A truck-auto collision Sunday afternoon at 2:30 resulted in death to Mrs. Will D. Wyatt, 39, and her nineteen-months old daughter, Ann Ola, and serious injuries to Mr. Wyatt. The accident occurred seven miles east of Brownwood on the Zephyr highway.

Ernest Watts, Abilene, driver of the truck, who was uninjured, perfected $2,500 bond and was released from Brown county jail Tuesday afternoon. The week of May 14-21 has been designated as National Tire Safety Week, and is being observed in all parts of the country.

To D. C. Pratt, manager of Safety Tire & Battery Company, local dealer for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, however, National Tire Safety Week merely focuses national attention on something he has been preaching day in and day out throughout the year.

PEEP SHOW
—For Ladies Only—
BY MIGNON

Such writing pals that I call mine
Such clever pens and quips
Such ohh—la las for girl friends
And boy friends who are pips.
I owe them all the greatest debt
For pinch hitting for me
I wish I could have taken them
To Washington's D. C.

It's the truth, I went off gallivanting as happy and care free as a lark feeling sure all these grand columnist friends of mine would do a swell job of pinch hitting. And did they? . . . In capital letters.
There was first all . . . that feminine Will Rogers, Helen McMahan, who deserves a gold plated harp strung with strings from a Persian Kitty . . . There Douglas Meador . . . who has been responsible for most of my poetry of the last many months . . . whose lariat of stinging words roped my heart entirely and keeps it corralled along with his other mavericks . . . Then that dainty and airy bit of fluff Mary Elaine who can think of the cleverest doodads I ever read and her one time boss and my old time friend Marry Jolly who knocks a home run every time he's called to bat . . . There's my singing hand master whom we all know as Dusty . . . No dust lay on his pen, if you ask me, when it came to doing a stint for a country gal gone to town. There's Alta Heacock who has ever been a bright and shining light in the writing world and yet takes time out of her too busy world to put in a wedge for me every time she has chance. There's Juanita Thrower who must be busier than Dr. Dafoe on the night the quints were born and yet she writes so beautifully and inspiringly that we all wanted to hold our chins up and realize what beauty was still in this old world after reading her stint. There's Moody Wallace who stopped putting his home town on the map long enough to add his clever bit for a meandering pal . . . They're all swell folks . . . I'm glad my friends who read this column got to know them . . . You'll be seeing them in headlines some of these days . . . My greatest thanks however and my lasting gratitude goes to Dr. Winnie Sanzer of Oklahoma City for making the trip possible. There's a pal for you, a trail mate you'd love to take with you when you go over Doug Meador's Trail Dust . . . Could I close this paragraph of my gratitude without mentioning that little half pint side kick of mine whose desk backs mine, Lois Ferris? That's why she's almost a runt, having to do my chores and her's too. Then she has to act like the mamma . . . the bill payer outer, the clothes layer-inner and I'm afraid she has to look after pappa . . . But shucks . . . I can trust her . . . she's known him too long.

Where will I start
What will I say
To tell you all?
For every day
Was filled with fun
And swell surprise
For I stepped out
With high-toned guys.

There was Dr. Homer S. House and his beautiful song writing wife to entertain us in their cultured home. To introduce us to all the literati of that part of Maryland. There was one Louis Goodyear and Dr. Susan Harmon . . . they stick out in my mind as real folks. But of course all of Dr. House's friends would be. There was Bob and Joy Farrington and their young daughter June, who simply backed their ears and showed us the city, the surrounding history making country and the sweetest time one could ever imagine. They were home folks and didn't even act embarrassed though I slipped around zig-zaggy over all those marble floors . . . gaped at the gold domes . . . awed and aghast at all the beauty and grandeur of our National capitol. It is the capitol of the world . . . At last I found out that D. C. means Dear Country, and you feel it every minute you are there. It is ours . . . even the poorest of us feel a perfect right there for it is for us, the people.

Perhaps the most outstanding thing in my mind is the first glimpse of the Lincoln Memorial. We had driven around the cherry blossom basin. Just as the lights came on in the city we stopped. There in his great chair of marble sat Mr. Lincoln . . . On his face was that look of tender compassion. . . framed in the reflection pool just in front of this was the Washington Memorial and just back of that, on direct line, was the white dome of the capitol. The cherry blossoms were reflected as the frame for this unusual picture in the reflection pool . . . The Father of our country . . . the savior of our country and the perpetual going forward of our country . . . I was blinded by quick tears. I was weak from the beauty of this scene, and it was but one of the many wonders of our City Beautiful.

I listened to Congress
Sat with our Sam
Saw Jack Garner
Meek as a lamb.
I dined at the White House
Supped with Josh Lee
Rode on the tram
In the big Teepee.
I teared with my friends
I lunched every day
In the loveliest places
The usual way.
I felt proud and happy
Threw out my chest
For the sweetest folks there
Are all from the west.

Yes siree . . . our western folks make them all sit up and listen out there at the white house . . . I was proud as a peacock to claim the most outstanding statesmen as my particular friends. The Massingales have made an enviable place for themselves there . . . The Jed Johnsons were swell and all the delegation from Oklahoma made me feel they were glad I came. I met that Maurey Maverick and his pretty little wife from Texas too . . .

I found all of my boy friends with open arms . . . that is, their arms were under glass . . . out at Mr. Hoover's G-Men Headquarters . . . There was Pretty Boy who lead the line of famous Oklahomans . . . There were all the artillery of Bonnie Parker and Clyde Barrow—Whewee—

I cannot close my Peep Show I've much, too much to tell I met that sweet voiced Ted Malone Who made me feel like—Well Just how his voice affects you There ain't no one can say But when he called my name right out

It was my gladdest day.
Shhhh I must tell you this secret. I was trying to be so ctyified. I'd watched how everybody else acted and tried my best, but murder will out . . . Right on my place card the evening of the biggest banquet when Carrie Jacob Bond was there and Ted and all the other notables this is what my place card said:
Vera Holding, fresh from the hills
A country gal, plum fulla thrills.
Bye . . . It's great to be HOME.

Goodyear Dealers Visit Factory

AKRON, Ohio—Visiting the Goodyear factory this month was the group of veteran Goodyear tire dealers from Texas, as is shown in the accompanying photograph.
Though these dealers have for the most part sold Goodyear tires for a good many years, this is the first time they had all been together and they chose for their meeting place the Goodyear factory at Akron.
In the group were: J. R. (Cowboy) Kendrick, proprietor of Kendrick's Super Service, Waco, Texas, who has been a Goodyear dealer for the past eleven years. In February of the current year, Kendrick launched a remodeling program for his station, in which he sells gasoline, oil, and tires; and does tire repairing, battery and storage work.
Henry C. Ragsdale of the Ragsdale Auto Company, San Angelo, Texas, has been a Goodyear dealer for 21 years. This trip to Akron was the first one he had made in 21 years. Mr. Ragsdale, who is known throughout the west as a prominent worker in Boy Scout organizations, was recently given the "Silver Beaver" award, highest recommendation in scouting. The Ragsdale Auto Company sells tires and batteries, and employs a personnel of seventeen.
E. J. Headlee, another of the dealer visitors, operates two stores, one at Denton and one at Breckenridge, Texas. He is assisted by his son, E. Deats Headlee, who operates the Breckenridge store. Mr. Headlee is active in civic work and is currently president of the Chamber of Commerce. His son, likewise, is active in civic affairs. The Headlee Tire Company, a super service station, has been in operation four years dispensing automotive service and selling Goodyear tires with a personnel of seventeen.
D. C. Pratt, proprietor of the Safety Tire Company, Brownwood, Texas, has been selling Goodyear tires for eleven years in his community. He is also a civic figure and enjoys a wide acquaintance in the area. In addition to tires, he sells Goodyear batteries. His staff of sales and service help totals six.
Paul Rogers, who operates the Rogers Tire Store at Henderson, Texas, employs three people to dispense tire and battery service, and has been a Goodyear dealer for nine years. He started with a very small capital. Through good management, his business has expanded in this eastern Texas oil field area until it is one of the larger truck tire outlets in this territory.
The Stephenson Tire & Battery Company in Gainesville, Texas was established by and has been in operation by George W. Stephenson for the past eleven years, as a Goodyear tire and battery dealer. A feature of the Stephenson business is its electrical ignition repair department, which enjoys a wide reputation in that section. The firm employs five persons. Its slogan, personalizing the activities of George W. Stephenson is, "Let George do it."

W. R. MURPHY MAKES STATEMENT IN RACE FOR REPRESENTATIVE

I submit my name for nomination on the Democratic ticket for State Representative from the Brown and Coleman County District. I feel that I am fully qualified to perform the duties required for this important office.
I am capable and willing to cooperate with the other members of the legislature and the governor, if elected, in order to avoid discord and waste of time and the people's money. With this cooperation more can be done for the interest of the people with less expense to them.
I am a young man seeking to serve the people of West Texas with their interest at heart. If elected, I promise to give you an honest and faithful service. I promise to be a true representative of West Texas and the people whom it comprises. If elected, I promise to let the wishes and policies of our two counties be my guide in all matters concerning them and others.
My mother and father are long time residents of Brownwood. I was born and reared in Brownwood having attended the public schools and Daniel Baker College in that city, where I took an active part in debating and other oratorical works.
I have always worked for everything that I have ever had or attained. I intend to continue doing this because I know nothing else. At the age of six years I began selling papers on the streets. I continued in one capacity or another with the Brownwood Bulletin for ten years. I attended school all the while and laid a foundation for a business experience in my spare time. I made many friends in this work whom I hope to have support me in my campaign. I was engaged in other business in Brownwood until about two years ago when I moved to Coleman to make my home. I am married to a fine Coleman girl who comes from one of Coleman's oldest families. I have bought a home in Coleman and expect to live here and raise my family.

This is my first time to ever ask for a public office and ask that you give a young man who is anxious for a chance to serve to show his ability. I have no one to whom I owe political favors nor political enemies whom I must combat. None of my family has ever been in a public office nor been connected in any way with politics, even through business that needed political support. Our government is only as good as its politics. My background shows the kind of man you will have if you see fit to elect me to this office.
I intend to make an active campaign and meet as many of my friends as possible. If I do not contact you personally ask my friends (Pol. Adv.)

The MARCH OF TIME

A BANNER Feature by the Editors of TIME, The Weekly Newsmagazine

Optimistic attitude of speakers before the annual convention of the Texas Bankers Association in Fort Worth this week is but a reflection of the favorable condition of Texas business as compared with other sections of the United States, and should be encouraging to Texas business. In spite of the business recession, which is felt in Texas as in other sections, this part of the country is in much better financial condition than any other part of the nation at this time.

We Have Been Favored

The strong financial condition, which has been so persistent during the past few years as to become typical of Texas, is not due to better business judgment on the part of Texas business men, nor is it entirely traceable to good agricultural conditions, though this latter factor is a contributing item. Major reason for Texas' continued prosperity and financial advantage over industrial centers of the East and agricultural regions of the Middle West is the important role played by petroleum in Texas commercial life. There is no phase of business or domestic life at the present time that is not influenced by the big oil business. That Texas should control the major producing fields is a fortunate accident, but it is a matter of record, and a factor which has kept this State in a comparatively secure financial position for many years.

It is hard to conceive of the difficulties which this State would be in at the present time were it not for petroleum. In the first place, this liquid gold is the only source of support for a very large percentage of our six million people. In addition, royalties and other direct oil incomes have been of great assistance to countless individuals within the State. The oil industry has brought to Texas much of its increased population during the past two decades. But even more important at the present time, oil furnishes the major source of tax revenue to the State and to many counties and cities. It has spelled the difference between solvency and bankruptcy to governmental agencies as well as individuals. Were it not for the oil revenue received by Texas, it would be impossible for this State to finance the heavy social security program, the important highway building program or to manage for increased revenues for our schools. Petroleum is the beneficent uncle to us all, whether we own oil wells or not.

Another warning issued by speakers at the bankers convention should be of interest. The government, it was pointed out with emphasis and in truth, cannot continue forever the present policy of furnishing employment to all who cannot find work. As Zeta Gossett, State Banking Commissioner, pointed out, there must come a time when individual initiative must be restored in some manner, so that the individual will look to himself rather than to his government for his living. There can be no quarrel with the Administration for its efforts to relieve unemployment and to give a boost to those of us who were hardest hit by the depression. It was logical and the only course to pursue. But it is inconceivable that such a program can be made a permanent government function.

It is hardly possible, and very likely of little value, to attempt to analyze from this distance the primary election of the Keystone State, but results in the Pennsylvania voting of Tuesday cannot fail to be of interest throughout the Nation. In the first place, the election is of great interest to Democrats everywhere, for Pennsylvania today is rated as a Democratic State for the first time since the Civil War. Naturally Democrats rather hope the present happy situation might be made permanent.

The Pennsylvania Vote

Democrats everywhere, for Pennsylvania today is rated as a Democratic State for the first time since the Civil War. Naturally Democrats rather hope the present happy situation might be made permanent.

But of more interest was the result, in that the endorsement of James A. Farley, chairman of the National Democratic Executive Committee, was not of sufficient strength to swing the Democratic votes to Lieutenant Governor Thomas A. Kennedy, gubernatorial candidate who also had the endorsement and active support of John Lewis and the CIO. Mr. Kennedy is secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America. Mr. Lewis, major labor organization. His opposition in Pennsylvania was furnished by the regular Democratic organization, headed by Governor Earle, who won the nomination for United States Senator.

In view of the John Lewis endorsement, the defeat of the Kennedy ticket cannot be taken entirely as a defeat for the Roosevelt organization, in spite of the unusual interest shown in the race by Mr. Farley. The vote comes too soon after the Florida election, in which Senator Pepper, the Roosevelt candidate, won an easy victory. There probably was too much Lewis, rather than too much Farley, in the minds of the Pennsylvania voters.

Of course, Texans wonder if Mr. Farley's last minute entry into this race, and the interest shown in the Florida race is any indication that the National organization will take any part in the Texas primaries in July. Were Pennsylvania alone involved, the question would be easily answered in the negative, but the Florida activity might indicate interest in Southern elections, and Karl Crowley's presence in the Texas governor's race may be a threat of National interference in the purely local race. But in Florida a vote in the United States Senate, which Mr. Roosevelt may need sorely during the coming two years, was involved, and such is not the case in Texas. The chances are that no one outside the State will show great interest in who is elected in Texas this summer.

Be that as it may, the final advent of warm weather gives rise to the observation that Pennsylvania and Florida voters and candidates have an easier time than their Texas counterparts. There occurs to us no logical reason why Texas elections are held in the hottest part of the summer. Why can the primaries not be held in April or May, as in other states, and thus give the candidates and the voters an opportunity to avoid the sweltering Texas sun, which always shines brighter on election day?

Efforts of Mills and Hamilton counties to secure a highway from Hamilton to Zephyr should meet with endorsement from Brownwood and Brown county, despite the fact the highway does not penetrate this county to any great extent. Completed, it will be one of the most important highways of which the county can boast.

There has been a great need for a highway into Hamilton for a long time. The proposed road will give quick access between the two county seats, and will open up a rich important farming and ranch country which has been without adequate highways for many years. The highway, primarily important to Hamilton and Mills counties, is of almost equal value to this county, due to the close relationship between the territory to be served and Brownwood, and the possibilities for profitable business and social relationship which will be afforded.

Fishing ...

WASHINGTON — While the Navy's new light cruiser "Philadelphia" cruised 2,744 miles to the Caribbean and back, U. S. citizens last week read of the numerous trawling companies, top snappers and mackerel which her No. 1 Passenger-Engineer Franklin Roosevelt caught. The President's 20-lb. barracuda, biggest of 60 fish landed by Franklin Roosevelt's party on the last day of the cruise, was easily the U. S. fish of the week. Runner-up was 18-lb. barracuda caught by White House Executive Clerk Radolph Forster.

Greeted on his return to Charleston by an enthusiastic crowd, the President noted with pleasure that the historic old Hartford, about which he had complained eight days before, had already had two coats of paint. Back in Washington next day, he conferred at the White House with John Garner, Alton Barkley, Sam Rayburn, and William Bankhead.

Congressional Week ...

WASHINGTON—The Senate last week unanimously approved the compromise bill drastically modifying the corporate surplus-profits tax and substituting flat rates for the graduated capital gains tax; passed the $1,156,000,000 bill to expand and rearm the naval forces; sent to conference a bill authorizing addition of 24 judges to each of five Circuit Courts of Appeals, the District of Columbia Court of Appeals and the D. C. District Court; passed and sent to the President a bill authorizing the Interior Department to distribute power from Fort Peck (Mont.) Dam.

The House meanwhile discharged the Rules Committee from consideration of the Wages-and-Hours Bill; raised to $184,000,000 the $250,000,000 authorization for Federal highway aid in 1940-41 recommended by the President.

Rowboat ...

BOSTON, Massachusetts — The $1,156,000,000 Navy Expansion Bill authorizes construction of 3 battleships, 2 aircraft carriers, 9 light cruisers, 23 destroyers, 9 submarines, 25 auxiliaries and 950 airplanes. While the Senate was passing this Bill last week, the Boston Navy Yard was forced to default a rowing race against the U. S. Coast Guard in Boston Harbor because the Navy had no rowboat.

History Lesson ...

WASHINGTON—While Secretary of State Cordell Hull was last week as usual, doing his best to avoid stirring up needless international and internal bickering of any sort, Secretary of War Harry Hines Woodring addressed the Chamber of Commerce of the United States assembled in Washington for its 25th annual convention, gave his view on National Defense: "There seems to be no question that the Japanese occupation of Manchuria in 1931 was the beginning of a chain of events that led directly to much of the present difficulty in which the world finds itself. Four years later Germany announced its adoption of rearmament and conscription in violation of the treaty of Versailles, and the next year came the occupation of the Rhineland. "In the same year with German conscription the Italian attack upon Ethiopia, which was adjudged by the League of Nations a violation of the League Covenant which Italy had signed. This was followed by armed intervention in the civil war in Spain, and finally by the Japanese invasion of China. "At present, the democracies are strongly pacifistic. They have not always been so. If pressed too far a wave of indignation might sweep over them that would make it extremely difficult to keep the peace. It is essential that continued aggression stop before things get out of hand ..."

All this was well-known modern history, but not the sort of thing the Cabinet officers of one nation say about another. The reaction, as expected was brief and bitter. Said a Foreign Office spokesman for Japan: "Reservable." Said the semi-official German "Deutsche Diplomatisch-Politische Korrespondenz": "The German nation does not want lessons from any quarter on the subject of national freedom, self-determination and its best interests." Wrote Mussolini's spokesman, Virginia Gayda, in "Giornale Italia": "We should like to believe his words were never uttered, but if they are authentic they constitute a new and exceptional document of provocation by the United States against Italy."

Lost Optimism ... TOKYO, Japan — Warning the Japanese people to "prepare for possible extreme personal financial sacrifices," Foreign Minister Koki Hirota in Tokyo last week declared that "no optimistic view of the future is warranted." Vice Admiral Kiyoshi Hasekawa, returning from China, tersely remarked: "The war is only half over," and Premier Prince Konoye partly invoked the bitterly opposed National Mobilization Act, providing for immediate mobilization of Japanese man power and resources, which was passed in Mech on the promise that it would be implemented only in case of emergency.

Although there was no clear-cut Chinese victory in the field last week, Chinese forces gave indication of unprecedented, co-ordinated military action in a series of minor successes throughout virtually the entire war area. The main battle of the war was still being fought near Suchow, from 15 to 20 miles north of the east end of the important Lanchow Railway. Into a small area about 650,000 Chinese soldiers were concentrated for an offensive, opposed by 100,000 well-trained, well-armed Japanese troops.

Godfather ... BRUSSELS—Belgium's handsome young adventurer Leopold III, who figured in the scenes of certain statesmen anxious for a union of Belgium and The Netherlands, eager to promote it by securing the marriage of His Majesty and Her Royal Highness Crown Princess Juliana of The Netherlands, neither Leopold nor Juliana saw the matter in this light, but they are on the best of terms, and last week His Majesty accepted the invitation of Her Royal Highness to act as a godfather at the christening of her first child, Princess Beatrix, in The Hague.

Christian Sunday? ... SPRINGFIELD, Vermont — Rev. Lawrence Larrowe of Springfield pulled on hip boots a fortnight ago and, along with his younger son, took over 600 acres of waste land in the interior of England, converted it into a mammoth garage and storehouse for His Majesty's mechanized troops at home and overseas. By last week this central depot was sufficient to develop for the 25th annual convention, gave his view on National Defense:

Army's Garage ...

LONDON—Two years ago Britain's Royal Army Ordnance Corps took over 600 acres of waste land in the interior of England, converted it into a mammoth garage and storehouse for His Majesty's mechanized troops at home and overseas. By last week this central depot was sufficient to develop for the 25th annual convention, gave his view on National Defense:

Under huge sheds, one of them spread over eleven acres, some 1,600 army and civilian employes bustle about buying, inspecting, testing, maintaining and repairing

Hole-Filler ...

HANKOW, China — Japanese bombs have been making holes in Chinese air fields in Hankow at a cost of $2,000 each, and last week a wrinkled little Chinese offered airport officials the service of a "machine that would fill up the holes cheap. His machine: shovels, picks, brooms, wheelbarrows, 5,000 coolies. His fee: 65c a hole.

Speaker Sally ... CAMBRIDGE, Massachusetts — Fan & Bubble Dancer Sally Rand flew to Cambridge last week to address a Harvard freshmen smoker. At the dorm students gave her a gay greeting. "Thank you for your speech," she advised them to face "brave new frontiers." "What's your phone number?" cried the freshmen. "Possibly," said Miss Rand, "you could save this country's democracy by doing something in labor and politics." "Where's your fan?" cried the freshmen. When it was all over, Miss Rand admitted that "it was a very novel experience."

Partisan ...

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio — Mrs. Julia Fitzgerald of Chillicothe, an applicant for U. S. citizenship papers, last week was asked: "In a republican form of government, how is the Constitution changed?" Replied she: "By the Democrats."

Tipsy Drivers ...

CHICAGO—Two Midwestern surveys on drinking drivers were issued last week. Records of 190 Evanston hospitals showed that of 300 drivers who had been in wrecks, causing injury, 24 per cent were intoxicated (at least one part alcohol to 1,000 parts blood. A survey of

News from the Farm Clubs

May 11, D. Club

The club met Thursday, May 12, in basement of church. Mrs. Will Vanderveer and Lillian Vanderveer serving as hostesses.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. H. M. McDaniel. The president gave report of the "Yard Tour", May 11, in Brown county. The following ladies made the trip: Mrs. H. M. McDaniel, Mayfield Gibbs, Mrs. Faye Dewbre, Mrs. C. B. Nickols and Norma Petty.

Miss Malone demonstrated Angel food cake and hot milk sponge cake. After the cakes were baked she demonstrated the different styles of table service.

The recipe for HOT SPONGE Cake is as follows: 1 cup of sifted flour, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 6 tablespoons hot milk, 3 eggs, 1 cup sugar.

Sift flour once and measure it, add baking powder and sift three times. Beat eggs until very light and nearly white (10 minutes) add sugar gradually, beating constantly. Add lemon juice, fold in flour, a small amount at a time, until all is added. Add milk, mixing quickly, until batter is smooth. Turn at once in greased tube cake pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F) 35 minutes, or until done. Remove from oven, and invert pan for one hour or until cold, or bake in a very lightly greased pan 8x3x2 inches (350 degrees F) about 25 minutes. Sift powder sugar over top. Cut in squares. The pan may be lined with wax paper.

The following day the writer baked one and had excellent results. Later refreshments were served to thirty-one ladies by the hostesses.

Indian Creek H. D. Club

"Angel food and sponge cakes" was the topic of Miss Mayes Malone, home demonstration agent, in her talk at a meeting of the Indian Creek Home Demonstration club, held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Olson, May 13, 1938.

In making angel food cakes measure the egg whites. They should be Northwestern University's Traffic Safety Institute showed that of 2,000 drivers examined, only 42 per cent were intoxicated. Comparison of the two figures demonstrated the extent to which alcohol is a factor in traffic accidents.

Method of Northwestern's survey was to stop drivers at selected points on the streets, ask them to blow up small balloons. The breath-filled balloon was then tested for alcohol on a "drunkometer" developed by Indiana University Medical School's Dr. R. N. Harger. One driver was willing but too drunk, huffed and puffed on the balloon but could not fill it. Helplessly he turned to his wife and said: "Honey, you finish it."

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS WILL-HAYES AUSTIN TEXAS

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Hayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. What descendants of Moses Austin are seeking to have his body reburied in Texas and his grave properly marked?

A. His only living great-grandchildren have asked that his remains be removed to the Texas State Cemetery. These are: Guy M. Bryan, Jr., Mrs. A. A. Moore, Mrs. Hallie Bryan Perry, all of Houston, H. A. Perry of Angleton, and Charles B. Perry of Park, Arizona.

Q. What special and unusual privileges does San Felipe have as a municipality?

A. Under the 1824 act of the provincial government of Mexico, San Felipe has an aldermanic government composed of a mayor, a secretary and eight councilmen, empowered to buy and sell public lands; has no city taxes, and all public lands remain unfenced and may be used for free grazing, free water, free wood, free fishing, free pecans, and has other special privileges open to all bona fide citizens.

Q. What is the size of the municipality of San Felipe?

A. The original site covered four leagues (nearly 29,000 acres), but there are now less than 3,900 acres of public land remaining.

Q. How long was Texas united with New Leon as a state?

A. On Jan. 21, 1823, the Mexican Congress created the state composed of Nuevo Leon, Coahuila and Texas. Nuevo Leon was detached and made a separate state, May 7, 1824.

Q. Who compose the Volunteer Forest Fireguard of Texas?

A. It is a volunteer organization of east Texas forest-land owners and renters, formed in December, 1935, to prevent and fight forest fires. It had reached a membership of approximately 2,000 at the end of the first year.

Q. What unique company of forest-fire conservationists has been organized in eastern Texas?

A. In Shelby County the lumberjacks (forest and mill laborers), realizing that continuation of their daily employment depends on timber conservation, have organized a "Timber Council" to interest farmers in growing timber as a crop, to protect and conserve forest values and perpetuate them for future generations. The council's motto is "Protect the young, conserve the old."

Q. How many times and when did the United States make overtures for the purchase of Texas and how did this affect Mexican feeling?

A. Offers of purchase were made March 26, 1825, March 15, 1827 and Aug. 25, 1829, all of which Mexico turned down. Although the offer of $5,000,000 may have been tempting, the only effect of the repeated offers was to create the impression on Mexico that the United States stood ready to aid in any possible way in separating Texas from Mexico, although the Fredeonian rebellion of 1826-27, in which few Texans joined, had been the only ostensible indication of any desire of Anglo-Saxon colonists of Texas for separation.

Q. What was the first public expression of Texas colonists after the Fredeonian rebellion in regard to political affairs of Mexico?

A. The "Turtle Bayou Resolutions" of June 13, 1832, was the first indication that Texas colonists felt any concern in Mexican affairs other than those directly affecting the welfare of the colonists themselves, and that action was merely in condemnation of Bustamante's efforts to abolish the Mexican constitution of 1824 and in support of Santa Anna's defense of that constitution.

Q. What action did the San Felipe convention of October 1, 1832, take as to public education?

A. The convention petitioned the state government for a donation of lands as the foundation of a school fund, this being the first public movement for government support of schools.

Q. How many and what locations did Camp Colorado have?

A. Camp Colorado was first located, about 1855 or 1856, near the present town of Ebony, Mills County, and was named for the Colorado River, near which it stood. Soon after it was moved to Mukewater Creek in the southeastern part of Coleman County, and in 1857 to Jim Ned Creek in eastern Coleman County, where it became an important frontier fort.

HOW DO I LIKE MY SERVEL ELECTROLUX ? 11 YEARS CONTINUOUS USE Not 1c for Repairs!

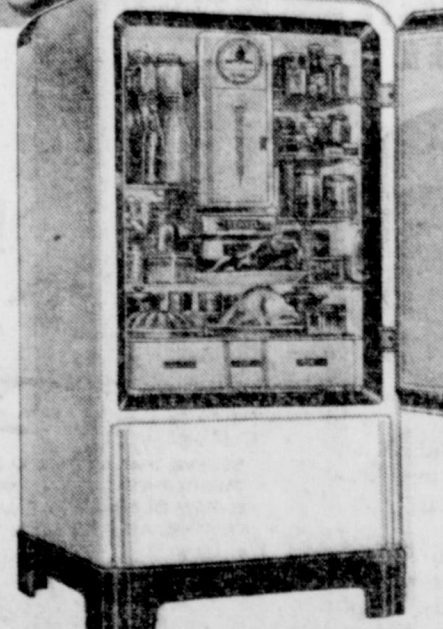

"WE bought our Servel Electrolux—the first in this region—in the spring of 1927. It has been in continuous service ever since. It has averaged about $1 per month to operate, the entire time. We have never spent one cent for service or repairs! It still makes ice, preserves food just as well as the day we installed it. We believe Servel Electrolux is a paying investment!"

This is the statement of Mr. James E Brewer, prominent jeweler in Ballinger, Texas. It speaks for itself.

ON THE FARM—

"I operate a small dairy—9 to 12 cows. My 74t. kerosene Servel Electrolux fulfills all the refrigeration I need, plus plenty of ice for home use. It cost $8.40 for kerosene over 10 1/2 months; until I bought it, our ice bill was $75 to $100 per year, not to mention expense of going after it, time lost and wear and tear on the car. Servel Electrolux takes all the country off the farm and puts you right in the city!"—Mrs. G. W. HOLMES, Megargal, Texas.

FREE! 300 SERVEL ELECTROLUX REFRIGERATORS Ten given away FREE each day. May 20 through July 1 (except Saturdays, Sundays and May 30) For Details, Tune in the P & C Guiding Light Program WBAP-WFAA—2:45 P. M. Come to our store for contest entry blanks or get one from your grocer.

The 1932 Servel Electrolux provides ever-vertically modern improvement—saves the time-proven economy of "no moving parts" in the freezing system.

ANY automatic refrigerator is pretty And shiny, when new. Runs quietly. Freezes ice cubes. But before you buy, ask yourself this: "What will it do 10 years from now?"

Mr. Brewer's Servel Electrolux—after 11 years use—is doing as good a job as the day it was installed! Why? Because Servel Electrolux, the Gas (or Kerosene) refrigerator, has no moving parts in its freezing system. Nothing to wear; to cause big repair bills, or replacements. It is silent—the first year and the 11th year and forever.

Do you have the idea "they're all alike"? Then compare Mr. Brewer's Servel Electrolux with any other automatic refrigerator 11 years old—if you can find one! Servel Electrolux is different—entirely different—from all the rest. And hundreds of owners in West Texas will tell you theirs have paid for themselves many times over. Yours will, too. Will you let us prove this to you, in black and white? TODAY?

Johnny McCook, youngest student in Southwestern University, capped the individual golf championship of the Texas Conference in the final match at Brownwood Country Club Friday.

McCook defeated Charles Edwards of Trinity University, 5 and 4. He was one under par as the contest ended on the 13th hole. The champion was only one over for the 54 holes he played during the two-day tournament, which saw Texas Wesleyan College of Fort Worth take the team championship Thursday afternoon with low aggregate score of 234. Austin College was second with 326.

Abilene Christian College carried off all honors in the Conference tennis tournament, repeating feats of 1937.

Defending singles champion Kendall Jones defeated A. C. Hays of Howard Payne to meet his teammate, Joe Taylor, who advanced to the final round by eliminating Tarkenton, Texas Wesleyan.

Jones paired with Murray Marshall to defend their conference doubles title, beating Grattiger and Perry of Austin College, 5-7, 6-3, 6-1, in the finals.

Population Decrease in Rural Areas Is Forecast by F. S. A.

The trend toward larger farm units and increased use of machinery indicates a record decline in Texas population during 1938, John Caulfield, regional advisor of the Farm Security Administration, said this week.

Unofficial estimates to the FSA indicate that the decline of 26,000 tenant farmers last year will be exceeded considerably, he said. Many of the displaced tenant farmers are finding refuge in cities where they can combine a job with a partial living from small plots of land, Caulfield said.
