To millions of Americans the arrival and departure of Pearl Harbor Day was hardly noticed this year. Many of them, who were born since 1941 or were very young at the time, are not aware of the date's significance in our history. They know only vaguely or not at all about the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, the Day of Infamy that plunged our nation into a second global conflict to preserve world freedom and independence.

It's different, however, to those of more advanced years who can recall the incident and the strong feelings it provoked. Americans were aroused as never before. With a passionate patriotism they were solidly behind their president when he declared war. They were ready to make all the sacrifice needed to rid the world of tyrants and aggressors.

What a contrast that memory presents with the attitude of today! On this anniversary of Pearl Harbor Day we are in another war for survival of human freedom and dignity. Our country in its official policy is as dedicated as before, but an alarming number of short sighted and traitorous citizens refuse to share the country's dedication. Instead they are doing their utmost to hamper the national effort, to sabotage morale of the fighting men and to encourage the enemy. They are writing the blackest, most shameful pages ever in the history of our country.

In the midst of this mess we average, loyal citizens are inclined to lose patience. In fact we find fault with our government for its failure to crack down on the offenders with punishment fitting their crimes. And then again we wonder whether the government's policy of aloofness will not be best in the long run. If this ugly spirit can be defeated by public opinion rather than by official action the victory will be all the greater. The country will proudly remember that common sense rather than coercion was the deciding factor. Meanwhile we'll hope and pray that the method works.

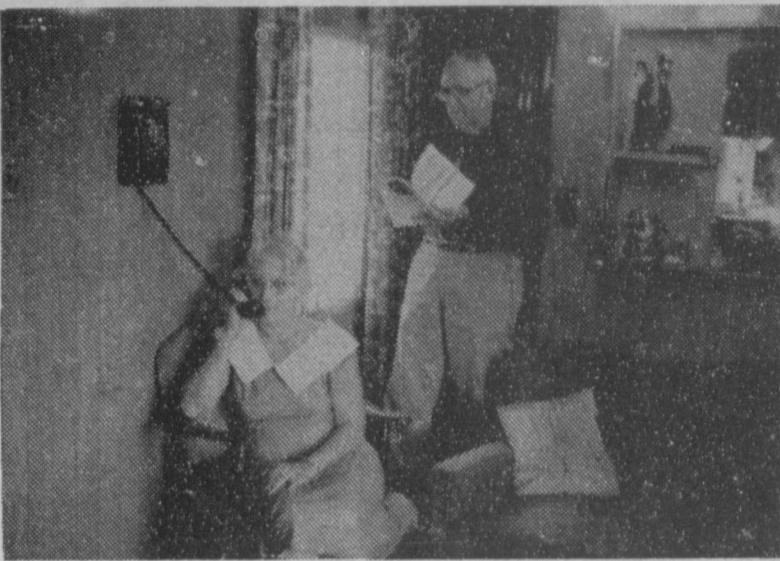

Encouraging signs in that direction are already apparent. One of them was the report that the half way mark has been passed in a nation wide movement to send 100 million dollars worth of gifts to American soldiers and natives in Vietnam. The movement, sponsored cooperatively by Jaycees and Young Democrats and Young Republicans throughout the nation, is intended to lift morale over there while showing in a very definite manner that we average people do care. Along with those gifts go the nation's wishes for the best possible Christmas that the miseries of war will allow.

Another encouraging sign is counter demonstrations, which incidentally present contrasts we can be proud of. Two very different kinds of people have been observed in the two groups. Objectors are usually made up of beatniks and sundry other sloppy characters whose shabby appearance reflects their shabby thinking. Loyal demonstrators are those whose pride in country is reflected by their pride in appearance. Mostly they are men who have fought for their country or are ready to fight for it.

The overwhelming majority of Americans know the score about the phony peace demonstrations and they are ashamed to think that such things are happening. On an average, however, they are not alarmed. They are confident that all will turn out all right in the end.

Still, many are understandably resentful. They think that the communist rabble rousers who cause the troubles should be nabbed and prosecuted to the limit of the law. Such action would serve a double purpose: to punish the trouble makers and to leave the feeble minded rabble without their leaders.

Another disappointing fact about the war in Vietnam is the aloofness of other free nations who have as much at stake in the outcome as we do that struggle isn't just for us and the South Vietnamese. If communism wins it will quickly finish its conquest of Asia, after which it will begin working on its plans for (Continued on page 10)

PHONE SERVICE TO LEO started last Friday as Mrs. Jess Lucas made the first call on the new line. It is on the Muenster phone system, extended from Rosston by 20,000 feet of buried cable. Mr. Lucas is shown with the Muenster telephone directory.

Phone Service in Leo Community Restored Friday After 45 Years

Telephone service has been restored at Leo after an outage of about 45 years. The small community in the southwest part of Cooke County was connected by telephone with the rest of the world last Friday when Muenster Telephone Corporation completed an extension from its line to Rosston.

Six subscribers are on the new line and the first to use it was Mrs. Jess Lucas who with her husband was instrumental in having the service established. The new line also represents a first for the telephone company. The 20,000 feet of underground cable leading from Rosston to Leo is the first buried line installed by the company. Capacity of the existing circuit from Muenster to Rosston was increased by electronic carrier equipment to accommodate the additional subscribers. Favorable terrain influenced the choice of buried cable to Leo. Most areas served by the phone company are too rocky for that kind of line.

Jaycee Program To Be Explained At Orientation

An orientation meeting to be held this Thursday night, December 9, was the principal subject considered by Muenster Jaycees at their meeting last Thursday. The event is set for 8 p.m. in Muenster High Auditorium.

Purpose of the orientation, according to Kenneth Selby, chairman, is to explain the Jaycees, their aims and methods, and the parts others can take in the organization's effort to make Muenster a better place to live and do business. A special film "A Cast of Thousands" is intended to help put the point over.

All Jaycees are urged to be there and other interested persons are invited, particularly those under 35, who are eligible to join, and those willing to help the organization in its program of community progress.

Other business at last week's meeting included a decision to have a Christmas party and a report of appreciation from Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders for Jaycee help at their barn-warming party. Two Gainesville members, Carter Taylor and Doug Roberson, invited Muenster members to their New Year's Eve party. The visitors also joined Don Bayer, Walter Grewing and Billy Wolf in a skit on parliamentary procedure.

In a meeting of directors Don Bayer was elected to succeed Adam Wolf as first vice president and Clyde Muller was elected as a new director. Bernard McNamara was appointed chaplain. New committee chairmen appointed were Henry Weinzapfel for Santa Claus visit, Clyde Muller for Christmas party, Kenneth Selby on Orientation, Joe Galloway on Five Outstanding Young Texans, Don Bayer or Wylie Lewis on Outstanding Young Farmers.

Christmas Ideas For Garden Club

Muenster Civic League and Garden Club's December meeting Monday night will be a Christmas meeting with a display of Christmas items and an exchange of Christmas ideas.

Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel and Mrs. Henry Weinzapfel will be co-hostesses in the former's home at 8 p.m.

of Leo, phone service is clearly remembered by old timers. They maintained a do-it-yourself system which started about 1910 and fizzled out after about ten years.

All that was required to get service then was to buy a mail-order phone and to install a wire to the existing line. It was a single community system and everyone who had a phone was on the line. And a crank on the ringer would ring every phone on the line. Each phone had its code of long and short rings, so that the caller could indicate who was wanted. But that made little difference. Any ring usually brought down all receivers on the line.

Arrangements were made also for outside connections. The Lucas home was also on a line to Rosston and a switch at that phone would connect the two lines for Leo-Rosston calls. Similar arrangements made it possible to reach Slidell and Hood. And another switch on the Hood line allowed a through call to Gainesville.

To begin, the system served its purpose adequately, though subject to the handicaps of a single wire grounded line. But after a few years the service deteriorated, principally because of neglect of his line by one subscriber or the other. When any section of the line was down the entire system was in trouble. Leo's phone service disappeared about 1920.

Muenster Gives 3000 Pounds in Clothing Drive

Muenster's 1965 Thanksgiving Clothing Drive for the Holy Father's storeroom added to 3000 pounds of clothing, shoes and bedding collected, according to Mrs. Al Walterscheid, president of the parish St. Anne's Society, sponsor of the campaign. She made the announcement Sunday night at the December business meeting of the organization.

The shipment left by motor freight for the National Catholic Welfare Council in San Francisco. It is routed overseas from the west coast. Also benefiting from the drive were the State School for Girls at Gainesville and St. Vincent's Store in Dallas. These places received high heeled shoes, hats, bags and evening dresses which are not included with the overseas shipments.

A membership committee was organized composed of Mmes. Dick Dittfurth, Gene Gieb and John Fleitman.

Mrs. Leo Henscheid gave a short thought-provoking spiritual reading entitled "A Mother's Mirror," and members heard a recording on "Self Improvement" by Father Berthold Roll, spiritual director of National Council of Catholic Women.

Members also voted the customary cash Christmas gifts for the Reverend Fathers, the Sisters and Brother Thomas Moster.

Next month's meeting will be held one week later, on Jan. 9, so as not to conflict with reunions and other activities during the New Year weekend.

Nineteen members were present and Mrs. C. M. Walterscheid won the door prize. After adjournment the ladies joined St. Joseph's Society for a social hour and refreshments.

Father Conrad 22-Year Pastor Of Lindsay Dies

Father Conrad Herda, former pastor of St. Peter's Parish at Lindsay, died Thursday night, Dec. 2, in Van Buren, Ark., hospital. He was 80.

Funeral services with solemn Requiem Mass were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock in Subiaco, Ark., in the Abbey church and burial was in the Abbey cemetery.

He held the pastorate at Lindsay longer than any other pastor, a total of twenty-two and a half years. His first assignment was in July 1923 to 1925. He returned in November 1938 and remained until August 1958.

Born in Germany Sept. 8, 1885, he made his preliminary studies for the priesthood there and for a time worked as a craftsman before coming to America to study at Subiaco Abbey where he made his profession in the Benedictine Order on May 7, 1911. He was ordained in Little Rock on June 8, 1916.

His first assignment was teaching at Subiaco College, but showing a preference for pastoral work his superiors sent him into the parochial field to various parishes in Texas and Arkansas. He was assistant in Sacred Heart Parish here in 1927, January to April.

It was while he was attending to St. Benedict's Parish in Subiaco — 1927-1934 — that he laid out the abbey cemetery, a work that has won universal admiration. During this period he was also professor at the seminary. He served the Windthorst parish from January to November 1926.

Other parishes he served include Altus, Ark., and Nazareth, Texas.

Among clergy at the funeral were Father Andrew Wewer and Father John Walbe.

Hayes was born near Tioga and moved to Gainesville in 1926. He served as a bookkeeper and accountant for 25 years, was tax assessor-collector from 1940 to 1946 and served as county auditor in the 1950s.

Terry Hoedebeck portrays Mary Poppins. Tony Cler is the little boy and Shirley Becker the little girl. They have a Christmas dream which is enacted in several scenes and concludes with the Nativity with the Holy Family, angels, shepherds, angelic choirs and the Three Kings.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. in Muenster High Auditorium.

Final Services Held Tuesday for Frank Needham

Frank Needham, 70, died at 2:15 a.m. Monday in Muenster Memorial Hospital, ending an illness that had been hanging on for several months.

During that time he was up and down frequently until his final illness which put him to bed about a week before. He transferred to the hospital last Friday.

Funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 in the Geo. J. Carroll & Son Chapel with Dr. Harry Roark, pastor of First Baptist Church, Gainesville, officiating. Burial was in Reed Cemetery at Myra. Bearers were Robert Bayer, Eddie Fleitman, Richard Grewing, Walter Grewing, Henry Walterscheid, Louis Roberg, Leonard Yosten and T. P. Frost.

Mr. Needham was well known as a stockman and oilman, having been active in oil lease and livestock dealings in this area for about forty years. He was born at Temple on December 18, 1894, and came to Cooke County in his early years. He was married in Montague on June 20, 1916, to Margaret Andress of Myra.

They lived there from then until 1947, when they moved to Muenster. Mrs. Needham died on June 4, 1961.

German Dairymen Visit Here

Eighteen members of the Swissair, whose representative, Oskar A. Gnaedinger, was with the party as escort and interpreter.

The group represented all branches of the dairy industry. There were dairy farmers, distributors of fresh milk, processors, manufacturers of dairy equipment, a scientist and a public relations man. One lady was included in the group, the wife of Rudolf Kuhsen, head of a German dairy cooperative.

Their purpose in coming to United States was to get as many new ideas as possible pertaining to any part of the dairy industry, from production on the farm to final distribution of milk and milk products.

Automation is receiving their special interest. Hans Peter Mueller representative of a dairy equipment manufacturer, and Rudolf Kuhsen explained that W. Germany has a shortage of workers and progress in the dairy industry awaits the introduction of more automatic equipment to get more work done. Other subjects of special interest were transportation, to balance surplus and shortage of widely separated areas, and packaging. In the latter category, they pointed out, one of the country's problems has been a help to them. Germany has to import almost all of its paper, hence more emphasis has been placed on plastics for packaging and the dairy industry has developed some very attractive packages for its retail sales.

Mueller, one of the few English speaking members of the group, said that his companions wished especially to convey their appreciation to Muenster for a very pleasant visit. They enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders and their look at Colonial Acres facilities. They appreciated an interesting tour of the milk plant conducted by Plant Manager Larry Yosten. They are grateful to the people who met them at Rohmer's and made them very much at home. Host for the party there was the NTPA plant.

The NTPA main office at Arlington was responsible for getting Muenster on the German dairymen's itinerary. North Texas Producers Association was on their list as a large and successful dairy cooperative deserving of study. NTPA included Muenster as a vital part of its operation. Members of the Arlington office who accompanied the German visitors to Muenster are Jack Hagler, assistant manager, and Phil Porter and Mrs. Lou Fletcher of the public relations department.

An added attraction for a few of the guests was a visit to the Bavarian Woodcarving Studio, Ludwig Kieninger and Gunther Goetz, the owners were in the reception at the restaurant. Others were Henry Henscheid, Joe Fisher, Henry Pick, Leo Henscheid, Bill Becker, Ben Luke, John Rohmer, J. M. Weinzapfel, J. P. Flusche, Donald Bayer, Henry Weinzapfel and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rohmer.

NO TIME TO RELAX

The advocates of compulsion—that is, of compulsory unionism—have licked their wounds from last session's encounter, and are now preparing to try again to repeal Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartly Act when Congress reconvenes. In a recent letter to union boss Walter Reuther, President Johnson said: "We have made significant progress in 1965 toward the long-sought goal of repealing Section 14(b) ... We will come back in the next session to remove this divisive provision from the law."

Those Senators who successfully defended 14(b) and the workingman's freedom of choice by filibuster last session have all vowed to stand their ground. But it will take more than just "extended debate" to win again. Those power-mad union bosses and politicians, who consider a workingman's freedom to be "divisive" of their ambitions, will pull every possible string to make their power over all of us "undivided." We, the people, must therefore make sure that any move for 14(b)'s repeal next session will be summarily defeated, not just temporarily put off again.

Now is the time to do something about it—not waiting until repeal legislation is actually brought up in the next session. Now is the time to tell those 34 Senators and 203 Congressmen who actively opposed repeal last session how much we appreciate their efforts. Now is also the time we should remind all the others that a vote for repeal of Section 14(b) is a vote against the wishes of a majority of their constituents. Next year is Congressional election year, and as that day of reckoning draws closer some of those who rubber-stamped the union bosses' demand for 14(b)'s repeal last session may become more anxious to please voters than to do the bidding of the President or his union boss friends.

A coalition of Republicans and Democrats in Congress held the line for us last year, against the power-play of the union bosses and their puppet politicians. The second session of the 89th Congress starts in just a few weeks—January 10 to be exact—so it's our turn now to prevent "a switch rather than a fight." We can do this by again turning loose a flood of mail calling on our Senators to stand firm against the Johnson-Meaney-Reuther-Hoffa domestic war on freedom.

"I reckon Jeff Tuttle's been runnin' off another batch of moonshine this week," remarked one mountaineer to another. "How do you figger that?" his neighbor wanted to know. "Well his rabbits have been over abusin, my coon hounds again."

RESULTS OF MINIMUM WAGE LAW

Each time the minimum wage has increased, thousands of jobs have been priced out of existence. Many tasks and services are not performed when the government-enforced hourly wage is greater than the value of the product of the labor required. When the $1.25 minimum wage was applied to the small crabmeat factories along the Atlantic coast, thousands of crab pickers were thrown out of work. Increased labor costs made the finished product too high priced to compete with other meat and fish foods. Many of those thrown out of work by the increase in minimum wages were physically handicapped or retarded persons. Labor leaders are constantly complaining about the effects of automation, yet there is no greater stimulus for increased mechanization than the constant rise of the minimum wage.

NOT GUILTY—MORE OR LESS

You will read a lot of law books, Algernon, before you will come across a jury trial quite like a jury trial just held in Collier County Florida.

We get the tale from the Miami Herald. It appears that on July 21, a white man named Thomas M. D'Andrea came on trial in the county court on a charge of "interfering with telephone service," in connection with the theft of $7,500 worth of telephone wire along the Tamiami Trail.

An all-Negro jury was impaneled, which seems a bit odd, for the county is only 15 percent colored, but that is what happened. The custom is for the names of jurors to be drawn from lists of registered voters. In Florida, voting registration requirements were changed a few years ago, so as to do away with any form of literacy test.

The trial proceeded; the six-man jury retired to consider its verdict, and after two hours' deliberation returned to the courtroom. Clerk Margaret T. Scott read what had been handed her by the foreman, Melt Williams.

"Not guilty," she announced. There came murmurs of protest from the jury box. Proceedings were suspended while State Attorney Frank Schaub conducted an investigation.

It turned out that Foreman Williams was illiterate, and could neither read nor write. He had placed his mark on a piece of paper handed him.

Another juror, Tom Jones, also was illiterate. "We were 2-4 for conviction," he said. "Then all six of us decided he was guilty as charged."

THE HIGH COST OF SOCIALISM

What standards of efficiency can be expected when government has a monopoly of an essential service?

This excerpt from an editorial in the New York Herald Tribune may help to answer that question: "Ah, the socialist utopia! In Britain, a disgruntled customer complained the other day about what happened when he asked to have his electric meter (the electricity industry is nationalized) moved 15 inches. Seems that, first, an inspector from the electricity board inspected his meter; six weeks later five workmen arrived, two of whom moved the meter, two of whom watched and did nothing, while the fifth set up a portable stove on which he made tea. Then two more men arrived, one to inspect the job and one to put a seal on the moved meter. One thing about the Socialists, they know how to eliminate those nasty profits."

FREEDOM OF CHOICE AT STAKE

There is every evidence that labor legislation will be a major subject of debate in the next Congress.

The drive to repeal section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartly Act, which was passed over by the Senate this year, will be up again. This, if successful, would deprive the states of their existing authority to pass right-to-work laws. There is ample reason to believe that the bulk of the people, including large numbers of union members, are opposed to repeal on grounds of principle. They feel, most strongly, that there is no room in a free country for a compulsory union shop which forces a man to join or lose his job.

But all the controversy will not take place over 14(b). Sentiment is growing in favor of another change in Taft-Hartly. This would make it obligatory for secret ballot elections to be held, under National Labor Relations Board auspices, to determine whether workers concerned wish a particular union to represent them. As of now, that determination is frequently made on a count of authorization cards. This method opens the door wide to

When I heard the verdict, I was greatly surprised.

A third juror, however, one Warren E. Adkins, said, "We all decided he was not guilty."

A fourth juror, Alonzo Howard, said that he himself thought the defendant not guilty, but "We said to Melt Williams 'do anything you want to.' I thought we found him guilty."

abuses and misrepresentations. It does not provide safeguards that are needed if the true sentiment of employees is to be registered. Only a secret ballot can do that.

It is difficult to see how anyone can rationally oppose the secret ballot proposal. It simply guarantees the right of the worker to make his wants known in a way that prevents coercion or misrepresentation.

SAME OLD AID PROGRAM

It would be interesting to know just how many millions in foreign aid we sent to Indonesia before President Sukarno told us that he didn't want any more aid and we should get out.

Of equal interest might be the number of dollars we poured into places like Egypt, India, Pakistan and Cambodia before they began to rebel in various ways. And likewise we wonder how many millions our government poured into Cuba before it became a communist satellite under Castro.

It seems we would have learned a lesson in foreign aid by now—a lesson that we can't buy friendship with dollars. Apparently, we have yet to make this discovery.

EMINENT DOMAIN

In implementing the so-called voting rights bill, federal registrars have engaged in an interesting practice. The registrars in Prentiss, Miss., for example, needed a place to set up business. They said they couldn't find any vacant building to suit their taste. So, with a court condemnation order obtained under the guise of "eminent domain," they commandeered a motel owned by Mrs. Alagena Allen. Then, without her permission, they proceeded to cut doors into her walls, throw out her furniture and change the locks. Thus, say bitter critics, does LBJ further the civil rights of American citizens.

WHITE HOUSE NEWSCAST CUT TO ORDER

It is pretty hard to watch a television newscast these days without LBJ being in the big middle of it. By the very nature of the office the President must make a lot of news but Lyndon Johnson goes far beyond that which is necessary.

The White House press secretary, Bill Moyers, explained the frequency of President

Johnson in the news to reporters this way:
"I don't have to hide the fact from you people that the President is involved in intimate detail in the operation of this government as any president has ever been, and perhaps a great deal more than many..."

Granted that President Johnson's more involved than some Presidents this still doesn't explain why he has been hand picking the news to announce in his televised news conferences.

For example, Arthur Krock of the New York Times says that LBJ released some information recently concerning personal income for August from the budget bureau. It was favorable news.

However, he did not use anything from the reports of two other governmental agencies the same day which revealed a definite slowdown (1) in new housing starts, and (2) in the sales and orders of manufacturers of durable goods. So, it would seem that LBJ is using the publicity machinery of the government as a presidential build-up operation.

The ridiculousness of the President's policy of preempting news that might put him in a favorable light is illustrated with a recent statement by Moyers that "when the missing chlorine barge is located in the Mississippi River the President will announce it."

One of the 42 White House releases on a recent day concerned the future of the whooping crane. How about that? We suggest LBJ might attain better public relations and avoid over exposure by letting Hubert tell about the future of the whooping crane.

The time to visit Australia is now. Why? Continent-hopping travelers may have summer and winter in one season. Both can be enjoyed in a single visit. You can wear ski clothes one day, swim or surfboard the next and spend the relaxing evenings in the same hotel. You can also enjoy the swinging, 1965 look of Sydney in contrast to the stone-age antiquity of the Australian aborigine.

Sydney is world-renowned for its surfing beaches, among them the beautiful beach at Bondi, probably the best known. These beaches are ideal for picnics. The excellent dining rooms at the Hotel Australia, in fact, packs individually prepared box lunches for beach picnics or for day trips by car.

Australia is a country of contrasts; you may go surfing one day and take off for the Snowy Mountains for skiing the next. The climate of the Snowy Mountains is cold the year around; this means warm clothing. Back in Sydney, you can take off for the beach at whim, sunning and surfing at will. The Hotel Australia, from its central location, commands the color, charm and luxury of historic Castle-reagh Street and the civic sweep of Martin Place. So there is something for everybody. A tranquil and gracious hotel whose guest-book reads like a gift-edged Who's Who, the independently owned Hotel Australia specializes in very personal service. Room service is on a twenty-four hour basis and you just dial for breakfast in bed. Everything comes up roses; you couldn't possibly ask for more!

DPS Expects 110 To Die in State's Holiday Traffic

AUSTIN — Past experience indicates some 110 persons will be killed in traffic accidents during the 10-day Christmas-New Year's holiday period, it was reported today by Col. Homer Garrison, Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Garrison said in addition to the grim traffic death projection made by DPS Statistical Services, it is also estimated that there will be 43 homicides and suicides and 42 deaths from accidents other than traffic, for a total violent death toll of 195.

"We would like to appeal once again to the driving public to join us in an all-out effort to cut down on this terrible toll, particularly in traffic where observance of traffic laws and rules of safety can actually do something about it," the DPS director said.

In an effort to call attention to the dangers involved in holiday travel, the DPS will conduct its annual "Operation Deathwatch" during the 10-day period. From 12:01 a.m. December 24 (Christmas Eve) through 11:59 p.m. January 2, violent deaths will be tabulated and the totals announced three times daily from the Department headquarters in Austin.

"We will also have every available patrolman on duty," Garrison said. "These men are on the road to protect and serve the citizens of this state. In addition to the highway patrol, there will be 150 extra patrolmen from other DPS

Christmas Lights Being Installed

Christmas lights on Main Street and the highway will probably be burning Thursday night. If not, they'll be there Friday for sure.

City Superintendent Steve Mosler said Wednesday that TP&L linemen and their equipment are booked to be here for the installation Thursday. Normally the job can be finished in a day, however if an emergency takes them away completion will be delayed accordingly.

City personnel have last year's light strings ready for the installation. As before, there will be 22 strings with 38 lights each. They will be stretched across Main from the intersection to Fourth and across the Highway from the intersection to the east city limit.

Mrs. Dick Cain attended the Monday afternoon meeting of the St. Paul's Guild in the home of Mrs. F. W. Fischer at Era. The program carried out a Christmas theme.

Parochial Teams Lose 2 at Alvord

The tournament at Alvord last week turned out to be only a pair of games for the Sacred Heart teams. It was a single elimination affair, without a consolation bracket, so the opening losses were the only games for the Tigers and Tigerettes.

Playing Alvord the SH girls edged ahead 12-11 at half time and dropped behind in the next half for a 32-24 count.
 Best scorers for the Tigerettes were Mary Wimmer 14,
 Barbara and Joyce Schmitt
 5 each.
 The boys game was an easy

35-11 win for Alvord's Bulldogs. Larry Hess and Willie Wimmer scored 4 each.

This week the Sacred Heart teams will be in the Pilot Point tournament. Next Tuesday they will entertain Lindsay teams on the SH court and the following weekend they'll be in a tournament at Slidell.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Booth of Dallas visited friends here Wednesday afternoon and spent the evening with her mother, Mrs. Bill Loerwald at Gainesville.

The person who is good natured is bound to be imposed upon.

NOTES FROM

Notes for the First Half of December

Probably there is no garden without Narcissus, the gems that bring light when color and sweetness are needed in January, February and March. Since we all love and admire Jonquilla and Campenellii, why not increase our joy by planting some exquisite little beauties which naturally fair well and add so much to the garden.

A must in a bulb collection is Narcissus Bulboodium consocia or the much cherished Hoop-petticoat with its rush-like foliage and rich golden yellow flowers. Very good for rock gardens is N. Canaliculatus, little Polyanthus Narcissus about six inches tall with heads of three to four fragrant flowers. They have a white perianth and globular golden cup. Another little Narcissus is Cyclamineus, which is golden yellow with a downward pointed tube about a half inch wide and slightly frilled at the edge.
 Its petals are sharply turned back giving the little flower a unique look. If you love Cyclamineus but like them larger get Peeping Tom. It is outstanding in its class. Something special for lovers of miniature daffodils is N. Minimus. Its long yellow trumpets are perfect in form and about a half inch long.

Tulips
 If you haven't tried the Tulip species, you should.
 Tulipa Clusiana, known as Lady Tulips or peppermint candy sticks are not large like many Darwin or Cottage Tulips, but they are fine in shape and habit of blooming. When they open their small funnel shaped perianth, they show the outside petals which are white flushed with red.
 They look like peppermint sticks. After they are open later in the day they show the white inner-side and a purplish black base. They naturalize and multiply if planted in the right location.

Narcissus
 Now how about some novelties? They are giants when compared with those mentioned above. All are expensive but they really look expensive when they bloom. Some of these are
 N. Pink Glory, Mother
 Catherine Grullemans, Grulleman's Giant, Confusco and Florissant. Pink Glory has a pure white perianth with a perfectly shaped long and wide trumpet, which after opening yellow shades to lovely pink. Mother Catherine Grulleman is a very perfume.

Write Legibly and Use Zip Numbers, Postmaster Urges

One of the biggest problems postal employees face is illegible handwriting. At Christmastime, when mail volumes skyrocket, this can become a major problem, Postmaster Arthur Endres said today.

"The use of Zip Codes by mailers does help speed up the process because often if the city and state are unreadable the Zip Code will direct the mail to the post office from which it will be delivered. Clerks in that post office, being more familiar with local residents, may be able to figure out the person to whom the mail should be delivered."

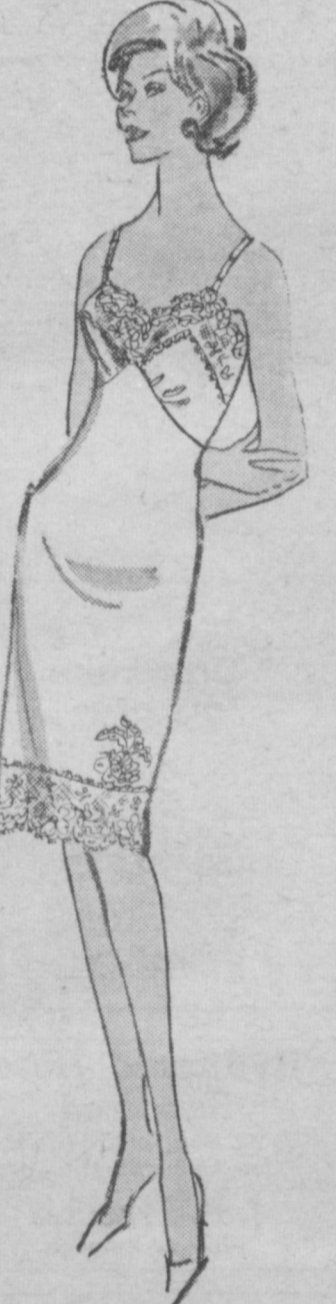

Another significant problem is the number of parcels delayed or actually undelivered because of poor wrapping or packing. Postmaster Arthur Endres urged that special care be taken to see that each package is tightly stuffed and that nothing rattles around inside.

Parcels are generally shipped in bags and often heavier items rest on top of smaller, lighter packages. The postmaster encourages mailers to be a bit cautious and insure all packages.

All parcels should be addressed on only one side and should have the address written somewhere on the inside of the package in case the exterior wrapping should come off. It is a good idea to also enclose a list of the contents.

Poor packaging and illegible or incorrect addressing accounts for about half a million undelivered parcels each year.

Fanning Grocery At Forestburg Is Damaged by Fire

A fire at Forestburg Saturday afternoon damaged the Fanning Grocery Store building and contents. Fortunately the flames were confined to the one building. When first discovered at 1:30 p.m. Forestburgers feared the whole town might go. But Forestburg's Volunteer Fire Department was on the scene in moments, fighting the blaze with its two fire trucks and kept it from spreading. They had it under control when Muenster and Saint Jo fire trucks arrived. The building belongs to Rex Anderson and will need repairs including a roof and ceiling. The fire, of undetermined origin, started in the attic and the ceiling collapsed while neighbors and friends were carrying out store merchandise but there were no injuries. A considerable amount of merchandise was damaged by smoke and water.

What these anti-Vietnam protesters fail to remember is that 4,435 Americans died in the Revolutionary War to provide a country with freedom of protest; 2,260 American deaths reaffirmed our freedom in the War of 1812; 116,516 patriots died in World War I to prevent totalitarianism from wiping out freedom; in World War II 409,399 Americans died in the continuing struggle against tyranny; in Korea 54,246 dedicated Americans made the first stand against Asiatic Communism. Today, every day, more patriots are fighting and dying to protect the American concept of freedom.

In the current school year about 18 million children will be served nutritious noonday meals under the National School Lunch Program. It is administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service, which provides about a fifth of the total cost in cash and food. This program makes it possible for children to enjoy a complete lunch for an average payment of only 27 cents. A tenth of the nearly 3 billion lunches consumed last year were served free or at reduced prices to youngsters who could not afford the full price. About 71,000 public and non-profit private schools are expected to take part in the program this year.

Al Walters Return From 2 Week Trip Seeing 14 States

Mr. and Mrs. Al Walters waited until fall to take their annual vacation and it was worth waiting for. They not only toured 14 states for sight-seeing, they also got acquainted with a new granddaughter, little Amy, daughter of the Claude Walters who live in Highland Park, N.J., and accompanied them on many sight-seeing tours.

Going the Walters visited the beautiful Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows in Belleville, Ill., and stopped for a visit with his sister and family, the Charles Everettes in Olney. The first Sunday they attended Mass in a church 100 years old in Pennsylvania and drove to Abbotstown where they joined Claude and family at the home of his wife's parents, the Bill Stambaugh.

Together they visited the oldest stone Catholic church in America at McCherrystown, Pa., the Gettysburg battle field and cemetery and saw their first covered wooden bridges. After that they toured the Amish settlement in Lancaster, Pa., and headed for the Claude Walters' home in Highland Park.

From then on, days and nights were filled with doing and seeing things. These included Staten Island, Fort Wadsworth, the Verazzano Bridge — largest suspension bridge in the world — and they rode the ferry into Manhattan.

They toured the New York Stock Exchange on Wall Street, visited Old Trinity Church, took the subway to the U.N. and witnessed the general assembly debate on admission of Red China to the United Nations.

Another day they went to Manhattan by way of the Lincoln Tunnel, went shopping at Macy's, saw the Broadway show "Barefoot in the Park," and had dinner at Mamma Leonie's.

Back again another day they saw the filming of the TV show "To Tell the Truth," riding to Manhattan by train to Penn Station. They also attended a special viewing session at CBS studio. They toured Lincoln Center, the new Philharmonic Hall and saw part of a children's concert.

They went to the Empire State Building, walked up Fifth Avenue and passed through Rockefeller Plaza. They visited Carnegie Hall and watched filming of the Jimmy Dean show.

Other highlights in the area: Brooklyn, Battery Tunnel, Greenwich Village, the Bowery and Chinatown.

The Claude Walters also accompanied them on a tour of Washington, D.C., highlighted by a visit to the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception and a conducted tour of the Capital. And they talked by phone to Vincent Becker in nearby Silver Springs, Md.

Returning to Texas Mr. and Mrs. Walters took the skyline drive through Virginia and visited in Knoxville, Tenn. They were away two weeks.

Over $7 Million Paid by Texas 65 In First 2 Years

The Texas 65 Health Insurance Association held its second annual meeting Monday November 22, in Dallas.

Association president H. Lewis Rietz told representatives of the 64 private insurance companies, which underwrite the benefits of the voluntary health insurance program, that Texas 65 had paid claims in excess of $7.1 million during its first two years of operation.

Texas 65 was authorized by unanimous vote of the 1963 Texas Legislature to offer low cost health insurance to all Texans 65 years of age and over regardless of health. The first enrollment period for the program was conducted in October of that year. The first claim check was issued the following month.

Rietz stated that over 40,000 senior citizens had received claim checks from Texas 65 since the program started two years ago.

He noted that Texas 65 now processes over 675 claims per week and the average claim is $183.

He had high praise for the insurance agents, medical profession, hospitals and the press, radio and TV of Texas for helping make the program the success it has been by informing the eligible citizens of the state of its existence and benefits.

Enrollment in Texas 65 is open to residents of the state who are 65 years of age or older during open enrollment periods only, except in the case of those who turn 65 between open enrollment periods. They have 31 days following their 65th birthday in which to enroll.

No additional open enrollment periods were scheduled at the annual meeting.

Rietz again urged senior citizens to retain their Texas 65 coverage, or any other health insurance plan they now have, until they are sure of the coverage of Medicare which does not offer any protection until July of next year.

Muenster High Boys returned home with a trophy from their first action of the basketball season. They were runners-up of the champ division in last week's tournament at Callisburg.

In their opener with Lindsay the Hornets took a short lead in the first half and improved their margin to 32-22 in the second half.

Next one, with Whitesboro B, the Hornets had a strong third quarter to overcome a 22-15 half time deficit and then see-sawed until the final spurge for a 42-38 lead.

Decatur B outclassed the Hornets 50-28 in the champ final.

An initial loss of 41-24 put the Muenster High girls in the consolation bracket, where they nudged Whitesboro B 25-22 for a chance at the consolation trophy. However Valley View girls blasted their hopes with a 46-15 wallop in the consolation final.

Decatur B teams were the winners of both champ trophies, Muenster boys and Callisburg girls took the two runner-up prizes, and Callisburg boys and Valley View girls were consolation winner.

Next action for the two MHS teams will be a tournament at Pilot Point this weekend. Both will meet the host teams in their openers Thursday night, girls playing at 8 and boys at 9.

Date for the party is Monday, December 20, the time is 9:30 a.m. and the place is the VFW Post Home.

Members also planned a gift exchange among themselves agreeing to keep the cost of the gifts around one dollar.

Weight Reduction Tips Offered by Medical Society

Are last year's clothes easier to forget than to zip?

Is your belt getting tighter? If so, you may be on the "weigh" to more pounds than you need.

Instead of wishing for a slimmer you, try reducing. The best diet plan takes more backbone than wishbone, but the formula is simple: eat less, exercise more, says a new leaflet, from the American Medical Association.

Plan to lose no more than one to two pounds each week. Rapid weight loss may leave you tired, irritable and vulnerable to disease. What's more, pounds that are shed in a hurry often return just as quickly. If you are more than ten pounds overweight, consult your physician before beginning to diet.

Calories are units of energy found in all foods. If the foods you eat contain more calories than your body uses in daily activity, the excess is stored as fat. To reduce, you'll have to cut your caloric intake or exercise more.

People who lead moderately active lives need about 15 calories per pound to maintain their weight. To estimate your daily needs for a slimmer figure, multiply your ideal weight by 15, or by a slightly lower figure if you are not very active. Keep your caloric intake at that level.

When you're subtracting calories, don't subtract all the nutrients you need. Your body still needs the proteins, carbohydrates, fats, vitamins and minerals that are contained in the basic food groups — milk; meat or substitutes; fruit and vegetables; bread and cereals. Cut down on your portions, but balance your diet. If your stomach cries for a larger amount of food, fill in the space with low-calorie foods such as celery, radishes and consommes.

Americans waste $100 million annually on phony reducing products. Forget this nonsense and stick to will power.

Exercise will help your campaign. Remember: Weight control is a matter of balancing food intake with activity output.

global conquest. Stopping the red menace is everybody's business. That's undeniable. Then why aren't more countries in the fight? Especially Britain and France, who should be extra grateful to us for helping them in two world wars.

It's an ironic situation. In all its fighting this country has not acquired an inch of territory. All it did was help others. And it is still helping, actually helping all free countries. It would appreciate some help from those countries but they don't respond.

Most of us would be delighted to pay as we go if we could only catch up from paying as we've gone.
