Audit report indicates improving MMH finances

by Janet Felderhoff

Brandon Durbin, CPA owner of the audit firm, Durbin and Company of Lubbock, presented the hospital's audited financial statements to the Muenster Memorial Hospital Board at the Nov. 15 regular meeting. The report was favorable. "Your net bottom line for the year was a loss of $80,000 as opposed to a loss last year of $286,000," Durbin explained. "You have a $200,000 improvement to the net bottom line."

Revenues broken down by patient category showed that revenues from inpatients increased approximately $143,000.00, from $814,000.00 to $957,000.00. Revenue from outpatient services increased approximately $860,000.00, from $854,000.00 to $1,714,000.00.

"Basically you've doubled your outpatient department," noted Durbin. "In fact, you had a 101 percent increase in outpatient services for the year."

In a motion made by Jack Murdock and seconded by Jerry Hess, the board authorized Jack Endres, MMH administrator to borrow money from Muenster State Bank if needed for expenses during the month. This was necessary due to a cash flow problem caused by tax statements not being sent out on time by the CCAD.

Mr. Endres informed the board that a letter had been received from the Diocese of Fort Worth. It was concerning the fact that the diocese had written to Aetna requesting that the Muenster Hospital be added to the list of facilities to be used by their subscribers.

Jack Murdock said that would be good news to the many diocesan employees in Muenster. The change probably was made because many letters had been written recently requesting it, said Murdock.

Board members present were Jerry Hess, Lora Hennigan, Duane Knabe, Jack Murdock, Chas Bayer, and Phil Endres. Unable to attend were Don Flusche, Werner Becker, Jr., and Dennis Hess.

THANKSGIVING GREETINGS are sent to our readers from The Muenster Enterprise staff, with hopes for a peaceful, safe and happy holiday with family and friends. In the background for this photo is a super-size symbolic Thanksgiving turkey made by Sharlene Hartman. She and husband Bobby and their children placed it in the side yard of Alvin and Joanie Hartman's home on Oak Street. Shown, l to r, are Dave Fette, Brenda Rigsby, Elfreda Fette, Linda Flusche, Alvin Hartman, Janet Felderhoff and Janie Hartman. As we reach the close of our 59th year, The Muenster Enterprise offers thanks to subscribers, advertisers and friends for support, cooperation and good will throughout the year. May this be a memorable holiday that glows into next Thanksgiving.

MUENSTER HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR CODY SICKING signed a letter of intent to run track at Lamar University in Beaumont for the 1996-97 school year. Lamar is an NCAA Division I college competing in the Sunbelt Conference. The early signing on Nov. 14 was witnessed by his parents, Kathy and Clifford Sicking, seated, and Muenster High School Coaches Ted Heers and Randy Tankersley. Janie Hartman Photo

KIRK KLEMENT accepts the traveling trophy from Pam Drumond of Ford Motor Credit Company on Nov. 21, 1995, in an award ceremony at Endres Motor Company. Presentation of the award was followed with a reception for all dealership employees at The Center Restaurant in Muenster. This award is presented to the dealer with the highest finance ratio with Ford Motor Credit Co. during any given month. Every month the dealer with the highest percentage of contracts financed with Ford Motor Credit Co., compared to the total of retail sales, wins the traveling trophy. Janie Hartman Photo

Chamber lighting contest adopts new format

As Thanksgiving 1995 becomes a memory, the town begins to take on the appearance of Christmas. Once again the Muenster Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring their annual Christmas Lighting contest to encourage residents to innovate unique and interesting decorating ideas. Sparkling Enchanted Storybook Land is again the contest theme.

Instead of ballots by area residents, this year a panel of out of town judges will select contest winners. To be sure that your residence will be included in the judging, call the Muenster Chamber at 759-2227. Anyone outside the city limits must call the chamber to be judged.

Prizes of $50, $25, and $15 will be awarded for first, second, and third place in the following categories: Best Religious, Closest to Theme (Sparkling Enchanted Storybook Land), Most Humorous, and Best Rural. Most Elaborate Overall (city or rural) will receive $100 for first place and $40 for second place.

Judging will take place sometime during the week of Dec. 18-22.

DR. MICHAEL LINDER raises his baton to lead his 65 members of Cooke County Chorale and 26 members of the orchestra from the University of North Texas in the performance of The Requiem by Johannes Brahms on Friday, Nov. 17, 1995, at 8 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church. The Veterans Memorial performance was preceded by the presentation of the Colors by two members of the Muenster VFW Post #6205. For the second time in its 25-year history, the Cooke County Chorale performed to a standing-room-only crowd. Dave Fette Photo

Valley View to vote for extended local calling

by Alvin Fuhrman
Muenster Telephone

Subscribers in the Valley View telephone exchange will receive ballots in the mail over the weekend. They will be voting on whether or not to extend their local calling area.

The Valley View exchange has petitioned the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) to expand its local calling area to five more surrounding telephone exchanges. These exchanges are: Gainesville, Muenster, Myra, Pilot Point and Sanger. The Myra service will give subscribers the ability to call cellular telephones without a toll charge. The PUC has directed Muenster Telephone Corporation of Texas to ballot all customers in this exchange. The ballot is to determine if over 70% of the customers want the additional service.

Expanded Toll-Free Local Calling will allow them to call and be called by the requested exchanges on a local call basis (no toll charges). All exchanges that pass the ballot will be added to their local calling area for a maximum monthly per line charge of up to $3.50 for residence lines and $7.00 for each business line.

If all five or fewer exchanges pass the ballot and are approved, the maximum monthly fee would be $3.50 for residence and $7.00 for business lines within the petitioning exchange of Valley View. The fees associated with Expanded Toll-Free Local calling are MANDATORY and are in addition to your basic local telephone service rates. The fees will apply until Muenster's next rate case. Although this charge will be eliminated at that time, your basic local service rate may be subject to change.

Extended toll-free local calling will be granted to each exchange with a "Y" vote of 70% of the people who actually return the ballot to Austin. Exchanges that fail will not be added to your local calling area. If all exchanges fail the ballot, your service will not change and you will not be billed an additional monthly fee.

If your telephone number is unlisted, you are not required to write it on the ballot. Only one vote per subscriber account. After marking your ballot, sign your name and return the ballot to the Public Utility Commission of Texas in the enclosed self-addressed stamped envelope. For Valley View, your return ballot must be postmarked no later than December 4, 1995. The PUC will tally the votes and give the results.

Other petitions pending for expanding the local calling area of exchanges of Muenster Telephone include Muenster, Valley View East and Rosston exchanges. Muenster is requesting extended local calling to Gainesville, Valley View, Valley View East, Saint Jo and Sanger. Ballots for Muenster are due to be mailed out December 20, 1995.

Valley View East which serves the north Lake Ray Roberts area is requesting service to Gainesville, Pilot Point, Tioga, Sanger and Muenster. Ballots for the Valley View East subscribers will be mailed out December 21.

Rosston is requesting extended local calling to Gainesville, Saint Jo, Valley View, Sanger and Decatur. It is expected that the ballots for Rosston will be mailed out sometime in January.

No petition for extended local calling has been filed by subscribers of Forestburg or Myra.

THE GREAT AMERICAN SMOKE SCREAM was observed last Thursday by elementary and middle school students from Muenster ISD and Sacred Heart. Students met in the street between the schools and screamed. This nationwide event, sponsored by the American Cancer Society, focused on, and involves, kids while educating them on the dangers of smoking. It is hoped that it will prevent teenagers from starting to smoke. Janie Hartman Photo

Good News!

You have crowned the year with your bounty, and your paths overflow with a rich harvest; the untilled meadows overflow with it, and rejoicing clothes the hills. The fields are garmented with flocks and the valleys blanketed with the grain. They shout and sing for joy. PSALM 65:12-14

Letters to the Editor

Editor,
On behalf of Cooke County United Way and all the people and lives who are or will be touched by United Way sponsored programs; I, along with Mr. Philip Slater and Mr. Scott Baum Bach (Muenster Division Chairmen), would like to express our thanks and gratitude to all of the individuals and businesses that contributed to this year's campaign.

As you know, United Way could not be successful without the thoughtfulness and generosity expressed by people like you. So again, thanks to all of you who made the Muenster Division Campaign a success.

Sincerely,
Susan M. Metzler

Editor,

A special "THANK YOU" for all these friends that slander my name "HEY, THIS GUY IS A DRUG DEALER." So I don't smoke your cigarettes and drink your brew, what must I do? "OH" this guy must do something illegal 'cause everybody does something and we can't figure out what he does. Hey, look, he's got long hair, he must be a dopesmoker or pillpopper. NO THANK YOU. I'm not interested in being like all my doper friends (clean cut, conservative, Mr. Conformist) and by the way, Mr. Pharmacist I have never sold any controlled substance that you sell. Nor any controlled substance (powder) like Mr. Clinton. Does anyone object to this statement? If so, please call me. Or better yet, call the police and give them all the evidence that you and your friends have gathered over the last 20 years. I work my butt off and save my money and grow as my father taught me to do. But there are those among you that cannot understand this concept. That same old "OH MY GOD" he must be selling drugs to make so much money to pay his bills.

Mystery friends of Bryan's (undercover gossip gatherers) reports of latest rumors include "Oh, Bryan is having a hard time paying his bills 'cause see now he is a drug lord and two of his mules (drug traffickers) got caught and lost the stash. See he uses the colored lights in Myra to give code messages to his 'bad people' driving by in cars and flying overhead in airplanes so they know where to drop the drugs." NO, STUPID. I'm trying to make this world a beautiful place to be. That's why countless cars drive back and forth. And go ahead - get in your airplane and fly over at night. It's the most beautiful place you'll see.

Thank you for reading my letter. Have a thankful Thanksgiving.

Letter to the Editor,

Less than 10% of Texas voters decided for the other 90% of alarmingly indifferent Texans which 11 of 14 amendments would become part of Texans' unique constitution.

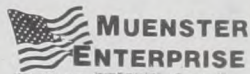

Voters cannot ignore the reality that each ballot proposition is the brainchild of a special interest group--utilities, banking, communications, corporate, minority, senior-citizen, environmental, etc.--that will make certain its supporters arrive at those voting booths to mark their ballots in the "right" squares. A prime example (without condoning or condemning it) is Proposition No. 4, legalizing home-equity loans. Whether this amendment is in the best interest of Texas homeowners (home-equity borrowing vs. foreclosures) only time will tell. There is no doubt, however, that home-equity lending is in the best interest of its special interest promoter, the Texas Bankers Association.

Voters should be alert to a new breed of public relations firms devoted to so-called "grass roots" lobbying. Behind the swing in public support for Proposition No. 4 (20% in 1992 vs. 58% in 1994) is Texas Bankers Association's hired public relations firm, Public Strategies, Inc., manned by an impressive list of politically-savvy professionals. Founded in 1988 by Sen. Bentsen's campaign professionals Jack Martin and Matthew Dowd, the firm has since been joined by another Sen. Bentsen "ex", former press aide Jack DeVore, and by Pres. Clinton's former media affairs director, Jeff Eller. S.W. Bell hired Public Strategies; S.W. Bell won its fight in the telephone deregulation battle. The Mexican government is among its clients. It's rumored that Texas utilities plan to enlist Public Strategies in its efforts to prevent retail electric service.

That 11 amendments were approved by less than 10% of Texas voters lends credence to the probability that those who stood to gain the most were best represented in our November 7 election. Voter apathy is a chilling reminder that failure to exercise our significant voter power could cost Americans the right to control their own government. The future of our children and grandchildren is in our voting rights. Don't let them down!

Dear folks,

Am enclosing a clipping from yesterday's paper. Thought you might enjoy the article.

When I came to Amarillo in 1931, we had one Mexican church and Sacred Heart Cathedral. Now we have fourteen and each has a large parish. Many of our new members are Catholic from the East. St. Mary's has a mixed choir and is directed by Jim Rausher who is the instructor of music at Amarillo College and plays the piano for our symphony. Our organist is the daughter of a retired Presbyterian minister. Organists are hard to acquire. Glad the "Lukes" are carrying on.

Today's world has brought about many changes. We, too, have many converts. The Benedictine Fathers have had to make numerous changes too, especially for weddings - I am amazed but realize that I'll soon be 94. Most of my friends have passed on. Best wishes to all of you.

Words cannot express our gratefulness for the generosity that the Muenster people showed in the death of our beloved wife, mother and grandmother, George Mae Trachta. We would like to thank everyone for their prayers, memorials, flowers, food and just being there in our time of need.

A special thanks to Father Frowin Schoech, Father David Bellinghausen, Father Fisher, those who served, and the musicians who took part in the service.

Furthermore, we would like to thank Dr. Edd Advincula and the nursing staff of Muenster Memorial Hospital. A special thanks to Home Health Care for being there during her illness, to all who were there for her in any way before her death and afterwards. She loved all of you and we don't know what she would have done without you. We also give a special thanks to the Catholic Daughters and all of her friends who prepared the food and served the meal, and the Knights of Columbus for the use of the hall.

Because of your generosity, a Memorial will be made in her name to Muenster Hospital for their special efforts during her stay.

Thank you and God bless you all.

MRS. and MR. ROBERT ZIETEK
...nee Jamie Walterscheid...

Couple exchange vows Nov. 4

The wedding of Jamie Walterscheid and Robert Zietek was held in Sacred Heart Church of Muenster on Saturday, Nov. 4, 1995. Father David Bellinghausen OSB was celebrant of the Nuptial Mass and officiated for their double ring vows at 5 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of James and Theresa Walterscheid of Muenster. She is a 1988 graduate of Muenster High School and a 1993 graduate of the University of Texas at Austin. The groom is the son of Janusz and Irena Zietek of Krakow, Poland. He graduated from high school in Krakow in 1991, and was attending university in Krakow before moving to the United States.

Before an altar decorated with a pair of spiral candelabra holding lighted tapers entwined with English ivy, and the Unity candle on a tall candle stand, the bride was given in marriage by her father.

For her wedding she chose an informal ivory bridal gown, designed with ankle-length skirt and an unconstructed jacket with lace back.

Her bridal bouquet, designed by Lora's, was a romantic cascade arrangement of CaraMia roses, Bridal Blush roses, white freesias, Queen Anne's lace, and English ivy. For sentiment and tradition she carried a crystal rosary from her late grandmother, Mrs. Joe (Gertie) Fisher.

ATTENDANTS
Tara (Walterscheid) Bayer of Muenster was her sister's matron-of-honor.

Bridesmaids were two best friends of the bride from the University of Texas, Susan Garanzvay of Dallas and Lori McWilliams of Midland.

They wore black, long sleeved, ankle-length dresses with gold buttons down the front, and tied in the back. They carried similar versions of the bride's bouquet.

Ryan Bayer of Muenster, bride's brother-in-law and friend of the groom was best man.

Groomsmen were Ricky Walterscheid and Joe Walterscheid, bride's brothers and both of Muenster.

Ushers were Mike Pagel of Carrollton and Jeff Walterscheid of Austin, cousins of the bride.

The Candlelight String Quartet presented beautiful traditional instrumental selections as guests assembled, and sacred music during the Mass.

During the wedding liturgy, Jean Pagel of Lubbock, cousin and friend of the bride, gave the Readings from the Old and New Testaments. Eucharistic Ministers were Janie and Roger Taylor, friends of the couple; Lorena Taylor, a relative of the bride; Dorothy and Paul Fisher, great-aunt and uncle of the bride; Deanna Hellman, cousin of the bride; and Regina Pels.

RECEPTION

A reception, dinner and dance followed in the Knights of Columbus Hall of Muenster, hosted by the bride's parents for 100 guests.

The Candlelight String Quartet provided dinner music. Deann Bayer, a friend of the bride played for dancing. Terry and Melvin Hess and Nancy Lippe prepared and served the dinner.

Dianne Pagel, cousin and friend of the bride, secured guest signatures in the bride's book.

A white, tiered wedding cake was decorated with fresh fruit and ivy. The groom's German chocolate cake held a top ornament of a hand-made wooden train given to Robert by Jamie in Poland, to commemorate the way they met - at the train station in Krakow. Both cakes were made by Betty Rose Walterscheid. Justin Hess and Megan Lippe were cake servers.

Decorations for the reception area were made by Carol Henscheid and Betty Rose Walterscheid.

Wedding guests came from Muenster, Dallas, Carrollton, Fredericksburg, Denton, Houston, San Antonio and Austin.

This coming summer, the couple plans to go to Poland to visit his family and also to Prague, and then hopefully to England and Scotland, Amsterdam and the Ukraine to visit friends. They will reside in Muenster until they move to Austin to continue their studies.

Yearly "Light Up a Life" sponsored by Hospice

The Cooke County Home Hospice Auxiliary will hold "Light Up a Life" dedication services Sunday, Nov. 26 at Bealls Dept. Store in Gainesville at 2:00 p.m.

President Norma Williams will welcome guests and Valley View Methodist Lay Speaker Jeanne Cullington will offer the prayer dedication. Longtime original Hospice Auxiliary member Mary Gill will speak on Hospice. Music will be provided by the Children's Choir at First Baptist Church. The Hospice family will light the tree to signal the LUAL season.

Co-chairwomen of the event this year are Angela Antonetti of Muenster and Denise Pearse of Valley View. Trees and tables will be at Bealls, Tom Thumb, and the Factory Mall Nov. 26-Dec. 14. Various groups and individuals will sit at trees to accept your donations. Or mail donations to Box 1352, Gainesville, Texas 76241. All donated monies go to the care of Home Hospice Cooke County patients.

Society to hold bake sale

The Cooke County Heritage Society will hold its annual Christmas Bake Sale on Friday, December 1 in the lobbies of the First State Bank and Guaranty National Bank between 9:00 a.m. and noon. People wanting to donate baked goods should bring them to the Morton Museum of Cooke County on Thursday, November 30 before 4:00 p.m. Proceeds from the sale will be used to help support the Morton Museum and its programs.

For further information, please contact the museum at 668-8900.

KAITLIN HESSE

Kaitlin Angeline Hesse celebrated her first birthday with a party at her home on Sunday, Oct. 29. Her parents, Anne and Neil Hesse hosted a grilled chicken dinner at noon for family members.

Special guests included big brother Matthew; grandparents Joe and Ruth Felderhoff and Bernard and Agnes Hesse; Godparents Christy and Bert Hesse and children Joe, Rebekah and John Paul. Also attending were Janet, Ken and David Hesse; Rose Felderhoff; Jack, Jenny and Emily White; and Kristin LeBrasseur.

VFW Auxiliary sponsors In Lieu of Cards

The Muenster Ladies Auxiliary to Post #6205 will again sponsor "In Lieu of Christmas Cards," as a project to benefit their local Relief Fund. Chairmen are Frances Bayer, Rt. 1, Box 1, Muenster 76252 or Juanita Knabe, P.O. Box 474, Muenster. Donations and names should be sent to either one. Deadline is Dec. 17, 1995.

Capture the spirit with "A Christmas Carol"

Butterfield Stage invites you to capture the spirit of the holiday season by joining them for a performance of their upcoming production of The Christmas Carol. This new adaptation of the Dickens' classic, designed as a performance piece, emphasizes the spirit of the original text and rounds with the poignancy and merriment of the classic tale. The box office began accepting reservations for the performances slated for December 1, 2, 8, 9, 14, 15, 16, 21, and 22 from BSP season members on Monday, November 13 and from the general public on November 20. All performances will begin at 7:30 PM nightly.

By February 1844 there were eight separate productions playing in England; it reached the American stage in time for the 1844 Yule season. The tale continued to be staged throughout the years, with H. Philip Bolton's Dickens on Stage (1987) listing 357 different productions for stage and screen.

One of the elements that makes this Christmas classic so appealing is its suitability for adaptation. The characters and tale are easily captured in a variety of styles.

Cast in the local production ensemble is Connie Cason, David Chapman, Kit Chase, Tanya Chase, Tommy Eddows, Jim Fuller, Michael Haseloff, Taren Hall, Chick Koval, Shane Lee, Shannon Lunsford, Martin Richardson, and Megan Ward.

For more information or tickets call the box office at 817/665-8152 or visit the theatre at 201 S. Denton, Monday through Friday from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. and 2-4 p.m.

Halloween birthday party honors Clayton

A Halloween birthday party in honor of Clayton Rohmer's first birthday was celebrated on Oct. 28 at his home. A barbecue was served along with a special pumpkin cake made by his mother. Clayton's cousins enjoyed playing games such as apple on a string, hot apple, and making their own unique Halloween treat bags. Clayton's actual birthday was Oct. 24.

Helping Clayton celebrate was his big sister Delana. Special guests included great-grandparents Frances Zimmerer, and John J. and Edith Hess; grandparents Wilfred and Virginia Hess, and Tony and Marjorie Rohmer; Ricky (Godfather), Donna, Cody and Kayla Hess; Renee (Godmother), Jeff and Tony Schneiderjan. Also cousins, aunts and uncles Billy,

CLAYTON ROHMER

Unable to attend were Uncle Adam Schneiderjan, Aunt Cindy Rohmer. Sending special birthday wishes to Clayton were Sharon, David, Anthony and Amy Reed.

Laurie, Daniel and Amanda Rohmer; Kenny, Jayna, Kalyn and Holly Rohmer; Steve, Kim, Nicole and Michelle Rohmer.

Demi and Dalton celebrate 2nd birthday

Demi and Dalton Koelzer, children of Jim (Smoke) and Carol Koelzer celebrated their second birthday with two parties. Their actual birthday is Nov. 2.

On Oct. 28 a lasagna dinner party was hosted by their parents. A decorated Dalmatian birthday cake and ice cream were also served. Pictures were taken and gifts exchanged.

Guests included grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Earl Koelzer, Sr., Louie Koelzer, Molly Sicking, their sister Jacé and brother Wesley Koelzer.

A special birthday party was hosted in the home of their aunt Kathy Grewing and Chuck Cheney on Nov. 4. The day started out with Demi and Dalton taking their first pony ride.

The house was decorated with Dalmatian balloons and table cloth, and each had their own Dalmatian puppy. A Dalmatian piñata puppy hung above the table with ribbons and bows. A hamburger supper with all the trimmings was served along with a Dalmatian birthday cake made by Betty Rose Walterscheid.

The best part of the day was that the twins shared birthday honors with their grandmother, Doris Grewing, whose birthday is Nov. 8.

Traditions of Thanksgiving

by Kelly Rigler
Most everyone knows what the celebration of Thanksgiving is about. It is a time to give thanks for all the blessings and good tidings that one has received in the past year. The most common tradition is probably that of getting together with one's family. But, my family goes beyond this tradition. The family traditions of Thanksgiving are special and in my point of view, can not be beat.

Thanksgiving at my house starts out with the whole family coming over to our house. Talking can be heard, and there are arguments about who will win what football game. Lunch is delicious, of course. It consists of turkey and all the other usual Thanksgiving trimmings. Each family has a special dish that they bring each year. Some of these foods are not seen at any other time of the year, so they are rare treats.

After everyone has caught up with their talking, and has finished eating, the house is cleaned up. Most of the family leaves at this time, with the exception of the brave few. Why brave, you ask? Because the next tradition is watching the Dallas Cowboy game. There is much turmoil and fuss during this time. More often than not, "the boys" give us a win.

The most favorite part of Thanksgiving for me though, is decoration for Christmas. For as long as I can remember, I have been in charge of decorating our house for the holidays. And this is no simple job. It takes all of four days to complete. My uncle helps me put lights on the roof, but other than that, I am on my own.

So the Thanksgiving holidays help mark the beginning of the Christmas holidays. Thanksgiving is important in most everyone's families, and for every family, there is a built in set of traditions.

History of Thanksgiving

by Wendy Pels
Thanksgiving is a day set aside for giving thanks to God for blessings we received during the year. People celebrate Thanksgiving by having big feasts and praying for what they are thankful.

The first Thanksgiving in New England was celebrated with harvest festivals and thanking God for all He had done for the people. This is one reason why Thanksgiving takes place in the fall after all the crops have been harvested.

There was a story that says there was a dreadful winter in Plymouth, Massachusetts, where it killed more than half the members of the colony. Then hope arose in the summer of 1621 when the crops started to grow and there was plentiful food to go around. In the fall of that year, Governor William Bradford arranged for a day to be set aside to give thanks to God for the crops.

The first Thanksgiving in America was strictly religious. On December 4, 1619, thirty-eight English settlers arrived at Berkeley Plantation. They observed this day as day of giving thanks to God. Modern America celebrates Thanksgiving on the fourth Thursday in November.

In Canada, during the early years, the people celebrated Thanksgiving on the last Monday in October. In 1957 the government changed the date to the second Monday in October. The Canadians celebrate Thanksgiving like we do here in America.

Today Thanksgiving is a day of giving thanks to God for all he has done for us. We celebrate Thanksgiving with food such as turkey and cranberry sauce. Before the meal my family and I say prayer thanking God. Then we eat the meal. Thanksgiving is an important holiday to all people.

In Thanksgiving

by Tanya Knauf
As the holiday season becomes closer and closer, more and more people become involved with the everyday bustle and bustle of holiday preparations. Holiday shopping becomes another item to add to a busy schedule. Other holiday chores are included into the everyday lifestyle. Bills from early shopping are added on top of other bills. With all of this action, where is there time for relaxation, communication, and gratitude?

Thanksgiving is just the time to renew yourself from these hectic daily jobs. It is time to enjoy everything you have, Thanksgiving is a time to relax and recuperate from stressful times. The day should be a time to visit with family and friends. It is a time of turkey and dressing, and football. Family, friends, and fun is exactly what Thanksgiving is all about!

For most people around the United States, Thanksgiving is celebrated in exactly this way. A huge meal is prepared and the television is full of NFL football games, previews and reports. Children and parents enjoy their time off from work and school for this national event. Though this is a typical Thanksgiving holiday, I believe something is missing. What ever happened to giving thanks, the TRUE meaning of Thanksgiving?

Thanksgiving should be a time of appreciation. It is a time to recognize just how lucky each of us actually are. We should be thankful for friendships, our homes and other needs often over-looked each day. Many others around the world are not as fortunate as we are. Be thankful for what we have, and realize that many others may not be as lucky as we are!

This Thanksgiving holiday, we should enjoy our time off, the great food and the NFL football, but we must remember to give thanks for all and everything we and our families enjoy year around. If we appreciate the gifts we are given this Thanksgiving, we are more likely to have a better holiday. WE will feel more relaxed and have a more enjoyable time with family and friends! Why not give a few moments of silence for personal gratitude? We can never be too thankful for what we have received!

Christmas Traditionalism

by Chrissy Yetter
Once Thanksgiving is over, it will be time to enter into another Christmas season. People will begin shopping for Christmas presents, sending cards to old friends they have not seen in years, and spreading holiday cheer. On the other hand, malls will be crowded, people will become hurried and irritable, and by Christmas some people will not feel like spreading holiday cheer.

Every year, it is tradition for my family to begin decorating for Christmas shortly after the Thanksgiving meal is completed. My Mom, Dad, Grandmother and I put on some Christmas music, make some hot chocolate, and begin bringing boxes of decorations down from the attic. We have been doing this for as long as I can remember, and I hope to keep this tradition alive for many years to come.

For weeks before Christmas, my Mom busies herself shopping while my Dad stays home to wrap the presents. As Christmas draws near, a feeling of excitement swirls through the air like an Arctic wind. Finally school lets out and we begin our break from classes. Every year on Christmas Eve, we have our Christmas dinner with all of my relatives.

For me Christmas is truly a special and memorable event.

Sports Trivia

Bobby Cruickshank lost the 1934 U.S. Open Golf Tournament when, in joy, he tossed his club into the air and shouted "Thank you, God" after his shot bounced out of the water and on to the green. While celebrating, his club conked him on the head, knocking him down. Dazed, he putted the next 7 holes and went from 1st place to 3rd.

Tina Klement honored at UNT Nov. 15

Tina Renee Klement, daughter of Dale and Charlotte Klement, was inducted into the Golden Key International Honor Society during a ceremony and reception on November 15 at the University of North Texas in Denton at the Student Union building. Dale and Charlotte attended the ceremony.

The purpose of the Golden Key is to recognize and encourage scholastic achievement and excellence in all undergraduate fields of study. Membership to this selective organization is limited to the top 15% of the students and by invitation only. Golden Key was founded to promote, recognize and encourage upper-division students. The Honor Society is chartered on leading campuses throughout the United States and several foreign countries.

Tina is a Senior level student at the University of North Texas majoring in Kinesiology with a minor in Math. After receiving her degree at UNT she plans to continue her education in the field of Physical Therapy. Tina is a 1992 graduate of Muenster High School.

Correction

The name of one Muenster ISD student, Jacob Luke, was inadvertently omitted from the high school honor roll list submitted to the Muenster Enterprise for publication in last week's edition.

Not Like Home Sweet Home

The days drag by so slowly
And we lose contact with friends.
Our minds don't always function
Like they use to way - back - when.

At times it does not matter
In an aging person's life -
If it's Monday or Friday.
If it's morning or it's night.

Life sometimes gets so boring
When we reach the upper years,
Some of us suffer heartaches
And can't keep away the tears.

There are those who understand
In this world we travel through,
Who are both kind and thoughtful -
So sincere in all they do . . .

Please drop by and say hello
Or just sit awhile and read.
You'd be doing us a favor
And you'd be thanked for the deed.

You see, I'm in a rest home,
No one here can live alone.
Although we're treated special
It is not like Home Sweet Home.

At St. Richard's Villa, we are very thankful for our families, friends and community who share their lives with us and whom we are very much a part of.

Cardinals fly past Tigers in playoffs

The Sacred Heart Tigers traveled southeast to Marlin Friday night for the TAPPS Class 1A state semifinal football playoff game. The Tigers earned a playoff berth after upsetting Pantego on Nov. 10 and advanced as the district's runner-up. They were then challenged by district 2 champions, the Saint Paul Cardinals of Shiner.

After heavy rains earlier in the day soaked the Marlin High School Stadium, misty rain continued to fall throughout the evening making conditions sloppy and wet. "Our offense struggled. The conditions were more in favor of Saint Paul because of their size. A muddy field hampers our small defense over a larger defense," commented Coach John Nasche.

"The game was the end of a long hard year. It was one hurdle more we couldn't overcome," Nasche continued, "We played hard and had chances to win in the end, but it just wasn't meant to be."

Saint Paul's took the opening kick to the 34 yard line. The Tigers defense forced a punt 4 plays later on 4th and 14.

Sacred Heart's first attempt at offense was fumbled away, giving the Cardinals possession on their 47 yard line. Saint Paul's got in 4 good plays before Sacred Heart's defense and a penalty forced the Cardinals to punt on 4th and 20.

It was 3 plays and punt for the Tigers giving their opponents the ball near midfield. Saint Paul's controlled the ball for 13 plays, banging up the middle on short runs, into the 2nd quarter. The Cardinals finally lost flight with a John Bartush sack and an incomplete pass.

The teams exchanged punts for two series of plays each. Then an intercepted pass ended a Tiger drive. From the Tiger 45, a shotgun hike saw Cardinal quarterback Randy Herman take off on a 55 yard touchdown run. But the celebration turned to the Tiger side of the field when a clipping flag nullified the play, as the first half ended scoreless.

The Tigers took the ball to begin the second half. From their 35, three Joseph McCoy runs carried Sacred Heart into Cardinal territory, but the Tigers came up a yard short and Saint Paul's took over at their 40. Three runs spotted the ball on the Tiger 41. The next play Sam Rodriguez found an opening up the middle for a touchdown. Herman added the extra point and the Cardinals took a 7-0 lead midway through the 3rd quarter.

Scott Frost got in a 16 yard run before the Tigers offense was shut down, punting the ball away. The teams again exchanged possessions going into the final quarter.

The Cardinals continued to move the ball against the Tiger defense including a fumbled punt attempt that turned into a 35 yard gain. Saint Paul got down to the 15 yard line where Jake McCoy caught the quarterback for a loss. The Tigers held for three more plays, then took over on the 19.

An 11 yard run by Frost and a 22 yard gainer by Joseph McCoy took the Tigers to midfield. Frost gained another six, but a quarterback sack and an incomplete pass returned the ball to Saint Paul's. It again was 3 runs and out for the Cardinals, giving the Tigers the ball on their 19 yard line. Sacred Heart went to the air on 4th and 3 on their 26 yard line. Paul Swirczynski completed a pass to John Klement for a 53 yard gain to the 17 yard line. Frost ran for 4, followed by an incomplete pass, then a quarterback sack. On 4th down and less than a minute to play, a pass into the end zone was deflected by one of the three Cardinal defenders and the ball fell to the turf to end any hope for a Sacred Heart victory. Saint Paul knelt down to kill the clock and keep their 7-0 victory.

The team had to overcome so much this season - the difficult schedule and injuries," said Coach John Nasche. "We took a little bit for granted after last season's state title, but quickly learned with all the teams gunning for us."

SENIOR MEMBERS

"This year's seniors were the most talented group of seniors, as a whole, when the season began," bragged Coach Nasche. "These guys had it all going for them early - size, strength and speed."

The Tigers senior members were Scott Frost, Brandon Bayer, Michael Becker, Jake McCoy, Toby Hess, John Klement, Joseph McCoy, Scott Poole and Colby Langley.

"But too many got hurt," continued the Coach. Hess and Poole went out with broken bones, Langley and Bayer sat out and played with knee injuries. Also Joseph McCoy missed a few games and played hurt. Becker, Frost and Jake McCoy all played with hurt shoulders. John Klement is the lone senior that played every game without a bad injury.

"These seniors will be missed," continued Nasche. "Even though we struggled, three of our losses were from undefeated teams. The ball just didn't bounce our way all season." Nasche concluded that next season is encouraging because of the experience the younger players received this year.

The Tigers ended the season 5-6.

Contest continues into the playoffs

John Sandmann took home the 11th week of the Muenster Enterprise football contest prize with a high score of 27. Jody Felderhoff also scored 27, but Sandmann out-guessed Felderhoff 34 to 48 on the tie breaker. Peachie Huchton finished 3rd, missing 4 games. A 16 point spread on the tie breaker gave her the advantage over Dave Reiter and Benny Haverkamp, who also scored 26. Winners picked up their cash prizes at AMPI, Neil's and Tony's Seed and Feed.

Missing only 5 games were Charles Edwards, Mike Stoffels, Jon LeBrasseur, Tony Fuhrmann, John Nasche and Neil Huchton. Low score of the week was 16. The most missed games were Garland's 23-7 win and Harvard's 22-21 upset.

Everyone picked Masonic Home, Texas, A&M, Celina, Texas Tech, and Pilot Point to win.

On the tie breaker, 26 mis-picked Sacred Heart. No one's score was close to the final.

For the season, Mike Stoffels spread the gap by another game over Paul Swirczynski and Mickey Haverkamp, leading with an 84%. Haverkamp and Swirczynski follow at 83.6%. Peachie Huchton follows in 4th with 83% while John Klement has 82.6% and John Nasche and Jennifer Campbell each sit at 82%. At 81.6% are Edna Hermes and Dave Reiter followed by Neil Huchton, Benny Haverkamp, Charles Edwards, Tim Bindel and Edgar Dyer. Mike Felderhoff and Jon LeBrasseur have an 80%.

Varsity Basketball

Muenster 54 Forestburg 41
The varsity girls tipped the season off against a quick and feisty Forestburg team. The Lady Hornets were able to control the boards, which proved to be the difference in the game. "The girls did a nice job of executing our offense, but our shooting is still rusty," said Muenster coach Kent Josselet. "We missed several shots from the inside that we need to be successful. All in all the ladies did a good job for the first game of the season and now we can begin to build from there," concluded the coach.

Scoring for Muenster were Carrie Hess with 21, Andrea Klement 13, Brandi Lutkenhaus 12, Keisha Dill 6 and Hollie Fuhrmann 2.

Muenster 55 Collinsville 47
The Lady Hornets traveled to Collinsville last Friday. "We knew going in that they did a real good job rebounding and getting second shots offensively, therefore our goal was to position ourselves to take these opportunities away from them," said Muenster Coach Kent Josselet.

Muenster was able to take advantage of missed Lady Pirate opportunities and hit key free throws for the victory. "The girls did a nice job of working together on both ends of the floor, but we still need to work on our alignment both offensively and defensively," Josselet concluded.

Carrie Hess was leading scorer with 17 points. Audrey Knabe put in 11, Brandi Lutkenhaus 9 and Keisha Dill 8. Also adding to the win were Andrea Klement with 5 points and two apiece by Julia Fleitman and Hollie Fuhrmann.

Lindsay 39 Callisburg 59
The Lady Knights fell to the tough Callisburg Lady Wildcats last Friday night. Seven of the nine Lindsay ladies scored, led by Andrea Gieb with 14 points. Christine Fuhrmann and Molly Trammel each added 6, with Amber Geray hitting 4, and 3 points scored each by Keleigh O'Dell, Donna Lester and Amanda Hellingier.

Sacred Heart 63, Lexington 43
Juniors Leslie Grewing, Kelly Rigler and Dobe Fleitman hit for 17, 16, and 14 respectively to lead the 2-0 Tigerettes past Lexington Academy last Thursday night in the Tiger Den.

A great defensive third period in which the Tigerettes limited their guests to four points as they hit for 20, put the Tigerettes in complete command 57-27. Rigler and Fleitman combined for 10 in the period. "The girls really cranked up the defense in the third," said LeBrasseur. "This is a solid club!"

Crystal Klement scored 8, Teresa McCarty 2 and picked off seven passes. Leah Rigler swished a pair, Melinda Vickers and Tara Yosten each hit for 2 and pulled down 9 and 5 rebounds each.

Steve Bevers of Gainesville locally won last week's Power Points Football Contest. Bevers earned 123 points out of a possible 136, to be awarded the cash prize of $10.00 which he can pick up at The Muenster Enterprise office.

Sacred Heart 38 Montague 17
Kayla Felderhoff hit for 25 points in the first three periods as the Sacred Heart Lady Cubs roared to a 38-17 win over the Lady Eagles of Montague Monday night. The win upped the Lady Cubs record to 2-0 in conference play.

"The third period was one of the best junior high periods I can remember," said Coach LeBrasseur. "Kayla got hot and our defense was all over the floor."

Joanna Gehrig and Jennifer Hess each scored 3. Jo Sparkman, Jana Coker, and Gina Yosten scored a piece and Anne Flusche connected on a charity toss to round out the scoring. The Lady Cubs will play Forestburg Monday night to tangle with the Lady Horns. The game will be played at Saint Jo with a 6:00 tip-off.

Muenster 16 Saint Jo 17
The junior varsity Lady Hornets participated in the Era JV tournament and were able to come back with some hardware, bringing home the 3rd place trophy.

Muenster opened the tournament early Saturday morning against Saint Jo. "The girls were tired from the night before, but played tough," commented Coach Kent Josselet. This game could have gone either way, but Saint Jo converted a 3 point play under a minute to take a slim victory.

Valerie Erwin led Muenster with 6 points. Emily Felderhoff added 4, Kinzie Gerstberger 3, Stephanie Huchton 2, and DeeDee Walterscheid one.

Muenster 19 Collinsville 21
The JV Lady Hornets took on Collinsville Friday night. "The girls did a tremendous job on both ends of the floor," commented Coach Kent Josselet. "The girls came up just a bit short despite a great effort." The Lady Hornets were able to fight back after being down 7 early in the game and tie the score at halftime. "The girls played real aggressively the 2nd half, but just couldn't overcome some key turnovers late in the game," the coach added. Only two Muenster girls scored. Kinzie Gerstberger dropped in 10 points, while Valerie Erwin added 9.

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear and answer before the Honorable District Court 235th Judicial District, Cooke County, Texas, at the Courthouse of said county in Gainesville, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock a.m. of the Monday next after the expiration of 20 days from the date of service of this citation, then and there to answer the petition of John Robert Morris, Petitioner, filed in said Court on the 14th day of November, 1995, against Linda Gail Morris, Respondent, and the said suit being number 95-537 on the docket of said Court, and entitled "In the Matter of Marriage of John Robert Morris and Linda Gail Morris," the nature of which suit is a request to grant a divorce and such other relief requested.
The Court has authority in this suit to enter any judgment or decree dissolving the marriage and providing for the division of property which will be binding on you.
The name and address of the attorney for petitioner, or the address of petitioner, is: John H. Morris, 305 E. California St., Gainesville, TX 76240.
A copy of petitioner's petition accompanies this citation.
Issued this 14th day of November, A.D., 1995.
NOTICE TO RESPONDENT: You have been sued. You may employ an attorney. If you or your attorney do not file a written answer with the clerk who issued this citation by 10:00 a.m. on the Monday next following the expiration of twenty days after you were served this citation and petition, a default judgment may be taken against you.
Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Gainesville, Texas, this 14th day of November, A.D., 1995.

Gene mapping and livestock improvement revolutionizes breeding

Animal scientists are finding short cuts to produce lean, tender beef that meets the demands of today's health-conscious consumers. Gene mapping, which determines the position of a specific gene on a chromosome, has revolutionized cattle breeding. It is a road map for producing "designer steaks."

In the old days cattlemen trying to improve herd quality had to rely on their eyes. Computers gave cattle breeders a new and more precise tool, and using mathematical calculations and statistical analysis known as EPD (Expected Progeny Difference), ranchers are able to analyze production data and estimate the quality of an unborn calf.

Gene mapping takes the process one step further and is another tool producers can use to make herd improvement. Mapping already allows researchers to select genes that determine whether cattle have horns and what their coat color will be. The closer scientists come to getting more of the cattle genetic structure mapped, ranchers will have a greater opportunity to select from the menu of known genes.

Mapping technology allows the meat industry to provide more uniform quality and yield while providing more beef choices for more consumers.

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

As a boy growing up on the farm, I spent many days walking the plowed fields, fence rows, and also the pastures after they were mowed, hoeing out cockle-burs that had not been killed by other means.

My dad hated cockle-burs and spent a lot of time and some money trying to eradicate them, but it seemed that there were always more.

It is a fact that each bur contains two seeds, each having a cover, one harder than the other. For this reason one seed often germinates the first year while the other will sometimes wait till next. I have heard some say one seed germinates the first year, the other the next, and the hull the third. We all know the hull doesn't grow, but cockle-burs reproduce so persistently that we almost believe it does.

After Dad acquired a flock of sheep, controlling the burs became much easier and less time consuming. It seems that sheep have a taste for many things that cattle don't eat, especially ragweeds, sourdocks, and tender young cockle-burs.

The sheep were hungry for something green and tender and would rush to the green burs. At this stage of the burs growth, only the top leaves and the buds were still tender and the sheep would greedily eat them.

Some of the plants would be so tall the ewes could not reach the tops. I have watched the animals rear up and paddle them down so they could eat all the tender leaves and buds.

Since the introduction of present day herbicides such as 2-4D, most weeds can easily be controlled by spraying.

Fortunately, cockle-burs and sunflowers are extremely susceptible to herbicides. Now-a-days one man with a back pack sprayer can clean up fence rows and ditches easily and quickly.

Alfred Bayer and Son usually spray the pastures they have leased from us, every other year.

One of our pastures was badly infested with prickly pear and on this account Paul added another ingredient to the Grazon herbicide he was using to control weeds and killed out the prickly pear as well.

Modern science has helped the farmer and stockman in many ways, to make their work a lot easier.

Farm safety becomes accident victim's "purpose in life"

It took years for Neta Waddell to reach her goal of owning a feeder pig operation; yet, it was just one careless moment that took away her dream.

Waddell, of Memphis, Mo., had a lot to do November 6, 1992. When she finished grinding feed, she began to oil chains on the grinder. But instead of shutting down the power take-off (PTO), Waddell let it run at a very low speed.

"I oiled the chains every time I ground feed. Sometimes I turned the power off, sometimes I didn't," Waddell says. "That day I was in a hurry, and I just didn't do it."

The string hanging from her chore jacket got caught in the PTO universal joint and changed her life forever.

The tangle of machine and fabric tore both arms from her body. One was thrown 20 feet, the other wrapped around the PTO shaft. Waddell was thrown against the back wheel of the tractor, her head wedged under the tire. Her injuries, numerous and severe, included a broken neck and lower back, facial cuts, a loose scalp, and internal bleeding.

First on the scene was her hired hand, who called the local rescue squad. A doctor who responded to the call couldn't find her pulse. Her breathing was shallow.

She was transported to the area hospital and stabilized before being flown by helicopter to the University Hospital and Clinics in Columbia, Mo.

Doctors did not expect her to live. During her first 36 hours in the hospital, Waddell underwent two surgeries and received about 80 units of blood.

"According to the doctors, no one had ever survived what I had gone through," she says.

They had considered reattaching her left arm to the right side of her body, which would have meant her hand would be backwards. Because of the severity of the accident, that was impossible.

"I'm glad they didn't do it," she says. "If I couldn't have it on the right way, I didn't want it."

Eventually, she was transferred to Rusk Rehabilitation Center in Columbia where she began the grueling task of regaining the use of her legs. The area where the nerves in legs attach to the spinal cord was damaged in the accident. Although she had slight feeling in parts of her legs, doctors told Waddell that she would probably never walk again. Despite those predictions, and through sheer determination and stubbornness, she learned to walk. "I told them I'd walk before I left there and I did," she says.

From Rusk, Waddell went to the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago to be fitted for and taught to use artificial arms. On April 28, 1993, nearly six months after her tragic accident, she returned home.

Once a very independent, active person, Waddell now depends on others to perform simple tasks. She has someone around to assist her at all times, so her private moments are not so private anymore. "The one biggest change is that I have somebody with me all day," she says.

Most of all, Waddell misses her sense of touch - the ability to feel the softness of a kitten, a pig's coarse hair or hug a loved one. When a playful kitten crawled up her leg recently, the sensation brought joy. "I could feel my leg getting scratched and it was great," she says. "You don't realize what you have until you lose it and try to get it back."

Waddell undergoes physical therapy twice a week now and is seeing improvement in her legs. A registered occupational therapist works with her to learn to use her artificial arms to do household duties.

Although she is not living the life she dreamed of, Waddell says she never once wished she had died. "I went into the accident with a healthy psyche," she says. "To die is not in my make up."

Having lived on a farm her entire life, Waddell was aware that she was taking a risk every time she oiled the grinder chains without turning off the PTO. Waddell says she was not a careless person, she just "slipped up."

According to the National Safety Council, it's these kinds of slip-ups that help make agriculture one of the most dangerous industries in the United States.

Food treatment for safety

For many years scientists have looked for ways in which food can be processed that would result in increasing its safety without affecting its quality. Canning, pasteurization and deep freezing have been applied relatively successfully, although there is still room for improvement.

The most recent addition to food preservation technologies is the use of food irradiation. Worldwide scientific evidence on the safety of food for human consumption is far greater for foods processed by ionizing energy than for foods processed in any other way. Food is irradiated to make it safer and more resistant to spoilage, since irradiation destroys insects, fungi and bacteria that cause human disease or cause food spoilage. Irradiation makes it possible to keep food longer and in better condition.

Irradiation involves passing food through an irradiation field of either gamma rays, electron beams and X-rays. The energy used in food irradiation is not strong enough to cause food to become radioactive.

Because irradiation destroys disease-causing bacteria, the process has been used by hospitals to sterilize food for patients with immunity problems.

Pesticide recertification hours announced

Two training sessions will be offered on Mon., Nov. 27. This will be a 2-hour session from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. at the Cooke County Extension Office in the Courthouse Basement and another session from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the Cooke County Fairgrounds.

Two CEU's toward recertification of Pesticide Applicator Licenses will be offered through this video session. We would like for you to call the County Extension Office if you plan to attend because space is limited. Call the County Extension Office 668-5412.
