Dank cave draws crowd

LONDON — Sitting alone in a cold, damp British cave miles from anywhere may seem like the job from hell, but more than 100 candidates — some from as far afield as Poland and Pakistan — have applied for just such a post.

Stately home Shugborough in Staffordshire, central England, is sifting through applications for the job of "hermit in residence" and will appoint the successful candidate next month.

"A whole range of people have expressed an interest, from office workers to a Tibetan monk," organizer Corinne Caddy told Reuters news service recently. She said most of the applicants were from Britain, with a few from as far afield as Pakistan and Poland.

"Our hermit will have to live as near as possible the life of an 18th-century hermit," Caddy said.

In the 18th century, members of the landed gentry considered it the height of fashion to have a hermit living on their country estates. Usually given a five-year contract, hermits were often very well-paid.

The Shugborough hermit, however, will receive only a "small stipend" but he won't have to be deprived of modern amenities for too long — the post is a temporary one.

West Nile confirmed at Clovis

JOURNAL STAFF REPORT
West Nile virus, the mosquito-borne illness that has spread across Texas this summer, was confirmed in a Curry County last week, health officials have announced.

The virus also was confirmed in a Tucumcari horse that died the previous week.

These were the first two confirmed cases in New Mexico.

Several human fatalities in Louisiana have been attributed to West Nile virus, although officials say that most people would experience only flu-like symptoms if infected.

The Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta have said that less than 1 percent of the people infected will become seriously ill.

The only effective spray mosquito repellants are those containing DEET, health officials have said.

A vaccine — administered in two shots from three to six weeks apart — is being given by veterinarians to horses in the Muleshoe. Immunity is not established immediately, officials say.

Sudan to fund program again

JOURNAL STAFF REPORT
Muleshoe and several other area school districts will continue for another year to receive funds from the Sudan district under the state's "Robin Hood" funding formula.

Muleshoe Superintendent Gene Sheets has pointed out that the agreement does not represent an increase in funding for Muleshoe, since money coming from the state is reduced by whatever amount comes directly from Sudan.

The Sudan money operates the "distant learning laboratory" — the interactive television that not only allows districts to share classes with each other but to receive dual-credit classes from South Plains College.

The Robin Hood formula requires districts with the highest assessed property values per student to share funds with other districts.

Sudan has the option to send its money to the state or to the regional service center but opts to share it directly with other area schools, Sheets said.

"Essentially, this is just an agreement between Sudan and several school districts to share some of Sudan's property wealth," Sheets said Friday.

This semester, he said, Muleshoe is utilizing dual-credit algebra from South Plains and sending out a dual-credit English class.

In agreements of this kind, the state requires the "partner district" (in this case Muleshoe) to use the money for participation in a technology consortium.

Adrian, Watlington marry in candlelight event

Christian DeAnne Adrian and Matthew Ray Watlington were married in a candlelight ceremony Aug. 3 at Richland Hills Baptist Church in Muleshoe. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Don Ross, uncle of the groom from Leddy, Okla.

The bride is the daughter of Lonnie and Hellen Adrian of Muleshoe.

The groom is the son of Sandra Blankenship of Gruver and Larry Don Watlington of Colorado City, Texas.

Theron Eubanks of Muleshoe served as honorary grandmother for the bride. The groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ross of Gruver, and the his great-aunt, Maxine Ragsdale of Muleshoe, also attended.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in a gown she designed. It was of white heavy brushed satin and featured princess seams that flared into a full-length A-line skirt.

Pearl spaghetti straps supported the bodice, which was edged in pearls and encrusted with embroidered designs. It was accented with seed pearls and sequins.

A row of tiny buttons lined the closure in the back, stopping at the waist.

The train flared from the waist, opening to reveal re-embroidered lace filled with seed pearls and sequins. The gown was sown by the bride's mother.

The bridal bouquet was of fresh purple roses and baby's breath.

Gradee Adrian, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Lela Hancock and Megan Tipps. They wore gowns of deep purple brushed satin, featuring princess seams and spaghetti straps. They carried bouquets of purple roses.

Bridesman was Tim Harendt, cousin of the bride from Lubbock. He wore a tuxedo and reflected the purple of the bridesmaid's dresses in his tie.

Rachel Wilhite, cousin of the bride, was the candlelighter. Flower girls Lauren Pingel and Jodi Pingel, cousins of the groom from Amarillo, were pulled to the altar in a decorated red wagon by ringbearer Beau Blankenship, brother of the groom.

The flower girls wore matching dresses that featured bodices of purple satin and skirts of white Miramist over taffeta. The ringbearer wore a tuxedo with tails. The ring pillow held the original wedding bands of the bride's maternal grandparents.

The groom's father served as best man. Groomsmen included Josh Mayhew, Kyle McNett and Cody Cazares, all of Gruver.

Registering guests were Valetha Eaton of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Emily Shirley of San Angelo, the bride's roommates. Travis Tunnell, Tyler Harendt (the bride's cousin) and Dustin Ross (the groom's cousin) seated guests.

The couple left the church for the reception at the bride's parents' home in a white horse-drawn carriage decorated with purple roses.

Eaton served the bride's cake, The strawberry cake was multi-level, reflecting the idea of a waterfall. It was decorated with sugar flowers in shades of purple, violet and mauve. Johnnie Batty of Lazbudie, longtime friend and mentor to the bride, created the cake.

Shirley served the groom's red-velvet cake, which was designed in the shape of a mountain, complete with rock climber and bear. The bride created the cake for the groom, an avid climber.

Janna Skaggs of Muleshoe served punch. The hors d'oeuvre table featured an array of delicacies prepared by the bride's aunt, Mary Allison of Gainsville, Texas.

After a trip to the mountains of New Mexico, the couple live in Denver, where they attend college.

Do You Ever Experience Pronoun Problems?

Sometimes I'm prone to pronoun problems.

For a while now, I've been honored to be the announcer for Toni & Kenneth King's Silent Witness Christian mime ministry. I love what they do, and I am continually amazed at both its beauty, and its emotional impact. But I've never put on mime makeup and become a mime myself. (Well, neither has Kenneth, but he's a vital part of the ministry, and I'm just an announcer.) Even when, a while back, they started miming some of the songs with me singing accompanied by tracks behind them at various churches and performances. I still announce, and do I say "us" or "them"? Well, they've told me, it's "us"! And I'm honored and thankful. (I still haven't painted my face white. That's not in the job description.)

Focus On Faith
Curtis Shelburne

I got a letter recently from the national political party to which I most closely subscribe. I've never voted a straight party ticket, but on almost all elections and issues, I get very close to it. But I got this "survey" letter that makes me wonder if they think I'm an idiot. (The other party, by the way, sends out letters of the same ilk.) They ask some good questions about some real issues. They ask some questions worded so that your answer, if you're at all in their camp, would surely be obvious. And they ask a few questions so utterly partisan and skewed that no real survey-taker in the world, would ever ask such a question. Something like, "Check Yes or No: I would love to see the other party prosper and our whole nation go to Hades in a handbasket," followed by, "I will enclose a generous donation to make sure the above-mentioned calamity doesn't happen."

Now, I am not at all enamored with the other party. Far from it. But letters like this make me think that both parties count all of us as deadheaded dunces. Obviously, they are fundraising letters, not surveys. Both parties need funds. Fine, but here's the point: letters like that give me more pronoun problems. For me, is that party "us" or "them"? I certainly tend toward "us," but "surveys" like that make it harder, not easier, for me to know.

And here's another pronoun pickle, and this one's a puppy! Well, actually a huge black Great Dane. Is he, to borrow from the old movie, yours, mine, or ours? My oldest college son paid for him and kept him until he (my son) got a landlord with some sense. Then, if possession, and feeding, is nine-tenths of the law, the dog became ours. And then when #1 son and #3 son rented a house where Zeke could possibly move back in with his actual owner, and I felt an irrational sense of relief when that didn't happen supposedly because of a weak fence, well, that argues, I am deeply afraid, that he's becoming "mine."

Pronoun problems. I'm thankful that through Christ God calls all of His people "MINE" with no hesitance at all.

Curtis Shelburne is minister of the 16th & D Church of Christ in Muleshoe.

This is a dramatized version of facts taken from the Book of Genesis intending to show some of the customs of these ancient and traditional times

A BRIDE FOR ISAAC
 ELIEZER, ABRAHAM'S STEWARD HAVING REACHED THE LAND OF HIS MASTER'S BIRTH, THE LAND OF THE CHALDEES, IS NOW READY TO SEEK A WIFE FOR ISAAC, ABRAHAM'S SON...

...IT HAS BEEN A LONG, DRY, JOURNEY AND WATER IS THE FIRST CONCERN, FOR BOTH MAN AND BEAST...

YONDER IS THE TOWN WELL!

...THE CARAVAN HALTS AT THE WELL OUTSIDE OF THE CITY OF NAHOR....

...LORD, I AWAIT AT THE WELL... SOON, MAIDENS OF THE CITY WILL COME TO DRAW WATER... LET IT BE A SIGN THAT THE DAMSEL WHO GIVES ME WATER, AND MY CAMELS ALSO BE THE ONE THOU HAST ALREADY APPOINTED AS ISAAC'S WIFE!

ELIEZER AND HIS PARTY WAIT WITH PATIENCE FOR THE WOMEN TO COME AND DRAW THE EVENING WATER, FOR IT IS STRICT ETIQUETTE OF THESE ANCIENT DAYS THAT A STRANGER NEVER TAKES WATER FROM A WELL THAT DOES NOT BELONG TO HIM, BUT WAITS UNTIL IT IS OFFERED TO HIM AND HIS ANIMALS!
