

County Petitions For Federal Aid On Five Major Road Projects

Major projects for Brown county, to be financed by Federal aid provided under the National Recovery Act, are sought in a project surveys forwarded to the Texas Rehabilitation and Commission by County Judge Courtney Gray this week. Application for the state agency is sought, and upon its being obtained, the petitions will be forwarded to Washington for final approval or rejection.

The surveys call for the construction of new highways in Brown county. One of them is a direct grant of funds for construction, while another is a loan for lateral road construction. The projects for which Federal aid is sought are: a $22,900 project for graveling lateral roads in Brown county. This project calls for getting all county roads in condition. A $100,000 project for road into Bangs. This project calls for the construction of a road from a point on Highway 10, through the business district, back across the tracks and with the highway. A $100,000 project for skirting Lake Brown. This project calls for the construction of a road from a point on Highway 10, through the business district, back across the tracks and with the highway. George Kidd New Postmaster Here

Word was received from Washington this week that George Kidd, former banker and business man, had been appointed Brownwood postmaster. He succeeds J. D. Stewart, whose term expired Monday, June 19. Mr. Kidd had not received notification of his appointment Thursday, and it is not known what date he will take office.

Burleson Heads Association Of Clerks In State

The County and District Clerk's Association, in convention last week in San Angelo, elected W. E. Burleson, county clerk of Brown county, president of the association. Mr. Burleson has served as an officer of the state association for a number of years, having been secretary-treasurer, and vice president at various times. Hart McCormick, district clerk of Bexar county, is the retiring president of the association.

League To Have Barbecue At Lake Friday

The first of a series of meetings of the local chapter, Isaac Walton League, at Lake Brownwood will be held Friday afternoon, June 23, following a barbecue. Various ideas for stocking the lake with game fish will be discussed at the meeting. Will J. Tucker of Austin, executive secretary of the state game, fish and oyster commission, will attend the barbecue and will be the principal speaker at the meeting. Mr. Tucker will arrive in Brownwood about noon Friday, and will be taken for a boat ride over the lake during the afternoon. Other sportsmen from this section, including officials of the state hatchery at Cisco, members of the board of directors of the Water Improvement district, members of the commissioners court and city council, will be guests of the Isaac Walton League at the banquet.

Gangsters' Weapons Dumped Into Sea Government Announces Cotton Acreage Reduction Plan Through Leasing Of 10,000,000 Acres of the 1933 Crop

These guns will give the cops no more trouble. Part of the huge collection of firearms confiscated by New York police during the past year, they were taken 50 miles to sea and dumped into Davey Jones' locker. Two officers are shown aboard the municipal tug Macom ready for the burial.

Government Announces Cotton Acreage Reduction Plan Through Leasing Of 10,000,000 Acres of the 1933 Crop

Cotton farmers will be given an opportunity next week to approve one of President Roosevelt's major economic recovery projects, the cotton acreage reduction schedule of the department of agriculture. Absence of definite information as to the mechanics of putting into operation Secretary Wallace's 'cotton week' beginning June 26 left Brown county cotton farmers somewhat confused this week as to method of procedure, although there was some endorsement of the scheme as a whole. The secretary of agriculture Monday announced his plan, calling for the leasing of up to 10,000,000 acres of cotton—contingent upon the willingness of Southern cotton farmers to cooperate in the program.

Cotton producers will be asked to sign contracts offering to lease a definite amount of their acreage to the secretary. The program is contingent upon securing voluntarily enough acreage to put two million bales of the 1933 crop out of production, based on an average yield throughout the South of one-third bale an acre, and six million acres has been set as a minimum before the plan will be put in operation.

Julian Malone Is Seriously Burned

Julian Malone, 1490 Cottage Street, who was severely burned Friday, June 16, when a gasoline engine exploded, remained in a critical condition Thursday at the Medical Arts hospital, where he was taken following the accident. The hospital reported that improvement was only slight, and that he was not out of danger. Mr. Malone with Norman Robertson, 16, was working on a gasoline engine located in a well from which water was pumped to irrigate his truck farm. The engine backfired and the accumulation of gas fumes caused an explosion. He was burned about the face and body. Robertson was painfully burned but is recovering nicely.

Local Postage Cut to 2 Cents After July 1st

Local postage rates will be reduced July 1 from 3 cents to 2 cents for letters, according to announcement of S. W. Pouns, assistant postmaster of the Brownwood postoffice. The reduction does not affect postage on letter mail originating here for addresses other than Brownwood. The reduction will apply to all rural routes out of the local postoffice, however. All letters addressed to Brownwood or Brownwood route addresses will need only 2 cents postage.

BROWN COUNTY WOMEN PLAN TO ATTEND SHORT COURSE

Reduced railroad rates to College Station, and minimum expenses at the College while there make it possible for a large number of farmers from Brown county to attend the annual short course to be held at the College, beginning July 24, and already extensive plans have been made for entertainment of the expected influx of men, women and children from Texas farms.

The cost of attending from Brown county has been reduced to a minimum this year, the total cost for the entire trip, including room and meals at the College, being only $10.30. This is divided as follows: Round trip to College Station, $5.30; room for one week, $1.25; meals for one week, $3.75. This figure may be shaved a bit by groups going together in automobiles.

The twenty women's clubs of Brown county are planning to send twenty official representatives to the short course this year. Miss Malone said. Each club plans to raise $10.30 to defray the entire expenses of its representative, who will be selected by the club. Already the clubs at Cross Cut, Byrds, Brooksmith and Zephyr have raised funds for their representatives. Others have partially completed the work of raising funds.

Recently Austin Mill & Elevator Company offered four trips to the short course as prizes in clothing and bedroom contests in Brown county. Those winning the trips cheese, cottage cheese, Bulgarian such dairy products as cheddar in these contests are: Mrs. Roy Matthews, Bangs; Mrs. Harry Gann, Byrds; Mrs. G. G. Goss, Union Grove and Miss Marie Griffin, May. The first three were winners in clothing contests, and Miss Griffin won the clothing contest award, which was made last week. Judging having been done by Mrs. Jennie Camp, district agent. A preliminary announcement from A. & M. College regarding the short course says: There will be more of doing and less of listening at the A. and M. College Course for farm and ranch folks the week of July 24th than at any of the previous 23 "farmers' short courses held on the A. and M. campus. There will be more action and less sitting still, more demonstrations and fewer lectures, more initiation into the tricks of many rural trades and not so much of theory, however practical that theory has been in the past. It will be, in short, an extension short course.

That describes in brief what visitors may expect when they gather at A. and M. late in July. Programs are more completely worked out at this stage of the preparations than they have been for several years, making it possible to give in this article a fairly complete picture of exactly what the short course offers this time.

General Scheme Explained Before plunging into those details a person should get in mind the general scheme. Chapel every morning from about 8 to 9 will pack into one hour the general inspirational and informational lectures that have previously occupied almost the entire forenoon. From 9:30 to 12 each morning are scheduled subject matter talks and discussions in a wide variety of rural fields, including home making, dairying, poultry raising, livestock production, farm crops, farm engineering and fruit and truck raising. These correspond to the afternoon programs of previous years, and are designed to aid visitors to grasp the fundamentals of production and management, and to prepare them for the "doing" work of the afternoons. After lunch, and lasting until nearly supper time, visitors will engage in making things or in doing things of a practical nature such as home dairy manufacture, meat cutting and curing, tanning hides, grading cotton, making syrup, making grape juice, picking and boning chickens, learning trench silo construction, controlling pests, making rugs, dyeing lamb skins, standardization of food products, grading fruit and truck products, installing garden sub-irrigation system—to mention only part. In addition to this, more intensive work is offered those who wish to go into more detail in several lines. These are courses in doing things rather than courses in the academic sense. Featuring these are tanning of hides and making leather products (all day every day); sorgo syrup making (every afternoon); killing, cutting and curing meat (all day every day); making grape juice (every day); cotton management from growing to marketing (every afternoon); home manufacture of buttermilk, chocolate milk, butter,

WELFARE BOARD FOR COUNTY IS CHOSEN

W. O. Armstrong, Chester Harrison, E. M. Davis, W. Lee Watson and P. S. Abney were named this week as a County Board of Welfare and Employment. This is in line with the recent request of Lawrence Westbrook, director of the Texas Rehabilitation and Relief Commission that such a board be named for Brown county.

GRAIN PRICES UP WITH SALES LIGHT

With grain prices up a few cents over last week's quotation, local grain buyers reported little is being offered on the Brownwood market. No. 1 milling wheat advanced to 65 cents from 60 cents quoted last week by local buyers. Durum was up to 60 cents, over 55 cents last week. No. 2 Barley was up 2 cents to 31 and No. 2 Milo was quoted Thursday at 95 cents as compared with 90 cents last week.

About Ourselves

The new owners of the BAN-NER-BULLETIN appreciate, more than words can express, the kind reception given them by many citizens of Brownwood and Brown County. It is indeed gratifying, upon moving to a new community and entering upon a new work, to receive such a warm welcome. In return for the expressions of confidence and good wishes, we have but one pledge to make: to endeavor, with every ability we have, to keep the weekly up to its standard of the past fifty years, and to improve it from time to time as the opportunity offers and the patronage may justify.

Selection of Brownwood and Brown County as a place to live and a field into which to enter the weekly newspaper publishing business did not come hastily. More than a year was spent in visiting Texas cities and towns, carefully checking business conditions and publishing opportunities, talking to farmers, merchants and business men. And the conclusion reached was that Brownwood and Brown County offered, in the publication of an independent weekly newspaper, entirely separated from the daily newspaper, and the operation in connection with it of a first class commercial printing plant, offered the best opportunity for service together with the necessary return on the heavy investment, to be found in the state today. Conditions we have found since the purchase of this property are bearing out these conclusions.

The new editor was born and lived many years in Brownwood, and has unbounded faith in Brownwood and Brown County, acquired through acquaintance with a large number of the fine citizenry of this section; a faith which is extended to every member of the new organization.

While we have certain rather definite ideas, as everyone should have about his own business, as to the publication of a weekly newspaper, we are anxious at all times to produce as nearly as possible a newspaper that meets the ideals of the readers. For that reason we are anxious to get acquainted with as many of the people of Brown County as possible, and to have their ideas and suggestions about the newspaper.

Perhaps you received a copy of the BANNER-BULLETIN last week, and may also get this week's paper with our compliments. If so, please regard that as an invitation to come in and subscribe for the paper, so that you may get it regularly. The price is a little less than two cents a week, and we believe that if you will read the advertisements in this week's paper carefully and need any of the many items advertised, you will save enough to pay for the paper by patronizing our advertisers. By buying some of the bargains advertised, you could save enough to pay for the BANNER-BULLETIN for many years. But whether you want to subscribe or not, whether you want any printing or not, come in and let's get acquainted.
We are going to be as friendly as you will let us.

So much, with modest apologies, about ourselves. The rest of our time and space will be devoted to telling about other people and events—and about what the merchants of Brownwood have to offer.
We hope you will read and enjoy every issue.

Business Recovery

Next in importance to rising commodity prices, or possibly a companion movement to it, is the recovery of business and industry.
The congress just adjourned, in giving the President almost unlimited authority over business, passed the new industrial recovery act, and Hugh S. Johnson has been appointed its administrator.

Few economists have been able to explain clearly the provisions of the new legislation to the satisfaction of business men, but B. C.
Forbes, financial writer for a number of newspapers, in a copyrighted article gives his opinion of its most important provisions. As Mr.
Forbes sees it, the program of Director Johnson in the main provides:

Wage rates must be increased wherever feasible at the earliest possible moment.

Instead of employing partial forces full time, each and every plant enjoying expanding business must take on additional employees.

He has leaned towards a 30-hour week as a maximum, but pressure is being brought to bear upon him to raise that limit—to as high as 36 hours.

He is hopeful that at least 4-000,000 workers now idle will be absorbed between now and the end of this year.

He wants each industry to organize itself without loss of time, either through its existing trade association or by initiating cooperation for the purpose of formulating "fair trade practices."

One of the objectives must be to stop ruinous price-cutting and to establish a level of prices which will permit the paying of decent wages.

Raising wages is regarded as more urgent than resuming dividends, although the earning of profits is also viewed as highly desirable.

Once the majority of operators in any industry agree upon a code, scant leniency will be extended to trouble-makers, be they price-cutters or offenders in other directions.

A hands-off policy will be followed wherever an industry demonstrates that it is capable of setting its house in order and being up to the fundamental principles of the "new deal."

Reader Interest and Advertising

Advertising has always been closely linked with reader interest. There has never been, and there never will be for any great length of time, much interest shown in a mere presentation of business news, where there is an absence of other news. That is why the best newspapers have always been regarded by successful business men as the best advertising medium, and the only ones that can be relied upon for permanent use and results.

The poster and the business circular or letter may have a certain temporary and occasional value in soliciting trade, but are in no degree comparable with the newspaper that readers are anxious to get to find the news or the features they desire to read. With every one the reader interest is primary and the advertising secondary.

That is why newspapers everywhere are consistently used by merchants to carry their business messages. Experience has taught them the value of the news medium as a publication in which to make their business announcements. The novelty of any other kind of presentation of advertising is soon lost, but the live local newspaper is new with every issue and is sought by readers who are interested in its contents.

The Weekly Newspaper Field

The weekly newspaper always will have a warm place in the hearts of the people. But to hold that place it is necessary for the editor to keep in mind the fact that he is editing a weekly paper for readers of a weekly paper and not an imitation of a daily paper made up of hastily selected items from the dailies.

This is not intended as a criticism of the former publishers of the BANNER-BULLETIN, although that is what they have been doing, and what publishers of other Texas dailies papers who issue weekly editions have been doing for years. The result in practicality every case has been that the weekly papers made up from the dailies have been allowed to suffer both in contents and in business.

There has been mighty little inducement for people to subscribe for a weekly repetition of daily news—in most cases word for word and line for line from the daily paper, without even the trouble of rewriting it. Publishers of dailies papers are finding this out, and that doubtless was the reason that prompted the owners of the Daily Bulletin to sell the BAN-NER-BULLETIN. That is why the present owners of the BANNER-BULLETIN bought it. They believe that newspaper readers of this county, and of the city as well, want a weekly newspaper in no way connected with or made up from a daily paper.

The present owners of the BAN-NER-BULLETIN are not going to try to compete with the daily papers. They have a field of their own, just as there is a different and even wider field for the weekly. If the publishers get out the kind of a paper that its weekly readers want there is not a daily paper in the state that can compete with it. That is what the publishers are going to try their best to do—publish a paper readers want and need regardless of how many daily papers they may take.

There is a big field here for just such a paper and plenty of people who want that kind of a paper. While it will seek the city circulation it can get, the BAN-NER-BULLETIN is going to make a special appeal to country readers by printing things that specially interest them. Not that country people differ from city folks, for we are all made of the same kind of clay, but they have many interests that are different from those of the town people and especially do they have different reader viewpoints.

The editorial aim of the BAN-NER-BULLETIN, under its new management, will be to try to unite the country people of the Brownwood territory a bit closer to the Brownwood folks and to Brownwood trade, and at the same time to get the business concerns of Brownwood to see how closely their success is bound in with that of the success of the farmers, the stockmen, the oil industry, the schools, the churches and the institutions of the entire surrounding territory.

No people are "sufficient unto themselves." We are all—in town and country alike—buyers and sellers of produce and merchandise.
Wherever we may live we are dependent upon our neighbors for our success, and the wider we extend our neighborhood in the matter of buying and selling the greater will be our success.

But there is more to life than mere traffic in goods, however necessary that may be. Brownwood has been built up largely, and Brown County has acquired a reputation for, community friendliness and good feeling. The wider that feeling is extended the better it will be for all of us. The glad hand should be reached out as far as possible.

Many Thanks!

From the Brady Standard: Announcement is made of the sale by the Mayes Printing Company of the Weekly Banner-Bulletin of Brownwood, and which publication has been acquired by the Brownwood Publishing Company, Inc. Incorporators of the new company are Wendell Mayes and John Blake. Mr. Mayes, son of Will H. Mayes, former Brownwood publisher, will serve as editor, while Mr. Blake, a San Antonio business man, will be business manager.

The Weekly Banner-Bulletin rates as one of the oldest publications in this section, it having been established more than 50 years ago. In selling the weekly publication, the Mayes Printing Company also included their commercial printing plant, severing all connection with the same, in order to concentrate all their efforts upon the daily publication.

It is a safe guess that the new arrangement will be of mutual advantage and benefit, and no less to the publishers than to the Brownwood public. Almost invariably the weekly edition of a daily newspaper is treated as a ill-favored step-son—its interests neglected in the rush to make the daily paramount. Yet the weekly publication has a field to serve, and which it can truly supply only by the publishers giving their full time and attention to the publication's interests.

Our best wishes to the new publishers and their half century-old publication. We shall look for marked improvement, both in the patronage and in the service performed by the same—and we know we shall not be disappointed. And, too, the daily Brownwood Bulletin, good as it has been and ably as it has served its community all these years, is certain now to be better and to serve more ably than ever.

TEXAS FARM NEWS

BEEVILLE—C. E. Hall of Bee-ville shipped out the last load of calves he had on feed April 22.
They sold for $5.35 per 100 pounds on the Fort Worth market. The cost of feeding 74 head of calves was $1011.49. The income from the 74 head was $2365.37 leaving $1353.88 to be charged for the calves. This is a selling price for the calves at the time they went in the food lot of $18.30 per calf.
The average weight was 507.5 pounds. This would be an average of $3.61 per 100 pounds. The calves weighed out of the feed lot with an average of 881.6 pounds.
The shrink on this load was 4.6 per cent.—J. P. Ferguson, agent.

GONZALES—H. F. Wagoner of the Belmont community in Gonzales county planting alfalfa for the first time this year has spread the gospel to others in that community that alfalfa can be raised in that section. Mr. Wagoner planted his alfalfa in November, grazed it some during the winter, and his first cutting April 24 yielded him 1 1/2 tons per acre of pea green alfalfa. A little field meeting was all that was necessary to set additional demonstrations for 1934 in that section. Talking was not necessary—the alfalfa spoke for itself.—J. M. Saunders.

KENEDY—Harvesting around 100 bushels of radishes per acre on 125 acres of land three Karnes county farmers netted an average of about $10 per acre as their share of the proceeds of the crop for the use of their land for a period of two months. The crop was grown under contract whereby the growers received 10 cents per bushel for all the radishes harvested, the contractor standing all the expense of seeding, harvesting, and marketing.—H. C. Robinson.

ALICE—"Improved pasture and silage have increased production and lowered the cost of production of butterfat, which is more essential now than ever before since I have been dairying. I have tried dairying without improved pasture and silage and since I have added these to my dairy program, it is hard for me to understand how I stayed in the dairy business as long as I did without improved pasture and ensilage for my dairy cows," declares Otto Goldapp of It is said that surplus milk has been poured on the ground on many a Palo Pinto county farm this spring, and that perfectly good butter made well-nigh worthless by low prices has been made into soap on some farms. These practices have stopped on 800 farms where the home demonstration agent reports the housewives successfully making cheese out of surplus milk.

ty agent, Travis Spurlock started a calf weighing 295 pounds and costing $20 last August, put on in March at 850 pounds for six cents per pound. The return on labor and investment was $18.25.

The ration consisted of barley, kafir, corn, grain sorghum bind-les, cottonseed meal and molasses.
Mary Zimmer made a net

DICKINSON—Permanent pastures have been proving their worth in Galveston county during has given him more than twice as much grazing as native pasture and that he is sure his dalls, carpet and Bermuda grasses will hold on until it rains. A cultivation last winter brought good spring results, he reports, and alternate grazing has enabled the clovers to reseed.

QUITMAN—Protection from one rain in preventing washing of land and destruction of crop stands would easily pay the 50 cents per acre it cost to terrace 55 acres on the farm of Harvey Brewer, Oak Grove community, Wood county, according to the man who farms the land. One rain last July washed some of the middles out knee deep, he states. The terraces were built under County Agent J. W.
McGown's direction by plowing them up three times, 24 feet wide, with a 12 inch turning plow. It took one man and team six days to do the work.

HASKELL—An average saving of $11.47 per farm by killing off the rats was reported by 51 of the 228 farms in Haskell county who cooperated recently with Joe Williams, county agent, in the use of red squill powder as a rat exterminator. A total of 3039 rats was killed by these men in this way.
It was estimated that 97,300 lbs. of feed were saved, and 2640 baby chicks. Feed was valued at $5.00 per ton and chicks at 10 cents each.

HOW MUCH WILL IT MAKE?

Table Gives Amount of Canned Goods to Be Derived from Available Raw Materials.

Interest in home canning has been heightened during the past few years due to the increased necessity for economy.

Many housewives are dubious as to whether they would be able to save money by canning their own fruits and vegetables.

The following table has been prepared for the benefit of those women who cannot decide whether it is cheaper "to can or not to can":

Table with 3 columns: Product, Measure, Yield Canned (Approx.). Rows include Asparagus, Beans, Beets, Carrots, Cherries, Corn, Peaches, Pears, Plums, Spinach, Strawberries, Tomatoes.

With the aid of this table, all you have to do is get the price of the materials needed and compare it with the price of the goods already canned.

Some women have the idea that fruit which is rather green and hard will become ripe and mellow after it has been canned for some time.

If you do decide to can this summer, make it a pleasure instead of a drudgery.

Mrs. Green and daughter, Glee, of Bethel spent last Thursday week here with Mr. and Mrs. Alford Routh.

Mrs. J. L. Karr of Brownwood has bought the J. M. Ethridge place in this community.

THE RECREATIONAL SCHOOL

A Report of the Four-day Session in Brownwood BY JUANITA CHAILLETTE Indian 4-H Club Reporter

Monday morning, May 29, we headed our cars toward Brownwood and the Memorial Hall, arriving there about 10 o'clock.

The morning session which consisted of two hours, was spent getting acquainted, and the beginning of our four days of songs and games. After an hour for lunch we began our afternoon session from one o'clock until three.

Mr. Knapp demonstrated the use of make-up, and the way to use it, choosing a girl from our group to make up. His make-up kit consisted of Max Factor's products.

After the demonstration we went on the floor for a series of games which were to be played throughout the school sessions.

Tuesday morning was spent in the making up of an eighteen year old boy to an elderly man of seventy or eighty years.

Games and songs were practiced and played. The new game learned that morning was the Tantal, which was very attractive and which seemed to make a big hit with the younger girls.
