

No Arrests by City or County at Celebration

Neither the city nor county police made an arrest on Tuesday, the day of the Highway 10 celebration when thousands of visitors were in the city. There were no disturbances, drinking or law violations of any kind reported to either department.

The celebrations were conducted in the most orderly manner and the people attending were the best behaved ever seen in so large a gathering, members of both departments say.

City of Police Bert Hise and Sheriff H. DeRamus both said today they wished to thank the local people and visitors for their observance of the law and cooperation with the peace departments.

BRADY PEOPLE PLANNING GOOD ROAD PROGRAM

A group of Brady and McCulloch county business men arrived in Brownwood yesterday during the noon hour for the big celebration and stated upon arrival that they were delayed because of tire trouble and did not arrive for the morning program. "This group was headed by County Judge C. L. Gault of that county and Harry Schwenker, editor of the Brady Standard and the party included Carl Blasing of the Brady Chamber of Commerce, Ed Broad, a former Brownwood man and now a civic leader at Brady, Mr. Broad is chairman of the Brady July Jubilee committee. The party also included Henry Hodges, J. B. Vincent, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the road committee of that body, Pat Malone, a director of the C. of C. and C. A. Trips.

In an interview concerning the road situation in McCulloch county, Judge Gault said that he was glad to inform Brownwood people that his county had purchased a part of the necessary land and will have completed the purchase soon of a 100 foot right-of-way from the new river bridge to Mercury. The county will pay its part of the bridge construction also he said and the road will be graded according to state specifications.

He declared that this work is to be rushed so that the road can be opened by the time that the Colorado River bridge is completed and will be ready for use at that time.

In speaking of the road situation in general he said that he was interested in Highway No. 10 and that he and the people of the county are anxious to have a highway program started. He said that both the county and the highway department are anxious to have a road program started but that they had not been able to get together on some of the details but that he believed these would be straightened out soon. He is very optimistic toward an early beginning of a road program in that county.

Brownwood People Were Paid $125,000 In Insurance, 1930

Brownwood policy holders and beneficiaries received $125,000 from old line life insurance companies in 1930, according to the 31st annual life insurance payments number from the National Underwriter, weekly insurance newspaper. Texas policy holders and beneficiaries received $46,000,000 from life insurance companies in 1930, an increase of $1,100,000 or 2.4 per cent over the amount in 1929. Texas ranked 10th in life insurance payments, while it is 5th in population. The per capita life insurance payments in Texas was $8.01 in 1930.

The largest individual death claim in Brownwood went to Temple R. Kennedy, who was accidentally killed when a gun discharged as he was climbing through a fence. There were also two claims of $6,000, one for $4,000 and two for $3,000 listed in the larger payments in this county. Insurance poured large sums into other West Texas towns, as follows: San Angelo $370,000, Abilene $325,500, Temple $155,000, Plainview $143,000, Brownwood $125,000, Big Spring $102,000, Eastland $95,000, Midland $95,000, Kerrville $61,000, Uvalde $60,000, Sweetwater $56,000, Del Rio $55,000, San Marcos $53,000, McCamey $48,000, Rising Star $14,100 and Alpine $11,000. Towns benefiting under $10,000 are not listed.

The Iowa anti-saloon league will serve "pure cold water" free at the state fair this year.

MOST FARMERS READY TO PAY DROUGHT LOANS

Most Brown county farmers who received government drought loans want to pay the government and are making inquiries at the county agent's office as to how and where to send the money.

At present, there is no collector for the government in this section but from a letter received at the county agent's office it is thought that a collector will be stationed in this district. The letter from the department said that it is the purpose to place representatives in the field in sufficient numbers to properly cover the states in which aid was extended to farmers. The duty of the representatives will be chiefly that of making collections, supervising sales of crops under mortgage and making such investigations deemed advisable, the letter read.

Also in the letter was a request that information as to the harvest time of the chief money crops be sent to the loan office. The loan office is behind in getting this information as grain harvesting is over, say officials at the agent's office.

From St. Louis Office

Another letter from the Farmers' Seed Loan office at St. Louis has been sent to bankers, buyers and others in Brown county. A list of the farmers who received loans was included with the letter and cooperation with the government in collecting the loans was urged. The list shows 378 loans made to farmers here.

Parts of the letter are as follows:

"Our reports indicate that crops in your state are, generally speaking, very good, and the government must now be fully reimbursed for these loans."

"Aside from the purely legal phase of the matter, there is another aspect to federal loans which merits your attention. I think you will concede that the farm and business interests in the drought stricken areas have benefited equally through the government loans this year. The protection of crops in this territory has been made possible by these loans, and without which there would have been no crops for you to handle or to which other loans could attach, or from which other creditors could secure payment of debts. Since the crops were in effect created by the government, it is but reasonable and just that the government's claim should be paid in advance of other debts."

Field Agents
"During the harvest season we will have a number of field agents in the territories served by this office, and the one assigned to your territory will get in touch with you at intervals and be glad to render you any assistance possible."

Farmers who wish to pay their loans at present should mail their checks to Farmers' Seed Loan Office, United States Department of Agriculture, St. Louis, Mo.

Borrowers who desire to store their crops in bonded warehouses and no objection will be made, provided the receipts are forwarded to the St. Louis office to be held as collateral, according to the information sent out by the office.

Local payments are being made but would have been made quicker had the farmers known what to do, according to the farm agent's office. Numbers of farmers have wanted the office to handle their payments but the office having no authority has not done so.

News Received Here of Death Of R. N. Adams

Word has been received by Brownwood friends of the death of R. N. Adams at his home in Fort Worth Saturday and of his funeral there Sunday. Mr. Adams is well known by the older citizens of Brownwood, and his son, Forrest Adams, also of Fort Worth, who travels for a foods company still visits Brownwood often.

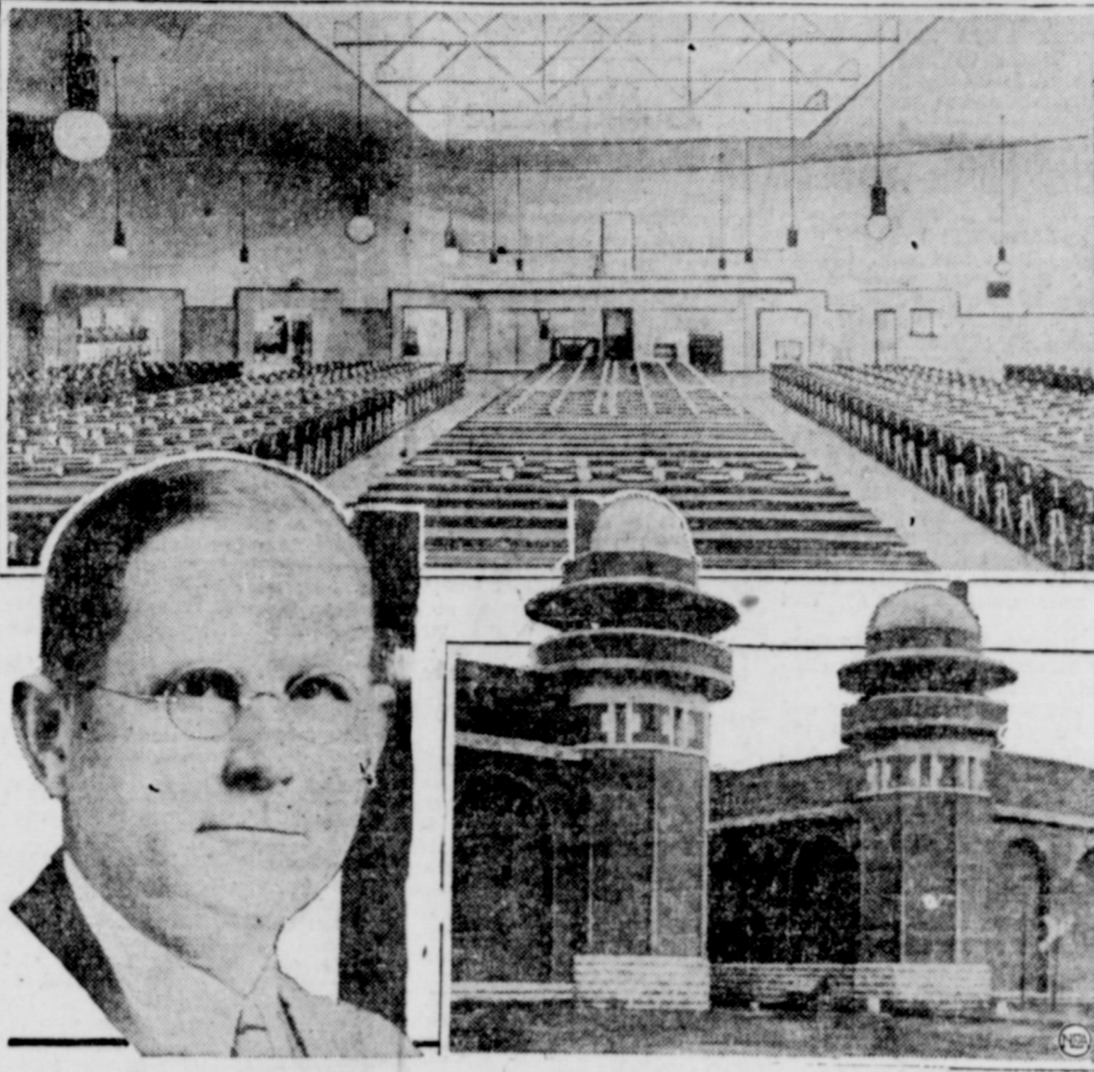

Mr. Adams was for several years in the wholesale grocery business here. He sold his business to Walker-Smith Company in 1906 but lived in Brownwood and traveled out of here for a grocery company until about 1913. He moved from Brownwood to Fort Worth and had made his home there since. News of Mr. Adams' death was received with a great deal of sorrow by his many Brownwood friends.

Winchell Section Has Typhoid Scare

Dr. C. W. Gray, county health officer, said this morning that he had been inoculating several people in the Winchell section for typhoid. There was a case about two miles east of that community recently, but that the patient is now improving rapidly. This one case is the only one in the county at present, the doctor said, but nevertheless he is taking precautionary methods throughout the entire county toward the prevention of this and other diseases.

In speaking of health conditions in general he said that many people are now suffering from fever and are attributing the illness to other things, but that in reality because of the intense heat that has prevailed recently they are suffering from overexertion instead of other ailments.

AL CAPONE'S PRISON AND WARDEN

Here Are Scenes at Leavenworth Pen Where Gangster Chief Must Serve Term in this big dining room. Al Capone, Chicago's Public Enemy No. 1, who was to have pleaded guilty to income tax fraud and 5000 violations of the liquor laws, will soon be eating his meals. It is the mess hall of the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., where the gangster chief is due to serve his term. At the right, below, is an entrance to the big prison where Capone will serve as a convict, and Warden Thomas B. White, left.

J. D. CONNOR COMPANION IN MORRISON EXTORTION CASE GAVE POLICE MERRY CHASE

Brown county people who have followed the amazing career of J. D. Connor, erstwhile Rising Star and Rochelle school teacher, now in the state penitentiary at Huntsville, will be interested in learning about the chase given police by Nyal Wright, accused with Connor and T. B. Edmondson of Rising Star in a plot whereby $75,000 was extorted from R. W. Morrison, San Antonio financier and president of the Gulf and West Texas Railroad.

Wright is in Bexar county jail after a chase lasting nearly a year, and which extended to the Pacific coast and back across the United States to the Atlantic coast. He finally voluntarily surrendered at Atlanta, Ga. Connor is serving a 25 year sentence for the Morrison affair and for several robberies by assault with firearms counts. Edmondson turned states evidence and has not been tried for his part in the extortion case.

Concerning Wright's surrender, the San Antonio Light gave the report in part as follows: "A fugitive trail which led from one end of the country to the other has ended in a cell at the Bexar county jail Monday for Nyal Wright, alias 'Tex' Wright, who has been sought for nearly a year as the 'brains' of the gang which extorted $75,000 from R. W. Morrison."

Wright surrendered willingly to Sheriff Wilbert Hauser in the outskirts of Atlanta, Ga. The fugitive had been hunted and sent notice to the sheriff that he would surrender.

On seeing the sheriff, Wright extended his hand and said, "hello, sheriff, I'm glad to meet you, I've heard a lot about you."

He waived extradition papers and was taken to San Antonio by train. Wright is a well groomed young man of 23, weighing 200 pounds. He was not talkative in the death cell on the fourth floor of the jail Monday. His greeting to newspaper men was, "your d— newspapers have had too much about me now."

He revealed, however, that his wife and 5-year old daughter had been with him during his chase with the law. They are now at his father's home in Atacosa county, Wright said.

He denied having been instrumental in any of the numerous sensational jail breaks of J. D. Connor. "I never give Connor a minute's thought," he said. He declined to talk about the Morrison case.

Had Been on Island
The sheriff said that Wright confessed to him that he had been living unsuspected on a small island called Bimini off the keys of Southern Florida, and that he was taken to an Atlanta hospital after breaking his arm while cranking a boat. Wright has bought and traded 25 automobiles in less than a year to cover his trail. The trail led through San Francisco, Miami and New York.

Wright was jovial while being fingerprinted and photographed at police headquarters. He said, "I was standing across the street from the hotel and saw them arrest Edmondson and Connor that time at Mason. I also saw two San Antonio detectives who were searching for me at Mineral Wells eight weeks ago."

SAWYER SISTERS ON VISIT HERE, BOTH ARE POPULAR RADIO STARS

Miss Ann Etta Sawyer of Shreveport, Louisiana is visiting Miss Frances Hester here this week. She arrived Saturday and will remain until Thursday. She is returning to her home this week to begin a long contract with a Shreveport radio station where she and her sister, Celia will give daily programs.

Before moving from Brownwood the two young ladies were popular radio artists and appeared at many luncheon clubs as well as other entertainments. They established a name for themselves in the radio world before going to Shreveport and since their advent to radio audiences in that section their popularity has increased very much.

The two, known as the Sunshine Girls over station KWEA, will begin a 36 week contract next Monday, appearing weekly from that station. This station is owned by the Henderson interests at Shreveport. At present the two, known as the Sawyer Sisters are appearing each Tuesday afternoon from 4:30 until 5 o'clock from station KWKH the Henderson station at Shreveport.

During the coming winter the two girls will be staff artists at both stations, but devoting most of their time to singing from station KWEA. Both the girls attended Brownwood high school and left a large number of friends when they moved to the Louisiana city.

HARRISON NAMED HEAD BROWN COUNTY BOARD OF AGRICULTURE

Brown County Board of Agriculture was adopted as the name for the agriculture council composed of farmers representing every phase of farming in the county, representatives from the civic organizations of Brownwood and presidents of cooperative associations in the county, at a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Friday afternoon. Two meetings for planning the organization had already been held and the meeting Friday was held to make formal organization.

Chester Harrison, active vice-president of the Citizens National Bank, was elected president of the organization. L. L. Lanford was elected vice president and N. A. Cropp of the McDaniels community was named secretary.

The report of the committee as to the name and the by-laws of the organization was accepted in full. The purpose of the organization is to advise as to matters concerning agricultural development of Brown county and is an organization where the farmers of the county and the business men or Brownwood can discuss their problems and assist each other. It was explained at Friday's meeting, that the meetings will be held the first Monday in each month, the next meeting to be held August 3.

Those present at the meeting Friday were: O. P. Griffin, acting chairman; Joe R. Shelton, acting secretary; L. L. Lanford, R. O. Sheffield, J. H. Busby of May, J. W. Dabney of Blanket, C. M. Wool and Mohair Committee

C. M. Kilgore, Joe W. Dabney and others were appointed as a committee to work on plans for a wool and mohair organization for Brown county. Men at the meeting said wool and mohair was already handled cooperatively in Brown county but that the products had to be sent to San Angelo. Brown county producers enough wool and mohair to have a headquarters in Brownwood and the committee will report as to the forming of an organization here.

ATTITUDE OF COURT CAUSES CAPONE WORRY

CHICAGO, July 30.—(AP)—Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today deferred until tomorrow afternoon a decision on a request by defense attorneys for "Scarface Al" Capone for permission to withdraw his pleas of guilty to violation of income tax and prohibition laws.

CHICAGO, July 30.—(AP)—Protesting that the Attorney General of the United States had sanctioned an agreement between Alphonse Capone and the government that leniency would be recommended if the gang chief pleaded guilty to income tax evasion and prohibition conspiracy, Attorney Michael Ahern moved in federal court today to withdraw Capone's plea of guilty.

During the morning court session Judge Wilkerson said the court had no power to bargain with a defendant and that Capone must take the witness stand if he would ask leniency.

Judge Wilkerson said he was not sure the withdrawal of the plea was proper and called upon George E. Q. Johnson, United States District Attorney, to state before the court the facts of any pre-trial agreement between Capone and the government.

Such an agreement, Judge Wilkerson said, was "unheard of" not even the court having the power to enter judgment in advance. The district attorney said he had conferred with the defense attorneys shortly after the indictment and proposed that Capone be placed behind the bars immediately, feeling it was wise to avoid a trial. Then, said Johnson, counsel for the gangster suggested a prison term which he regarded entirely too brief. He said he had answered an attorney's question with the statement that all recommendations he made to the presiding judges in trials under his prosecution had been accepted by the judges.

CHICAGO, July 30.—(AP)—Government and defense were ordered by Judge James H. Wilkerson today to present their evidence in the prohibition and income tax cases against "Scarface" Alphonse Capone at a hearing beginning at 2 p. m.

Only the reading of the indictments occupied the brief morning session of court, during which the corpulent boss of Chicago gangs sat mopping his brow nervously in the crowded court room.

Capone himself may be required to testify during the hearing. "If the defendant asks leniency," said Judge Wilkerson, "he must be ready to answer all proper questions concerning himself."

The judge said that "any agreement between the defense and prosecution might had," had no binding influence upon the court and asserted that the power to compromise in a case involving criminal liability was not vested in the courts.

Judge Wilkerson explained that he knew nothing of the facts in the cases, which charge the gang leader with 5,000 separate offenses against the prohibition act and evasion of taxes on an income of more than $1,000,000. He could only perform his duty, he said, by hearing fully the evidence and determining the degree of guilty.

Capone Submits Self
Alphonse Capone submitted himself to the judgment of the United States district court today, standing before Judge James H. Wilkerson to hear the penalty he must pay for a decade of rule over the bootleg liquor traffic and disregard for the federal income tax.

The big gang leader made his entry alone, driving from a hotel to the federal building without his usual bodyguards. Cords of uniformed and plain clothes detectives cleared his way to the court room.

Amid throngs on the street pressed toward the four entrances of the building, but mounted outside and files of officers within held back all save government men and court principals.

"Aren't you nervous?" someone asked Capone. "A trifle." "Perhaps you're used to it by now," suggested a woman reporter. "Why should I be?" Capone countered, piqued.

He said his wife would remain here during his expected prison term and he was sending his son to a private school—where, he would rather not say. Capone appeared disconcerted at the court's attitude and the manner gained circulation that he might withdraw his guilty plea and stand trial rather than make a personal plea for leniency.

The hearing lasted less than ten minutes. The big gangster, weighing 250 pounds, stood before his back twisting a white handkerchief. He teetered a bit on his toes as he continued his methodical gum chewing.

GOV. STERLING CALLS COTTON MEET, AUG. 4TH

AUSTIN, Tex., July 28.—(AP)—Governor Sterling today decided to call Governors and Lieutenant Governors of the cotton producing states to meet here next Tuesday to consider the problem of cotton overproduction.

The executive acted under a concurrent resolution by the Legislature. The resolution said the price of cotton was so low the "entire economic structure of the South is threatened with disruption" and that the situation had been brought about by "an abnormal excess of production over consumption utterly beyond the control of any private agency."

Representatives of the Federal Farm Board will be invited to attend the meeting.

Brady Woman Freed On Bond Monday In Meadows Slaying

BRADY, Texas, July 28.—Mrs. Bill Caldwell, charged with the murder of Bill Meadows here last Friday night, was released Monday on $1,500 bond, set by Justice of the Peace W. B. Douglas at the conclusion of an examining trial Monday morning.

Meadows was instantly killed by a pistol bullet when he entered the Caldwell home at about seven o'clock Friday night. Mrs. Caldwell made no statement except that she was sorry it happened and that she had to kill him in self-defense, according to officers.

Mrs. Caldwell's case is scheduled to come up for hearing before the McCulloch county grand jury next January. Her husband, Bill Caldwell, well, was sent to the state penitentiary several months ago where he is serving a five year sentence on a liquor charge. Meadows had served eight months on a liquor charge when he was given a general parole about four months ago.

The defendant is the mother of two children, a 14 year old girl and a 12 year old boy. Sheriff Love Kimbrough was the only witness questioned at the examining trial this morning.

The invitations will be sent to agents in nearly 70 counties of district four, nine and eleven. Brownwood is head of District No. 9, Abilene of No. 11, and Hillsboro of No. 4. Mr. Timmins said further that A. D. Langham of Houston, president of the Texas Insurance Association will be one of the main speakers as will D. G. Foreman of Fort Worth, state secretary. Details of the meeting will be worked out during the next two weeks by members of the Brownwood Insurance Exchange on the program and arrangements for the meeting.

Brownwood Schools Will Open Sept. 7, Officials Announce

Brownwood city schools will open Monday, September 7, according to announcement from the school board today. All children in the city will report to the ward school nearest them and Senior and Junior high school students will report to their respective schools.

A larger attendance is expected in city schools this year than last judging from the scholastic census of last March, say school board members. The enumeration showed 3,319 children of school age in the city district which is an increase of 85 over the previous census.

Farmers Assembled At College Station Study School Needs

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., July 29.—(AP)—Farmers assembled here for Texas A. & M.'s annual short course today considered three proposals for legislative aid for educational projects.

It was suggested that legislation should be enacted to permit students between the ages of 18 and 20 years to retain their free tuition privileges in transferring to another district and that unconstitutional features of county supervisory laws should be clarified. In addition county superintendents voted to petition the Legislature to enact emergency educational laws.

ANY TIRE manufacturer or dealer who tells you a "breaker strip" is a "ply"—or that tire performance depends on weight—deceives you.

BEWARE THE MAN WHO TELLS YOU THIS IS A PLY

It is NOT A PLY, it is a breaker strip! The National Better Business Bureau defines a "ply" as follows—

"A ply is one of a number of layers of rubberized cotton fabric, either cord or square woven, extending from bead to bead, and forming the body of the tire."

Four or six plies form the carcass or the body of the tire. If the fabric does NOT extend entirely around the tire from BEAD TO BEAD, IT IS NOT A PLY. The illustration points out the difference between a ply and a breaker strip. It also points out the "beads."

Certain manufacturers and dealers, jealous of Ward's commanding position in the tire industry, have made misleading statements about Ward's tires. They have published and displayed misleading charts—they have shown sections of obsolete tires—they compare their "second line" tires with our "first line" tires—and now in advertising and selling talks, "breaker strips" are being called "plies." These misleading statements, however, are cleverly worded and the breaker strip is called "a ply under the tread." No twisting of words, however, can turn a BREAKER STRIP into a PLY. Every tire manufacturer and dealer knows it, AND WE BELIEVE THE CUSTOMER, TOO, IS ENTITLED TO KNOW THE FACTS.

BEWARE THE MAN WHO SAYS WEIGHT DENOTES SUPERIORITY

Many readers are familiar with the recent Firestone ads which compare Firestone tires with unidentified mail order tires. Weight has been given prominence as one of the items of comparison. Montgomery Ward & Co. maintains that weight is NOT AN INDICATION OF TIRE QUALITY.

We recently purchased five Firestone Oldfield tires and five Firestone High Speed tires—the High Speed tire is more expensive than the Oldfield. These tires were carefully weighed by Dr. Ellery H. Harvey, and the results are shown in the statement at the right.

In the first place, note that there is a variation of five ounces between the heaviest and the lightest Oldfield, and that there is a six-ounce variation between the heaviest and the lightest Firestone High Speed. MOST IMPORTANT OF ALL NOTE THAT THE AVERAGE WEIGHT OF THE OLDFIELD IS ONE POUND FIVE OUNCES HEAVIER THAN THE AVERAGE WEIGHT OF THE HIGH SPEED TIRES. If weight denotes superiority, why is the cheaper Firestone tire heavier than the more expensive Firestone tire? Surely this should convince any unbiased person how ridiculous it is to consider weight an indication of tire quality. Again we say, WE BELIEVE THE CUSTOMER IS ENTITLED TO KNOW THE FACTS.

On June 20, 1931, I weighed five Firestone Oldfield tires on a tested Howe scale. Immediately after on the same scale I weighed five Firestone four ply High Speed tires. All ten tires were size 4.50-21. They weighed as follows:

Firestone Oldfield	Firestone 4-Ply High Speed
17 lbs. 11 oz.	16 lbs. 2 oz.
17 lbs. 8 oz.	16 lbs. 5 oz.
17 lbs. 9 oz.	16 lbs. 1 oz.
17 lbs. 6 oz.	16 lbs. 7 oz.
17 lbs. 7 oz.	16 lbs. 3 oz.
17 lbs. 9 oz.	16 lbs. 2 oz.
17 lbs. 8 oz.	16 lbs. 3 oz.
Avg. wt. per tire	17 lbs. 8 oz.
	16 lbs. 3 oz.

Variation between lightest and heaviest tire 5 oz. 6 oz.

Here Is THE TRUTH About Ward's Riversides and Trail Blazers!

The RIVERSIDE is our first quality tire. It is made by one of the largest tire companies in the world. It is built to one of the most stringent sets of specifications in the tire industry. It has been sold by Ward's for 19 years. Millions are in use today. Riversides are backed by a guarantee without limit as to time or mileage. Other famous nationally advertised tires that are equal to Riversides are much higher priced than Riversides.

The table at the right gives you the sizes for size price comparison. Having studied the price comparison with other makes, the only question for you to ask is: "Are Riverside tires really as good as these other tires with which they are compared?" Well, Montgomery Ward & Co. is one of the largest and oldest merchandise institutions in the world. It is the originator of the "Satisfaction Guaranteed or Your Money Back" guarantee. It depends for its business not only on tires but also on some 40,000 other items of merchandise which it sells to you. Certainly it is reasonable to believe that Ward's is maintaining the truth in making these statements.

The TRAIL BLAZER is our second quality tire. It is equal to any of the "second line" tires offered by well known tire companies. As you no doubt know, close to 90% of all newspaper advertising of the big tire companies is devoted to their "second line" tires, and it is these tires with which Trail Blazers compare. However, Trail Blazers SELL FOR LESS than other second line tires.

This combination of quality with lowest price which is offered by Ward's seems to have made some of our competitors very envious, so they are making and publishing misleading and incorrect statements about mail order tires. But they do not compare their first quality tires with our Riversides and their second quality tires with our Trail Blazers. They know to do so would immediately indicate how much lower Ward's tires are priced. So they have cunningly priced their "second line" tires at exactly our Riverside prices, and they print comparison tables which are intended to make people believe that their prices are the same as ours. Well, they are not. The chart at the left is a true comparison, quality for quality, and price for price.

In a Man's Lifetime

THE terrific speed with which the world changes may have slowed down somewhat within the last decade or two. Nevertheless, one man's life can still span amazing developments. Between boyhood and manhood one can still watch a great rearrangement of the scenery.

There died in Panama the other day one Basil Burns Duncan, said to be the oldest American on the isthmus—he was 88—and a surviving veteran of the old French attempt to dig the Panama canal.

Duncan went to Panama just after the trans-isthmian railroad had been completed. The isthmus then was one stage of the road to California. Passengers came down from New York by sea, crossed the narrow neck of land by train or wagon, and took ship on the Pacific side for San Francisco.

Then the French started to dig the canal; and Duncan was one of the four men chosen to turn the first sod. The four stood face to face with lifted picks. At a signal they drove them into the ground, and work on the Panama canal had begun.

What Duncan saw, during the next decade or two, was a New World epic. Disaster beset the French at every hand. "Yellow jack" made Panama notorious throughout the world. The French finally quit, leaving machinery to be overgrown by the jungle. Then, after years of quiet, the Americans came, and the canal was finished; and there, all the time, was Duncan, a part of the whole thing, soldier in the army that joined two seas.

Already the pre-canal era looks remote. The day when ships to the Pacific had to round dreared Cape Horn is fabulous, dim with the mists of a time that is very far away. Yet this man, who died only the other day, saw it all. He went to Panama when it was a pest hole and saw it become one of the world's busiest places.

A man's life can span great changes in the modern world. Motoring, Then and Now

A ONE-CYLINDER automobile built more than 26 years ago is engaged right now in crossing the continent under its own power. It is retracing a route it covered in 1905 when it went from New York to Portland, Oregon, in the record-breaking time of 44 days, and the man who is driving it, Dwight B. Hiss, is the same man who drove it on its earlier trip.

Why Helium Is Safe

THE tremendous value of helium gas for dirigibles is emphasized anew by the accident which destroyed the Goodyear Zeppelin airship Mayflower at Kansas City the other day.

Driven by a high wind, the Mayflower ran into high tension wires, took fire and burned. The four men aboard were injured but escaped alive.

The Mayflower was filled with helium—and the four undoubtedly owe their lives to that fact. For if a ship filled with explosive hydrogen had run into high tension wires and caught fire, every man aboard would have been burned to a crisp. Helium, which neither burns nor explodes, kept a bad accident from becoming a terrible tragedy.

All Prosper—Or None

THE way in which the prosperity of one nation depends on the prosperity of all the rest is emphasized in a current industrial bulletin from the Union Trust Company of Cleveland, which points out that "while some favorable signs are appearing in the domestic business picture, the general outlook is colored by European developments."

It adds: "So closely are conditions in America interwoven with those abroad that the outlook cannot be considered independently of the international situation."

All the nations are tied together these days, and the well-being of one depends on the well-being of all. Our old boasts about "magnificent isolation" do not sound quite as authentic as they used to.

Recognizing Great Men

TRYING to name the Americans of today who will be remembered most fondly by their countrymen a century or so later is a fascinating and risky game. Fame plays queer tricks, and greatness is not always recognizable at close range.

H. M. Tomlinson, the famous British author, recently pointed out that America of about 1850 gave to posterity three men who were almost entirely ignored by their contemporaries—Thoreau, Melville and Whitman.

During the decade before the Civil War most Americans had never heard of this trio. The "great men" of that day were politicians and businessmen. California was being developed, railroads were being built, vast fortunes were being made, knotty problems of statesmanship were engaging public attention.

The really important work, to all appearances, was being done by the men who had those jobs in hand. Yet, as Mr. Tomlinson says, when America's great factories have become nests for bats the world will still be grateful for the possession of Thoreau's "Walden," Melville's "Moby Dick" and Whitman's "Leaves of Grass."

All of which, undoubtedly, would pain the good people of 1850 very deeply if they knew about it. For all three of these men were, from the ordinary point of view, loafers. Thoreau went to a cabin by a pond to avoid the cares of the workaday world. Melville went off on a whaling vessel and doubtless disappointed all of his friends. Whitman loafed gloriously and went about town looking very much like a rather crack-brained tramp.

Yet, of all the men of that era, these three are the ones to whom posterity gives the most admiration. Who are the Americans of today who will be recognized as great a century hence? The great industrialists, politicians and financiers—or some slightly disreputable artists and writers at whom we look with lofty disregard?

Where a Theory Breaks Down

THE way to a better court system, we are often told, makes it necessary that judges be appointed rather than elected. Relieve the jurist of the necessity of going after votes and he can be more immune to the demands of politics. If, in addition, judgeships carry high salaries, able men will be attracted to the bench, and the judiciary will be improved still more.

That is the theory. It looks like a good one; but it doesn't always work out that way. New York City has just finished a year of investigation in which three judges have been removed from office and four more have resigned under fire. Enough corruption has been proven to tarnish the good name of the whole city.

But New York, as it happens, appoints its judges. Furthermore, it pays them the highest salaries of any city in the land. Neither factor seems to have been sufficient to keep the judiciary on the level.

Counting the Years

We do not count a man's years until he has nothing else to count.—Emerson.

TEXAS AND TEXANS

By WILL H. MAYES

Austin, Texas

"All Texans are like Texas"

Texas' Big Crops

The Texas wheat crop is estimated at 58,720,000 bushels, oats at 76,398,000 bushels, corn at 101,517,000 bushels. There is only a limited market for this grain, at prices much below cost of production, and a lack of storage facilities. Wheat is selling in some places as low as 24 cents and other grains are proportionally low. What to do with this immense crop is a vexing problem. If it could be conserved or sold at fair prices, the Texas grain crop alone would largely solve the Texas economic problems. The Canadian wheat crop is short, as is that in the Northwestern States, but financial conditions in Europe have almost eliminated foreign markets. In some places vacant store buildings, and in a few instances vacant residences, are being rented at nominal prices for grain storage to encourage holding for better prices. If the Texas grain crop could be held for higher prices, Texas growers would be better off to hold it and allow their lands to remain idle rather than sell at the ruinous offers. But many cannot do this because of debts that must be met, and grain growers can not hope for moratoriums.

Everything Plentiful

All other Texas crops are more abundant than last year, but all markets are weaker. There is even more money in the banks, but it is harder to get it because the banks, largely due to low crop prices, are more exacting as to security. There is no reason why farmers should suffer for food, if only they will use the precaution of animals and store the surplus. Of course, all farmers are not making enough of all crops to provide for their needs, but they can practice the old custom of exchanging products and labor. In some places merchants are doing this. A Plains farmer offers to give a hair cut for a bushel of wheat; a movie proprietor offers to accept wheat for admission to his shows; some newspapers are again accepting "farm produce" for subscriptions. If you will take the trouble to compare present conditions with those which the people have gone on days past, when little or no crops were produced, you will decide that we are living in days of greatest abundance and need only to do our best to conserve what we have.

Railroad Rate Increase

The railroads are making strenuous efforts to get a 15 per cent increase in freight rates. They contend that unless they do, they will not be able, because of reduced business, to make enough money to pay interest on bonds and dividends on stocks, and that insurance companies and banks will lose money on their investments and be in danger of failure. This, they argue, would result in panicky conditions from which all would suffer, especially insurance policy holders and bank stockholders in organizations that have railway investments.

The secretary of the Texas Grain Growers' Association says the increase is not justified; that the wheat grower is now getting around 25 cents for wheat, the railroads 19.80 cents, commission men 3-4 of a cent, brokers 1-4, shipping point elevators 3 cents. Before 1914 the grower was getting 60 cents and the railroads 7 1/2 cents; he shows, instead of 19.80, and the expense of hauling was then less. He insists that the railroads should not increase, but decrease their rates. The viewpoints differ widely. Take your choice.

Making Farm Profits

Some farmers are making money despite low prices of most products. A Bosque county farmer has paid for the underbrush and extra trees on his pecan orchard by grazing sheep and goats on the land one season. A Bell county farmer is making good money from his Elberta peach crop. Bastrop county growers are making money from cantaloupes, watermelons and fruits. Caldwell county farmers are making four times as much Sudan grass from fertilized as from unfertilized lands. The Youakum area shipped 746 cars of tomatoes, for which $380,000 was received. Red River county farm women are canning thousands of cans of fruits and vegetables with steam pressure canners supplied by the merchants. Denton county farmers have sold nearly $1,000,000 worth of sheep and lambs grazed and fattened at home. Parker county is shipping its largest crops of melons and cantaloupes. The Rio Grande Valley will ship over 8,000 cars of citrus fruits next season, at present estimates. Waimar peaches have been selling at $2.25 a bushel—some of them weigh one-half a pound each. You can prosper in Texas, if you know how and try.

Damming The Hill Country

Mountain Laurel Dam, across the Blanco between San Marcos and Kyle, was built through cooperative community effort. It makes a magnificent body of water that will be stocked with fish. The State Park Board has outlined a plan for a State park surrounding the dam, the land to be donated by the owners and beautified with prison labor. This is one of a number of dams similarly constructed under the direction of James W. Chapman, engineer of the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, who started out to build at least 500 dams in the Texas Hill country with co-operative labor. Chapman now says that if penitentiary labor can be had to build them there is no reason why there should not be 10,000 small-stream lakes in Texas well stocked with fish. Chairman Colp, of the State Park Board, thinks that many of these lakes and surroundings can be converted into beautiful State parks at small expense, convict labor being used. It is to be hoped that Colp and Chapman may realize their dreams. Let's beautify Texas and utilize its beauty spots.

These lakes and surroundings can be converted into beautiful State parks at small expense, convict labor being used. It is to be hoped that Colp and Chapman may realize their dreams. Let's beautify Texas and utilize its beauty spots.

Using State-Made Products

Sugar used in Texas eleemosynary institutions during the next year will be refined in Texas. The Board of Control has figured that for each 100 pounds of out-of-State sugar used only 28 cents remains here. If all sugar consumed by Texas was produced in Texas, approximately $6,000,000 would be kept in the State that now leaves it. Texas sugar is as good as any and should be as cheap. Why not use Texas refined sugar when you can get it? The same question applies as forcefully to flour, salt, canned goods, meats—almost everything used in the home.

Will Lead In Phosphate

Texas may soon lead in phosphate products according to a statement by James C. Kennedy, president of the Central and Southwest Utilities Company. He says there is a 400,000,000-ton deposit of phosphate shell in the Gulf waters from Corpus Christi to the mouth of the Rio Grande, the potential value of which runs into many millions of dollars. Plans are being made to utilize this wealth.

Hug-The-Coast Highway

A connected highway along the coast from Houston to Brownsville, to be built by the various counties in co-operation with the State Highway Commission, is the dream of many citizens of that section. Parts of it are already constructed, but the need for a continuous line is realized. It would be one of the most wonderful scenic routes of the world and prove of inestimable value to the section it would penetrate, as well as to the adjacent territory.

Brownsville Federal Building

Brownsville is among the Texas cities that will get a new Federal building, a four-story structure of brick and cream limestone, 110 by 120 feet in size, in which will be the postoffice, the Federal court, internal revenue office, plant quarantine office, customs patrol, weather bureau and an agency of the Navy department.

Tourists are being warned not to try to go to Mexico City in cars, expecting good roads. There is a good road from Laredo to Monterrey, but beyond that the highway is inadequate. Lured by attractive advertisements, many Texans have recently attempted the trip, but have found the road impassable.

EXAMINING TRIALS HELD

Examining trials were held Saturday for Ralph Williams and Preston Marlow for violation of the liquor laws. Williams was charged with sale and Marlow with transportation. Bond in each case was set at $1,000. According to Deputy Sheriff Jack Hallmark, Williams was arrested while making a delivery of a half gallon of whiskey and Marlow was arrested for transportation of the whiskey.

Product Proposed Airplane Factory Shown In Brownwood

C. C. Holden of Fort Worth, said to be a government licensed airplane builder, associated with Taylor McGarrity of this city, in a proposed airplane factory to be located in Brownwood, returned to Fort Worth today with a small two place plane which he has under construction. The plane was towed behind an automobile and was to have been entered in the highway 10 celebration parade Tuesday, but arrived too late. The ship is not completed and was taken back to Fort Worth to be finished.

McGarrity and Holden are negotiating with the fair board to obtain a lease on the fair grounds as a temporary location for the factory. Production can be started within 30 days if the grounds can be secured, they state.

Holden is to be in charge of the factory and airplane building and McGarrity is in charge of the financial and business end of the proposition. McGarrity says financial backing to warrant starting of production has been secured.

If the factory is established here a two place plane and two courses, one in flying and one in airplane mechanism, will be sold for less than a thousand dollars. The company is to be known as Southern Standard Aircraft.

GOVERNORS OF COTTON STATES SEND REGRETS

AUSTIN, July 29.—(P)—Indications today were that official duties would prevent most cotton state governors from attending a conference here Tuesday to attempt to relieve the cotton over-production situation.

Governor Ross S. Sterling had received no acceptance of the 15 invitations he wired yesterday. However, some of the chief executives were studying the proposal and others indicated they would send representatives.

The Texas legislature, in special session here to consider soil and oil conservation, requested Governor Sterling, as chief executive of the state producing one-third of the nation's cotton, to issue the call. Reduction of cotton acreage on an international scale will be discussed. A bill has been introduced to reduce the Texas acreage.

The gravity of conditions brought about by over-production of the white staple was stressed in the legislative resolution requesting the conference.

Governors Pollard of Virginia, Miller of Alabama, Long of Louisiana, Bilbo of Mississippi, and Parnell of Arkansas were among those who said they would not be here. Governors Parnell and Long indicated they might send official representatives. Governor Russell of Georgia promised to give the matter serious consideration, and Gov. Bilbo telegraphed he was willing to cooperate.

Virginia Not to Attend

RICHMOND, Va., July 29.—(P)—Virginia will not be represented at the cotton over-production conference called by Governor Sterling of Texas to be held in Austin next Tuesday, Governor Pollard said today.

Upon receipt of Governor Sterling's invitation to attend the meeting with Lieutenant Governor James H. Pries, the Virginia governor wired that because Virginia produces very little cotton, and because the crop is of little economic significance to Virginia, the problem had not been thoroughly studied. For this reason Governor Pollard said he felt that he could be of little assistance in the conference.

Long Can't Attend

NEW ORLEANS, July 29.—(P)—Governor Huey P. Long said today he would be unable to attend Governor Sterling's proposed cotton conference in Texas. He added that he had not had opportunity to examine the proposal, but would probably send a representative.

JACKSON, Miss., July 29.—(P)—Expressing a willingness to cooperate with Governor Ross Sterling of Texas in his plan to relieve the cotton situation, Governor T. G. Bilbo wired regrets today of his inability to attend a relief conference called for Tuesday in Austin.

Governor Bilbo said he would be unable to attend due to Mississippi's primary election on the day of the conference.

IOWA REPUBLICAN IN OPEN LETTER ISSUES CHALLENGE ON TARIFF

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(P)—In an open letter through the republican national committee Senator Dickinson of Iowa, today asked Senator Harrison of Mississippi to specify what changes he would make in event the Smoot-Hawley tariff act should come up for revision.

"Since you have ever stood in the fore ranks of those democratic senators who have denounced the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill as the sum of all iniquities," the Iowa republican wrote, "I think you should make clear to the country just what changes in the existing law you have so persistently urged."

Dickinson asked the Mississippian whether he would reduce the duty on several southern products including rayon, synthetic camphor, long staple cotton, and naval stores. He said the time had passed for dealing in generalities in the discussion of the tariff and requested Harrison to answer categorically a number of questions including:

"Is it not a fact that you approved all of the industrial rates which you so viciously condemn (in generalities) when you voted against a proposal to eliminate from the tariff bill all increases in duties except those on agricultural products?"

"Is it not a fact that you were perfectly willing that all of the industrial rates against which you now raise your voice for political purposes should be embodied in the bill provided you were able to retain in the measure the six cents a pound duty on long staple cotton?"

HARLEM BEER FEUD FATAL TO ONE TOT

NEW YORK, July 29.—(P)—Little Michael Vengali, to whom five years was a lifetime, died today; and a mantle of silence, born of frantic fear, settled upon Harlem's "Little Italy."

The child was murdered by gang killers in an automobile; killers whose machine guns and shotguns roared between 50 and 60 slugs into the midst of playing children last night.

Four other tots, one in a baby carriage, were critically wounded by the gunmen in a reckless attempt to assassinate a man who had been looting about the street in which the youngsters had been at play. The man, believed to be Joe Ray or his cousin, Vincent Ray, fell to the pavement and was unhurt. Slugs, however, found little Michael Vengali in a vital spot, and they dropped four of his companions.

Salvatore Vengali, seven year old brother of the dead boy, was wounded five times. He may die. Michael Bevilacqua, only three years old, who was in a baby carriage, was struck twice in the back by the slayers' slugs. He, too, may not survive. Florence D'Amelio, 12, was wounded in the shoulder, and Samuel DeFino, 6, was shot in the left leg.

Orders were issued today for the arrest of Vincent Coll, leader of one of two gangs fighting for control of the beer business in Harlem and the Bronx. Police said they doubted their earlier theory that the attempted assassination was in connection in any way with the beer war, but they offered no other possible explanation.

Detectives, who were ordered into the territory by the score last night and early today, got little help from those who witnessed the shooting. None of the parents, stricken by terror, would offer any help. It was not even known what happened to the man against whom the attack was apparently intended.

The shooting was in front of the Helmar Social Club, a poolroom. It was in the adjoining doorway where between 20 and 30 children were at play, that the shots took effect.

UNEMPLOYMENT SITUATION IS BEING STUDIED

WASHINGTON, July 30.—(P)—The prolonged unemployment situation today drew the close attention of the government, labor and relief organizations as prospects for jobs for the army of idle workmen in the coming winter appeared more remote.

President Hoover has instituted a new study of the problem. It is designed to bring together the various activities of the numerous agencies dealing with the problem.

Chairman Payne of the Red Cross conferred with the chief executive at the White House yesterday on the situation. Later he said he believed his visit was the beginning of a movement among relief organizations to co-ordinate their efforts.

While this conference was going on, a statement by President Green of the American Federation of Labor predicting a worse unemployment situation next winter than last was issued. Payne said cities advised by the National Association of Community Chests showed, he said, that relief needs probably would be twice as great.

In this connection conceded information on unemployment was not bright, but he added, the states, counties and municipalities would have the responsibility of caring for the jobless.

Assessing there was no possible reason for the federal government to be called upon at present, the Red Cross official warned against the Dole system as practiced in England and Germany.

To Unite Activities

All the federal government agencies, the states, counties and municipalities were working toward the same objective, Payne said. He added the new Hoover movement would more closely unite their activities.

At the same time, he explained, the Red Cross, under its charter, could not participate in unemployment relief work, but had placed information on the subject before the president.

In his statement, Green predicted that 7,000,000 workmen would be without work next winter. He estimated that 5,200,000 workers were idle in July, this figure being based on federation statistics.

Shorter work hours were advanced by Green as the "only permanent solution to the unemployment problem." Modern machines, he said, made it possible for a workman to do as much in 34 hours now that was accomplished in 52 hours in 1919.

Secretary of Labor Doak also said that a shorter work week was needed to prevent unemployment. He recalled that before he became a cabinet officer, he advocated fewer working hours and said nothing had happened to change his attitude.

David B. Robertson, chairman of a group representing organized railroad labor, expressed the view that a shorter working week, without decrease in pay, constituted a major means of diminishing unemployment. Several hundred thousands of railroad men, he said, were out of work and would have to be fed this winter. The unions, he added, had borne the burden until their reserves had been exhausted.

NOT AS A HUSBAND

EL PASO, Tex.—Judge Frank Murphy granted a divorce to Frank Murphy, and now Kate Murphy, his former wife wants Frank to come back to live with her—but not as her husband. She explained that she wanted Murphy to care for their two children in her own home and cut down expenses. It was charged at the divorce trial that Murphy had two previous wives.

Angleton Negro Is Killed In Struggle For Officer's Gun

HOUSTON, July 29.—(P)—As he struggled for possession of a policeman's gun after he had been arrested, James Walton, 26, Angleton negro, was shot and killed by an Express Company special agent just before midnight last night.

The shooting took place in an automobile in which Patrolman J. N. Seter and Dave Crowe, Express Company Special Agent, and Omer Laws, Railroad Special Agent, were carrying the negro to police headquarters.

Crowe was charged with murder in connection with the shooting and released on $300 bond.

THE CAT DID IT

LONDON — A dog was caught in a gate in Horn Park Terrace, Plymouth. Several civilians tried unsuccessfully to release the animal. Three policemen were called and with a crowbar and other instruments they endeavored to free the dog. Just as they were ready to give up a cat ran in front of the dog. With a convulsive wriggle, the canine leaped out of the gate and gave chase to the cat.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT'S WAR ON ORGANIZED CRIME RIDS COUNTRY OF PUBLIC ENEMIES

By RODERICK M. GRANT

CHICAGO, July 30.—(P)—The man who made bootlegging an industry came to time today.

The government, preparing to send Alphonse Capone to prison, had achieved another great victory in its relentless war upon the criminal gangs grown rich by flouting prohibition.

But Capone, "magnate" of the alcohol trade, millionaire controller of gambling houses, vice, labor racket, slot machine, narcotic peddling, slot machine syndicates—Capone was the first to plead guilty to the double charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition act and evasion of income taxes.

The determined government campaign against "public enemies" had its inception in the public exasperation with organized crime, which crystallized in the formation of the "secret six" crime committee of the association of commerce.

Business leaders solicited the alliance of the government to eliminate the gangster. Already the tools were in the fire, for intelligence operatives under A. P. Madden, head of the Chicago unit working for the internal revenue bureau, had begun in 1927 an investigation of the wealth of Ralph Capone, brother of Al. An offer of $1,000 settlement from the notorious gangster on a plea of poverty seemed preposterous, and the investigators went to work to prove Capone a millionaire.

Two Gang Enemies

Madden directed the under cover inquiry and George E. Q. Johnson, U. S. district attorney for northern Illinois, piloted the series of successful prosecutions through the federal courts.

Other notorious gang leaders face prison terms for dodging tax payments on their ill-gained wealth. Ralph Capone's conviction, his 3 year penitentiary term and $10,000 fine for offering a fraudulent compromise on his income taxes has been upheld by the U. S. circuit court of appeals. The government claims more than $300,000 taxes from him.

Frank Nitti, "treasurer" of the Capone syndicate, and Sam Guzik pleaded guilty to dodging payment of $277,940 and $20,000 taxes, respectively. They are in Leavenworth prison, Nitti for 18 months plus a
