MUEENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, AUGUST 11, 1944

NUMBER 38

Ironically, Southern states are kicking up a fuss over the efforts of Northern statesmen to remove certain practices of racial discrimination, but Northern states are having most of the race troubles.

Take that incident in Philadelphia. A few Negroes horn in on jobs traditionally held by Whites, and practically all the other employees go on strike. The reason is obvious. Up there they have had so much propaganda on racial equality that bolder Negroes are ready to demand their "rights", but human nature revolts at some of the resulting complications.

One factor that can never be removed is racial difference. No matter how fair the two groups are to one another they will never be able to meet on common ground. It may be hard to point out just where the dividing line exists, but it's there just the same. If colored people move into a white neighborhood or a colored couple enters a white dance hall their presence is resented. The same would be true if whites intruded. In Philadelphia the whites no doubt felt that they would have to associate too intimately with the colored men. Or perhaps they resented the Negroes' attitude in this particular case. More than once the Negroes have been arrogant and insolent in their demands.

So, as a starting point in the crusade to eliminate race problems, people might as well be honest and admit there is a natural barrier that cannot be crossed, and there's going to be trouble any time either group attempts to cross. Both can enjoy the same rights of suffrage, the same protection before the law, the same living comforts, the same buying and selling prices, but when they are expected to live intimately either or both races have a right to gripe. Until that fact is recognized and respected race problems will continue.

One complaint of the sanctimonious reformers that is getting tiresome is the poll tax issue. According to their version the poll tax was instituted for one reason only — to deprive poor colored people of their votes. Well, there's more to poll tax than that. Regardless of claims as to the nefarious designs of those who originated it, the tax always did and still serves a useful purpose — to collect personal tax from many who otherwise evade the responsibility of supporting their government. Thousands today who live on salaries pay no property tax whatever. Thousands of tenant farmers have been in the same fix for years. Before the days of income tax the poll tax was the only means of making them pay even a small share toward the support of schools and public administrations.

And why the name poll tax? Because the penalty for failure to pay was forfeiture of the right to vote. Which was not such an unfair penalty after all. A person is hardly entitled to a voice in his government if he does nothing toward its support. Instead of criticizing poll tax a lot of other states would do well to adopt it. Certainly the property owners, who now carry the full load of public expense would appreciate it.

Finland's swap of presidents to facilitate a break with Hitler was an unnecessary gesture. What difference does it make if the former president had committed himself not to make a separate peace with Russia unless Germany agreed? Hitler has no scruples against broken agreements. The record of his dealings with most other countries of Europe shows that. And Mein Kampf boldly asserts that treaties are mere scraps of paper to be made or ignored at a nation's convenience.

Within the same week Turkey and Bulgaria also assert themselves. One breaks diplomatic relations, the other begins feeling for a separate peace. The Nazi empire is tottering. It will not long sustain the pressure of both military and diplomatic disasters. But when will the crash come? Is it a matter of days, weeks or months?

Unless yours truly is going to be proven wrong on another guess Hitler will have to fold up within a few hours. As this is written the Reds are lobbing shells on German soil, before long they will be crossing the border.

Some months ago this column stated that there would be no fighting in Germany, that the Jerries would surrender when pushed back that far. But apparently it takes more than that to convince them that they are licked.

I wonder whether the average GI is as keen on the GI Bill of Rights as the average politician who is promoting it. On the surface it seems to present wonderful opportunities, but it also presents a mess of problems. The first and most important being that GIs themselves will have to foot most of it. Mrs. Mary Albers Dies At Lindsay Sunday Morning

Funeral Services Held At St. Peter's Church Tuesday Morning

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Albers, 73, for 32 years a resident of Lindsay, died at her home Sunday morning at 8:45 o'clock following a lengthy illness.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at Saint Peter's church, Lindsay, with Rev. Conrad Herda, pastor, officiating at the requiem high mass and at the burial in the Lindsay cemetery. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of George J. Carroll and Son Funeral home.

The deceased, widow of Henry Albers, who passed away several years ago, was born May 28, 1871. The family moved to Lindsay 32 years ago.

Survivors are four sons: Joe, Great Bend, Kan.; Carl, Clare, Mo.; Bryan Field, Texas; Ferd H. Lindsay, and John Muenster; four daughters, Mrs. Herman Luttmer, Muenster; Mrs. Albert Mosser, Lindsay; Mrs. Nick Mosman, Gainesville; and Mrs. Joe Nichols, Gainesville, also one brother, Clem Buscher, Teutopolis, Ill., and two sisters, Mrs. Clem Werning and Mrs. Joe Deters, both of Teutopolis and a number of grandchildren.

B AND C GASOLINE COUPON HOLDERS MUST POOL CARS

War Price and Rationing Boards have been instructed, after August 1 to refuse all gasoline rations to holders of B and C cards who use their cars for home-to-work driving and cannot show that they belong to a car pool and are regularly carrying a full car load, according to Austin Reed chairman of the Cooke County War Price and Rationing Board.

The only exceptions to this rule are those persons who use their car during the day for business purposes, such as a physician, or those who can show that they have made every effort to secure riders, Mr. Reed said.

Growing concern over the breakdown of motor transportation as well as the scarcity of gasoline is the reason for the stringent action the chairman reported. "Today, we have less than 20,000,000 cars on the road, and about 4,000 of these leave the roads every day. When we get down to 20,000,000, a serious breakdown in essential transportation is inevitable. Enforced car sharing is the only answer," Mr. Reed declared.

"After August 1, if a car owner doesn't belong to a car pool, he will get only enough gasoline rations for thirty days of home-to-work driving, instead of the usual three months' rations he has been receiving. And he won't get his supplemental rations until he can prove to the board that he has obtained sufficient passengers to fill his car. In view of the critical situation with regard to cars, parts, gasoline and tires, there are just too many cars going back and forth daily, half filled," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wieler made a business trip to Wichita Falls Wednesday.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Henry Trachta Held Here Monday

Cpl. Cecil Cole Missing In War Since July 11

Parents Had Last Letter Dated July 4 In France

Cpl. Cecil Cole, 32, former resident of this city and son of Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Cole of Gainesville, is reported missing in action in France since July 11. Word from the war department was received by the parents Thursday.

Cpl. Cole's last letter, telling his parents he had spent his birthday on the continent, was written July 4 from France. He served with an armored tank division and had been overseas 11 months, being stationed in England until the latter part of June.

He entered the army in January, 1942, and received his training at Fort Knox, Ky., and Camp Polk, La. He went from there to Rice, Calif., for maneuvers on the desert and was then stationed at Camp Pickett, Va., and Indiantown Gap, Pa.

Cpl. Cole was born west of Muenster and made his home here until his entry in the army. His parents moved to Gainesville shortly before he entered the service.

His brother, S.Sgt. Clem Cole is stationed with the air corps in England, and some time ago the brothers met in England and spent two days together, their first meeting in two years.

Cpl. Cole has three other brothers, including Earl Cole of this city, who spent nine months in France during World War I, and a sister, who resides in Gainesville.

BARN FIRE SUNDAY DESTROYS CONTENTS VALUED AT $1,500

Approximately $1,500 worth of grain and hay were lost in a barn fire on the Andress farm north of Muenster Sunday morning in a blaze that was discovered at 7 o'clock and burned the greater part of the day. Contents of the barn were owned by Martin Bayer, former occupant, and Norbert Koessler who now resides on the place.

Koessler lost about 450 bushels of oats, a horse and two tons of hay, 50 per cent of which was insured, and Bayer's loss was estimated at near a thousand dollars. He lost 1,200 bushels of oats and 700 bales of hay. It was covered by insurance.

The blaze was discovered by Walter Richter, who lives across the road, and attempts to save some of the barn's contents were made with little results, the heat being too intense.

Origin of the fire has not been determined, but one of the theories is that spontaneous combustion is to blame.

Letter From Lt. Stelzer

The Enterprise is in receipt of a letter from Lt. Patrick Stelzer, written on July 25, which says in part: "Have just returned from a base in Australia. Had a wonderful time. A beautiful country, very much like the states. Since my return have checked out as a first pilot and now have a crew and ship of my own. It's a lot of responsibility and hard work, but is a step higher. Have flown one mission with them which gives me a total of thirty-three. Make me a veteran, a big dog with ribbons, etc., and a guy who is very tired and sick of this war. Spent the better part of a day recently trying to find Father Francis Zimmerer on the Admiralty Islands, but had no luck. Please send me his address so I can write him and if he is anywhere in the vicinity I'll try to locate him. I was very glad to receive the Enterprises. Thanks for sending them. Maybe you could drop a gentle hint that I'd like to hear from any Muensterites." Lt. Stelzer is the son of Gressor Stelzer and is a member of the 13th AAF. His address will gladly be given to his friends by his father or it may be secured at the Enterprise office.

Death Thursday Followed Lengthy Illness; Had Resided Here 40 Years

Mrs. Henry Trachta, 50, resident of this city for 40 years, died at her home Thursday at 11 p.m., following an illness of 14 months. Funeral services were conducted Monday morning at 9 o'clock at Sacred Heart church, with Pastor Father Thomas officiating at the requiem high mass and at the burial in the local cemetery.

Serving as pallbearers were W.T. Richter, H.P. Hennigan, F.J. Yosten, John Klement, J.M. Weinzapfel and J.A. Fisher. Arrangements were under the direction of Mrs. Nick Miller.

Rosary was recited Sunday evening at 8:30 at the Trachta home.

Mrs. Trachta was a member of the local Catholic Daughters of America and was active in parish and community work until afflicted with the illness that took her life. For more than a year she was unable to leave her home, and was bedfast for the past several weeks. She possessed a winning personality, was a good neighbor and had hundreds of friends in the community, as evidenced by the large number that attended the last rites.

The show will feature a number of interesting classes, contests and acts, according to present plans, and blue ribbons will be presented to winners. The Texan's Share in the War

The Texan's share in the war is truly a big one. Of every 18 men in the Army, Navy and Marine corps, one is a native of the Lone Star State. Recent reports show approximately 650,000 Texans in the services.

Every dispatch from the fighting fronts reminds us that the descendants of the heroes of the Alamo are first-string scrappers. The recruiting officer who told the boys up north that they should "join the army and help Texas win the war" was not too far from the truth!

Here's the latest on some of the Texas fighting men:
Capt. John A. Paul of Kerrville is wearing a bronze star won in the hard fighting at Bougainville.
Lt. Bill Hogan of Clarksville, now recovering from wounds, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for heroism in wiping out an anti-tank gun crew.
Lt. Delbert C. Gates of Joiner, with a citation which attests his "extraordinary heroism" in fighting off a Jap attack while armed only with an automatic rifle.

Lewis Schatz of Dobbin, who is back home from hospitalization after being twice wounded in Italy, met his brother, Pfc. August Schatz at Salerno. August is still in Italy chasing the retreating Nazis.
"Lucky Boots" of Winters through E. W. Bridwell of Winters through 23 bombing missions over Europe. The high-heeled Texas foot soldier, first worn by Capt. L. A. Brumley of Del Rio, were passed on to Lt. Bridwell. When he completes his flying stint, they will go to Lt. Bob Deveney of Waco, who thinks they will bring him luck too.

"Commando" Kelley, the Yankee Irishman who became a Texan and won the congressional Medal of Honor by fighting heroically with Texas' 36th division, stopped off in Austin recently to thank the "home folks" for their contributions to the war effort.

"We know Texans are behind us," he told Wayland D. Towner, manager of the United War Chest of Texas, "because we got National War Fund services even up close to the front lines. USO camp shows, War Prisoners Aid and other agencies are doing a great job, thanks to the $5,000,000 given by Texas last year. Keep up the good work, and we'll keep hitting the enemy hard!"

COMPLETES BEAUTY COURSE

Miss Mary Jo Links, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Links, 340 North Red River street, Gainesville, has completed her course at school in Dallas and has returned to Gainesville to be associated with her mother, Mrs. Rhoda Ann Links. She passed her state board examination last week and is a licensed operator.

The Nazis in Normandy made a mistake when they made a Texan mad one day last week. When a German bazooka knocked out his tank, Lt. Dick Martin of Fort Worth got sore, jumped on top of the stranded machine, cut loose with a sub-machine gun, and personally killed 35 Nazis.

Lt. Dan Gilmore, whose home is Luling, has made six bombing runs over Berlin, and still is in there pitching. Now he holds the DFC for heroism and the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters.

Lt. Neilan Bemis of Denison is towing more glider troops to France, after winning the DFC with cluster.

Lt. Winfred Alfred Commerce, is back home after 28 missions over Europe as a Flying Fortress pilot. Sgt. Julian Barkman, whose home is near Texarkana, has been taken prisoner by the Germans. But his lot will be made easier by War Prisoners Aid, National War Fund agency which provides sports equipment and other supplies for our men behind enemy barbed wire.

One of the youngest generals in the Army is C.D. "Casey" Vincent, veteran fighter pilot. He's only 29, but strictly a Texas fighting man. His home is Gale.

That Texan still know how to use their "shootin' irons" was proven again on Saipan, when Marine Hiram Westbrook of San Angelo killed a Jap sniper with a single rifle shot at 1,100 yards. The almost-miraculous shot was witnessed by several other soldiers, and is credited with being the longest "bulls eye" of the enemy.

It is inevitable in war that some soldiers will be captured by the enemy. In this war, flyers often land in enemy territory when shot down. The latest list of our men lost to the Japs includes the names of F-O Carl Clark, Lockhart; S-Sgt. Louis Langston, Laredo; Sgt. L.R. Light, Llano, and Lt. Sammy West, Blanco. It is good to know, however, that whenever they are, even behind Jap barbed wire, they will receive help of their friends at home. POW Aid-YMCA, an agency of the National War Fund, looks out for the morale of the "barbed wire brigade," sending athletic equipment, games, musical instruments books and many other materials to our boys through neutral representatives.

Sweetheart of America's Top Ace

Pretty Kay Cochran, above, will soon become the bride of Lieut. Col. Frank Gabreski, America's top ranking ace who has knocked 28 Axis planes from the sky and wiped out three more on the ground. Kay and "Gabby" met at Pearl Harbor in 1940 where he was in training and she was the guest of an uncle who is an Army Air Force colonel. Miss Cochran, shown above with a cedar hope chest which she received from the girls in her church group as a gift, will meet Ace Gabreski in New York soon, they will visit his home in Oil City, Pa., and then go to Holland, Mich., for the wedding ceremony.

The Barnard boys of Donna are fighting a global war of their own. As first pilot of a Flying Fortress, Lt. L.L. Barnard has a record of 25 bombing missions over Germany. And in the Pacific, Navy Lt. Lloyd G. Barnard has shot down 6 Jap planes—five of them on a single flight, he set his record as a Jap killer on June 15 over the Bonin Islands, downing the five Zeros in 25 minutes, two of them in a period of 30 seconds.

Lt. Tom Horne of Childress is a typical hard-riding, hard-fighting Texan. During the Saipan fight he had two "mounts" shot out from under him but fought on. The "mounts" were tanks and as each was blasted by Jap shells the Texas Marine officer leaped out, found a new tank, and returned to the scrap. Three of Lt. Horne's crewmen were killed, but when the area of his fight was visited the next day, bodies of 89 Japs were found on the field, so the score was more than evened.

An 18-year-old Texan also joined the "one-man army" class on Saipan. He was Marine Travis Hoppenstall of Nacogdoches, who volunteered to seek out a Japanese sniper who has been firing on his group during the night. Instead of one Jap, however, he ran into a group of 50. Other Marines joined the Texan and when the scrap was over 27 Nips were buried.

"Guess I started something," the teen-age Texan remarked when the smoke cleared.

And believe it or not a Texas soldier has won what amounts to a beauty contest. She (that's right) is a pretty Texarkana WAC, Pvt. Lucille Wilkey. Harry Conover, famous model agent, chose her as the "typical WAC," after viewing photos of hundreds of girl soldiers.

Texans in the Merchant Marine have been doing great work abroad, carrying men and munitions from England to the beaches of France. In England they spend their off-duty hours in rest homes set up for them by United Seamen Service, a National War Fund agency.

Although he lost a foot during hand-to-hand fighting on Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, Pfc. Willie Carson, son of County Judge Burch Carson of Culbertson county, doesn't feel too badly about it. The fighting Texan, now recovering from wounds at McCloskey Hospital, Temple, brought back a Jap Major's sword as a souvenir. Before he was wounded on April 28, he killed four Japs with his rifle. One of them was the major.

WAR MAP

FIGHTING KILOWATTS

With eyes constantly on his "War Map" of electric power facilities... with direct lines of communication with TP&L's generating and switching stations... the Dispatcher acts as the "directing general" in marshaling your fighting kilowatts. Always before him is his massive diagram indicating the transmission lines, switching stations, substations and power plants of the TP&L system. His job is to see that Electric Power flows constantly over the Company's vast system of Transmission and Distribution lines... AND... to direct "reinforcements" wherever and whenever needed. As he receives orders for "more power here" or "less power there," he transmits these orders to the particular sources of power, and presto!... the kilowatts needed are there!

Every second of the day and night the Dispatcher is on the job... alert, watchful, knowing exactly what to do in any situation... keeping TP&L Transmission Line Electric Power on the job in War Plants, in Military Camps, on farms, in business, and in your home. Whether the need is for a fraction of a kilowatt to fry an egg, or for thousands of kilowatts to rush through an emergency order for military materiel, the Dispatcher sees to it that the needed power is there... on the job, day and night.

When you buy War Bonds you are getting ready for a better tomorrow. Invest in War Bonds regularly... they'll help protect the America we love today... they'll help win the war and preserve our cherished American Way of Life.

NEW FURNACE COOLS AND HEATS HOME BY FLIP OF A LEVER

A furnace that cools as well as heats will be among the magic gas appliances ready for Southwestern homes as soon as war ends according to officials of Lone Star Gas Company. The gas air-year conditioner heats the house in winter and cools in the summer by the flip of a lever, all done with a gas flame. The furnace combines all the functions of a complete air-conditioning unit, can be installed in a space 8x8x8-feet, and the control system is as easy to operate as the ordinary radio.

This is one element in an expansion program the gas company is planning after the war, the officials said. The new furnace, which has been developed by the peacetime manufacturers of the Servel gas refrigerator, is all ready for production. The unit is simply operated, and is designed for residential and small commercial use, giving every home owner a long awaited chance to control indoor temperature. This one simple gas unit not only maintains uniform warmth in winter and cool summer temperatures, but also humidifies, dehumidifies, filters and circulates air through all rooms of the house.

The gas air-conditioning units are now operating in a number of homes throughout the county and are on display in some of the district offices of Lone Star Gas Company. Another development is the coordinated ventilated kitchen which combines gas range, water heater, sink and cabinets all in one package and will be ventilated to remove all cooking odors. Improved gas refrigerators, with perhaps deep freeze compartments, and new gas ranges, also are predicted.

The officials said that because of the great amount of gas being delivered to war industries, it will be necessary to drill many new

Your Health

Austin, Texas. — Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urged parents of small children who will respond to the school bell for the first time in September to be sure the child is physically ready for school duties.

"First and foremost is the need for vaccination against smallpox. Parents and physicians should see that children are vaccinated before they are one year of age; however if not done previously, at school age vaccination becomes absolutely necessary. Dr. Cox said, if your child has not been vaccinated, have it done immediately so that the scar will be completely healed before school opens."

Immunization against diphtheria is also highly desirable, Dr. Cox believes. This disease, which causes serious illness and death among young children can be prevented with toxoid. The child who has never been protected should be given this safeguard against a dreaded disease. Even though he may have been immunized as a baby, doctors and health officers usually recommend an additional dose of toxoid to strengthen immunity before entrance into school.

Homemade ice cream is not necessarily out for the duration, at least it doesn't have to be, say home economists who pass along these few tricks to make a little go a long way. Mix canned fruit — peaches or pineapple for instance — into ice cream while it's still soft, save the juice and combine with lemon juice to make fruit sherbet; to make thrifty use of dried-out cookies and cake crumbs, stir crushed crumbs into plain ice cream.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT
TEXAS EXTENSION SERVICE

Ten 4-H club boys in different parts of the county have been given instructions from the County Agent on how to make weekly cotton insect pest reports.

The following club boys are making these reports weekly: Wilber Block, Lindsay, William Arend, Gainesville, Floyd Bezner, Gainesville, Billie Joe Sizemore, Pilot Point, Willie Cravens, Muenster, Paul Sizemore, Pilot Point, Wilfred Bengfort, Gainesville Jimmy Jacobs, Pilot Point.

These boys make a check for boll weevils, fleahoppers, bollworm, plant lice and leafworm. Each week the 4-H club boys go to the field and check at random 100 squares for boll weevils. If 15% of these squares are punctured the farmer should start dusting, using calcium arsenate. Also the boys check 100 terminal buds for fleahoppers. If they find as many as 15 fleas to the 100 terminal buds the farmer is advised to dust with dusting sulphur. As the boys go through the field they check for the presence of bollworm plant lice & leafworm. To date we have not found a cotton field that has enough insects of any type to warrant dusting. The boys are lending an excellent service to the community and in addition are obtaining a great amount of information that they can use in cotton growing in the future.

Fruit juices may be canned safely without the use of sugar, however, adding it helps hold the color and flavor of the juice.

This assurance comes from Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, county home demonstration agent, who says she has received numerous inquiries on the subject from home-makers. The juice may be canned in glass fruit jars or in bottles with crown caps. If it is put in bottles, a capper must be used. The specialist especially warns against sealing bottles with corks dipped in wax paraffin, because this type of seal will not withstand processing.

Bottles and jars should be smooth, free from nicks and cracks. After washing, they should be heated in water until it boils. Crown caps for the bottles should be wiped clean with a damp cloth but should not be washed. Just before the caps are used they should be dipped in boiling water.

Mrs. Kelly advises handling only small batches of ripe, firm fruit at a time. She says the secret of keeping the fine natural flavor and color of the fruit lies in heating just enough to sterilize but not so much that the color and flavor change.

Berries, red cherries and plums are prepared for juice by removing the pits, crushing, and heating to simmering. Then they are strained through a cloth bag. Add sugar as desired, about a half to a cup of sugar for each gallon of juice, depending on the sweetness of the fruit. After the sugar is added, heat the juice again to simmering and pour into the hot jars or bottles. Fill jars to one-fourth inch of the top and bottles to one-half inch of the top. Adjust the lids of jars or seal caps on bottles. Process either pint or quart jars or bottles in a boiling water bath for 15 to 20 minutes.

It is estimated that there are more than 10,000 mineral springs in the United States.

PLANE TALK

BY Rowland Burnston

"Heavier-than-Air" aircraft are classified under three main groups: landplane, seaplane, and amphibian.

We are all familiar with landplanes because we see them in flight every day. They are designed and equipped with wheels or skis to take-off from and land on the ground or on any other hard surface.

The seaplane is designed to take-off and land on water. Water take-off and landing is made on one or a pair of pontoons located beneath the fuselage. A seaplane with a single pontoon requires a float located near each wing tip for balance while on the water.

The "Flying Boat," as its name implies, is a boat built to aircraft specifications with wings. Crew and passenger quarters are located within the hull.

The amphibian plane is a flying boat or seaplane able to arise and alight on water and land. It is equipped with wheels which retract into its hull or pontoons during flight or while on the water.

"SCRUMPTIOUS" BREAD

"Scrumptious" is the word for toasted garlic bread which is served with salads or afloat in meat and onion soups. To make it, you can either rub stale slices of bread with split clove of garlic and spread with butter or fortified margarine, or add crushed garlic to melted butter or margarine, and then toast.

GLAZED CHINTZ

To wash or not to wash glazed chintz -- that's the question which prompted Mrs. Julia Kiene, director of the Westinghouse Home Economics Institute, to pass along this "test": Select an inconspicuous spot on the chintz, and rub briskly with a clean, damp cloth. Allow spot to dry. If the glaze comes off and the material is limp, then it is not a durable glaze and the fabric will not wash.

To keep cheese from molding or drying out, rub the cut surface with a bit of salad oil and press wax paper tightly against it. Store it in a cold place, closely covered and away from moist air.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT

BY UNCLE BOB
of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

A little cash laid out right now in repairing barns and silos or putting up a temporary silo, if you do not have a permanent structure, will do a lot to save your cows some misery next winter.

Leaky and drafty barns can cut down winter milk production. Cows, like us humans, work best in comfortable surroundings. Silos which have sprung leaks or suffered wind damage may cause trouble, too. August is a good time to check up and make repairs.

If you could see into the future, you would know whether you will be able to get adequate supplies of grain and mixed feeds this winter. But not having a crystal ball myself, I want to suggest you get some "insurance" by planting cover crops.

Land which has been used for corn, cotton, soybeans, tobacco and similar items normally lies idle in the winter, but you can put it to work by sowing barley, oats, rye, crimson clover, alfalfa or vetch and Austrian peas—crops which will provide grazing. These use available land to greater advantage.

The Extension Service at the University of Tennessee has issued a leaflet on this subject, discussing what to plant and how the various crops can supplant grain in your dairy herd's ration. August is the time to plant such cover crops, according to these bulletins.

Alabama Polytechnic Institute has a bulletin devoted entirely to crimson clover. I believe you will want both these bulletins in your file. Write for Tennessee Leaflet No. 6, at Knoxville, Tennessee, and Alabama Circular 254, at Auburn, Alabama.

They say money cannot buy happiness but it's nice to have enough cash so a fellow can select his own brand of misery.

There is perhaps more than a usual need this year for farmers to put away plenty of silage. An abundant quantity of good quality silage is more important than ever this year, to reach the 121 billion pound milk goal.

If you do not have a permanent silo or if you need additional storage space, I suggest you get a copy of Missouri Circular 346, issued by the Extension Service, Columbia, Missouri, on the subject of temporary silos. It tells how to build trench silos and slat fence or "snow fence" silos. These types have proved highly successful in various parts of the country.

A trench silo 12 feet across the top, 8 feet across the bottom and 8 feet deep will give one ton of silage per foot of length. This silo should be covered with a layer of cut straw or chaff and a thicker layer of straw or dirt.

The slat fence silo should be lined with some sort of tar paper or a good grade of specially prepared building paper, strong enough not to tear easily and capable of withstanding weather conditions. The booklet gives a lot of information on location of such temporary silos as well as detailed material on construction and filling.

Farmer's Bulletin No. 578, issued by the U.S.D.A. in Washington, D. C., warns that the important thing with any silo is to keep out air. It contains a good discussion of box silos and has many helpful suggestions for putting away silage. I suggest you get a copy. It is free.

City folks have got acquainted with sharing the ride, which brings them a step closer to farm boys who are pretty familiar with riding the share—that is, behind the plowshare.

Whenever I think of plowing, for some reason I think of corn, which leads me up to corn silage and a bulletin on this subject issued by Wisconsin.

Circular 337 stresses the importance of putting corn silage away at the proper stage of maturity. If properly prepared, corn silage is one of the most palatable and nutritious of silages. To get the greatest food value possible, it should be ensiled when neither too ripe nor too green.

Corn is ready for ensiling when the kernels have barely finished denting, and when all or nearly all leaves are still green. If cut too early, soluble nutrients may be lost and the silage may become soggy and unpalatable. Cut too mature, it may be too dry to pack well, causing air pockets and mold.

The Wisconsin circular says hybrid corn is just as good for silage as is open-pollinated corn, but it cautions that hybrid corn may stay green after the crop is too mature for silage. Denting of the kernel is the reliable guide to proper time for cutting. You can get this circular by writing the Extension Service, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin.

THE OLD AND THE YOUNG

"GOING MY WAY", Paramount's moving story of a young singing priest (Bing Crosby), promises to be one of the season's finest films. With Bing, above, is Barry Fitzgerald, the cantankerous but lovable Father Fitzgibbon. Also in the cast are Rise Stevens, star of the Metropolitan Opera; Frank McHugh, as Father "Tim" O'Dowd; Gene Lockhart, Jean Heather, James Brown and many other fine performers. The picture opens Sunday at the Texas Theatre in Saint Jo.

of the bill. Within a decade or two they are the ones who will run this country, the others being either too young or too old to take active part.
The whole thing smacks of bureaucracy. Thousands of additional swell jobs can be created so that professional busybodies can draw salaries on the pretense of doing for our boys what they can't do for themselves. If it's to be run like some of the other agencies the administrative cost will approach if not surpass the amounts spent on the veterans.
The best and only practical means of compensation was suggested long ago -- mustering out pay proportional to length of service with a premium for overseas duty. Dish it out in a lump and be done with it. Give the men a chance to return to civilian life with hard cash rather than a mess of forms to be submitted to Washington.

Too much of this political hocus pocus is based on the assumption that the average American doesn't have enough sense to use his money wisely. What an attitude! We sent them across to do a man sized job but as soon as they come back we want to treat them like a bunch of irresponsible kids.
