last few dozens of years our love affairs with the Old Countries has read sort of like a modern day divorce court. Day before yesterday we love the Russians and to make them feel good we help them take a helping of Korea; say down to the 38th line. "Just help yo' self Ole Pal, and we'll have influence in the South Part. It didn't work out so well. Now we love 'em again, we wonder - - -

The Ferris eighth annual reunion was held August 6 and 7th at Pecan Springs near Lawton, Okla.

Those attending were: A. L. Ferris of San Bernardino, Calif.; Bob Ferris, Tularosa, N. Mex.; Judge and Mrs. Weldon Ferris, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cornelius, Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Cornelius, Ronnie and Jan, all of Altus, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Worth, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gleghorn of Eulless, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Arnett and Charles, Mr. James Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Smith, Leland and Michael all of Dallas; Mrs. A. C. Carter of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Huffman, Mansfield, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woolly and Teresa, Okmulgee, Okla.; Harry O. Thorne, Norwick, Kansas; L. Robert Stevenson, Wichita, Kan.; Mrs. James Riggs and Lynn, Tip-ton, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Pounds, Bob and Joyce, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Anderson, Janay and David, all of Grand Prairie, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Pounds and Jerrie of Berger, Texas; Mr. Wilson Cornelius, Jerry, Merrel and Derrel of Oklahoma City; Mr. and Mrs. Denver Ferris, Mrs. Emma Waldrop, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Waldrop, Austin Waldrop all of Headrick, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Covalt, Tommie, Paula and Patricia of Pampa, Texas; and from Clarendon—just Mrs. T. Jones and Miss Cora Ferris as Mrs. A. F. Sprinkles couldn't be there this year, which she and everyone regretted, as she was one of the best when it comes to camp cooking. Others from Michigan and Arizona also were unable to attend. However, we had several new ones added to our ranks.

After the usual greetings, some went sightseeing on Mt. Scott, viewing Lake Lucerne and other scenes. While some of the men and boys played dominoes and pitched washers, others helped with the cooking, keeping the fires going and the 3 gallon coffee pot filled and refilled. We were a little handicapped in that we failed this time to secure the huge table. But everyone enjoyed the meals anyway. The evening was spent in relating the events of special interest since our last get-together, that is by the elder women. Games and story telling were also a part of the evening.

Then on Sunday at daybreak while breakfast was being prepared, a bunch including Mrs. T. Jones, drove over the reservation to see the buffalo, deer, and turkey, also Texas Longhorn cattle. Mrs. Jones still gets a thrill seeing the wild life. She, as well as the rest of us, was ready to eat when we got back to camp.

When it came time for Sunday School three car loads of us went to the Assembly of God Church at Cache, where we have gone the past 7 re-unions. That group seemed to look forward to our coming. We certainly enjoyed the sweet fellowship in Sunday school. The presence of the Lord was so keenly felt. Around the noon hour, cars kept returning with youngsters with monstrous appetites ready for the last meal which was enjoyed by all. Soon afterward cars began to leave for different homes. All 80 present had a wonderful time and look forward (Lord willing) to our next year's reunion.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT
By Congressman Walter Rogers

On the morning of August 1st, the President's office was the scene of quite a gathering—one that almost ended in a verbal free-for-all. All of us Members who are interested in cotton production and manufacturing went to the White House to request the President to do something about the continuing loss of our foreign cotton markets. The President was standing behind his desk flanked by his Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Benson, and an Assistant Secretary, Mr. James McConnell. We Members of the House and Members of the Senate were gathered in a semi-circle around the desk. The problem was presented to the President on the basis that several countries had devalued their own currency and were thereby enabled to get some of our cotton customers without interfering with the world price. There has been a running fight between the Department of Agriculture and several Members of Congress because Mr. Benson refused to put any of our surpluses on the world market. Many argue that this country cannot dump surpluses on the world market without breaking the world price. However, the Department of Agriculture recently undertook to move some of the surpluses into the world market. The State Department vigorously protested and the cotton surplus problem was again at a standstill. This is not the first time the State Department has interfered in efforts to dispose of some of our surpluses. Some people contend that the withholding of our surplus cotton from the world market is like holding a golden umbrella over that market while we continue to build up surpluses and cut down acreage.

The President seemed to be deeply interested in the problem as presented and was making some very appropriate remarks. The general conversation had been along the lines of protecting our own foreign customers and trying to gradually reduce our surpluses. The meeting was about to close when one Member of Congress spoke up and told the President that he did not agree with anything that had been said about putting part of our surpluses on the world market. He contended that all of the Senators and Members of the House who were supporting such a program were wrong, including the former Secretary of Agriculture, Senator Clint Anderson. This looked like the beginning of the verbal free-for-all, but the President immediately observed that the office was not a debate forum and that he felt he had a pretty good picture of the problem. Everyone left quietly.

It is a tough problem and one that is going to have to be settled at White House level. Many of the countries who are benefitting from the firm world market price are also receiving foreign aid from this country. This means that they are getting both direct and indirect foreign aid, because the surplus cotton in this country is withheld from the world market and must be purchased by Uncle Sam and held in storage. This costs money and brings criticism on the farmers which is not justified.

Congress Finally Adjourned
The hectic final weeks of Congress which had turned into the hectic final days which had turned into hectic final hours turned into hectic final minutes. At 11:36 p. m., August 2, Speaker Sam Rayburn, on the motion of the Honorable Charles Boyle, Democrat of Illinois, declared the House of Representatives of the United States of America adjourned sine die. The last few hours were a wait and see process. What the Senate would do with the several bills that had been stamped essential was not known. If they turned down the conference reports, it would mean another day and, perhaps, another week. However, agreements were finally reached and the business of the Session was wound up. As the Session closed the rumor became spread that a special session was in the very near future. The President was not pleased with the action of the Congress on the road bill nor was he pleased by the housing bill that passed. The big issue, as I pointed out before, was public housing. The House did not want public housing. The President and the Senate were both for public housing. The compromise was in the nature of an authority to construct 45 thousand units in one year. The President had indicated that the least he would take would be 70 thousand for 2 years. The Senate had voted 135 thousand. However, it is my prediction that there will be no special session. The President can have the housing issue thoroughly argued in the early days of the next session and can have whatever action is necessary debated on a road bill. There is much to be done concerning a road bill, and the several months during this fall should be devoted to working out kinks in this particular.

So we're slicing a melon with you in the form of an all-out trade-in allowance—a profit-sharing bonus deal that beats even the big trades we've been giving all year. After all, we've gone way beyond our expected volume—and can now afford to stretch our trade-in allowances to practically our break-even point.

And that puts you more easily than ever before in the driver's seat of the hottest-selling Buick in history...

The Buick with the boldest, freshest styling of the times—with the snap and ginger of record-high V8 power—with the level buoyancy of the all-coil-spring ride—and with the electrifying performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflow,* world's first and only transmission using the switch-pitch principle of the modern plane's propeller.

Better come in and visit us tomorrow—today, if you can—and see for yourself that the thrill and the buy and the deal of the year is Buick, hands down.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year is Buick—

Biggest-selling Buick in History! (So we're trading high, wide—and then some!)

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Whether Texas school laws have been nullified is under a statewide advisory committee's study.

Gov. Allan Snavers outlined major desegregation problems at the committee's initial meeting last week. Although he denounced the US Supreme Court decree, he said the answer was not in defiance. He recommended adjustment in the best interest of Texas school children.

Shivers said an El Paso district court decision ordering desegregation at Texas Western College may necessitate rewriting the Gilmer-Aiken laws. School money now is allocated on the basis of separate, but equal, facilities for white and colored.

Bi-racial, the group includes 34 community leaders appointed by the governor and eight legislators named by the house speaker and lieutenant governor.

Will Morris Crews, San Antonio lawyer and contractor, was named to head a 12-member executive committee. A legal subcommittee will study legislative needs.

Areas of study suggested by the governor:

1. What to do about present compulsory attendance and compulsory segregation laws.
2. Whether either white or colored children can be forced to attend a certain school, or integrate, against their will.
3. Ways and means of giving maximum authority to local school districts.

Polio Vaccine Allocated

Children under 10 and expectant mothers have won priority recognition for Texas' supply of commercial Salk vaccine.

Such preference was recommended by the State Polio Vaccine Committee. Dr. Henry Holte, state health commissioner, called the group to decide how the 36,540 vaccine doses released to Texas should be used.

Recommended use was split, 83 per cent commercially, 17 per cent by public agencies.

Agencies were asked to order through retail outlets, not from manufacturers. Doctors were urged to keep accurate records.

Nationally, it had been suggested preference be given children 5 to 9. Basis for the change in Texas was records showing 44 per cent of paralytic polio last year hit children under 5.

Though the state vaccine committee has no official authority, it anticipated no difficulty in getting cooperation. Its nine members represent top officials and leaders in the medical, pharmaceutical and osteopathic professions.

Senterfitt Chooses Chairman

Reuben Senterfitt last week announced that a fellow San Saban, Kelly Owen, will direct his campaign for governor.

Owen will have his first political experience when Senterfitt's 22-member steering committee meets in Austin August 17.

Leasing Program Clean

Multi-million dollar public school land leasing operations apparently are not involved in Texas' land scandal.

State Land Commissioner J. Earl Rudder testified last week he had found no evidence of school land irregularities.

Rudder's testimony was in the wind-up of a court of inquiry. Begun in April, it was conducted by the Attorney General's Department.

Emphasis has been on land office activities other than the veterans program. Multiple investigations in the latter area resulted in 319 indictments and conviction of Former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles.

Rudder said he still is sending files of questionable veterans land transactions to district attorneys.

Other witnesses told of land in Mexico traded under the veterans program, and of questionable block deals in Maverick County.

Investigation of these stories was begun immediately by the Attorney General's Department.

Water Mobilization Urged

Mobilization in a "battle for survival" against water shortage is urged by State Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo.

Hardeman heads the Texas Water Resources Committee which met last week to review water conservation action by the recent legislature.

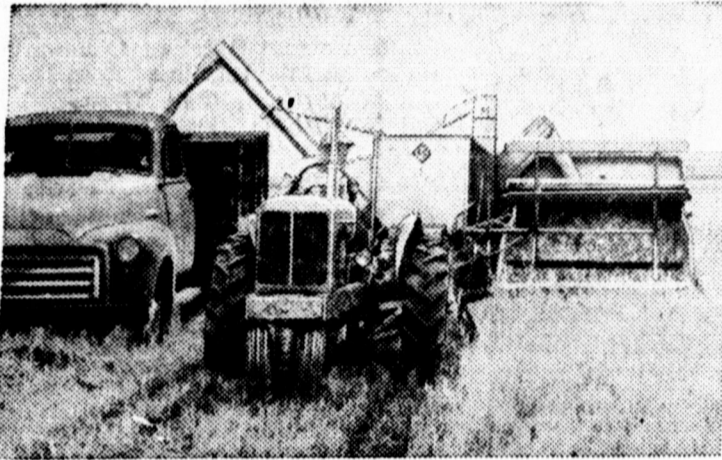

He recommended farm and business interests and local leaders organize to make Texans water conscious.

Recommendations for future government action will be in the committee's biannual report September 1st.
